Mrs. Delene Wyatt Petitions Melton To Expunge Audit

Mrs. Delene B. Wyatt has asked Judge Oakley Melton to throw the audit out that was made over a period lasting more than a year and completed last fall.

Mrs. Wyatt along with three others have been found guilty and sentenced already in the case.

In her petition she states that reasons for petitioning Judge Melton are: "For that said audit is not duly and legally sworn to as provided by law.

B. "For that the report of said audit is not supported by legal testimony and evidence.

C. "For that it appears in the face of the report of the audit or examination that said report is based or founded upon the mere opinion and conclusions of the auditors thereof.

D. "For that the charges made therein against your petitioner are not supported by the records of the Commissioners Court of Chilton County, Ala. The petition is 8 pages long on legal cap paper, and many other reasons are given for expunging the audit by the petitioner. The petition is signed by Delene B. Wyatt and her attorney, J. B. Atkinson.

J. Lee Smith is seeking to have an audit of the books at his expense by a certified public accountant, because of what he termed to be double charges.

Judge Melton is expected to set a date for the hearing Thursday.

School Census Will Be Made In July

Between now and the last of July, census enumerators will again be calling in the homes of Chilton County. This time they will be taking the quadrennial school census, listing those of age 2-20 inclusive.

The main purpose of the census is to enable the State to properly distribute school monies to the various counties. However, other uses are made of the census records that will be filed permanently in the office of the Superintendent of Education. The Bureau of Vital Statistics accepts the school census record as legal evidence of age in issuing birth certificates or other documents. The Department of Public Welfare, the armed forces and most business establishments use these records as final. Therefore, it is very important that these records be complete and accurate. The superintendent and those assisting in the enumeration will greatly appreciate the cooperation of the parents in the homes that it is necessary for them to contact.

Enumerators have been selected and will began making calls within a few days. The following information will be required regarding the parents: Both names of each parent, address, birthplace, whether each reads and writes and occupation. Children of age 2-20 inclusive will be listed in the order of their ages and the following information will be required regarding each: Full name, name of school to attend next year, distance to school (or bus route for those riding buses), birthdate, highest grade completed in school, and defects. Enumerators are to use birth certificates whenever possible in determing ages. Parents are asked to have those readily available for the enumerator when he arrives if they have birth certificates. Where birth certificates are not available State records, baptismal certificates, ages on insurance policies or other permanent records may be used. Parents statements are accepted only when permanent records of some type are not available.

Married people under 21 years of age are to be enumerated. People of proper age are to be enumerated whether they are in school or are not. Children away from home only temporarily are to be enumerated. Any child who become two years old [illegible] before September 1 of this year [illegible] enumerated. Also those who are still 20 on the day the census is taken will be enumerated.

In addition to the above, men, women and children of all ages between the ages of birth and 50 years of age who are blind, deaf or crippled in any way will be enumerated separately. Those who are nearly blind or deaf will be listed in this category.

Be ready for the enumerator and assist him in every way possible. This census is essential and for the benefit of all citizens.

Signed:
J. H. BOOCKHOLDT, Supt.

Re-Organizing C of C

Clanton and Chilton County surely need a Chamber of Commerce. We have heard rumors upon rumors lately of it re-organizing locally for which we are glad.

At the present time the biggest question before the people of Chilton, however, is not whether we will get new industry. It is how to aid the farmers in getting a market for the products he has raised.

That is cash money in the merchants' pockets. The product is already produced, it only needs marketing, but where?

That's the sixty-four dollar question. It's the question a new Chamber of Commerce could answer.

We hope they mean business this time.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

Congratulations to Elizabeth Wade. We saw her call down a young man coming out of the theatre the other night for lighting his cigarette before even getting to the curtain at the lobby. Of course the young man should have had sense enough to know better but it seems some folks just have to be told. And it done us good to hear Elizabeth Wade tell him.

Earl Reeves brought us a notice of a masonic meeting the other week. It was accidently left out of the paper and were sorry. It told of the meeting last Saturday night at the Masonic Hall. We want Earl and all you other good Masons to know that the error was unintentional.

Did you hear about the fellow who received his pay envelope on Saturday with fifty cents too much in it? Well, he went about his business saying nothing to anyone. Saturday again came around as it is in the habit of doing and this time there was fifty cents too little in his pay envelope. He went directly to the paymaster and told him that his pay envelope was fifty cents short. "Well, last week there was fifty cents too much in it and you didn't say anything," the paymaster told him. "I know it," returned the worker. "The first time you made a mistake, it was all right, but when ti happened twice, I thought it was time to call your attention to it."

Next Tuesday is July Fourth. It's a big holiday and folks have got to where they think on holidays they should get out on the highways and race hither and yon, trying to crowd half a life time in one day. Lots and lots of them spend the rest of their life that day; anyway — they never reach where they're going—alive. Take it easy next Tuesday. If you go anywhere, take your time. Consentrate on being alive next Wednesday.

Here's what one writer had to say about it:

May Independence ever be
A fact, and not a myth;
So celebrate July Fourth—
But be here on the Fifth.

So, she wants to can beans. That's what Mrs. Cora Mae Cleckler told us the other day. Mrs. Cleckler lives on Clanton Rt. 4, over near Alabama Mills, and has the desire to can beans and the like, on thirds. In other words she says if you furnish the produce and the container for your two-thirds, she will do the canning and guarantee the job. And according to Mrs. Cleckler, she's no mean hand when it comes to canning. We were sitting in our automobile at twelve noon, when she was telling us about it, and we know exactly what a canned bean feels like now.

Just goes to show you that we know nothing at all about picture shows. Preacher Matson says we know nothing at all about who is building a picture show either. Well, he proved his point without any trouble the other day when he brought the proof in the form of a contract. We stated that Waters's interest were going to construct a new theatre here and all the time it is the Acme Theatre Corporation of Birmingham. And Preacher had another beef, too. He wanted to know why we couldn't mention the name of the man who was doing the wrecking of the old McCain Mule Barn—it's Preacher Matson. Who else?

S. E. Scott is going to have a beautoful studio when he and the Mrs. finish work on it. You know Scott's Studio has moved into the building vacated by Bell Hardware next door to Clanton Jewelry. At the new studio Mr. Scott has nice display windows, an office, a large studio, and a convenient size waiting room. Visit the new Scott's Studio. It's definitely an asset to our small city.

One of our favorite people is Charlie Wilkins of the Enterprise Community. We visited there the other evening to see how "Cousin Charlie" was getting along. You know he came mighty near getting hurt the other week when he caught his overalls in a combine while working on his place. He showed us the overalls he was wearing or what was left of them—just a lot of strings with a few buttons on them. He still has some pretty bad places on his feet and legs as reminders of his narrow escape, but he is able to be up and about his duties. We're mighty glad it wasn't any worse than it was, and wish him a speedy recovery.

Enjoyed a picnic on the Coosa River Sunday with the West, Smitherman, Wilkins, Garner and Tucker aggrigations. Quite a crowd and quite an occasion. Four generations of the Wests were there; King West, Earl West, Lelyn West and baby Ray West. We took pictures. Course King West thought he was the best looking one there but he wasn't, little Ray was. Family pride forces us to say that, Ray being our one and only grandson. Somebody must have mailed invitations to all the ants East of the Coosa River (we crossed the river on the Queen Mary) because all of them came and brought large families. None brought baskets, however, they all wanted what we had. Hungriest darn ants you ever saw, too. But it was a wonderful day, and we're going to do it next year again.

Westward Ho. The W. C. Goldens passed through New Mexico the latter part of last week. They're basking in California this week. Expect to be home next week. Those people get around.

Our Independence

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, indivisable, with liberty and justice for all."

For almost 175 years the Star-Spangled Banner has waved over the land of the free, and the home of the brave. It is the proud and sacred symbol of the freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which our great country stands. I believe it was a wise forethought of of the men of 1776 which led them, not only to sign the "Declaration of Independence," but to set apart a Day of Independence for yearly observance.

A. T. HICKMAN

On this Fourth of July, let us turn our thoughts back in review of our past history, and think of what all bears upon the National interest and welfare of a free people. Let us be reminded that the founders of our Republic recognized, and had a living faith in a living God. In the Declaration of our Independence we find these words:

"We, therefore, the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the World for the rectitude of our intentions. . . And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor."

Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter. Fear God, and keep His Commandments, for this is the whole duty of man. Our duty to our country, and to our God, go hand in hand. Our citizenship is related to two worlds. The more we are loyal to God, the better citizens we are here. When God is cast aside, and has no place in our lives, and the life of our nation, we cannot hope to remain a free people. Ans long as an individual, and as long as any nation will "Seek first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness, it is that sure they will be exalted, but when any nation forgets God, they may expect His most righteous judgment.

"Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people." . . 'The wicked shall be turned into hell, and all the nations that forget God." Long may our land be bright, with freedom's holy light; protect us by Thy might, Great God, our King.

CORONARY THROMBOSIS

One so often sees in a newspaper where someone died from a coronary thrombosis. Dr. George Dock, a Pennyslvania physician, was the first man in this country to diagnose a case of coronary thrombosis. That was in 1896, and it was not until 1912 that the medical profession generally began to diagnose with consistency this widespread and often fatal condition.

Coronary thrombosis, which is an obstruction or plug in the artery through which blood to nourish the heart muscle flows, formerly had been mistaken for acute indigestion; and nothing was done to relieve the real cause of pain. Today, coronary thrombosis is familiar to all physicians and diagnosis has become more definite through the use of the electrocardiogram which reveals the rhythm of the heart and condition of the cardiac muscle.

Thrombosis means the process of clotting and a thrombus is a clot. An artery may be closed gradually by the formation of the clot and the full supply of blood needed by the heart muscle is diminished. Or the artery may be closed off completely by a blood clot. Fortunately, neighboring arteries gradually increase in size to form new branches to supply the needed blood and this process is known as collateral circulation.

The cause of a thrombus or clot is not definitely known, but there has been much speculation on the subject. Some believe a clot is formed through strenuous physical exercise of a sort unusual for a particular person. Many men, who take no exercise except on rare occasions, impulsively decide to go out and shovel dirt or saw a log or paint a fence. When these men have a heart attack, the diagnosis is likely to be coronary thrombosis. One should be careful and remember not to over exercise when not accustomed to such.

How Can I?

(By Anne Ashley)

Q. How can I cause varnish to flow more freely?

A. Fill a shallow vessel with hot water and place the can of varnish in it, while working. It will not only make the varnish flow more freely, but it will also dry in a shorter time.

Q. How can I remove fruit stains from white goods?

A. Camphor will remove the majority of fruit, jam, or preserve stains from white goods. Rub the camphor on the spots before laundering.

Q. How can I make putty?

A. Putty can be made by mixing linseed oil with sifted whiting, to the proper consistency.

Q. How can I remove scorch from clothing?

A. Scorched spots on cloth can be removed by wetting the spots with water, covering with borax or cornstarch, rubbing it in thoroughly. Let it dry before removing it.

Q. How can I treat ferns that are infested with lice?

A. Spray very thoroughly and repeatedly with nicotine solution. 'Black Leaf 40" will give the directions for proper proportions.

Q. How can I renew a rusty wire wash line?

A. By giving it a coat of aluminum paint. This will make it usable for several more seasons.

Q. How can I clean brass lighting fixtures?

A. Sponge the fixtures with hot vinegar and salt, rinsing with soapsuds, and then polishing with a lightly oiled cloth. They can be made to look like new.

Q. How can I keep the yolks of eggs from breaking while frying, and sticking to the pan?

A. Add one teaspoonful of flour to the grease before breaking the eggs into it.

Q. How can I soften shoes that have become stiff from being in the rain?

A. First wash them in warm water; then rub either glycerine or castor oil thoroughly into the leather.

Q. How can I make use of a roll of mucilaged brown paper tape?

A. This gummed paper tape has many uses around the home. It is nice for labeling jars of jelly and preserves, and also for labeling any wrapped packages. It takes the place of string for sealing small packages. It will hold a cemeted dish or bowl until the cement has hardened.

YOU can have fun figuring out your message from the Orient by use of this pleasant little letter puzzle. If the number of letters in your first name is 5 or less, subtract from 7. If more than 5 letters in your first name, subtract from 13. Now take this result and find your key letter in the word ORIENT at the top of this puzzle. Then, starting at the upper left corner, check each one of your large key letters as it appears from left to right. Below the key letters is a code message for you.

MAPLESVILLE NEWS

Church Items—

The Superintendent of the Baptist Sunday School, Mr. Carlos Owens, and Pastor, Evan Johnson, were happy to have an increase in attendance last Sunday. Come to Sunday School and bring the whole family.

Mrs. Rube Bearden taught a very instructive lesson on Stewardship last Monday afternoon. Mrs. Frankie Seals gave an inspiring devotional at the regular weekly W.M.U. meeting at the Baptist Church.

Those who went to Shocco Springs last Tuesday from Maplesville Baptist Church were: Pastor Evan Johnson, Mr. Joe Graham and son, Howard; Mrs. Douglas Giles, Mishie Bearden, Eva Jo Walker, Lois Taylor, Eugene Smitherman, Mrs. Jackie Rodgers, Dollie Jean, Dorothy, Laura Ann and Elizabeth Dennis and Bonnie McGee.

Rev. Rube Bearden and Rev. Luther Horn are conducting a tent revival near Maplesville at Ousley's Store on the University Highway. Everyone is invited to attend. Rev. Bearden will begin a revival at Boone's Chapel next Sunday, July 2nd.

The Baptist W.M.U. will have their regular business meeting Monday afternoon at the church. All members are urged to attend.

Goings and Comings—

Mrs. J. E. Wallace and children of Birmingham are visiting here with Mrs. Gladys Wallace for a few days.

Miss Louise Foshee and Mrs. Frances Watson attended the Parent-Teacher Institute at the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, last Thursday. While in Tuscaloosa they visited with the Rev. and Mrs. Clayton Gilbert.

Rev. and Mrs. Evan Johnson and Mrs. Frances Watson visited Mrs. Ruth Hubbard who is under treatment in Vaughn's Memorial Hospital last Monday afternoon. We are glad that she may be able to return home this week.

Mrs. Ed Clapp, Sr., of Tuscaloosa is spending a few days here with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Clapp, Jr. Mr. Clapp made a business trip to Birmingham Monday. His mother and wife accompanied him and visited with relatives there.

Mr. Rube Bearden, Jr., has accepted a position in Oak Ridge, Tenn. Mr. Bearden is a recent graduate of the University of Alabama. His wife and baby are here with his parents.

The Maplesville swimming pool recently built by Dr. Nix has now been lighted and will be open three nights each week. It would be very well if the Civitan Club or some other organization would sponsor a "learn to swim" campaign here in Maplesville. Many good instructors are available. These learn to swim classes are now being taught in many places and many lives have been saved by knowing how to swim. We see in the papers that more than 500 persons have enrolled for learn to swim classes at Queen City Park in Tuscaloosa, and it would be worth while to have these classes taught here in Maplesville.

Little George Lawrence of Atlanta, Ga., visited here with Tommy and Mary Ann Watson last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carson Snead of Columbus, Miss., spent last Wednesday here with relatives. They were en route to Clanton to visit their son, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Snead. Miss Lucy Walker who had been visiting her sister, Mrs. Snead, in Mississippi for a few months returned with them to her home here.

Mrs. Anna Latham of St. Petersburg, Fla., who is spending a few days in Shoults Community with her mother, Mrs. Ellen Shoults, and brother, Mr. Sam Shoults, was in Maplesville one day last week visiting with relatives and friends, also having dental work done. Mrs. Latham was formerly a resident of Maples- and her many friends here were happy to see her again.

Mrs. Willard Hicks and Mrs. Frances Watson were very gracious hostesses for the Masonic Lodge meeting and installation of officers last Tuesday night.

Visiting relatives here and in Shoults Community last Saturday were: Sgt. and Mrs. Layden Hicks and children, Perry and Hilda, of Forest Homes, Selma, Ala.

Miss Ruby Lee Latham of Washington, D.C., and Mrs. "Mossie" Hess of Birmingham, who are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Latham in Shoults Community, were in Maplesville Monday to see friends and relatives. As they are both high school graduates of Maplesville, they have a host of friends here who were happy to see them again.

Mr. R. W. Stremming is giving his employee's a free barbecue next Saturday, July 1st. He is also giving all eligible employees a week's vacation with pay beginning July first through the ninth.

Mr. and Mrs. Graves Woodham of Dothan, Ala., spent Sunday here with Rev. and Mrs. Claud Averett.

Week end visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Sims and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hathcock were Miss Martha Chandler, of Tampa, Fla.; Mr. Howard Sims, of Ensley, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sims of Prattville, Ala.; and Mrs. Jim Foshee and daughter, Linda Gale, of Clanton.

Guests of Mrs. C. C. Cobern last Tuesday were Mrs. Gordon Weeden and daughter, and Mrs. Gladys Frith of Selma, Ala.

Mr. Paul Cobern of Birmingham spent last Saturday here with his father, Mr. C. C. Cobern.

Shopping in Clanton Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Amos Jones, Mrs. Ace Sims and daughter, Louise Sims.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to the family of Mr. Ed McGee who died last week at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Cora Lawley, of Randolph, Ala. Mr. McGee was a former resident of Maplesville and was loved and respected by all who knew him. Funeral services were held at Rehobeth Baptist Church in Bibb County, with interment in the adjoining cemetery. Mr. McGee was near 90 years of age. His wife preceded him in death about one year ago. He is survived by four sons—Clifton and Clyde of Randolph, Crit and C. B. of Columbus, Miss., and one daughter, Mrs. Cora McGee, of Randolph, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. Ace Sims and two daughters visited relatives in Prattville, Ala., last Sunday.

Mr. Clarence Gray, Mrs. Frankie Seals and Mrs. Daisy Littlejohn have returned home after being away on vacation.

Mr. Will Thames of Jemison, Ala., is visiting here with his daughter, Mrs. Obie Gore.

We are very sorry to report that Mrs. Sudie Graham remains very ill at her home here. She is under treatment of a doctor in Selma, Ala.

The Maplesville baseball team has been riding high, wide and handsome in their last games, as the one last Sunday afternoon, when they defeated Thorsby with a score of 8-5. This victory will spur them on to other victories. So watch them climb.

Surprise Birthday Dinner—

On June 25th Mrs. George Gillespie entertained at her home with a birthday dinner, honoring and surprising her husband. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Cox, of Cox, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. John Goff and children, Buddy and Tommy Goff, Mrs. Evie Cochran, Mrs. Maud Clements, Miss Estelle Davis, of Maplesville; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lovinggood and children, Mrs. Whitt Whisenant and children, of Birmingham. Everyone enjoyed a nice dinner. Mr. Gillespie received many nice gifts and best wishes for many more happy birthdays.

FREEZING VEGETABLES

With a bumper crop of vegetables in view, many questions about the preparation of vegetables for freezer locker have been asked.

One of the most frequent questions asked has been, whether to blanch the vegetables or not. To blanch a vegetable means to scald it. The purpose of blanching is to prevent change in flavor, destruction of certain vitamins and help retain good color in the frozen product. Blanching must be done in a large amount of boiling water. Count the blanching time from the moment the water returns to a boil after the vegetables are added to the water. Not more than one minute should be required for the water to boil again after the vegetables are added. Use one gallon of water for each pound of vegetable. A colander, cheesecloth or flour sack may be used to hold the vegetables. Move the container up and down in the water to evenly heat the vegetables.

Cool the vegetables in cold water about the same length of time it took to blanch the vegetables. Failure to properly cool may allow a flat sour to develop before the vegetables reach the freezer. When a flat sour occurs, there is no outward change in appearance, but there is a bad flavor which makes them undesirable for eating. Do not allow vegetables to stand in water longer than necessary for cooling. Drain vegetables before packing them. Failure to blanch may cause the product to have a frost-bitten taste similar to that brought about by killing frost in the fall of the year.

Another question has been, the type container to use. The special containers that are recommended by the freezer locker plants or the deep freeze manufacturers are the most desirable. These containers are made of special vapor resistant celophane and lastex film which gives good protection and can be heat-sealed easily. If glass jars are used, the regular freezer jars are the ones to use because the sides are straight and allow for expansion. They are also made to take the low temperature required for freezing.

Round ice cream containers do not prove satisfactory since they cannot be sealed to prevent loss of moisture. Any round container requires more space in a locker than the flat heat-sealed type.

All vegetables should be carefully selected and prepared. Best results are obtained from young tender vegetables for freezing. Choose vegetables that are at the right stage for eating fresh or a little younger. Vegetables should not be held any longer than is necessary before preparation for freezing. During hot weather they may go through a heat which causes a flat sour before they are prepared. Vegetables deteriorate rapidly at room temperature. If it is impossible to process immediately, they should be placed in as cool a place as is possible.

Scott - Hosey

Miss Myradean Scott became the bride of Mr. James Hosey in a ceremony at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Scott, at 4:30 p.m., June 16th.

The Rev. John C. Rountree officiated at the ceremony.

The rooms were decorated with arrangements of white gladiolis and palms and candles.

The candles were lighted by the brother of the groom, Mark Hosey.

A musical program was presented by Miss Judeen Culp.

Serving the bride as maid-of-honor was Miss Sara Nell Wyatt. Her dress was of blue with a white floral design.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white crepe dress. Her flowers were white calla lilies.

Mr. Tom Cox of Clanton served the groom as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott entertained with a reception at their home immediately following the ceremony.

After a wedding trip to Florida the couple will make their home at 500½ 2nd Avenue So., in Clanton.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Samples and two daughters of Selma, Ala.

KEEPING QUALITY OF HOMEMADE DRY MIXES

For convenience, variety, and extra nourishment in biscuits, muffins and other quick breads made at home, many housewives like to make up their own mixes with dry milk and keep them handy in the cupboard.

How long such mixes can be kept is a question many homemakers have asked Mary Hulsey, A.P.I. Extension Service nutritionist.

She says that cookery specialists of the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics have found that the mixes they prepared kept well for six months in closely covered containers at room temperature—70 to 75 degrees F. These mixes were made with non-fat, dry milk powder and cooking fat which need no refrigeration.

Legionnaires to Rendezvous in Huntsville

There's something mighty nice about old songs. Especially when they bring back names and faces; and places where casual acquaintances become real buddies.

In a few days, now, folks up in Huntsville will be hearing snatches of such well-remembered refrains as "Hinkie, Dinkie, Parley Vous" and "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition"—as veterans of both World Wars get together.

The Legionnaires are a fine bunch of fellows, and it's only natural they chose Huntsville—one of Alabama's oldest and most picturesque cities—for their 31st Annual State Convention, July 2-4.

There'll be some 2,000 of them at this rendezvous. And I'm sure the Battle of the Marne, and the Battle of the Bulge, will be re-fought in memories.

But from where I sit, there's more to a Legion convention than passing resolutions and having fun. It's a grand opportunity for mechanics to learn farmers' problems, and brick layers to get salesmen's views. This makes each more tolerant of the other's way of life, and helps all of us!

DOLER-GROOMS NUPTIALS

The wedding of Miss Mary Sue Doler and Mr. Hansel Grooms was solemnized at the Baptist Church of Salte Springs, Mississippi, at 5 o'clock last Sunday, the Rev. J. B. Middleton officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Doler of Slate Springs and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Grooms of Clanton, Ala.

The church was decorated in a traditionally Southern manner with baskets of regal lilies and magnolia blossoms and white tapers arranged against a backdrop of pine and smilax

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Raymond P. Mims, pianist, and Joe Douglas Grooms, vocalist, both of Clanton.

Miss Betty Carrier of Evergreen, Ala., and Miss Ruth Couch of Calhoun City, Miss., in similiar gowns of pastel lavendar and green, served as bridesmaids. Mrs. Walter Fiquette of Clanton, aunt of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs. Fiquette's gown was of a muted shade of orchid organza. The maids and the matron of honor carried French bouquets of sweet peas and gladioli. The flower girl, Bobbie Bridges, was dressed in pastel pink and carried a basket of pink carnations.

Ushers for the occasion were E. J. Grooms of Birmingham and Lloyd Jones of Clanton. Harold Smith of Clanton was best man for his nephew. Roger Holman was ring bearer.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore white mousseline de soie fashioned with a sweetheart neckline with a stand-up collar at the back, leg-o-mutton sleeves which tapered to a point over the hands and a full skirt banded by tiny ruffling. A coronet of gardenias secured the finger tip veil of illusion. The white Bible which the bride carried was topped by regal lilies secured by satin streamers.

Following the ceremony was a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Doler received in a dress of pale green lace accentuated by a corsage of pink carnations. The dining room, decorated with sweetpeas and gladioli, was centered with a lace covered table featuring a tiered bridal cake. Those serving were Mrs. Harold Smith, Miss Jo Anne Bridges and Mrs. Austin Bridges. Miss Betty Carrier kept the bride's book.

For traveling the bride wore a pastel green suit with pink accessories. After the wedding trip the couple will make their home in Clanton.

Among the out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fiquette, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith, Mr. Lloyd Jones, Joe Douglas Grooms and Mrs. Raymond P. Mims of Clanton.

ISABELLA

Sunday was a great day for Mulberry. The homecoming and singing were enjoyed by a large crowd from home and visitors from Birmingham, Montgomery, Selma, Gadsden, Clanton, Camden, Wetumpka, Tallassee, Auburn and Titus, Ala., also adjoining communities.

After Sunday School and preaching the rest of the day was spent in singing by the Ideal Quartet of Birmingham, Liberty Hill Quartet and congregational singers, with different leaders.

Isabella played White City Saturday afternoon on their home field, the score being in favor of Isabella.

The Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Dessie Roper Monday afternoon with ten members present. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The young people's rally of Chilton Association will meet at Mulberry Friday, July 7th, at 7:30 p.m.

There were visitors in almost every home over the week end in our community—too many for the correspondent to put in.

Casey Cummings had the misfortune to get his hand injured last week while hauling logs.

MT. PISGAH

We had a nice crowd out for Sunday School Sunday. Several visitors were there. We were as always glad to have them.

We were glad to have Mrs. Myrtle Yeargan of Talladega with us. We are always glad to have her and still miss seeing her every Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Mims of Montgomery were with us Sunday. We miss them from church since they have moved away and want them to come back often.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Blaising of Montgomery visited Mrs. Bleaising's mother, Mrs. Eula Brown, Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Yeargan have as their dinner guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Partridge, also their grandchildren, David and Terry Yeargan, of Alexander City.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Blaising and Helen and Lamar Edwards spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Devaughn and family.

Mrs. Andrew Cleckley is sick in the community, also Mr. Wiley Friday is still not well. Let's be much in prayer for the sick and shut-ins.

Mr. and Mrs. Pate Cleckley visited Mr. .a.n.d. .Mrs. Jim Cleckley Saturday night.

Miss Jo Ann Bowles visited Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Yeargan last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. James Coggins had as their Sunday guests Mr. and Mrs. Houston Coggins.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Davis visited Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Davis Sunday.

Mr. Mose, Cleve and Grady Cleveland Hathcock and Mr. Ralph Martin visited Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Friday Sunday.

We elected officers and teachers for another year, and please let's everybody come out and cooperate with them and have a progressing Sunday School and Church. We missed you if you were absent for any reason, and please meet with us next Sunday at 9:45 for Sunday School. We need you.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Crew (nee Wynelle Taylor) of Clanton announce the arrival of an eight and one-half pound son at 12:30 a.m., June 27th, at the Central Alabama Hospital in Clanton.

PLEASANT GROVE METHODIST

Our Sunday School was some what off Sunday. Let us all come on out and take our place in Sunday School and make this Sunday School the best in Chilton County.

Rev. H. A. Jones, our new pastor, preached at 9:30 Sunday morning. He brought a wonderful message. Our regular preaching service will be the first Sunday at 11:00 and the first Sunday night of each month.

This community extends it's deepest sympathy to Mrs. Edna Durbin Braswell in the loss of her husband.

Mrs. Cora Atkinson has returned to her home from a visit with her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Popwell, of Midland City, Ala.

Let us all remember that next Sunday is our regular preaching service and come on out and hear Rev. Jones because he is really a wonderful preacher and can bring some powerful message. Each member be sure to come and bring some one with us and let us fill the house on his first preaching day.—Reporter.

That said rental payments be paid out of the Paving Fund and that said harrow be used only for SACP and paving projects.

The above stated resolution was adopted by a unanimous vote.

LEASE (COPY)

State of Alabama,

County of Chilton

AGREEMENT OF LEASE between RAY-BROOKS MACHINERY CO., Inc., of Montgomery, Alabama, (which is herein referred to as "Lessor"), and the Court of County Commissioners of Chilton County, in the State of Alabama (which is herein referred to as "Lessee");

WITNESSETH:

In consideration of the monthly payments to be made to Lessor by Lessee and the other agreements on the part of Lessee hereinafter set out, Lessor hereby leases to Lessee, and in consideration of such lease Lesee hereby rents from Lessor the following described personal property, to-wit:

One (1.) Athens Series "B" Heavy Duty Plowing Harrow, 8-24"

Upon the following terms and conditions:

(1) The term covered by this lease shall embrace the period beginning on the 12th day of June, 1950, and ending on the 12th day of September, 1950.

(2) Lessee agrees to pay to Lessor at 101 Chandler Street in the City of Montgomery, Alabama, as rental for use of the said property, the following sums on the following dates:

June 12, 1950 — $125.00.
July 12, 1950 — $125.00.
August 12, 1950 — $125.00.

(3) Lessee acknowledges that it has received the said property in good order and condition and it agrees that upon the termination of this lease (in event the option hereinafter referred to shall not have been exercised), whether by expiration of the term covered hereby or by exercise of any of the options of the Lessor following default hereunder by Lessee, Lessee will return the said property to Lessor at Montgomery, Alabama, in like good order and condition as at the beginning of the term covered hereby, ordinary use, wear and tear thereof excepted.

(4) Lessee agrees to take reasonable and proper care of the said property and to make, at its expense, all necessary repairs and replacements thereof. So long as Lessee shall not be in default under this lease it shall have the right to make any reasonable and lawful use of said property.

(5) As security for payment of the said rental installments, Lessee agrees to appropriate, pledge and segregate a sufficient portion of all funds which may hereafter be received by it, from the tax levied by the State of Alabama on sales and withdrawals from storage of gasoline and other motor fuels, which sum so appropriated and pledged shall be set apart each month and used exclusively for the purpose of paying the said rental installments.

(6) In the event Lessee should default in the payment of any of the installments of rent herein agreed to be paid by it or in any other agreements herein on its part contained, Lessor shall have the option of terminating this Lease by giving to Lessee ten (10) days' notice of its election to terminate the same, whereupon this lease shall thereupon terminate and Lessor shall be entitled to the immediate possessions of said property. In the event of forced collection the Lessee agrees to pay reasonable attorney's fee.

(7) Lessor hereby grants to Lessee an option to purchase the said property in its then condition at any time during the term covered by this lease or within thirty (30) days hereafter, for the purchase price of $375.00. In the event the said option is exercised by Lessee, the said purchase price shall be reduced by the amount of rents theretofore paid hereunder.

(8) Lessor shall not in any case or under any circumstances be liable for any loss, damage, injury or death to any person or property arising from or in any manner connected with the condition of or the use or operation of said property. Lessee specifically waives all claims for any such loss, damage, injury or death.

(9) Any notice given hereunder by Lessor to Lessee shall be sufficiently given if made in writing and delivered in person to the Judge of Probate or any of the members of the governing body of Lessee, or forwarded by registered mail, postage prepaid, to Lessee at Clanton, Alabama. Any notice given hereunder by Lessee to Lessor shall be sufficiently given if made in writing and served in person on any officer of Lessor or forwarded by registered mail, postage prepaid, to Lessor at Montgomery, Alabama.

WITNESS the signature and seals of the parties, in triplicate, this 12th day of June, 1950.

Court of County Commissioners of
Chilton County, Alabama.
Chilton County, Alabama
(S) W. L. Parrish
Probate Judge.

The State of Alabama, Chilton County
(Copy)

BE IT REMEMBERED, That at the June Term of the Court of County Commissioners of said County, held on this 12th day of June, 1950, M. C. (Jack) Hayes, Tax Collector of said County, made his report of "Insolvents" and "Errors in Assessment" on taxes for the year 1949, as required by Section 2184 of Code. And after a careful and rigid examination of said reports by said Court, it was considered and adjudged that said collector be allowed on his settlement with the Auditor for the following amounts:

Insolvencies: State Taxes-
General, ________________$ ____
-Special Soldier, ____________$ ____
-Special School, ____________$ ____
Errors in Assessments: State
Taxes-General, ______________$ 15.75
-Special Soldier ______________$ 6.30
-Special School ______________$ 18.90

And the said Collector also made his report of taxes in litigation for 1949, and the following credits were made on assessments against the following parties:

	Gen.	S. Sol.	S. Sch'l
Ala. Power Co.	6,901.85	2,760.73	8,282.20
Gulf, M. & O.	351.07	140.43	421.28
L. & N. R'rd.	1,838.31	735.33	2,205.96
Plantation P.L.	118.27	47.31	141.95
Southern Ry.	373.69	149.47	448.43
Suburban Gas Co.	1.80	.72	2.15

And said Collector has also made his report for final allowance of the uncollected balances of Insolvent Taxes for the year 1948, as required by Section 2190 of Code 1907; and the Court thereupon made the following allowances to said Collector of all such Insolvent Taxes as he may have been unable to collect, as follows:

State Taxes-General, ____________$ 5.15
-Special Soldier, ______________$ 2.06
-Special School, ______________$ 6.18

And said Collector is also allowed credit for the following taxes in litigation, for the year 1947 & 48, which he has been unable to collect as follows:

	Gen.	S. Sol.	S. Sch'l
1947-Sou. Ry.	181.28	72.51	217.53
1948-Sou. Ry.	186.41	74.56	223.69

Given under my hand this 12th day of June, 1950.

(S) W. L. Parrish,
Judge of Probate.

1. V. O. LENOIR,
2. HOYT FREEMAN,
3. NEAL H. HARRELL,
4. J. M. DUNLAP, Commissioners.
W. L. Parrish, Chairman.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of the minutes of the Court of County Commissioners of Chilton County, Alabama, to the best of my knowledge and belief of June 12, 1950.

W. L. PARRISH,
Judge of Probate.

CRIMSON CLOVER SEED HARVEST FALLS SHORT

Auburn, Ala. — Low spring temperature, lack of bees, plant diseases, and other factors contributed to Alabama's low yield of crimson clover seed this spring, according to Ralph R. Jones, A.P.I. Extension Service seed marketing specialist.

A recent survey taken by county agents indicates that this year's crop will be limited to five or six million pounds. Earlier surveys had indicated a possible yield of 10 to 12 million pounds of seed.

"Diseases attacking crimson clover were observed to be far more common and severe this year," adds the specialist. "Sooty blotch was the most serious disease. There is no known control for it. Other factors which may have played a part in the low yields are dry weather at the time seed were maturing and the lack of boron in some cases. Boron is known to have an important part in high seed yields, especially on the lighter soil types."

HERD REPLACEMENTS

According to the state veterinarian, purchased dairy cows stay in the milking herd 2.2 years; whereas, herd replacements raised on the farm stay an average of seven years.

NIBLETT - SAND VOWS READ

The Reverend W. B. Atkinson officiated at the double ring wedding ceremony Sunday afternoon, June 11, of Miss Marjorie Ann Niblett and Petty Officer Donald Richard Sand of the U. S. Naval Air Corps. The ceremony was at 4 o'clock in the Clanton First Methodist Church.

Miss Niblett is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Niblett. Mrs. Sand's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Theodore R. Sand, of Great Falls, Mon.

Fern, Southern smilax and palms decorated the church, and formed a background for baskets of white gladioli and Queen Ann's lace. Seven-branched candelabra holding white cathedral candles were placed on either side of the altar.

Candles were lighted by Elizabeth Jones and Paula Nivens.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mr. Leonard Farley, Jr., organist, and Miss Patricia Huddleston, soloist.

Maid of honor was Miss Mary Frances Jones. Her dress was of sunset yellow net over taffeta. She carried an arm bouquet of white carnations, showered with white satin ribbon.

The bride's other attendants were bridesmaid, Miss Sara Dickerson, of Columbus, Ga., and bridesmatron, Mrs. C. C. Carlton, of Clanton.

They were gowned in dresses like the maid of honor and carried identical bouquets.

The flower girl, Rebecca Sue Merryman, of Nashville, Tenn., wore a dress of yellow net over taffeta and carried a miniature arm bouquet like the other attendants.

Master Terry Jackson Niblett of Mobile, Ala., served as ring bearer.

Petty Officer Royce Brewer of ElDorado, Ark., was best man. Ushers were Hubert Thompson, Ben D. Roberts, C. C. Carlton and Thad McSwain.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of white chantilly lace over taffeta with a fitted bodice of white slipper satin, which tapered into a long train. The bodice featured a high sweetheart neckline and leg-of-mutton sleeves. Her fingertips veil of illusion edged with chantilly lace fell from a tiara of lace and seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book showered with white satin ribbon and tube roses, topped with a white purple throated orchid.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church social hall.

The hall was beautifully decorated in bridal white seasonal flowers.

The bride's table was covered with a white ruffled dotted swiss cloth, centered with the three-tiered embossed wedding cake which was surrounded with white gladioli blossoms and daisies. Two large bows of white satin ribbon crystal candelabra holding burning white tapers and the crystal punch bowl completed the table decrations.

Miss Dorothy Nell Blalock cut the cake and Miss Johnnie Sue Collins presided at the punch service. Assisting in serving were Misses Betty Hayes and Margaret Jo Williamson. Miss Sarah Dickerson presided at the bride's book.

After a brief wedding trip the couple will be at home in San Diego, Calif.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Ted Sand and Jo Ann Sand, Great Falls, Mon.; Miss Clarice Hampton, Dr. Leo C. Harris, Lawrenceburg, Tenn.; Mrs. J. T. Merryman, Nashville; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Clark, Lawrenceburg, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Clark, Crestview, Tenn.; Mrs. Alice Barnett and son, Ethridge, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Niblett, Mobile; Miss Sarah Dickerson, Columbus, Ga.; Royce Brewer, ElDorado, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Davis, Mrs. Ethel Thrasher, Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Coy Gibbons, Ferry Gibbons, Thorsby; Mrs. W. M. Patterson, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Miss Roberts Walden, Headland, Ala.; Mrs. D. W. Niblett, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Niblett, Alexander City.

JERSEY FIELD DAY SET FOR JULY 13

Auburn, Ala. — The Alabama Jersey Cattle Club will hold its annual field day on the Hickory Lane Farm, Huntsville, Alabama, Thursday, July 13, 9:30 a.m. L. H. Little, county agent of Madison County, will be in charge of the program.

Mr. Dale Dean, manager of the Meadowridge Jerseys, Inc., Ridgeway, Michigan: Dr. K. M. Autrey, head, A.P.I. dairy department; Mr. J. W. Davis, fieldman for the Jersey Cattle Club; and Mr. R. Y. Bailey and others will be present to participate in the program

J. R. Parrish, A.P.I. Extension Service dairy specialist, states that all friends and breeders of the Jersey cow are invited. Barbecue lunch will be served at a reasonable price.

ARRANGE NOW FOR FARM SEED SUPPLY

It is important that fullest possible use be made of Alabama grown seed from such crops as crimson clover, white clover, Caley peas, and lupine, declares J. C. Lowery, A.P.I. Extension Service agronomist.

He states that if farmers have to buy seed, they should arrange right away for their supply. It is always risky to wait until later because the seed may be gone at planting time. On many occasions farmers have not been able to plant the soil building crops they wanted to plant because they waited until planting time to buy seed.

ASSOCIATED PRODUCERS TO PRESENT "CARMEN"

this production marks the operatic concert of central Alabama. Intent upon enriching the cultural opportuntiies and life of the residents of this section of the state, the Associated Producers have planned this program for education and enjoyment. One of the greatest works in musical literature, "Carmen," is sure to score a hit Friday night, just as it has thousands of times in the past.

Following this production will be a violin concert, a choral concert and an operetta.

Tickets priced at fifty and seventy-five cents may be secured at Farley's Drug Store, Clanton, or from the Associated Producers — Henry Heflin, Joe Mullins, Mary Clyde Mims, Mary Ann Oglesby, Cooper Speaks, Leonard Farley, and James Popwell.

Barbecue At Pletcher

There will be a barbecue at Pletcher, at Ousley's Store, on Tuesday, July 4th. There will also be baseball games. Pletcher will play Vine Hill at 10:00 o'clock. There will be another game later in the day also sponsored by the Pletcher Club. The public is invited.

NATIONAL GUARD ENCAMPMENT JULY 9th THROUGH 23rd

All excuses granted to date to National Guard members enabling them to miss the summer encampment at Fort McClellan, are hereby revoked, according to Guy Higgins, c.o. of the local Guard. This announcement came Wednesday morning because of the serious conditions now existing in Korea.

"I think it is the patriotic duty of our merchants and employers of the guardsmen to give the employee two weeks leave to attend this encampment. It is the most important part of their army training," Higgins stated.

Also of importance is the meeting at the Armory next Monday night, July 3rd. That is regular drill night. He urged all members of the Guard to be present.

PILOTS TO SPONSOR RUMMAGE SALE

The Pilot Club will have a rummage sale each Saturday during the month of July in front of the Chilton County Health Office. All who have rummage, carry it to the Clanton Laundry.

Installation Meeting Of OES

The Clanton Chapter No. 271, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold an installation of officers at the Mason's hall, Clanton, Ala., Thursday, July 6th, at 8:00 p.m. All members of the Eastern Star and the families of the Clanton Chapter of the Eastern Star are invited.

DRAPER WALLOPS JEMISON

On last Friday night the Draper Blue Devils trimmed the Jemison Redbirds to the tune of 15 to 9. Fielding by the Jemison team was as spotted as an Indian leopard. This was the cue that spelled defeat for the locals. Up until the 7th inning Draper had secured only 5 hits off Smith and Thomas, but a volley of errors allowed them to score at random. Jemison out-hit the visitors 15 to 11, but the boys seemed to be suffering a severe attack of stage fright at the record crowd for the current season, hence, they just booted the game away.

Outside the sparkling play of Joe Frank Cobb who came through with 3 daring and beautiful plays, and collected 3 sound hits; and the careful pitching of Smith and Thomas the early part of the game, not much else worthy of the Jemison team can be said.

Let's try and forget this one boys and remember that the Draper team comes back to Jemison on the night of July 15th for another game in which we will try to redeem the sad affair of last Friday night.

On the Tuesday night preceding the Draper game, June 20th, Jemison defeated Centreville by a 11 to 5 count.

Tomorrow night, Friday, June 30th, the heavy hitting team from Mt. Olive above Birmingham will play the Jemison team at Jemison. Game time at 8:00 p.m. Come on out and boost the boys, they are playing good ball, in spite of a sour game occasionally. Their record now is 8 won and 5 lost. This is .615 baseball which is good for any club.

Remember the big double-header on July 4th, beginning at 6:30 p.m. on the Jemison field.—R. B. Johnson, Sports Reporter.

J. R. HARDY

Mr. J. R. Hardy, age 73, of Clanton, Ala., died at the residence on June 24th. Funeral services were held at Clanton Baptist Church Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p.m., conducted by Dr. J. Gilbert Hutchinson.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Roberta Hardy; three sons — R. M. Hardy of Birmingham, Harris Hardy of Clanton and J. R. Hardy, Jr., of Rockford; two daughters, Mrs. R. N. Davis of Rockford and Mrs. Raymond Christon of Holt; three brothers—A. B. Hardy of Alex City, Ronce Hardy of Birmingham and Walter Hardy of Columbia, Tenn.; six sisters—Mrs. A. B. White, Mrs. Joe Spivey, Mrs. H. E. Adamson, Mrs. Frank Meddows, Mrs. Warren Campbell and Miss Elvie Hardy; eight grandchildren and one great grand child.

Pallbearers were: Jimmie Bell, Vincent Ward, Lester Jones, Earnest Davis, Joe Grooms and W. T. Murphree.

Members of his Sunday School class served as honorary pallbearers.

Spigener Funeral Home in charge.

MAPLE SPRINGS

We had a good attendance for Sunday School and B.-T.U. Sunday. We were glad to have our visitors and we welcome them to our church any time they can come.

We want to remind every one of our Vacation Bible School, which begins July 24th, and will continue each night through the 28th. All singers and quartets are invited to attend the homecoming July 30th. Let's all be much in prayer for our revival which begins that night.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend the singing school which follows the revival. The school will be taught by Prof. O. L. Devaughn.

We need the attendance of our members to strengthen prayer meeting which is held each Wednesday night at 7:30.

Don't forget Sunday School and preaching Sunday morning beginning at 10 o'clock and B.T.U. and preaching Sunday night beginning at 7:30.

BRIDE ELECT PARTY

On last Wednesday afternoon Miss Annie Sue Crew was honored with a bridal party by Mrs. Charles Mims and Mrs. C. R. Mims at the home of Mrs. C. R. Mims.

Many nice gifts were received.

A delightful plate was served to the honoree, her mother, Mesdames Herman Crew, Claud Wood, Jr., Billy Mims, James Payton, Amon Jones, John Payton, Essie Hogan and the hostesses, Mrs. Charles and C. R. Mims.

CREW-MIMS VOWS READ SUNDAY AFTERNOON

On Sunday afternoon at 4:00 the wedding vows were said for Miss Annie Sue Crew and Lawrence H. Mims at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Crew, of Clanton.

Dr. J. Gilbert Hutchinson officiated before an altar banked with Southern Smilax, palms and tall baskets of white gladiolis.

The wedding music was presented by Miss Dorothy Mims, pianist, and Miss Mary Clyde Mims, vocalist. The songs rendered were "Always" and "Through The Years." "To You" was played while Myrna Crew and Barbara Crew lighted the candles. They wore dresses of organdy in pastel shades.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white tailored suit with navy accessories. She carried a Bible marked with a cluster of pink rosebuds and pink scattered ribbons.

Miss Ruby Crew served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a yellow-dotted swiss dress trimmed with Irish lace.

Charles Mims, brother of the groom, was best man.

A reception followed the ceremony. Serving were Mesdames J. B. Crew, Charles Mims, L. J. Crew, Raybon Crew, George Smith and Melvin Powell.

Miss Betty Jo Taylor was in charge of the bride's book.

Mrs. Crew wore for her daughter's wedding a dress of beige eyelett dress.

Mrs. Mims, mother of the groom, wore an aqua crepe.

For the wedding trip to Panama City, Fla., the bride chose a Navy linen suit with pink and navy accessories.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to everyone for their deeds of kindness, consoling words and the many beautiful flowers at the death of our father, mother, brother and sister-in-law.

God bless you everyone is our prayer. — Bavar Family.

CHILTON W.M.U. MEETING

Calling all Baptist women and pastors to Macedonia Baptist Church Wednesday, July 5th, at 10:00 a.m. for the quarterly meeting. Our young people will have charge of most of the program so they are expected to be present also. There will be visiting speakers from Birmingham for the afternoon.

Friday night at 7:30 at Mulberry Baptist Church our young people will have a rally. We urge you to see that your Sunbeams, G.A.'s, R.A.'s and Y.W.A. members get there July 7th.

To measure flour accurately, sift it first; then dip by spoonfuls (lightly) into a measuring cup until the desired quantity has been measured. Do not shake the flour down.

Liberty Bell Welcomed Here By Good Crowd

A gala day was witnessed here last Saturday when the Liberty Bell came to Clanton.

The local National Guard Unit was on parade along with the Chilton County High School Band and the local Boy Scouts of America Troops.

Judge W. L. Parrish welcomed the caravan to Chilton County and Mayor C. Fenn Jones was on hand to extend the welcome from Clanton. J. Archie Ogburn spoke on what it meant to buy U. S. Savings Bonds. His little daughter, Virginia (Cookie), sounded the Liberty Bell gong.

It was an outstanding event for Chilton County and was appreciated by a good crowd.

W. W. Jones And Wife Hurt In Automobile Wreck

The worst wreck reported in the county during the Fourth holidays was that of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. (Bud) Jones. Their car turned over near Marbury Monday and seriously injured both Mr. and Mrs. Jones.

Reports are that the cause of the wreck was wet slippery pavement.

Mrs. Jones lost an arm and Mr. Jones is confined to his bed because of severe shock.

CAN IT BE?

Financial Crisis Faced By Our Schools

According to information received from the office of J. H. Boockholdt, Superintendent of Education for Chilton County, the revised budget for the Chilton County Board of Education shows that this county will receive $23,366 less for operation of schools from the State than had been formerly anticipated. This reduction is in this year's appropriation and notice of the reduction comes after more than eight months of the year is past. This is Chilton's part of a state-wide proration of approximately 6 percent of state funds to education.

The result of this reduction in operation expenses has been the discontinuance of building and plant maintenance for the remainder of the fiscal year. It has made it necessary that all non-essential spending be stopped. State officials explain that the reduction was brought about by the reduction of state income due to reduced sales and incomes in the state.

The school picture for next year looks pretty gloomy according to Superintendent Boockholdt. With reduction of funds already upon the schools and with more reduction appearing likely, school officials are wondering just how they are going to make ends meet. Each year sees the needs of schools mounting higher and higher with the prospects for funds to meet these mounting needs growing more and more inadequate. Increased salaries during the past few years have greatly improved the brand of teaching and it is the hope of all concerned that it will not become necessary to cut the instruction section of the budget. It is a problem for every citizen, whether he has children of school age or not, and it is the desire of the local board that every parent understand and appreciate the situation.

Chairman Ogburn Reports Over 118 Per Cent Of Goal

CHILTON RANKS FIRST IN STATE INDEPENDENCE BOND DRIVE

J. Archie Ogburn, Chairman of the Savings Bonds Committee, said today that with the sales accounting period running through July 15, there are 17 days left in the Independence Bond Drive.

He reported that Chilton County's sales as of June 23 had climbed to $34,081.25 or 118 per cent of the quota.

"This makes our county rank first in per cent of quota attained," Mr. Ogburn announced.

The county chairman said news had been received that Alabama ranks 29th in the nation in percentage of quota attained. Florida is the only southern state with a higher percentage.

"From May 15 through June 23, Alabamians had purchased a total of $3,402,901 in Series E Bonds toward the goal of $5,775,000 quota set for the state. The state has reached 59 per cent of this goal.

"This leaves a balance of $2,372,098 to be purchased before July 15," Mr. Ogburn said.

"Spurring Bond sales, the replica of the famous Liberty Bell—symbol of American independence—is making final appearances this week prior to its presentation to the State of Alabama where it will be on permanent display in the Department of Archives and History."

Carmen Concert Big Success

A group of Clanton young people in the Associated Producers sponsored local performers, assisted by a young Birmingham singer in a memorable concert version of the opera "Carmen" last Friday night.

Not only did the performance in the First Baptist Church here equal similar operatic experiments in concert opera and opera workshops in the cosmopolitan musical centers of the South, but in many ways the Associated Producers concert surpassed those bigger and more expensive urban attempts. Unassisted by costumes, orchestra or settings, and greatly hampered by the lack of an auditorium stage for acting, these performers, nevertheless, gave one of the most brilliant concerts heard in Clanton in quite a while.

Seldom does one see or hear a Carmen portrayed or interpreted with such artistic interpretation and finesse as Mrs. Erle Ellis' interpretation of the fiery gypsy. Mrs. Ellis, it seems to me, gave a performance equal to any New York singer or Metropolitan Star. Her rendition of the "Habanera" and the "Sequidilla" were indeed fine, but one of the high points of the program was the dashing Gypsy Song in which Mrs. Ellis held every member of the audience within her hand.

Henry Heflin played a dashing Toreador, and he sang the boastful "Toreador Song' with great feeling. His duet with Mrs. Ellis, however, was done so well that it is sure to become a favorite among the music lovers of Clanton.

One of the most notable performances of the evening was that of Miss Pat Huddleston. The great applause after her beautiful aria, "Je dis, que rièn re m'epouvante" was a witness to the fact that here was a girl with great promise. Seldom has the beautiful character of Micaela been interpreted anywhere with such lyric beauty and angelic tenderness.

Mrs. Francis Speaks and Miss Margaret Kemp played the two gypsy friends of Carmen with artistic feeling. Their trio with Mrs. Ellis was indeed fine. It was beautiful.

Scott Jackson, a visiting tenor from Birmingham, gave a stirring and enjoyable interpretation of Don Jose. The beautiful "Flower Song" and final duet with Mrs. Ellis were as fine as any performance anywhere.

Miss Mary Clyde Mims, who did the accompanying, deserves special plaudits. Her fine accompaniments and program music contributed much to the success of the program.

To Leonard Farley, Jr., go the honors for tying the story of "Carmen" onto those songs selected for this concert version. A fine job of narrating was done with sincere feelings.

The Associated Producers are to be greatly commended for giving Clanton its first real taste of opera. In concert form the excitement and passion of real opera is not there, but perhaps the beauty of really great music can be detected more readily.

Of that group of enterprising young people and of the particular producer of the operatic concert last Friday night, Clanton may indeed have just cause of her pride.

A GOOD GARDEN FOR EVERY FARM FAMILY

Almost every farm family expects at this time of the year to have the usual peas, beans, tomatoes, etc., in their garden but it takes good planning and managing to have a garden such as that found at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Conger Cummings of Isabella Community. Here are some of the vegetables in their garden ready for use at this time: Peas, string beans, corn, sweet pepper, hot pepper, cabbage, potatoes, tomatoes, carrots, beets, spinach and turnips. Also growing in the garden are butter beans and Alagold pumpkins. These things along with your own milk and butter, chickens and eggs, and your own home cured meat makes for a good living at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Cummings along with their children, J. C. and Emmagene, recommended that the garden be given careful attention and that a good fertilization and insect control program be followed, along with that of good seed selection and recurring plantings.

Cupid Wings Another Peach Festival Queen Contestant

Another contestant in the 1950 Peach Festival Queen Contest was run through the heart with Cupid's arrow Monday when Miss Nedra Ann Miller was married to Royce Seals. She was the second contestant to be married since the opening of the 1950 Chilton County Peach Festival Queen contest.

Date for entrants has closed and the list stands at 62 which will be quite a job picking the Peach Queen from so many beauties. The last two young ladies to register were Miss Marguerite Davis sponsored by Clanton Drive-In and Miss Virginia Littleton sponsored by the Thorsby Fruit Growers Association.

The first elimination will take place Friday night at the gymnasium at Chilton County High School at 7:30 o'clock. The public is invited to attend. Admission will be 50c and 25c. Before judging begins the contestants will be honored at an informal supper at the school lunch room. In charge of the arrangements will be Mrs. L. A. Lambert, Mrs. E. R. Piper, Mrs. Erle Ellis and Mrs. W. J. Preston. The second elimination contest will be held July 15th.

The parade is open this year to commercial floats as well as community, club, municipal, etc. To date floats entered are: Kiwanis, Lions, Chilton County, Clanton Dry Goods, Merchants, Clanton Fertilizer Co., Clanton Automobile Dealers, Clanton Drive-In Theatre. Dent Williams is chairman of the Float Committee and Leonard Bosworth is co-chairman

Two speakers have been extended invitations and have accepted for the Festival on July 19th. They are Lt. Gov. Elect James B. Allen and Frank M. Stewart, Commissioner Elect of Agriculture and Industries.

OFF TO CAMP

Our National Guard Unit leaves this week end for Camp McClellan where they will spend two weeks in training. At no time since World War II has this training been of more importance, it seems.

Every member of the Guard should attend this encampment. It is vital to his training and should the Unit be called into immediate service, this training may save his life.

Too, the employer of the Guardsmen should see that he attends this encampment. After all, it is for his protection and the protection of his family, that this young man is in training to serve his country. That perhaps is a selfish viewpoint, but nevertheless, it is a fact.

Cooperate in every way that you can with our local Unit of the National Guard. They are given all too little attention during peace time, but they suddenly become all important in a crisis.

YOUNG PRODUCERS

Clanton is proud of her young Associated Producers. This is a group of very talented boys and girls, all local products, who see the lack of cultural entertainment here, and are out to do something about it.

The Associated Producers have brought much favorable publicity to Clanton and Chilton County. The week before last The Birmingham News devoted a half page in the big Sunday edition, to pictures and information about this fine young group.

Their plans are for several more productions before their studies take them back to their classrooms and the music lovers of this community are certainly enjoying their endeavors.

WELL WORTH IT

If you could see the bright smiles on children's faces coming from the City Park swimming pool these hot afternoons you would readily admit that the expense the City of Clanton went, to furnish us the City Park, was well worth it.

It has proven more popular this year than ever before. Whether the weather has been hotter, we do not know, but that the park and it's facilities are being enjoyed, we have proof in every child's face.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

S. E. Scott made the picture of Clanton Lions we used on the front page last week. We should have given him credit under the picture but it was overlooked. He's in his new studio now and should be announcing an "open house' within the next few days.

I. D. Armstrong and Buford moved Clanton Shoe Shop around on Sixth Street without telling us or asking our permission. Not that it was any of our business, but we could have given them a notice about it and helped along with their publicity. Well, its too late now to tell you about it, but its just right to go and get those shoes half-soled and fixed up.

While all the talk is going the rounds about a new motion picture theatre here, the grape vine tells us that there may be a theatre built in West End for colored people only. What you know about that?

Phil Robira, a very likable young fellow from Texas, came in to visit with us last week.. . He is public relations man with the Continental Gas Line Company and reports that the compressor station at Verbena will start operation on August 21st. This station consists of three units of more than 5000 horsepower, according to Mr. Robira, and will employ 24 men. Of these 24 men about 90 percent will consist of local men employed there.. This is good news and not because we are opposed to new citizens, but we are glad that the company can find local talent satisfactory. Mr. Robira promised to talk with us about the local prospects for natural gas within the near future.

The Democrats of Chilton County lost one of their stalwarts the other week with the death of J. R.. Hardy. Mr. Hardy was an "old-timer" and had served four years as county sheriff. He came up with the party in the county, and his council was sought and respected by party members.

Levine's Dry Goods Store caught fire early Monday morning. It might have been the hot bargains that "Dock" is offering that caused the fire, or it could probably have been this weather. Seems that hot sometimes. Anyway, this very competent fire department of ours had the blaze under control before you could say. "Help, call the Fire Department."

Mrs. Gladys DeRamus, popular Postmaster at Verbena (or Postmistress, as you would have it), was a visitor the other day. She gave us a change of address for her husband, Major T. B. DeRamus, who is overseas, and also expressed her appreciation of the News arriving early each week for distribution by the carriers. A funny thing happened several weeks ago at Verbena. Of course it was just funny after it was all over. Nothing serious is funny at the time it happens. We sent our filled mail bags down as usual and shortly word came to us that the Chilton County News was scattered from Verbena to Mountain Creek. The mail clerk had thrown the Verbena bags off his train at Verbena all right, but he had thrown them directly in front of a passing train, which caught the bags and played thunder with the newspapers. We had to prepare another list that week for Verbena and Route subscribers and get them down pronto. As we said, after it was all over and we had time to think about it, it was funny. It gave our paper such a wide distribution between Verbena and Mountain Creek.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

I have been appointed State Commissioner for the Alabama State Negro Championship Baseball Tournament. This is the first year such a tournament has been held in our state. This tournament, which is sponsored by the National Baseball Congress, will be held in Selma, Alabama, starting on July 14, 15 and 16, at Bloch Park.

The first four clubs will share in the gross gate receipts, the winner will receive a big trophy and will represent Alabama in the Dixie Tournament in Austin, Texas, or New Orleans. The winner there will go to Wichita, Kan., for the National meet. The winner of the National will get $10,000.00 and expenses paid to the International Tournament in Japan.

We are very anxious that this first year be a success so we can make it a regular thing. I would like the names and the addresses of teams in your section who would be interested in entering. Entry blanks, all material and information teams desire may be received by writing me at the address below:

ZACK SCHUESSLER, Zack's Sport Shop, P. O. Box 421, Selma, Ala.

(answer to last week's puzzle)

WORLD WAR III

Are we to have another World War? If so, is it in the making? What will the Korea situation bring about? Will the U. S. have to fight Russia? These questions are on the lips of millions. The answer to the above questions is anyone's guess. But if we will turn to the Bible we shall read the words of the Prince of Peace. When He was asked by His disciples as to what would be the sign of His Coming, and of the end of the world; He answered by saying, "Take heed that no man deceive you. For you shall hear of wars and rumors of wars. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; see that ye be not troubled, for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet."

A. T. HICKMAN

This 20th Century is known as the "Century of War." Already we have had two World Wars, plus many more lesser wars in this century; and just how many more we are to have, we do not know. But one thing we do know, and that is this: "These things must come to pass."

Friend, God's Word is going to be fulfilled. Not one jot or tittle of His Word will pass away. Yes, I believe we are to have another World War. Just how soon, I do not know. Every right thinking person, perhaps, will agree with me that such is in the making right now. Though we do not see any immediate danger of going to war with Russia, but it looks that war with Russia is inevitable. This nation cannot afford to go on unprepared for the worse. Perhaps the dove of peace will flutter over our heads longer if we are prepared to defend ourselves against any attack that might come against us.

This week we are commemorating the 174th year of our Independence. And it is my prayer that we shall never lose the independence that we now have. May we remain a free nation and a free people. But to remain a free people we must not forget God. We cannot throw aside our faith in Him. We have seen what other nations have come to by not having a faith in the Living God, and by forgetting Him; we cannot afford to lose our spiritual inheritance.

Remember that Christianity is not founded on Americanism, but Americanism is founded on Christianity; a true faith in a True God. Let us pray for the peace of the nations.

SUNBURN OR SUNTAN

Many people ruin their vacations by trying to get a good tan the first day. Instead, they get burns that redden and blister their skins or even put them in the hospital. You can prevent painful and ugly sunburn by following a few simple rules.

Look out for the noonday sun. The higher the sun, the worse it burns. Remember that the ultra-violet light rays are responsible for the burn, not the heat of the sun. Look out for reflected glare from water and sand. Don't get careless on hazy days. Remember that the sun can burn cruelly even when the sky is overcast. Know your own skin. People with fair skins are quicker to burn than brunettes. Some people burn every time they stay out in the sun, and never tan; others merely freckle.

Time your sun baths. Fifteen minutes the first day, and 15 minutes longer each following day, is enough for most people. Children burn more quickly than adults. Babies under 2 years, and delicate children of any age, should get no more than 5 or 10 minutes at first. Increase their time by about 5 minutes each day.

Use a suntan preparation to help you get a protective tan without burning. Remember, though, that it gives only partial protection. Some people prefer an oil, while others like a cream or a lotion. Before starting on your vacation, buy a good suntan preparation. While sunshine is healthful for most people, it may be harmfful to an elderly person, or one with tuberculosis, heart trouble, or other serious disease. An annual medical checkup before vacation time is a good idea for everyone.

If you get sunburned, call a doctor if the burn is severe. Blisters are easily infected, and sunburn can make you very sick with chills, fever, and even delirium.

Remember to get your suntan gradually. For safety, understand your own body and what will help or harm it.

How Can I?

(By Anne Ashley)

Q. How can I repair a broken place in the plastered wall?

A. Apply a thick paste made of two parts of sand, two parts of gifted coal ashes, and one part of white flour, adding enough water to get the proper consistency.

Q. How can I treat a canary which is not as lively as usual?

A. Place a rusty nail in its drinking water. This will supply sufficient iron to increase its vitality.

Q. How can I remove mercurochrome spots from white linen or cotton?

A. Use equal parts of Javelle water and boiling water.

Q. How can I remove mildew from white clothes?

A. Rub the clothes with the juice of a raw tomato, sprinkle over the juice with salt, and then lay the garment in the sun to dry. Repeat this treatment several times, if necessary.

Q. How can I make a hard sauce?

A. By creaming a third of a cupful of confectioner's sugar, adding a half teaspoonful of vanilla extract, and if desired a few drops of sherry flavoring.

Q. How can I keep flies away from mirrors?

A. An aid towards keeping flies away from the mirrors, pictures and windows, is to use vinegar in the water in which the glass is cleaned.

Q. How can I remove dust from upholstered furniture?

A. Cover the surface with a large Turkish towel that has been wrung out of water containing a tablespoon of ammonia. Beat the towel with a carpetbeater and the dust will stick to the towel.

Q. How can I remove peach stains from linen?

A. First soak the stains; then apply cream of tartar, and put in the sun to dry. After it is dry, wash thoroughly.

Q. How can I relieve the painful sting of a mosquito?

A. Bathe the affected part with spirits of camphor, or with witch-hazel.

Q. How can I make a water filter?

A. Cut a hole in a shelf so that by inverting an ordinary lamp chimney, it will pass about halfway through the hole. Fasten securely to the lower end of the chimney about three thicknesses of cheesecloth; then stuff in absorbent cotton to the depth of three or four inches. Renew the cheesecloth and cotton as often as necessary.

Q. How can I keep moths away from garments that are stored in wardrobes, trunks and in a chest of drawers?

A. Pour a little turpentine into the corners of these containers.

IT PAYS TO PROTECT ALL FARM MACHINERY

Farmers find that it is not necessary to provide an elaborate shed for storage of farm machinery, but they agree that the roof should not leak and, on dirt floors, boards should be placed under land-polished tools, wooden parts, and tires.

"In fact," advises J. T. Gaillard, A. P.I. Extension Service specialist in farm mechanization, "machines equipped with rubber tires should be jacked up in order to take the load off the tires. If this is done, the tires should be checked for proper inflation at regular intervals. Never allow tires to stand on oil floors or in contact with manure or fertilizers."

The specialist adds that canvasses, belts, and other machine parts that can be damaged by rats should be suspended from the ceiling with wire.

MAKE USE OF CHART IN PATTERN BOOKS

In the front of each pattern book is a chart showing the various sizes available.

Levice Ellis, A.P.I. Extension Service clothing specialist, says that the bust measures of Junior Miss and half sizes are an odd number of inches, such as 29 inches for size 11 or 35 inches for size 14½. Junior Miss, Misses,' and Womens bust sizes are in even numbers.

"The same bust measure in a Girl's, Misses,' or Woman's pattern will not fit the same figure," adds Miss Ellis. "The curve of the bust differs. The Girl's bust is only slightly curved, the Junior Misses' is more fully developed, the Misses' is more pointed, and the Woman's is fuller but more rounded. Another difference to be found in patterns is the variation in the length of sleeve and waist. This difference can be checked on the chart of measurements found in the pattern book or on the back of the pattern."

NUMEROUS WAYS TO ADD MILK TO DIET

Auburn, Ala. — Soups made with milk can provide an excellent main dish for a meal, according to Mary Hulsey, A.P.I. Extension Service nutritionist.

She further points out that one can use soups made with milk as appetizers. A serving of cream soup and a green salad or sandwich makes a satisfying luncheon for many people.

"Milk has a big place in salads, such as cheese," states the specialist. "And, of course, milk can go into a frozen salad or into the salad dressing. Also, creamed or scalloped foods, croquettes and meat or fish loaves made with milk are excellent main dishes."

If a small amount of glycerine is added to the last washing water, woolens will feel soft and fluffy when used. Glycerine also is good to use when washing pigskin or other leather gloves.

FARM SAFETY

When it is realized that a needless accident causes the death of one child out of five who die between the ages of one and five, the need for safety on the farm is apparent. It would be a good plan to learn how to make every week a farm safety week during National Farm Safety Week, July 23 through July 29.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB WOMEN TO HOLD JULY MEETINGS

Chilton County Home Demonstration Club women will be showing off their skills in sewing when they hold the July meetings of their clubs. Each club will hold a Dress Revue at which time club members will wear and model their dresses. These dresses will be of three types. The first type dress may be a work outfit for indoor and outdoor wear. They will be made of some good firm fabric, simple in construction and care, and will include the safety features of a work garment. The second type dress may be a sport or tailored dress of simple lines and made of good durable material. The third type dress is the afternoon or special occasion dress. It should be simple in design and trim, made from such fabrics as voile, dotted swiss, muslin, dimity, crepe or similar material. This dress is suitable for church, club meeting, teas and simple parties.

Points that will be considered in judging these dresses are as follows:

SEAMS: Plain, pinked seams should be used for most materials. Bizs seams should not be stayed with straight pieces.

SLEEVES: All dresses should have set in sleeves. Seam up the sleeves before putting on cuff, hemming, or finishing bottom in any way. Sleeves should never be put in with a French fell. Shoulder pads will be needed to give a smooth effect.

HEMS: Slip stitch best for hems. (Avoid pulling stitches too tight). Hem lines should be even. The distance from the floor should conform to prevailing fashions only as they are becoming and fitting to the wearer. Hems should be 2-2½ inches deep.

Lingerie Straps: Tiny straps should be put along the shoulder seam, the end next to the sleeve sewed, the end toward the neck snapped. These are pulled under the shoulder straps and snapped to hold the straps up. Everyone can have these.

BELT LOOPS: Are nicer if crocheted of thread to match the dress than made of material. If made of material they would be very narrow. The dress fabric should, of course, be of a becoming color and of material that is suitable both for the individual and the occasion for which it is made. The dress should be a comfortable fit—a bit looser than last year, but not baggy.

BUTTONS AND SNAPS: Should not be sewed down so tightly that they cause the garment to pucker on the outside when fastened.

BOUND BUTTON HOLES: Should show no stitching on the outside.

ZIPPERS: Should be covered either with one or two laps except when used as a trim feature, provided the color of the zipper harmonizes.

GRAINLINE: Check all parts of the garment for correct grainlines. The entire appearance of the dress depends on this.

PRESS: Press and press again.

Winners of the various Club Revues will enter a County Dress Revue and the County finners in each three groups will be named.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

When machine sewing on sheer fabrics, such as voile, chiffon, organdie, and tissue gingham, use a fine machine needle, preferably a size 11.

Store your winter knick-knacks away to make your summer cleaning job easier. And for less washing and ironing, use place mats of cork, plastic, or straw instead of tablecloths.

Here are a few simple ways to remove starch without damaging your iron. If the iron is hot, shake salt on a piece of paper, and rub the iron back and forth over the salt until the starch rubs off. You can remove starch from a cool iron by scouring it with fine steel wool or a moist cloth dipped in fine scouring powder.

While doing other housework, use your alarm clock when cooking. Set it so it will ring when food should be removed from the stove.

STATE HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Montgomery, Ala. — Tuberculosis claimed 208 Alabama deaths in January, February and March, the State Department of Health revealed today. This state total included none reported from Chilton County. Ten of the 67 counties reported five or more tuberculosis deaths during that three-month period. They were as follows:

Jefferson, 44; Mobile, 17; Montgomery, 15; Calhoun and Madison, eight each; Etowah, Lauderdale and Talladega, seven each; Russell, six; and Morgan, five.

In announcing these totals, the State Department of Health pointed out that they were based upon provisional reports prepared by its Bureau of Vital Statistics. They may differ slightly from final reports not yet available.

School Census Will Be Made In July

Between now and the last of July, census enumerators will again be calling in the homes of Chilton County. This time they will be taking the quadrennial school census, listing those of age 2-20 inclusive.

The main purpose of the census is to enable the State to properly distribute school monies to the various counties. However, other uses are made of the census records that will be filed permanently in the office of the Superintendent of Education. The Bureau of Vital Statistics accepts the school census record as legal evidence of age in issuing birth certificates or other documents. The Department of Public Welfare, the armed forces and most business establishments use these records as final. Therefore, it is very important that these records be complete and accurate. The superintendent and those assisting in the enumeration will greatly appreciate the co-operation of the parents in the homes that it is necessary for them to contact.

Enumerators have been selected and will began making calls within a few days. The following information will be required regarding the parents: Both names of each parent, address, birthplace, whether each reads and writes and occupation. Children of age 2-20 inclusive will be listed in the order of their ages and the following information will be required regarding each: Full name, name of school to attend next year, distance to school (or bus route for those riding buses), birthdate, highest grade completed in school, and defects. Enumerators are to use birth certificates whenever possible in determing ages. Parents are asked to have those readily available for the enumerator when he arrives if they have birth certificates. Where birth certificates are not available, Bible records, baptismal certificates, ages on insurance policies or other permanent records may be used. Parents' statements are accepted only when permanent records of some type are not available.

Married people under 21 years of age are to be enumerated. People of proper age are to be enumerated whether they are in school are not. Children away from home only temporarily are to be counted. Any child who becomes two years old on or before September 1 of this year will be enumerated. Also, those who are still 20 on the day the census is taken will be enumerated.

In addition to the above, men, women and children of all ages between the ages of birth and 50 years of age who are blind, deaf or crippled in any way will be enumerated separately. Those who are nearly blind or deaf will be listed in this category.

Be ready for the enumerator and assist him in every way possible. This census is essential and for the benefit of all citizens.

TIMBER PRICES MAKE TREE MORE VALUABLE

Auburn, Ala. — Now that lumber has taken another jump in price, trees are really valuable. However, many farmers sell a tree before it has a chance to show its capacity for earning money.

I. R. Martin, A.P.I. Extension Service forester, states that 12-inch trees will grow to 14-inch trees in a period of five years if the timber is properly managed. At this rate the tree will earn its owner 28 per cent interest per year. Trees, oil wells, and gold mines are among the few things that return this rate of interest. Therefore, timber owners who do not have an oil well or a gold mine should consider the benefits of good forestry management practices.

"The local county agent can help a farmer contact a timber marketing specialist," adds Martin.

FOUR STEPS TO MORE PROFITS FROM EGGS

Alabama poultrymen have an opportunity for market-egg profits this summer, according to John Weeks, A.P.I. Extension Service poultry specialist.

He urges flock owners to take the four steps necessary for more profit from eggs. They are: Remove all non-laying hens from the flock; use a maximum amount of home-grown grain in the feeding program balanced with protein, vitamin, and mineral-carrying supplements; stop all feed waste on the farm by getting rid of rats and by constructing alrge hoppers that will hold a day's supply of feed without waste; and deliver a top-quality product to the consumer. Eggs should be delivered twice a week during the summer months.

THREE CLANTON YOUNG MEN ENLIST IN U. S. AIR FORCE

Three young men from Clanton, Ala., have enlisted in the United States Air Force.

They are Clarence M. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Jones; William H. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Smith; and Arthur W. Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Y. E. Robinson.

They were enlisted at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station in Birmingham, Alabama, for a period of four years. After completing their basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, they will be ready for assignment in specialized work.

All three are graduates of Chilton County High School and plan to continue their education by taking advantage of the many courses airmen may study through the Armed Forces Education Program.

Before leaving, they stated that the Air Force would be their career.

CLANTON STUDENTS NAMED TO DEAN'S LIST

University, Ala. — The following students at the University of Alabama received high-ranking grades during the past quarter and were named to Deans' lists in their respective schools:

Clanton: Emma Frank McRae, Richard David Reynolds, College of Arts and Sciences.

FLYING TURKEYS

To prevent excessive flying by turkeys and to reduce the trouble in picking their wings at market time, some turkey growers are now removing the wing tips of their poults.

DEMAND FOR LEAN MEAT

One of the interesting and important developments of recent years for livestock growers, marketing people, and consumers is the increasing demand for certain qualities of meat and less demand for others. Consumers are using more of the cuts that have a larger proportion of lean meat and less of those that are high in fat.

REVIVAL AT TEMPLE CHURCH

REV. ARTHUR BELL

The 49th annual summer revival at Temple Church will begin next Sunday, July 9th. The Rev. Arthur Bell of Bellsville, Ill., will be the guest preacher. The Rev. Mr. Bell is a well-known minister to the people of Temple Community. His forty years in the ministry proves his great ability as a preacher of the Word of God. Services will begin at 7:30 each evening. The congregation of the Temple Church have made plans for a great time in this revival. Make your plans to enjoy this revival.

31ST ANNUAL HOMECOMING AT POPLAR SPRINGS IN COOSA COUNTY

The 31st Annual Homecoming will be held at Poplar Springs Baptist Church on Sunday, July 9th. It was founded in 1919 by the late John A. Darden, of Goodwater, who was Chairman until his death in 1942. A Memorial Plaque was dedicated to his memory last year.

The day's program will begin at 9:30 a.m. and will adjourn at 4 p.m. with dinner spread at noon in the church grove. The program will include good singing, fine preaching and several talks. The morning sermon will be delivered at the 11 o'clock hour. The main address of the afternoon will be by Hon. Wilbur B. Nolen and his subject is "The Greatest Need of America Today." Specail music will also be rendered.

The Program Committee is composed of Mrs. J. W. Wood, Sylacauga; Rev. John H. Darden, Talladega Springs, and Rev. John W. Dunlap of Hissop. John A. Darden, Jr., of Alexander City, is Chairman of the 1950 Homecoming and Miss Mary Stewart, of Sylacauga, is Secretary.

A large crowd is expected to attend and everyone is cordially invited. Poplar Springs is located near Hanover, Coosa County, 2 miles west of the Rockford-Sylacauga highway.

CHILTON COUNTY FAR BELOW GOAL IN CANCER DRIVE

"It seems a paradox that when cancer treatment, research, and information is reaching the highest peak in history, Chilton County should be far below its goal of $875.00," E. C. Easter State Chairman of the American Cancer Society said today.

"We have made too many strides in the fight against cancer to be hampered now by lack of funds. The price of neglect is too great. Cancer research projects at the Medical College of Alabama—opened a year ago at an expense of $100,000 and equipped with funds contributed by the American Cancer Society—and the Tumor Registry of the Alabama Association of Pathologists, are in jeopardy as the campaign comes to a close," the chairman said.

To date funds raised in Chilton County amount to $192.02.

Easter maintains that there is a possibility volunteer workers were not able to contact some Chilton Countians when they were at home or at a convenient time, or that some have intended to send their contributions but have not yet done so.

In these cases contributions may still be mailed to Mr. Dent Williams, Clanton, Ala., or to E. C. Easter, American Cancer Society, Birmingham, Ala.

All contributions sent from Chilton County will be credited to the county's goal.

W. L. Parrish, Chairman.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy to the best of my knowledge and belief of the minutes of the Court of County Commissioners of Chilton County, Alabama, of June 16, 1950.

W. L. PARRISH,
Judge of Probate.

COTTON DUSTING

County agents all over the state are urging farmers to purchase adequate supplies of 20 per cent toxaphene or the 3-5 mixture of BHC-DDT to dust their cotton during July and August. They recommend that 50 to 75 pounds of poison be bought for each acre of cotton.

FARM SAFETY WEEK

The end to be attained by observing National Farm Safety Week, July 23-29, is for every farm family to take time out for a discussion of how it can work, play, and live more safely.

You, too, would find it easy to write an advertisement about Electric Service...
Here's how you'd do it:
1 You'd get a pencil and paper.
2 You'd scratch your head a bit and say to yourself, "Now just what is it I want people to know about electric service?"
3 It wouldn't take you more than a second or two to decide that maybe you wouldn't write an advertisement after all, because certainly everybody already knows about how helpful, convenient and clean electric service is, and about the work it saves in homes, stores, offices, factories and on the farm. And at such a low cost, too!
4 "Why," you'd finally say to yourself, "electric service is really worth more than it costs!" and that's what you'd write your advertisement about.

CLANTON SCOUTS HONOR CAMPERS

A large group of Clanton Scouts attended Scout Camp at Camp Rotary, located on beautiful Lake Jordan, near Wetumpka, Alabama. Four Scouts from Clanton were selected to serve as staff members at the camp. They were Lloyd Warr, assistant water front director; Edward Robinson, cabin leader; and Ivan Smith and Ray Yeager were in charge of the dining hall. Norvell Simpson and Louie Reynolds will serve as staff members when camp re-opens after the jamboree.

Scouts attending camp from Clanton were: Louie Reynolds, Sam Roberts, Glennis Askins, Charles Wright, Wayne Hardy, Norvell Simpson, Edwin Davis, Jimmy Gillespie, Howard Smith, Edward Yeager, Gus Taylor and Donald Martin.

Clanton Scouts elected to the Order of the Arrow, a national campers organization, were Edward Robinson, Ray Yeager, Ivan Smith, Norvell Simpson and Edward Yeager.

Louie Reynolds, Ray Yeager and Edward Yeager earned the Rowing Merit Badge. Edward Robinson completed the Scout Life-Saving Merit Badge.

Scout Louie Reynolds won the Ping Pong Tournament. Wayne Hardy and Sam Roberts were second in the Shuffle Board Tournament.

Ivan Smith won the Staff Archery Tournament and was presented with a beautiful Archery Medal. Ivan also was presented his pro-marksman medal won on the rifle range. Scout Charles Wright won the Indian Leg Wrestle from all eleven and twelve year old Scouts. The Clanton Cabin won first place in the Soft Ball Tournament.

Sam Roberts and Donald Martin were elected Camp Goat. The Camp Goat is a privileged character around camp. Other campers must share drinks, candy, etc., with him. He gets to swim longer than other Scouts, first in the mess hall and various other privileges. The Camp Goat is elected by the Campers.

Four Clanton Scouts will attend the National Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge. They are Lloyd Warr, Jim Fort, Harold Parr and Louie Reynolds. They will camp with 47,000 other Scouts from over the world. Two days and nights will be spent on sight-seeing tours in New York and Washington, D.C.

IT IS EASY TO FIND RIGHT DRESS PATTERN

Auburn, Ala. — Good pattern designers have followed the fashion-figure change and designed patterns to fit the modern figure.

"Patterns cut to fit the figure at the various periods of development are now available," says Levice Ellis, A.P.I. Extension Service clothing specialist.

She points out that girl's sizes are designed in sizes 4 to 14 years and planned especially for the elementary and junior high school age. Junior Miss or teen age sizes are styled for the teen and junior size, 9 years to 19. these fit the growing figure. Misses' sizes, 10 to 20 years, are styled to fit the youthful figure and styled to her interest. Women's sizes come in bust sizes 34 inches to 50 inches and have sufficient ease allowed for the fully-developed adult figure.

PLENTIFUL FOODS LISTED FOR BUYER

The home food buyer will do well to take advantage of the big supply of fruits and vegetables now coming on the market. Whatever favorites might be—tomatoes, beans, corn, peas, peaches, berries, canteloupes, watermelons, potatoes—they will be found on the market along with 15 or 20 other vegetables and fruits coming from Alabama fields and orchards.

"People generally are eating much more fruits and vegetables than they once did," points out A. W. Jones, A.P.I. Extension Service marketing specialist. "Each person in the United States last year ate an average of 280 pounds of fresh and canned vegetables and 216 pounds of fruit. This amount is about 50 per cent more than each person consumed on the average during the period of 1909-1913."

Jones reminds food buyers that fruits and vegetables are essential in balanced diets.

POULTRY LICE CONTROL

Lice can be controlled for just a few cents in just a few minutes by dusting two pounds of sulphur in the litter of the poultry house for every 100 square feet of floor space. The treatment should last about three months.

PLANNING FOR SERICEA

Farmers who were unable to get sericea planted in the spring may want to get land ready for early July planting.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

George Jerrel, Sawyer's Cove, has planted approximately one hundred acres of lespedeza sericea. This sericea was planted on rolling, eroded land. It will be used for erosion control, seed production and grazing.

* * *

Lewis E. Thomas, Cooper, will harvest his Kentucky 31 Fescue with a cradle. When dried the seed will be thrashed out by hand. This just goes to prove that soil conserving crop seed can be harvested without expensive machinery. It's true that it takes a lot of time and work, but the money saved in seed cost is well worth the time and labor. Remember the old proverb, "A dollar saved is a dollar earned."

* * *

Speaking of fescue seed, there will be several hundred pounds harvested in the county this year. If you are planning to plant some this fall, it might be a very good idea to contact the growers now and engage your seed. In all probability the seed will be scarce this fall. Fescue, when planted in combination with one of the white clovers, makes an excellent pasture. It is also an excellent grass to sow in meadow outlets. It will make good growth where it is too wet for either kudzu or sericea.

* * *

Vonnie Blalock, Thomas Hayes, R. O. Williams and J. N. Dennis are some of the farmers that have trial patches of Button Clover. Seed will be harvested off these patches this month. This is a reseeding clover that fits in nicely in a row crop rotation. Due to the large percent of hard seed, at least three volunteer crops can be expected by letting one crop mature. It is also a good seed producer. It will make up to five hundred pounds of seed per acre. If you are looking for a good reseeding legume, Button Clover might be it. Why not give it a trial this fall?

RECRUITING NEWS

Pfc. Dieryel Wade, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Wade, 300 Second Street, Clanton, has just completed his Basic Training with high honors at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, and is home for a few days before going on to Air Police training at Camp Gordon, Ga. Pfc. Wade likes the Air Force life and is very anxious to start on his four months training at the Police School, Camp Gordon.

Pvt. Erskin R. Bice, 10th FA Battalion, Fort Devons, Mass., is spending a 30-day leave with his wife and daughter. He says he likes his job in the Army fine and is going to re-enlist shortly for another hitch.

Marvin Jones, Winston Robinson and Hershel Smith, graduates of the Chilton County High School, enlisted in the U. S. Air Force and are on their way to Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, for their Basic Training.

Good News For The Industrial World

The long hoped for fuelless motor is here. In the subject matter of a muffler with valved exhaust trap, as disclosed in the following Culp patents: Nos. 1,514,441 granted November 4, 1924; 1,666,005, granted April 10, 1928; 1,673,619, granted June 12, 1928; 1,807,512, granted May 26, 1931; 2,486,007, granted October 25, 1949.

It is reasonable to say that the suction power of the vacuum created from the shrinkage of the exhaust from an internal combustion motor or engine is equal to the expanding power of the explosion in said engine or motor, operating on the expanding stroke only (as usual) was fitted with the necessary equipment to trap and shrink the exhaust from said engine or motor, and use the vacuum from said shrinkage as a motovating power on said engine or motor the horsepower of said engine or motor would be greatly increased without any additional fuel, hence I am glad to say that in the subject matter of the above listed patents I have a function that will amount to a truly fuelless motor.

I started my inventive career back in March of 1912 with a very strong ambition to perfect a perpetual motor, and after getting out patents on a few very complicated engines and motors, I discovered the above theory in it's infancy, and after several years of hard and prayerful work with everlasting vigilance by the help of God, I am glad to say that I have reached my goal, and I honestly believe from actual test that I have in this combination a power that is more practical and economical than any type of perpetual motion could ever be.

This device operates on the exhaust line behind the regular muffler and serves as an auxiliary aid in co-operation with the motor to which it is applied by trapping the hot exhaust in the muffler of the motor and allowing the natural shrinkage of same to make a forward vacuum pull on the pistons of the motor when the exhaust valves are opened for discharge. In this way the back-pressure is eradicated and the heat energy is converted into a vacuum power which operates directly on the pistons of the motor and greatly increases the power without any additional fuel, therefore, it must be a fuelless motor my proof of the fact is found in the testimonials from satisfied users of this device.

Respectfully submitted,
A. J. CULP,
Inventor, Route 2, Clanton, Ala.

WILLIAM E. WRIGHT

On Tuesday, June 20th, at 5:15 a.m. the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Wright and called William Elliott Wright to Heaven. He was four years, two months and 19 days old.

He was laid to rest at New Cedron Church Wednesday, June 21st, at 3:00 p.m., with Griffin Burial in charge. The Rev. J. I. Bice and Rev. W. S. Cox were the speakers.

Uncles served as pallbearers, Thomas and Talmadge Williams, Haynes and Everett Wright.

Flower girls were:

Mrs. Everett Wright, Kathryn Rich, Barbara Ann and Linda Bolton, Johnnie Sue Williams, Janice Williams, Ann Diffley, Joyce Wright, Sheila Hester and Caroline Dickinson.

He leaves to mourn his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Wright; one brother and one sister; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Williams of Billingsley and Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Wright of Mt. Creek; great grandparents, Mrs. J. B. Williams of Billingsley and G. W. Culver of Clanton and Mrs. G. W. Hester of Wedowee; three aunts and six uncles.

EVERY ACRE SHOULD ADD TO FARM INCOME

Auburn, Ala. — Successful farmers find that every acre can add to the income.

D. R. Harbor, A.P.I. Extension Service agronomist, lists some crops that can be planted at this time to boost grazing and feed production on the farm. They are grain sorghum; lespedeza sericea, if it is planted on a well-prepared, firm seedbed; Sudan grass, on good land; soybeans, for grazing in south Alabama; and cowpeas.

Harbor reminds farmers that lespedeza sericea planted at this time will not be ready to use in 1950, but it can be used for hay, grazing, and seed production in 1951.

The local county agent has complete information on growing all of these crops.

A small grease fire can be put out by pouring baking soda on the burning area. Never throw water on a grease fire; the water will cause it to spread.

In 1826 when a road was being built from Irwinton to Clayton, the 300 workmen were stopped by Indians who came charging upon them with tomahawks. The Indian chieftain claimed that the great White Father in Washington had not sanctioned such destruction to their wooded countryside.

This Month in rural Alabama

JULY 6, 1950

. . . . . . SECTION OF - CHILTON COUNTY NEWS - CLANTON, ALA. . . . . . .

State Farmers Poised For Battle With Bugs

THIS month will see the biggest bug battle ever to take place in cotton fields of Alabama and the South. Millions of dollars will be spent in efforts to keep the boll weevil from repeating last year's rampage.

To many, the total expense farmers in the state will go to in poisoning the insect would seem a staggering figure. Experts won't even venture an estimate as to what will be spent on insecticides, dusting and spraying equipment and labor. But to farmers still remembering the $50,000,000 they lost in '49, it will mean money well spent. They know the cash will be returned with the harvest. They are ready to go all out.

July is the month when cotton starts setting its crop for that harvest. Although the weevil has already worked on stalks in some fields to the degree that a little poisoning was necessary, the time when bolls are forming is most important. Growers know this is when the pest will do his damage if he is not killed.

So the dust will fly thick and fast. Not haphazardly as it did in many cases a year ago but with carefully planned precision. As you drive the highways you will smell the poison. You will see little clouds of dust rising over the hill even before you see the cotton patch where the busy farmer is dragging his duster. You'll even see planes zooming over fields to spread destruction for the bug.

The poisons you smell will be mostly 20 per cent Toxaphene or a 3-5 mixture of BHC-DDT. Some growers, however, will still be using calcium arsenate. They will apply the poisons at intervals to keep ahead of the weevil's hatching out and swarming.

This fight of the farmer is important to the economy of our state. If he loses we all lose.. Let's back him in it and keep a keen eye out for a way to help him win.

Keep Vegetables Fresh

IN mid-Summer, when weather is extremely hot, fruits and vegetables spoil rapidly. But proper care may protect them.

Heat causes a loss of water content which results in withering, shriveling, and loss of weight in nearly all vegetables. Direct exposure to the sun for any length of time may cause blistering or scaling of potatoes, tomatoes, cucumbers, watermelons and peaches.

If fruits and vegetables are placed in the shade soon after harvest and kept in a cool place until they go to market, few packages will be lost from spoilage. If the product is shipped by rail or truck to a distant market, refrigeration helps keep them in good shape.

Club House Made From School

THE Union Chapel Home Demonstration Club in Pickens County is busy these days converting a school building into a community club house.

The building, unused for 12 years, needed many repairs, but the industrious women are putting it in top shape.

In January the club selected this as a group project and immediately began work. They have no trouble getting their husbands to do the manual labor as long as they promise a delicious supper at the end of each work day.

The ladies' plans call for painting the old building inside and out, adding a door, repairing windows, building a barbecue pit and converting one room into a kitchen.

Fit, Fine, Fat And Fancy - - -

It is sleek looking beef animals like these that are forcing Alabama restaurant owners to remove the sign, "Western Steaks," from in front of their places of business.

Nowhere in the country do beef herds look better in the Spring than here in the Southeast. And they get their fine form from Winter grazing. In fact, they stay in top shape the year-round with plenty of good pasture.

The Herefords grazing white Dutch clover and orchard blue grass in this picture belong to J. C. Fennel, Leighton, Ala. This Colbert County pasture, which includes 500 acres, is six years old.

Broiler Maker Young Lewis Walker likes to show neighbors how fast he can make chicks into broilers. He puts the feed and water to them, manages them well, and watches them fatten.

The Luverne 4-H Club boy can tell you every nickel he's spent on his 100 chicks—and pretty soon can tell about that nice profit he's looking for. This is Lewis' first try with broilers.

Make Wildlife A Cash Crop Farmers Urged By State Expert

WILDLIFE can mean big money to Alabama farmers.

Facts and figures from county agents' reports show that hunting, fishing, trapping and wildlife crops brought them more than $700,000 last year. The figures can be made much bigger.

Hunting rights brought $186,000; wild animal pelts, $100,000; fishing rights, $300,000; fishbait $146,752; and bamboo fishing poles, $16,000.

"The income possibilities from wildlife have not been scratched," declares Earl Kennamer, wildlife specialist of the A.P.I. Extension Service. "Last year was the first time Alabama farmers sold large partridge peas on a big scale. They sold more than 10,000 pounds of this quail food."

Bicolor lespedeza seed production is another crop that makes a profitable project, the specialist adds.

Kennamer says many more pond owners can make more cash too—by selling permits and fishing rights. He believes bait production can do its share as well.

Every farmer is urged to think about these projects and maybe add one as a new "crop."

After 20 years of plugging away, J. H. Mathews, Troy, Rt. 4, has made this 410-acre farm a sound business. But he is still looking for better farming in years to come. At left he is talking over the day's plowing with Wade Atwell (on tractor), one of his workers.

At right Mathews (left) is with County Agent Nick Carter in a field just cleared and terraced for more grazing crops.

Down In Pike County

A Farmer Looks At 20 Years Work---And Smiles

J. H. MATHEWS was feeling pretty good. After all, turning a 410-acre run down farm into a sound business isn't a simple thing.

When the Pike County farmer climbed his highest hill the other day and took a long look at his expansive acres, he was satisfied with his 20 years of work.

Mathews well remembers the day he moved to the farm, out on Troy, Rt. 4. Gullies streaked almost every field. Here and there straggling fencing was held up by rotting posts. Bushes dotted cotton and corn patches.

"I decided right then that I had a long, hard job," recalls Mathews. "I planned every step in bringing that land back into good shape—and have stuck by that plan."

From the start Mathews put money he made on the farm back into fixing the place. Slowly, year after year, he cleared this field of bushes, terraced that one, fenced another. Fertilizer and seed went onto pastures and a head or so of livestock was added. He used plenty of legumes—mainly blue lupine—to boost yields of cash crops and home-grown feeds for livestock.

It took years for even Mathews, a unit test demonstration farmer, to see that headway was being made. But he stuck to his job and the years rolled on — five — ten — fifteen. Neighbors suddenly saw what was happening —a farm was being born.

County Agent Nick Carter puts it this way: "Mathews is one of Alabama's best farmers. He started from scratch—and is still scratching to make his place even better. What he's done, any farmer can do. For Mathews used money made on the farm, plus plenty of hard work, to get where he is."

And where is he? He sells 90 head of hogs each year for some $3,000 and dairying brings in about the same amount. Beef animal sales come to $1,000. Usually each of 40 acres of cotton turns out a bale, corn yields run about 50 bushels, and peanuts average 1,500 pounds to the acre. All fields have been terraced, and 10 miles of fine fencing have been put up.

And all this happened on a farm once "too poor to sprout peas."

Yet the wiry, pleasant little man out on Route 4 isn't through. "See that wooded spot over there. I'll clean that up this Winter for more grazing land."

Help Vets Fight Bangs Disease

BANGS is the most costly disease to the American livestockman. Every year in this state thousands of young are lost from it before they are counted in herds.

Calfhood vaccination has been found to be the most effective way of controlling this dangerous disease.

Farmers are urged to cooperate with veterinarians in Alabama's program to fight Bangs. All animals between the ages of four and 12 months that will be kept for breeding purposes should be vaccinated.

The service is free to the farmer.

You will be notified when these veterinarians are coming to your community. Have the animals you want vaccinated up in a lot and give these state workers your full cooperation in handling the work.

Farm Women Look At Auburn

More than 60 farm women, members of home demonstration clubs, came from Cleburne County recently to see the A.P.I. campus at Auburn. They spent the day seeing how experiments are handled in farm and home units. County President Mrs. Henry Boozer said the women went home convinced that the information they get from Auburn is based on fact.

At A.P.I. they visited the poultry unit, lawn plots, the home management house, fish ponds, and (at right) they are shown at one of the new green houses. Talking to the ladies is H. P. Orr, associate professor of horticulture.

Along the Way with

P. O. DAVIS

DIRECTOR, A.P.I. EXTENSION SERVICE

THREE years ago a distinguished Russian journalist declared that "the American capitalistic economy is already doomed." By this he meant that our way of life can't endure. . . that it must be replaced by another form of government. Obviously, he was advocating the Soviet system.

This statement concerns us vitally. It even chills us. It challenges us to wonder and to take stock of ourselves.

If we're doomed as a nation and destined to another form of government, we at least should know why—and then prepare ourselves to make the best of it.

But I'm among the millions of American people who disagree wholly with this Russian in his statement. It was wishful talking on his part, but now is a good time to look at ourselves from without and from within. We must never lose sight of ourselves.

A clear view of ourselves, on another 4th of July, reveals that as a nation we are second to none in the world. In fact no other nation equals us.

Evidence of this is the fact that we are only a seventh of the people of the world, but in a century and a half we have created more wealth than the rest of the world combined.

Our outstanding achievements raise in our minds a question as to why we have accomplished so much in so little time in terms of history.

The essence of the answer goes back, in my judgment, to and beyond that original Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776. That declaration insisted that men were, and are, endowed with certain "inalienable" rights and listed among these "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

But this declaration was not the beginning of the revolution in behalf of human rights. Just when it began historians are not agreed.

It was the revolution that began in the minds of the people of England and elsewhere in Europe long before July 4, 1776, that became the essence of American greatness and achievement. It was a revolution in the minds of men, or of a few men, the number which grew and grew.

These men insisted that man should be free to think, free to study, and free to work for the development of his talents and, thereby, improve himself, his family, his home, his community, his country.

We are a democracy which recognizes that a man is composed of mind and body and spirit with needs and aspirations in all three of his natures.

Democracy recognizes also that only an individual human being can generate human energy. And only an individual human being can exercise efficient control over the energy that he generates.

It follows, therefore, that only free men, cooperating in a free and friendly environment, can make full, efficient, and effective use of their mental and physical abilities.

Thus we see that individual initiative is the source of all progress and that human initiative is a spontaneous individual trait which cannot be forced upon an individual from without by government or otherwise.

So we can conclude that in most of the other countries of the world the lack of progress and achievement traces to their form of government or to the fact that the individual is not free to think and study and work for himself and his family so long as it does not conflict with the rights and privileges of others.

From Training Meetings - - -

At training meetings 4-H Club neighboraides pick up information to be used at local Summer sessions in the homes of members. Above, boys and girls of the Montevallo 4-H Club watch Frank Norris give a demonstration on setting the table. Each young leader present will give the demonstration at his first local meeting after the close of school. Supervising the demonstration here are Mrs. N. E. Phillips, left, and Mrs. Murray Fancher, voluntary 4-H leaders.

To Neighborhood Meetings - - -

This busy group of 4-H youngsters in the Montevallo neighborhood are holding a meeting at the home of Jade Higgins, local neighboraide. Following the business session and the day's demonstration they will be served refreshments and will play games.

To Home Projects

While attending the neighborhood meeting, critical club members are always ready to look over the home project of their host. They might even make a tour to see the projects of all workers. The neighboraide visits the home of every member at least once during the Summer to talk about home project work.

Here the group at Jade Higgins' home takes time to admire plants in Jade's flower garden. With them at left is Miss Gwendolyn Anderson, assistant home agent.

Plan Works In Shelby

Neighborhood Clubs Strengthen 4-H Youth Work

SCHOOL is out in Shelby County. But its closing doesn't mean a slow-down in 4-H Clubs.

Boys and girls on farms hereabouts shift their club work into high gear when the last school bell rings.

True, the members won't meet in one big group again until they come back in September, but they'll have get-togethers. They will hold neighborhood meetings.

There are 63 4-H neighborhood clubs in Shelby. And each of these will meet at least three times during the Summer. Programs—planned and outlined by their club agents—will be carried out under the guidance of two volunteer adult leaders and at least two neighboraides in each community.

What are neighboraides? They are 4-H members elected by each club to act as neighborhood leaders. Besides planning and conducting meetings they help fellow-members over the bumps in doing home project work. Some 125 of these boys and girls are spending time "aiding neighbors" this year in Shelby County.

It's heart-warming to look into Alabama's rural communities and watch the development of our next generation.

What you see are boys and girls who will carry the ball in the farming industry. But that's not all. Many of them will grow into professional leaders and successful businessmen. They will move to towns and cities.

Wherever the farm youngster goes, he will carry with him the advantage of training no other generation has had. He will not be afraid of work. Rather he will believe in it, love it.

Take the fact that his school training has climbed to the level of urban areas. Add to that his special training in farm youth clubs around the countryside. And you come up with a product that's bound to be a winner.

The neighboraide program is fairly new in Alabama. Only a few counties had started the work as early as 1946. It grew stronger during the next two years, however, and this year the little local clubs are springing up all over the state. Naturally the success of such a program depends on ability of the young people to organize. Four-H Clubbers are proving themselves masters of the art.

For example, here's how the neighborhood program worked out in the Montevallo 4-H Club. At the last meeting of the school year, members from each neighborhood huddled together a few minutes and elected their neighboraides. They also settled on a local farmer and a housewife they would ask to be their adult leaders.

At a special meeting for these young leaders, county extension agents and local leaders gave them training in their duties. They handed them suggested outlines for the Summer's work and prepared demonstrations to give at meetings. Included were recreational programs for 4-H parties.

If possible, county agents will join the boys and girls at each of these meetings at their homes. With nearly 200 scheduled in the county for the Summer this hardly seems likely. But whether the agents are there or not, the farm youth program will keep right on moving.

Field Days For Breeders Kick Off Dairy Show Circuit

WHEN Summertime comes, dairymen get the urge to show off their cattle with friends and competitors.

Young heifers coming from green Winter pastures are sleeked off to their finest form. And the fresh cows are at their best for showing. They make a pretty picture, and the breeders want everybody to see it.

So they hold a celebration. Call it a field day.

The Guernsey breeders held their field day May 17 at the Morning View Stock Farm near Marion Junction. The owners of red and white milkers had judging contests for youngsters and adults; they had a dairy show and selected prize winners; and they had leading dairymen present to make talks and give demonstrations on handling cattle. At lunch they enjoyed an old-time picnic.

And this month, July 13, Jersey breeders will have the same kind of jubilee. There will be no spotted cattle in their show though; they will be bragging on cream and mouse colored milkers of their own breed. The dairymen will hold their field day at Hickory Lane Jersey Farm, Huntsville, Alabama.

Both these annual events are sponsored by Alabama clubs of the two famous breeds.

* * *

Better Pullets. A good feeding program with no skimping on feed during the Summer is the first step in building strong, well-matured pullets.

Work animals, both mules and horses, continue to lead the downward march in numbers. It is estimated they will be 10 to 15 per cent less at the end of this year. According to a recent report dog food is the best market now for draft horses.

Little Man--Big Machine

You've heard of sending a boy to do a man's job. Well, in this case it works. Ten-year-old James Park, not much taller than a plow handle, turns out a neat piece of work on a drill press. In fact, his father, J. L. Park, says James can beat him. And so the 4-H Club member has a steady job in the family's work shop, repairing plow tools and other items for neighbors. The Parks live at Pinkard in Dale County.

Save Your Sorrows

Observe National Farm Safety Week July 23-29

By SAM DOUGHTY

ARE you safe on the job you're doing? Chances are that you are not. Farm folks live and work amid the dangers of barbed wire, missing ladder rungs, projecting nails, and balky gasoline engines.

Every year farm and home accidents in the country take a toll of 18,500 lives. And some 7,500 of these are home accidents. Motor vehicle deaths total 5,000, while occupational work accidents take a toll of 4,500.

At present, records show several recent accidents in Alabama. They include the following: a mule kicks a farmer during an attempt to bridle him; a can of kerosene explodes as a person attempts to build a fire in the kitchen stove; a child playing with matches sets her clothes on fire and is burned to death; a woman trips on a broken step and breaks her leg; revolving parts of a tractor catch the clothes of the operator, severely injuring him; an electric circuit with a too heavy load causes a "short" and burns a barn filled with feed and livestock; a woman slips in the bath tub, resulting in serious back injuries.

More than half the deaths in the home from accidents are due to falls. These are caused by falling down steps, stumbling over toys or other objects carelessly left in paths of travel through the house, or slipping on small rugs. Another chief cause of fatal falls is the use of unsteady chairs or tottery tables for stepladders.

Farm machines top the tragedy list of farm accidents. They must be managed with caution and deliberation, kept in good repair, carefully stored and used according to specific instructions.

Farm fires kill from 2,000 to 3,500 persons each year. The property loss is estimated at $100,000,000.

The Home Safety Committee of the National Safety Council has analyzed thousands of farm and home accidents and gives the following three reasons for them: Carelessness, indifference to risk, and ignorance of danger.

Neither you nor your family can afford one of these accidents. With proper care and effort, they can be prevented.

As Time Marches

Monroe Mules Move

NOT long ago a farm tractor was an oddity in Monroe County.

Folks there remember traveling for miles to see the first of these noisy machines that were supposed to take the place of the lop-eared mule. That year neighbors got a big kick out of watching the new owner bouncing and bumping over his fields and messing up his crop.

But it's all changed now. The farmer who makes his crop with a mule is far out-numbered by those who use tractors and other machines.

County Agent A. V. Culpepper, a veteran worker in Monroe, says there were less than a half-dozen tractors in the county 15 years ago. Now there are more than 500. The machines have replaced nearly 2,000 mules.

Henry C. Manning out on Monroeville, Rt. 1, is a good example of a farmer who made the change from mules to machinery. Up until six years ago he was cultivating 101 acres with three mules and two hired hands. Manning says he is now doing the job by himself—doing it easier and better—with one tractor. He produces corn, cotton and soybeans, and needs help only for cotton chopping and picking.

"There wasn't a tractor in this community 10 years ago," Manning muses, "and five years later there were only three. But of the 12 farmers here only two are farming this year with mules."

* * *

GIVE broilers more ventilation as weather gets warmer. Better ventilation will mean a drier house, better growth and feathering of chicks, and less danger from coccidiosis.

Money Makers

THESE sheep are grazing improved permanent pasture on the farm of Vernon Kitchens, Jasper, Rt. 3.

Kitchens tells a tall tale about his experience as a shepherd. In June, 1949, he bought a ram and 15 ewes. The following January the ewes presented him with 16 lambs. Keeping four ewes to increase his herd Kitchens sold 12 of the lambs this Spring for $262—just $9 short of the price he paid for the herd he bought last June. Later he sold $60 worth of wool from the sheep he kept.

The farmer says these sheep cost him practically nothing to keep. They lived on grass alone throughout the Winter, making excellent use of his crimson clover—rye grass, alfalfa, oats and vetch. This year all income from the herd will be profit, he figures.

This Month on the Farm

by API EXTENSION SPECIALISTS

MOVE pullets to clean range where there is plenty of leguminous grazing crops. Alfalfa makes an excellent green crop for poultry if you have some available. If you do not have alfalfa, now is the time to plan for Fall plantings.

* * *

BE sure to spray all beef cattle this month with DDT and BHC. Cattle that are fighting insects cannot make efficient use of feed.

* * *

JULY is a very important month for the shepherd. During this month ewes should be bred for early lambs. It is possible to have all the lambs come in one week. And that's good business because you need to be with ewes day and night while they are lambing.

* * *

FARM ponds should be fertilized throughout the Summer in order to promote fish growth and keep down weeds. Fertilization at this time will make your catches better next year. New ponds stocked with bass and blue gills this Spring should not be fished until June 1, 1951.

* * *

DEEP plowing late in the season reduces cotton yields. Plow cotton shallow and just often enough to control weeds. Light cultivation after July rains will help keep down weeds that interfere with harvesting.

* * *

GOOD seed usually are sold first. So get your Winter legume seed early. And get your inoculation and fertilizer so you will have them when it's time to plant. Farmers who have seed and fertilizer on hand usually get the crop in on time.

* * *

JULY is not too late to plant grain sorghum in the southern half of Alabama. And some North Alabama farmers who planted in early July have made mature crops before frost. Grain sorghum is better than corn for planting at this season.

* * *

DO not graze kudzu too closely and kill it. It is over-grazed when the green leaves do not completely cover the ground. Overgrazing is also possible with permanent pasture. Use supplementary grazing.

* * *

SELL hogs in July. It's usually one of the best months in the year for marketing. Last year a 200-pound top hog sold for $43.00 in mid-July. The same weight and grade of hog sold for $36.50 in September and for only $29.00 in December.

* * *

ALABAMA enjoyed a record harvest of grass and legume seed this Spring. Use these seed to make your farm green during Fall and Winter. July is a good time to plan for getting a "cover of green" on every acre.

* * *

PIGS will be going in corn fields in July throughout Alabama. Hog raisers should remember that corn is very deficient in proteins and minerals. One hundred pounds of protein supplement self fed to fattening pigs in the corn field will save 500 to 600 pounds of corn, make pigs gain faster, and produce more meat with less lard on the carcass.

It's Strictly Business

Tenants Work As Partners On Blount County Farms

On eight Blount County farms land and labor have formed partnerships that will be hard to whip. Operators there have gone into the beef business to stay.

The land half of the firms is furnished by Vernon A. Ratliff, of Garden City, Star Route. Some call him a landlord, but the trade he has with his tenants gives them a full partner's share of the income. To get it they furnish the labor.

Not only does Ratliff give them half the income—they own half of everything on their farms except the land and buildings. Cattle and hogs, crops, machinery, all go into the partnership. And as the operations grow half the increase goes to the farmers.

Owner Ratliff even throws a few extras in. He establishes good permanent pastures on each farm and builds the original fences at his own expense. He furnishes heavy land preparation equipment which tenants use at a minimum charge.

And that's not all. Mr. Ratliff loans each farmer the capital he needs for his half of the investment. He even built a church for the eight families and their neighbors. And every other Sunday he meets them there for services.

The homes on these farms are not the run-down shacks tenant houses often are. Every one is a well built sturdy home and is either painted or covered with asbestos. Good barns and out houses are other features of each homestead.

These farms are not growing row crops alone for cash. Each farm has a livestock operation which was started with 10 registered beef heifers and three brood sows. Alvin McAlpine, who started his business four years ago, has built his beef herd to 40 head. Dave Sterling has 30 cows after four years of work. Other operators are newer at the game, but they are all pleased with their progress and outlook.

McAlpine says this is the best deal he's ever seen for the fellow who doesn't own a place. He says never before was he able to have cows and hogs as a tenant.

This farmer paid off his investment loan in two years of farming and since then has bought himself a tractor and a truck. Last year from his 70 acres he sold 15 head of cattle for $2,000, 35 hogs for $750 and four bales of cotton for $530. (He says his ten acres of cotton made low yields because of the boll weevil, but other crops took care of him just the same.) Besides these sales he collected $560 from Mt. Ratliff for labor off the farm.

"This farmer is doing better than he ever did before—better than many a land owner is doing," believes W. H. Ward, county agent. Ward says this relationship between land owner and worker is as sound as he has ever seen. He believes it works to the advantage of both parties and is calling its attention to other landlords.

As for Partner Vernon Ratliff he's tickled pink with the arrangement. "After all, I couldn't look after the 600 acres at my age," he says. "This way I've got the responsibility shifted to somebody else. These boys are giving it all they've got because it's part theirs. They are doing a good job."

Ratliff was quite a farmer himself in times past. When he and an uncle bought this big place in 1935, it was a wilderness. They paid $10,300 for it and Ratliff moved in to make it pay.

Pay it did. Ten years later he had paid his uncle for his investment plus $2100 in additional profits and had bought his partner out to the tune of $15,500. The farm had paid for itself, made him a living and had paid the uncle $17,600.

* * *

Five and a half pigs per year are needed to support a sow for a year. There should be at least 12 hogs to sell annually per sow.

* * *

Better Marketing. Finish out and market the hogs you plan to sell as rapidly as possible. Prices may not be as good after the big rush of hogs to market from the corn belt begins.

The Vernon A. Ratliff plantation, on Bangor, Rt. 1, in Blount County, is made up of eight thriving, independent farms. Mr. Ratliff works with the farm operators strictly on a partnership basis, he providing the land, the farmer the labor. Every money making enterprise on each farm is carried on a 50-50 basis. The above pictures were made on one of these farms operated by Alvin McAlpine.

(Picture 4) McAlpine gets a lot of help from his boys when he starts to gas his tractor. He bought the tractor the third year after starting work under the new plan.

(Picture 5) Vernon Ratliff stands near the church he built for the convenience of his farmers and their friends. He attends services there with them twice each month.

Lives And Dollars At Stake

Besides the 17,500 fatalities from farm and home accidents, 1,500,000 disabling injuries are caused by them and 35,000 buildings are burned.

The annual losses represented by these accidents and fires exceed $1,000,000,000. The cost is equal to an annual tax of $35 per year to every farm person throughout the Nation.

Most of this could be prevented if farm people would learn and practice safety rules to eliminate hazards.

The 4-H Club Safety Program

Alabama 4-H Club members have launched a safety program that will help them eliminate accident hazards on the farm and in the home.

They are learning to practice and promote safety by checking and removing conditions that might cause fire, accidents, or injuries. They are setting up fire fighting systems on their farms and are encouraging neighbors and others to practice farm and home safety.

Four-H Clubbers are busy checking loose boards on steps and stairways. They are checking well covers, medicine cabinets, and firearms. Stoves, flues, chimneys, fireplaces, lighting systems, fuel containers, ladders, attics, and water supplies are all getting a close inspection.

The family car is getting a safety check up, especially the brakes and lights. Farm machinery safety shields, gasoline storage facilities, and protected exhausts are getting the "eagle eye."

They Are Working Together Not only is the field of hands chopping cotton at left working together; the four-legged workers in the picture at right are also doing their part on the Fate Brooks farm. Brooks, who believes in keeping more than one iron in the fire, won't settle for just one cash crop, or for two. The Monroe Countian has 325 acres of cotton, 100 head of beef animals, and 500 hogs that he is counting on for income.

Money In Three Pockets

Monroe Farmer Has Combination Of Cash Crops

FARMERS everywhere are shuffling their operations around as they search for new sources of cash.

In the confusion of acreage controls, marketing quotas and shaky markets, some growers are desperately trying first one thing and then another. One is sticking religiously to cotton as his only source of cash. Another is leaving cotton altogether and declaring he's found a gold mine in something else. And somewhere else there's one ready to throw up his hands in despair, move to the city and forget it all.

While all this is going on, there's a farmer down in Monroe County who is ready to prove they are all wrong. He's a combination farmer.

Fate Brooks, of Frisco City, is a cotton farmer, a cattleman and a hog producer. He won't say how much he made on his 1,400 acres last year, but he readily admits he would fight to keep all three of his cash crops. He says they're all good.

"Others can swing left or right or die on the back trail as they choose," says Brooks, "but I aim to keep moving down the middle of the road. As long as I have three sources of income on my farm, a bad year for one crop won't break me up. Right now it looks like I can make money on cotton, hogs and cattle."

When you take a look at his farm, you agree with Fate Brooks. He has 325 acres of cotton on land that will give him high yields for that section. He has more than 200 acres of top quality grazing land that will adequately feed his more than 100 head of beef. He has 600 acres of corn, some of which will be hogged off with 500 shoats. And he has 200 acres of soybeans.

In recent years seven tractors have replaced 22 head of workstock—and the farm has been doubled in size. Brooks has proved that with machinery he and his two sons can afford the hired labor they need to complete their tremendous job.

In the long years he struggled to build his farm (and he started from scratch) Fate Brooks learned that you don't get something for nothing. He believes you have to work at any kind of farming if you are to make it pay.

Maybe he's got something.

How New Clubs Are Formed Demonstrated In Crenshaw

HOW is a home demonstration club formed? Here's how it was done once.

Mrs. Alton Richburg was a member of the Joquin Club in Crenshaw County for years, but she wanted a club organized in her own community a few miles over. So she invited her neighbors to her home in May, 1949. She talked it over with the ladies, and they presented a plan to the home agent. From this meeting the Good Neighbor Home Demonstration Club came into being and has since grown by leaps and bounds.

Good Neighbor is now one of the best clubs in the county. All 19 members have painted and lettered their mail boxes this year. Their latest project was to erect five community signs on the highways leading to their community; the signs announce the meeting dates of the club.

At present the club is working on improving the school lunchroom facilities. Already they have donated over twenty drying cloths and a set of mixing bowls. In February, the ladies sponsored and directed a "Manless Wedding," giving the door receipts to the lunchroom for a payment on an electric stove.

Representatives from the club have been to every leadership school, council meeting and council workshop since its organization.

Officers of this outstanding club are president, Mrs. Alton Richburg; vice-president, Mrs. Ralph Folmar; secretaries, Mrs. Ruth Wilson Bozeman and Miss Mary Phyllis McLeod; reporter, Miss Mary Phyllis McLeod; song leader, Mrs. Joe Calvin McLeod, and recreational leader, Mrs. John E. McLeod.

At Long Last

Gallion Gets A Club House

GALLION home demonstration club women have their pattern of work all cut out for the Summer. They're building a community club house.

For years the ladies had felt the need of a place to hold club meetings and other community gatherings. Somehow though they just didn't get around to doing anything about it.

Finally this Spring they decided the time had come for action.

Starting with nothing but a strong determination, the group of Marengo County farm women began hunting a way to work out their project. They didn't have land, money or plans to go by, but they knew the job could be done. They could do it.

When Farmer Dillard May got word of their plight and offered to give them a lot for the club house, the ladies stopped worrying and began work. Members got busy raising money for the building. They sponsored barbecues and ice cream suppers. They planted a half acre of sweet potatoes to sell this Fall. They gathered in all the cash donations offered in the community. And they put carpenters to work on the building.

Hard work and careful planning have carried the club house almost to completion. Mrs. Alice Willard, a leader in the project, says some work is done by hired help but the club women and their families do most of it.

When the 30 by 60 foot building is completed, it will have cost over $2,000. But the community is not offering it for sale. They figure it will pay dividends for years to come.

Thirteen More 4-H Milkers Join Ranks In Elmore County

THIRTEEN purebred Jersey heifers were purchased by members of the Elmore County 4-H Clubs at the Second Alabama Breeders Sale held in Montgomery, May 19th.

The heifers will be raised by the club boys and used as foundation stock for purebred Jersey herds, reports V. L. Keeble, assistant agent. Most of them will be ready for the Fall showing of Elmore Jerseys, he adds.

Cooperating with the club boys by financing these projects were the Bank of Tallassee, Bank of Eclectic, and the First National Bank of Wetumpka.

Youngsters who received the Jersey calves are Sherman Shores, Wesley Lewis, Truman Jones, Tommy Nabors, J. E. Hicks, Jr., Joe Bridgman, Bobby Bridgman, T. L. Crowder, Jr., Dan Ozier, and Melvin Taylor, Jr. Other 4-H Club members are expected to purchase calves at later sales.

Fats And Oils Prices Not Likely To Climb Soon

THE prices of fats and oils are not likely to go up in a big hurry.

According to a recent report from the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, a major rise in the general level of these prices is not expected for at least several months.

The production of fats and oils in Alabama will continue at record or near record levels during the remainder of the 1949-50 crop year, experts believe. They predict it probably will be large again in 1950-51 as well.

The expected increase of about six per cent in the 1950 pig crop indicates a moderate increase in lard and grease output next Fall and Winter. Also, farmers will replace some corn and cotton acreage with soybeans in 1950.

"This is where we will put a shrub" is probably what Mrs. Herbert Neel, left, is saying to Mrs. Alice Willard as they work at landscaping the Gallion club house.

The club women solved part of their landscaping problem by making a trade with county road builders. While working on a farm to market road from Gallion to Linden, the builders store equipment on the club house property. In exchange they will do a complete job of grading and graveling around the new building when the road is finished.

When preparing oranges for ambrosia or salad, skins will come off easier and segments will separate more readily if the fruit is placed in hot water a few minutes before peeling.

To attempt to save ice by wrapping it in a heavy paper or cloth is poor economy. This practice insulates the ice and provides less satisfactory food storage.

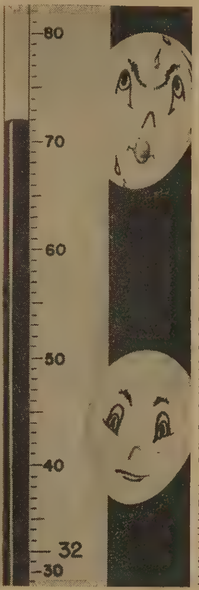
Heat Hurts In

Handling Eggs For Hatching Purposes

HATCHING egg production is an important industry in Alabama.

With the number of broilers produced increasing 75 per cent in the state last year, the demand for hatching eggs increased at the same rate. To meet this demand, growers doubled the average number of hens in hatching egg flocks.

And state hatcherymen are taking advantage of the local supply of hatching eggs. Most of the eggs for 10,500,000 broilers came from Alabama farms.



But the hatcheryman has a big stake in the game; his cash comes from the chicks he sells. And he's interested in buying only from the flock owner who delivers a high quality egg.

One hatcheryman showed records recently on the hatchability of different lots of eggs from the same flock. Hatched in the same incubator, the lots varied in the number of chicks hatched from 68 per cent to 86 per cent. From one lot he had two more chicks to sell from each dozen eggs. The two chicks are worth 25 cents.

This 25 cents per dozen eggs set could easily mean the difference in profit and loss for a hatcheryman. It would mean the same thing to a flock owner if eggs were bought on a hatchability basis.

The difference in hatchability might be due to one or a combination of things. But poultrymen say it was most likely caused by the handling of eggs before setting. Temperature during storage could easily have made the difference, they explain.

"If we are to get the greatest hatchability from our eggs, they should be gathered from the nest at least three times a day during the Summer months," says John Weeks of the A.P.I. Extension Service. "They should be cooled in a wire basket or on a metal tray overnight, packed in cool cases, and held at a temperature of 55 degrees. They should be delivered to the hatchery at least twice per week. And in no case should they be held over seven days."

Refrigerated storage is not available on most poultry farms, Weeks realizes. So he recommends keeping the eggs cooled in an underground cellar or basement. A good egg cellar or storage pit can be constructed at very little cost, and it keeps the temperature low enough to give good hatchability. It also holds a moist condition which is highly desirable.

Egg cases, fillers, and flats in which the eggs are to be packed should be held in the storage cellar several hours so they will be cool and moist before using. If this is not done, they absorb moisture from the egg like a blotter. They also increase the temperature. "Deliver eggs to the hatchery in the early part of the day and protect them from the sun on the way" is another piece of advice Weeks offers.

Some poultrymen in other areas are developing more hatchery supply flocks than they need locally, and they are very anxious to expand their market for hatching eggs. Their product is already coming into Alabama at this time on a guaranteed hatching basis. Weeks points out, however, that our local flocks contain some of the best breeding available. He believes if Alabama flock owners continue to deliver hatching eggs with top notch hatchability they will make these competitors look for other markets.

Work On Church Yards

ONE of the many home clubs that have landscaped church grounds as a community project is the Sylvan Grove Club in Dale County. Church grounds there have been greatly improved by home demonstration club members.

The home agent met with the special committee of the club early this year and made plans for the leveling and landscaping of the grounds. After listing the shrubs needed, members built a rock wall on the lower side of their churchyard and induced their district commissioner to fill it in and level it. After this the shrubs and grass, most of which were furnished by local citizens, were planted.

This project is now nearing completion, and every community member is proud of the work. County-wide recognition of this project has been an incentive to other communities to improve their churchyards.

Land Preparation

GOOD land preparation is essential to good stands and good growth of crops like crimson clover, alfalfa, and permanent pasture mixtures. If you plan to plant some of these this Fall, control weeds and grass and firm the seedbed by disking and harrowing until planting time.

The fallowing helps firm the seedbed.

It is not too late to clear moist, rich bottom land and start land preparation for permanent pasture plantings this year.

Don't Wait 'Til Winter

IT'S time to get the "Keep Alabama Fields Green in Winter" campaign going for 1950. We can keep our fields green by growing Winter legumes for soil improvement and land cover, Winter grazing mixtures, and small grain.

Begin now to locate fertilizer and seed so you can plant the green crops on time.

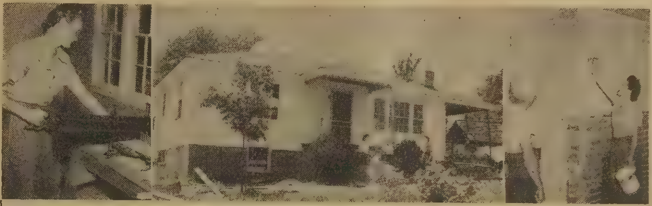
All records for green crops were broken in the Fall of 1949—over 37 million pounds of Winter legume seed were planted. That record too is apt to fall this year. State farmers are expected to plant 50 million pounds or more.

Two Countries Well Fed

USDA says there are 2,264 million people in the world on 2,470 million acres of cultivated land . . . little more than one acre per person.

Asia, including Russia, has more than half the people of the world but less than one-third of the crop land. North America has eight per cent of the people and 21 per cent of the crop land.

North America and Russia seem to be the only big areas of the world with enough crop land for adequate diets of meat, milk and eggs, along with cereals, fruits and vegetables.



Industrious Farm Woman Builds Home Of Her Own

LOIS ALEXANDER is mighty proud of the home she built on her dad's farm near Calera, Alabama. And she has every right to be. At an actual cost of about $3,000 she put together what is obviously a $10,000 house.

There is no secret to how Miss Alexander accomplished this feat. She just worked. The young lady uses expertly every tool from a shovel to a paint brush. She even raised an orphan calf in the bargain to buy fixtures for decorating.

Not that she did all the labor by herself. She used her dad, W. R. Alexander; her sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Frost; her brothers, nephews, nieces and just about everybody in the family. But as far as hired help goes, she just didn't need any. Lumber for building was cut right there on the farm, and that cut the cost down still further.

In floor planning and interior decorating Lois, who is an active club member, called on her home demonstration agent for help. She says Marion Cotney gave her some very useful suggestions and saved her many a headache.

Although other members of the family worked, the place belongs to Lois. To repay the others, she is making room for Mom and Dad in the new house.

Miss Alexander is shown above (left) sawing hardwood boards for the flooring and (right) painting her living room. With her at right is Mrs. Frost who stopped work on her plastering job to see how the painting is coming along. Also shown (center) is the almost completed three bedroom home.

These five ladies are enthusiastic home demonstration boosters in Walker County. Each of them recently prepared written statements on the value of home clubs for farm women. They are all members of the Walker Council of Home Demonstration Clubs.

Voice Of Farm Women

What Home Demonstration Means In Walker County

By SARAH ELLIOTT
Home Demonstration Agent

WHAT does club work mean to the home demonstration woman? As she works for her home, club and community what are the benefits returned to her?

These questions have many answers. Generally the club woman gains new skills in homemaking, tricks of economy, new friendships and a better community.

A more specific answer must come from the farm women who have been active in home demonstration work. Let's take a look at what some of Walker County's leading club members have to say.

"Home demonstration teaches child care and family life, sewing, cooking, canning, remodeling, citizenship and community life," says Mrs. Howard Brown, council president.

"Applying these homemaking skills makes a house into a home. And the home strengthens the church, schools and community," Mrs. Brown continues. "Home demonstration makes the housewife realize the importance of her vocation."

County Vice-President Mrs. A. J. Brown says: "Being a home demonstration club member means starting with a fibre and following it. In sewing I've learned to make clothes that move easily from town to country. I have a big wardrobe on a limited budget.

"Club work helped me find money I didn't even know was lost. This it did by teaching me to restyle lampshades and hats, how to plan meals inside the budget and still have the foods my family needs."

Mrs. Horace Hyche, secretary, adds another thought: "Many a young homemaker in the past was doing household tasks exactly like Mother and Grandmother did them. Home demonstration work teaches her to make the business of housekeeping easier.

"Preparing a balanced diet, buying furniture and rearing her family takes lots of the housewife's time. Learning to spend this time wisely means a more efficient home, a healthier family and most of all more enjoyable work."

Here's what Mrs. Howard Bevill, county council treasurer, has to say: "Through club work we learn to do our work better and easier. We meet ladies from other sections and pick up helps from them. And we work together in our community to make it a happier place.

"Our community shows the effects of its home demonstration club in several ways. For example we have a community house almost completed—a place where young people and adults may meet for work and play. This was a project started by the club and later joined by the entire community."

Mrs. Richard Edgeworth, community activities chairman says club work brings people together.

"Since home demonstration work started I've seen these clubs make our county into one big neighborhood. We've learned to live with people, keep our home-life happier and handle our work with more ease."

4-H Dressmaker Pretty young Patsy Grantham pauses from her sewing to smile for the photographer. Patsy, a 4-H Club girl from Skipperville, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Grantham.

Her sewing is not a job this young lady looks on as a burden. She enjoys it. She was Dale County's dress revue winner in 4-H Club work last year and she hopes to repeat that feat again this Summer.

Research Results

in brief from A.P.I. AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT STATION

FIFTY-FOUR BUSHEL per acre corn hogged at the Sand Mountain Substation for the last four years has returned $145 per acre to labor and capital. The hogs had access to protein supplement or legume grazing.

* * *

CORN EARWORM in sweet corn was controlled best with 10 per cent DDT in experiments conducted with various insecticides during 1949. Best results were obtained from three to four applications made at three-day intervals beginning when the corn began to silk. Twenty to 30 pounds of dust were applied per acre.

* * *

TREES WEAKENED by growing in too dense stands occasionally succumb to bark beetle attack. Experimental work at Auburn indicated that extensive damage can be prevented if beetle-infested trees are promptly removed from the stand.

* * *

SEPTEMBER-PLANTED OATS furnish grazing at a season of the year when the pastures are dry at the Black Belt Substation. The oats receive 200 pounds of superphosphate per acre at planting time, 200 pounds of nitrate of soda or equivalent when up to a stand, and are top-dressed again about the first of March when the cattle are removed to allow them to make grain. The grain is combined and used for Winter feeding.

* * *

ALMOST TWO IN TEN of the rural families in Alabama that sold eggs in 1948 reported that they had some difficulty in finding a market. Much of the difficulty occured in Spring and Summer months. This can be partly avoided by producing more eggs for sale in the Fall and Winter, and fewer eggs in the Spring and Summer.

* * *

IN CANNING TESTS at Auburn, snap beans that tend to develop strings as the pods get older were found to be free of strings and of high quality when picked before the seed exceed one-fourth inch in length. Picking on alternate days is necessary to get the beans in this stage.

* * *

ONE YEAR'S RESULTS with sweet sudan grass in rotation with crimson clover and ryegrass at the Tennessee Valley Substation gave high yields of forage that could be used for supplementary grazing during July, August, and the first half of September. If supplementary grazing is not needed the Sudan grass can be cut for hay. To get early Winter grazing from the crimson clover-ryegrass, the land is thoroughly prepared in mid-September.

* * *

SUMMER PLANTINGS of sericea made in June, July, and August have resulted in poor stands for three years at the Upper Coastal Plain Substation. Five year's experience indicate that Spring plantings are best for this area.

* * *

CORN HOGGED OFF in 1949 produced from 630 to 905 pounds of pork per acre at the Upper Coastal Plain Substation. Corn yields were from 55 to 65 bushels per acre. Hogs had access to green legume grazing, a mineral mixture, and water. Corn hogged brought $110 to $158 per acre.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

ONE OF ALABAMA'S LEADING WEEKLIES

DEDICATED TO SERVE THE CITIZENS OF CHILTON COUNTY AND CENTRAL ALABAMA

VOL. XXVIII CLANTON, ALABAMA THURSDAY, JULY 13, 1950 NUMBER 28

OUR NEW BABIES

Mr. and Mrs. Erle Ellis of Clanton announce the adoption of a son whom they have named Michael Erle. Michael is 13 months old. His birthday is June 8th.

It's a son for Mr. and Mrs. Guy Higgins of Clanton. He arrived June 29th at the West End Baptist Hospital in Birmingham. They have named him Guy Moore, Jr.

Joyce Dean is the new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Wallace of Clanton. She arrived at the Central Alabama Hospital on July 3rd.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Williams of Verbena Route 1 announce the arrival of a baby girl on July 4th. Her name is Wanda Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Culp of Clanton Route 3 announce the birth of a daughter on July 5th.

Sharon Diane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hosey of Clanton Route 3. Her birthday is July 5th.

The L. A. Drivers of Clanton are the parents of a new baby girl born July 6th at the Central Alabama Hospital.

Thomas Eugene is the new addition to the Clarence Burnette, Jr., family. He arrived on July 7th.

July 6th was the birthday of Eddie Eugene Mims, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Mims of Verbena Route 1.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Smith of Maplesville announce the arrival of a son on July 5th.

Noel Rex is the name given to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Morgan of Opelika. He arrived at the Central Alabama Hospital on July 6th.

It's a daughter for the B. J. Mimses of Clanton Route 2 born July 8th. Her name is Barbara Jo.

The Central Alabama Hospital was the birthplace of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Pierce of Billingsley born July 8th.

Homecoming At Pilgrim's Rest

There will be a homecoming at Pilgrim's Rest Sunday, July 16th. All singers are invited. Pilgrim's Rest is 8 miles south of Maplesville.

The annual revival begins there on Monday, July 17th.

KILLINGSWORTH REUNION JULY 23rd

The third annual Killingsworth Reunion will be held at New River, (Killingsworth Church), on the fourth Sunday, July 23rd, 1950, in honor of the late James Killingsworth, pioneer citizen of Fayette County, Alabama. All relatives are invited to attend.

All friends and neighbors in the community where this reunion is to be held have a special invitation to attend. Also we would like to thank them for the co-operation given us which helped to make the reunion last year a success.

The location where the reunion is to be held is seven miles south of Eldridge, Ala., eleven miles north of Bankston, Ala., and nineteen miles northeast of Fayette.

Committee: Carlos Killingsworth, Fayette, Ala., Fred Killingsworth, Eldridge, Ala., Rt. 1, Clyde Killingsworth, Eldridge, Ala., Rt. 1.—Written by Sam Killingsworth, Fayette, Ala.

CEMETERY CLEANING

Wednesday, July 19th, has been set as a day by members of Bethany Baptist Church for the purpose of cleaning the cemetery adjoining said Bethany Church.

Therefore all members of said church are requested to meet at said cemetery with whatever tools you may see fit to bring and all other persons having an interest in said cemetery are invited to meet with us and assist members of Bethany Church, so that all graves in said cemetery may be properly cleaned and repaired. It is a sincere desire of the church that all graves in the cemetery be attended on said day. Come early.—W. G. Gray.

REVIVAL SCHEDULE

Beginning next Sunday, July 16th, the revival will begin with the Rehobeth Baptist Church near Lawley, and ten miles north of Maplesville. The Rev. B. B. Burks, pastor of the Thorsby Baptist Church is the visiting minister.

On Sunday, July 23rd, the revival is to begin with the Bethesda Baptist Church at Independence, ten miles south of Billingsley. The Rev. B. B. Burks is to do the preaching in this revival also. Everyone in reach of these two churches will please remember these revival dates and attend every time possible and hear Bro. Burks's heart-stirring messages, as he is known to be a power in the Master's service. —Rev. E. C. Hand, Pastor.

New Methodist Pastor Here

J. M. McKINNEY

Clanton First Methodist Church has a new pastor. He is elderly, distinguished looking J. M. McKinney, who comes to the local church from Luverne, Ala.

Mr. McKinney spent the past five years as pastor of the Luverne Methodist Church and the five years prior to that at the Broad Street Methodist at Mobile, Ala.

He and Mrs. McKinney are the parents of two boys, Paul who is 19 and a student at Emory College. and Fred who is 15. and will attend Chilton County High School next term.

The McKinneys like Clanton and Chilton County, and Clanton and Chilton County like the McKinneys. That means a successful pastorate and the new Methodist pastor wants more than anything the cooperation and support of his church members to make his stay here a success.

You'll like the McKinneys too. Meet them next Sunday.

WILLING WORKERS MET

At 7:30 p.m. ten members of the Clanton First Baptist Willing Workers Sunday School Class met for their regular monthly meeting Monday night, July 10th, at the home of Mrs. Raymond P. Mims.

The meeting opened with the members praying in unison the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Mims had charge of the program and in her able way she had planned a most worshipful and uplifting program which began with the group singing "What A Friend We Have In Jesus." Following were solos by Joe Douglas Grooms who sang, "The Stranger of Gallilee"; Sue Bratton of Jemison, who sang, "Hold Thou My Hand"; Jettie Fay Robinson, who sang, "Lord, Let Me Live Today," and Nannette Nivens, who after reading a poem of inspiration, sang, "When I Kneel Down To Pray."

Business was transacted and a collection was taken for the class treasury.

In addition to the artists who sang those heart-searching numbers for the group, Mrs. Bratton of Jemison was a most welcome visitor.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, after which the meeting was adjourned by the Mispah benediction.

The next meeting will be on August 7th at the home of Mrs. Tom Hubert.

CLANTON BASEBALL

Last Friday night it took 11 innings for the Clanton Baseball team to break a tie game with a strong team from Brent; Clanton winning 4 to 3.

On last Sunday, Clanton and Holtville went into the ninth inning tied two and two, when Royce Seals singled in a run, Clanton winning 3 to 2.

Sunday afternoon, July 16th, Thorsby, with "Bull" Watkins, will play Clanton at the City Park, game called at 3:00 p.m.

Wednesday afternoon, July 19th (Peach Festival Day) at 3:00 p.m., Jemison and Clanton will play at the City Park. It is reported that the Jemison team, will be "loaded for bear" for this game and confident of winning. The last time these two teams met Clanton won 4 to 3.

Plenty of rivalry between Clanton and the above two teams and these games will be good. Don't miss them!

CIRCLE FIVE MET

Circle Five of the Methodist W.S.C.S. met at the home of Mrs. George Tucker. Eight members were present with two new ones.

A very delightful program was presented by Miss Jean Lake.

After a very enjoyable social hour the meeting was dismissed.

All In Readiness For 1950 Peach Festival Wednesday

A great deal of enthusiasm is being shown throughout the county and state toward the Chilton County Peach Festival of 1950.

Entertainment of all kinds has been and is being planned for the Peach Queen Contestants. Let's take a look at what all the lucky 61 contestants will enjoy: Thursday, July 13, a splash party at the City Pool from 7:00-8:00 p.m.; Sunday, July 16th, a boating party at Lambert's River Camp from 3:00-6:00; Monday, July 17, the Clanton Drive-In Theatre is giving a Theatre Party for the contestants and their dates; Wednesday, July 19, a free barbecue dinner at the Festival barbecue pit; and last but not least, Wednesday night, the American Legion is giving a dance at the Chilton County High School Gym.

Being as we have the contestants taken care of, let's take a peak at what we will enjoy throughout the day, Wednesday, July 19th. Here is the schedule for the entire day:

8:00 a.m. — Assemble for grand parade at Thorsby, Ala.

9:00 a.m. — Parade tour (travel from Thorsby to Clanton City Park by Highway 31.)

11:00 a.m. — Invocation by Rev. John R. Smith. Introduction of honor guests.

11:10 a.m. — Addresses by the honor guests.

11:45 — Announcements of winners of prize peaches. Auction of prize peach packages. Mr. Tom McCord, Auctioneer, Union Stock Yards, Montgomery Ala.

12:30 — Annual barbecue.

2:00 p.m. — Swimming exhibitions.

3:00 p.m. — Ball game Clanton vs. Jemison.

7:00 to 9:00 p.m. — Grand Variety Program featuring Joe Rumore, Rebe and Rabe, "Mac" McKee's Orchestra, vocalists, novelty numbers, ballet and tap number and clowns.

The whole program of the Peach Festival was formerly scheduled for the airport, but has been changed to the City Park. It was done with the idea of a better program throughout the day.

The final elimination of the Queens will be held Saturday, July 15, at the High School Gym, at 7:30 p.m., when one will be selected to reign as Peach Queen of 1950.

Mr. Albert Tulley, a prominent attorney and District Governor of the Kiwanis Club, will be the Master of Ceremonies for the day.

There will be approximately 16 floats —reported to be better than any previous year.

We expect six bands which are: The Maxwell Field Band, the Montevallo High School Band, the Fairfield High School Band, Tuscaloosa High School Band, the Comer High School Band and our own Chilton County High School Band. From the looks of the bands we have we will have enough music for all the lovers of good bands around Chilton County.

WKLF lets us in on a little secret, yep! You guessed it! Joe Rumore will be here and that's not all, he will broadcast his "dinner winner" program from the studios of WKLF. So be listening for your phone to ring and answer with what you're having for dinner and you will win a big basket of groceries. Oh, I forgot to tell you the time of this broadcast, it's at 6:30 p.m.

GRADY CARTER GIVES SNAKE HOT FOOT

This is the tail of a snake. And if we must say so, it's a hot tail, or that's what the snake thought. He stuck it in a transmitter out at WKLF. . . .w-o-w.

But this is the story. Monday afternoon while Grady Carter was on duty out there a black runner snake crawled up in the transmitter. It caused a short circuit and threw WKLF off the air for a short time. That's when the snake's tail got hot, being used for a condenser or something. Funny thing though, it didn't kill the snake. When they finally got him out, he took off. And confidentially we don't blame him. Under like conditions we would have been prety hard to catch, too.

American Legion Post No. 6 To Sponsor Dance

The American Legion will sponsor a dance for the general public to be held the night of the Chilton County 1950 Peach Festival.

Mac McKee and his Orchestra will furnish the music and the dance will start at 9:45 o'clock. The Chilton County High School Gymnasium will be appropriately decorated for the occasion and the Peach Queen contestants will be guests of honor.

A BELL HAS GONE OUT TO YELLOW LEAF CREEG

A bell has gone out to Yellow Leaf Creek.

The bell is a gift of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad to a small group of Methodists at Yellow Leaf Creek in Alabama.

The struggling little congregation has been sorely pressed by adversity. Several years ago a storm struck the little church and really wrecked it. Located between the towns of Chelsea and Columbiana, it is indeed a country church.

The resources of the area are limited, and the group are engaged in replacing their little chapel by their own hands. Someone appealed to Robert M. Lester, secretary of the Carnegie Corporation of New York. He did what he could and wrote to James B. Hill, who until recently was president of the L & N.

"They have made admirable progress," Lester wrote of the congregation's efforts. "Because of the fact that my grandparents settled there in 1835, I have given them some assistance.

"The next step is to superimpose a belfrey and spire on the building. This superstructure has been designed, at my request, by Jens Frederick Larson, one of the country's best known architects of church and academic buildings, as a personal contribution."

Lester said a friend suggested that the railroad might have a bell, much desired by the little group. Hill found that the line had a bell, ready for scrap. He told Lester, and now the bell is on its way to call to worship the congregation at Yellow Leaf Creek.

ATTENTION ALL Y.W.A.'s OF CHILTON ASSOCIATION

Mrs. Julian Morris, Y.W.A. Counselor, wishes all girls interested in going to camp at Shocco Springs August 11-13, to be sure to let her know by August 1st. You may write to her Jemison Route 1. The rates for this week end are:

Huts — $4.00.

Cottages — $5.00.

Hotels — $6.00.

It will be nicer if three or more girls go in together and get huts or cottages. The reservation fee is $1.00 extra. This must be sent in by August 1st. You will be well chaperoned and you will receive something for your trip that you will never forget. There will be vester services, visiting missionaries from Chili, Africa, and oh, the recreation will be swimming, tennis, handcraft, hiking and horseback riding.

Means and time of transportation will be announced later, so watch your local papers.

Your parents will never regret having spent their money to send you to camp. Many of our missionaries today were converted at Y.W.A. camp. Will be looking for a card from you girls who are interested. I would say a sum of approximately $8.00 will be ample for you a cottage, registration fee and a little money on the side for the snack bar, so get out girls and earn you some camp dough. — Mrs. Morris.

IMPORTANT NOTICE!

In Poland it would require two or three weeks' work to pay for a man's shirt. In Central and Eastern Poland the need for clothing is desperate.

The Dorcas Society is soliciting men's clothing for them. Have you a good pair of shoes, sweater, overcoat or any kind of warm clothes especially in large sizes that you will contribute?

Your gift will bring joy and comfort. Call Mrs. W. A. Crowson, 613-J, to pick up your package.

REVIVAL BEGINS AT JEMISON BAPTIST CHURCH SUNDAY

Revival services will begin at the Jemison Baptist Church Sunday, July 16th. Rev. J. Titus Aldridge, pastor of the Eutaw Baptist Church, Eutaw, Ala., will do the preaching.

Rev. Aldridge is a former pastor of the Thorsby Baptist Church, and has conducted a number of revivals in Chilton County. He needs no introduction to most Chilton County people.

Services will be held twice daily—10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend these services. — G. H. Carroll, Pastor.

Alabama hogs can harvest their own corn right out of the fields from six to 10 months in the year.

Conducts Revival At Temple Church

REV. ARTHUR BELL

Rev. Arthur Bell of Bellsville, Ill., is conducting the annual summer revival at Temple Church. Services begin each evening at 7:30. Rev. Bell has been in the ministry for the past forty years.

DEMONSTRATION AT CHILTON HOME FURNISHING

Troy Maddox announces that Monday and Tuesday of next week he will hold a Crosley Demonstration. Two home economists from the Crosley Factory will be on hand at his store to demonstrate the Crosley range, refrigerator and freezer.

The general public is invited and there will be door prizes awarded. Look for the big Crosley advertisement elsewhere in this issue of Chilton County News.

SINGING CONCERT

A singing concert will be held at Mt. Creek Baptist Church following a singing school Saturday night, July 15th. Everyone is cordially invited and urged to attend.—Mrs. W. F. Hudson.

Hicks Announces 1950 Football Schedule C.C.H.S.

The Chilton County High School this week announced its football schedule for this coming season. Williams School of Montgomery does not appear on the this year's list of games, its place being taken by the school at Wetumpka, Columbiana and Verbena were not scheduled because of conflicting dates. These two are Clanton old stand-bys and it is regretted that conflicts prevented games being scheduled with these two schools. Jemison plays Clanton this year for the first time since Jemison began playing football and this game should be a real thriller.

Sept. 15 — Wetumpka, at Wetumpka.
Sept. 22 — Starke. at Montgomery.
Sept. 29 — Montevallo, at Clanton.
Oct. 6 — Billingsley, at Clanton.
Oct. 13 — Open, permanently.
Oct. 20 — Jemison, at Clanton.
Oct. 27 — Selma, at Clanton.
Nov. 3 — Siluria, at Clanton.

2:00 to 4:00 p.m. — Singing.

All singers are urged to be with us. Some good quartets are expected to be present. — Reporter.

MAPLE SPRINGS

For Sunday School we had 98 present Sunday. We were glad to have our visitors and we want them to know they are always welcome to worship and study God's Word with us.

Everyone is urged to attend Vacation Bible School which will be held nightly during the week of July 24-28. Bro. Paul Oden will teach the Book of Philippians to the adult class.

All singers and quartets are invited to attend the homecoming which will be held July 30th.

Let's all be much in prayer for the revival which begins July 30 with Bro. Cecil Little being the evangelist.

Following the revival a three-weeks singing school will be taught in the afternoon by Prof. O. L. Devaughn. Everyone who can is cordially invited to attend.

We would like to see more out for prayer meeting which is held each Wednesday night at 7:30.

Don't forget Sunday School and preaching beginning at 10 o'clock and B.T.U. and preaching at 7:30.

GARBAGE ALONG THE HIGHWAYS

The News received a letter from Chas. C. Steward, of Birmingham in response to an editorial appearing in The Opp News some time ago dealing with garbage along the highways.

Mr. Steward was reminded of a farmer in Ohio who took pride in his stretch of highway and who was annoyed by trash being dumped there. In one pile he found a last year auto tag. He went to the county seat and traced the owner of the tag and found that he lived in a near-by town. He loaded up the trash and tying a note to the tag saying: "This seems to be yours," he dumped the trash in the man's drive-way and put the tag on top.

In another pile he found an empty prescription bottle. He traced the owner through the prescription number, and wrote to the man. In a day or two the trash was neatly cleaned up.

"Some of your citizens might take the Opp-ortunity of becoming amateur detectives and stop this nuisance, have some amusement and see some red faces," he said. —Opp News.

KINDNESS LIVES

If there are synics, hereabouts, who on occasion reach the conclusion that this is the time of "Every Man For Himself," we would like to underscore what has hapened in the past week at the William Sutton farm up near Rawls.

Sutton is a tenant farmer. His home went up in a fire during April in which his small daughter and a year-old nephew perished.

The Sutton family lost all of their household goods and clothing. It was a wicked blow by a reckless fate.

Sutton was a veteran, participating in the veterans agricultural training program. His comrade trainees had performed somewhat of a miracle in the early Spring, when cooperatively, 400 of them banded together to rebuild an entire farm south of Andalusia.

The hat was passed shortly after word had reached the veterans of Sutton's ill luck. A fund of money was raised to provide the family with some necessary household goods and clothing. Veterans gave freely and willingly.

Then it was decided to provide the Suttons a home with a "Blitz" building program. Just as soon as all the materials could be placed on the home site, Sutton's fellow veterans gathered in droves.

Volunteers came from vet training groups throughout the country. A home was erected for him within a period of 32 hours.

Is this a day of "Every Man For Himself?" Those vets answered that question with an emphatic "No." Kindness and sympathy still exist, hereabouts.

The Suttons profited, surely, from having a wonderful new home built for them. But who gained the most from this worthy project?

Why those veterans who stopped in the midst of their busy lives to give a helping hand to a fellow whom hard luck had embraced.—Andalusia Star-News.

VACATION WITH CARE

"Now that vacation time is here, be careful about typhoid."

That was the advice given today by Dr. D. G. Gill, State Health Officer, who reminded Alabamians that there is usually an increase in typhoid incidence in hot weather.

"If you are planning a vacation trip, be sure to find out about the water you will drink while away from home," he urged. "If it comes from public water supplies, you may drink it with assurance of its safety. But beware of water from untested wells and from rural springs. Even if they look pure and sparkling, they may be dangerously contaminated, with enough germs to start an epidemic. Drink only water you have good reason to know is safe."

The State Health Officer also warned against the danger of impure milk. To be on the safe side, he suggested, it is wise to drink only pasteurized milk handled and served under clean and sanitary conditions.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

What a headache the judges must have had after that session last Friday night at the High School Gym. Imagine having all those pretty girls up there and having to pick the prettiest among them. The judges, being a brave lot, chose 32 who would again go through the wringer this Wednesday night. That's tonight, the day we go to press. Wish we could wait and give you the names of the survivals, but we can't; we'd miss our train, and then all Ned would be to pay. So-o-o, you'll just have to wait until next week and we'll tell you who came out first.

Everything is in readiness for the 1950 Chilton County Peach Festival. Beautiful floats have been constructed for the parade next Wednesday morning. We honestly believe each year the Festival grows bigger and bigger. The present Committee has worked hard to make it a success and they deserve the backing of all Chilton County.

David Lee's has a new kind of air condition. According to W. D. Hocutt, of the air-conditioning Hocutts, it's the first of its kind in Clanton. With this air conditioning you don't close all the doors.. It cools while the doors are open. We were by David Lee's Monday, but we couldn't learn how the the thing operates. All we could learn was that it was cool and very comfortable in there.

The two weeks encampment at Ft. McClellan, Anniston, which was started by the National Guard last Sunday, really took a load of the young fellows out of circulation around here.

Judge T. W. Bryan is giving another birthday party this year. It will be his 80th birthday celebration and he is asking all his kin folks, friends and enemies if he has any, to attend this occasion. We suggest that the enemies come and bring a well-filled basket and make friends.

"Oh dear," the enraged wife cried, "I've missed you so much." Then she raised the revolver and fired again.

Who said Frank Callen wasn't sharp as a tack? Sunday morning while visiting at the Dixie having his morning coffee, J. E. Easterling greeted him with: "Well, Mr. Callen, did you loan all the money at the bank yesterday?" "You know good and well I didn't, returned Frank, or you wouldn't have called me Mister."

The Radio Shop, owned and operated by T. C. Davis, remains where it has been for the past couple of years. When Clanton Shoe Shop moved out, "Tate" moved over. Now he occupies the entire building and says he is ready for extra business. The Radio Shop sells, repairs and services radios and television sets. Also sell electric appliances we understand.

Fin-Fan Items

Wetumpka's Rod and Reel Club, is still tops in the State for accuracy casting. Birmingham, Montgomery, Prattville and other casting clubs, found exceptional competition in the art of casting last week at the annual state tournament, held in Wetumpka. The Rod and Reelers take great pride in the abilities displayed by its ladies and junior members, and would like to see other clubs over the state encourage their small fry in the pleasant game of target casting, Skish.

The Central Alabama Power Boat Association, entertained thousands of spectators recently with their first annual inboard regatta. Fast boats from all over the U. S., were on hand at Jordan Lake to vie for the $1400.00, prize money. This was the first inboard race, sanctioned by the American Power Boat Association, to be staged in the State of Alabama. Declared a whale of a success and the C.A.P.B.A., will put on another race next year, promising even greater entertainment.

Dr. Jackson, Montgomery, launched his beautiful 30-foot cabin cruiser, "Miss Frances M," on Lake Jordan. She accommodates ten persons comfortable from berth to galley. Miss F. M. is equipped with a 226 Gray Marine engine and will develop over a 100 h.p. Lake Jordan's fleet of the larger type pleasure craft is constantly increasing and who knows, maybe we will soon be having a "Mitchell Ho!"

Fishing in general has greatly improved on the Coosa Lakes during the past few days. White lake bass are being taken in large numbers on Lakes Mitchell and Jordan. Smallmouth bass and bream are striking best on Lake Lay.

At this time, Lake Lay is slightly stained and promises better than fair prospects. Bream, smallmouth bass and catfish are striking flies, worms, live minnows and top water plugs. Best locations are Waxahatchie and Paint Creeks.

Lake Mitchell, clear. Prospects are good. Large schools of White Lake bass are reported from Walnut Creek to the Dam. The effective baits are grasshoppers, minnows and small spoons. Very nice bream are being taken from the deep sloughs of Cargile and Hatchett Creeks. From the northern reaches of the lake, drum and catfish are hitting river shad and worms.

Lake Jordan offers good prospects in her crystal clear waters. Bream were taking crickets, black grasshoppers and red worms last week.

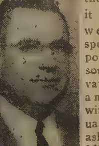
The Fighting Preacher

Last week I read what "The Man On The Corner" had to say regarding any preacher who finds plenty of time to find fault with other denominations and churches, and who spends his time pouring out his soul in fighting these little differences between his theology or pet doctrine and that of other denominations. I want to agree with our friend "on the corner." That it is far better for we preachers to spend our time pouring out our souls for the salvation of sinners and fighting sin with all our spiritual might, and then ask God for more Might, and fight the sins which are keeping our people away from the House of God, and sending them on their way to an eternity without Christ and without hope in the world. It is our business to hold up the Christ of God to a lost and sinful world; that He was crucified for our sins; and that He was raised for our justification; and He has been exalted at the right hand of God as our High Priest, and He maketh intercession for us all.



A. T. HICKMAN

Every preacher should be a fighter. Paul was a fighter; and he fought a good fight. But he spent his time fighting the devil and sin, and not other people who believed in the same Christ, the same Saviour he did, but only the sins of the flesh, that which ends in corruption of the soul. We are exhorted to be good soldiers of the Cross, and fight a good fight of faith, and lay hold on eternal life.

Surely people differ in some of their views of the Bible and it's teaching, but so long as we agree that Jesus is the Son of God, and the only Savior of mankind, and accept Him as such, then live according to His teachings, including the "Golden Rule," we are going to be happy.

Let us not judge one another any more, for we must all appear before the Judgment Seat of Christ. Our denominations may not be as important as we may think they are. Christ founded His Church when He was here, saying, "Upon this Rock I will build my Church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." No one denomination can rightly claim that it is the church, and all others are outside of His Kingdom. For anyone to pretend to be right and everybody else wrong is evident that such a person is wrong himself. A mother looking at the soldiers marching by, claimed all were out of line except her son, John.

Your Health

POLIOMYELITIS

Poliomyelitis is an acute contagious disease occurring for the most part in children, although adults may occasionally have it. The disease occurs in several variable forms, the most commonly recognized form being the case that is sick from one to three days, resulting in paralysis.

Poliomyelitis is a disease of warm weather and is caused by a germ belonging to a group of infectious agents known as viruses. The germs are contained in the secretions from the nose and throat of the patient and are contracted by direct or indirect contact with the nose and throat secretions of a case of the disease, or a carrier of the disease. The first symptoms to appear are headache, upset stomach, and mild fever. The face is flushed and the patient is drowsy. The outstanding finding is a stiffness of the neck when the chin is carried down to the chest and stiffness of the back when the trunk is carried down to the knees.

The manner in which infantile paralysis is spread from one person to another and the way in which the virus gets into the body are not known. What part "carriers" play in the spread of the disease is not well understood. Care should be taken to dispose of all body secretions and excretions of the patient, including the bowel discharges, so that other persons will not come in contact with them.

Immediate isolation of the patient is important. The attendant who takes care of the patient should wear a loose gown or kimono over her clothes while in the sick room. This should be removed before leaving the sick room. After caring for the patient she should wash her hands thoroughly with soap and water and rinse them in a disinfecting solution before handling other children. The patient should have his own knives, forks and spoons which have been sterilized by boiling. When the patient is ready for release from isolation, he should be given a warm soap bath and freshly laundered clothes.

How Can I?

(By Anne Ashley)

Q. How can I give a fresh, clean smell to a musty room, when returning from a trip?

A. When the room has a closed-up, musty odor, place a little ground coffee in a saucer. In the center of this coffee place a small piece of gum camphor, then light the gum. The burning coffee will produce a refreshing odor and take away the musty smell.

Q. How can I remove fresh ink stains from materials?

A. Soak the material in warm milk, changing the milk as it becomes discolored. If possible, use skim milk that has been boiled and allowed to cool until lukewarm.

Q. How can I wash a chamois?

A. Use soapy ammonia water; squeeze out, stretch wlihe it is drying and rub well to keep the leather pliable.

Q. How can I make a substitute glue?

A. A very satisfactory glue can be made in an emergency by soaking tapiosa in warm water. This is particularly good for the children when they wish to paste pictures.

Q. How can I clean a rubber article effectively?

A. Use a solution of household ammonia and warm water. This will not only clean the rubber, but will keep it soft and pliable.

Q. How can I prevent a bruise from becoming discolored?

A. Moisten some dry starch with cold water and cover the bruised part with it.

Q. How can I remove the odor of fish from the hands?

A. The scent of fish can be removed from the hands very readily with dry mustard. The odor from the frying pan can be removed by boiling either some tea leaves or vinegar in the pan. The odor can also be removed with salt and hot water.

Q. How can I give a slick surface to old playing cards?

A. If the cards are so old that they have a tendency to stick together, sprinkle them liberally with talcum, and they will have the slick surface of new cards.

Q. How can I prevent the spreading and separating of eggs when poaching them?

A. Pour a little vinegar into the water when poaching the eggs and they will not separate.

Q. How can I economize when using paraffin?

A. Save all the small pieces of paraffin as they are removed from the jelly glasses, washing each piece, and placing them in a container. When desired, these pieces can be boiled, and the result will be a nice quantity of clear paraffin.

YOU can have fun figuring out your message from the Orient by use of this pleasant little letter puzzle. If the number of letters in your first name is 5 or less, subtract from 7. If more than 5 letters in your first name, subtract from 13. Now take this result and find your key letter in the word ORIENT at the top of this puzzle. Then, starting at the upper left corner, check each one of your large key letters as it appears from left to right. Below the key letters is a code message for you.

MAPLESVILLE NEWS

This reporter was unable to get the news last week due to the many holiday celebrations and being away during the week end. However, as some might have it the Maplesville News wasn't so badly missed. We wonder where the person is who doesn't make mistakes, would like very much to meet that person.

Everything about Maplesville is back to normal or seemingly so, as the Stremming Veneer plants whistles are blowing again this week, and after last week's shut-down and silence while the employees were off on vacation. After a well earned vacation they will be able to put forth more pep and energy. As the old saying is, "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." We are quite sure all the employees are deeply grateful to Mr. Stremming.

Church News—

The Vacation Bible School opened Monday at the Baptist Church. The number enrolled the first day was 85, others are expected to come. All parents are urged to send their children regardless of denomination. Faculty for the V.B.S. as follows: Principal, Rev. Evan Johnson; secretary, Opal Taylor; Beginners, Mrs. Nell Haggard; superintendent, Mishie Bearden, Mrs. Annie Owen and Jeanette Dennis.

Primaries — Superintendent, Mrs. Edna Hicks, Jane Shanks, Mrs. Marilyn Giles and Dorothy Dennis.

Juniors — Superintendent, Mildred McGee, Dollie Jean Dennis, Mrs. Margaret Johnson and Mr. S. B. Rodgers.

Intermediates—Superintendent. Mrs. C. C. Bates, Mrs. Margaret Clapp and Mr. Carlos Owen.

Pianist — Mrs. Annie Laura Potts.

Last Friday afternoon a large number of adults with their cars and about 60 children put on a thrilling Vacation Bible School Parade through Maplesville starting at the church on through the Veneer Plant Village, down the Selma road and back to the church.

Rev. J. B. Golden of Clanton recently sent to the Plantersville Methodist charge, preached ihs first sermon at the Maplesville Methodist Church last Sunday night. A large crowd attended.

The Baptist W.M.U. met Monday afternoon at the church for their missionary program. Mrs. Sara Mitchell presided. Mrs. Frankie Seals gave the devotional. Mrs. Evie Cochran was program leader for the afternoon.

Cobern-Middlebrooks—

The marriage of Mr. Kermit Cobern to Miss Johnnie Middlebrooks since our last writing is of much interest to their friends. They have moved into their home here. Their friends wish for them a long and happy life together.

Stremming Barbecue Big Success—

The barbecue given by Mr. R. W. Stremming to his employees and families last week was indeed a great success. Barbecue plates, drinks, ice cream and in the late afternoon barbecue sandwiches, drinks were served to more than 1,000 persons, which was all free.. Throughout the day the crowd enjoyed music by a string instrument band from Montgomery. We are quite sure that we can speak with authority for all the employees and others who attended, that everyone enjoyed the day very much and extend to Mr. Stremming their deepest appreciation and thanks for this hospitality.

Goings and Comings—

Mrs. W. W. Kelley and son, Fred L. Kelley, and Miss Carrie Jean Sims spent Independence holidays in Birmingham with Mrs. Kelley's son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kelley.

Mr. Claud Hathcock visited with relatives at Brent and Marion, Ala., during his vacation last week.

We regret to report that Mrs. Ruth Hubbard was sent to St. Vincent's Hospital in Birmingham by her Selma physicians last week to undergo an operation. Last news from Mrs. Hubbard is that she is doing nicely, for which her friends are grateful.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Gray have returned home after a two weeks visit with relatives in Clanton and vicinity.

We are very sorry to report the sudden death of Mr. Charlie Littlejohn of Friendship Community in West Chilton last Saturday night. Mr. Littlejohn was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Daisy Littlejohn of Maplesville. We extend to this family our deepest sympathy. Funeral services were held at Tabernacle Church in Bibb County Tuesday of this week with burial in the adjoining cemetery.

Mrs. H. M. Nix and Mr. Ben Glass made a business trip to Selma, Ala., last Monday.

Mrs. Frankie Seals is visiting for a few days at Clanton with Mrs. L. C. Keen.

Mrs. Bettie Jeffcoat returned to her home here last Friday after a few weeks stay with her daughter, Mrs. Bessie Tucker in Columbiana, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Sims and granddaughter, Beatrice Smitherman, spent the holidays with their children, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sims, in Prattville, Ala.

Mr. Horton Walker and three children, Tommy, Carolyn and Joel, of Prattville, Ala., visited here with relatives last week. They also visited relatives in Shoults Community.

Independence Day Mr. and Mrs. Harry Higginbotham and children, Mr. and Mrs. Theron Watson and children enjoyed a picnic at the Nix Lake.

Mrs. Beulah McCary enjoyed July 4th at the home of Mr. Ben Atcheson in Stanton, where a large group gathered for a picnic.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hayes left Monday of this week for a two weeks visit with Mr. Hayes's mother, Mrs. E. O. Corpening, and brother, Mr. Thomas L. Hayes, in Dallas, Texas. We miss them very much, as Mr. Hayes is our barber and Mrs. Hayes (Mrs. Bessie, as she is affectionately known here), is our Postmistress. Both deserve a long vacation. We wish for them a pleasant trip. However, Maplesville just doesn't seem right without them.

Little Shirley Ann McAfee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brady McAfee, was carried to the Baptist Hospital in Selma last week to have her tonsils removed. She is back home and doing fine.

The people of Maplesville are very happy that Miss Edna Earl Tucker, a trained nurse, is again here at Dr. Day's Clinic. We're hoping she will be here for a long time.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Dawson of this town, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pendland, of Birmingham, and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cox, of Cox, Ala., recently attended the homecoming at Evergreen Church in Autauga County. Mr. Dawson stated that even though he had not visited this church in 42 years, it was easy to see that the same Christian Spirit was there with the same hospitality. The sermon by Rev. Paul Oden, singing by the Liberty Hill Quartet and others were thoroughly enjoyed. The people of that community served a bountiful dinner. (Sorry the above news item is late.)

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Folsom (Wynelle Stough) and children, Donnie and Dana, of Houston, Texas, recently visited here with Mrs. Folsom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stough. Leaving here they went to New Brocton, Ala., to visit Mr. Folsom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Folsom, for a few days, then to the Coast for a few days deep sea fishing. They reported having caught quite a lot of fish. Their plans were to return to their home in Houston, Texas, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Harris and three children, Terry, Jerry and Marvin, spent last week in Selma, Ala., with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gillespie attended the fourth birthday dinner of Mr. Gillespie's granddaughter in Birmingham last Tuesday.

Attending Rev. Hymon Atcheson's tent revival last Wednesday night from Maplesville were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Guinn, Mrs. Hattie Cawthorn and Mr. and Mrs. George Gillespie.

Cpl. and Mrs. Perry Robert Riffe are here visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Chambers. Cpl. Riffe is stationed at Abberdeen, Md. Miss Virgie Chambers also of Abberdeen, Mr.l came with Cpl. and Mrs. Riffe and is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Chambers.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Graham visited Mr. Graham's mother at Atmore, Ala., last week. Mrs. Gladys Chambers, who had been with her mother for an extended visit. She and her mother returned to her home here with Mr. and Mrs. Graham.

S-Sgt. Tommie Williams of Eglin Field, Fla., spent last week here with his mother, Mrs. Jessie Gillespie.

It's A Girl—

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Glass announce the arrival of a 6-lb. 8-oz. baby girl Monday, July 10th, at Dr. Day's Clinic here. They have named the baby Gloria Jean Glass.

* * *

Mr. Union Chambers has moved into his new home. He sold his former home to Mr.. Lonnie Evans.

With the many new homes being built and the many homes that have been repaired and painted, Maplesville is fast becoming a nice little town. However, there is quite a bit of room for more improvements. There are tenant houses in this town that do not have screen doors, which is detrimental to the health of the entire community. Some few houses are old and dillapidated with porches and steps dangerous to step upon. This could cause serious accidents to the occupants. The health department and the town commission should investigate and ascertain whether these places are hazardous to the public. If the present laws do not adequately protect the public, the commissions and health department should enact adequate laws at the earliest possible moment. There are laws and safety regulations exercised in practically every business in the county and should be in the Town of Maplesville.

Walker Reunion—

Monday of last week most of the children and grandchildren of the late C. T. Walker met at the Nix Lake at Maplesville and enjoyed the day at this delightful recreation spot, with boat riding, swimming, fishing and playing shuffle board.

At the noon hour a bountiful lunch was enjoyed. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Carson Snead, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Young and three children, of Columbus, Miss.; Sgt. and Mrs. Charles Shoults and two children, Sgt. and Mrs. Layden Hicks and two children of Selma, Ala; a Miss Guthrie of Plantersville, Ala.; Mrs. Sam Shoults, of Shoults Community; Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler Walker, Miss Eva Jo Walker, Miss Lucy Walker and Mrs. Willie Hathcock, all of Maplesville; Sgt. Harold Walker, of Keesler Field, Miss.; Mr. Herbert Walker, of Montgomery, Ala.

Their guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Vester Abercrombia of Selma, Ala.; Mr. Eugene McGee, Mrs. Fred McGee and Mrs. Ludie Jones of Centreville, Ala.

Comments from all who visit the Nix Lake are that it is now a very delightful recreation spot.

Thanks and congratulations to Dr. Nix for his unselfishness and concern for the people of Maplesville and vicinity, so that they may not have to go away from home to find a place to relax and have fun. It is solely for the benefit and enjoyment of the people, for the very small charge for fishing and swimming goes to pay a caretaker. Our hats are off to a man like Dr. Nix.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

Mr. R. L. Bailey, Regional Agronomist for the Soil Conservation Service, has the following to say about Centipede grass:

"There has been a revival of interest in centipede as a grass for lawns and back slopes of dams. Several of our people have inquired about our attitude toward the use of this grass. Some of them are interested in planting centipede grass on their own lawns.

In the early years of the Service's activities, we used centipede grass in waterways at several Coastal Plain projects and CCC Camps. Agronomists at that time were sure that centipede grass did not produce viable seed. We, therefore, considered it to be an excellent grass for outlets, particularly vegetated channels.

We learned through experience that centipede grass produced viable seed. This seed often drifted from channels and lodged on pastures lying below. Wherever a centipede seed lodged and germinated, it developed a spreading sod patch that crowded everything else out. Centipede is practically worthless as a pasture grass.

Centipede grass is a serious and persistent weed pest in the pastures at the North Florida Experiment Station at Quincy. Even when a sod was plowed and harrowed to destroy the old plants and other pasture mixture was seeded, new centipede plants came back from seed. In some cases, these seedling plants have crowded the more desirable grasses and all legumes out of the mixture.

When we learned that centipede grass made viable seed, we discontinued its use for any purpose. Nothing that has happened since has justified any change in this decision. Seed produced in a lawn on a town or city lot may drift down and lodge on valuable pasture land somewhere below. We can't afford to take the risk of such spread. There are other grasses that make good lawns and that furnish good protection on back slopes of dams.

CRIMSON CLOVER SEED

Reports indicate that Alabama's 1950 crimson clover seed crop has been reduced 50 per cent or more below the expected yield; however, the yield exceeds the harvest for any previous year.

The First National Bank Introduces Interesting Facts About Alabama

The First National Bank is beginning this week a series of advertisements on true facts concerning Alabama which should be of special interest to every one in this community.

The First National Bank is beginning this special feature following the Press Association of Alabama. Opening the greatest state wide promotional event ever held in the state to sell Alabama to Alabamians; a promotion to sell pride in our state, pride in what it grows, pride in what it manufactures and pride in the great future which lies ahead. A promotion to boost business, industry and our people.

Especially should the series be of interest to students of our schools, civic organizations and others interested in the early history of our state, historical sites and garden spots for which Alabama has become famous.

For instance one of the series will picture Dixon Hall Lewis, who was one of Alabama's greatest politicians, and certainly the largest, as he weighed 500 pounds and had to have a special seat built for him in Congress. Another will be a picture of Julia S. Tutwiler, considered one of Alabama's greatest educators and who wrote our State song and many others; Helen Keller who was truly a miracle of the age; the first trolley car, built in Montgomery; first White House of the Confederacy; the first school in Alabama; founded in the State by John Pierce; the State Bird; the Coat-Of-Arms; the State Seal; the products of the State such as steel, marble, bee industry and many others; Alabama's first Governor; Tuscaloosa, the great Indian Chief, the Blue and Grey football game; the first paved roads in the State, which was built in 1848, the State's first railroad; the beautiful Azalea Trails, and Bellingrath Gardens; State Parks, the first typewriter and many other interesting scenes and facts.

RETAIN EGG QUALITY

Here's how one Alabama farmer delivers top-quality eggs to his customers. Eggs are cooled in a wire basket overnight before they are packed in cartons. They are also sorted according to size, and any dirty eggs are cleaned before packing.

The First National Bank is to be commended for their progressive spirit in presenting these interesting facts about the great state of Alabama. The feature is most timely since it is beginning just prior to the "kick-off" of the Alabama Press Association campaign to "Sell Alabama to Alabamians." A Proclamation was signed a short time ago by Governor Folsom designating June as "Alabama Industry Days," and a meeting has been called by newspapermen of Alabama at the University when plans will be fully discussed. To take part in "Selling Alabama to Alabamians," will be every editor and publisher in the state, and every member and firm of the Association of Industries of Alabama, Chamber of Commerce heads, Civic clubs and associations, merchant organizations, distributors, wholesaler and retailer.

This paper suggests that every reader take advantage of the First National Bank's feature, "Interesting Facts About Alabama."

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT ALABAMA

SPANISH EXPLORER

Narvaez, a Spanish soldier, and explorer with his exploring party, are believed to have been the first white men to set foot on Alabama soil. In 1528, they reached Mobile Bay but did not find their ships there as prearranged in Florida. Hostile Indians added to his many troubles. When his supplies were practically gone, he decided to build boats to take his party back to civilization but the expedition ended in disaster, and he was lost at sea.

West End Baptist News—

Our pastor, Rev. R. E. Wilkins, spoke to us at both the morning and evening services last Sunday, bringing a wonderful message each time. I'm sure many blessings were received from them.

We had four new additions to our church Sunday morning. They were: Mr. W. E. Knight, Miss Joan Royal, by Baptism; Mrs. Clydie Ruth Little and Mr. Billy Dukes, by letter.

We are grateful to God for these new members and extend a cordial welcome to them in our church.

Let's everyone try to be at Sunday School next Sunday.

STANTON

Mrs. Frances Hicks Haley and two daughters, Larue and Ray, of Corpus Christi, Texas, are visiting relatives and friends in this section.

Mr. and Mrs. Hillard Gay (nee Doris Houston) visited the Grady Houston's and the Bill Ruddicks last week. They are from Fairfield, Ala.

The revival starts at the Baptist Church next Sunday. Rev. J. R. Robinson, Jr., is the pastor of this church and the visiting minister will be Rev. Porch from the Central Baptist Church of Selma, Ala. An invitation is extended to all to attend these services and worship with them.

Mr. Eddie Ruddick spent the week end with his parents. Eddie is stationed at Ft. Bragg, N. C.

Mr. Ira Cox is back home from the Veterans Hospital, Montgomery, Ala. Ira is getting along nicely now.

The Earl O'Neals had to carry their young daughter, Judy, ot a specialist in Birmingham, Ala., last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Neal entertained relatives at Dr. Nix's Lake in Maplesville, Ala., last Tuesday night. Enjoying their hospitality were:

Mr. and Mrs. Billy O'Neal and Sandra, the Earl O'Neal family, Mr. W.M.D. O'Neal, Mr. John Morrow, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. John Morrow, Jr., and Children. The Morrows are from Texas.

A gathering of relatives and friends at the Plantersville High School last Sunday and enjoying the day together were: Mr. W.M.D. O'Neal, Mr. and Mrs. O'Neal, Bobby and Judy; Mr. and Mrs. John O'Neal and Miss Dorothy O'Neal; Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Von Schmittou, of Chicago, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Preston O'Neal and Mrs. Woods of Demopolis, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler O'Neal, Joe and Ann, of Montgomery; Mr. Jimmy Spencer, of Demopolis; Mrs. Sally Young, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hicks and Joe; Mrs. W. M. Roebuck and Mr. Welch Roebuck, of Maplesville; Mrs. R. S. Amos, of Milton, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Long, Johnny and Jerry, of Biloxi, Miss.; and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Jones, of Selma, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Von Schmittou of Chicago, Ill., (nee Mildred O'Neal) spent several days with their father, Mr. W.M.D. O'Neal, and brother, Mr. Earl O'Neal, and family recently. While here they visited other relatives and friends.

Mrs. Coba Lawrence has been under the care of Dr. Williams in Selma, Ala., for some time now.

Mr. Hardie Harrison isn't doing so well at this writing. Mr. Harrison has a large number of friends who are pulling hard for his recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Careylo Willis and two daughters of Corpus Christi, Texas, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Gregg and family. They left Monday morning for Mobile Ala., to be with their mother, Mrs. Lillian Willis, who is very ill at her daughter's home there. Mrs. Clyde Gregg and son, Tommie, are also in Mobile, Ala., this week with their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Willis.

From all reports the annual Fourth of July barbecue, given by Mr. Ben Atchison, was a huge success. Plenty of good eats, quartets and an old-fashion spend-the-day together of a large gathering of friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Rogers and Mrs. Hattie Jones and son have returned from their vacation spent at Gulf Shores.

Several from this section attended the wedding of Jim Wood Cleveland, Jr., in Wadley, Ala., at the Baptist Church Saturday afternoon at 5:30. Jim Wood is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cleveland, Sr., of Lawley, Ala. He married Miss Betty Sue Cotney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Amos Cotney, of Wadley, Ala. A reception was given at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Ruth Hicks, Mr. Millard Reynolds and Mr. Archie McKinney motored to Tuscaloosa, Ala., Sunday afternoon and attended the motorcycle races.

SHOULTS

The Lord has blessed us so wonderfully at Pleasant Grove. We had the best attendance we have had in a long time. Prayers were heard by God and answered. Bro. Mike Moore filled his appointment and brought us two wonderful sermons. We had 21 parents present Sunday night.

The Lord has blessed us with rain in this community for which we are so thankful. It is heart-breaking to see our neighbors suffer for rain. Folks, pray as you have never prayed before. God is showing us His wonderful power in many ways. He does not tell us to fear the atomic bomb—but to fear Him.

Prayer service was held at Mr. Gin Nicholas's home last Thursday night. A small crowd attended due to the rain. Mrs. Nicholas is a Christian Shut-in. She likes the Lord's work and desires an interest in your prayers.

The Trico Singing Convention will be held at Rehobeth Baptist Church near Lawley next Saturday night. Everyone is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Smith's heart was made glad when Juantia and Glee Stephens, their grandchildren, came to visit them about two weeks ago from Tampa, Fla. We are so glad to have them with us. Juanita accepted Christ in our church and is a member. We are praying for Glee. We love them lots.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Oden from Louisville, Ky., visited relatives and friends in this community recently. We were so glad to have them and to know that they are in the Lord's service in Kentucky. They have a Christian home. We wish them lots of good luck.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Gilliland from our community are moving to Waco, Ga. We sure do hate to see them go.

BOWLES

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Meeks and children have returned to their home in Talladega after a ten-day visit with relatives and friends of this community.

Miss Ruby Williams spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Headley in the Mt. Pisgah Community.

Miss Frances Chandler spent last week end in Clanton.

Mr. Clyde Chandler visited Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Chandler and family, Mrs. Cora Chandler and son and Miss Clydie Ruth Chandler in Montgomery last Wednesday.

Mrs. W. D. Williams spent Saturday afternoon with her uncle Mr. M. O. Gafford.

CONTOUR FARMING

Contour farming reduces loss of the top soil and retains the water in the soil for the use of plants.

Baptist Notes—

Prayer meeting will be each Wednesday night at 7:30.

The church voted Wednesday night in the business meeting and elected Mr. Sam F. Mims to approve purchases to be made for the church and okey bills for the church. Bro. Mims is already making plans and getting forms in shape for this work.

On Friday night, July 14th, at 7:30, the Commencement Exercises for the children attending the Vocational Bible School will be held at the church. You have a cordial invitation to attend these exercises. An offering will be taken to help pay the expenses of V.B.S. workers in destitute places of the States.

A consecration service will be conducted for Juniors and Intermediates of the V.B.S. Thursday a.m.

A V.B.S. picnic will be held Friday, July 14th. All the children will please bring a picnic lunch to the church Friday morning. The mothers of the smaller ones are invited to go if they wish.

Mrs. N. Laurell, who has been away for some time are visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Laurell. Mrs. W. F. Lowe, sister of Mr. Laurell, is also visiting the Laurells.

Mrs. Spence Ray and Robert Earl, of Birmingham, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Marcus and relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Davis of Enid, Okla., are spending a few days here visiting his mother, Mrs. Merrit Davis. Mr. Davis is in the Army and is stationed in Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Robinson and Patricia of Birmingham spent the week end here visiting Mr. Sam Robinson and family.

Mr. Charles Collins of Birmingham visited Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Collins this week end.

Mr. L. D. Riggins received word from his son, Crockett Gant, that he would leave Fort Bliss in El Paso, Texas, Monday for Alaska. He had hopes of being out of service in September, but now his plans are uncertain.

Mr. and Mrs. Rushon Gibbons and family of Falkville, Ala., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Coy Gibbons, his mother, Mrs. Kelley; also Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lessley.

Mr. and Mrs. William Davis of Birmingham visited Mrs. Susie Benson Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Smith and Martha Sue were the Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Smith.

Mrs. Ivy Key, Mr. and Mrs. McGinnis, Mrs. Harry Black and Mrs. Clara Morris of Houston, Texas, are visiting their brother, Mr. Jack Robinson and family and relatives here.

Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Franklin and Benny Joe, enjoyed a picnic at East Lake Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Franklin's brothers and sisters. A very delightful afternoon was spent and enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Dee McFarland are happy to have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Kaderian of New Orleans, La. They will also visit friends in Birmingham while here.

Mr. Holden Bean of Tupelo, Miss., visited relatives here this week. He is the son of Wiley Bean.

Mrs. Chester McClean visited her mother, Mrs. A. P. Buckner in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Berlin had as their guests over the week end Mr. and Mrs. Thos. G. Rogers of Atlanta, Ga., and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Jacobson of Chicago. The Jacobsons are old time friends of the Berlins, and are visiting a daughter in Atlanta, so they motored over here with Mr. and Mrs. Rogers. They enjoyed reminiscing, since it had been years since they had seen one another, and they also enjoyed meeting new friends here, and liked Thorsby so very much, that they didn't want to leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Olsen have returned to Chicago after a visit with her father, Mr. Sam Grenn, and aunts, Mrs. Conrad Carlson and Mrs. Marie Graves.

Mrs. Chas. Lucas and son, Ronald Lucas of Flint, Mich., have been visiting old friends here for the past week. They have been staying with Mrs. Frank Nelson. They are enroute to Texas for an indefinite stay with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howard and family visited here and in Jemison last week. They returned to their home in Charleston, S. C., last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brothers returned to Birmingham Sunday night, after spending a week of their vacation here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Bosworth. They enjoyed the first week of their vacation at Daytona Beach, Fla.

On Saturday night, July 1st, a happy group of people were gathered together at the home of Mrs. Conrad Carlson for a watermelon cutting and to enjoy a visit with Mrs. Carlson's guests, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Olson and sons, Norman and Buddy. Mr. Olson entertained the group with a real motion picture show. Most of the reels were those taken by him while on vacation trips, out West and in Northern Wisconsin. Some were made here in Thorsby at the Carlson home. It was indeed most interesting and enjoyed by a large group of friends.

On last Wednesday night, July 6th, a few friends surprised Mrs. Marie Graves on her birthday. The guests furnished delicious refreshments consisting of home-made vanilla ice cream and cake. The evening was spent in a most jolly social way, some played Canasta, and others enjoyed themselves in conservation. Those present at the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Howard, Mrs. Anna Phalin, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Howard and Carol and Allen, Mr. and Mrs. G. Berlin, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson, Mrs. Marie Reagan and Miss Naemi Turnquist, Mrs. Conrad Carlson, Mr. Sam Grenn and the honoree.

The many friends of Mrs. Lester Garrett (Esther Johnson) will be interested to learn that she underwent a very serious operation last Saturday at South Highland Infirmary, and from which she is recovering nicely, according to late reports. We sincerely hope that her recovery will be a rapid one and complete.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Howard are enjoying a visit from their niece, Miss Edwina Helton, of Mobile, Ala.

News has been received from Major and Mrs. Owen Carter that they arrived safely in Yokohama, Japan, after a very pleasant journey.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Petersen and Shirley spent last week in West Point, Ga., with her father and sister, Mr. Shannon and Sadie Shannon. Mr. Petersen is enjoying a well deserved vacation of two weeks from his duties as L & N agent at Siluria, Ala.

The Fourth of July celebration in Thorsby was really a nice occasion. The parade was enjoyed by many, and it was well gotten up. Our hats are off to those who worked hard for this day. The ball games were enjoyed by hundreds of people, the barbecue dinner was simply delicious, and besides, a nice sum of money was realized for the improvement of the baseball park.

Among those who attended the Carmen Concert in Clanton on the 30th of June were: Mrs. Lloyd Howard and daughter, Carol, Mrs. James Bosworth, Mr. and Mrs. G. Berlin, Mrs. Marie Reagan and Miss Naemi Turnquist. All enjoyed this concert to the utmost, and we do want to congratulate this splendid group of young people on the wonderful idea of putting on programs of this type during their summer vacation. What could be more worth while than this sort of thing for passing the time, and in so doing, not only enjoy themselves, but give so much joy to many others. We want to say to Clanton that you should indeed be proud of your Associated Producers and lend your every support whenever they appear in concert.

OVERCROWDED CLASSES AND PART TIME SCHOOL SESSIONS

Washington, D. C. — "The stork is not entirely to blame for the oversized classes and part time school sessions existing in many of the schools across the nation. This situation has been in the making for many years," said Willard E. Givens, executive secretary of the National Education Association, here today on releasing the Annual Report of the Profession to the Public, entitled, "OUR SCHOOL POPULATION."

The Report, which traces the growth of the American education system during the first half of the century, is presented as an aid to those who must adjust opportunity to the needs of the decades immediately ahead.

"While it is true the birthrate has increased from 17 babies for each 1,000 population in 1933 to 27 per 1,000 in 1947, many other factors during the last fifty years have contributed to the present crisis," Secretary Givens states in his report. "A consideration of these factors is essential to the understanding of what has happened and to make possible intelligent planning for the future."

Population shifts, lengthened school terms, the increased holding power of schools, abolition of child labor and the enforcement of compulsory attendance have all caused enrollments to soar in the public schools, he emphasized. The Report also calls attention to the increase in the average income of the American family, which permits children to stay in school longer if they wish to attend.

Dr. Givens cited the serious problems of school housiing and shortage of school personnel caused by population shifts during World War II when eight million Americans moved their residences across state boundary lines.

He named the decrease in child labor as another important factor in the mounting school enrollments. In 1900 31 per cent of the 14-15 year olds were employed, but by 1940 only 5 per cent of those in this age group were engaged in occupations.

As the educational program and methods of instruction improved during the first half of the century, children stayed in school longer, Secretary Givens pointed out. The average student in 1899-1900 was in attendance only 99 days each year, while in 1946-47 he attended 152 days.

"Perhaps the most important single cause of the phenomenal expansion in the American school system in the first half of this country is purely psychological," Secretary Givens emphasized. "It is the aspiration of American citizen for their children and for the future of their country. Illiterate parents were happy to have their children read and write. Parents with only an elementary education made sacrifices to send their children through high school. Those who have completed high school point with pride to the graduation of their children from college.

"The G.I. Bill of Rights has greatly stepped up education as a compelling ideal. Thousands of veterans who would never have sought an education beyond high school are now college graduates. They will demand for their children as good or better, educational opportunity than they, themselves, have had.

"The cumulative effect of education has been in the building for years. It will determine the progress of community colleges, of graduate schools, of programs of adult education that will be available to all through life."

Secretary Givens predcited that nearly 8,000,000 more students will be enrolled by 1959-60 than are enrolled in the schools at present. This means that the total elementary and high school enrollment will jump from 26,635,000 to 34,091,000 in one decade.

"No adequate plans for the future of our total school population can be made without some consideration for students who are taking post high school work in the thirteenth and fourteenth years, Secretary Givens said. "The junior college, long in existence as a private institution, has in recent years become an extension of the public high school into the 'community college. There are now 648 junior colleges in the United States, including those which are integrated with regular school systems with a total enrollment of nearly 466,000 student.

"In hundreds of communities the school plant and its recreational facilities are being used more and more by adults. In the school year 1925-26 a total of 825,651 persons were enrolled in adult school classes, compared to 1,690,000 persons in 1946."

The lack of properly prepared teachers is greatest today in the elementary grades where the quality of teaching can most easily make or mar the educational careers of pupils, according to the Report. A conservative estimate indicates that 750,562 additional teachers will be needed in the next decade to keep pace with the climbing enrollment and with the departures from the profession. An appraisal of the teacher supply for this period indicates that less than one-third of the number needed in elementary schools will be available.

Other studies included in the Annual Report of the Profession to the Public are school housing, school financing and the place of the schools in the national economy.

Dr. Givens estimated at least $10 billion will be necessary in the next ten years to put decent roofs over the heads of school youngsters throughout the nation. The Report states that one-third of the city school children attend classes in buildings erected prior to 1900. The lag in school construction is attributed to the lack of funds during the depression, shortage of materials during the recent war, and the present high cost of school construction.

"The amount of money spent for education will be determined not only by the number of children served and the standard of service rendered but also by the value of the dollar," Secretary Givens emphasized in his report.

"In 1900 the total capital and current expenditures for public schools, in the value of the dollars of that year, were $214,964,618 while in 1950 the expenditures for the same purpose totalled $4,600,000,000 based on the 1950 dollar value. In current dollars the cost for operating schools has risen decade by decade from $16.88 per pupil to $185."

The Report makes no attempt to discuss fully the various problems confronting education today. As the nation is making an inventory of its resources in this census year, the teaching profession is taking stock of the facilities provided for free public education. The principal aim of this Report is to present the school population problems facing the nation at the start of the second half of the century.

Irene Miller To Be Presented By Associated Producers In Third Concert Of Summer

(By Cooper P. Speaks)

Irene Miller, violinist, will be presented in a concert sponsored by the Associated Producers next Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock in the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Miller, wife of the Rev. J. Carlisle Miller, a former minister of the Clanton Methodist Church, has been a constant giver of her time and her talents toward furthering the cultural opportunities and the performance of good music in Clanton.

A former director of the choir of the Methodist Church and teacher of violin, Mrs. Miller inaugurated the performance of an annual Easter cantata composed of a combined civic choir. She was also active in Kiwanis Club musical programs and played over Radio Station WKLF frequently.

Well known throughout the state for her excellent musicainship, Mrs. Miller was a member of both the Montgomery Music Club and the Clanton Music Club. In Chilton County she will be remembered for her concert with Kathryn Ellis and Mildred White in Clanton.

Mrs. Miller, a former violinist in the Duluth Symphony Orchestra, was a private student of Ottokar Cadek, famous Alabama violin teacher and a student of the late Fred G. Bradbury of Duluth. She was also an audition winner for the Birmingham Symphony Orchestra.

Mrs. Miller's violin concert will be the third in a series of summer concerts sponsored by the Associated Producers, a group of Clanton young people intent upon bringing something superior in cultural entertainment to Chilton County and the surrounding territory.

Mrs. Miller's program will consist of violin numbers by such familar composers as Rachmaninoff, Debussy, Tschaikowsky, and Kriesler. Accompanist for the program will be Joe Mullins, Jr.

Tickets for the program may be se-secured from Farley Drug Company or from the following members of the Associated Producers: Mary Ann Oglesby, Henry Heflin, Mary Clyde Mims, Joe Mullins, Leonard Farley, and James Popwell. Admission prices are 50c and 75c.

IRENE MILLER

The thirty-two semi-finalists of the Chilton County Peach Festival will be special guests at the program. The violin concert will provide the final evening of entertainment before the festival.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Vegetables which have been peeled lose more minerals and vitamins in cooking than those left whole; large losses occur when vegetables are cut in small pieces. Vegetables should be cut just before being used.

Dresses and shirts hung on a coat hanger to drip without any wringing will have few wrinkles. An aluminum hanger which will not rust should be used. Shape the wet garments. straightening collar tips and pulling out wrinkles. When removed from the hanger, the garment will need no ironing. If a little pressing is needed, use only a warm iron and test it first on the inside of a hem.

Lomax Defeats Mineral Springs 21-0—

The Lomax ball team played on their new ball field Sunday, July 9th, 1950, for the first time this year. They were very proud of this field because they did all the work themselves.

The new field brought good luck for the team. This was the first time Lomax has ever defeated Mineral Springs. The high point man was Thomas Martin, a very good ball player, and has had a high record all through this ball season. The whole team was very proud of this game and will try to keep the wonderful record up.

Please come on out and support your local ball club and help them win.

Folks, have you ever sat down and just thought of what you would be doing tonight? Some may be going swimming, some going other places; and there are quite a number of folks who are going to the Clanton Drive-In—where there is .always a good movie—rain or shine.

The picture which is going to be shown Saturday night is a picture that will touch your heart deeply. The name of the picture is "Shaggy," the heart-warming picture of a boy, his dog, father and step-mother, which the young boy and she can't get along until she has an accident in a valley and. . . .Well, come on out and I'm sure you will enjoy the picture. A Western is showing this same night.

Have you noticed the vases of flowers that Mrs. Wilson has put out at the ticket booth and in the concession booth? On Saturday night you may get your drinks in front of the booth and save the trouble of going inside. There are always clean rest rooms for men and women and a clean water fountain. So, folks, come on out and enjoy the pictures which will be shown rain or shine.

There is a real funny picture which will be shown Sunday, "Frances, The Talking Mule." It is unbelievable that a mule can talk, but it is true. Come and see the show. It will be shown Sunday, Monday and Tuesday nights. So come on let's show Mr. Jackson and Mrs. Wilson that we do appreciate the shows which they bring to us through the Drive-In.

Macedonia News

There were large crowds attending services here Sunday. Many visitors were present. We welcome you back.

The Rev. Hymon Atcheson brought two inspiring messages last Sunday.

Discussion for the Vacation Bible School came before the church Sunday. A nice offering was taken to pay for the material needed. Rev. Atcheson appointed four teachers and four helpers for the school. They were: Miss Mariah Freeman, Mrs. Pratt Crumpton, Mrs. Jimmy Ward and Mrs. Elmer Crane, teachers; Mrs. J. D. Hayes, Mrs. Ermon Rasberry, Mrs. Marion Cofer, Mrs. Harvey Davenport and Mrs. Coy Rasberry. Everyone pray for the school that it may be a success.

The W.M.U. Quarterly meeting was held here Wednesday, July 5th. There were about ten churches represented and six pastors present. Miss Floretta Nix gave a wonderful devotion in the morning. Joyce Bates gave a short talk on the Y.W.A. Magazine and read a poem.. Other churches presented programs that were enjoyed by every one present. We enjoyed talks by different ones during the day. Some of our state works gave interesting talks.

At noon time everyone seemed to enjoy a wonderful meal. The church wants to thank each one who helped with the meal. Business was taken up in the afternoon. Mrs. Kendrick and Mrs. Johnson presided over the meeting during the day. The names of the new officers were read. Two from our church hold an office. The meeting adjourned by Rev. Charlie Haggard leading in prayer. To each one that was present you are welcome back every time you can come. The total number present was 130.

The W.M.U., Y.W.A., Sunbeams and G.A.'s meet at the church Monday afternoon. They presented their program. The Rev. Atcheson was present and his presence was greatly appreciated. These organizations need everyone's cooperation. They are helping to push our church upward.

The Rev. Atcheson and family and a large number of others were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Rasberry.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. West and Mr. and Mrs. Onzie Garner visited Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Moore and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Ward and Mr. Joe Ward last week.

Peggy and Johnny Thacker are visiting their grandparents this week, Mr. and Mrs. Pratt Crumpton.

Mr. and Mrs. Crit Glass and boys visited Mr. Hoyt and Miss. Mariah Freeman last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jones and family had Mr. and Mrs. Arliss Harris and Jimmy as dinner guests Sunday.

Ray and Ralph Almaroad visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Almaroad, this week end. Clayton returned to Birmingham with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Morris and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cummings and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Davenport made a short visit by the Oates' home last Sunday evening.

Sandra Morris is spending a while with Judy Morris.

Miss Mary Oates is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Arliss Harris and Jimmy and Horace Jones, of Selma, Ala.

Miss Nolvis Mims was the dinner guest of Nell Hayes Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Oates and family and Mr. and Mrs. Arliss Harris and Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jones and family, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Mims and Mrs. Hoyt Henley were the afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Veazey and family Sunday.

Mrs. Hoyt Henley is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Mims.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Veazey of Birmingham spent Sunday with Mrs. Mamie Veazey.

Consider the proper use of the Lord's Day and be present Sunday at church. If we love Christ we will obey Him. Invite someone and let's have a large attendance. Come with a well prepared lesson.

In 1775 Tukabatchee was the largest town of the Creek nation. William Bartram wrote at that date that Tukabatchee's 386 houses were strung out four miles along the Tallapoosa River.

For many years the town of Quin got its water supply from a gushing spring on a nearby mountain-top. The water is piped down the mountain and into a 250,000 gallon tank without any pressure devices needed. The spring has a daily capacity of 100,000 gallons.

Special Meeting Held By O. E. S.

On Thursday night a special meeting was held at the Masonic Hall, Clanton, for the purpose of installing the newly elected and appointed officers of the Clanton Chapter of the Order of The Eastern Star. The following officers were installed:

Women's Missionary News Of The Chilton Association

The W.M.U. of the Chilton Association held its third quarterly meeting in Wednesday, July 5th, at Macedonia Baptist Church.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Roy Kendrick, welcoming members and visitors, before turning the morning session over to Mrs. J. .W. Johnson, Young People's Director, of the Association. Mrs. Johnson made an inspiring talk concerning the young people of today. Miss Floretta Nix, a Y.W.A. member of Macedonia, gave a wonderful devotional, based on the 12th chapter of Daniel, third verse.

Mrs. J. I. Freeman, of Hunter Street Baptist Church, Birmingham, made a short talk on Youth Praising Jesus.

Robert Holly, of Jemison, R.A. Counselor, of the Association for the coming year, sang the ever beautiful, "Ivory Palaces," rendering a message and inspiration to all.

A G.A. member from Thorsby, Betty Sue Vines, gave a very interesting talk on her trip to camp at Shocco Springs last year.

Mrs. Temberlin, young people's director and wife of the minister of Parkview Baptist Church, Birmingham, gave a talk on "My Conversion" and the dedicated life of her daughter, Mimi.

In the interest of the magazines of the four organizations the young people put on short programs, concerning their own magazines. Miss Joyce Oates read a poem written and composed by her Y.W.A. Counselor, Mrs. J. C. Morris, entitled, "Window of Y.W.A."

The Mulberry G.A.'s gave a program on the country of Nigeria, Africa.

Liberty Hill girls gave a skit, by hanging out their wash, with a line reminding all to subscribe to their magazines again.

Two boys from Thorsby gave a skit entitled, "No Vacation."

Prayer during the morning session was led by the Rev. G. H. Carroll of Jemison.

Serving on the Courtesy Committee were Mrs. Jack Lenoir and Mrs. P. D. Ellison. And on the enrollment committee, Mrs. Hymon Atcheson and Mrs. Jimmie Ward, with a report of a total of 120 folks attending this meeting, including seven visitors.

Rev. Hymon Atcheson, pastor of Macedonia Baptist Church, dismissed for the noon hour.

A delightful meal was served with plenty of delicious food and drinks.

The afternoon session was devoted mostly to business of the Association.

The Y.W.A.'s and G.A.'s of Macedonia sang, "He Keeps Me Singing," while Mrs. Proctor Davenport gave a chalk drawing.

Mrs. Weaver, district President, spoke of her pleasure in being in the communities of Macedonia and Mulberry again.

The meeting of the third quarter of the Chilton Association was dismissed by the Rev. Charlie Haggard of Friendship Church.—Reported by Mrs. Julian Morris, Jemison.

WATERMELON PICKLED, SPICED RIND RECIPE

Auburn, Ala. — Now, while watermelons are so plentiful, is the time to put up an old-fashioned relish—sweet, pickled, spiced rind.

Here's the recipe given by Lavada Curtis, A.P.I. Extension Service food preservation specialist. Use four Lbs. of thick watermelon rind; limewater made with two quarts of cold water and one tablespoon of lime (calcium oxide purchased from a drug store); two tablespoons of whole allspice; two tablespoons of whole cloves; 10 two-inch pieces of stick cinnamon; one quart of vinegar; one quart of water and four pounds of sugar.

Select thick rind from a firm, not overripe, melon. Trim off the green skin and pink flesh. Weigh out four pounds of the rid and cut into one-inch pieces.. Soak for one hour in limewater to make the rind firm. Drain, cover with fresh water, and cook one and one-half hours or until tender. Add more water as needed. Drain.

Next, put spices in a thin, clean, white cloth and tie top tightly. Put this spice bag in a kettle with vinegar, sugar, and one quart of water. Bring to a boil. Add the watermelon rind, and boil gently for two hours. Remove the spice bag. Pack the rind in clean, hot sterile jars. Fill jars to top with hot sirup. Seal tightly. Process in waterbath canner for 10 minutes.

NEWS FOR THE YOUNG PEOPLE

Robert Holley, Royal Ambassador for the Chilton Association, announces that all R.A.'s wishing to attend camp, please be ready to leave on July 24th, from Thorsby Baptist Church at 8:00 A.M. (We are not sure of this time, but you may find out by calling Robert Holley at the Jemison Bus Station).

The rates for the camp for the week are $10.00 which includes registration fee, bedding and meals. Remember, boys, the date, July 24th.

You may write to Bill Ferrell, Box 870, Montgomery 2, Ala., by sending him your $1.00 fee and you will have a place already reserved for you when you get there.

FROM FERTILE SOIL SPRING GOOD HOMES

Auburn, Ala. — History indicates that prosperous, happy homes stem from fertile soil.

"Therefore," says S. R. Doughty, A.P.I. Extension Service soil conservationist, "good farming involves a program that will conserve and improve the soil. Such a program enlists the magic of grasses and legumes, good livestock, and skills in production and marketing."

He adds that July is a good time to plan for fall plantings of winter legumes, small grain, and legume-grass mixtures. Every possible acre should be planted this fall to control erosion, improve the soil, and provide grazing and hay for livestock. Now is the time to complete arrangements for seed and fertilizers that will be needed to get winter grazing crops planted on time.

The local county agent has complete information on planning for and seeding winter grazing crops.

GET READY FOR FALL IRISH POTATO CROP

A fall Irish potato patch and a good fall garden are two ways to reduce the need for bought food.

J. C. Ford, A.P.I. Extension Service garden specialist, states that land for potatoes should be plowed as soon as possible so it will be in good condition for planting.

"Late July in North Alabama and early August in Central Alabama are the best planting dates," adds the specialist. "Bliss Triumph, Sebago and Cobbler are good varieties to plant. However, in North Alabama it may be better to plant Bliss Triumph and Sebago since they mature earlier than the Cobbler variety."

CARE AND HANDLING OF FARM MACHINERY

If farm machines are made reasonably accessible, repair jobs stand a much better chance of being done.

J. T. Gaillard. A.P.I. Extension Service specialist in farm mechanization, recommends that implements be set so they will not tip over. Awkward parts, such as cutterbars and tongues, should be removed or safely raised up. Also, to facilitate adjustments and repair on direct connected implements, separate units should be laid out approximately in their normal operating position.

"It is especially important to keep in mind any jobs lined up at the end of a season," says Gaillard. "In other words, if it is necessary to crowd a machine into a far corner, it may be well to take off any parts needing attention and place them where they can be easily reached."

ALABAMA A LEADER IN MILK INDUSTRY

Auburn, Ala. — Alabama's milk industry is a tremendous factor in the health and economic progress of the state, according to new figures developed by the Milk Industry Foundation.

The industry's importance to the state is graphically illustrated by Alabama's 371,000 milch cows, which were valued at $50,310,000 in 1949 and produced 639,000,000 quarts of milk during the year.

J. R. Parrish, A.P.I. Extension Service dairy specialist, points out that Alabama dairy farmers received a total of $26,332,000 in cash income from milk in 1949. Cheese production of 3,820,000 pounds and 6,825,000 gallons of ice cream plus other dairy products swell the tremendous total which the milk industry adds to the state's wealth.

ALABAMA HIGHLIGHTS

Marion was first named Muckle Ridge, because Michael Muckle built a cabin near the present site of the Perry County Courthouse in 1817. The name was later changed to honor Francis Marion, the 'Swamp Fox' of the Revolutionary War.

Magnolia Grove, the Richmond Pearson Hobson home in Greensboro, houses the name plate off the MERRIMAC, which was sunk by the daring exploits of young Hobson during the Spanish American War.

By the mid-1830's the Chattahooche River had become a main artery of transportation in the south. Down it flowed great amounts of cotton being exported from the rich red-clay cotton section around Eufaula. Irwinton alone was shipping 5,000 bales annually to New York and Liverpool.

There'll be Peaches and "Peaches" in Chilton

I read in a Chilton County paper where they're going to have the annual Peach Festival next Wednesday, with the slogan, "Chilton County Peaches are Tops."

Now there was a lot of writing in that article, but it was about different peaches. It mentioned "blondes, brunettes, brownettes and redheads" — contestants for Festival Queen—and a big parade, with floats and bands, representing Clanton, Thorsby, Jemison, Maplesville and Verbena.

Chilton County peaches are the finest that grow on trees, without bowing to Georgia! And Chilton County "peaches" are as pretty as they come. So anyway you take it, that slogan is right—"Chilton County Peaches Are Tops!"

From where I sit, it'll be wellworth your time, and your gasoline, to drop over to Chilton County for the Festival. Rubbing shoulders with folks in other counties is like talking to neighbors over the backyard fence. It helps you see things as they do. And helps them understand your preferences.

TEST FOR FIRMNESS IN HEAD OF LETTUCE

Firmness in a head of lettuce can be checked by pressing the core at the root end of the head, according to Mary Hulsey, A.P.I., Extension Service nutritionist.

She explains that if the core is solid, the head is too.

Some summer food jobs can be done to best advantage under running water. To prevent tears, peel onions under water. A quick and easy way to wash a head of lettuce and separate the leaves at the same time is to cut out the white core or stem at the base of head and then let the water flow in. The same method may be used to help wash and separate celery stalks.

In selecting cereals, keep in mind that although the ready-to-serve kinds are convenient, the price per serving is much higher than the kinds of cereals that require cooking. Keep in mind that wholegrain and enriched cereals are more nutritious than the refined grain products.

GRASSHOPPERS ARE DESTROYING CROPS IN CHILTON COUNTY

Like some other counties in the State Chilton County has been attacked by grasshoppers. Tuesday morning hordes of the small pests were in a corn field just East of the Dennis property on Temple Road. Crops had been, and were being, destroyed completely.

M. R. Glasscock, county agent, stated that a poison (chlordane) was being used to stop the pests but only a few isolated cases had been reported to him and these so recently that results of the poisoning could not yet be determined.

It seems that the grasshoppers, which are green in color with red faces, eat anything they happen to light on, whether it be a vine, vegetable, weed or small tree or bush.

NAVAL RESERVES ASKED TO VOLUNTEER

The Navy Department is asking for volunteers from the Naval Reserve for active duty for six months or, if preferred, for one year.

EDUCATION BILL SIGNED BY FOLSOM

Aftr today your child will have to be six years old before October 1st, or else it will not be able to enter school until next year.

The Education Bill was signed by the Governor Tuesday. The 1947 Legislature made it possible for a child who would not be six years old until the following January, enter school the fall term preceding his birthday. This, according to school officials, made a burden on the teachers and the recent legislature passed the bill changing the date back to October 1.

NADA Area Chairman

L. A. LAMBERT

Mr. L. A. Lambert, local Chrysler and Plymouth dealer, has been appointed Area Chairman for the National Automobile Dealers Association to stimulate active participation in the Association's national programs throughout Chilton County.

Mr. Lambert was selected as Area Chairman by a committee of NADA and District Eight officials. The appointment was announced by Fred L. Haller, the National Association's Director for Alabama.

NADA is the largest retail trade association in the country with a membership of more than 32,000 new automobile and new truck dealers. The National organization is widely known for its sponsorship of highway safety and other public interest programs and its policy of supporting the highest standards and ethics of retail automobile merchandising.

Thousands Flock To Enjoy '50 Peach Festival Program

Clanton was "bursting at the seams" Wednesday when her citizens and their visitors celebrated the fourth annual Chilton County Peach Festival.

The weather was hot but it didn't hinder the enthusiasm and expectancy of the young and old and middle aged that packed into the local City Park to see the water pageant, hear the speeches, eat the barbecue, and enjoy themselves in general and to advertise Chilton County and her peaches to the world.

Local speakers as well as the visiting orators did themselves proud and the "peach auction" was a highlight of the occasion. Mr. Tom McCord of Montgomery acted as auctioneer.

During the afternoon a baseball game was played between Clanton and Jemison. In the evening a variety program was presented at the Park which climaxed the day's festivities.

Most attendants said it was Chilton County's best Peach Festival.

ASKS ASSIGNMENT TO KOREA AREA

Two young men from Chilton County have qualified for enlistment in the Regular Army.

They are Thomas E. Skidmore of Clanton and Earl C. Davis of Jemison.

Private Davis previously served with the 3435th Ordnance Medical Maintenance Company. Private Skidmore served with the U. S. Navy. He has requested assignment in the Far East Command.

They were enlisted at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Main Station in Birmingham, Ala.

MACEDONIA — BEAT 11

There will be a cemetery cleaning at Macedonia, Beat 11, Friday, July 28th. Everyone come out and help clean it off. Our homecoming will be held on Sunday, July 30th. Our revival will start at this time with Revs Jadie Ellison and Buck Littleton to do the preaching. So everyone come, bring your dinner and spend the day with us. There will be singing in the afternoon. All singers and lovers of music are invited to come. — V. G. Smith.

CLANTON DROPS TWO; HOMEWOOD HERE SUNDAY

Homewood, in the Birmingham District, will play at the local park Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Wednesday night the locals play Holtville. The game starts at 7:30. This will be a rubber between the two teams as each holds a win over the other.

Clanton lost to Verbena and Holtville the past week, landing in the win column only once when they defeated Thorsby.

SOUTHERN FURNITURE AND RUG SHOWING AT HIGH POINT. S. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrison of the Morrison's Furniture Company visited the Southern Furniture market at High Point last week. Mr. Morrison reports that buying seemed to be heavy and deliveries of bed room furniture in the medium price bracket was being promised in most cases for September and October. Some factories were sold so far ahead they were not even taking orders. The trend was toward modern design in bed room furniture to retail around two hundred dollars.

Living room furniture was moving at a steady pace with promotional numbers in tapestry and plastics being the leader. Deliveries on these were from 30 to 60 days. Certain of the manufacturers are now giving the stores a guarantee on plastic suites against ripping at the seams. Many new fabrics were shown in solid and floral patterns. Mohair suites were not shown much due to the increased price of the covering.

Mr. Morrison states that he shopped the market and found good buys in bed room, living room, kitchen and odd pieces for the home. New pieces for the home were ordered and shipment will begin immediately on some of the items. Others are scheduled all along as far as into November.

For the first few days there did not seem to be many speculative buyers trying to stock pile on account of the Korean situation. Prices were slightly advanced on quality merchandise and the talk was for another advance from 4 to 10 per cent by the January market

Due to the extra ten-floor building added to the market (at a cost of $1,000,000.00) the buyers were able to see more factory displays than ever before, which increased the volume of business and the number of buyers attending the market to an all time high.

The High Point market is an asset to the South and is one of the major furniture markets of the nation. Strategically located in North Carolina, it is convenient to the many and great furniture manufacturers. In days gone by the old saying, "Sleepy Time Down South" might have been true but today it is definitely not the case as our Southern Furniture Factories and Textile Mills are in numerous cases working around the clock. Mr. and Mrs. Morrison say it is thrilling to drive through the Carolinas and observe such activity made possible by the many industries. If the international situation does not dispense with the winter market in January Mr. and Mrs. Morrison expect to bring another report on the furniture situation at that time.

WELCOME CORNER

We are so sorry that we failed to mention the new Methodist pastor, the Rev. J. M. McKinney, Mrs. McKinney and their sons, Paul and Fred, in our "Welcome Corner" last week; no excuse, just an oversight on our part. 'An honest confession is good for the soul."

Mr. and Mrs. George Waite have moved here from out on Higgins Ferry Road. They are now making their home in the Ben Margolis apartment house. Mr. Waite is employed at the A. & P. Store.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Freeman and small sons, Rodney and Gregory, who have been living in Cullman, are now at home in the Margolis Apartment.

Mr. Freeman is employed at the David Lee Store.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Apperson and daughter, Jean, are making their home at 1705 Glendale Drive. They formerly lived in Birmingham. Mr. Apperson is connected with the Standard Oil Company.

Homecoming

That homecoming at Rocky Mount the fifth Sunday should be well attended. We have heard much about it and the old members are counting heavily on the biggest homecoming in the church's history.

There will be big rumblings along the Coosa River next Wednesday afternoon. County employees are having a picnic down there and inviting all the Democratic candidates in the November Election as their guests. Between fish stories and politician stories, the cool river breeze will have to give way to some hot air we are afraid.

Rough All Over

A Citizens' Committee for Public Schools has asked the Dallas School Board for "specific action" to meet emergency needs of the elementary classes there.

The Committee, it seems, have presented "facts and figures" to show the people and the others interested just what had to be done and could be done.

Like conditions exist all over the country. It is not confined to the north, east, west or south. The entire 48 States are guilty of neglecting to keep pace with the fast growing population of our elementary schools.

The Times-Journal says: "Now that facts and figures have been presented, we think the taxpayers of Selma will respond, for they know that educational needs are pressing and have been reluctant to act chiefly because nobody seemed willing to furnish an adequate guage of the kind of action necessary."

Maybe Chilton County needs the same kind of action.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

Ride 'em cowboy. Yes sir, Ben Studdard has a cow. And according to Ben, that was the meanest cow that ever dragged a rope. We say "was" because the day after the last incident, the cow was "under new management." But to start the last incident the old heifer broke away by jumping over a five-foot fence. She undoubtedly must have been playing the "cow jumps over the moon," or something. Anyway, Ben got out his horse and took-off after the cow. After several attempts with the rope he finally accidently lassoed the critter. So, he jumped off his horse. It was at that exact moment that old "bossie" decided to take-off again. Without warning she did that very thing with Ben on the other end of the rope and holding on for dear life. He carries a pretty rope burn across his hand to prove the whole story. But that wasn't the end. After trying to drag him to death she came back and proceeded to work him over with her horns and did give him a bad ankle. It's all swollen now as a result. Too, he carries a pretty engraved likeness of the cow's horn tip in the back of his hand where she playfully gored him. It was an exciting day and Ben hasn't been able to look a glass of milk in the face since.

We husbands sure do get in a rut. The other day Mrs. Haywood gave her husband a list of things she would need during the Bible School that will start at the Methodist Church the 14th day of August. He was instructed to bring the list to town and turn it over to the lady who was in charge of ordering the supplies needed for the Vacation Bible School. Upon reaching town Mr. Haywood found the list of items in his pocket and spent the morning going from store to store trying to buy one each of the items listed. The last item on the list was some kind of "glaze" something, so not being able to fine anything in town that was glazed he bought a roll of "guaze," and returned home. He shouldn't feel to bad about the whole thing though. We stay in the dog house so much when the madam let's us out for a while we always stand on our hind legs and bark out thanks. It's just one of those things that go along with getting along with wimmin'.

It isn't true that one of our big tomato raisers tried to raise stewed tomatoes by pouring alcohol on the vines.

Going on our vacation the last of this week. Next week your Chilton County News will be under the direction of the hired hands. Vernon Payne will take care of the editorial page and the superintendening in general. Mrs. Charles Cox will as usual write the social items and copy for this column. Mrs. Mamye Higgins will take care of the church news, the social events, the club calendar, etc. Mr. Calvin Robinson will watch close the copy as it runs through the mill under his watchful eye at the linotype machine and do the editing job there. Curtis Seals, a newcomer to the force, will do his chores in the mechanical end. That is the set-up and we sincerely hope that they do not do too good a job as somebody might get the idea that we are not needed around here and give us the boot. So, will see you the week after next. Bye, now.

Too close a trim of head vegetables, such as cabbage, lettuce, broccoli, cauliflower, and celery, means a loss of the part that is usually richest in minerals and vitamins. The green outside leaves of cabbage and lettuce contain much more calcium and iron than the pale center.

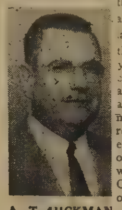
Revival Season

We have come to another revival season here in Alabama and throughout the Southland. The crops have been laid by, the fruit trees are bending low with their fruit, watermelons are ripe and all kinds of good eats. It is a season for special occasions. Family reunions are being held and the all-day singings are drawing their largest crowds. At this season of the year all rural churches put forth an effort to enlist and welcome new members, and to revive the spiritual enthusiasms of the old members. The winning of souls to Christ is the object of today.



A. T. HICKMAN

It is inspiring and uplifting to any one and every one to attend these summer time revivals. See the shining faces of old-time Christians; hear the songs of praise sung to Almighty God. The pastors and evangelists preaching their soul stirring sermons, warning the sinners to turn to God, prepare to meet their Creator, repent and be baptized for the remission of their sins.

This is a characteristic of the Protestant religion. For in other religions you do not find such periodic evangelism which comes to a white heat at this season of the year, but you do find it among almost all Protestant churches — the Assemblies of God, the Church of God, the Baptist and the Methodist, and others of like precious faith.

In some of these revivals, emotionalism runs pretty high, but why not? Some may be critical toward this spiritual emotionalism. But there is a proper emotional content in the Salvation of our Lord. When the publican stood afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes to heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, "God be merciful to me a sinner." He was filled with emotion. Zacchaeus came down out of the tree, and received Christ joyfully. He too, was filled with emotion. The Ethiopian eunuch was baptized by Phillip and went on his way rejoicing. His emotionalism ran high. And so did the Philippian jailer. He believed in the name of Jesus Christ and was baptized, and rejoiced, believing in God with all his house.

Friend, attend the revival nearest your home, and the one held at the church of your choice. These revivals are the feeders of the religious faith in our nation, and are the foundation of wholesome living. Temple Church is holding it's 49th annual summer revival. Come and be with us, get all of this spiritual revival fire possible in your soul. Every one needs it.

HEADACHES

Headache is a symptom—not a disease. There are about forty-seven different types of headaches, all painful and all warnings of some disturbance in the body. There is the frontal headache associated with sinusitis or neuralgia, the pain on one side of the head identified with eye strain. Then there is the pain on the top of the head, referred to as vertex headache and commonly attributed to some form of hysteria, caused by emotional conflict.

Headaches also stem from overeating, overdrinking, oversmoking, constipation, fatigue, insommia poor ventilation, noise, exposure to sun or inhalation of poisonous fumes.

Headache caused by emotional disturbances, such as worry or a feeling of inferiority or inadequacy, is usually described as a feeling of pressure as if the sufferer were carrying a weight on top of the head. Some patients will mention a loss of interest in things about them, dizziness and fatigue. In this patient, psychiatric assistance may be needed.

In the headache associated with high blood pressure, the pain is usually in the back of the head and is increased by sneezing, straining and bending. When the pressure of the blood is lowered, the headache usually disappears.

The migraine or sick headache is one of the most distressing; it is characterized by severe pain, usually on one side, and lasts from a few minutes to ten or fifteen days. This type of headache is usually preceded by a sensation of flashing light and bright rays that "zigzag" before the eyes. This condition also seems to appear in women more often than in men.

Headaches are painful and irritating. It cannot be emphasized too strongly that they are nature's warning to some other condition that needs attention. A competent doctor of medicine should be the judge, and a thorough physical examination is indicated to trace the source of the disturbance.

How Can I?

(By Anne Ashley)

Q. How can I remove mildew?

A. If the spots are small, potassium permanganate and oxalic acid will remove them. If the entire article is mildewed, try bleaching it in one cup of Javelle to one quarter of water for 10 minutes; then wash and rinse thoroughly.

Q. How can I test metal buttons?

A. Metal buttons can be tested with a small magnet. If the button can be picked up by the magnet it is an indication that it will rust when washed.

Q. How can I sweeten a soured sponge?

A. Rub a fresh lemon thoroughly into the sponge and then rinse several times in lukewarm water. It will become as sweet as when new.

Q. How can I remove dandruff from the scalp?

A. A good remedy is to rub pure olive oil thoroughly into the scalp every night before retiring. Also shampoo the hair every two weeks, and rinse well in cold water.

Q. How can I enclose postage stamps with a letter if there is no oiled paper at hand in which to wrap them?

A. Attach them by a small spot in the center of the stamp, leaving the glue around the edges untouched.

Q. How can I improve the flavor of coffee?

A. Try sprinkling a little salt on the bottom of the coffee pot before the coffee is put in.

Q. How can I store eggs?

A. Eggs can be packed for keeping as follows: Dip the eggs in a solution of two ounces gum arabic to a pint of cold water. Let them dry, and then pack in powdered, well-burned charcoal.

Q. How can I prevent new tinware from rusting?

A. Rub the new tin vessel thoroughly with lard; then heat it in the oven, before using it, and it will never rust.

Q. How can I remove the odor of paraffin from a dish or plate?

A. By rubbing it thoroughly with vinegar.

Q. How can I remove small spots from white ties, gloves, jabots, and similar articles?

A. Keep a little French chalk on hand for this purpose. Rub a little chalk on the spot, allow it to remain for a day or two, then brush off.

Q. How can I keep gold teeth clean?

A. One of the best ways is to rub the teeth with a mixture of prepared chalk and powedered pumice, sprinkled on the toothbrush.

Fin-Fan Items

Picnickers and fishermen were out in full force during the past week end. Boats and cabins were as scarce as hens teeth and a great number of would be boatmen had to resort to picknicking and hiking. Some of the favorite swimming areas were full to capacity during the Fourth of this month. The boat dock operators did a swell job of taking care of the huge crowds and promise to be even better equipped next season.

There are several new private recreational cottages nearing completion on the Alabama Power Company's beautiful Lake Mitchell. Dr. Geo. W. Warrick, Birmingham, and Mr. J. Levert Andrews, also of Birmingham, are building dream houses deluxe. Mr. Ed Propst, Clanton, is underway with his "pipe dream" after much planning and study. Mr. J. C. Page, Clanton, hasn't broken ground yet, but has the plans for something ultra modern in a rustic type cottage. Others are busy building and touching up the rough spots to help make the Coosa Lakes the "Show Place" and "Play Ground" of Central Alabama.

The most desirable lots are being leased very rapidly and those interested in owning a lake shore dwelling on Lakes Jordan, Mitchell or Lay should contact the Land Department, Alabama Power Company, Birmingham, Ala., or this office at its new location, Mullins & Scott Building, P.O. Box 255, Clanton, Ala.

STATE OF ALABAMA)
STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTM'T) MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA)

WHEREAS, we, Court of County Commissioners, have entered into a Contract with the State of Alabama, State Highway Department for the construction of SACP, Project No. 307-B in Chilton County; and WHEREAS, in consideration of certain conveniences, which would accrue to us, we desire that certain changes in plans be made, namely: Amend said Project Contract which bears date of April 28, 1950, to provide as follows: All construction items, which are included in the estimate of cost designated as F. A. S. Contract Work, shall be transferred to the estimate of cost designated as SACP work. Said amendment would disallow the use of Federal Aid Funds for constructing any part of the project.

NOW THEREFORE, we the Court of County Commissioners hereby agree to said Supplemental Agreement consisting of the above change in plans, and agree that this Supplemental Agreement is hereby made a part of the Original Contract, and that the Original Contract is in full force and effect except insofar as it might be modified by this Supplemental Agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, THE COUNTY OF CHILTON has caused these presents to be executed by W. L. Parrish, Chairman of Court and A. P. Villadsen, Assistant Highway Director, has hereto set his hand and seal this the day and year above written.

Tonight, stop and think how much the telephone meant to you today. You made a quick call to the druggist, instead of a hot, tiresome trip . . . you called the repair man about the refrigerator before all the food spoiled . . . you made a dozen other calls that saved you time, effort, money. Yes, at day's end you feel the difference . . . and you know that telephone service is one of your biggest helpers—one of your biggest bargains. Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company.

ON THE FARM TRAINING

Alford Calvin Pate of the Mars Hill Class has the right attitude toward making a success of his farm training.

Pate was enrolled February 1, 1950. He owns a 160-acre farm with about 40 acres in cultivation. This place was badly eroded at the beginning of his training. He has carried out soil erosion controls, by planting 2 acres of kudzu, using seed, building and maintaining terraces and sowing 2 acres of sericea. These crops will not only help to control erosion, but will furnish grazing and hay for his livestock. He also plans to build meadow strips where needed next spring.

Pate has for his feed crops 14 acres of corn, 2 acres of soybeans, and 1 acre of grain sorghum. He will have fall and winter grazing for all his livestock. He has for his livestock enterprise an OIC sow. He will use some of the 14 acres of corn plus green grazing to top out the litter.

For cash crops he has 1-2 acre of bunch beans, and 1-2 acre of pole beans. He plans to have a fall cash crop of turnip green and collards.

Pate quotes "I made a living on the farm before I started drawing these checks." He also says, "If my neighbors can make a living on the farm, I can also, and use most of these checks to buy modern farm equipment, and build up my farm. I also hope to build a new house with modern conveniences before my training ends.

With this attitude I'll say his money is being used to a good advantage. What do you think?

ADJUST IRONING BOARD FOR BETTER PRESSING

The ironing board should be the correct height for comfort and padded to give it a smooth, even, hard surface, according to Levice Ellis, A.P.I. Extension Service clothing specialist.

She suggests that the padding may be cotton flannel, old blankets, or sheets without wrinkles or uneven places in the padded surface. Each ironing board should have several covers. They will give better service if laundered as often as necessary.

"A piece of asbestos cut to fit the broad end of the ironing board and fastened with thumb tacks will prevent scorching the cover," adds Miss Ellis.

OILED DUSTCLOTHS NOT GOOD ON WAX

Auburn, Ala.—Oiled dustclothes and oiled mops pick up dust but should never be used on waxed surfaces.

Alice Peavy, A.P.I. Extension Service home management specialist, explains that an oiled cloth used on furniture finished with wax makes the wax sticky and dingy. For dusting waxed furniture, use either a clean, soft, lintless cloth; dusting mitt; or the round brush attachment of a vacuum cleaner. After dusting, rub the furniture with the grain of the wood to keep the surface shining.

"Furniture may need re-waxing once or twice a year, depending on how much it is used," says the specialist. "If paste wax is used, place a small dab of wax between several layers of cheesecloth and rub furniture with a circular motion. Let the wax dry a few minutes and then polish briskly following the grain of the wood. If liquid wax is used, apply with a soft cloth, let dry a few minutes, and then polish. Always polish before the wax becomes hard."

CORN PRODUCTS ARE IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Auburn, Ala. — The A.P.I. Extension Service is sponsoring a corn meal enrichment and sanitation program that will help corn growers and grist millers provide customers with better products.

"There is a need," says John P. Bell, A.P.I. Extension Service corn products marketing specialist, "for improved methods of handling corn that is to be marketed. Such methods include harvesting corn at the proper time and storing it in buildings where damage and contamination from insects, rodents, and moisture can be prevented."

He reveals that corn damaged by weather or poor storage conditions is often used for making corn meal. Besides having an objectionable color, such corn may also be off-flavor to the point where it is not satisfactory for bread making.

The corn meal enrichment program has been in operation for more than two years, and 493 Alabama grist mills are equipped to enrich the meal they grind. At present, county and home demonstration agents report that a number of farmers are building corn storage facilities to prevent weevil and rodent damage to their grain.

All Alabama corn growers and grist millers can obtain the latest scientific information on growing and marketing corn from the local county or home demonstration agent.

TURKEY PROJECTS ON ALABAMA FARMS

Over 2,000 turkeys are being grown out on seven Elmore County farms as Extension Service demonstrations.

John Weeks, A.P.I. Extension Service poultry specialist, states that the turkey growers taking part in the work have found turkeys to be a good investment.

SURFACE PROTECTION OF FARM EQUIPMENT

Auburn, Ala. — Surface protection is a very important part of the farm machinery storage program, according to J. T. Gaillard, A.P.I. Extension Service farm mechanization specialist.

He urges that farmers see that implements taken out of service are fairly clean inside and out. In order to avoid absorption of moisture during the storage period it is especially important to dislodge and wash out or sweep out all remnants of fertilizer and grain accumulations of litter and manure, and any weeds or trash wrapped around axles and frame members.

"As soon as the machine is thoroughly dry" says Gaillard "an adequate surface cleaning should be given to all parts which have lost their paint or varnish. After this is done oil is easily applied and often would be a fair coverage, but it is usually much more satisfactory to cleanse the parts with kerosene, allow them to dry, and then paint or varnish the surface. Warm, raw linseed oil should be applied to wooden parts, such as binder rollers and pittmans."

NATURAL DEPRESSIONS MAKE GOOD WATERWAYS

During heavy rains more water falls on nearly all cropland than can be held by the best crop rotations, contour farming, or even good terraces.

"Unless a safe waterway is provided," warns S. R. Doughty, A.P.I. Extension Service soil conservationist, "a gully will result. Therefore, it is easiest and cheapest to use natural depressions for grass waterways.

D. H. I. A.

Dairy herd improvement association work was started in Alabama two years ago to help dairymen get accurate records on cows and do a better all-around job with their dairy business. To date, 11 associations have been organized covering 19 counties. Several other counties will be organized this fall.

PASTURE IRRIGATION

One should figure pasture water needs at about one and one-half inches of water for each 10 to 15 days. If an inch of rain falls during this time, of course only about one-half inch of additional water will be needed. If no rain falls for a couple of weeks, add the full one and one-half inches by means of sprinklers or any other form of irrigation available.

MILK PRODUCTION

Every month since mid-1948, production of milk per cow has set a new record.

WOOL

At their annual sale in Citronelle, June 9th, the South Alabama Wool Growers' Association sold about 30,000 pounds of wool for the highest price since World War 1.

PASTURE PLANNING

One of the big things right now is to be sure that land will be available to seed to winter pasture crops.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

S. M. Tatum, Tom Childress, Joseph G. Lansford, Dave Hunter, Geo. Jarrell, E. J. Mitchell and J. W. Littleton have had complete soil and water conservation plans made on their farms recently. These soil and water conservation plans were made in cooperation with the North Central Soil Conservation District.

The soil is our greatest asset. The above farmers are planning for the future by saving their soil now.

* * *

If you are planning to plant some fescue and clover this fall the land should be prepared now. Turn land, disk or harrow enough to control weeds and conserve moisture until the planting date. The planting should be made about the first of September. Lime and liberal amounts of fertilizer should be used the first year.

* * *

J. R. Bryant, Isabella, has some kudzu that was sown broadcast. Although this wasn't an approved practice, it is doing very good. The dry weather we have had has hurt it some though.

* * *

Joe H. Johnson planted several wildlife borders last week. He planted them in partridge peas and lespedeza bicolor. These are two of the best plants to grow quail food that we know of.

* * *

Mr. H. M. Kelley is planting sericea lespedeza on reseeding crimson clover. The clover was planted last fall and grazed all winter. This spring was allowed to make seed. The land was then disked and the sericea sown. The crimson clover will volunteer back this fall. Thus he will have both summer and winter grazing on the same land.

WORKSHOP FOR SUPERINTENDENTS AT AUBURN JULY 24th

Auburn, Ala. — A workshop for county and city superintendents of education has been called by Dr. A. R. Meadows, state superintendent of education, to be held at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute July 24-27.

The meeting will get underway at 2 p.m. Monday in Langdon Hall. Special participant on the program will be W. J. Terry, of Greensboro, superintendent nominate of state education.

T. H. Kirby, superintendent of Opelika school, and chairman of the Executive Committee of the Association of School Administrators, is working with Dr. Meadows to complete the plans for the program. The Executive Committees of the state's Secondary Principals, Elementary Principals, and Classroom Teachers have been invited to attend. President of the Secondary Principals is W. M. Eddins, Greenville; of the Elementary Principals, Raymond D. Hurlbert, Birmingham; and Classroom Teachers, Mrs. Reubin Self, Jacksonville.

Special committee meetings will be held on finance, school accounting, certification and teacher training, school lunch, and teacher tenure. The chairmen and co-chairmen of the committees follow: R. E. Moore, Cullman, J. W. Letson, Bessemer, finance; J. H. Hadley, Tuscaloosa, Edward Anderson, Huntsville, school accounting; Frazer Banks, Birmingham, H. G. Greer, Monroeville, certification and teacher training; I. F. Simmons, Birmingham, C. M. Dannelly, Montgomery, school lunch; and F. H. Echols, Huntsville, C. M. Brewster, Sheffield, teacher tenure.

20 TO BE CALLED FROM CHILTON COUNTY IN AUGUST

Colonel Ernest W. Howell, State Director of Selective Service, has announced that National Headquarters, Selective Service System, Washington, D.C., has given Alabama a quota of 422 men to be inducted during the month of September 1950. In order for the 72 local boards throughout the State of Alabama to meet their respective county quotas, some 2500 registrants will be called for preinduction physical examination during the month of August.

State Headquarters of Selective Service has allocated a quota of 20 men to be called from Chilton County for preinduction physical examination during the month of August. The local board of this county is located in the Upchurch Building, 118½ Seventh St., Clanton, Ala. Mrs. Zora Guy Smith is the local board clerk and is on duty Monday through Friday of each week. It is expected that calls to individuals affected for the preinduction physical examination will be sent out from the board at an early date.

The State Director also announced that of the Alabama quota of 422 men to be inducted in September, three will be called for induction from Chilton County.

WORK FOR M.A. AT MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE

Hattiesburg, Miss. — Carey E. Kelley, of Clanton, Ala., is working toward the Master of Arts degree at Mississippi Southern College. He is among the 530 students at MSC who are enrolled in the Graduate Division this summer. Mr. Kelley is specializing in physical education.

SCHOLARSHIP CAN BE WON BY LOCAL FARM BOY

Some outstanding farm boy and high school graduate of this county may be one of the successful candidates for $150 Sears Roebuck scholarships to Auburn next fall.

Twelve scholarships will be awarded deserving Alabama high school graduates of high scholastic standing who desire college training in agriculture, according to an announcement by Dr. E. V. Smith, associate dean of A.P.I. School of Agriculture.

Application forms and detailed information about the awards may be obtained from the county agent, assistant county agent, or vocational agriculture teachers in the county.

The application for the scholarship must be mailed to Dr. E. V. Smith, A.P.I. School of Agriculture, Auburn, Alabama, before August 15. The awards will be made September 1.

The scholarships, Dr. Smith said, are awarded to boys who prove to be in need of some help, who have the best scholastic records, and who show evidence of leadership qualities.

The scholarships are given by Sears, Roebuck and Company to help rural boys get a start in college, and to contribute to the training of future agricultural leaders. This plan of helping worthy freshmen was begun at Auburn in 1937. A total of 158 young men have been assisted in getting a start in the School of Agriculture at Alabama Polytechnic Institute.

Fishing conditions have greatly improved on the Coosa Lakes even though entries in the Alabama Power Company Fishing Contest have been few. During the past week W. D. Culp's Store, Lay Dam Road, weighed in one very nice catch made by Ralph Jones. Mr. Jones used a rod, reel and a live minnow on Lake Mitchell to snag his 3-pound 9-ounce Smallmouth Bass. Other good catches were reported but were not entered in the contest.

Lake Lay is reported clear and prospects better than fair. Fish striking best at this time are Bream, Smallmouth Bass and Drum. Willow flies, worms and live minnows are the best baits.

Lake Mitchell, clear and prospects are reported good. White Lake Bass, Bream and Drum are striking best. Flies, popping bugs, worms and minnows offer best results. Good locations are Walnut, Hatchet and Pennymotley Creeks.

Lake Jordan is clear and offers good prospects. White Lake Bass, Largemouth Bass and Bream are striking best. Try white or yellow flies, popping bugs, live minnows, worms and crickets for best results.

Safety Comment of the Day: Obey bad weather warnings. Don't stay out at a dangerous distance after nature's radio warns you to get under way for home. A black squall (thunder shower) can always be dangerous.—"Safe Outboarding."

Delicate flavored honey is on the list of plentifuls and is a good buy. Spread it on toast, waffles, muffins, pancakes and other hot breads. You may like it in salad dressings, custards and puddings. Try honey in making candied vegetables and for glazing them. It also adds flavor to jellies, jams, fruits and cereals.

The attendance for both services here was good. You will be blessed greatly by obeying God's Word.

Plans to start the Vacation Bible School is set for Monday morning, July 24th, at 8:00 a.m. Rev. Atcheson will get the material for the teachers this week. We hope this will be the greatest Bible School this church has ever had. Through your prayers, cooperation and presence this will be possible. The school will run five days —Monday through Friday.

Everyone continue to pray for the revival services that we are looking forward to in the future. The date has been set for it to begin the third Sunday in August. Rev. Burks of Thorsby will be the helper. We are fortunate to have such a wonderful man of God to help us. We feel it is going to be a great one and will never be forgotten. Make your plans to attend every service. You will be greatly blessed.

Prayer service begins here each Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m. Mr. Woodie Rasberry is taking charge of the services while Rev. Atcheson is busy in his evangelistic work. These services are growing and are being a great help to our church and community. Your presence will help. Please be present and bring your Bible.

Mrs. Hoore Underwood of Birmingham is spending her vacation week with her mother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ermon Rasberry and boys.

Miss ~~Mary Oates~~ has returned ~~home~~ from her visit in Selma. She reports having a nice trip while visiting Mr. and Mrs. Arliss Harris and Jimmy.

Miss Nell Hayes is visiting friends and relatives in Maplesville this week. We hope she has a nice visit.

Miss Peggy Glass spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Woodie Rasberry and family.

Mr. Hansel Rasberry spent a while in Selma with Houre Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Ermon Rasberry and family visited Mrs. Easterling of Selma last week.

To be able to show God respect and thankfulness, we must attend church. There is a key verse we should all keep in mind, Samuel 12th chapter and the 24th verse. Your presence here Sunday will be a great help. This will be our regular preaching day. A large attendance will be expected.

The adult class has to honor the young people with a social this quarter. The young people prepared their lessons best and therefore received the largest number of points. The social will be Saturday night, July 22nd, at the home of Mr. Woodie Rasberry. Everyone remember it and be present. The Christian fellowship will help everyone.

4-H CLUB MEETINGS TO BE HELD

MAPLESVILLE NEWS

Church News—

The Vacation Bible School at the Baptist Church continues through this week. For the first week there was an average attendance of 87 per day despite three rainy days. The highest attendance one day was 101.

Commencement will be Friday night of this week at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

The revival at the Baptist Church will be August 6-11. Everyone remember to pray for this revival.

The regular weekly meeting of the W.M.U. of the Baptist Church was held at the church Monday. Mrs. H. M. Nix led with the devotional. Mrs. Rube Bearden, Mrs. Evie Cochran, Mrs. Sara Mitchell and Mrs. Willie Mathcock gave discussions on the mission work in Africa.

There was a great increase in the attendance last Sunday in the Baptist Sunday School. Come and bring the whole family.

Goings and Comings—

Mrs. Pearl Williams and daughter, Dixie, are visiting in Indiana with Mrs. Williams's daughter, Mrs. Helen Walls (Helen McGee), Major and Mrs. Walls are the proud parents of a baby girl.

Mr. Wilton Abbott of Montgomery is spending a few days here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buster Abbott.

One day last week Mr. J. V. Rodgers, an employee at Stremming Veneer Plant here, was carried to Dr. Day's Clinic from the plant in a critical condition. He was unconscious for quite a while. It was found that he had a stomach ailment. His friends are happy that he is improving.

Little Miss Linda Averett of Selma spent last week end here with her grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. Claud Averett.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gillespie visited with Rev. and Mrs. Clayton Gilbert at Hopewell Baptist Church, Tuscaloosa, Ala., last Sunday.

We are happy to report that Mrs. Sudie Graham after her operation in Birmingham Hospital last week is doing nicely and hopes to be able to return home this week.

Other good news is that Mrs. Ruth Hubbard expects to return home this week from St. Vincent's Hospital in Birmingham.

Rev. and Mrs. Claud Averett and Mr. and Mrs. Ace Sims attended revival services at Pilgrim's Rest Church last Sunday night.

Guests last Sunday in the home of Mrs. Union Chambers were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Avery Johnson of Bessemer, Ala.; her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson, and daughter, Gail, of Tuscaloosa, Ala.; another brother, Mr. and Mrs. Carden Johnson, and daughter, Jo Ann, of Ensley, Ala. Miss Annie Laura Chambers returned home with her uncle and family of Tuscaloosa for a few days visit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sims of Prattville spent last Saturday night here with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hathcock.

Mrs. John Deramus of Birmingham and Mrs. Ludie Sims of Ft. Meyers, Fla., spent last Saturday night here with Mrs. C. C. Cobern and attended the homecoming at Pilgrim's Rest Church Sunday.

Those attending the homecoming at Pilgrim's Rest Church from Maplesville Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hathcock, Mrs. Clyde Smitherman and son, Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Sims and daughter, Carrie Jean, and granddaughter, Beatrice Smitherman, Rev. Claud Averett, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Ace Sims and children.

Mrs. Charlie Dawson of near Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pendland also of Birmingham spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Dawson.

After seven weeks at Eglin Field, Fla., S-Sgt. Tommie Williams, en route to a Birmingham Air Base, stopped over in Maplesville one day last week to see his mother, Mrs. Jessie Gillespie.

Distinguished guests last week of Messrs. Joe and John Hicks were Mr. and Mrs. William B. Hicks of Syracuse, N. Y. Mr. Hicks was born and reared in Texas, went to New York and married a New York girl. Not being accustomed to the South, Mrs. Hicks was thrilled and amused at the Southern hospitality and raved over the Southern cooking. Mrs. Joe Hicks states that they were very pleasant and admirable guests. They are relatives of Messrs. Joe and John Hicks. While here they also visited Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cleveland (Inez Hicks) at Lawley, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gillespie visited with relatives in Birmingham last Saturday.

Mr. B. O. Glover and Mrs. Bobbie Saportas have recently had as their visitors, Mrs. George Buck and Mrs. Mary Glover Civk of Thomaston, Ala. Mrs. Saportas accompanied them to their home and spent a very pleasant week in their midst.

Welcome visitors to Maplesville Sunday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Garland Smith and son of Isabella Community.

Mr. Francis Johnson and Miss Ila Lou Lovelady visited Francis's mother, Mrs. Ruth Hubbard, in a Birmingham hospital Sunday.

Mrs. Sara Mitchell spent last week end with her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McAfee in Shoults Community. Margie and Bobby McAfee returned home with Mrs. Mitchell to spend this week.

All the people of Maplesville are deeply concerned and anxious for the safety and welfare of one of our home boys, Cpl. Bobby Hampton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hampton, who has been in Japan for some time, and probably with the fighting forces in Korea. Other Maplesville boys may soon have to go. We can only pray to God to take care of them and bring them safely home again.

As we had some who shirked their duty and loyalty to their country in the last war, we are very likely to have others who will do the same in this one. Some who were willing to stay at home in comfort, prospering, enjoying the freedom for which others were shedding their blood to keep this freedom. We wonder how these deserters and shirkers could face these dear boys who came back wounded and worn from the hardships of war.

Mr. Tom Kemp is ill at his home here. At this writing the extent of his illness is not known.

While Mrs. Daisy Littlejohn was away last week visiting her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Liddle, in Marvel, Ala., her brother, Mr. W. T. Blackwood, of Orlando, Fla., en route to Mississippi to visit relatives, stopped over here to see his sister, Mrs. Littlejohn. As he did not see her he stated that he would see her on his return to Orlando, Fla.

Mr. Douglas Averett and children of Stanton visited here last week with Rev. and Mrs. Claud Averett.

Miss Martha Chandler of Tampa, Fla., is spending this week here with Mrs. Cleve Sims and Mrs. Eugene Hathcock.

Mrs. W. W. Kelley went to Birmingham Monday of this week to see her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kelley.

Wonder how many read Judy Brown's article in one of our daily papers one day last week, entitled, "So many pitfalls in life we should avoid the big head." It was really worth reading. In part, she wrote, "It seems odd that in so many instances success does bring the big head as an apparently inevitable consequence. Not with the really big people of course for the qualities which enabled them to forge ahead have also kept them steady on their feet. But a little flare of success financially or socially often changes the individual though his good fortune may not be entirely due to himself, but sometimes to his good luck or circumstances which he had little to do.

It is a good idea to try to keep one's balance no matter what comes. Many prominent men who have had something like small fortunes, lost these, and had to begin all over again.

The majority of successful men in this country—that is, those who have been successful not only financially, but professionally, intellectually, and so on, have, as we say, come up in the ranks. That is, they had to start from the bottom and work their way up. They had many discouragements, some actual failures, which took away any enlarged ideas which they might have held as to their abilities, so that they do not conceive of themselves as altogether perfect. They know they have fallen down before and might again. This keeps their head size down to normal.

Life has a lot of pitfalls for humans but we all should have sense enough to avoid the big head. How true is this advice and everyone should read and held it.

We extend to Mrs. H. M. Nix our deepest sympathy in the loss of her brother, Dr. J. T. Potts, by sudden death July 13th, at his home in Eclectic, Ala. He is survived by his wife and three children and three grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. H. M. Nix, of Maplesville, and Mrs. Marie Nolan of Alexander City, Ala. Attending the funeral services and burial at Alexander City July 15th from Maplesville were Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Nix, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Clapp and Mrs. Annie Laura Potts.

As some one has said, "We should not grieve so much about those who die in the Lord, but should grieve over those living here in sin."

STANTON

Sympathy is extended the loved ones of Mr. Cornelison. Mr. Cornelison died here last week. Funeral and burial in Birmingham, Ala.

The L. S. Dickey's of Oak Ridge, Tenn., have returned to their home after a vacation spent with their parents, the C. E. Cagles.

Mrs. Charles Dawson of Fruithurst, Ala., spent last week with the Cagles.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Eaves are on an extended visit in Montana. They will visit while there, their daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Eaves Walker, and family. A son, Mr. Earnest Eaves, and his family.

Lt. and Mrs. Phil Hicks Hand and daughter, Juanita, of Ft. McClellan, Ala., spent the week end with their grandmother, Mrs. Mary Hicks.

Mrs. Morris Collins (Lucille Harris) and children are visiting Mr. Collins' parents in Macon, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Burnett visited Mrs. Burnett's sister, Vivian, in Fulton, Ala., one day last week.

Mrs. Alma Green, of Lawley, Ala., spent Sunday with her brother, Mr. L. O. Burnett, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hicks of Syracuse, N. Y., have been visiting relatives here. This was their first trip to Alabama and they were very impressed with our State. Mr. Hicks is a son of Mr. Joe Hicks who was a son of the Rev. I. M. Hicks. Several first cousins are living in this and adjoining communities. This was their first meeting and in fact the first they knew of these relatives. First cousins visited were: Mrs. Inez Cleveland of Lawley, Ala., Messrs. Joe and John Hicks of Maplesville, Ala., Mrs. Mary Smitherman of Maplesville, Ala., Miss Ruth Hicks of Stanton, Ala. This was a happy get-together for all. Much was learned of the different relatives that each did not know they had. They also visited daughters of the late Mr. Jack Hicks of Centreville, Ala., who are cousins also, Miss Glenice and Miss Vera Hicks.

Bowles

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Williams had as their guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. G. W. DeFreeze, Mrs. J. W. Nelson and children of Brighton, Mr. Joe Moore of Prattville, Mr. Roscoe and Mr. Wiley Frank Rawlinson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jackson and son, Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Williams and children and Mr. Lewis Gibson.

Among those attending the homecoming at Pilgrim's Rest Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Green and Geraldine, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Minns and children, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Chandler and sons, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Hathcock and Frances, Misses Willie Pearl Chandler and Ruby Williams, Myra Fay and Sara Ann Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Chandler and Sandra, Mr. Jesse Chandler and Gordon Ray Chandler.

Mrs. Lula Moore, Miss Willodean Moore and Mr. Joe Moore visited Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Spigener Sunday.

Shoults

We had a good attendance at church Sunday and Sunday night. We had lots absent, but hope they can be back next Sunday.

There will be a cemetery cleaning at Pleasant rove No. 2 next Thursday morning. If you have loved ones in this cemetery, please come and bring tools to work with.

Mrs. Lewis Mitchell and children spent the week end with Mr. Robert McAfee and family. Marjorie and Bobby McAfee returned home with them Monday to attend Bible School some this week.

This community was saddened by the funeral last week of Mr. Race Lawrence from Clanton.

Last Friday morning Mrs. Sallie Smith from near Lawley was buried at Pleasant rove No. 2 Cemetery.

Then came the sad news that the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Hutson Smith got hit by a truck last Friday afternoon at Powderly, Ala., near Birmingham. Our prayers go out for him and his parents. He has been unconscious ever since. The truck knocked him 112 feet which broke his leg and bruised him up.

Mrs. Robert McAfee and Mr. M. L. Smith from this community are both under the treatment of Dr. Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Latham and Dr. Lane and his family spent Sunday with Mr. Kay Latham at Marion Junction.

We are glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Reynard Hale move into our community. They moved in Mr. Malcolm Gilliland's house.

Mr. and Mrs. George Shoults spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun Garner Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wordie Smith visited Mr. Charlie Smith Sunday.

Miss Nora Crocker from Lawley has been visiting Artie Hathcock.

MOBILE

The first permanent white settlement on Alabama soil was made in 1702 by Sir Pierre Le Moyne Iberville and his followers. He built a fort at Twenty-Seven Mile Bluff on Mobile River. The Colony remained here until 1711 at which time it was moved to the present location of Mobile so that the Colony could protect the mouth of the Mississippi and watch the British on the Atlantic coast. Today, Mobile is proud of its old homes and churches and here is one of the most modern ports in the United States, with huge docks and storage warehouses.

His Punch is His Signature

Was on the train up to the City the other day and when the conductor came around, I asked him why their ticket punches make such odd-shaped holes in the ticket.

"Every conductor in the country has a different design for his punch," he tells me. "Some even show up a fellow's preferences. Now take mine. The hole it makes looks like a beer goblet."

Sure enough! Then he went on to say that the punch is just like the conductor's signature. Makes it easy to trace tickets . . . to check up if something happens.

From where I sit, even though your ticket is punched differently from mine, it still gets you where you're going. Just like people with their opinions. You might like coffee, another person, tea—and I'll settle for a temperate glass of beer. But what does it matter, so long as we respect the right of the other to have tastes and opinions? We're all trying to go in the same direction—towards a friendlier, more pleasant world for all of us.

Celebrates Birthday—

On Friday afternoon of last week Jean Owens celebrated her ninth birthday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Owens. Games were enjoyed during the afternoon. Each guest presented Jean with a gift which she got a thrill from when she opened the package.

The birthday cake was beautifully embossed in white, yellow and pink and held nine pink burning candles.

Late in the afternoon the birthday cake was cut and served with ice cream, punch and candy to the following guests: Lynn Lineberry, Patsy Owens, Sandra Searcy, Ernest Owens, Edwin Davis, Betty Gillespie, Billy and Bobby Miller, Judy Hughey, Mark VanHouten, Jack Owens and the honoree.

West End Baptist Church News—

Rev. R. E. Wilkins spoke to us at the morning service last Sunday, bringing us a wonderful message.

Rev. J. E. Franks, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Columbiana, brought the evening message, and I'm sure everyone who was there and heard Rev. Franks, received a blessing. We had two new additions to our church Sunday morning. They were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Billingsley. Mr. Billingsley came by letter, Mrs. Billingsley by baptism. We thank God for sending these fine young people to our church.

We were proud of our Sunday School Record Sunday. Let's try to make it even better this Sunday.

Circle One of the West End Baptist Church W.M.S. met with Mrs. I. J. Spiller on Monday afternoon of this week. Mrs. Tom Powell brought a very inspiring devotional, "My visit to the United Nations," taken from the Royal Service Magazine, was given by Mrs. Jesse Jones. Mrs. Spiller gave, "Blind Hanna Sees," which was from the World's Comrade Magazine.

After the program, old and new business were attended to. Community missions for the month was discussed which is a very worthwhile work.

The hostess served refreshments to Mesdames Tom Powell, E. H. Davis, Jesse Jones, A. P. Taylor and Mrs. Alex Arnold.

The meeting was dismissed with Mispah benediction.

Mrs. Jim Blair was hostess to Circle Two of the West End Baptist W.M.S. The devotional for the afternoon was given by Mrs. W. E. Owens, which was taken from the Book of Philippians, chapter four.

Those taking part on the program were Mrs. Jim Blair, Mrs. J. D. Williams and Mrs. Honrie Little.

After a brief business session light refreshments were served to Mrs. W. E. Owens, Mrs. J. D. Williams, Honrie Little and Mrs. Laura Royal.

Young Matrons Circle News—

The Young Matrons Circle of the Womens Society of Christian Service met on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Charles Klinner.

The topic for the afternoon program was, "Our Faith For Building A World Christian Community Thru Forgiveness." Mrs. Cecil Carter was in charge of the program. The Scripture reading, given by Mrs. Ervin Dailey, was taken from Mark 11th chapter, 1:12 verses. Meditation was by Mrs. Henry Wyatt. "Beast of Burden are Children of Men," was brought by Mrs. Charles Klinner. This was followed with prayer by Mrs. Milton Diefenderfer.

After the business session a delicious salad plate was served by the hostess to the following guests: Mesdames Henry Wyatt, Ervin Dailey, Louis Popwell, Jack Roper, Cecil Carlton and Cecil Carter.

FARM ADVERTISING

The old adage, "it pays to advertise," may be put to practical use by farmers selling fruits and vegetables.

Baked stuffed potatoes are particularly good when a little finely grated onion is added to the stuffing along with butter or margarine, salt, freshly ground pepper, paprika and hot milk.

* * *

Make banana fritters to serve with baked ham or luncheon meat. Split large ripe, but firm, bananas in lengthwise halves, and cut across again. Roll each quarter in flour and saute or fry in deep fat.

* * *

Window sills should be waxed after they have been painted. Such a finish is more easily kept clean, and rain spatters will not mar the surface.

A small paint brush is an excellent tool with which to clean crumbs from an electric toaster or waffle iron.

Clanton's 8th Annual Horse Show Wednesday Night

Well laid plans are running smooth as clock work as the committee for the Lions Club Annual Horse Show moves into it's final week before the big show at 7 o'clock next Wednesday night in Clanton's City Park.

Earl Parrish, general chairman of the Horse Show, said that entries are coming in fast and it is felt that this year's show will have a bigger entry list than ever before. A total of 12 classes has been arranged and a total of several hundred dollars in prize money has been put up for the three winners in each class.

Mr. Parrish also announced that he and his committee have arranged for one of the best horse judges in the state, N. D. (Doak) Pierce, of Millers Ferry, Ala. Mr. Parrish also said that entries were coming in from all over the State of Alabama, including several from Dallas County, Tennessee, Georgia and Mississippi.

EARL C. PARRISH

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

Please allow me just a few lines in your paper this week. First, I would like to say last Sunday was the day of our annual homecoming in Coosa County. A lot of the children, kinsfolk and old friends met together at the old home place where we were raised and spent our childhood days and partly raised our family. We are now scattered in different States. There were about a hundred relatives and old friends. We had people from Bessemer, Sylacauga, Rockford, Georgia, Wetumpka and Elmore and a lot from Chilton County. We met down at the old spring where we carried water from when we were children. We walked three miles to school and carried our lunch in buckets and went to church in wagons. We would go five and six miles at night to revivals and everybody enjoyed the meeting and we knew nothing about picture shows and swimming pools.

But listen, people, I have lived through three wars and now the fourth one is on hand and the Bible says there will be wars and rumors of wars before the end of this world would come. But we know not the hour nor the minute when the Lord is going to call us from this world. So the time while we are living is the time for us to make preparation, because it will be too late when the Lord calls us. So I want every Christian who reads this letter to pray for us and our children and all of our lost world, because there are many who are on the downward road to destruction. So pray for us. — Your Brother in Christ, W. J. Gilliland.

HOMECOMING AT SHADY GROVE METHODIST CHURCH

There will be a homecoming service at Shady Grove Methodist Church, 3½ miles east of Verbena, the fifth Sunday in July. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Rev. H. A. Jones, pastor, will preside.

10 [illegible] a.m. — Devotional by Mrs. D. W. Patterson.

11:00 a.m. — Sermon, Rev. Haygood Scott.

12:00 — Lunch.

1:30 p.m. — Talks from visitors, Rev. H. A. Jones in charge.

2:00 p.m. — Sermon, Rev. John Rountree.

THRASH — Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Thrash of Jemison Route 2 announce the arrival of a girl on July 23rd. Her name is Myra Sue.

VINZANT — Mr. and Mrs. Howard Vinzant of Jemison Route 2 have a new son born on July 23 at the Central Alabama Hospital.

JACKS — The parents of Doris Ann Jacks, born July 25, are Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jacks.

POPWELL — It's a son for the Raymond Popwells of Clanton. He arrived at the Central Alabama Hospital on July 24th.

CHILTON LEADS STATE IN PERCENTAGE OF BOND SALES

Savings Bond Chairman J. Archie Ogburn, announced today that Chilton County sales of Series E Savings Bonds during the Independence Drive amounted to $53,718.75 or 185.2 per cent of the assigned quota of $29,000.00.

This percentage gave Chilton County a lead of about 18% over other counties in the State.

In releasing the final figures on the Drive's results, Mr. Ogburn said:

"By this outstanding accomplishment, the county maintained its war-time record of quota achievement.

The Liberty Bell symbol effectively brought to our minds a renewed faith in the principles upon which our nation was founded. Each of us must continue to do everything within our power to see that the ideals of liberty and independence are forever safeguarded."

WEBB M. PARRISH

Mr. Webb Monroe Parrish, age 55, of Clanton, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ferrill Williamson, Friday, July 21st. Funeral services were held at the Thorsby Baptist Church Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p.m., conducted by the Rev. J. O. Dailey and Rev. B. B. Burks; interment was in Thorsby Cemetery.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Ferrill Williamson; one grandson, Terry Williamson; three brothers—W. E., Dewey and Lonza Parrish of Clanton; two sisters, Mrs. J. B. Wells, Sr., of Selma and Mrs. A. B. Spidle of Florence.

Honorary pallbearers were: Judge W. L. Parrish, H. G. Heflin, L. E. Diefenderfer, Tom Burdette, Woodrow Rockett, Akins Collins, Dewey Eubanks, David Vines, Grover Bice, Fred Merchant and W. J. Patrick.

Active pallbearers were: Varney Wyatt, Reese Mims, Walter Robinson, Cecil Cleckler, Gene Davenport and Marvin Davenport.

Members of the Fidelis Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church, Clanton, served as flower ladies.

Spigener Funeral Home in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Kennedy and Joelyn Kay and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Gafford of Greenville were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Parrish.

SERVICE AWARDS PRESENTED

SHOWN ABOVE, is Mr. Paul A. Redmond presenting Service Awards to three employees of the Clanton Unit of Alabama Mills, Inc. They are right to left, Mr. Walter Vernon Clark, 20 years continuous service; Mrs. Beatrice P. Jones, and Mr. Wilson Eugene Maddox, both for 15 years continuous service.

Winners Of Peach Prizes

Peach exhibit winners — showing prize — winning peaches displayed in the 1950 Chilton County Alabama Peach Festival at Clanton: A. D. Headley, J. C. Hayes, Fred Hayes, E. L. Owens, and J. N. Bentley. The prize peaches were later auctioned by Tom McCord of Montgomery.

The blue ribbon bushel basket of peaches entered by A. D. Hayes and son and brought $65.00. $939.50 was realized from the 30 baskets donated by the following Chilton County peach farmers: A. D. Headley, W. A. Williams, T. J. Headley, H. O. Headley, Crawford Williams, A. R. Scott, L. H. Gentry, L. M. Davenport, Harmon Headley, E. L. Owens, Durbin & Sons, Mrs. A. B. Jones, O. H. Arledge, A. B. Jones, J. N. Bentley, Ed Edwards and J. C. Hayes & Sons.

The Prize Bushel Basket of Peaches was presented by the King and Queen, Bill Blalock and Mary Frances Collins, to Mr. Erskin Ramsey, a booster of the Chilton County Festival, who was unable to attend due to illness.

SCHOOL CENSUS ENUMERATORS ARE NOW WORKING IN CHILTON COUNTY

During the month of July school census enumerators are working in Chilton County. They are trying quite hard to get a complete and accurate census. If an enumerator does not call on you by July 31, please notify the Education Office, Drawer 69, Clanton, Ala. Give your name, address and the Beat in which you live. It is very important to have complete census records and your co-operation in helping to make them complete will be appreciated. All persons between the ages of two and 21 are being enumerated.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR JUDGE W. J. NASH, JR.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in Oneonta for Judge W. J. Nash, Jr., Most Worshipful Master A.F. and A.M. of the State of Alabama, who died suddenly en route from Warrior to his home in Oneonta. He was a Juvenile Judge of Blount County and was affiliated with the Woodmen of the World Insurance Co. in Jefferson County. Judge Nash was 41 years years of age and is survived by one daughter and one son.

Members of the Clanton Chapter who attended the funeral were: John C. Wade, R. B. Hill, Jr., Louie Smith, A. H. Meacham, H. T. Pipes, I. S. Levine, Henry Wyatt, Julian Evans and B. E. Reeves.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks to each and every one for their kindness, sympathy and helpfulness; also the beautiful floral offering given us in the recent loss of our dear father, Mr. Race Lawrence.

May God in His tender mercy bless you all is our prayer. — Miss Polly Lawrence, Mrs. Jack Gore.

Farm Veterans Planning Big Rally Day At Airport

When August 11th rolls around there will be a big rally day out at the Clanton Airport. This big day is being put on by the Chilton County Veterans enrolled in classes for on-the-farm training.

Each class will have its own exhibit on display and there will be four prizes presented to the best four exhibits of the 18 there. Vocational Agriculture Teachers from the county will act as judges of the exhibits.

Commissioner of Agriculture Elect Frank Stewart and Superintendent of Education Elect W. J. Terry will speak to the gathering.

The Farm Veterans Rally Day last year was a well attended event and a large all around success. It was held at the City Park and featured a big barbecue as the noon event. However, this year's plans are to top last year's rally by making this one even better. Also, the noon event features a fried chicken dinner.

Until 1:00 p.m. the veterans and their wives will have it all to themselves. But the general public is cordially invited to attend at any time after that.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Parrish visited friends in Greenville last week.

FREDERICK K. ROBINSON

Mr. Frederick Knox Robinson, age 72, of Rt. 1, Clanton, died Thursday, July 20th, at the residence. Funeral services were held at 11:00 a.m. Saturday at Collins Chapel, conducted by the Revs. Homer Carroll and Fred Lowery.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Essie Robinson; six sons — Ben Frank, Fred, Euwell, Rex Roy, Jerry Ralph and Jimmy Wayne of Rt. 1, Clanton; one daughter, Mrs. Willie L. Smith, of Rt. 1, Clanton; three brothers—H. E. Robinson of Rt. 1, Clanton, F. E. Robinson and A. J. Robinson, of Thorsby, five sisters — Mrs. Missouri Littleton, Rt. 1, Clanton, Mrs. Lily Black, Mrs. Clara Morris, Mrs. Grady Jennings and Mrs. Iva Key, all of Houston, Texas.

Pallbearers were: Perry Bean, Clarence Murrah, Olin Williams, Hurlee Mims, Robert Robinson and A. D. Headley.

Honorary pallbearers were: Harvey Honeycutt, Clyde Coker, Freddie Barrett and Tom Strain.

Spigener Funeral Home in charge.

Company 'B' Home Again

The men in the background, all of Company B, are firing for record as part of their summer field training, with the 31st Infantry "Dixie" Division. This national guard division, composed of 9,000 troops from Alabama and Mississippi, broke camp last Sunday and returned to their home station. (Official National Guard Photo).

CHILTON PEACHES SELL AT $100 PER BUSHEL

Bob Taber, Chairman of the recent Peach Festival, received an order Wednesday for five bushels of Chilton County Peaches. Enclosed with the order was a check for $500.

The order was sent by Mr. Erskine Ramsey, widely known philanthropist of Birmingham, Ala.

Mr. Ramsey missed the Peach Festival this year because of sickness, but can rest assured of getting five bushels of the best peaches in the world.

CLANTON BASEBALL

Last week the Clanton Baseball Club raised their standing to 14 won and four lost. Jemison and Homewood had bad "off" days, dropping games to Clanton by the scores of 18 to 0 and 17 to 0, respectively, being unable to hit the pitching of E. Baker and Holsenbeck.

Friday night, at 7:30, in Clanton City Park, Clanton plays Belle Ellen, a team standing among the leaders of the Blue Division of the Bessemer All-American Association League.

Sunday afternoon, at 3:00 p.m., in Clanton City Park, they play Loveman's from Birmingham, a team that gave us a good game earlier in the season.

HOMECOMING AT ROCKY MOUNT CHURCH

There will be a variety quartet program at the Jemison High School Saturday night, July 29th, at 8:00 p.m. This program will feature the Ideal Quartet and the Buddy Tucker Trio from Radio Station WVOK, Birmingham, and the Melodyaires from Radio Station WKLF, Clanton. This will be a good clean concert and everyone is invited to attend.

These quartets and the trio will remain for the homecoming at Rocky Mount, located 5½ miles east of Jemison, which will be held Sunday, July 30th. This is the 42nd annual session and we are expecting the largest crowd and homecoming ever held. Everybody come and bring a well-filled basket and spend the day. —T. C. Harrell, Program Comm. Chairman.

BETHSALEM ANNUAL ALL-DAY SINGING

The Bethsalem annual all-day singing will be held Sunday, August 13th. All singers and lovers of music have a special invitation to come and be with us. Quartets all have a special welcome. — Dewey Hill, Chairman.

BAKER - KNIGHT

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Baker of Clanton, Ala., announce the engagement of their daughter, Doris Nell, to Jack M. Knight, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Knight of Birmingham.

The wedding will be an event of September.

CEMETERY CLEANING AT ISABELLA

There will be a cemetery celaning at Isabella Wednesday, August 2nd. Everyone interested, please come and help.

FOX HUNT AND BARBECUE TO BE HELD AUGUST 16th

The Chilton County Fox Hunters Association will hold their annual barbecue and hunt August 16th which will be held at the same place as last year at Kincheon. Barbecue will be served at 5:30 and the hunt will begin afterwards. The public is invited. — C. E. Stapp, President.

MRS. MARTHA L. KINIPE

Mrs. Martha Lake Kinipe, age 68, of Maplesville, died at the residence Friday, July 21st. Funeral services were held at the Maplesville Methodist Church, conducted by the Revs. Reuben Jones and Evan Johnson.

She is survived by her husband, C. L. Kinipe; one son, E. W. Kinipe, of Tuscaloosa; one brother, S. D. Phelps, of Brairfield, Ala.

Pallbearers were: Billie Dennis, Rev. Hyman Atcheson, Van Potts, Odis Smitherman, Jack Hampton and Irvin Perry.

Spigener Funeral Home in charge.

WELCOME CORNER

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Waldrop have moved here from Opelika, Ala. They are making their home with Mrs. Jervie on Seventh Avenue North. Mr. Waldrop is with the P.M.A. Office.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Calloway and children, Carol, Terry and Mel, have moved here from Elmore County. They are at home on the Mill Road. Mr. Calloway is salesman of this district for the Suburban Gas Company.

Control War Profiteers

From Washington comes the information that the Government is re-examining all plans to control manpower in the fast-breaking military developments.

The probability is that the controls will come in more quickly than in connection with World War II. The delay after Pearl Harbor is probably explained by the fact that there was greater unemployment at that time but, in view of the situation in the Far East, the Government is probably wise in making arrangements to ration manpower, if necessary.

In this connection, we have seen no news from Washington that the Government is acting with equal alacrity to control war profits. As soon as the conflict flared up in South Korea, there was immediate reaction in business circles, with trade associations advising clients of prospective profits. Certainly, if the Government is intelligent enough to control manpower, it should do something about profits.

In every war that the United States has fought, involving the loss of life, with brave men defending their country, there have been war profiteers at home. The people of the nation are sick and tired of the spectacle. Considerable discussion about the possibility of limiting profits in wartime followed World War 1, but nothing very effective was accomplished. Before World War III, if it is to unfortunately occur, legislation should be passed to curb the profits of businesses in connection with the war efforts of the nation.

Be Smart In The Water

During the hot summer months, nearly everybody likes to go in the water. In addition to public bathing on the beaches and at the resorts, water sports attract thousands of people.

The accident toll is high. For some reason, sensible persons take chances in the water. Good swimmers drown through over-confidence. Flippant jesters rock the boat.

It is a good idea for people to know the simple rules that might save their lives. Swimming alone, when over-heated or too soon after eating, may be disastrous. It is also a good idea to know the depth of the water in which you are swimming. Finally, make it a rule to avoid smart tricks and "showing-off."

What Has Man to Depend Upon?

In these troublesome times, the individual who has no great principles to guide his life finds the present an era of great tribulation.

There are wars, rumors of wars, economic difficulties, political puzzles and personal problems to confound the average citizen of this country. What once seemed relatively safe and secure in many fields of human activity is now precariously attacked and even the sacred formulas of early days are badly battered.

Upon what, then, can man depend? Surely, he can depend upon the fundamental principles that he has adopted to guide his life. The basic faith in God that makes men lift up their heads, the confidence that faces doubtful fate superbly and the attributes of the soul that stand supreme above the vicissitudes of earthly strife are strength to the intelligent and the brave, a staff upon which the tired may lean and a blessing to all those who are willing to work for a better world of better human beings.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

Seems like the boys can't remember those credit lines on pictures. Last week Joe Phillip Klinner made the picture we used on the front page of the Peach Festival Queen. We bought the picture all right, but we also promised him a credit line. Joe is a good amateur photographer and makes a lot of pictures around here just for the fun of it. Some day he may be crowding our good friend, S. E. Scott.

The grasshopper pests that have been stripping the corn fields and any other plant they land on, have one good use anyway. The fishermen around town have been going to the corn fields, filling their cricket boxes with the grasshoppers and using them for fish bait.

Joe Jackson, who operates the Clanton Drive-In, is in Florida this week. He turned the theatre over to his hired help and is spending four or five days just driving around down there. We have heard a mighty lot of nice compliments about Joe and the Drive-In in regard to his support of the recent Peach Festival. He spent a lot of money helping to make a success of this year's Festival and his efforts were not unnotived. Joe is a public-spirited citizen and is a distinct asset to Clanton and Chilton County.

Did you know that it was Mr. Will Gulledge who co-sponsored the bill in the recent Legislature to put the age limit back to six years before entering school? Even though a few mothers and fathers will take the narrow view of the situation, we firmly believe that it should have been passed. We have hard enough time getting competent teachers for our schools and when they are required to act as nurse maid in addition to their other duties it certainly isn't an inducement to teach First Grade classes. We extend our sincere congratulations to Mr. Gulledge for his fine work on this worth while legislation.

We have heard many comments and compliments regarding the clown who appeared in the Peach Festival Parade. In case anyone is wondering who he was, it was Ed Bogle, an employee at the Drive-In. His costume, make-up and clowning brought applause from the crowds along the way. Incidentally, Ed is appearing as a clown as an added attraction at the Clanton Drive-In on Saturday nights.

We have heard of Siamese Twins before, but Mr. G. M. Durbin of Route 3, Clanton, Ala., comes up with the first watermelon that could be called Siamese Twins. The two watermelons were grown together from one quirl and fully developed. The variety of this watermelon is the Sugar Loaf. Mr. Durbin says he has a 5-acre patch and pulled two other melons that weighed 40 pounds each from the same vine. He was on his way to Birmingham with a fine load of good old Chilton County melons and carried the Siamese Twins (watermelon) with him.

Fin-Fan Items

Large and Smallmouth Bass are being caught near Rock Springs Fishing Camp, Lake Lay. Last week a Sylacauga fisherman caught three Bass that weighed 11 pounds 10 ounces. This is the best Bass report of the season from Lake Lay area.

The Alabama Power Company Fishing Contest registers new Whopper-Catchers as weigh-in stations on the "Mighty Coosa" dust off their scales. G. O. Norred General Store, Talladega Springs, reports on Lake Lay: Louie DeLoach, Sylacauga, was fly fishing with a popping bug and caught a 4 pound 8 ounce Smallmouth Bass. Gerald Headley, Sylacauga, used the same type rig as friend Louie and came up with a fine 4 pound 2 ounce Largemouth Bass. This party of three, including Randal Bugg, caught 27 pounds of Bass.

A. I. Powell's River Road Grocery Store, reports on Lake Mitchell: Marion W. Easterling, Clanton, joins the ranks of "Whopper-Catchers" by catching a whoppin' 5 pound Largemouth Bass. Near Fall Branch was the place, and a rod, reel and speed shad were the tools used in landing the catch.

From Weoka Creek, Lake Jordan, Claud Wood's Store reports: Frank Gantt, Titus, snagged a nice 12 ounce Blue gill Bream from the waters of Weoka, worms were the type of bait used.

Keep the entry blanks coming in weigh-in-stations — those small ones may be prize winners.

Safety Comment of the Day: Motor boats of every kind must keep clear of sail boats and row boats.—"Rules of the Road."

(answer to last week's puzzle)

Discerning Signs Of Times

The Pharisees and the Sadducees came to Jesus tempting Him by asking that He would show them a sign from Heaven. Jesus answered by saying, "When it is evening, ye say, it will be fair weather, for the sky is red. And in the morning, it will be foul weather today, for the sky is red and lowering. Oh, ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky, but can ye not discern the signs of the times."

A. T. HICKMAN

Here we have an example of people able to discern the weather conditions and perhaps discern many things in the natural, but with no spiritual understanding and discernment. Our weather men might tell us when it will rain; when a storm will come from the west; when the cold and heat will come our way, but to be able to discern the "signs of the times" is another thing. The secret of the Lord belongeth to them that fear Him.

When Jesus was asked by His disciples, "What shall be the sign of Thy Coming, and of the end of the world?" He answered, "Take heed that no man deceive you. For many shall come in My Name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many." This sign is being fulfilled today in the person of the so-called, "Father Divine," a negro in New York City, who claims to be God. This falsh messiah has thousands of followers, both among the Negro race and the white. He is only one who has claimed to be divine. Jesus said, many shall come, saying, I am Christ.

Another sign, "Ye shall hear of wars and rumors of wars: For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom." We people today know too well that wars have come and wars are still coming. Even this day the whole world has the "war of nerves." You would like to know where is the end. Friend, we will have reached an end when we get to Armageddon, and not before. The Coming of the Prince of Peace in Revelation 19th chapter will change the order of the day.

Other signs Jesus mentioned were: 'There shall be famines, and pestilences and earthquakes in divers places." We have been face to face with many pestilences since the beginning of World War I. The boll weevil at the beginning of the war. Now we are bothered with the grasshopper (locust) eating the corn, cotton and peanuts. The potato bugs, bean beetle, and hundreds of other pestilences. All these are signs of the times.

The Bible is being fulfilled.

Your Health

SOIL EROSION

Perhaps it seems strange for a health column to deal with soil erosion, but after a second's thought you will realize that, like everything else in our complex society, health and medical care are not just separate items. Instead your health is made up of a great number of factors—one of which is the nourishment you get from the food you eat. Food and its production take you into a consideration of soil ersion. Some facts about this alarming situation will, doubtlessly, be interesting to all of us.

There may be malnutrition in this land of plenty, and in non-productive countries there is famine and starvation. It is becoming an increasing necessity to prevent the erosion that occurs at an alarming rate over most of the earth's surface. At present, the United States is producing more food than it needs and so exports the surplus. How long will our abundance prevail?

At present, 8,000 acres a day are lost in the United States by soil erosion. More than 300 million acres, an area sufficient to produce food for 10 per cent of the world's present population, have already been lost to food production.

The whole cultivated surface of the earth amounts to some three billion acres, and we are losing soil at the rate of 10 to 20 million acres every year. This is good rich soil, an inch of which may take 500 years to form and which, with all our scientific and technical ingenuity, we cannot fashion ourselves. The prevention of erosion calls for an extensive program to restore, conserve and cultivate forest lands—a program that will rise above the selfish interests of farmers, timber owners and the like.

As for food, to feed the world adequately, the world's food production must increase approximately twofold. This can come about only through prevention of wastage and loss after food has been produced. Also, there must be an improvement in the methods of increasing food production. With the earth's population increasing and the food supply decreasing, it looks as if all the world might go hungry some day.

How Can I?

(By Anne Ashley)

Q. How can I dislodge a fishbone when it is stuck in the throat?
A. Slowly swallow the juice of a lemon, which will dissolve the bone and allow it to pass down the throat. Swallowing the white of an egg is also an effective remedy.

Q. How can I remove a stubborn screw top from a bottle?
A. By wrapping a piece of sandpaper around it and twisting. It is wise to keep a piece of sand paper handy for this purpose.

Q. How can I keep doeskin gloves in shape after washing?
A. Place a clothespin in each finger and thumb while they are drying. When dry, rub between the fingers to soften them.

Q. How can I satisfactorily clean a felt hat?
A. Add enough cleaning fluid to a teacup of flour to make a paste. Rub this paste on the hat with a brush, and allow to dry. Then brush off with a stiff brush.

Q. How can I open a sealed envelope, when I have forgotten a certain enclosure?
A. The envelope can be opened easily by laying a wet cloth over the flap and pressing it with a warm iron.

Q. How can I keep what is left of an onion when only part of it is used?
A. When necessary to use only a part of an onion, cut it so that the remaining part will contain the root. This part will keep much longer.

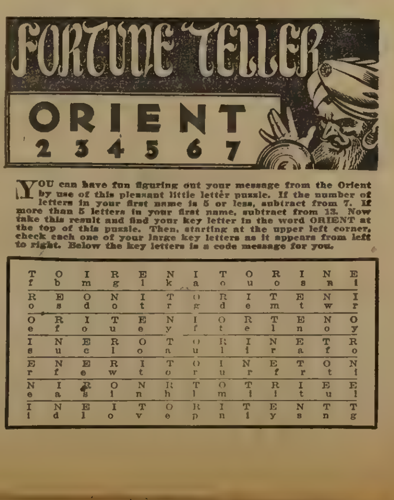
Q. What is a good liver corrective?
A. The juice of a lemon, taken in hot water the first thing in the morning, is an excellent liver corrective, and is often an effective anti-fat remedy for stout people.

Q. How can I brighten the colors in rugs?
A. By using a mop wrung out of warm water, to which a little ammonia has been added. Turpentine also brightens dark colors.

Q. How can I remove peach stains from linen?
A. First soak the linen in glycerine, and then wash in hot soapsuds.

Q. How can I strengthen baby's muscles?
A. Rub the back and legs thoroughly every night with the best grade of rubbing alcohol. Massage from the feet upwards to the hips. Roll the muscles gently to bring the circulation through the muscles. Rub from the neck down the back to the hips.

Q. How can I impart an added flavor to broiled lamb chops?
A. Dip the chops in lemon juice just before broiling, and it will add a delightful flavor.



YOU can have fun figuring out your message from the Orient by use of this pleasant little letter puzzle. If the number of letters in your first name is 5 or less, subtract from 7. If more than 5 letters in your first name, subtract from 13. Now take this result and find your key letter in the word ORIENT at the top of this puzzle. Then, starting at the upper left corner, check each one of your large key letters as it appears from left to right. Below the key letters is a code message for you.

POLIO PRECAUTIONS

RECOMMENDED BY THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

WHEN POLIO IS AROUND, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis recommends these simple precautions: Keep children with their own friends and away from people they have not been with right along. Don't become exhausted through work or hard play. Don't stay too long in cold water or sit around in wet clothes. And always wash hands before eating. Watch for feverishness, sore throat, headache, upset stomach or sore muscles. They may—or may not—mean polio. Call your doctor and then, if help is needed contact the National Foundation Chapter in your area.

Lutheran Church News—

There will be services at the Lutheran Church on next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 p.m., with the Rev. David F. Conrad of Christ Lutheran Church of Birmingham conducting the service. A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to attend.

An article in The Birmingham News which was of interest to his friends in Thorsby as well as in Chilton County, was an interesting item about Dr. O. C. Mastin, who has recently celebrated his 88th birthday, and is still 'tending the sick.' Dr. Mastin lives in Wedowee, Ala., where he has been since living in Thorsby several years ago. We were glad to hear news of him and to know that he is still going strong, though as he says, "while he is not old, he is not as young as he used to be."

Another Peach Festival has gone down in Chilton County history, and with much success and to the enjoyment of thousands. It was a lovely day, though hot, the parade was swell and we believe that the entire Festival was a great success. Those in charge are to be congratulated on a big job well done.

Mrs. A. E. Reagan and Miss Naemi Turnquist enjoyed having as their house guests for the Peach Festival some old time friends, former residents of Thorsby, Miss Dagmar Larson of Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. Inga Johansen and daughter, Marie, of Los Angeles, Calif. (the former Inga Erdahl.)

Mrs. Anna Phalin delightfully entertained the Lutheran Ladies Aid at the home of Mrs. Chas. Howard on last Wednesday afternoon. Quite a good many old time friends who came to attend the Peach Festival attended this meeting in the afternoon. Visitors who enjoyed this affair, which turned out to be a real "Reunion" were: Mrs. Mabel Grinley Harp, of Columbiana, Ala.; Mrs. Louie Self, (Clara Peterson), Mrs. Long (Anna Rasmussen), Mrs. Horace Moss, of Birmingham (Victoria Johnson), Mrs. Richard Helton (Clara Husby), of Mobile; Mrs. Inga Johansen, Miss Dagmar Larson, Mrs. Erle Ellis and Mrs. Carl Berlin, besides the regular members. It was indeed a happy occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Berlin left Thursday morning for their home in Chicago after several days visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Berlin.

New State Law Regarding Age Of Children Entering School

The State Legislature of the State of Alabama recently re-enacted the original law that required children to become six years of age on or before October 1 in order to be eligible to enter school for the current school year.

The Chilton County Board of Education has instructed its personnel to observe strictly the new regulation, according to information obtained from the Superintendent's office. To make a single exception, the Superintendent pointed out, would mean that the law was being disregarded and a child of any age could enter. To overlook the fact that a child is only one day too young is just as illegal as to overlook the fact that another is one month too young. The final result would be complete disregard for any school age law. Consequently, the Board will make no exceptions. Parents can be helpful by being considerate enough not to ask principals to accept their underage children.

In larger systems where mid-term promotions are possible, children who become six on or before February 1st may enter the second semester. This does not apply, however, to Chilton County or other smaller systems.

Church News—

The Vacation Bible School came to n end Friday night. The commencement program was enjoyed by children, arents, teachers and visitors alike. he average attendance remained at 7 for the two weeks. The school seemed to have been a great success. The fine work of the workers made this possible. The pastor, Rev. Evan Johnson, wishes to express his appreciation to the daily workers in the school and to the ladies who brought refreshments to the pupils and staff from day to day, for their fine spirit of cooperation and willingness to help. He also expresses his appreciation to the parents who sent their children to enjoy all the privileges of the school

Mrs. C. C. Bates gave an inspiring devotional at the W.M.U. meeting at the Baptist Church Monday afternoon The mission study was taught by Mrs Rube Bearden. The study will be continued next Monday afternoon, with the Sunbeams and their leader, Mrs. Frances Watson having the devotional for the meeting. The Baptist W.M.U. is very proud of the Sunbeam Band and it's leader.

Death Of Mrs. Charlie Kinipe—

Last Thursday the people of Maplesville were saddened by the death of Mrs. Charlie Kinipe at her home here after a long illness. Mrs. Kinipe was an active member of the Methodist Church. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Reuben Jones of Gastonburg, Ala., a former pastor of the Methodist Church. Burial was in a Selma Cemetery.

She is survived by her husband, Mr. Charlie Kinipe, and one son, Mr. Wilson Kinipe, of Tuscaloosa, Ala.

Mrs. Kinipe was a devout Christian woman and will be greatly missed. She was 69 years of age. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to the family.

Goings and Comings—

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Rucker recently returned home from their vacation. They visited several interesting places in Florida—Daytona Beach, Panama City, St. Augustine and Jacksonville. While there they visited a friend in Fernandina, Fla. On returning home they visited points in Georgia. They reported a pleasant trip. Miss Marzell Hayes, who was keeping house while Mr. and Mrs. Rucker were away, had her mother, Mrs. Dora Hayes, of Powderly, Ala., visit with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hampton and Mr. and Mrs. Van Potts are spending their vacation at Panama City, Fla.

Mr. James Thompson, an employee of Stremming Veneer Plant, has been called back into the Navy to serve his country. We regret very much to have so many of our boys going away to war. There is nothing we can do about it, except pray and trusting God to soon end this conflict.

Mrs. Curtis Rucker's mother, Mrs Callie Riley, is spending a few weeks in Norfolk. Va., with her son who is in the Navy there.

Rev. and Mrs. Rube Bearden, son, Gary, and daughter, Mishie, attended revival services at Stanton Baptist Church last Wednesday and were the dinner guests of their daughter, Mrs. Lucile Houston.

Mrs. Cleve Sims and daughter, Carrie Jean, and Mrs. W. W. Kelley attended preaching service at Clanton last Wednesday.

Guests Saturday night of Mr. and Mrs. Crit Oden were Mr. and Mrs. Pete Oden and daughter, Marlene, of Louisville, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Watts Tilley (Grace McAfee) of Gadsden, Ala., spent a few days last week here with Mrs. Tilley's sister, Mrs. Sara Mitchell, and brother. Mr. Brady McAfee. They attended the family reunion of the McAfee family at the home of Mr. Robert McAfee in Shoults Community.

Sgt. Lindsey McAfee of Craig Air Base, Selma, Ala., has been assigned to overseas duty.

Visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kelley last Friday were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Oden of Clanton and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Oden and daughter, Marline, of Louisville, Ky. All the above named visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ira Kelley at Poole's Cross Roads Friday evening.

Miss Marzell Hayes and Mrs. Curtis Rucker shopped in Clanton Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Boie (Allie Walker) and son, Bruce, of Chicago, Ill., en route to West Palm Beach, Fla., stopped here last week for a few days visit with relatives. They also visited relatives in Shoults Community. While here they, with other members of the Walker family, enjoyed a family picnic one day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horton Walker of Prattville, Ala., which was an ideal place for a picnic. Present from Maplesville were: Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler Walker and daughter, Eva Jo Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Quinton Mitchell and Mrs. Willie Hathcock; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Snead, of Clanton; Miss Earnestine McGee, of Lawley, Ala.; Mr. Herbert Walker, of Montgomery, Ala.; Sgt. Layden Hicks and family, S-Sgt. Phillip Hicks and family and Sgt. Charles Shoults and family of Selma, Ala.; Mrs. Sam Shoults, of Shoults Community; Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Thompson (Lula Mae Snead) and daughter, of Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Carson Snead and three grandchildren, Children of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Young, of Columbus; Miss. Mr. and Mrs. Young were unable to attend as they were in Illinois attending the funeral services of Mr. Young's brother who was killed in an automobile accident. Two sisters unable to attend were Mrs. Lettie Seeley of West Palm Beach, Fla., and Miss Lucy Walker, of Calera, Ala.

Welcome visitors to Maplesville last Friday were Rev. and Mrs. Clayton Gilbert of Tuscaloosa, Ala. They attended the Vacation Bible School commencement program at the Baptist Church Friday night. We are always very happy to see Rev. and Mrs. Gilbert.

Mrs. Ruth Hubbard has returned home from St. Vincent's Hospital in Birmingham and is doing nicely. She wishes to express her thanks and appreciation to the kind people of Maplesville for their kindness shown her during her illness, especially to Rev. and Mrs. Evan Johnson, Mrs. Daisy Littlejohn and many others.

Mr. and Mrs. Quinton Mitchell left Monday of this week to spend a few days vacation in West Palm Beach, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Wylie Walker enjoyed a fish supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Rucker last Friday night.

We are sorry to report the serious illness of Mr. Hill Foshee. He was carried to a Selma Hospital Monday of this week.

Family Reunion—

On July 23rd, 1950, the children of the late Mr. and Mrs. John R. McAfee met at the old home place in Shoults Community for a reunion. We were all happy to see each other and enjoyed fellowship, but our hearts were sad as one of the boys, Lindsey, who has been in the Army for 15 years, also spent three years overseas seeing much action in World War II, will have to report for overseas duty Thursday.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John McAfee, Quincey, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Bennie McAfee and Tommy, Plantersville; Mr. and Mrs. Brady McAfee, Alton and Shirley; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mitchell, Lewis, Jr., Martha and Judy, of Maplesville; Mr. and Mrs. Milford Thompson, Annie Ruth, Helen, Mack and Susan; Mr. and Mrs. Alvis McAfee, Dale, Phillip, Bruce and Alice, of Altoona, Ala.; S-Sgt. and Mrs. Lindsey McAfee and Lynn of Craig Field, Selma; Mr. and Mrs. Robert McAfee, Juanita, Marjorie, Bobby and John; Mr. and Mrs. Raynard Hale, Jackie and Tracey, Lindsey Stone, Miss Fannie Moore and Rev. and Mrs. Mike Moore of Lawley.

This has been the second time in 13 years that all six of the brothers were all together. We hope we will all be together again next year, perhaps sooner.

RE-ENLISTS IN U. S. AIR FORCE

Corporal Seymour G. Childress, son of Mrs. Bessie Childress, Jemison, Ala., has re-enlisted in the Air Force for six years, Col. Leslie G. Mulzer, base commanding Officer, announced today.

Prior to his assignment at Maxwell Field he served 28 months at Miho Air Force Base, Japan.

CHROMIUM AND TIN

Chromium and tin are two metals which housewives should remember never to scour.

Chromium wears off easily if rubbed with metal polish or any cleaning powder. It keeps its shine with no more strenuous cleaning than washing in soapy water and rinsing.

Broiling is fast cooking so requires careful watching. Keep an eye on foods as they cook to be sure they brown enough but don't scorch on top. For medium or well-done steak, set the broiler far enough from the heat for moderate temperature. For rare steak, set it closer.

39th Anniversary of the Artillery School—

On July 19th, 39 years ago, the War Department authorized the establishment of the Artillery School at Fort Sill, Okla., and since that date in 1911 Artillery has continued to be the foremost supporting arm of American fighting troops. Now, qualified young men with no previous service are being accepted for direct enlistment in the Artillery or any one of the many other branches of the military service. That's right,—no previous military experience required and YOU choose the particular branch of service you want. Visit your local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, located in the New Wade Building, Clanton, Ala.,. TODAY.

JULY 23-29 SET FOR YOUNG PEOPLE'S CONFERENCE

Alabama, Georga, Tennessee, Kentucky and West Florida junior high school boys and girls of the Congregational Christian denomination will meet on the Southern Union College campus in Wadley on July 23-29 for the 1950 Junior High Young People's Conference.

There will be classes, chapel and vesper services, and recreational periods for those who attend.

Miss Marguerite Davison, of Thorsby, will be the director of dramatics; Miss Martha Frances Moore, of Piedmont College, Demorest, Ga., and Mrs. John Peyton, of Chipley, Ga., will be in charge of handicraft training. Scouting will be in charge of Robert Bergfalk, of Minneapolis, Minn.

Raymond Berry, a recent graduate of Piedmont College, will be dean of the conference; Miss Vera V. VanCleave will serve as registrar.

ENRICHED CORN MEAL IS A HEALTHFUL FOOD

Nutritional quality of corn meal is greatly improved by the addition of an enrichment mixture containing niacin, thiamine, riboflavin, calcium, and iron.

"The A. P. I. Extension Service, through the county and home demonstration agents, is eager to be of assistance to farmers and grist millers who supply the Alabama consumer's demand for better processed, sanitary, enriched corn meal," declares John P. Bell, corn products marketing specialist.

SECOND CHANCE FOR DRIED UP GARDENS

Where gardens have dried up, there is urgent need for something that will quickly furnish green vegetables for the table.

J. C. Ford, A.P.I. Extension Service garden specialist, states that Shogoin turnips and tendergreens will provide food ready to eat within three to four weeks after the seed are planted. The Shogoin turnips should produce serving-size roots within 60 to 70 days.

"Both these vegetables stand hot, dry weather better than other greens and suffer less injury from insects and diseases," adds Ford.

EARLY LAND PREPARATION

Good land preparation is necessary for best results in planting most fall-seeded crops.

KEEP HENS COOL

Every effort should be made during hot weather to keep hen houses as cool as possible. When hens are exposed to extremely high temperatures, they will lay smaller eggs than when the temperature is low.

MARKETING TOMATOES

When "pink-ripe" tomatoes are marketed in eight or 12-quart containers, they have "eye appeal" for buyers.

LOOK FOR QUALITY WHEN BUYING BEETS

Auburn, Ala. — One should look for signs of good quality when picking out bunched beets at the produce counter.

Mary Hulsey, A.P.I. Extension Service nutritionist, points out that good quality beets are firm smooth, and free from decay and damage. Green fresh-looking tops are usually a sign of good quality. In general, however, one should look for beets that are tender and young.

"Avoid beets that are soft, flabby, and shriveled," advises the specialist. "They're apt to have a poor flavor and may have a lot of waste. Tough and woody beets usually have short necks covered with deep scars. They may have several circles of leaf scars around the top of the beet. And, of course, tough and woody beets require longer cooking and are apt to have much waste."

MANY WAYS TO AVOID ACCIDENTS ON FARMS

Auburn, Ala. — Farm accidents in the next 12 months, if they are as severe as they were in 1949, will cost the average farm resident $35.

"These accidents need not happen," asserts J. T. Gaillard, A.P.I. Extension Service farm mechanization specialist. "Some of the ways to avoid farm accidents are to keep walkways and steps in good repair, unobstructed, and well lighted. Keep ladders in good repair and easily accessible in case of emergency. Always stop a machine before unclogging, oiling, or adjusting it. Keep all machine guards and safety devices in place. Don't wear loose and floppy clothes around machinery. Start tractors smoothly and turn corners slowly—avoid ditch banks and soft ground—always hitch to the drawbar. Know and obey all traffic laws. Always be a safe driver or pedestrain. Speak to animals when approaching them, and keep them calm by acting with calm self assurance. And don't use kerosene to start fires."

American Legion Auxiliary—

The American Legion Auxiliary Unit 6, met at the Willingham Hotel Monday night, July 24th.

The President, Mrs. L. A. Lambert, called the meeting to order, using the formal opening. This was installation meeting of the units officers for the coming year. Mrs. J. C. Parr, in behalf of the Unit, presented Mrs. Lambert with a beautiful corsage of red rose buds.

Out of town guests, Mrs. A. H. Allbright, Mrs. C. O. Ellis and Mrs. Jim Davis, all of Birmingham, were introduced. Reports from the various committees were made. Minutes of the last two meetings were read and approved. The treasurer's report was made by Mrs. Gene Gore, unit treasurer.

Reports on the past year's membership drive were made: Mrs. E. J. Morris, captain of the Blues, gave her report as 13 new members. Miss Sylvia Lambert won the prize, given her by her captain for having gotten the most new members for her group. Mrs. J. C. Parr, Captain for the Golds, reported that her group had enlisted 19 new members. The prize from the Golds' Captain went to Mrs. Mayo.

The Unit President presented a gift for perfect attendance to Mrs. G. C. Walker and Mrs. J. C. Parr.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. A. H. Allbright, 5th District Director, with Mrs. C. O. Ellis acting as Sargeant-At-Arms. Mrs. Ellis presented Mrs. Lambert with a beautiful past president pin, in behalf of the Auxiliary Unit. The following officers for 1950 were installed by Mrs. Allbright and Mrs. Ellis:

President, Mrs. L. A. Lambert; 1st vice-president, Mrs. E. J. Morris; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Louie Smith; secretary, Mrs. J. C. Parr; treasurer, Mrs. C. E. Stapp; Chaplain, Mrs. G. C. Walker; Sergeant-At-Arms, Mrs. Albert Haack.

After the installation of the unit officers, the Junior American Legion Auxiliary officers were installed by Mrs. Allbright and Mrs. Ellis. Officers are: President, Miss Margaret Kemp; vice-president, Miss Sara Lane Mayo; and secretary, Miss Betty Kemp.

Mrs. Allbright gave a short inspiring talk on the work of the Auxiliary program for the coming year.

After the meeting Mrs. J. C. Parr, with Mrs. E. J. Morris, co-hostess, entertained the out-of-town guests and the Unit officers at the home of Mrs. Parr on the Selma Road.

The Homemakers Sunday School Class Meets—

The Homemakers Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church of Clanton held its regular monthly meeting on Friday night of last week at the home of Mrs. Arthur Taylor, with Mrs. Horsley White, Mrs. H. W. Yeager and Mrs. W. C. Dickinson as joint hostesses.

Mrs. Leo Thompson, class president, called the meeting to order and presented the program chairman, Mrs. Flem Higgins. Mrs. H. M. Crew brought the devotional program and introduced Myrna Crew who told the story of the "Sermon On The Mount." This was followed by the Scripture reading, Matthew 5:3-12, by Mrs. Crew. Jeanette Crew gave a reading, entitled, "Prayer," after which Mrs. Crew led in prayer.

Little Ann Thompson gave several vocal numbers which were enjoyed by all. A historical contest was next on the program. The prize going to Mrs. J. H. Boockholdt.

After the program, old and new business were attended to. It was voted for the class meeting to be held at night again—in August. Delicious ice cream and cake were served to the following: Mesdames J. H. Boockholdt, Leo Thompson, Tom Kemp, W. W. Brown, Nan Taylor, G. C. Walker, Flem Higgins, Greely Powell, H. M. Crew, Misses Jeanette and Myrna Crew and the hostesses.

MT. PISGAH

We sure had a good revival last week. We had wonderful sermons all week. Every sermon you missed, you missed a blessing. We had three new members come into the church. Let's pray for them and help them to be a blessing to the church. There was lots of visiting around in the community last week. We had a nice crowd out for Sunday School Sunday, for which we were very proud. There were several visitors with us. We were glad to have them and invite them back any time.

Miss Nina Sue Headley had Sunday dinner with Miss Willie Nell Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Davis and family are spending their vacation in Florida this week. We hope they enjoy themselves.

Messrs. Ronald and Donald Yeargan visited Mr. and Mrs. Henderson Bates last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Devaughn visited two shut-ins Sunday night. They were Mrs. Edd Hammonds and Mrs. Julie Scarborough. We hope they are better.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Yeargan are having their vacation this week and spending it around home. We know they will enjoy themselves.

Please do meet us at Sunday School next Sunday at 10 o'clock. We need you to make our Sunday School a lot bigger and better.—Reporter.

PATES CHAPEL

There will be an all-day singing at this place the first Sunday in August. The Radioairs are putting on a concert here on Saturday night, August 5th and will stay over for the singing Sunday. We are expecting many other good quartets and singers. Everyone has a special invitation.

Our singing school started last Monday with Mr. C. W. Scott as teacher. There are two classes daily, starting at 8:30 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. You are invited.—Reporter.

NEW HARMONY

We had a good congregation during the week end out for each service. Our pastor, Rev. S. G. Oliver, was with us Sunday and Sunday night. Our revival is still going at this place and the Lord is blessing in a wonderful way. Eleven have been saved and we're expecting more to be saved. If you haven't been coming you sure have been missing a blessing. The revival will continue through this week. The public is cordially invited to come each night at 7:45 and worship the Lord with us. We had several visitors with us Sunday and we very glad to have each and every one. We welcome visitors at any time they can come be with us.

Mr. and Mrs. David Collier were the Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Littleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Minor were the dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Neeley Baker.

Everyone who knows the worth of prayer, pray much for the remaining part of this revival and come be with us if you can.

FALL CALVING

Dairy cows should have six to eight weeks rest before calving. Therefore, it will soon be time to retire cows that will drop fall calves; however, the cows should receive plenty of feed. They need good pasture, plenty of roughage, and enough concentrates to restore normal body fat before calving. If pastures are poor, increase the concentrate allowance.

To keep drawer knobs tight, cut a ~~small round~~ washer from sandpaper about one and one-half inches in diameter and slip it over the screw on the inside of the drawer between the nut and the wood. Then when the screw is tightened the abrasive surface of the sandpaper will hold the knob securely.

LEASE SALE CONTRACT (COPY)

AGREEMENT OR LEASE between Leary & Owens Machinery Co., Inc., a corporation under the laws of the State of Alabama (Which is herein referred as as "lessor"), and Chilton County, a subdivision of the State of Alabama (which is herein referred to as lessee"), WHEREAS, the lessee has heretofore executed an order on the 10th day of July, 1950, for the personal property herein described, and it is the desire of the parties to enter into this agreement respecting the use of said property;

NOW THEREFORE THIS AGREEMENT WITNESSETH: In consideration of the monthly payments to be made to lessor by lessee and the other agreements on the part of the lessee hereinafter set out, lessor hereby does lease to lessee, and in consideration of such lease lessee does hereby rent from lessor, the following described personal property:

One (1) Model 67W Bros wobble wheel roller, Serial No. 2310 upon the following conditions:

(1). The term covered by this agreement shall embrace the period beginning on the 10th day of July, 1950, and ending on the 15 day of January, 1951.

(2) Lessee agrees to pay to lessor at its office in the City of Birmingham, Alabama, as rent for use of said property, the following sums on the following dates:

1.	August 15, 1950	$313.35
2.	September 15, 1950	313.33
3.	October 15, 1950	313.33
4.	November 15, 1950	313.33
5.	December 15, 1950	313.33
6.	January 15, 1951	313.33

(3) Said rental payments shall be made solely from the proceeds receivable by lessee from the tax levied by the State of Alabama on the sale, distribution and withdrawal from storage of gasoline and other motor fuels and distributed to the county pursuant to the laws of Alabama and any substitute therefor and any tax levied in lieu thereof (which is herein referred to as "said state tax"). Nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to make this agreement or the said payments general obligations of lessee but said payment shall be made solely out of said proceeds from said state tax. As security for payment of said rental installments, lessee agrees to appropriate, pledge and segregate a sufficient portion of all proceeds which may be hereafter received by lessee from said state tax and any substitute therefor and any tax levied in lieu thereof, and to cause to be set apart and used exclusively for the payment of said installments the amount so appropriated and pledged.

(4) Lessee acknowledges that it has received the said property in good order and condition and agrees that upon the termination of this agreement (in the event the option hereinafter referred to shall not have been exercised), whether by expiration of the term covered hereby or by exercise of any of the options of lessor following default hereunder by lessee, lessee will return the said property to lessor at Birmingham, Alabama, in like good order and condition as at the beginning of the term covered hereby, ordinary use, wear and tear thereof excepted.

(5) Lessee agrees to take reasonable and proper care of the said property and to make, at its expense, all necessary repairs and replacements thereof. So long as lessee shall not be in default under this lease it shall have the right to make any reasonable and lawful use of said property.

(6) In the event lessee should default in the payment of any of the installments of rent herein agreed to be paid by it or in any of the other agreements herein on its part contained, lessor shall have the option of terminating this lease by giving to lessee ten (10) days' notice of its election to terminate the same, whereupon this lease shall thereupon terminate and lessor shall be entitled to the immediate possession of said property.

(7) Lessor hereby grants to lessee an option to purchase the said property in its then condition at any time during the term covered by this lease, or within thirty (30) days thereafter, for the purchase price of Eighteen hundred eighty and no-100 ($1880.00) Dollars. In the event the said option is exercised by lessee, the said purchase price shall be reduced by the amount of rents theretofore paid hereunder.

(8) Lessor shall not in any case or under any circumstances be liable for any loss, damage, injury or death to any person or property arising from or in any manner connected with the condition of or the use or operation of said property. Lessee specifically waives all claim for any such loss, damage, injury or death.

(9) Any notice given hereunder by lessor to lessee shall be sufficiently given if made in writing and delivered in person to the Judge of Probate or any of the members of the governing body of lessee, or forwarded by registered mail, postage prepaid, to lessee at Clanton, Alabama. Any notice given hereunder by lessee to lessor shall be sufficiently given if made in writing and served in person on any officer of lessor or forwarded by registered mail, postage prepaid, to lessor at Birmingham, Alabama.

WITNESS the signature and seals of the parties, in triplicate, this 10th day of July, 1950.

DIRECTORY DELIVERY

Indicative of the growth of Clanton and surrounding communities is the large increase in the number of telephone directories now being distributed to local telephone subscribers.

Approximately 2,041 new directories are being delivered to homes and businesses, according to P. J. Kreis, Jr., manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company, compared with 1,621 when the last directory was delivered.

The new telephone directory contains many new and changed listings and other helpful telephone information and is easily distinguishable from the old green-covered telephone book by its grey cover. A sufficient quantity of the new directories has been printed to supply every telephone subscriber and to allow for future telephone expansion.

The classified section—yellow pages—contains listings for business telephone subscribers under headings alphabetized according to their businesses or professions. "The variety of classifications describing products, services, professions and businesses provides a convenient ready reference guide when you want to locate a firm or individual," Mr. Kreis pointed out.

He requests that the old directory be discarded and that the new directory be referred to when telephone numbers are desired. Looking up the desired numbers helps to avoid the possibility of getting wrong numbers and saves time for both the calling and called parties. "Information" should be called only when the number you are seeking is not listed in the directory.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

Sam Johnson, A. W. (Shorty) Headley, and Morris Taylor have harvested approximately 2,000 pounds of Tanger peas. Tanger peas are one of the reseeding legumes and fits well in a rotation for seed production and grain sorghum.

A. R. Hayes and R. C. Crumpton, Randolph Route 1, have some very nice sericea meadow outlets. They state they are ready to begin building new terraces this fall. These two farmers are planning to plant some additional meadows to fescue in September in draws that are too wet for sericea.

TEACHERS' SALARIES STEADILY INCREASING

Montgomery, Ala. — Since 1920 salaries paid Alabama teachers have more than quadrupled, but in salary payments Alabama's rank among the 48 states has not changed. According to the June Education Bulletin just released by the Alabama Education Association, the average salary paid Alabama teachers in 1920 was $484, which ranked Alabama as the 42nd state. In 1950 the average salary paid is $2,050, but Alabama is still the 42nd state. Thus, according to the Bulletin, the generous action of governors and legislatures during the 30-year period has netted no relative progress as far as teachers' salaries are concerned.

According to the Bulletin, school business today is highly competitive. Other things being equal, teachers seek employment where they can get better salaries plus better working conditions. The rank in any state in the payment of salaries, therefore, determines in large measure the quality of teaching a particular state provides for its children.

The Bulletin carries a table which sets out the average salaries paid teachers and the percentages of teachers who hold bachelor's and master's degrees in the southeastern region. According to the table there is a close relation between salaries and training. Thus, Alabama in 1948 ranked sixth in salaries and seventh in training in the southeastern region. Texas ranked second in salaries and first in training. Florida ranked first in salaries and third in training. Mississippi ranked twelfth in salaries and twelfth in training.

Salaries paid Alabama teachers at four-year intervals between 1920 and 1948 were as follows:— 1920, $484; 1924, $635; 1928, $747; 1932, $710; 1936, $606; 1940, $744; 1944, $1,009; 1948, $1,909.

GOOD MANAGEMENT MAKES LIVESTOCK FARMING MORE PROFITABLE

At the Black Belt Substation a group of Chilton County cattlemen along with County Agent M. R. Glasscock studied latest research findings in beef production.

Substation officials pointed out that over a period of three years, fall-dropped calves have averaged bringing about $50 per head more than spring-dropped calves. The fall calves graded higher, weighed more, and sold at a higher price per pound than did spring calves.

The delegation from this county—along with groups from 13 other counties—was impressed by the fact that more brood cows need to drop calves in the fall. They agreed that beef income might be raised by as much as 25 per cent with such a program.

Good management and plenty of grazing in winter are necessary for the program to be successful, explained Substation officials.

Those at the meeting endorsed two cow-calf shows patterned closely after the findings of the Black Belt Substation. These shows, the first of their type ever held in the U. S. were held in Demopolis on July 19 and in Selma on August 3.

Four-H Club and FFA members are to enter fall-dropped calves. The animals will be judged on the basis of federal and daily rate of gain since birth.

Special emphasis is to be placed on the adult division of the show. In one class, adult cattlemen will enter five replacement heifers. In a second class, they will enter their five best fall-dropped butcher calves.

County Agent, M. R. Glasscock, said he hoped there would be a number of both junior and adult entries from this county in future shows of home produced calves. These shows, he said, will show definitely what Alabama is capable of doing in a cow-calf program.

ARMY RESERVES ASKED TO VOLUNTEER FOR ACTIVE DUTY

Recall of Army enlisted reservists, including WAC reservists and members of the inactive enlisted reserve corps, qualified in certain urgently needed jobs to extended active duty for a minimum period of one year, or such longer period as may be required, has been authorized by the Department of the Army.

Recall will be made in the grade now held in the enlisted reserve corps. Volunteers must meet current physical standards. Reservists with dependents who volunteer for recall must be in the grade of Corporal (E4) or higher.

Reservists volunteering for extended active duty will be ordered to one of the following installations nearest their homes: Ft. Bragg, N. C.; Fort Benning, Ga.; Camp Gordon, Ga.; Fort McPherson, Ga.; volunteers are most urgently needed in the following fields: Radar, radio, tank, AAA mechanic, engineer heavy equipment operators, cryptographic technicians and engineer construction specialists.

Interested reservists should contact their organized reserve corps unit commanders or the unit instructors at any of the following addresses: Birmingham ORC Area, 1954 50th Street N., Birmingham, Ala.; Anniston ORC Area, 20 East 12th Street, Anniston, Ala.; Decatur ORC Area, 329 Bank Street, Decatur, Ala.; Dothan ORC Area, 123 S. Oates Street, Dothan, Ala.; Mobile ORC Area, 1306 Street Stephens Road, Mobile, Ala.; Montgomery ORC Area, H. & R. Point, Hayneville Road, Montgomery, Ala.; Opelika ORC Area, 12 First Avenue, Opelika, Ala.; Tuscaloosa ORC Area, Bldg. 320, Northington Campus, Tuscaloosa, Ala.

4-H CLUB STATE CAMP TO BE HELD IN AUBURN SEPT. 4-9

The annual 4-H Club State Camp will be held in Auburn, September 4-9. Each year every county sends a group of boys and girls to this meeting accompanied by the Extension Agents.

The purpose of the meeting is to train and develop leaders. They, in turn, come back to their respective counties and teach all the new things that were learned to the other 4-H Club members.

The boys and girls who are to represent Chilton County this year are: Carolyn Bowman, Enterprise Club; Geraldine Wyatt, Concord Club; Bobby Sue Crowe, Mt. Pleasant Club; Ronald Smith, Thomas Jr. Club; Edie Higginbotham, Maplesville Club; and Howard Arledge, Jemison Club.

To be eligible to go to this meeting, the boy or girl must have been a faithful member of his or her club, have a project and kept a good record on it, and be at least fourteen years of age.

COACHING SCHOOL AND FOOTBALL GAME TO BE HELD UNIVERSITY SOON

University, Ala. — The University of Alabama's 18th annual coaching school and the 3rd annual All-Star high school football game, two of the late summer's biggest sporting events, are drawing nearer and plans are already being completed to insure that both will be the best ever. The coaching school will run from August 14 to 18 with the All-Star game on Friday night, August 18th.

The presence of Bud Wilkinson, Oklahoma's brilliant young Sugar Bowl mentor, and Everett Case, basketball coach of North Carolina States' perennially strong cage teams, on the coaching list along with the complete Alabama staff seems certain to attract a record attendance. During the past 17 seasons some 2300 coaches have attended the Alabama school, which still remains one of the few free coaching clinics in existence.

Two of 1949's top high school coaches, Larry "Buck" Hughes of Huntsville and Mal Morgan of Lanett will coach the North and South all-stars.

Estes Hudson of Winfield, Allen McNees of Lineville, Jim Glover of Etowah High, and Russell Inman of Fairfield will join Hughes on the North's coaching staff. Assisting Morgan will be Ward Proctor of West End High, John D. Simpkins of Jackson High, Bill Moseley of Sidney Lanier, and Jim Reynolds of Elba.

The South squad is still looking for its first victory in the late summer classic. The North won 35-0 in 1948 and by a one point margin 7-6 in 1949.

CALLED TO OVERSEAS DUTY

Sgt. Virgil M. Cleckler of 406 First Street, Clanton, Ala., has received orders transferring him overseas for further duty with the Air Force, it was announced today by Colonel Leslie G. Mulzer, Maxwell Commander.

His wife is the former Miss Betty Sue Brand of Clanton, Ala. They have two children, Cathy Ann and Dalial. He is the son of Mrs. Posey M. Cleckler of Jemison, Ala.

A Pledge to the American People

by

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company

We will resist all unwarranted price rises with all our might.

We will make every effort to hold our inventories at the lowest point consistent with good service to our customers, because hoarding, whether by wholesalers, retailers or consumers, will cause higher prices.

We will continue to maintain the lowest profit rate generally prevailing in the entire retail industry. Our net profit now is less than one cent on each dollar of sales.

We will continue to strive for more efficient distribution.

We will fight waste of food, or time, or money all along the line so as to narrow the spread between wholesale and retail prices.

We will devote all our energies to giving you the most good food for your money every day of the week.

We will strive always to do what is honest, fair, sincere and in the best interest of our country and our customers.

As most of you know, this company and the low cost, low profit policies that built it are under attack.

We are defending ourselves against a suit brought by the anti-trust lawyers to put A&P out of business.

But the greater conflict in which our country is now engaged takes precedence over all else.

Today, with our boys fighting in Korea, we believe that all citizens and all businesses, big and little, should devote themselves wholeheartedly to the public interest.

We promise the American people that we will cooperate unhesitatingly with our national government in the present crisis.

We promise you that we will continue to do everything in our power to put more buying power in your food dollar and more good food on your dinner table.

Keep Chilton County Green In Winter

Research by Alabama Polytechnic Institute's Experiment Station, thousands of demonstrations, and experiences of farmers over many years show that winter legumes for soil improvement pay-off.

You get the best yields of cotton, corn or peanuts if winter legumes are in the rotation.

The cheapest feed we can grow is pasture. Green grazing in winter keeps your animals healthier, cuts feed costs, saves labor, storage space, protects your soil. Milk produced on green grazing contains health-giving vitamins.

Great progress has been made in Chilton County in the use of winter legumes and winter grazing.

We had approximately 30,000 acres of green cover in 1949.

We should have at least 40,000 acres in green cover in 1950. Let's make Chilton County famous for green fields in winter. Now is the time to start soil preparation for 1950 green fields.

The danger season for blackleg is here, and farmers who live in a blackleg area should immunize their calves.

NAVY ASKS FOR EX-SERVICE WOMEN TO VOLUNTEER

The Navy announced recently that it has asked Naval Reserve enlisted women to submit applications for voluntary recall to active duty for an obligated and guaranteed period of twelve months.

Women in all petty officer grades, including chief petty officer, are desired in the emergency and general service rates of teleman, radioman, communications technicians, yeoman, storekeeper, aerographer, tradevman, aviation storekeeper, hospitalman and dental technician.

Applicants must have one year obligated service remaining. Those with less time may extend their enlistments for a period preferably of four years.

Volunteers accepted will be ordered to a naval activity specified by the various Naval District Commandants for outfitting and for furthering assignment by the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

CANNED GREEN APPLES MAKE DELICIOUS PIES

Apples may be preserved in many different ways, but canning is the easiest and preserves the best flavor, according to Lavada Curtis, A.P.I. Extension Service food preservation specialist.

For best results, she says to pare apples and cut them into uniform pieces. To prevent darkening until apples are canned, place them in a mild salt and vinegar solution. The solution is made by mixing two tablespoons of salt and two tablespoons of vinegar into a gallon of water. Dip apples into this solution, drain, and rinse. Boil apples for three to five minutes in syrup made by dissolving one cup of sugar in eight cups of water. Pack into containers and cover with syrup. Process pint and quart jars in a waterbath canner for 15 minutes at 212 degrees F.; No. 2 and 3 cans, 10 minutes.

VACATION TIME FOR ALABAMA HERD SIRES

Auburn, Ala. — Remove bulls from cow herds, and keep them away from cows until the first of December.

That's the advice given Alabama cattlemen by W. H. Gregory, A.P.I. Extension Service livestock marketing specialist.

"There are several reasons for removing bulls from herds early in July," he explains. "Calves born after the middle of April have more trouble with digestive disorders and with internal parasites than early calves. And they are also too light to sell while the market is high.

"On the other hand, cows bred around the first of December will have calves early in September. Calves born in September and October will be big enough to sell the following July, when the market is still high."

Gregory advises that while bulls are away from cow herds, they should be given sufficient feed to get them in good flesh by December 1. Many cattlemen find it profitable during this time to give their bulls a little grain in addition to providing a good pasture.

FIN FAN ITEMS

The Wetumpka Rod and Reel Club represented Alabama with twenty-four members in the recent National Skish Tournament held in Miami, Fla. Many anglers from the North, East, Mid-west and South were on hand to vie for the honors. The tournament was staged on the beautiful University of Miami's campus, and the contestants were handsomely entertained and lodged in the University's new dormitories overlooking Campus Lake.

Constant kind played havoc with the accuracy casting of inland State's teams. Fly fishermen of the Coosa Valley are accustomed to the quiet sloughs and the high winds on the Florida coast served a real handicap. Wetumpkas team did not place among the top brackets, but several individual casters brought home nice awards. Central Alabama's fishermen also won the attendance trophy for having the largest number present from out of state.

DRY CLEANING

Home dry cleaning is a money-saver in two ways. First, it keeps down the dry cleaning bill, and second, it saves many synthetic materials which would be ruined by ordinary home laundering

In this scientific age when the best dresses may have their origins in wood pulp, milk, Siberian stone, powdered limestone, spun glass, or coal, home dry cleaning becomes a problem of every thrifty home maker. Synthetic materials dry clean much more satisfactorily than they wash.

Dry cleaning is a process of cleaning without the use of water. This cleaning process will not remove pleats, cause shrinkage, or remove color provided a pure cleaning solution is used. Home dry cleaning is practical for general wear clothes. For special garments, a good commercial dry cleaner should do the job.

Important, too, is the fact that dry cleaning solution is very inflamable; therefore, all dry cleaning must be done out of doors. Dry cleaning solution should never be taken inside a home.

FREEZER EMERGENCY

The best emergency treatment to save the food in a home freezer, if the power goes off for more than a few hours, is to rush in a supply of dry ice.

Wrapping quilts, blankets, and crumpled newspaper around a disabled freezer will do much to retard a "warm up." However, this external insultation does help if combined with the dry ice treatment, provided the coverings are properly placed.

If a power cut-off is discovered at once and the trouble can be remedied in a few hours, a freezer owner need take no precautions.

If power is likely to remain off as much as 12 hours, frozen food is endangered. Obtain one or more 50-pound cakes of dry ice, which can be bought from such sources as ice cream manufacturers, creameries, cold storage warehouses, or dry ice distributors. Dry ice is effective even if its use is delayed seven or eight hours.

Transfer any food in the freezing compartment to a storage compartment of the freezer. Saw or chip the dry ice into pieces that will fit into each compartment. Place the dry ice on a board or heavy cardboard set directly on the package.

If blankets or other covers are also used, be sure that they are pinned or otherwise fastened so as not to cover openings through which air circulates over the compressor unit.

VOL. XXVIII CLANTON, ALABAMA THURSDAY, AUGUST 3, 1950 NUMBER 31

Poultrymen Urged to Attend Alabama Institute Aug. 9-10

County Agent, M. R. Glasscock, today encouraged all poultrymen of Chilton County to attend the third annual meeting of the Alabama Poultry Institute to be held in Auburn on August 9 and 10. This meeting is sponsored by the Alabama Poultry Association in cooperation with the Experiment Station and the Extension Service of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Ala. The purpose of this meeting is to bring to the poultrymen and hatcherymen of the state the latest information on poultry problems. The meeting will be preceeded on August 8 by the Alabama Chicken-of-Tomorrow Contest which will be held at the College Poultry Farm. This is a contest to select an outstanding broiler chicken.

Included on the program at this two-day meet will be a panel discussion of the Growth of the Poultry Industry in Alabama, a discussion on the Feeding of Laying and Breeding Hens, How IBCA Helps the Hatcheryman, Producing Eggs Efficiently, Respiratory Diseases of Poultry, The Cage System of Keeping Layers, a discussion of the Research Program at Auburn, a tour of the College Poultry Farm, Improving Relationship Between Flock Owner and Hatcheryman, Selecting Heat-Type Breeders. The Feeding and Management of Broilers, Production, Care, and Marketing of Eggs for Hatching and Commercial Eggs, discussion of the State Veterinary Diagnostic Laboratory, and Reducing Pullorum in the Flocks and Hatcheries. In addition to the discussions above, several movies of entertaining and educational value will be shown. A tea will be held for the ladies and a barbecue for the whole group will be provided. In addition to the members of the college staff and Alabama poultrymen and poultry leaders appearing on the program, out-ot-state speakers will appear as follows:

Dr. P. R. Record, Director of Research of Security Mills, Inc., Knoxville, Tenn.; Mr. Andy Christie, President of IBCA, and Christie Poultry Farms, Kingston, N. H.; Dr. F. R. Beaudette, Poultry Pathologist, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J.

Arrangements have been made to house and feed the guests at this meet- at the lowest rates possible. Men will be housed in the new men's dormitory, Magnolia Hall. Women, couples and families will be housed in cottages on the campus. This meeting has the promise of being one of the outstanding poultry get-togethers ever held in the state. It is sure to bring valuable information to all poultrymen attending. It is hoped that a representative group from this county will attend.

Enlists In Regular Army

William C. Rucker of 1005 2nd Avenue, Clanton, Ala., has taken definite steps toward finding out what the Army and Air Force have to offer in the way of training, education, security and a career of service to his country.

He chose a three-year enlistment in the Regular Army and will undergo fourteen weeks of basic training before being assigned to his respective organization.

Recruit Rucker was enlisted at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Main Station in Birmingham.

Are You Your Brother's Keeper

The age-old expression of whether or not we are our brother's keeper is at last solved in the film version of Astor Pictures Corporatión's "Messenger of Peace," now playing the nation's theatres and churches to great acclaim.

R. M. Savini, president of Astor, one of the pioneer films in distribution, says that the film brings out forcibly and convincingly that we are all our brother's keepers. In it the story of Pastor Armin Ritter, one of the most beloved of ministers, ever brought to the screen, depicts what real sacrifice and kindness for one's fellowmen really means.

In an era of motion pictures which is reaching a high in quality, Astor's "Messenger of Peace" teaches a lesson of tenderness while not losing sight of the fact that a picture must entertain. The scenes of the wolves trailing the injured man, the daughter of the town's bully being cast from her home, the moment of death of Pastor Ritter's son in a great war against despots and the manner of his dying, are all highlighted in one of the greatest religious pictures of any year.

This interesting picture will be shown Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at Clanton Drive-In.

BETHSALEM ANNUAL ALL-DAY SINGING

The Bethsalem annual all-day singing will be held Sunday, August 13th. All singers and lovers of music have a special invitation to come and be with us. Quartets all have a special welcome. — Dewey Hill, Chairman.

RECORD PROGRAM

The Clanton Kiwanis Club recorded their regular weekly meeting last Thursday night. The program was dedicated to Shut-ins and broadcast Sunday afternoon. The Committee on Church Support and Music was in charge of the program.

LETTERS FROM SERVICE MEN

July 28, 1950.
Far East Command.

Dear Sir:

Here's a letter I took from the "Stars and Stripes" here in Japan.

It may be of interest to some of your readers.

If the people back home wonder why our troops are having a hard time taking and holding new grounds, they should take a closer look. We don't, up to this date, have enough men or material. But it is on the way and with the help of God we will win the war.

Would like for you to know that I've been receiving some copies of the Chilton County News from home and believe me, the boys and myself enjoy them very much.

Yours truly,
William J. Lawrence, U.S.N.

The article mentioned by Mr. Lawrence was written by Hal Boyle and is copywrited. Therefire could not be reprinted.—Editor.

Farmers Union Meeting At J. G. Heida's

There will be a meeting of the members of the Farmers Union on Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Heida of Thorsby.

The program will include devotional by Rev. Goodgame and a discussion of the Brannan Plan by Prof. Rascoe Maddox.

Leave For Armed Service

Several local young men left Monday of this week for the armed services. Among them were Hubert Thompson, Maxwell Hargrove, Lonnie Gene Ellison, Odis DeLoach and Ray Cleckler.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER

The publishers of the 1950 Silver Shield have notified Miss Elizabeth Barton, the Senior Sponsor, that this issue of the Shield is the best they have ever printed for Chilton County High School. Because of this they have volunteered to print 50 extra copies at no added expense if given permission to use ten copies as samples for their salesmen in the field.

Because of this a few extra copies are available for those who wish to buy them. If you are interested call Sarah Nell Wyatt at Era's Beauty Shop.

The annuals are expected to arrive within the next two weeks. Notice of arrival will be published in Chilton County News.

Revival Service At Liberty Hill

August 13th the revival will begin at Shiloh Baptist Church, with the Rev. L. M. Gray of Salem, Ala., as the visiting minister. Everyone is invited to attend these services.—J. I. Bice, Pastor.

Revival Services At New Salem

The revival at New Salem Church will start Sunday with the Rev. Harris of Montgomery doing the preaching. Rev. Hymon Atcheson is the pastor.

There will be a singing in the afternoon and everybody is cordially invited.

CLANTON BASEBALL

On account of rain, the Clanton team played only three games since our last report. They defeated Jemison in Jemison 13 to 4, lost to Belle Ellen in ten innings 8 to 6 and to Holt 7 to 4 in Holt. The team now stands 15 won and 6 lost.

Schedule for Next Seven Days—

THURSDAY (tonight), August 3rd, at 8:00 in City Park, "The Gaels" of Montgomery, member of the Dixie League. This team hold two wins over Holtville and two over Prattville, and stand about third in their league.

Friday night our team goes to Autaugaville to play.

SUNDAY, August 6th, Auburn vs. Clanton, in City Park at 3:00. This Auburn team has won 20 and lost none, including recent wins over Lanett and LaGrange, Ga., of the Ala.-Ga. League, Gadsden, Childersburg, Columbus, Ga., Millers, Russellville and Decatur. Their players are from six colleges, including Alabama, Notre Dame and Tennessee. Playing with them will be Burke Stanfield, former Louisiana end, and three Auburn footballers, that help beat "Bama" last December.

WEDNESDAY, August 9th, Autaugaville vs. Clanton, in City Park, at 7:30. This Club has always given Clanton a good game, and have won their share against us.

The Clanton Club is limiting their schedule to the best teams in the State, that they can get here, and they will appreciate the fans support by coming out to see the games.

Suan Powers Enters Miss Alabama Contest

Miss Suan Powers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Powers, of Clanton is a candidate for the Miss Alabama crown and scholarship. Miss Powers is a student at Vanderbilt University where she was elected one of the head cheerleaders last season.

She is in the school of Arts and Science and has a high scholastic average.

Requirements in the Miss Alabama contest are that you be between the ages of 18 and 28, never married, of excellent character and attractive. Talent is desired, but you may enter if you have no talent but are ambitious for a college education.

REGULAR SERVICES AT PROVIDENCE (BEAT 16) SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

The Chilton County 4-H Club County Council held its meeting July 15 at the City Hall in Clanton with 37 members present.

The meeting was called to order by the Vice President, Elizabeth Dennis. The 4-H Club pledge was led by Geraldine Wyatt. The group was led in singing "Home On The Range," and "This Little 4-H Light Of Mine," by Dorothy Connell. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Roll was called by the Secretary, Laura Ann Dennis.

Plans were made by the Council to spend their play equipment money which amounted to thirty dollars. The following equipment is to be bought:

One dodge ball, two baseballs, two ball bats, one volley ball, one volley ball net, football and handicraft material.

This equipment is to be used in the 4-H summer picnics.

The 4-H Summer picnics will be held this month. Only the 4-H Club members that have a mailbox, or a sign, and a project and a record on this project are eligible to attend these picnics. This year the picnics will be held at the City Park in Clanton.

A short recreation program was held where a new song was taught the group after which the meeting was adjourned and the group went to a local store for refreshments.

Associated Producers Plan Final Concerts

Every night in the week and most every Sunday afternoon, music floats sweetly out into the summer air around the First Baptist Church in Clanton. Working far into the night the Associated Producers and the top vocalists of Clanton are preparing two ambitious programs for your enjoyment. A choral program to be presented on August 10th is being whipped into shape under the competent direction of Mrs. Raymond P. Mims. Regardless of your tastes in choral music, you will find something to thrill you in the excitingly varied music.

Besides the choral program the Associated Producers and their talented company are working diligently to climax the season with something Clanton has never before seen or heard: H. M. S. Pinafore by Gilbert and Sullivan, a comic operetta beautifully costumed and staged. The operetta is a delightfully amusing satire on British manners and moves and has probably the best of Sullivan's wonderfully comic and beautiful scores. This will be presented on August 31st.

These young people here in town are working unusually hard to give you a few hours of unique entertainment. They all appreciate the inspiring support and favorable comment that the people of Clanton have given them, and they are sure that these last two rograms will be the best you have ever attended. Don't forget the 10th of August and the thirty-first of August; be sure to keep those evenings open tor another date with the Associated Producers.

Judge Melton Named President By Association

The Circuit Judges of Alabama in session at Birmingham last Friday elected Judge Oakley Melton of the 19th Judicial Circuit President of the Alabama Association of Circuit Judges for the ensuing year.

Judge Melton succeeds Judge James Crowe of Decatur. Other officers elected are Judge T. J. Mashburn, Jr., of Bay Minette, vice-president, and Judge Eugene Hawkins, of Birmingham, secretary-treasurer.

Lawrence Paint Adds Building To Services

J. P. Lawrence, Jr., who for the past few years has operated the Lawrence Paint Company as a partnership with Morris Wyatt has bought Mr. Wyatt's interests in the paint store and home supply department and has added home construction to the many services offered by his store.

Mr. Wyatt, who took the contracting department of the business has joined Buddy Popwell in a new business which they have named the Chilco Paint Co. They are located on the Selma Road.

Mr. Lawrence has five new homes under construction in the new subdivision Lakeview, recently developed by Reedie Taylor. He invites your inspection of these homes.

SIDNEY A. ASKINS

Mr. Sidney A. Askins, age 67, of Clanton, Alabama, died at 9:30 a.m., July 30th, at the residence. Funeral services were held at Bethsalem at 3:00 p.m. Monday.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Estelle Askins; two sons, D. H. Askins of Clanton and Dennis M. Askins of Clanton; one daughter, Miss Agnes Askins of Clanton; one brother, L. F. Askins of Billingsley; five sisters—Mrs. Susan Billingsley of Billingsley, Mrs Ida Silas of Verbena, Mrs. Julia Scarbcrough of Clanton, Mrs Maggie Wilkins of Thorsby and Mrs. Cora Johnson of Prattville and two grandchildren.

Pallbearers were: Alonza, Harold and Bill Askins, Guy Silas, Jess Henson and L. C. Cagle.

Flower ladies were: Ida Holley, Martha Rose Askins, Louise McKee, Margaret Davenport, Thelma Littleton, Besta Wilkins, Minnie Shelton, Doris Henson, Flora Crowson, Edith Crem, Mrs. M. C. Jines, Minnie Pearl Silas, Frances Lee Strength, Edna Taylor and Vivian Cagle.

Spigener Funeral Home in charge.

REVIVAL AT CONCORD

The revival will begin at Concord Sunday, August 6th, and continues through Friday, August 11th. Rev. B. B. Burke of Thorsby will be our Evangelist. Bro. Burks is a good preacher. God is forgiving, Jesus loves you and the Holy Spirit will guide you.

THE COTTON-VETCH-CORN ROTATION

Results of A.P.I. Agricultural Experiment Station tests show and many state farmers have found the best rotation for making high yields of cotton and corn at a lower cost. It is a simple two-year rotation of cotton with vetch or other good legume planted in the cotton middles. The legume is followed by corn which is followed by cotton.

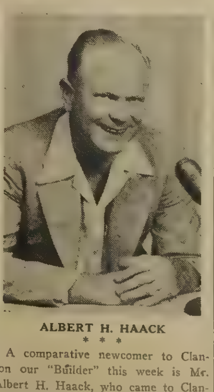
Builders of Clanton

ONE OF A SERIES



ALBERT H. HAACK

* * *

A comparative newcomer to Clanton our "Builder" this week is Mr. Albert H. Haack, who came to Clanton two years ago as manager of the Woodward Motor Company.

Recently he has become popular as a master of ceremonies and does the job extremely well.

ber of the Presbyterian Church and chairman of the Board of Deasons. He

He was born at Gary, Ind., 35 years ago. Completed schooling there and spent three years at Perdue University studying industrial engineering. He is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha and Delta Sigma Chi Engineering fraternity.

He spent much of his time recently in making a success of the Chilton County Peach Festival. He is a mem- is Commander of the American Legion Post No. 6, and says he hopes to see a Legion Home constructed during his term as commander.

Recently he was elected president of the Clanton Lions Club.

About his family life he is married and has a family of three. A wife and two children, a boy and a girl. Mrs. Haack was the former Miss Martha Nicoles whom Mr. Haack married while he was in the U. S. Air Force where he spent four years.

He is an untiring worker in anything that interests him and civic work is his hobby. Seldom has anyone earned a place so quickly in the business and civic life of Clanton as has Mr. Haack, and our wish for him is that he realizes his ambitions and finds that pot of gold at the foot of the rainbow.

He is employed as commercial manager at Radio Station WKLF.

BLIGHTS FAMILY LIFE

One of the amazing things that greet students of modern life is the failure of many people — men, women and children—to take a personal interest in the development of a happy, safe and intelligent family.

Men, who are wizards in the business world, make miserable failures as husbands and fathers. Mothers, who are attractive in looks and intelligent in activities, also fail dismally in making their homes duplicate these attributes. Children, who amaze strangers by their good qualities, rarely exhibit these virtues when within the family circle.

Let us make it plain that we are not talking about dissolute, profligate or worthless people. We are referring to the people in communities who are considered the backbone of local society and the pace-setters of local affairs. Nor do we intend to assert that charming family life does not exist in Chilton County. What we call attention to is that, too often, it is not to be found in the homes where one would expect to look for utmost felicity.

There will be some people who read this and realize that their family, as a social unit, is happy, harmonious, cooperative and eminently successful by any standard. These families are to be admired. Whether they know it or not, they are somewhat more fortunate than many others.

There will be other men and women who will instantly admit to themselves that their own home life and its development of admirable family traits is not as it might have been. What is the answer? Boiled down, let's call it plain selfishness, and then think the problem out on this feud and the end of many a blood-battle will be the result.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

Ed Bowden sells lots and lots of eggs. Folks stop by all the time between Birmingham and Montgomery to buy Ed's eggs, or that is his hen's eggs. Saturday morning the tables were turned. Where in the past Ed has been putting the "bee" on his customers, well, that morning Ed got the "bee" put on him. He had gone out to the hen house to gather eggs. Reaching in one of his favorite nests for the expensive fruit of the hen, he came out with a fist full of yellow jackets. You can bet your barred-rock rooster his fist didn't stay full of "bees" long, or for that matter, eggs either. Right then was when eggs, bees, basket and Ed, all went in different directions—and fast. Well, all's well that ends well, all but Ed's neck. When we saw him he was nursing a knot the same size of a hen egg on the side of his neck and when we reminded him it was the same size of a hen's egg, he turned deathly pale and suggested that we never mention hen egg to him again, or anyway for a long time.

Lige Smith certainly does a good job at the post office. He is custodian there and since he has been around the grounds and building have a different look. He is to be commended for his interest and pride in his duties. A lot of public servants we know could take lessons from Lige.

Judge Oakley Melton has been elected President of the Alabama Circuit Judges Association we see by our favorite newspaper. We can easily understand the Association electing Judge Melton. He is a most likable gentleman and this District is proud of the honor he has brought us. Our most sincere congratulations to the Judge.

Don't make a snap judgement when you look at the front cover of the Horse Show Program this year. That beautiful picture you see on the front cover is no horse. That is beautiful Barbara Fain who is the Lions Club sponsor. While we are talking about the Horse Show programs let us compliment Erle Ellis on a difficult job well done. He did a lot of hard work on getting out that program and has a mighty nice program for his efforts.

As we walked into the Dixie Monday morning for a cup of coffee who could be first to call greetings but Tom McKee. Mr. Tom said, "Ben, if you knew how ugly you were you would go home and shave." Now, confidentially, that's a heck of a way to greet a fellow on Monday morning. But, anyway, it's the first time we knew that we had anything in common with Mr. Tom. Kidding aside, Tom McKee sure missed his calling when he didn't make philosophy his life's work. He is a natural born philosopher. Wonder if he ever read the lines:

"I know how ugly I are,
I know my face ain't no star.
But me, I don't mind it
Because I am behind it.
It's the one in front gets the jar."

These lines were taken from the July issue of Powergrams . No comments are necessary they speak for themselves.

Let us congratulate the City Fathers on their decision to put a traffic light on the corner at Second Avenue and Fifth Street. This corner has worried us for several years due to the heavy traffic there and the blind corners caused by parking too close to the intersection. With the new traffic light there we are sure chances for an accident are lessened.

When only a few drops of lemon juice are needed, puncture the skin of the lemon with a fork and gently squeeze out the amount of juice needed. This eliminates the waste that occurs when a lemon is cut, as it keeps the remaining lemon juice fresh.

(answer to last week's puzzle)

The Preacher's Influence

Of all the people in a community with influence against the things that are wrong and standing for the things that are right, should be the preachers. The preachers of Chilton County have this influence to a degree. We have been credited with removing the Peach Festival dance off of the streets of this city and eliminating the wearing of the bathing suits of the girls running for Peach Queen.

A. T. HICKMAN

As you have read in the papers that in previous years the Peach Festival has ended with a well-enjoyed street dance, as well as the girls appearing before the judges in bathing costumes. But since some of the preachers were against such practice, they succeeded in banning both bathing beauties and the dance.

We ministers of the Gospel of Christ do not receive the publicity given us as criticism, but as "credit." Our ego would have a boost if we could believe that it was our being against the bathing costumes, and the dance that caused the Peach Festival committee to have a different program this year, than previous years. If it is true that our influence did the job, then we have no apologies to make to any one. We only take courage to fight other evils which we are very much against.

As far as the waitress in a main street, Clanton cafe, who said that she could shoot half of the preachers, the same spirit runs through every communist's blood streams. Several thousand priests have been shot since 1945 by the Communists. And when, and if, they ever take this country, not only will there be the doing away with the preachers, but with all others who name the Name of Christ, and will stand firm in their Christian conviction. Take away your Gospel ministers and what would you have left? Take away our influence in the community and see how quick the whole works will go to the devil. There are still preachers in the world with a backbone like the prophets of old. John the Baptist lost his head because he reproved the king for his sins—and it was a dancing girl who asked for his head.

Once more I will lift my voice against the wearing of the bathing costumes before the eyes of decent people; and the closing the Peach Festival with a dance. And every member of my church stands 100 per cent with me in my conviction. The members of the Temple Church hate such sins as their pastor does.

How Can I?

(By Anne Ashley)

Q. How can I make brooms and mops last longer?

A. Don't let the brooms, brushes and mops stand on their straws, bristles and strings. Bore a hole through the handle of each, near the far end, and insert the ends of a wire in each end of this hole, forming a loop for hanging.

Q. How can I treat scars that have resulted from pimples?

A. These scars usually will disappear very soon if they are bathed with a solution of boracic acid, followed by an application of zinc ointment.

Q. How can I prevent deposit from gathering on the inside of the tea kettle?

A. Boil two or three clam shells in the kettle occasionally.

Q. How can I remedy a tight shoe that binds at the toe?

A. Wring a cloth out of hot water, fold it and lay it across the toe, while the shoe is on the foot. This will cause the leather to expand and conform to the shape of the foot.

Q. How can I freshen stale pretzels?

A. Pretzels often lose their crispness even when they are kept in a tin container. To bring back their original crispness, put them in a moderate oven until they are heated thoroughly.

Q. How can I prevent tearing a dress pattern?

A. Cut the dress patterns out of old cloth instead of paper. This kind of pattern will not tear, and it will cling to the goods without pinning.

Q. How can I make an attractive garnish?

A. Cook two eggs until very hard, remove the shells and let them stand in vinegar, in which beets have been pickled. The result will be an attractive shade of red, and when sliced will look very pretty against green lettuce leaves.

Q. How can I remove marks from dishes, caused by baking in the oven?

A. These marks can be removed by rubbing the spots well with damp salt, then washing off, and repeating the treatment if necessary.

Q. What is a good bathroom deodorizer?

A. A good deodorizer for the bathroom is a bottle of lemon juice, left uncorked.

Q. How should buttons be fastened on lace?

A. Tie buttons on lace instead of sewing them on, using a needle with doubled thread. The ends should be tied under the buttons and on the wrong side. If tied carefully, the buttons are easily removed when the lace is to be freshened.

Your Health

POISONOUS PLANTS

Are you planning a picnic or hike through the woods? Before you pack your lunch and put on your hiking shoes, it is best you hunt up a book about plants and study the pictures of poison ivy, poison sumac and poison oak so that you will recognize these plants and avoid them.

Poison ivy with its group of three, notched shiny leaves is everywhere. It may be a low shrub, a rambling vine on the ground, or a climbing vine twining around trees, covering fences and stone walls.

Poison oak is also a vine with the same characteristic groups of three notched leaves. It, too, is found as a low shrub, a climbing or crawling vine.

Poison sumac is a shrub or small tree which may grow 20 feet high. You can distinguish the poisonous sumac from the harmless variety by its loose, dropping clusters of berries which are always white.

These three plants secrete an oily substance. When you walk through them or brush past, the leaves are bruised and minute amounts of the oil cling to the skin and cause severe poisoning. These amounts of oil are so small they can probably be conveyed in the smoke of burning plants, by insects, or by a shoe which has come in contact with the plant. Scratching transfers it to other parts of the body.

Some people seem to be immune to one or all of these poisonous plants, while others are so susceptible that they become extremely ill when exposed to them. As a general rule, poisoning is more likely to occur when the skin is covered with perspiration or when one has just come from swimming.

If you have been in contact with poisonous plants, wash the exposed areas of the skin using plenty of hot water and soap. Make a thick lather and wash five or six times, being careful not to use a brush or rough materials because they only irritate the skin more. Then, if convenient,, wash thoroughly with rubbing alcohol.

If the skin does become red and swollen and itches violently, apply calamine lotion. However, if there is extreme poisoning, consult your physician.

YOU can have fun figuring out your message from the Orient by use of this pleasant little letter puzzle. If the number of letters in your first name is 5 or less, subtract from 7. If more than 5 letters in your first name, subtract from 13. Now take this result and find your key letter in the word ORIENT at the top of this puzzle. Then, starting at the upper left corner, check each one of your large key letters as it appears from left to right. Below the key letters is a code message for you.

UP SURGE FROM 1897

(By Mrs. Russell Williams, President Chilton County High School Parent-Teachers Association 1950-51).

Parent-Teachers Association
Alerted citizens for civilization
Working together—to better the child,
At home, church, school and community.

P.-T.A. has extended from Washington, D.C.
To cover this area that includes you and me,
To "live democracy" each step of the way
If we value our heritage of 1897—Don't play.

The Four-Point Program, a challenge to all—
How high do we value our teachers in the fall?
Do we grow in world understanding, in our community outlook?
Do we develop new leaders as we study our book?

A manual so full of the duties you see
Knowledge and growth for all committees
The programs are fine, our leaders so true
I wonder, my friend, does this include you?

Then hurry to the telephone, call in your name
To be numbered with those in the Hall of Fame.
Alerted Citizens aroused and aware—
Given accurate information to do and to dare.

Step into pace—in Democracy's race,
We'll strive and strengthen by God's grace,
To shoulder our charge, advantages to give,
So every child mental, physical, social, and spiritual can live.

To develop his talents in a land now free—
Strengthen each point cause men to see
That blinding neglect binds liberty.

Awake us now—to a task so great,
Freedom of soul—Liberty at stake,
If we dare to slumber in this hour of need—
"We'll sow what we reap," or reap what we seed.

My friends, P.?T.A. needs your ideas, interest too
But most of all—just you.
All fathers and mothers—teachers and others
Civic minded people who love their brothers
To strengthen, support in cooperation
This community that is part of our great nation.

Why do you wait—for people to call?
Seeking your membership—early in fall?
Wouldn't it be better if the world could see
Leaders lead out in membership fee?

Somehow I believe—if men did know
What a dollar could do—divided so
Over a period of months—nine exact
I believe they would quickly begin to act.

A dollar you say—just for a year?
To build a program, while I live here?
Surely I bow my head in shame—
Vowing to God — never again
Shall I be so slack—
From this moment forward, I act.

Hello, operator—131-M
Hello, Hello,
Mrs. Parr? This is Jim
I want you to accept my dollar membership fee
Yes, Call me — if I can help in our community.

It is men like this, women too
That the world awaits — but they come too few.
Little men, big men, women so fine
Can't you help Chilton High P.-T.A. be 100% on time?

JESSE JONES ENLISTED IN REGULAR ARMY

Jesse S. Jones of Route 5, Clanton, Ala., enlisted in the Regular Army last week for a period of three years.

He immediately entrained for Fort Knox, Ky., where he will receive his basic training preparatory to future assignment in specialized work.

He was enlisted at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Main Station in Birmingham, Ala.

Fin Fan Items

The Alabama Power Company is leasing water front lots for the purpose of increasing the recreational use of the beautiful Lakes Lay, Mitchell and Jordan on the Coosa River. So as to serve those that do not choose to build cottages, various picnic areas have been set aside for the general public. The picnic area built on Lake Jordan last year in the Lakeland Sub-Division has proven very beneficial and popular to the large crowds that enjoy it on week ends and holidays. During the past week through the congenial cooperation of the Chilton County Road Commission, a new road was graded into the public picnic area of Mitchell Beach Sub-Division, Lake Mitchell. In the very near future several barbecue pits and tables will be erected and the swimming beach will be made very attractive. Everyone is cordially invited to go out and enjoy the picnic area, the only request is, please watch those matches and help us keep the area clean by taking care of your own left overs. Private boats may be docked in the area by obtaining a permit from the Recreational Development Office in Clanton or Land Department, Alabama Power Company, Birmingham 2, Ala.

Jug fishing sure has become popular in the last few weeks. The fishermen are not contented to fish with one pole and line, but have substituted cans for jugs and fish twenty-five or thirty at a time. Just throw them in and relax in the shade and drift with the cans. Some very nice catches of catfish and drum have been reported.

The fishing outlook is encouraging as large and smallmouth bass begin to strike in larger numbers. Mr. J. L. Glenn, operator of the Pennymotley Fishing Camp, reports a whopper-catcher in the Alabama Power Company contest. A 5-pound largemouth bass was caught by John F. Baker, Montgomery, while trolling Pennymotley Creek, Lake Mitchell. Mr. Baker has out about a hundred feet of line when the big fellow struck, and for a while it looked like this was going to be another big one that got away.

Come on you weigh-in stations, send in those whopper-catchers.

Safety Comment of the Day: Avoid running too close to fishermen, bathers, cottages, etc. Give your water neighbors the same consideration you have the right to expect. Do not forget your wake can damage others.—"SAFE OUTBOARDING."

MRS. ELIZA E. HEADLEY

Mrs. Eliza E. Headley, age 82, of Jemison, Ala., died Tuesday, July 25th. Funeral services were held at Pleasant Grove Thursday, July 27th, conducted by the Rev. J. M. McKinney.

She is survived by three sons — Ormond of N. Y., Wilburn of Clanton, and Marvin of Savannah, Ga.; two daughters, Mrs. Zelma Jones of Clanton and Mrs. Dezzie Littlejohn of Jemison; four brothers — W. C. and J. M. Roper of Clanton, A. M. Roper of Dallas, Texas, and H. M. Roper of Montgomery; two sisters, Mrs. Calista Williams of Clanton and Mrs. Etta Apperson of Billingsley and a number of grand children and great grand children.

Spigener Funeral Home in charge.

ARE YOU FIGHTING THE COTTON INSECT WAR SUCCESSFULLY?

Generally, growing cotton successfully must be done with a well planned dusting program. Frequent showers may wash away the application of dust but you must follow through with another applciation of dust. Some say that dusting just a few hours ahead of a rain does no good, but by close observation after an application of dust one can see the insects leaving for other places of refuge. A planned periodic program of dusting may be upset by frequent showers but the successful farmer will not stop there. Dry weather offers an opportunity for periodic dustings; all of this must be considered in fighting this cotton insect war profitably.

The dusting picture here in Chilton County, as released from the County Agent's report does not look good for a profitable production of cottn. We shuld consider some of the following questions:

1. Does dusting pay?
2. What is the best kind of dust to use?
3. When should it be applied and how much should I use per acre?
4. Which would be the cheaper for me to use, a hand duster or hire a commercial duster?
5. Is my acreage large enough to require a commercial duster?

To answer the above questions intelligently, plan a conference with farmers who have been successful with their dusting programs, and you may consult your County Agent; your insecticide dealers.

If all farmers growing cotton would dust properly, we would need 525 tons of dust. The report up to July 10, 1950, showed that 194 tons had been accounted for, or probably used. That showed a need for 313 additional tons of dust. Can we profit by this problem remaining as it is? We want to see a good job well done. Let us not take the unprofitable chance of trying to grow cotton without proper dusting. Let us do something about this problem. — B. T. Whittington, Vocation Agriculture Teacher.

LAWRENCE - MELTON VOWS SAID

A wedding of interest to their many friends was that of Miss Norma Jean Lawrence and Dovard Tolbert Melton Sunday, July 23rd, at 2 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lawrence, on 7th Street.

The home was beautifully and artistically arranged with summer flowers throughout. The vows were said before an improvised altar of pastel summer flowers, ferns and smilax.

The Reverend W. D. Holliday, Plantersville, officiated with the double ring ceremony. Miss Bobby Gray, Miss Nan Nivens and Joe Douglas Grooms presented nuptial music

Wearing a navy bolero suit with navy and white accessories, the lovely bride carried a white satin prayer book marked with white carnations and ribbon.

Miss Roy Pearl Traywick, Wetumka, Ala., was maid of honor. Edwin Thornton of Clanton served as best man.

The bride's parents entertained with a reception immediately following the ceremony. The table covered with hand-made linen lace was centered with the three-tiered white wedding cake embossed with spun sugar flowers and a miniature bride and groom. The bride cut the cake, assisted by the groom. Mrs. Bill Agee, sister of the bride, presided over the punch bowl.

The bride is a graduate of Chilton County High School, and the groom attended school here and served for two years in the armed forces overseas in Germany. He is employed by the Coca-Cola Bottling Company, Anniston, Ala.

After a short wedding trip the young couple will make their home in Anniston.

The wedding was witnessed by immediate friends of the couple. Out-of-town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koder, Anniston; Mr. and Mrs. Golden Gothard, Miss Mittice Gothard, Miss Jean Cofer, Jemison; Miss Roy Pearl Traywick, Wetumpka, Ala.; and Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Holliday, Plantersville, Ala.

TIME TO IMPROVE STANDS OF TIMBER

Auburn, Ala. — The time when unwanted trees can be killed the easiest will soon be here, according to I. R. Martin, A.P.I. Extension Service forester.

He explains that killing "weed" trees is a money-making practice used by many farmers. Furthermore, the Production and Marketing Administration will help with the cost of the job if certain conditions exist in the woods and if certain things are done.

"The cost of doing the work will prove to be a good investment in the years ahead," declares the specialist, "even if PMA help is not available at present."

The local county agent has complete details on killing unwanted trees

STORAGE OF HATCHING EGGS

The best storage temperature for hatching eggs is 50 degrees F. Temperatures of 40 degrees and below are definitely harmful and those of 60 to 70 degrees tend to reduce hatchability.

NOW IS THE TIME TO PREPARE FOR GREEN FIELDS IN WINTER

RIDE through almost any part of Alabama during the next month and you will see fields being prepared for planting. These same fields will be green in Winter. They will be the fields which, in an increasing quantity, are providing year-round grazing. They are also the fields improved by the cover crops planted in the Fall and plowed under in the Spring.

More and more Alabama fields are green in Winter. Their increasing number is a symbol of agricultural progress—progress which has lead to improved farm income in many sections.

For details of what to plant for green fields in Winter and when to plant, ask your county agent or write Extension Service, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Alabama.

Harold Lawrence Has Birthday—

Little Harold Lawrence celebrated his 3rd birthday on Monday, July 31, when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Lawrence entertained at an afternoon lawn party.

The sight of Harold's birthday cake brought thrills from his little guests, when they saw the cake was topped with several miniature cowboys and their horses resting around the burning brush- heap. The three tiny burning candles represented the bon fire. A typical miniature weatern fence encircled the cowboy scene.

One of the highlights of this happy occasion was when the honoree opened the gifts brought by his friends.

Games were played during the afternoon. Each little guest was presented with favors of bicycle whistles, inflated balloons and lollypops.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lawrence. Invited guests were: Josephine and Jack Moore, Charlie Patterson, Bobby and Tommy Powers, Beth Maddox, Robert Mullins, George Tucker, Susan Elsevier, Jim Wade, Beverly Hicks, Larry Bodden and Betty Kyzer.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Mims and children of Prattville visited Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Green Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cleckler have visiting them from West Virginia, Mr. Cleckler's brother and family.

J. S. WRIGHT

On July 29th J. S. Wright, age 83, passed away at the home of a daughter, Mrs. J. P. Nix, in Ensley, at 7:30 a.m.

Mr. Wright was born near Rockford in Coosa County. At the age of 12 he came to Chilton County to live and have lived here since.

His friends were numbered by the scores as was shown by the crowd who attended his funeral in the inclement weather on Sunday afternoon and the beautiful floral offering. He was always interested in the spiritual welfare of people and was always ready and willing to give good advice and worked for the betterment of the community in which he lived.

The funeral was held at Pleasant Grove Church four miles west of Jemison, and was conducted by the Revs. J. W. Jones, Homer Carroll and Hymon Atcheson; interment was in the adjoining cemetery.

Pallbearers were: Leonard, Comer and Jack Lenoir, George and Wesley Wright and Lamar Nix.

MACEDONIA

Our Vacation Bible School ran here last week. The attendance was good and everybody seemed to enjoy it. We believe the pupils and every one received a real blessing and we want to thank all the teachers and Bro. Atcheson for the kind efforts and help with the school. It closed Friday night. We are hoping to have another one next year.

Our sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Odis Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones and family on the account of the death of their father and brother, Mr. George Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Cofer were the week end guests of the Green Cofer family in Siluria.

Mrs. Arlis Harris and son and Mrs. Ernest Harris of Selma spent some time with their mother last week and attended the funeral of their uncle, Mr. George Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Pratt Crumpton and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Veazey and children, Mary and Joyce Oates, are vacationing at the Gulf this week.

Mr. Hoyt Freeman spent two or three days on vacation last week.

Our cemetery cleaning turned out fine last Saturday. A large crowd came and they all worked hard.

MAPLE SPRINGS

Our annual singing was held Sunday. The crowd was not as large as usual due to the weather, but despite the bad weather, we had a wonderful singing. Prof. O. L. Devaughn, the chairman, opened the singing with Bro. N. E. Cook leading in prayer. The directors for the morning were: J. F. Hammond, Jack Jones, Bro. George Smith, P. C. Garnett, Edward Jones, Orbie Devaughn, Mrs. P. C. Garnett, J. W. Devaughn, Marvin Lowery. Mrs. J. B. Hammond, Buford Durden. Olive Boone, Mrs. Lois Mingledorff, Mrs. Oliver Boone, and Raiford Boone. We were dismissed for the lunch hour by Bro. George Smith. A bountiful lunch was spread which everyone seemed to enjoy.

Prof. O. L. Devaughn opened the afternoon session with Bro. M. Lockhart leading in prayer. The directors for the afternoon were: H. G. Littlejohn, Jesse C. Jones, Akins Collins, L. T. Grant, Rev. M. Lockhart, Orbie Devaughn, Edward Jones, C. P. Garnett, J. L. Hayes, Marvin Lowery, J. W. Devaughn, Mrs. P. C. Garnett, Jack Jones, Belton Vickery, J. B. Hammond, Norris Vickers, Bro. Geo. Smith, Jimmy Vickery, Mrs. J. B. Hammond. A solo was given by Becky Vickery. The Highland Quartet of Prattville, the Vickery Quartet of Montgomery, and the Liberty Hill Quartet rendered several good numbers each during the day. The pianists for the day were Edward Jones, Mrs. Quincey Littlejohn, Nelma Jo Boockholdt, Mrs. Lois Mingledorff and Mrs. Belton Vickery. The singing was closed with prayer by Bro. L. D. Hughes, the pastor of our church.

We take this opportunity to again thank the teachers and people who made our Vacation Bible School a great success. There was an average attendance each night of 99, the highest attendance being one hundred and three.

We are having a wonderful revival this week with many attending. Bro. Cecil Little has been bringing some very inspiring messages.

We are very proud of the two young girls who have given their lives to Christ. Bro. Little asks to do three things this week. They are to pray for him as he brings the messages, read the Book of John, and come and bring someone with you.

ISABELLA

The revival at Mulberry came to a close last Sunday. There were six additions to the church for baptism: Mary Nell Veasey, Joyce Veasey, Jessie Mae Holcomb, Donald Culp, Jean McCraw and Mrs. Judson Cummings. Baptism was to be held last Sunday morning, but due to the rain it was postponed until Sunday, August 6th, at 3:00 p.m.

Isabella lost their game with Mineral Springs Saturday afternoon. They will play again Saturday on their own field.

- Mrs. Vonnie Roper of Bessemer visited relatives here last week.

Our community extends its sympathy to the many friends and relatives of Mr. Will DeShazo, who died and was buried in Florida last week. Also to the friends of Mr. Curtis Matthews who passed away in Tuscaloosa and was buried at his wife's home church last week. Both men lived in our community for some time several years ago.

We also extend our sympathy to the friends of Mr. John Wright who passed away in Birmingham and was laid to rest at Pleasant Grove No. 1 last Sunday.

FALL VEGETABLES

A good firm seed bed is most important in getting a stand of fall vegetable crops.

CANE CREEK

The meeting Sunday was good and well attended. Plenty of food and everybody enjoyed the day. We were glad to have the visitors.

The Bible School started in a fine way and had a large attendance. We feel like this will be a great help to our church and community. We are glad to have Bro. Smith and wife with us.

Our revival starts Saturday. Bro. Carroll will be the helper. Visitors are welcome.

MT. PISGAH

We were proud of the number present for Sunday School Sunday. It was real good for the weather to be as it was.

We are so sorry to hear Bro. Luther Yeargan is ill again. We hope for him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Mims of Montgomery and Mrs. Myrtle Yeargan of Talladega spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Luther Yeargan.

We were glad to see Mr. Claud Tucker at Sunday School. He spent the week end at home.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Davis returned from Florida off their vacation and reported a nice trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Yeargan spent last week end with Mr. and Mrs. John Yeargan. They were visiting from Talladega.

We will be looking for you to meet us at Sunday School next Sunday, for we need you. — Reporter.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends for the many deeds of kindness and sympathy shown us during our bereavement, in the loss of our father. Especially do we want to thank the Revs. J. W. Jones, Homer Carroll and Hymon Atcheson for their comforting words and the Liberty Hill Quartet for the music. To each of you who made a contribution on the floral offerings. We say, "Thank you!"

May God's richest blessings be on each of you is our prayer.—The Family of J. S. Wright.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives for their many acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings rendered at the death of our precious husband, father and grandfather, Sidney A. Askins. We especially thank Rev. Hymon Atcheson and Rev. Ed Wilkins for their consoling words.

May the Lord's richest blessings rest upon each and everyone of you is our prayer. — Mrs. Sidney Askins, Children and Grandchildren.

Church News—

Revival services will begin at the Baptist Church next Sunday, August 6th. Rev. J. L. Monroe of Birmingham will be the visiting preacher. There will be morning services at 7 o'clock and evening services at 7:30. Every one should make special efforts to attend these services.

At the W.M.U. meeting last Monday afternoon at the Baptist Church the Sunbeam Band, with their leader, gave an interesting and inspiring devotional. All the children quoted from memory, Scripture verses from the Bible. Then little Wayne Atcheson led in prayer. After the prayer Tommy Watson, Ruby Jean Chambers and Wayne Atcheson led in singing Sunbeam songs. Everyone enjoyed this program very much. Mrs. Theron Watson is doing a wonderful work with the children.

The Sunday School and W.M.U. of the Baptist Church have been doing a great work here in community missions. We pray for the widows and orphans, for the needy, but very little is done about it. The members of these organizations have been putting legs on their prayers, by getting groceries and other necessities for needy widows and orphan's. Every one has responded eagerly and generously with their gifts. This is Christ-like giving. God will bless those who give. Jesus said, "As ye do it unto one of the least of these, ye do it into Me." With Mr. Carlos Owens as superintendent of the Sunday School and Mrs. H. M. Nix W.M.U. Community Missions Chairman, great good is being done here. Many do not practice what they preach.

Car-Train Crash—

Last Sunday afternoon at the intersection of Selma and University highways at Maplesville, Mr. Curtis Baisten of Montgomery, Ala., was seriously injured when his car crashed with a moving train. He suffered a fractured hip, crushed leg, face lacerations and internal injuries. The car was completely demolished. There was no one in the car with him. He was taken to a Selma hospital.

Death of Mr. Grover Merchant—

Last Wednesday morning a message came to Maplesville of the sudden death by heart attack of Mr. Grover merchant of Powderly, Ala. Mr. Merchant was a resident of Maplesville for many years, employed by the Graham Lumber Company.

At the time of his death he was employed by the Wood Lumber Company at Powderly, near Birmingham, and died [illegible] at work.

Funeral services were conducted at the [illegible] Baptist Church by a former pastor, Rev. Halln[illegible] assisted by [illegible] George Parker. Burial was in [illegible] Cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Sula Hamric[illegible] Merchant, [illegible] Frank of [illegible] [illegible] han [illegible] Hi[illegible] [illegible] M[illegible] [illegible] grat[illegible]

He was [illegible] years old.

We [illegible] est [illegible] y. Attending the funeral services at Powderly last Thursday from Maplesville were: Rev. and Mrs. Ka[illegible] [illegible] Mrs. Douglas [illegible] H[illegible] Miss M[illegible] [illegible] Pearson, Mr. J[illegible] M[illegible] [illegible] Preston McGee.

Goings and Comings—

[illegible] Mrs. Evan Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Clapp are away this week [illegible] a few days vacation at Gulf Shores.

Mrs. Underwood, who has been nurse for Dr. C. N. Parnell for four years, has gone away to be with a sister at Montevallo, Ala. Mrs. Eddings of Montevallo is now with Dr. Parnell as nurse. Dr. Parnell is much improved, for which his friends are grateful.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Turnipseed (Jewel Mitchell) of Birmingham spent last week end here with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gillespie spent Sunday in Birmingham with Mrs. Gillespie's son, S-Sgt. Tommy Williams.

Miss Marzell Hayes visited with her mother in Powderly, Ala., last Sunday.

We are happy to report that Mrs. Sudie Graham has returned to her home here from a hospital in Birmingham and is doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Rucker and daughter, June, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Rucker of Clanton last Sunday. They also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ohzie Garner.

Mrs. Rube Bearden and daughters, Mrs. Myrlin Giles, Miss Mishie Bearden and Gary Bearden were in Selma last Wednesday to see an eye specialist for Gary and also to do some shopping.

Mr. Curtis Nordan of Montgomery, Ala., who has been staying with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Stough, Sr., while working with the State for some time, left Friday afternoon to enter school at the University of Alabama. He has one year at the University and plans to continue his studies there during the coming year.

Mr. R. C. Stough, Jr., who served in the Navy during the last war, is a Navy Reserve and expects a call to go back to service any time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kelley left Maplesville Monday with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kelley, of Birmingham, to visit Mr. Raymond Oden and Mr. Pete Oden in Louisville, Ky. They will also visit relatives in Indiana while on their vacation.

Maplesville is justly proud of some of our home town girls, especially Miss Martha Alice Smith, a student at Alabama College, Montevallo, Ala. Miss Smith's picture has appeared several times in our daily papers. Most recent one as a committee member of the social committee of the school. Miss Smith spent last week end here with her mother, Mrs. Virgie Nell (Foshee) Smith.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Barnes, teacher in Maplesville High School, has been carried to a Birmingham hospital for an operation. Her many friends are anxious for her speedy recovery.

The many friends of Mrs. Claud Averett will regret to learn of her illness at her home here, and hoping she will soon be well again.

Visiting here with Mrs. Ruth Hubbard last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hale and children, Miss Mary Nell Hughey and Mrs. Effie Plummer of Sprott, Ala., and Mr. and Mrs. Raynard Hale of Shoults Community.

Mr. Charles Stough has accepted a responsible position with the State. He made a business trip to Tuscaloosa last Friday.

Mr. W. C. Rucker has volunteered for service in the Army and is stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky. These boys who volunteered for service now are real heros. If the civilians at home would be as patriotic as most of the boys are there would be much better times. This reporter stated in last week's news that we can only pray. After thinking it over we have concluded that we can do more than pray. Our boys are far away from home and loved ones and suffering the horrors of war we can at least write them cheerful letters often, for they are very much heart-broken and blue when "mail call" comes and they do not get a letter from home. Even if we do not have a son there we can find others to write to. We can do a lot of good by not hoarding anything. Hoarding is so unpatriotic. It's sad but true, we have hoarders in Chilton County. Such people do not care for anyone but their own ego. There are many things that we can do.

This reporter is justified in abhoring anything that is unpatriotic, because of having a brother killed in World War I. His body now is in a cemetery in France; a nephew, who went down with his plane to a watery grave in the Pacific near Japan, in World War II; one brother, three sons, two stepsons and six nephews who went overseas and fought through the World War II; and three sons who are now in service, and will very probably go overseas again very soon. It's hard to understand why some people are so careless and selfish.

As many of the boys said, after fighting overseas for several years, on returning home and seeing how the people were living selfish, careless, sinful lives—"What Was I fighting For?" Some said a few bombs should be dropped here to awaken the people to their duty to their country.

Why cannot we see our fate before it is too late?

It is never doubt, but always faith that sends mankind beyond the end of endurance.

CENSUS BUREAU'S CURRENT POPULATION SURVEY

Information on the number of part-time workers who are currently available for full-time work will be developed in the Census Bureau's Current Population Survey in August, it was announced today by District Supervisor Mary Griffin from her office at Clanton, Ala. The Current Population Survey interviews each month a representative cross-section of 25,000 households throughout the country, including a number in Chilton County, Miss Griffin said.

The study to be made in August is one of a special series designed to measure the nation's part-time labor force. According to a similar study conducted in May, about 2¼ million persons on limited work schedules were available for full-time jobs. In addition, there were another 4½ million regular part-time workers in the labor force—mostly housewives and students—who worked part time because of home or school responsibilities.

This month, special questions will again be addressed to all persons who worked only part during the survey week. These questions, which will supplement the regular questions on employment and unemployment, are designed to determine the reasons for part-time work, and to provide an estimate of the number of those working short hours who are available for full-time jobs.

The survey will be conducted in the Chilton-Perry area during the week of August 13-19. Supervisor Griffin emphasized that all individual information furnished the Census Bureau is treated in absolute confidence and that only statistical summaries are ever published.

If the milk is heated first and then beaten into mashed potatoes, the potatoes will be fluffy and light.

MAXWELL FIELD BAND GETS AROUND

Maxwells 604th Air Force Band gets around, in fact, their ever-widening circle of acquaintances throughout the State would be the envy of most politicians.

Taking an active part in the Chilton County Peach Festival was but one of the many activities scheduled for the band during the month of July.

Under the direction of Chief Warrant Officer Charles E. Vesely, the 31-piece group got off to a good start by striking up the band for the American Legion Fourth of July parade in Huntsville.

On July 6 the band presented a concert at the Capitol as part of the ceremony marking acceptance by the State Department of Archives and History of the bronze Liberty Bell replica used during the recent bond drive.

At the Peach Festival the band led the parade through Thorsby and Clanton and participated in the coronation ceremony for this years King and Queen. After enjoying a barbecue dinner at the invitation of the Chilton County Festival Committee, the band formed at the grandstand where they gave a concert of popular and novelty numbers.

At Troy for the Pike County Jubilee on July 20th, the band furnished music for the parade and at intervals during a ceremony at the stadium of the State Teachers College.

An evening concert at the local Veterans Administration Hospital by the 10-piece dance orchestra section of the band was an event of July 21. Under the direction of Sgt. Thomas L. Mobley, the group presented a program of popular ballads and "jump" numbers.

Not only does the orchestra play each week at both of the Maxwell Airmen's Clubs, but it also furnishes music for the monthly airmen's dance at Craig AF Base. It frequently figures at functions given by the Maxwell NCO Club and by the Maxwell, Craig and Gunter Officers Clubs.

A popular group within the orchestra is a swing combination of saxaphone, trumpet, vibraphone, drums and string bass. Known as the Hungry five, they are under the direction of Cpl. Ralph S. Faulk. Other standout performers of the orchestra section are Pfc. Wallace E. Carr, vocalist, and S-Sgt. Leon L. Johnson, trap drummer and vibraphone player.

The band recently completed a series of 13 concert broadcasts with the Montgomery radio station WMGY.

A fairly recent development is the presence of the band at air and train troop departures. On hand to see the boys off on a cheerful note in strictly allegro tempo, the band has officiated at five such occasions this month.

Now being worked out are plans for the always popular Sunday afternoon open air concerts on the base to begin around the middle of August.

During its nine years of existence since its activation in September, 1941, the 604th Air Force Band has been on hand for parades, concerts, shows and broadcasts at Maxwell and Gunter AF bases in Montgomery and Craig AF Base in Selma.

Chief Warrant Officer Charles E. Vesely, bandmaster, worked with civilian bands and dance orchestras in Omaha, Neb., before enlisting with the 17th Infantry Band as a cornetist at Ft. Crook, Neb., in 1935.

Promotions brought him to the rank of Chief Warrant Officer in August, 1943. Assignments prior to that at Maxwell AF Base have been in California, Florida and Alaska.

The assistant band leader, M-Sgt. Cedric Smith, is a native of Chattanooga, Tenn. His service career began in 1927 and includes assignments in San Francisco, Ft. Benning, Ga., and Craig AF Base, Selma, Ala.

Wonder Who'll Be the King King Fisherman?

There's something new under the sun. Or soon will be—a King King Fisherman.

If you don't know what a "King King Fisherman" is, as I didn't, it's the title for the angler who catches the biggest fish during the 18th Alabama Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo at Dauphin Island, August 7-9.

Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker will be guest of honor, as King Fisherman. And many cities are sending champion anglers to compete for the "crown" of King King Fisherman. There'll also be ample awards for anybody who's a better fisherman than I am to win one.

From where I sit, these annual Deep Sea Fishing Rodeos are a great thing. They bring hundreds of strangers to Alabama, to become our friends. And upstate bream fishermen learn from Gulf Coast fishermen how to fix salt water lures.

There's a lot of time for talking while you're trolling, and enjoying a can of cold beer when ashore. You get to learn the other fellow's views about more things than fishing!

BASEBALL TRY-OUTS TO BE HELD IN MONTGOMERY

An opportunity to determine whether they have a professoinal career in baseball will be afforded the youth of the area when the St. Louis Cardinals conduct their tryout camp at Municipal Stadium in Montgomery on August 10-11, under the direction of Rebel Manager Charlie Metro, assisted by veteran Red Bird scout Mercer Harris.

The Cardinals annually hold a number of try-outs all over the country, including their farm team towns, in order to give the boys who cannot journey to a major league town a chance to have their ability to play appraised. At the Montgomery camp Metro and Harris will give each aspirant equal consideration, watching each go through his paces, noting particularly superior ability to field, throw, hit and run bases. Those players who are judged to be prospective major leaguers will be sent to one of the 21 teams in the famed Cardinal farm system, one of which teams is Montgomery. On these teams they will develop, through the top-notch coaching and invaluable experience they gain from everyday play, into seasoned ball players. The best of these will advance up the ladder of the minors, and eventually graduate into the major leagues, where they will be more than amply rewarded for their previously expended effort.

The workouts will begin each day at 11:00 a.m. for all interested between the ages of 17 and 23. Those attending are asked to bring their own shoes and gloves, and uniforms if possible, as the Cardinals do not furnish them.

MAPLE SPRIGS

(Too Late For Last Week)

We had 99 present for Sunday School. We were glad to have our visitors and we welcome them back any time they can come to worship with us. We missed all of you who were absent.

Our Vacation Bible School started off good. We had 92 present the first night.

As the date for our revival draws near, let's all be much in prayer that it will be the greatest revival in the history of our church.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend the singing school which will begin August 7th, and will be taught in the afternoon by Prof. O. L. Devaughn. We are expecting to see a large number attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Smith of Stevenson, Ala., visited Mr. and Mrs. Billy Parrish during the week end.

Mrs. Sam Cole and son of Birmingham visited Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Comer Monday.

Miss Bonnie McGee of Columbus, Miss., is visiting friends here two weeks.

Mr. Ralph Mims and Mr. Johnnie Franks are visiting Johnnie's sister in Georgia this week.

We have the promise of more singers than ever before at our homecoming Sunday. If you miss this, you will miss a great blessing. We are looking forward to seeing you.

SENATOR HILL URGES PROTECTION AGAINST INFLATION

Senator Lister Hill this week declared the American people must be protected against inflation and war profiteering while the United States mobilizes her manpower and industry to meet the requirements for national security.

"It is a tragic thing that some must give their lives for our country in war," Senator Hill said, "and others at home make huge profits out of war. To make sure there is no such profiteering and to hold down the inflation that threatens us, we should enact without delay a war excess profits tax and place a ceiling on prices effective as of the date of the attack on Korea, with provision to remove any inequities that might arise."

The Alabama Senator emphasized his strong and active support of measures providing for rapid expansion of U. S. armed forces, greatly increased procurement and production of equipment and supplies, and constant research and improvement of U. S. weapons.

"The United States must build up and maintain her strength and be able to meet any outbreak that threatens the security of our country," Hill said.

SPOTLIGHT IS TURNED ON STATE CORN CROP

Auburn, Ala. — Corn is one of the most important crops grown in Alabama. For many years it has been grown on more land and used more widely in human foods and livestock feeds than any other crop.

John P. Bell, A.P.I. Extension Service corn products marketing specialist, points out that present increases in per acre yields are making corn an even more important crop than it has been in the past. Much of the increased production can be used most profitably as livestock food on the farms where it is grown. Much of it, however, will be sold as a cash grain crop to millers and feed manufacturers.

"In most areas of Alabama," states Bell, "improved methods are needed in handling corn that is marketed. These methods include harvesting corn at the proper time and storing it in buildings where damage and contamination from insects, rodents and moisture can be prevented."

A program designed to prevent contamination of corn meal and protect the original wholesomeness of corn is being developed by the Extension Service. It necessarily involves insect and rodent control in the field and in storage, better methods of harvesting and storing to minimize weather damage, and better methods of processing in cleaner mills, including the use of cleaning machinery at the mills

Mrs. Ann Poling, 609 Delaware St., Indianapolis, Indiana, who was suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron, and Niacin, smiles as she pours herself another cup of coffee. Mrs. Poling says life lately is like it used to be years ago . . . "that is, of course, since I've been taking HADACOL." She can't get over what a difference HADACOL has made in her outlook on life.

Mrs. Poling says: "Three months ago a good friend of mine told me about HADACOL—she knew how much stomach distress I have had. Any type of food that was fried or that had acid in it I just couldn't eat. It affected my sleep, too. In fact, I couldn't have been in a worse condition. When I ate what I wanted to I felt miserable and when I didn't eat these things—I didn't have a proper diet and still felt bad. Then, when I started taking HADACOL, I felt better immediately. I've got a bottle in the house now—and will continue to keep HADACOL from now on. I have told many folks about HADACOL—and they all thank me for telling them about HADACOL. They all have gotten wonderful results from HADACOL like I have. Now I eat anything I want and get a good night's sleep. I can't praise HADACOL enough."

HADACOL Can Help You, Too!

. . . as it has helped thousands of others whose systems lacked Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin. Yes, even hundreds of doctors have recommended HADACOL to their patients. The HADACOL formula is so effective for stomache distress, nervousness, insomnia, constipation, aches and pains of neuritis, and a general run-down condition caused by such deficiencies.

Make Up Your Mind

. . . to give HADACOL a chance to help you, as it has helped countless thousands of others. Remember, there are no substitutes for HADACOL. Always insist on the genuine HADACOL. No risk involved. Buy a bottle of HADACOL, either the trial size, $1.25, or the large family or hospital size, $3.50, and if HADACOL does not help you your money will be refunded.

CASSETTE GIRLS

The men of the Colony at Mobile needed wives, so in 1704, Sir Iberville brought from France twenty-three girls of decent rearing. Each girl was given a small trunk or cassette with some money and supplies. Therefore, these girls became known as the Cassette girls. Twenty-two of the girls were married within a month after they reached Mobile.

Concert For Choir To Be Presented By Associated Producers Tonight At 7:45

25 Local Singers In Choral Concert

Clanton's Associated Producers will present the fourth in a series of summer concerts tonight at 7:45 in the First Baptist Church. This concert for choir, to be directed by Lois Thompson Mims, will feature 25 of Clanton's most talented young singers, in a choral concert that promises to be one of the best concerts of this nature ever heard in Clanton.

This program has been designed to suit the taste of all lovers of any type music. For music in a popular strain there will be selections such as "All The Things You Are," "Night and Day" and "Frankie and Johnny"; then, titles like "Poor Wayfaring Stranger" and "I Wonder As I Wander" for those who like American folk songs and ballads.

In observance of the bicentennial anniversary of the death of Johann Sebastian Bach, the Associated Producers are dedicating one complete section of this program to the memory of this eighteenth century composer of the most inspiring liturgical music the world has ever known. This section will include such favorite chorales as "O Sacred Head, Now Wounded," and "Out of the Depths I Cry to Thee."

The Associated Producers sincerely believe that you will enjoy this program in its entirety, and are looking forward to seeing you this evening at the First Baptist Church at seven forty-five.

HAYMAN GRADUATES AT CHANUTE FIELD

John L. Hayman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hayman, of Jemison, graduated August 5th, from the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps Summer Encampment, Chanute Air Force Base, Rantoul, Ill.

OUR NEW BABIES

BARRETT — Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Barrett of Maplesville Route announce the birth of a son on August 2nd. They have named him Billy Alton Steward Barrett.

WYATT — It's a son for the Carlos Wyatts of Clanton. He arrived at the Central Alabama Hospital on August 2nd. His name is Charles Thomas.

KIRKLAND — Mattie Jean Kirkland arrived August 5th, at the Central Alabama Hospital. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Kirkland of Clanton.

EDWARDS — August 6th is the birthday of Sandra Kaye Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Edwards of Selma, Ala.

WILLIAMS — Mr. and Mrs. Owen Williams of Verbena Route 1 have a new little girl born at the Central Alabama Hospital on August 6th. Judy Faye is the name they have given her.

Clanton Wins 3 Out Of 4 Games Past Week

The Clanton Basebal Club raised their standing since the last report, to 18 won and 7 lost, winning 3 out of 4. They beat the St. Andrews Gaels of Montgomery 12 to 0, by the one-hit pitching of Johnnie Smith, featuring of Johnnie Smith, featuring 3 double plays by Clanton, home run by Joe Frank Cobb, and the 4 hits out of 5 times up by Griel Popwell. They lost to Autaugaville 11 to 9, won from Billingsley 9 to 5, and won over the Auburn all-stars 6 to 3. Robert McConnell pitching for Clanton, held the heavy hitting All-Stars well all the way, especially when a hit would have produced a run.

Schedule of Games For Next Seven Days—

Thursday, August 10th (tonight), here in the City Park, Clanton vs. Belle Ellen, the team that beat Clanton 8 to 6 in 10 innings. Game time 7:30.

Friday, August 11th, at 7:30, here in the City Park, Clanton vs. Mt. Olive, a team that has a high standing in one of the Birmingham Amateur Leagues.

Sunday, August 13th, at 3:00 p.m. here in City Park, Clanton vs. Epps Jewelry Co., the only team that has beaten Leeds this year.

Tuesday, August 15th, at 7:30, here in City Park, Clanton vs. Draper, a team that always gives Clanton all they can handle. Their band will probably be here with them.

Wednesday, August 16th, at 7:30, here in City Park, Clanton vs. Prattville. They always have a good ball club, and this year since about a month ago, they have strengthened it by adding four or five players from Maxwell Field.

If you are a baseball fan, you will see good amateur baseball at all of these games, and if you are a Clanton booster, come on out to these ball games and "root" for your club. They need your support.

Chicago Sales Redecorating

Reedie Taylor is about ready to announce his new store completed. Chicago Sales Company is open and doing business as usual, but each day sees improvements in the looks of the store.

New light oak fixtures have been added throughout and also new lighting fixtures. All paint and trim will match the light oak fixtures and an abundance of mirrors have been added on both the "his" and "her" side of the store.

The shoe department has been enlarged and new fixtures added. Mr. Taylor claims the largest shoe department in the City.

Soon the grand opening will be announced. Watch for it.

VETERANS FARM RALLY AUGUST 11th

Friday is a big day for the Veterans on the Farm Rally at the Municipal Airport. There will be 20 exhibits there and the public is invited after one o'clock. The morning will be strictly for the Veterans.

Do You Want Natural Gas?

That is the question the City Council and Mayor C. Fenn Jones wants answered by the people of Clanton.

The Mayor contends that the citizens are ready for natural gas and the soundest way to get it is to pay a little more than some cities in our state but to eventually own our own gas system. That added cost of the gas would retire bonds issued to install the gas mains throughout our city and after the bonds were retired the gas system would belong to the people.

Opposed to this are some who would have the system owned by a corporation who would bear this expense and collect the profits from the gas.

Mayor Jones explained that the cost of the gas from the distributor is governed by the Federal Power Commission and would be no higher here than elsewhere, the city then would add an amount necessary to sound business operation which would, in the long run, enable Clanton to own her own system.

There are arguments for and against but the Mayor Tuesday asked that the people await their judgment until both sides of the question was thoroughly understood. That is, whether it would be best to pay a little more and the people eventually own the system or let an outsider come in and supply our needs and collect the profits from now on.

It is up to the people. The City cannot force the gas on anyone. If you are in favor of natural gas under either condition let your City Council know how you feel about it. They will take the matter up in the near future at a regular meeting.

Chilton County To Get H-Bomb Plant?

Does Chilton want, and will she get the H-Bomb plant that Uncle Sam is contemplating placing in Alabama? If Probate Judge W. L. Parrish has anything to do with it, she will.

Judge Parrish has wired each of Alabama's Senators. Hill and Sparkman, asking for the plant for this county and also has wired all of Alabama's Congressmen the same request. He believes the Oakmulga National Forest, 20 miles West of Clanton would be an ideal location for the project. It would certainly bring millions of dollars to Central Alabama. Congressman Ed deGraffenried is interested in the project Judge Parrish stated, and is doing his best to bring the project to his District.

TRADE SCHOOLS BEFORE OCTOBER 1; ONE SHOULD BE PLACED AT CLANTON

The 1947 Legislature passed a bill introduced by Representative George Wallace providing four Trade Schools be placed in the State within four years. Two of the schools have already been constructed. A negro school in Jefferson County and one at Dothan. The Dothan school is for whites. The schools were to be built at a cost of $750,000 each and operated along the lines of the Alabama School of Trades at Gadsden. This school has been in operation since 1925.

A delegation met with the State Board of Education the earlier part of this year in an effort to bring one of the schools to Clanton, but accomplished little.

Decision on where the third school will be placed must be made before October 1st and the local Committee, headed by Hollis Jackson, are doing all possible to draw attention to the advantages here.

A letter this week from T. A. Dawson, Director of the School at Wenonah, in Jefferson County, calls attention to the preference shown Veterans and the fact that all counties in the State are urged to enroll students at the school. The school will serve the entire State on an equitable basis. The opening day will be September 1st. Enrollment started August 1st.

40 CALLED FROM CHILTON SEPTEMBER FIRST

National Headquarters of Selective Service, Washington, D.C., has announced that the Selective Service System has been given a quota of 100,000 men for induction during the months of September and October. Colonel Ernest W. Howell, State Director of Selective Service, announced August 7, 1950, that Alabama's quota for induction during the month of October was 1,045 men. In order for the 72 local boards throughout the State of Alabama to meet their respective quotas, some 5,000 registrants will be called for preinduction physical examination during the month of September, from which 1,045 men will be inducted during the month of October.

State Headquarters of Selective Service has allocated a quota of 40 men to be called from Chilton County for preinduction physical examination on September 1, 1950. The local board of this county is located in the Upchurch Building, Clanton, Ala. Mrs. Zora G. Smith is the local board clerk and is on duty Monday through Friday of each week. It is expected that calls to individuals affected for the preinduction physical examination will be sent out from the board at an early date.

Fox Hunters Will Meet Here On August 23rd

The annual Chilton County Foxhunters' Barbecue and Bench Show will be held at Old Kincheon, off Billingsley Road, on the afternoon and night of August 23rd.

The original date of August 16 had to be moved up on account of services being held in the vicinity.

The barbecue and show this year is open to the public—everyone invited. Barbecue will be served from 5:30 Wednesday afternoon, 'til all gone.

Immediately following the barbecue, a bench show will be held at which there is expected a large entry of hounds from Chilton and adjoining counties, with ribbons being awarded each winner, with three places in each group.

There will be a puppy class (for dogs under 1 year old); derby dog class and derby female class (hounds under two years old); all age dogs and all age females; and finally, best hound in show. A well known foxhound judge will judge the show.

The association officers wish to urge all hunters to get their puppies and old dogs in shape and bring them out and show them. There will be no entry fees—show as many hounds as you like at no cost to you. Story of winners and pictures will be sent to the hunting magazines.

CCHS Canning Plant Closed

The canning plant at the Chilton County High School was closed August 9th. The plant is being closed because of a lack of produce to be canned. W. A. LeCroy is in charge of the canning plant.

Another Answer

The suggestion of Sen. Bruce Henderson, of Millers Ferry, on reapportionment, is far from the answer. In fact, the answer to reapportionment in Alabama has yet to be advanced by anyone.

Mr. Henderson's Bill would give each county a member in the State Legislature and two senators from each congressional district with three elected from the state at large.

In the first place congressional districts like the one Chilton is in would be completely dominated by Tuscaloosa County, which has practically as many votes as all seven other counties combined. Better we leave things as they are. We do get a senator four years out of 12, but if Senator Henderson's suggestions were taken seriously we would just get notice every four years which gentleman Tuscaloosa County had chosen to serve as senator for this District for the ensuing four years.

On the other hand Chilton County with 29,000 inhabitants would have the same representation in the House as Jefferson County with more than a half million inhabitants.

Nope. There's another answer to this reapportionment question that hasn't been thought out yet.

Rough On Parents

No where in the history of our country can you find where parents were asked to sacrifice their children to the god of war twice within less than a decade.

Mothers and fathers who only six or seven years ago were spending sleepless nights in worry for their boys are now repeating themselves. If not for the same son, (and this is true in many instances) then for a younger brother.

Right now it looks like there will be no peace on earth until Communism is completely destroyed.

Parents can only hope, and pray.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

Two little negro boys were in trouble with the police last Friday because of items they had stolen from local stores. Funny thing about the deal was that the evidence that the negro showed the police and said he had stolen from a certain store couldn't be identified by the store owner. The owner of the store offered the solution that the boys had stolen from several local merchants and had forgotten which items he had stolen from which store. We left the merchant pondering over the question. Didn't anyone know the answer. The boys did know they were in jail.

Certain businesses in town are already feeling the labor shortage caused by men called to service. Even those not called to service but are of draft age, are volunteering, or quiting their jobs to await the call that they feel sure is coming. This causes hardships at home before it would be actually necessary. However one cannot blame the boy who knows he will be called for wanting to take off a few weeks to do the things he wants to do. We all may as well roll up our sleeves and realize we are at war again and every true American do his, or her, best in any way possible to assure the boy who is called that the home front is solidly behind him one hundred per cent.

What's become of the old Sunny South Quartet? As we remember the original membership consisted of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Jones, Roy Mahan, Jesse Jones and Mary Clyde Mims at the piano. Every now and then we hear someone ask about this popular team and wonder why they don't still appear on WKLF each Sunday morning. They were good and had a large following.

Pay no attention to these "scare" ads you see about shortages of this and that. Some businesses, we are sorry to say, will use any method to bring customers into their store and they are now using the Korean situation to "scare" customers into buying their products. Local merchants are not guilty of this and are absolutely dependable in their statements as to conditions and values but we know of some salesmen coming into Chilton County who are using the old line "now this is the last shipment of this article we will get. You know how the war situation is." Well, when that kind of sales talk is used on you next time, just invite that salesman out of Chilton County and tell him we have no room for his merchandise or his kind here. We're all Americans—all the way.

We received a very nice letter from Mrs. Lillian Simpson this week thanking us for the help we gave to the Cancer Society Drive for funds. We appreciated the letter and all that, but we couldn't help but wonder about Lillian. She's the lady who is deserving of the thanks. She worked tirelessly morning, noon and night for months during the drive. She gave of her time, money and talent without a thought of self. She did a good job and we believe that all of Chilton County is due Mrs. Lillian Simpson a big "thank you" for her leadership in this campaign.

Clark Headley writes from Selma that the Chilton County Fox Hunters are getting ready for their annual Fox Hunt. According to Clark it's going to be the biggest and best yet. You'll find complete details on page one of this issue. Everybody's invited.

Towns buzzing about the marriage of Robert Evans. No one has had direct information from Robert, but that don't stop folks from talking. Here's what we say. Hope its true and Robert and his bride live a long and happy life together. They have our every good wish.

Can't call names but the other morning two well known local ladies were at their hair dressers. Attention was called to one of the ladies for one reason or other and when the lady stepped out of the parlor, the other lady asked the hair dresser: "Who is that lady who just left?" "That's your neighbor, Mrs. ———," she was told. "Oh, my goodness," added the first lady, "I can never remember who she is." "Well, don't feel too bad," consoled the HD, "When you came in she asked who you were and I told her it was her neighbor."

When we mentioned the fact in the editorial column that all was over for the summer but getting ready for school we didn't have in mind those talented young Associated Producers who have two more presentations this season. Too much cannot be said for these local artists.

(answer to last week's puzzle)

Juvenile Delinquency Drops

In an annual report of the research division in the Social Service Exchange of Jefferson County showed a drop in Juvenile delinquency for 1949 in that county. We are hoping that such is the case everywhere; but in some places it is far too high for us to relax in doing what we can to down this evil.

A. T. HICKMAN

The City of Leeds led all other communities and towns in the county in adult crime; the highest in divorce rate and in mental disease. Homewood and East Lake and rural communities showed the better picture.

Credit was given to the earnest efforts of organized groups such as the churches, Sunday Schools, public schools, and Parent-Teacher Associations. These groups worked hard to bring down the evil in Jefferson County. I am wondering why the churches, schools, with all their groups did not do a better job? Was it because there was little co-operation coming from the homes of these communities. Too many parents leave the job of building character into their children to the churches and schools with little or no co-operation on their part at hon[e]. Perhaps the home is delinquent its[elf] and if it is, then we cannot expect any thing else of the child coming from a delinquent home.

The sending of the child to church and Sunday School is not enough; the parents should go and take the child to church. It is true that the home, the church and the school are the great three character builders, but of these three, the home is the most powerful force. For the child gets its start either for good or bad in the home. The home is God's earliest and holiest schol. It is the first institution of His planting upon the earth, and should be the strongest force for bringing His Will to pass.

Once a survey was made of one hundred homes where there were 1[5] children. It revealed the following facts:

In the homes where both parents were Christians and active members of the church 66 percent of the children became Christians; where only one parent was a Christian and a member of the church only 33 per cent of the children became Christians; and where neither of the parents was a Christian only ten per cent became Christians. Surely, the children that grow up in our Christian homes have a better start in life. Character has already been planted, the right seed already sown. It is not so in non-Christian homes.

How Can I?

(By Anne Ashley)

Q. How can I prevent a small hole in the linoleum from enlarging?

A. If the hole is small, pour a little hot paraffin into it, smooth over evenly with a knife, and let it harden. Examine frequently for any tiny holes, as this treatment could hardly be used for large ones.

Q. How can I rid the house or cellar of spiders?

A. Wet pieces of cotton with oil of pennyroyal and place them in their haunts. Get rid of the spiders as quickly as possible, as they sometimes leave poisonous bites.

Q. What kind of soap should be used to shampoo gray hair?

A. A soap that is pure white should be used in the shampoo for gray hair, as many of the colored soaps will leave the hair yellow.

Q. How can I prevent ingrowing toenails?

A. Shoes and stockings that are too short are very often the cause of ingrowing toenails. It is far better to have both the shoe and the stocking a half inch too long.

Q. How can I extinguish an oil blaze in the home?

A. When oil is burning, never throw on water, as this spreads the flames and increases the danger. Throw on meal, flour, sand, earth, or gravel.

Q. How can I avoid having to squeeze the juice of lemons every time a recipe calls for it?

A. Why not extract the juice of a dozen lemons at a time and keep in a tightly covered glass jar in the refrigerator? It will prove a great convenience.

Q. How can I remove spots of paint more readily from the knobs, locks and hinges of a door or window when I am painting?

A. Before painting, coat all the hardware with paraffin or petroleum ointment. The spots of paint can then be very readily removed.

Q. How can I furnish coffee to my guests at a party if they outnumber the cups I can obtain frim my percolator?

A. Make the coffee doubly strong and when pouring, add boiling wat[er] to each cup. This will prove very satisfactory in an emergency.

Q. How can I successfully darn a woolen piece of many colors?

A. Try using a strand of each color in the needle.

Q. How can I terat candles so that they will last much longer?

A. Give them a coat of white varnish. Let them dry for a day or two before using. Besides burning longer, this will prevent the wax from dripping down on the holder.

Q. How can I remove a fresh fruit stain from a dress or tablecloth?

A. Cover the stain thoroughly with starch. Let it remain for about an hour. Then rub off with a clean cloth.

Your Health

TETANUS

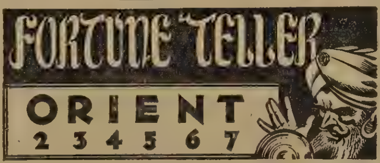
Tetanus is merely the scientific name for lockjaw. Tetanus germs develop best in deep closed wounds, such as made by nails, spikes and splinters. The germs also thrive in wounds made by shot-guns, air-rifles, fireworks and other explosives. These kinds of injuries let in the tetanus germs which usually live in the dirt of city streets and country lanes, as well as in manure-contaminated earth surrounding stables.

The initial symptoms may be insomnia, irritability, headache, difficulty in swallowing, abdominal pain and spastic gait. This may be followed by severe and uncontrollable muscular contractions, which may result in a locking of the jaws. Constant generalized stiffness may last for several weeks and frequently convulsions may occur, which may be followed by coma.

Many doctors now give tetanus toxoid to a baby at the time they give the diphtheria shots. Then if the child does have a wound that requires treatment for tetanus, the doctor has to give only a small dose of tetanus toxoid to protect the child at the time he receives a wound.

Older children and adults should be protected, too. Many physicians recommend tetanus toxiod injections for anyone exposed to a hazardous occupation such as farming or highway work and of course, we all know that our men in the armed services now receive this protection. In World War I many soldiers contracted this disease in the trenches. In World War II tetanus was practically unknown among our forces. We have less tetanus today than we used to because children wear shoes and stockings, because we have less fireworks, and because most people are protected against lockjaw.

If you sustain a wound, it should be washed out thoroughly and a physician should be consulted. If you have not been protected against tetanus your physician may decide to give you a shot of tetanus antitoxin. This is only for your immediate wound, as this protection lasts only a very sho[rt] time. It is not the same as tetanus toxiod.



YOU can have fun figuring out your message from the Orient by use of this pleasant little letter puzzle. If the number of letters in your first name is 5 or less, subtract from 7. If more than 5 letters in your first name, subtract from 13. Now take this result and find your key letter in the word ORIENT at the top of this puzzle. Then, starting at the upper left corner, check each one of your large key letters as it appears from left to right. Below the key letters is a code message for you.

Maplesville News

Church News—

The revival services at Maplesville Baptist Church is attended by large crowds this week. Rev. J. L. Monroe of Birmingham is preaching wonderful sermons. At this writing three persons have united with the church by letter. They are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott and Mr. Ted Ruddick.

The Sunbeams and their leader, Mrs. Theron Watson, attended the Sunbeam Rally at Mt. Creek Baptist Church last Sunday afternoon. They were accompanied by Mrs. Harry Higginbotham and Mrs. Ira Hamrick.

As this is Sunbeam Focus Week the Sunbeams of Maplesville Church put on an interesting program after Sunday School last Sunday morning, which was very much enjoyed by all. All parents should cooperate with their leader in this worthy cause.

Miss Ernestine McGee Weds Sgt. Harold—

Miss Ernestine McGee and Sgt. Harold Walker were married Sunday afternoon, August 6th, at Rehobeth Baptist Church, with Rev. Edwin Lovelady officiating, with a double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grady McGee of Lawley, Ala., Sgt. Walkers parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler Walker of Maplesville.

Musci was presented by a Mrs. Cleveland of Centreville, Ala., pianist, while candles were lighted by Mr. Norvin Lovelady and Cpl. Clarence Woodard, after which Miss Annette Cleveland sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always," accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. Cleveland.

The Matron and Maid of Honor were Mrs. Margaret Hallman of Tuscaloosa, Ala., and Miss Francis Collins of Lawley, Ala., both cousins of the bride. Their gowns were identical of yellow chiffon, with off-shoulder bodice and full skirt. Their flowers were white carnations.

Bridesmaid was Miss Eva Jo Walker, sister of the bridegroom. She wore a gown of light green chiffon, off the shoulder bodice and full skirt, and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Grady McGee. Her wedding gown was of white satin and chantilly lace. The full skirt formed a train. A tiara of seed pearls held the fingertip veil of illusion, edged in lace. The bride carried on orchid showered with red roses.

The bridegroom was handsomely attired in a light gray suit.

Monroe Kincaid of Birmingham was best man. Ushers were Norvin Lovelady of Lawley, Ala., and Cpl. Clarence Woodard of Keesler Air Base, Miss.

A reception at the home of the bride followed the ceremony.

Mrs. McGee chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of navy blue crepe. The mother of the bridegroom chose light blue crepe. Both had corsages of white carnations.

After the reception the couple left for a wedding trip to the Florida Coast. For traveling the bride wore a suit of ice-blue crepe with black accessories and orchids as a corsage. When they return the couple will be at home at Biloxi, Miss., and the Keesler Air Base, where the bridegroom is now stationed.

The bride is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. McGee, and since her graduation at Bibb County High School, Centreville, Ala.. two years ago, she has been employed in Birmingham.

The bridegroom graduated from Maplesville High School, then enlisted in the Army Air Corps. Both have a host of friends who are wishing for them many years of happiness.

Goings and Comings—

Mrs. Clyde Huggins of West Palm Beach, Fla., and mother, Mrs. J. H. Ratcliff, of Thorsby, visited Mr. and Mrs. Theron Watson and family last Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Chambers and children and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Johnson spent last week end in Selma, Ala., with relatives. While there Mrs. Chambers had her little daughter, Ruby Jean's, tonsils checked by a physician. She will return to a Selma hospital Wednesday of this week to have her daughter's tonsils removed.

Enjoying a picnic at Nix's Lake last Friday night were: Dr. and Mrs. Ed Day and children, Ed, Jr., and Sandra, Freddie Thomas, Martha Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Royster and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Higginbotham and family, Mrs.. J. E. Daniels and children, Nancy and Frank, Mr. and Mrs. Theron Watson and children, Tommy and Mary Ann.

It is with deep regret that we report the illness of our beloved Dr. Ed Day who was carried to a Selma hospital last Sunday. It is feared that he is suffering from a heart ailment. The people of this town and adjoining communities are very much concerned and anxious for his quick recovery. Although Miss Edna Earl Tucker, trained nurse, is doing what she can at the clinic here.. We are always needing a doctor. At this time we do not know the extent of his illness. We're hoping it isn't serious.

Mr. W. J. Watson of Clanton visited relatives in Maplesville last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Guinn of Buhl, Ala., spent last week end here with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Guinn. Other visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Guinn included Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Guinn, Jr., of Trussville, Ala.

Visiting relatives here last Sunday from Selma, Ala., were Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Blass and niece, Miss Jo Ann McGee.

Attending the miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Norvin Lovelady of Lawley, Ala., last Friday afternoon, honoring the bride-elect, Miss Ernestine McGee, from Maplesville were: Mrs. Eva McAfee, Mrs. Oma Walker, Miss Eva Jo Walker, Mrs. Eula Seals and Mrs. Nettie Seals.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Littlejohn and children of Calera, Ala., and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Littlejohn of Lawley, Ala., were visitors of Mrs. Daisy Littlejohn last Sunday. Mrs. Littlejohn expects to leave this week to visit her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Liddle, at Marvel, Ala. Mr. and Mrs. Liddle (Lou Olive Littlejohn), are the proud parents of a fine baby girl.

Sgt. Layden Hicks and son, Perry, of Forest Homes, Selma, Ala., were in Maplesville last Monday visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kelley of Maplesville and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kelley and family of Birmingham returned home last Saturday after visiting relatives in Louisville, Ky., and Indianapolis, Ind. On their return trip hime they visited the birth place of Abraham Lincoln and the boyhood home at Knob Creek, Ky. They also visited the Old Kentucky Home near Bardstown, Ky., where Stephen Collins Foster visited a cousin, Judge Ryan, and there was inspired to write the song, "My Old Kentucky Home." It is a stately old mansion in the midst of 215 acres of beautiful woodland, meadows and lawns. Mr. and Mrs. Kelley stated that it is well worth any one's time to go and see that part of Kentucky.

Other places of interest they saw was the entrance to the Hidden River Cave at Horse Cave, Ky. The entrance to this cave is the mightiest known chasm leading underground. The view of the actual rock arch, being the same that confronted Daniel Boone, who explored the cave prior to 1784. Then to the Mammoth Onyx Cave at Horse Cave, Ky. Their trip was a wonderful sight-seeing one, as they stopped all along the way to see the most interesting places. We have heard much about the wonders of the State of Kentucky, which causes us to long to visit that State.

A very fine little youngster of Bessemer, Ala., Lee Higginbotham, was a visitor here last week with Eddy Higginbotham.

Mr. Kenneth McGee, who has been away working with a gas line company in Iowa for some time, was in Maplesville last week to see his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Preston McGee.

Miss Martha Alice Smith of Alabama College, Montevallo, Ala., spent last week end here with her mother, Mrs. Virgie Nell Smith.

We are sorry to report the illness of Mr. Quinton Mitchell, who is under treatment of Dr. Golden in Clanton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hayes, Jr., and two daughters of Birmingham visited here last week with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cobern and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hayes, Sr.

MICKEY ROONEY

The famous movie star will be featured in Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc's Hadacol Good Will Caravan coming to Montgomery, August 23, 1950. Two great shows will be presented with a Hadacol box top being the only admission charge. Other stars will include Connie Boswell, Roy Acuff, Minnie Pearl, Sharkey's Dixie Land Band and 30 other great performers. A group of outstanding beauty queens will be presented. — Adv.

Reports have come in that we are having cattle thieves at Maplesville. Some have been stolen from Mr. Noah Latham and Dr. H. M. Nix. If the thieves are caught they should be severely punished. However, we notice that some can steal, caught, tried in court, found guilty and fined, then get by without being punished. They buy their way out with money, while the poor have to go and serve their time for their crime.

Is this justice? What does God see in this type of justice?

Ball News—

Lomax's ball team played the Mill Village team Sunday, August 6th.

Both teams played a magnificent game. Lomax won the first one with the score of 12 to 4. Then the last game was a tie.

Lomax has a wonderful ball team this team, like all teams they need support. Come on out this Sunday and watch a good team play a good game. All of the people could tell you who they are playing. . So come on out.

* * *

Mr. James Dailey, wo is working in Clanton, is staying with Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Rush and son. Buddy.

The revival which was held last week and the week before at the Church of Christ closed Friday night. The minister was from Georgia. Everyone enjoyed the sermons which he brought.

We are very glad to see that Evelyn West is feeling better after a week and a half of illness.

Mrs. H. H. Miller from Mineral Springs spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. J. C. Giles.

SARDIS

Our revival closed last Friday night. We are very grateful for Bro. Lowery who brought the messages each time. We feel that this revival has meant much to our church and community. Lots of our members have been revived, so let each one of us let this revival live on in our hearts. We had good attendance at our regular services Sunday and Sunday night. Bro. Cox brought two wonderful messages. We are thankful for such men as Bro. Lowery and Bro. Cox who always bring such soul-stirring messages.

We wish to express our gratitude to those who visited us during the week from other communities and invite everyone back at any time to worship with us.

Let every one be found at prayer meeting and Sunday School next Sunday.

Next Sunday afternoon is our regular singing. We invite all who can to come out and be with us.—Reporter.

STANTON

The Young Adult Sunday School Class will have lunch at the Baptist Church Sunday, August 13th. Each member is asked to bring a basket. After lunch their plans are to visit the sick and shut-ins. We wish to have each member present.

Miss Earline Gay, Erma Atchison and Nancy Langston have just returned from a week's stay at Shocco Springs.

Mrs. J. D. Langston and children have been spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Parnell.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Graham and Marie visited the Schurter family during the week end.

Mrs. Margie Bearden and Mrs. Lottie Carter are doing wonderful work with the Sunbeams.

An ice cream supper was enjoyed by the members of the Young Adult Sunday School Class last Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wyatt were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dennis Tuesday night.

MACEDONIA

Services here Sunday was well attended. The Sunday School and B.T.U. lessons were very inspiring. There were visitors present who we were very proud to welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Moore and family and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Ward and Mr. Joe Ward visited Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Garner of Maplesville Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hayes and James spent their vacation last week with Mr. and Mrs. Pratt Crumpton. Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Crumpton and Connie visited Mr. and Mrs. Pratt Crumpton during the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Smith and family had as their guests during the week end: Mr. and Mrs. Jake Smith of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. Check Brantley and Dan of Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ervin, Faye and John, of Talladega, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ray and family of Jemison.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Veazey, Ann and Wayne, and Misses Mary and Joyce Oats vacationed last week at Gulf Shores. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Dee Nix and Henry Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Palmer and Braxton last Wednesday.

Sunday is our regular preaching day. Be sure to be present and bring some one with you. Sunday School begins at 10 o'clock and preaching at 11 o'clock.

Continue to pray for the revival beginning the third Sunday in August. Rev. Burks of Thorsby will be doing the preaching. The success will largely depend on your co-operation and faith in God. We have got to get self pure and clean before we can have a revival.

MINERAL SPRINGS CHURCH

Sunday was our regular preaching day. Bro. J. T. Roper brought two inspiring sermons to a good crowd, but there are lots more who should have been present. Let's pray for our revival which will begin the third Sunday in this month. Rev. Bearden will be the visiting minister.

We will have our annual singing the third Sunday. All singers and lovers of music are invited to come out and make this a wonderful day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ulmer Ashcraft and children of Atlanta; Mrs. Dan Ashcraft of Thorsby. and Mr. and Mrs. Faulkner of Pell City were visitors here Sunday. We invite them back any time.

Mrs. Ruby Peters is on the sick list this week. We hope for her a speedy recovery.

Don't forget the singing the third Sunday. Everybody come and bring a well-filled basket. All quartets are especially invited.—Mrs. Grady Martin.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

State of Alabama
Chilton County.

The Court of County Commissioners of Chilton County, Clanton, Alabama, will accept sealed bids for the following:

1—Approximately 8,000 gallons of Gasoline; approximately 8,000 gallons of Diesel Fuel.

2—Approximately 5,221 gallons of MC-1 (AASHO) Tar Prime; approximately 680 tons of Class F (Type F-1) Plant Mix.

3—Replaster or Spakle Walls—1 coat Primer Sealer, 1 coat High Gloss Enamel—of Interior of Chilton County Jail.

Said sealed bids will be received until 10:00 a.m., Friday, August 18th, 1950. The Court reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

W. L. PARRISH,
32-2tc Judge of Probate.

MASONIC PICNIC

The annual Chilton County Masonic picnic will be held at the picnic grounds of the Preston Place in Jemison Wednesday. August 16th. There will be several interesting speakers present.

Draper Prison Band is to furnish the music. All Masons, Eastern Stars and their friends are invited to come and bring a picnic basket. Festivities will begin at 10:30.

NEW HARMONY

The attendance was off some this week end due to several being away attending other churches.

Master Billy Littleton will return to the hospital Tuesday of this week. Doctors say they will remove the cast and put a brace on his leg and let him begin walking some on crutches.

Rev. Edgar Littleton and Euel Headley are now running a tent revival at the Cottonmill Village at what is known as the cross roads in the village. The public has a cordial invitation to attend. All special singers are invited. Services will begin each night at 7:30.

Let's all remember next week end is our pastor's appointment, Rev. S. G. Oliver.

I'm sure if you'll come you'll be well paid, because he is a real man of God.

The Lord will bless our efforts if we attend these services.—Reporter.

NOT TOO LATE TO PLANT LIMA BEANS

Butter beans, also called Lima beans, resist dry weather much better than do most crops, according to J. C. Ford, A.P.I. Extension Service garden specialist.

"Early August is a good time to plant a fall crop, especially the bunch varieties of butter beans," says Ford. "Henderson's Bunch is a white bean and Jackson's Wonder is colored. Both are good.

"Beetles are not nearly as bad on Lima beans as on snaps. If they give trouble, apply the Auburn formula garden dust."

The specialist adds that bunch beans, planted late, should produce food for the table within about 70 days from planting. Pole varieties should bear beans within 80 to 90 days.

AVOID RING WHEN REMOVING A SPOT

The formation of a ring is one of the greatest problems in stain removal.

Levice Ellis, A.P.I. Extension Service clothing specialist, reveals that rings may be caused by the stained area being cleaned and the rest of the garment showing soil, dressing in the material being removed, texture of the material being changed by tightening of the fiber, impure solvents, or by incorrect application of the solvent.

"To avoid these mistakes," says Miss Ellis, "use an absorbent cloth or a blotter beneath the stain; use straight, light strokes and begin in the area around the stain and work toward the center of the stain; use solvent sparingly and work rapidly."

ANNUAL HAND FAMILY REUNION

The Hand family reunion will meet at Poplar Springs Church the second Sunday in August which will be the 13th. All friends and relatives are urged to attend.

The program is as follows:
Song and prayer.
Business meeting.

OUT-PACED 6-FOOT BEAR

Cherry Point, N. C. — Private First lass Robert A. Switzer attached to ircraft Engineering Squadron 46, herry Point, N. C., was recently proaimed the World's "fastest man," unfficially, when he easily out paced a ix-foot bear in a pre-dawn encounter.

The early morning foot race occured hen Switzer a basic ordnancemen, as completing a tour of guard duty n the ordnance area here at Cherry Point. With the job of keeping all nauthorized personnel from entering he restricted area, he was now conronted with the problem of challengng a bear. Up to the present time, othing has been written in the Marine Corps Manual or Special Orders, on he subject of fur-coated animals.

After making the rounds of his post, one sentry returned to the guard shack or a short 'breather' before patrolling is post once again. About 1:00 a.m., he barking of a nearby dog caused Switzer to glance out the window, here he was thunder struck to see, s he put it, "a gigantic monster staring t me."

Armed with only a night stick, he sought additional aid via the telephone. Trying to act calm and nonchalant he reached for the phone and shakily called the main guard house. "How about sending a truck out here to pick me up," he asked, "there's a bear after me." He was indignantly informed that "there aren't any bears around here."

Switzer found this a little hard to believe however, for his fur-coated friend was already busy trying to crawl through the window and join him inside the shack. Having other plans for himself, the Leatherneck, with the assistance of "Jato" (jet assist take off) ducked for the door and headed for the nearest shelter which was the station heating plant.

Angrily gnashing his teeth, the bear followed in hot pursuit, but was no match for the fleet footed Marine, who sprinted over the threshold of the plant a few bounds ahead of his pursurer. Disgusted at missing out on a "mid-night snack," the bruin admitting defeat, romped off in the quest of easier game.

Henceforth all local bears are warned that sentries assigned to this particular post in the future will be armed with shot guns, and any "ready teddies" found frequenting the locale are likely to end up as "ruined bruins."

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

S. D. Posey, Clyde Burnett and W. L. Parrish set out coastal Bermuda grass last week. The stolons (sprigs) were furnished by the Soil Conservation Nursery, Thorsby, through the North Central Soil Conservation District. This grass, when used in combination with a reseeding legume, will furnish from nine to twelve months grazing. One advantage of coastal Bermuda grass is that the excess growth can be cut for hay. This hay can be stacked right in the field without danger of rotting. During the rough days of winter it can be fed with little trouble since it is right in the pasture. It has been known to cut as much as four tons per acre.

* * *

J. W. Hogan, Dry Valley, and B. H. Robinson, Higgins Ferry Road, assisted by the North Central Soil Conservation District, have made complete soil and water conservation plans.

J. W. Hogan can add two acres to his productive land by carrying out his plan.

Banks of a stream will be cleared of trees and bushes and set out in kudzu. Thus he will add some new land to his field in addition to that that was being sapped by trees. This is just another step toward better land use.

* * *

Thomas Hayes, Thorsby, has harvested one hundred and eighty pounds of button clover seed. These seed were harvested after a lot of rain. They were made on approximately three-forths of an acre. In dollars and cents this is over $100.00 per acre above the grazing.

* * *

Cleve Mims, W. L. Parrish, Geo. Jarrell and G. W. Littleton, are a few of the farmers that are preparing land to seed in tall fescue and clover this fall.

MRS. STANLEY COST ELECTED PRESIDENT OF HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUBS

Mrs. Stanley Cost was elected President of the Chilton County Council of Home Demonstration Clubs at a called meeting in the Home Agent's Office on July 27, 1950. Mrs. Cost was 1st Vice-President of the Council at the time of her election. Mrs. Cost was elected due to the fact that the former President, Mrs. W. W. Culp, was moving from the county.

Mrs. Cost is President of the Jemison Home Demonstration Club. Last year she was a leader in her club and was the Club and County Dress Revue Winner for 1949. This year, she will represent her Club in the Dress Revue again. Mrs. Cost began her work as a leader when she was a 4-H Club member in Mississippi.

Mrs. Cost will represent Chilton County at the National Home Demonstration Council meeting in Biloxi, Miss., which will be held October 16-19. While there she will attend the meeting of the American branch of the Associated Country Women of the World on October 19-20. She will attend a meeting of the State Home Demonstration Council as a voting delegate from Chilton County on October 30-November 1, which will also be held in Biloxi.

RIGHT TYPE BOAR

Since the trend in hog raising is away from the lardy type and towards the meaty type, the need for the right kind of boar is felt. The type boar needed is the intermediate type. It has a good lengthy body, deep sides, a broad loin, plump deep hams that carry down to within three fingers width of the hock, and width and fullness between the front legs.

EGG CARE DURING HOT SUMMER DAYS

Auburn, Ala. — With temperatures in the upper brackets, Mary Hulsey, A.P.I. Extension Service nutritionist, believes it's a good time to mention some tips on hot weather care of eggs.

She points out that eggs left for three days at ordinary room temperature may lose as much "freshness" as eggs kept in the refrigerator for two weeks.

"To hold the quality of eggs," says the specialist, "put them in the refrigerator as soon after buying as possible. Don't leave eggs in a hot car while taking a prolonged shopping tour. Some quality will be lost just by leaving a carton of eggs on the kitchen table until all the other groceries are sorted. When the eggs are put in the refrigerator, leave them in the carton, large end up."

SEBAGO IRISH POTATOES

The Sebago variety is an excellent Irish potato for Alabama, especially for the fall crop.

FORT TOULOUSE

Fort Toulouse was built by the French in 1714 and surrendered to the British in 1763. During the British trader days, there were some 30 houses here and its inhabitants had large herds of cattle ranging in the 3000-acre pasture surrounding the town. Sam McNac, brother-in-law of William Weatherford, half breed Indian Chief, lived here and his son was the first West Point cadet from Alabama. It was also here that William Weatherford surrendered to Andrew Jackson after the battle of Horseshoe Bend.

PUREBRED JERSEY CATTLE SHOW TO BE HELD

The annual purebred Jersey show will be held August 29 and 30th. Between 50 and 60 purebred Jerseys are expected to be entered in the show, making it the biggest show ever held in the county. Approximately half of the animals shown will be 4-H entries and will be exhibited by 4-H Club boys and girls.

In the past few years there has been a growing interest in Jersey cattle, and a great deal of progress has been made. As could be expected, interest in Jerseys will be reflected in the annual purebred show. The year's show will be better than any previous show in both the number of animals that will be shown and also in the quality.

This year's show will be handled somewhat differently from other shows. All animals will be required to be at the airport by 1:00 p.m., August 29. Cattle will be on exhibit until 7:00 p.m. At this time judging will start and entries will be eliminated down to the 1st and 2nd place animal of each class. These animals will be held until the morning of the 30th when they will again be brought into the ring and the Grand and Reserve Champion will be judged.

All owners of purebred cattle who wish to enter Jerseys in the show are urged to contact the County or Assistant County Agent as soon as possible. As soon as animals are entered, assistance in clipping and fitting will be given.

This year an attractive list of premiums and ribbons will be awarded to Jersey owners. Listed below are the various classes, places and awards:

JR. HEIFERS — 1st, $8.00; 2nd, $7.00; 3rd, $6.00; 4th, $5.00; 5th, $3.00; 6th, $2.00; 7th, $2.00.

MT. PISGAH

We were so glad you were present for Sunday School Sunday. It makes us feel mighty good for all the officers and teachers to be present every Sunday, then that makes all the others want to be present. Visitors are always welcome.

We are proud of the work each one has done on our cemetery, but we have more that needs doing. Please, if you have loved ones buried here you are interested in the up-keep of the whole cemetery. So we have planned another working day to finish cleaning. Will you please be there or send some one? The day is next Wednesday, August 16th. Bring tools to do the work. We will thank you in advance for your cooperation.

We'll be looking for you to be with us for Sunday School next Sunday.

MAPLE SPRINGS

Sunday morning there was 151 present when we called Rev. L. D. Hughes for our full time pastor for the coming year. Sunday night there was 114 present for B.T.U. and preaching.

Sunday morning at 9 o'clock 14 new members of Maple Springs and six new members of Floyd were baptized at South Prong. During our revival 13 came to be baptized and one was re-instated. Although our revival is over let's still pray for the lost.

Friday night there will be a meeting of the R.A.'s, G.A.'s and Sunbeams. Everyone who can is urged to attend this meeting at 7:30.

Prof. O. L. Devaughn opened a singing school Monday at 1:00 o'clock. The school will run three weeks, from 1 o'clock to 5. Forty-five were enrolled Monday. All of you who are interested in this are cordially invited to attend.

We are sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Julia Scarborough. Funeral services were held at Maple Springs Church Monday morning at 11 o'clock.

We were very glad to have our visitors Sunday and we want them to know that they are always welcome to worship with us. We missed you who were absent Sunday.

Don't forget prayer meeting which is held each Wednesday night at 7:30. You who do not attend these meetings miss a blessing.

A wedding of much interest of the community was that of Miss Clara Sandlin to Mr. Wayne Dennis August 14. Congratulations to them.

Mr. Boyce Comer spent last week in Chicago, Ill., with Mr. George Gilliland of Sylacauga.

Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Blalock spent a while Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wilson.

Don't forget Sunday School at 10 o'clock Sunday morning and B.T.U. at 7:30 Sunday night.

Go to church somewhere Sunday and take someone with you. — Reporter.

Senator LeBlanc Does It Again!

Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc, creator of famous HADACOL is shown above breaking ground for the new HADACOL factory now being built alongside the present plant in Lafayette, Louisiana. This new building will be 80x235 feet, two stories, steel and concrete construction. The remarkable growth of HADACOL has forced the immediate construction of this new building. Only last spring Senator LeBlanc opened the present HADACOL plant and now less than a year later, HADACOL requires a 100% increase in factory space.

Beth Maddox Is Two—

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Maddox honored their little daughter, Beth, on her second birthday last Thursday afternoon, August 3rd, at a lawn party at their home on Third Street.

Inflated balloons of bright colors hung from the limbs of the huge shade tree, making a perfect surrounding for this joyous occasion. A large pink birthday cake, topped with a circus tent and colored animals, holding two white candles, centering a low-decorated table, completed, the appointments.

The little honoree wore a dress of yellow organdy, styled wit a hoop skirt, with a sash of yellow satin ribbon. She wore yellow satin ribbon in her hair.

As each little guest arrived they presented Beth with a gift, wishing her a "Happy Birthday."

The children enjoyed playing in the swing, sandpile and on the see-saw. Playing was directed by Amelia Ann Chism and Phil Simms.

A circus hat filled with candy was given to each guest as a favor.

Photographs were made by Leonard Farley, Jr., of this happy group of children.

Beth cut the first piece of her birthday cake and afterwards it was served with ice cream to the following guests: Sandra Poole, Sherry and Christy Cox, Patsy Minor, Harold Lawrence, Josephine and Jack Moore, Charlie Patterson, Jim Wade, Alice and Miriam Gerald, Lynn and Faye Williams, Bobby and Tommy Powers, Lynn and Theda Windham, Sylvia and Johnny McKee, Bruce Smith, Bobby, Mary Mell and Jimmy Martin, George and Mary Kate Tucker, Judy Bates, Su[illegible] Elsivier, Larry Bodden, Glenda Ke[illegible]ck, Olivia Teel, John Teel, Billy and [illegible]ary Clyde Chism, Bo Eiland, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Rockett and Mrs. Fate Maddox, Beth's grandparents; Mrs. Isabell Rockett, the great grandmother; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Powers.

West End Baptist News—

Prof. Patterson Hicks spoke to us at our mid-week prayer service on Wednesday night of last week. We enjoyed having Prof. Hicks with us and hope he will be back soon. The Rev. Allen Ruff of Carbon Hill, spoke to us at our Sunday morning service. I'm sure all who heard him enjoyed the message that he brought us.

At 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon several went to Mt. Creek for the Sunbeam Rally, carrying our Sunbeams. Our church had the largest number present. The West End Sunbeams gave a playlet about, "Mother Goose and Her Missionary Family." We are proud of our little Sunbeams boys and girls.

We held our baptismal service at the First Baptist Church at 4 o'clock last Sunday afternoon. The Rev. R. E. Wilkins officiated. Those baptized were: Mr. Phil Crump, Mr. Lewis Headley, Mr. Herbert Glenn, Mrs. Allen Billingsley, Mrs. W. E. Knight and Miss Joan Royal.

Our pastor spoke to us at the evening service, bringing a wonderful message. After the preaching service the communion service was observed.

We will have our B.T.U. social at the church Friday evening, August 11th, at 7 o'clock. There were 59 present for the B.T.U. Sunday night. We invite everyone to come out and join our B.T.U.

Our Sunday School is still growing. We had present Sunday morning 102. Let's try to make it even better this coming Sunday.

The W.M.U. of the West End Baptist church held their regular monthly meeting Monday afternoon, August 7, at the church. The meeting was opened with the devotional given by Mrs. J. D. Williams.

Circle Two had charge of the program. The subject of the program was "Dieting." Those taking part were Mrs. W. E. Wilkins, Mrs. Herman Lowery and Mrs. W. K. Gillespie. These ladies gave a most interesting program on the subject.

The meeting was turned over to the W.M.U. President, Mrs. Jim Blair, and the business was taken care of.

Customers' Corner

Every housewife who wants to get the most good food for her money should ask herself these questions about her food store:

Are prices low on all items every day in the week?

Is the price plainly marked on each item?

Is the quality high?

The answer should always be "yes" at A&P. If it isn't, we want to know about it.

SACRIFICES AND HIGHER TAXES AHEAD

Senator John Sparkman, Democrat from Alabama, speaking in Washington, D. C., at the 32nd Annual Convention of the American Legion, Department of the District of Columbia labeled the Russian inspired invasion of South Korea as the opening military phase of a scheming totalitarian power's mad drive for world conquest.

"That drive has to be stopped in Korea," he said, "even at the cost of total war. To falter now would be an open invitation to Russia to attack any nation at any time with no fear of reprisal. The United States is the only country that stands between Russia and world domination. If we do not oppose her aggression now, we shall eventually have to oppose her completely alone."

Senator Sparkman said that our faith in the United Nations has been justified by that Organization's action in the Korean affair. He noted that never before in the history of this country had so large a group of nations joined simultaneously in positive opposition to an aggressor.

"The importance of the united spirit of the 52 cooperating nations out of a total of 59 members may have very well set the United Nations on a course that will insure peace for future generations. If the United Nations had failed to take positive action, or if the United States, the strongest democratic power, had hesitated, it surely would have meant the death of the United Nations as an effective organization," Sparkman explained.

Another gratifying fact to which the Alabama Senator referred is the strong bipartisan support of our Korean efforts. He pointed to the overwhelming support of the President's recommendations last week to Congress. He termed those recommendations not the President's program, nor the Democrats, nor the Republicans, but the Nation's program.. He pledged his own support to whatever additional requirements should be necessary to meet the Russian challenge.

Senator Sparkman frankly stated that the Korean situation was serious, and that it is a threat to the security of the Nation. He cautioned that even if the conflict remains localized, we shall have to accept higher taxes and many sacrifices to bring it to a successful end. He stated that if the war spreads we shall be fighting for our very existence as a nation.

The Senator spoke strongly against unpatriotic acts of hoarding essential civilian goods and supplies, and raising prices to take advantage of the war scare. He termed profiteering, when the welfare of the Nation is at stake, as a form of sabotage that can be just as dangerous as sabotage of a factory. He stated that if such trends were not soon reversed, we all would have to accept price controls and other rigid regulations to protect the innocent from the unpatriotic.

Senator Sparkman, a Legionnaire himself, praised the American Legion for its unceasing efforts to build strong defenses forces internally and to have the United States to join with other countries in programs of international cooperation for peace. He urged his audience to make known on every occasion the importance of these programs and their cost in high taxes and sacrifices to us all.

"The war against Communism," he stated, "is a war to preserve democracy, to protect a way of life superior to any man has ever known. The war has to be waged with all our might on economic, education, and armed fighting fronts. If each of us does his fair share, we can win. We must win if life is to remain worthwhile."

MRS. ROOSEVELT PAYS TRIBUTE TO MONTGOMERY'S BLUE AND GRAY GAME

Montgomery, Ala. — Alabamians were elated this week to see Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt pay a glowing tribute in her daily column to the annual Blue and Gray football game played each Christmas season in Montgomery.

"I am sure, regardless of where we live," Mrs. Roosevelt said, "we will be interested in the achievements of this effort to draw together the people of our country, who once fought each other, so that they may develop mutual understanding and respect."

Meanwhile, Blue and Gray officials are making plans for the coming event to be "the biggest thing that has happened in Montgomery since Jefferson Davis was inaugurated."

A special train will bring a load of VFW members from Pennsylvania, along with two choice band units. VFW spokesmen also said that they would return any captured Confederate flags which were taken from Alabama units during the Civil War.

GOV. FOLSOM MAKES PLEA AGAINST HOARDING

Montgomery, Ala. — "Let's not have hoarding here in Alabama—Let's show our fighting forces that we are behind them in every way," Gov. James E. Folsom said this week in an appeal to the people of Alabama to refrain from hoarding.

His full statement to the people runs as follows:

"America is faced with another war crisis. The needs of our fighting forces must come first. That means that a lot of changes will have to be made in our daily living here at home.

"War means sacrifice. It means that our people are going to have to accept their share of the war burden. I hope that that sacrifice will be accepted with manliness, with earnestness, and in good spirit by every last one of our three million citizens.

"This is not a time for selfishness. It is a time to be noble. It is a time for all of us to stand up and willingly accept our responsibility as a defender of democracy.

"I trust that the people of Alabama will not become guilty of hoarding and stocking away foodstuffs, tires, and all other kinds of merchandise.

"If in time shortages do arise, I hope that every person will be good enough to want to give up his part of that shortage, in order for all to share alike."

AT YOUR DRUGGIST

Mr. Link Robinson, 519 Lindsey, is the most content and satisfied man in Newport, Ky. In fact, he says there isn't a thing in the world that can irritate or upset him now that he is on the HADACOL band wagon. If there ever was a man who thought HADACOL is the most wonderful thing in the world, it is Link Robinson, since he learned that his system lacked Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron, and Niacin.

Here is what Mr. Robinson has to say about HADACOL, which is now supplying liberal quantities of these essential elements: "I have been a steel worker for over twenty years. When you are a steel worker, you have to do plenty of good, hard work, and you need lots of good, substantial food. But when a stomach is in as bad a shape as mine was . . . I couldn't eat, I had gas pains, stomach bloating and nervousness; well, I just couldn't eat the proper foods I needed. My boss told me about HADACOL and I started taking it immediately. After the second bottle I could tell a definite improvement. Now I can eat the foods I need to eat to really be on the job. In fact, I can eat anything I want to. I am not nervous anymore, either. Best of all, I haven't got those terrific gas pains and no more stomach bloating. HADACOL is the best ever. I recommend HADACOL to everyone."

HADACOL Is Different

Countless thousands are benefiting from HADACOL . . . even hundreds of doctors are recommending HADACOL to their patients whose systems lack Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron, and Niacin. HADACOL is so wonderful because HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ, and every part of your body—to the heart, liver, kidneys and lungs, even to the eyes, hair and nails.

Give remarkable HADACOL a chance and if you don't feel better with the first few bottles you take—you get your money back. Only $1.25 for Trial Size; Large Family or Hospital Size, $3.50.

FORCEFUL POSTER PAINTED FOR RECRUITING SERVICE BY FAMOUS NAT WHITE

The August posters in the current series painted for the Recruiting Service by famous American illustrators are "Enlist Now," by Nat White, for the U. S. Army, and "Working Together," by Ben Prins, for the U. S. Air Force. The latter poster appeared nationally during July and is being held over for this month.

Mr. White, a native of Hartford, N. C., studied at the Art Students League and the Grand Central Art School, both in New York City. A specialist in the magazine and outdoor advertising, he has done outstanding work for many national advertisers.

The Air Force poster artist, Mr. Prins, is a native of Amsterdam, Holland, and also studied at the Art Students League and Grand Central Art School. His illustrations appear regularly in the Saturday Evening Post, McCall's, Redbook, and other magazines.

"Enlist Now" is an arresting poster, which features the airborne units of the Army. "Working Together" is being repeated because of it's popularity in the field.

HOT ISSUE OF REAPPORTIONMENT CONTINUES

Montgomery, Ala. — The legislature came and went last week, and now they are here for their fifth special session this week.

The lawmakers spent less than two hours in session last Thursday before voting to call it quits and adjourn, without taking any action to push through any bills.

In his call to the legislature, the governor asked them to take any of the following steps:

1. Provide for a constitutional convention.
2. Provide for a senator for every county, and reapportion the house of representatives.
3. Provide for a senator for each county.
4. To reapportion the house of representatives.
5. Or to reapportion the legislature in any other way that the body itself might see fit and proper.

The senate was given a bill by Sen. Bruce Henderson, long an opponent to reapportionment, which provided that the membership of the house would be cut fromm 106 to 67 members, and the senate cut from 35 to 21 members. This would ean that each county would have one representative, and two senators would be elected from each congressional district, and three from the state-at-large. No action was taken on the bill.

In the call for the members to return on Monday of this week, the governor included the same five points as listed above, which leaves the field of action wide open for any type proposals on reapportionment.

The governor told the joint session: "You can't justify adjourning and going home without taking action on this matter which you took a sworn oath to provide for."

"The problem is before you," the governor said, "and it is going to stay before you as long as I am governor. There is no use for you to stick your heads in the sand like an ostrich, because you'll find the unsolved problem there when you pull them out."

It was the governor's pertest speech yet to the lawmakers on reapportionment. And even before they adjourned, they were told that they would be called back the following Monday.

STATE DRAFT QUOTA HIKED TO 1,055 FOR SEPTEMBER

Montgomery, Ala. — Selective Service Director Col. E. W. Howell announced that Alabama's new quota of the 100,000 national quota of draftees will be 1,055 for the month of September.

Originally 422 had been requested.

Howell also said that the national headquarters indicated that Alabama would also be called upon to supply the same amount—1,055—during the months of October and November.

This new call will mean that 4,000 young men will be called up in August for physical examination, in order to get the 1,055 needed.

State headquarters mailed out notices to all 72 draft boards this week as to what the various county quotas would be.

NEW HARMONY

(Too Late For Last Week)

Our revival closed Sunday night. Several were saved. We feel that this revival has meant much to our church and community. We want to encourage each one that was saved during this meeting to keep praying and try to get closer to the Lord, for we don't feel that it will be long until this world is going to make a change.

Remember our regular worship services during the week end. Everyone who can, come be with us. Sunday School each Sunday at 10 o'clock.—Reporter.

BOLL WEEVIL FIGHT PAYS OFF IN STATE

As farmers over the state continue to pour on a record amount of boll weevil poisons, prospects for a good cotton crop grow brighter.

Growers still have the biggest part of the boll weevil battle ahead of them, but current reports from county agents indicate that the insect is in for a tough time.

W. A. Ruffin, A.P.I. Extension Service entomologist, predicts that "Alabama will make a good cotton crop if (1) farmers continue their poisoning programs, (2) supplies of insecticides are sufficient, and (3) the weather remains favorable."

He advises cotton growers to keep in contact with the local county agent. From him they may obtain complete information in controlling cotton insects.

KEEP FALL AND WINTER GARDEN IN PRODUCTION

Auburn, Ala. — Two things that should be kept growing in the home garden are turnips and radishes.

J. C. Ford, A.P.I. Extension Service gardener, recommends that they be planted every 30 to 60 days from late August until April.

He further suggests that onion sets be separated into large and small sizes. Plant the large ones in September and the smaller ones later. The large ones will make green onions for use during the winter, and the smaller ones, planted one inch deep some time in November or December, will make mature onions for use in the spring.

"Also," adds Ford, "don't forget to set cabbage plants in early August. They should make good heads before Christmas."

MANANESE BUR CLOVER IN A CROPPING SYSTEM

Many Alabama farmers rotate Manganese bur clover with grain sorghum. Those who have done this will soon have grazing.

"Here's how it works," reveals J. C. Lowery, A.P.I. Extension Service agronomist. "Land is prepared and planted to grain sorghum by the middle of June. In the fall the Manganese bur comes up in the grain sorghum middles."

Another plan the agronomist recommends is to follow the Manganese with Sudan grass or Johnson grass for hay or grazing. The clover comes back in the fall. Also, it can be established on permanent pastures, especially on hilly areas, and Bermuda sod.

GET A GOOD STAND OF FALL PLANTED CROPS

Auburn, Ala. — A good smoothing job on land where fall crops are to be planted is necessary to obtain the best stand, according to J. T. Gaillard, A. P.I. Extension Service engineer.

He says that the way to do this job is to use a log-drag behind the disc harrow. It will rub out humps and fill in low places.

cellent tool for finishing the land preparation job. However, this operation should be considered a part of the planting work. The section harrow ahead of the broadcast seeding, followed by the roller or soil pulverizer will complete the job. Where the grain drill is used the soil pulverizer or cultipacker should follow immediately.

"Do a good job of soil preparation, follow with a good planting job, and get a good uniform stand of fall crops," urges Gaillard.

Suggestions from National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis

A series of preventive suggestions is offered by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. They stress frequent washing of the hands, plenty of rest, avoiding crowds, unnecessary trips and extreme temperature changes. They also emphasize avoiding panic, when trouble is suspected. Rather, summon a physician immediately.

In emphasizing the need for frequent hand washing, the Foundation urges special attention before meals, after the toilet, and whenever hands have become soiled by oral or nasal discharge.

This training may pay dividends of many happy healthy hours of play for the child — as well as peace of mind for the parents.

VOL. XXVIII CLANTON, ALABAMA THURSDAY, AUGUST 17, 1950 NUMBER 33

Clanton Wins Five Straights

Since the last report the Clanton Baseball Club has raised their standing to 23 won and 7 lost, by winning five straight.

They trimmed Autaugaville in a thriller. Clanton tied the score at 6 all in the bottom of the 8th, in the top of the 9th, Autaugaville loaded the bases and with no one out, Johnnie Smith was called in to relieve McConnell (who had pitched a fine game up to the 9th). Smith struck out two, and made one pop out to catcher Tiffin. Then in the bottom of the 9th, after several hits by his teammates, Smith cracked a line drive to center driving in the winning run.

Next Clanton beat Belle Ellen 9 to 5, Johnnie Smith pitching, being relieved in the 9th inning by Tiffin.

Mt. Olive was disposed of easily by a score of 12 to 2, battery for Clanton, Earnest Baker and Grant.

Last Sunday it took 12 innings for Clanton to beat Epps Jewelry Company 3 to 2, Marion Grant pitching all the way for Clanton.

Tuesday night, Draper, with only part of their players, was snowed under to the tune of 26 to 3. The Draper manager was not at fault for not bringing his best players, and on Sunday, August 27th, the regular team with their band will come back to Clanton and promise to give us a game that will wipe out all memory of this ignominious defeat.

Schedule—

FRIDAY, August 18th, at 7:30, here in the City Park, Holtville. This team holds one win over Clanton, against one defeat by Clanton, so this game will be the rubber game and should be a humdinger.

SUNDAY, August 20th, at 3:00, here in the City Park, Holt. This team is from the edge of Tuscaloosa, where they can draw from the University of Alabama. They have beaten us one game 7 to 4, and are rated by every one as one of the very best amateur teams in the South. It will be a feather in Clanton's cap if they win this one.

WEDNESDAY, August 23, at 7:30, here in the City Park, Buck Creek. Any time you say Buck Creek to Clanton's baseball fans, that is enough. They have beaten us twice this year, and Clanton will be gunning for their first win over them this year. This game will be with Buck Creek's first team and not their "B" team.

Disposal Unit Demonstration Here August 23

Representatives from 15 Central Alabama counties will meet here on August 23, to witness a demonstration by the Portland Cement Company.

The demonstration will be of ceptic tank and disposal units. It will be held on the farm of Joseph A. Duke, disabled war veteran in the Cooper Community.

Head veteran A-G Teachers, Dept. Vocational A-G Teachers and County Sanitation Officers will be the official delegates from each of the counties represented. The public is invited to attend the demonstration.

Kindergarten Opens August 28th

The Kindergarten School at the SDA will open the doors for registration on Monday morning, August 28th, at 8 o'clock, at the church.

Mrs. Thelma Crowson will be the teacher.

OUR NEW BABIES

The following babies arrived at the Central Alabama Hospital the past week:

TATUM — Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Tatum, Clanton Route 2, announce the arrival of Gary Norman on August 9th.

KILGORE — It's a son for the J. M. Kilgores of Clanton Route 1. His birthday is August 10th. Don Latner is his name.

HURT — Danny Windell Hurt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis L. Hurt, of Clanton Route 1. He was born August 10th.

THOMAS — Mr. and Mrs. Flemmie Thomas of Verbena Route 2 are the parents of a new baby girl born on August 12th.

HEADLEY — The new son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Headley of Montgomery is named Ronald Edward. His birthday is August 14th.

LITTLETON — Mr. and Mrs. Amos Littleton of Jemison announce the arrival of a daughter on August 14th. They have named her Rita Monteria.

GREEN — It's a girl for the Grady Greens. She arrived on August 14th.

AUXILIARY MAKES PLANS FOR DRIVE

Plans for a membership campaign to give Chilton County Unit No. 6 of the American Legion Auxiliary increased strength for its activities during the year ahead have been announced by Mrs. L. A. Lambert, Unit President. The campaign will begin August 24th and continue through November 11, 1950, with enrollment of Unit's 1951 quota as it's goal.

The campaign will be directed by Mrs. E. J. Morris, Membership Chairman of the Unit, assisted by her committee, composed of Mrs. Myrtle Pitts, Mrs. G. C. Walker and Mrs. J. C. Parr.

Invitations to come into the activities of the Auxiliary are given to all eligible women in the county.

"We feel that it is especially important for the wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of veterans of both World Wars to be members of the Auxiliary at this time," said Mrs. Lambert. "This is a critical time in the affairs of veterans, as well as of the nation, and the Auxiliary is working for the welfare of both. Every woman who joins, gives the Unit additional strength for service to the veterans and for our work in support of national security and Americanism.

Those eligible to be Auxiliary members, Mrs. Lambert explained, are the wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of members of the American Legion, or men who have died since discharge, women who served in the Armed Forces in either World War are eligible to both Legion and Auxiliary membership.

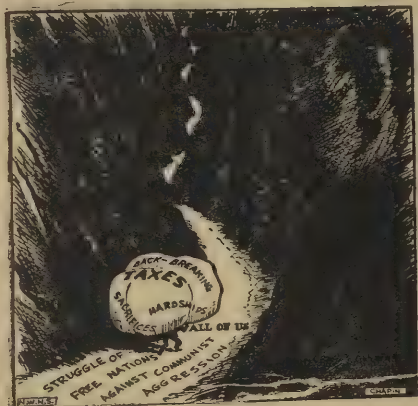
LONG, HARD ROAD AHEAD



TRAFFIC ROUGH

We venture to say no highway in the State or North Florida bears the traffic that U. S. 31 does. In our goings and comings the past few months we have made a point of studying traffic on the various highways throughout the state, but they nowhere compare with heavy traffic we have through Clanton.

The State Highway Department might prove us wrong in this statement, but it would certainly take one of their machines and cold figures to convince us.

So, assuming we are right in the first statement, what next? We are entitled to a better North-South Highway through Alabama than the beat-up, worn-out, antiquated U. S. 31 we now have. All of our lawmakers at Montgomery travel over it. All of them cuss it. All know that it is in terrible condition, but absolutely nothing is done about it.

Traffic is rough. And it's getting rougher.

The powers that be should do something about our main artery from the north to Florida through Alabama.

ALABAMA ALAYAM

The Agricutural Experiment Station at Auburn has mailed us some interesting Bulletins on the "Alayam."

In case you hadn't heard the Alayam is a product of the sweet potato, and according to the bulletin has been accepted in the market places as a big success.

Twelve products in all have been developed of which the "snack" seemed the most enjoyed. The Alayam Snack is made by combining 60 percent sweetpotato, 20 percent cocoanut and 20 percent sugar. The finished product, so the bulletin says, is essentially a brittle. Its flavor is a rich blend of cocoanut and caramel. However, a number of different flavors may be obtained by blending various fruits with the cocoanut and sweetpotato, or by substituting various fruits for the cocoanut in the basic formula.

Most samplers suggested they would use the "snack" as a in-between meal "snack," after-meal "snack," or midnight "snack." Whatever the use let's hope the lowly sweetpotato finally reaches top place among the better things of life. What benefits the sweetpotato benefits the South.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

That new Motel, we believe it will be the Cloverleaf Motel, is fast becoming a reality at the City Limits South of town. There will be 24 units available to the tourist or traveler. It is up-to-date in every way and its modern design is most attractive.

Something nice should be said for Collins and Traywick of the City Street Department. They are really cleaning up. We don't remember when our city streets have looked so clean. Just goes to show you even a street sweeper can have pride in his work and the two street sweepers at work daily, or we should say nightly, on our streets are due a vote of appreciation from all who use and have to look at Clanton streets. It is certainly good advertising for our city.

Found, two honest men. Two colored men smashed a garbage can in front of the News office last Saturday morning. We noticed them discussing the situation as we came in to work. Such things happen so often nowadays we paid little attention to it. Next thing we knew the negro men and the automobile was gone, leaving the battered trash can where they had smashed it. About thirty minutes later here came the two men back with the City Police. They wanted to know the value of the trash can, or what it would cost to replace it. They were told by officers Rucker and Gore the approximate value as near as they could find after questioning several men at the scene. The negroes paid and were on their way again. It is refreshing to see a thing like that when we see so much carelessness of other peoples property on every hand.

Cliff Jones wants that road to Peg Thomas's and the Martin Memorial Cemetery black-topped. He says after every automobile that passes you have to wave your arms and fight for breath for several minutes before you can ever see where you are. We could tell Cliff about the one behind our house that runs over to the Enterprise Road. It keeps a heavy blanket of dust over our neighborhood all the time. Sie Foshee, Dr. Eiland and several more in our neighborhood will have to get our heads together pretty soon to see what can be done. When Cliff hollers about the dust we know exactly what he means.

Dave Tingle tells us that one of his displays at the Veterans Rally last week will be exhibited at Clanton Motors. You perhaps saw the painting at the Airport. The title was "In War and In Peace," and was painted by James Kincaid of Thorsby. Dave received many compliments for the veterans on their fine displays. Many out of town visitors were present also.

Joe Campbell wants to borrow our mustache. Pore old thing can't grow one of his own. He's going to Washington next week on a trip and thinks he might get nominated on the Republican Ticket.

The new Methodist preacher is doing a mighty good job of making friends and influencing people. Mr. McKinney is just what the Clanton Methodist Church needed at this time. He's a good preacher and sincere in everything he does or says. Our prediction is that Rev. J. M. McKinney will be popular here.

Speaking of preachers we bet that Carlisle Miller who now resides at Panama City is proud of Morris Moatts. Morris is what you might call a product of Carlisle Miller. He found his first interest in Caravan work under Carlisle's direction and encouragement. Now Morris is quitting his job and devoting all his time to schooling that will unable him to do evangelistic work, caravan work and the like. Funny, when we scatted our seeds we never know just where one will grow and bloom.

City Grill has started closing nights. Heretofore the Grill has remained open 24 hours a day, but beginning last week this schedule was changed. Now they will close each night at 10 o'clock and open each morning at 4:00 a.m.

WARM WELCOME . . . Gen. Douglas MacArthur is warmly embraced by his wife upon his safe return to Japan from second survey of Korean front.

(answer to last week's puzzle)

Singing

Singing is the act of uttering sweet melodious sounds with musical inflection of the voice. It seems that people who can sing are happy people more so than those who cannot sing. Singing then can be a blessing to drive away sorrow and fear. Paul and Silas prayed and sang praises unto God at a mid-night hour when they were in jail, lying on the cold floor, their backs bruised and bloody from many stripes they had received. Years later he exhorted Christians of all ages, saying, "Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs singing and making melody in your hearts to the Lord."

A. T. HICKMAN

People used to sing while they worked; it seems to make the work easier. Today in this world of so much trouble, fear and high tension, and irritability there is a need for people to open up their hearts and sing psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, and make melody in their hearts to the Lord. It would be like a medicine to the soul and spirit, quieting the nerves, driving away fear and doubt. Singing not only effects the one who sings, but the people who hear the singing. Good singing lifts the soul to a higher plane. We feel closer to our Creator while listening to good spiritual singing. The singing of Gospel songs in a church service is like flavor in a cake. And most people like the old fashioned songs and the old fashioned manner of singing the best. Of course, all songs were one time new ones, but those written by Spirit-filled people, people who know the depth of spiritual worship are the better songs.

Everybody ought to learn to sing. I read a story about Dr. Archibald Alexander Hodge, who was a very humble man. He had little musical ability and never sang in church. But one Sabbath he joined the congregation in singing, and he continued to do so thereafter. His friends noticed how hearitly Dr. Hodge did sang. The ladies asked Mrs. Hodge to tell them why her husband had become a singer. She replied, "I could tell, but I do not think I ought." This only caused the people to want to know the more. Then she told the story. Dr. Hodge had had a dream. He dreamed he was dead, and went boldly up to heaven's gate and knocked for entrance. He was asked by St. Peter, "Who is there? Dr. Hodge replied, "This is the Rev. Archibald Alexander Hodge, D.D. LL, D. Professor of Theology in the Western Theological Seminary, and pastor of the North Presbyterian Church." St. Peter shook his head and said, "I never heard of you. Whose son are you?" "I am the son of the Rev. Charles Hodge, D.D., LL, D., Professor of Theology in Princeton Theological Seminary." "Oh, dear old Dr. Hodge," Peter said, "I have heard of him, but I declare I never heard of you. What do you want?" "I want in to sing the praises of God for all eternity." "Can you sing?" "No" was the answer. "What do you want in here for?" To this the doctor could give no answer. Then Peter told him that this was only a dream to warn him beforehand. And remember when you do come, if you can't sing, you can't get in." He awakened from his sleep, and ever after he sang most heartily.

Attend the singing now in progress at Temple Church, and learn to sing.

Your Health

AND STILL FORWARD

New bladders for old is the latest in surgery. The substitute bladder, which makes life liveable as well as possible after the urinary bladder is removed, is made from a section of the patient's own intestine.

This operation, devised by four Chicago surgeons, has been performed so far on nine patients. Most of the patients were victims of cancer of the bladder, although one patient was a ten-year-old boy who had lost control of his bowels and bladder through a spinal injury.

The operation produces a substitute bladder formed from an eight-inch section of the right side of the large bowel. With the exception of the ten-year-old boy, all of the patients who underwent this operation were more than sixty years of age. In spite of the advanced stage of their disease, most of them withstood the surgery very well.

In the cases of bladder tumors, relief from pain has been immediate and almost complete within a day. The first operation of this kind was performed in October, 1949, on a sixty-three-year-old farmer who had cancer involving both rectum and bladder. When last heard from a month ago, he was comfortable and "doing very well."

This new type of surgery for cancer or paralysis of the bladder will make it possible to give many sufferers from the disease comparatively normal, liveable existence. The bladder operation was made possible through the initial use of a small number of dogs, without which, according to surgeons, the operative procedure could not have been established as a reducer of human suffering.

How Can I?

(By Anne Ashley)

Q. How can I soften putty in a window frame?

A. By stirring together two pounds of sal-soda, one-half pound lime, in one gallon of hot water. Apply while still warm to both sides of the glass and let it remain for twelve hours. The glass can then be removed without cutting. The amount of solution given is sufficient for a number of windows.

Q. How can I economize in the use of eggs when making custard?

A. When the custard recipe calls for several eggs, one or more eggs may be left out of one-half tablespoon of cornstarch is added for each egg omitted.

Q. How can I prevent colored handkerchiefs from fading?

A. Soak the colored handkerchiefs in cold water containing a little salt before they are washed.

Q. How can I remove the discoloration on the inside of a bottle?

A. Fill the bottle nearly full with buttermilk and potato parings, letting it stand for several hours. Then empty, and rinse thoroughly with clean hot water.

Q. How can I wash small Oriental rugs?

A. Rub them with a lather of pure white soap. Rub off as much soap as you can and then rinse with cloths dipped in clear, cold water. Dry thoroughly.

Q. How can I dry damp flour?

A. Sift it several times in front of the open door of a hot oven. The flour should be cooled before using or returning it to the container.

Q. How can I remove stains on a silk garment that are the result of spilled water?

A. They can often be removed by scratching gently with the fingernail. The rings will disappear and the spots will be scarcely noticeable.

Q. How can I add just the right amount of stiffening to organdy trimmings, such as collar and cuff sets

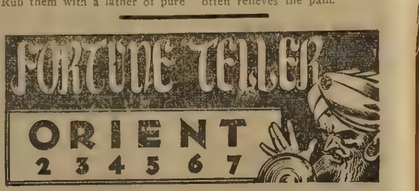
A. Try dipping them into water in which rice has been boiled.

Q. How can I make the meat white when boiling fowl?

A. When boiling either fowls or fish add the juice of half a lemon to the water and see how white it makes the meat.

Q. How can I treat an insect sting

A. As soon as you have been stung, remove the sting, and then apply ammonia water, or carbonate of soda water. Common mud applied to a st often relieves the pain.



YOU can have fun figuring out your message from the Orient by use of this pleasant little letter puzzle. If the number of letters in your first name is 5 or less, subtract from 7. If more than 5 letters in your first name, subtract from 13. Now take this result and find your key letter in the word ORIENT at the top of this puzzle. Then, starting at the upper left corner, check each one of your large key letters as it appears from left to right. Below the key letters is a code message for you.

SOCIAL ITEMS

Baptist W.M.U. News—

The circles of the W.M.S. of the Clanton First Baptist Church met on Monday afternoon in the following homes:

Mrs. M. H. Lane was hostess to Circle One. Mrs. Tom Kemp brought a lovely devotional taken from Acts 10:1-16. This was followed with prayer by Mrs. Hattie Alred. Southern Baptists' Advance Into Cuba was given by Mrs. Russell Williams. Refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames Tom Kemp, Russell Williams, T. R. Burdette, C. B. Cox, Archie Harris, C. F. Woodfin, M. D. Foshee and Harold Lawrence.

Circle Two met with Mrs. Willie Bean. The devotional for the afternoon was given by the hostess who also brought the interesting study of "How Christian Can I Afford To Be." The circle chairman, Mrs. Reeves, had charge of the business session.

Light refreshments were served to Mesdames Isabell Rockett, Joe Gray, B. E. Reeves, John Mullins, A. N. Minor and A. D. Martin.

Circle Three was entertained by Mrs. W. W. Brown. The devotional was given by Mrs. Cleo R. Cox, followed by prayer. The topic of the program for the afternoon was, "How Christian Can I Afford To Be." Those taking part on the program were Mrs. Watts Moore, Mrs. Marion Wood and Mrs. Lester Jones.

After a short business session the hostess served sandwiches and iced tea to the member present and one visitor, Mrs. Ed Goodgame.

Circle Four met with Mrs. Ed Mullins. A very inspiring devotional was given by Mrs. J. E. Gowan. Mrs. Referee Lineberry gave a very interesting study for the afternoon. Business was attended to. Refreshments were served to: Mesdames A. C. Smith, Andy Jones, Renfro Mullins, Russell Lewis, Joe Moore W. A. Willis, Referee Lineberry, T. L. McKee, J. L. Teel, Reese Mullins, J. A. Hester and L. A. Calloway.

The Young Matrons Circle met at the church with Mrs. Luther Little and Mrs. Dave Tingle, co-hostesses. Mrs. T. C. Davis brought an interesting and inspiring talk on "The Lord Is My Shepherd." The devotional was given by Mrs. Gerald Weed.

The next Circle meeting will be with Mrs. Weed.

DOBB'S REUNION

The annual Dobbs Reunion was held Sunday, August 13th, at the old home of Uncle Nathaniel Dobbs in Shiloh Community. It is now the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Williams, Uncle Nattie's granddaughter.

A large number of relatives and friends attended. We were all very pleased to find that Uncle Budd Dobbs (oldest living member of the Dobbs family) had greatly improved in health and was able to be up and around to enjoy the day with us.

A bountiful dinner was spread under the beautiful old pecan tree in the yard and was enjoyed by everyone.

Those present for the day were:

Mr. Willie Dobbs, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dobbs and son, Mr. and Mrs. Reedie Dobbs and children, Mrs. Maudie Emfinger and daughter, Mrs. Zadie Baker and son, Mr. and Mrs. Fate Driver and son, Mr. and Mrs. Joe L. Dennis, Mr. Vernon Dennis, leaving for service Monday; Mr. and Mrs. Willie Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Johnson and son, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Mullins and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Dobbs and son, Mr. and Mrs. Arden Johnson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Hudson and children, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fulmer, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lockhart and children, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Dobbs and children, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Fulmer and children, Miss Lily Faye Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Dobbs and children, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wyatt, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Arthur Muir and children, Mr. and Mrs. Red Fulmer and children, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dobbs, Mr. Tom Wyatt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mims and Mr. and Mrs Clyde Lewis and daughter, all of Clanton; Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Culpepper and children of Eclectic, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. George Moore and children and Mr. Virgil Dennis, all of Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Erbie Dobbs and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dobbs and sons, all of Montgomery; Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Dobbs and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Dobbs and son, all of Sycamore.

Guests for the day were: Miss Mary Alice Bice, Mr. Buddy and Miss Lois Goggins, Mrs. L. E. Evans, Rev. and Mrs. Hamm and children, Rev. George Smith, Curtis Culpepper, Evelyn Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Dock Baker and Mr. Avington Cassels.

A wonderful time was enjoyed by all and everyone departed, with love and best of health to Uncle Bud and well wishes to everybody until we meet again next year.

13 CHILTON MEN ENLISTED

Thirteen young men from Chilton County enlisted in the U. S. Army or U. S. Air Force during the past week.

Taking the oath of enlistment for the Air Force were: Hubert J. Thompson, Lonnie G. Ellison, James M. Hargrove, James W. Bonds, William E. Gentry, Thomas C. Baker, Winston O. Bice, Fred R. Donovan, Aubrey E. Neeley, and Rufus J. Hogue, Jr., of Clanton, and Shirley E. Mooney of Thorsby, Ala.

Leon J. Horton of Clanton was sworn into the Regular Army.

These servicemen will undergo periods of basic training before being assigned to their respective organizations.

They were enlisted at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Main Station in Birmingham, Ala.

LEAN PORK

Most meat eaters today show a preference for lean pork. They prefer putting emphasis on the meat-type hog—a hog which produces a high proportion of choice cuts of ham, pork chops and bacon, all with a minimum of fat.

REVIVAL AT PINEDALE

The Rogers Evangelistic party of Anniston, Ala., begin a revival Wednesday night, August 16th, at the Pinedale Church, located four miles northeast of Clanton just off the Lay Dam highway. Special music and singing every night.

Don't fail to hear Rev. Rogers tell how he and about forty of his members received the wonderful Baptism of the Holy Ghost. They were members of another denomination. "Come thou with us and we will do thee good." Everyone welcome. — Thomas D. Rachels, Pastor.

MRS. G. B. GOLDEN

Mrs. G. B. Golden, age 62, of Clanton, died August 13th, at 12:20. Funeral services were held at Union in Tallapoosa County near Martin Dam, conducted by Dr. J. S. Eddin of Birmingham, Rev. J. M. McKinney of Clanton and Rev. Carl Prier of Selma.

She is survived by the husband, Rev. G. B. Golden; two sons, E. H. Golden of Birmingham and W. E. Golden of Miami, Fla.; two daughters, Mrs. E. E. Easterling of Clanton and Mrs. V. A. Short of Birmingham; two brothers, J. E. Carroll of Dadeville and L. D. Carroll of Tallassee; two sisters, Mrs. G. F. Knight of Guntersville and Mrs. O. L. McNelley of East Tallassee; eight grandchildren.

Spigener Funeral Home in charge.

WILMA DIANNIA KIRKLAND

Wilma Diannia Kirkland, three months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Kirkland, died August 10th in a Montgomery hospital. Funeral services were held at Mt. Carmel Friday, conducted by the Revs. Rabie Crumpton and Robert Cost.

Surviving besides the parents are two brothers, Curtis Leon and Bobby Ward; one sister, Patricia and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Daavenport of Billingsley and Mr. George Kirkland of Clanton.

Spigener Funeral Home in charge.

FOX HUNT IN READINESS

Everything is in readiness as the county's foxhunters prepare to stage one of the county's larger outdoor events next Wednesday afternoon and night at Old Kincheon, off the Billingsley Road.

Barbecue and all the fixings with foxhunters black coffee, is being prepared for several hundred people under the direction of C. E. Stapp. It's open to the public—everybody invited.

Besides an evening of fellowship and tall yarns by hunters and guests, there will be one of the largest bench shows ever attempted in the county. Some twenty ribbons will be passed out to winners in the bench show, following the supper. One of the country's finest judges, Clyde Morton, will preside in the ring. Mr. Morton is known throughout the nation as one of the foremost hound breeders and trainers. He has been publicized nationally in various sporting magazines. His impartial decisions in the ring will be without question.

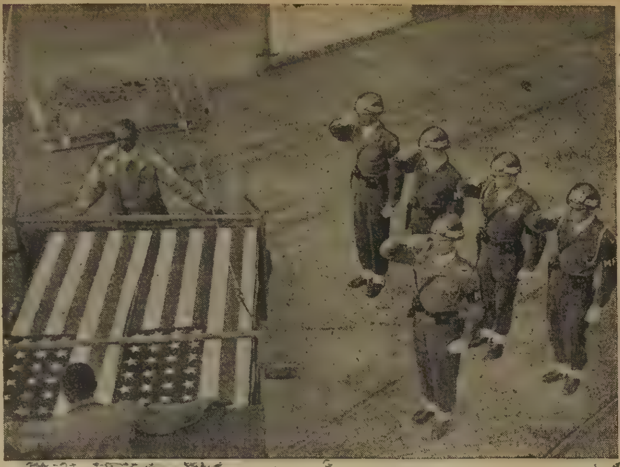
Barbecue will be served at 5:30 p.m. Immediately thereafter, if he can make it, Mr. Grady Cleveland of the State Forestry Division, will entertain the crowd with his tall tales, fibs and prevarications. He is known throughout the state for his yarns and entertaining abilities.

The officers wish to advise hunters and those showing hounds of the following classes to be shown:

Puppy Class: Hound pups one year and under (male and female shown together); Derby females, (2 years and under); Derby males, (2 years and under); All age females, over two years; All age males, over two; Best hound in show. The winners of all above classes shown against one another. Four places in each class.

There will be no entry fees for showing of hounds. Show as many as you wish. It is hoped that all Chilton hunters will bring their hounds for the show, win, lose or draw. After the show hounds will be cast in red fox territory for a chase the remainder of the night. You do not have to cast hounds to show them in the ring but it is hoped that lots of hunters will stay for the race.

The News hopes to carry pictures of the winning hounds.



WAR DEAD ARRIVE HOME . . . The bodies of two American soldiers who died of wounds suffered in the Korean war are lowered from the navy supply ship Cardinal O'Connell in Oakland, Calif. The soldiers were wounded in battle and removed to Japan where they died and were shipped to the U.S.

PULLETS

Many Alabama poultrymen find that pullets started in January or February are the most profitable. The ones started at that time this year are now in production.

ALABAMA SNAKES

Only one snake out of about 10 seen in Alabama woods is poisonous. However, those persons who like to tramp the swamps and wade streams for fish should always wear good rubber or leather boots for protection against possible snakebite.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Cooking without thawing is one way to make the most of that garden-fresh flavor and bright color in frozen vegetables. Take frozen vegetables right from the freezing compartment and put them into boiling water.

Shoults

We had a nice crowd at church Sunday, but there were lots absent who could have been there. Sunday night we had 20 adults at church. This is a very good report. We thank the Lord. Bro. Mike Moore brought us two very inspiring sermons.

Sunday evening at 2:30 Pleasant Grove Church and Friendship Church went together for our Baptismal service. Pleasant Grove had 12 to baptize and Friendship had 12. There was the largest crowd of people we have ever seen at the baptizing. It was very beautiful. Several from this community attended the revival at Maplesville this past week. They enjoyed the service fine.

We are very sorry to hear Dr. Ed Day is in the hospital.. We are praying for his health.

Well its syrup-making time in this community.

Mrs. Walter Lawley and Joan returned home with Mr. Buddy Lawley to Birmingham for a week's stay.

Marjorie McAfee is visiting relatives in Birmingham this week.

Mrs. Annie Sewell and Barbara Ann are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Hutson Smith this week. We are glad to hear their son is able to be at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Raynard Hale and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Miller were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McAfee Sunday.

We are glad Mrs. Albert Garner is home from the hospital doing fine.

The Trico Singing Convention will be at Friendship Saturday night.

MT. NEBO W.S.C.S.

The Mt. Nebo W.S.C.S. met Tuesday, August 9th, for a very interesting meeting. The ex-president of the W.S.C.S. was guest for the afternoon. A nice social meeting was enjoyed after the program and business. Refreshments were served to members and guest.

All members try to be present at the next meeting, September 13th. May God bless each and every one.—Reporter.

POSTMASTER UNDER CIVIL SERVICE

Washington, D. C. — Harry B. Mitchell, Chairman of the United States Civil Service Commission, has called upon the American public to recognize that postmasters are permanent officers under the Civil Service System, and entitled to all the rights and privileges of the law.

Chairman Mitchell's statement was issued as a part of a nation-wide campaign launched by the National Association of Postmasters to educate the public as to the true status of postmasters in the Civil Service System. Too many people, the Association announced, believe that postmasters are temporary political appointees and it is resulting in an incorrect attitude toward the Postal Service.

In a public statement Chairman Mitchell announced: "Every postmaster not only has to qualify for appointment through an examination given by the Civil Service Commission, but he must be among the three top eligibles. Like other Federal workers, the postmaster serves without limitation on his term, subject only to the same competent handling of his office as required of all personnel.

"The country benefited when postmasters were placed under competitive civil service. The postmaster and his employees are the most important daily contact a citizen has with his Government. I am glad to know that the National Association of Postmasters is launching a campaign to inform the American public as to the real facts. The United States Civil Service Commission is particularly gratified at the manner in which postmasters are performing their duties."

The Association has established a national committee to conduct the campaign with Fergus McRee, Postmaster, Richmond, Va., as Chairman. Top officials in Government and in both major political parties have joined in expressing approval of the program the sole aim of which is to correct the oft-repeated statements that postmasters are serving only upon a temporary basis, whereas the law of the land has placed them as a vital part of the Civil Service System.

Sunday's Sermon

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

Mary, the Mother of Jesus

Lesson for August 27: Luke 1: 26-48; 2: 48-51; Mark 3: 31-35; John 19: 25-27; Acts 1:14

Memory Selection: Luke 1:46-47

THE FIRST PASSAGE in the lesson text records a part of Mary's song of rejoicing when she had been greeted by Elizabeth as the mother of the Lord. The song has become known as the Magnificat. In the second passage we read of Mary as she found the boy Jesus in the temple. The third shows Mary and sons seeking Jesus as he taught a multitude. The fourth depicts the scene at the cross, when Jesus committed his mother to the care of John. The last tells of Mary, after the resurrection, praying with the disciples in the upper room.

From these several passages we learn that Mary came only at the last to realize how truly great was her Son—came to sit, as it were, at his feet as the Saviour of the world.

Mary is not due the adoration of the Roman church, but she should be accorded a higher place among Protestants than is commonly given her. Stainless in soul, ever a tender and solicitous mother as she watched over her illustrous Son, she exhibited at times human errors in dealing with him, but came at last to the full understanding of his mission and to trust in him for the life which he had come to bring men more abundantly.

Let us give Mary an exalted place as the mother of our Lord, the while we pray to God alone and trust in Mary's great Son for redemption and eternal life.

MAKE YOUR FIELDS GREEN THIS WINTER

How green your field will be this winter depends to a great extent on how well you prepare your soil now. Very often so-called winter grazing turns out to be early spring grazing rather than winter grazing. Early grazing can only be produced from early plantings. However, early planting of clovers are almost sure to result in failure unless a good job of seed bed preparation is done.

Many farmers will again plant crimson clover and rye grass or oats for grazing. This is a hard combination to beat and can be expected to produce excellent grazing under proper conditions.

Crimson clover land should be prepared as soon as possible and allowed to settle before seeding. Seedings should be made in late August or September keeping in mind that an early planting cannot be "roughed in."

Crimson clover responds well to the addition of lime to the soil. Ordinarily one to two tons per acre should be used prior to planting. Fertilizer should be applied at the rate of 500 pounds of 0-12-20 with boron applied at the rate of 10 pounds per acre. Keep in mind that if boron is used much heavier the clover may be injured.

Crimson Clover should be seeded at the rate of 20 pounds per acre. Half of this amount or 10 pounds should be a reseeding strain and the remainder may be regular clover. Where crimson clover is planted for seed production only reseeding clover should be used. All seed should be inoculated and on land being planted to crimson clover the first time, seed should be double inoculated.

If crimson is planted as a companion crop to rye grass or oats, a light application of nitrate should be added when the plants come up. This will stimulate the growth of oats and grass.

4-H CLUB HAD RALLY FRIDAY AT CITY PARK

The big day that so many 4-H Club members looked forward to finally arrived Friday, August 11th. Young voices singing, laughing and joy making rang out over the City of Clanton as approximately 400 outstanding 4-H Club boys and girls gathered in good fellowship and celebration of a job well done.

All of these youngsters had an improved mail box project with a 4-H Club metal sign neatly exhibited in front of their homes. These signs were graciously given by the Bank of Thorsby, Peoples Savings Bank of Clanton, First National Bank of Clanton, and the Bank of Maplesville.

In addition to their mail box projects, up to date records on their projects were handed in for inspection, and their home grounds had been improved during the summer.

We regret that some of this group were unable to attend though your cooperation and work is greatly appreciated.

Local leaders assisting with these groups and supplying transportation are to be commended. Their work is the making of a good neighborhood'

PLANNING FOR WINTER CROPS

Plans for seeding winter legumes, small grains, and legume-grass mixtures should be nearing completion.

ELECTRICITY PUT TO WORK ON MANY FARMS

Auburn, Ala. — Farm homes which have electricity have radios and flat irons, a recent survey in six states by the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicates.

Stella Mitchell, A.P.I. Extension Service home management specialist, emphasizes the fact that on all electrified farms visited, families had at least one radio and one iron—many had two or more. Electric clocks, toasters, vacuum cleaners and other small appliances were widely used. But in total use of electric current, the kitchen range, water heater, and refrigerator were most important.

"Lighting was the most highly valued single use of electricity by the farm families," states the specialist. "In second place was power for pumping water."

WAISTLINE WHITTLERS CAN STILL EAT CEREAL

If body weight stays about right for height and build, it's a sign that calories in the diet match body needs.

"However, says Mary Hulsey, A.P.I. Extension Service nutritionist, "when more food is eaten than the body can use, it is stored as fat."

To cut calories yet have other food essentials for good health, she suggests eating three meals a day, but one should not be tempted by between-meal snacks.

"Smart people eat to keep weight down by eating wisely," adds the specialist. "Whether gaining or losing weight, a person must still get his balanced share of all the needed nutrients. Therefore, it is not necessary to eliminate cereal from the breakfast menu."

A pineapple is ripe when the top blades or leaves can be easily pulled out without breaking.

4-H CLUB MEETING HELD IN VERBENA

Four-H Club girls are making history in Chilton County. August 10th and 12th was the first time training meetings for girls were ever held. Meetings were held at Verbena, Jemison and Maplesville. Twenty-two communities sent one girl each to those meetings. A short demonstration on "How To Cover A Box" was given by the Home Agents. A clear explanation was given and each girl covered a box at the meeting. These girls who were present, will go back to their respective clubs and give this demonstration without the Agent being present.

The Verbena Home Demonstration Club was hostess to the following girls Leva Mae Jacks, Carolyn Bowman, Joan Patterson, Nell Deason, Polly Ann Deloach, Janice Hughes, Lucretia Davis, Nina Headley, Annie Ruth Minor, Gloria Robinson, Mae Barron and Dorothy Norris.

The Jemison Home Demonstration Club was hostess to the following girls: Carolyn Collins, Bernice Hilyer, Evelyn Martin, Mildred Jones,, Billie Sue Burgess and Vera Nell Mims.

The Maplesville Home Demonstration Club was hostess to the following girls: Laura Ann Dennis, Mary Lou Kemp, Artie Hathcock and Louerene Culp.

32-2tc Judge of Probate.

MULCH ADVISED FOR FALL GARDEN

Hot weather presents real problems in planting a fall garden since properly moistened soil may dry out near the surface before seed have time to sprout.

"Therefore," states J. C. Ford, A.P.I. Extension Service garden specialist, "a light mulch along the drill may make the difference between a good stand and a bad one."

Curley's "Musical Cows"

They were riding Curley Lawson the other night because he's been serenading his cows with music from an old radio he hooked up in his barn.

"What if the cows start dancing?" inquires Squint Miller. "No, they're high-brow," puts in some one else. "They only give milk when they hear classical music!"

Curley just smiles and says, "You go right ahead and have fun. Only it so happens the cows are giving more milk." That kind of slowed the boys up. And from the thoughtful look on Squint's face I wouldn't be surprised if there was a radio in his barn by now.

From where I sit, making things more pleasant and improving surroundings usually pays off. A good example of this is the way Andy runs his Green Gardens. He co-operates with the Brewers' Self-Regulation Program that emphasizes the importance of clean, attractive, pleasant surroundings. With a place of business, as with a person—looking right usually leads to feeling right and doing right.

MINUTES OF THE COURT OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS OF CHILTON COUNTY, ALABAMA, OF JULY 29, 1950.

Court meeting was called for July 28, 1950, but for the want of a quorum the special court of the County Commissioners of Chilton County, Alabama, was held this 29th day of July, 1950, with Commissioners Lenoir, Freeman, Harrell and Dunlap present with Chairmamn W. L. Parrish, Judge of Probate, presiding. The Court was called to order and open for business.

THEREUPON, the following claims and accounts against Chilton County were presented to the Court, and it appearing to the Court that the same are itemized and verified, as provided by law, the same were audited, allowed and passed unanimously by the Court and it was ordered, adjudged and decreed by the Court that each of the claims payable to the respective parties, as hereinafter set out, for the material or services as hereinafter set out, and in the amounts hereinafter set out, be allowed, and that Chairman W. L. Parrish, Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama, draw a proper county warrant on the county treasury for the correct amount in the payment of each of said claims, in favor of the person, firm or corporation to whom it is due, from the funds listed:

PAVING FUND:

Warrant No. 286, payable to Alabama State Highway Department for Project S-18 (2) Contract $16,030.77.

GASOLINE FUND:

District No. 3—

Warrant No. 1692, payable to W. B. Headley for Supplies and Lumber $106.80.

The following sealed bids were opened and read aloud to the Court:

1. Commissioner Harrell offered the following resolution for adoption; which was duly seconded by Commissioner Freeman:

BE IT RESOLVED: That the Court of County Commissioners purchase from the Southeastern Sand & Gravel Company, Inc., approximately 1,539 tons of Plant Mix Seal as per bid price of $4.60 per ton, F.O.B. Plantersville, Alabama.

The above stated resolution was adopted by a unanimous vote.

2. Commissioner Lenoir offered the following resolution for adoption; which was duly seconded by Commissioner Harrell:

BE IT RESOLVED: That the Court of County Commissioners purchase from Hunt Oil Company approximately 9,025 gallons of Asphalt Prime as per bid price of $0.1028 per gallon, F.O.B. Clanton, Alabama.

The above stated resolution was adopted by a unanimous vote.

3. Commissioner Lenoir offered the following resolution for adoption; which was duly seconded by Commissioner Freeman:

WHEREAS, the Court of County Commissioners of Chilton County, Alabama, is desirous of constructing or improving by Contract, under the provisions of the "Farm to Market Road Act of 1943," a section of road included in the Chilton County Road System, approved by the Alabama Highway Director under date of August 17, 1949, and described as follows:

A section of road locally known as the Montevallo Short Route; the section proposed for construction is 4.2 miles in length, beginning at intersection of old Highway No. 31 at Will Shaw's Store and extending north to Shelby County Line.

WHEREAS, the County agrees to conform to all provisions of the said "Farm to Market Road Act of 1943," and to Section 14 of said Act in particular, which provides that "the County shall make provisions for the maintenance of such road thereafter in accordance with standards established by the bureau of County aid and enter into contract with the State therefor," with the full understanding that failure on the part of the County to satisfactorily maintain any section of road may be constructed in this County under the provisions of said Act, shall be sufficient cause for the suspension of any further benefits to this County from the operation of such Act until such roads or sections thereof, shall be again placed in a state of maintenance satisfactory to the State Highway Department.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that application be made to the Bureau of County Aid, of the Alabama State Highway Department, to investigate the proposed improvement and if it be found to conform to the eligibility requirements of the "Farm to Market Road Act of 1943," that the provisions of said Act be invoked to accomplish the said improvement at the earliest practicable date.

Done at the Special Session of the Commissioner's Court of Chilton County this the 29 day of July, 1950.

The above stated resolution was adopted by a unanimous vote.

CHILTON COUNTY COMMISSIONERS COURT.

COMING TO MONTGOMERY

ROY ACUFF

The popular hillbilly star will be featured in Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc's Hadacol Good Will Caravan coming to Montgomery August 23, 1950. Mickey Rooney, Connie Boswell, Minnie Pearl, and Sharkey's Dixie Land Band will headline the show along with Acuff and 30 other great performers. Two great shows will be presented with a Hadacol box top being the only admission charge. A group of outstanding beauty queens will be presented.—Adv.

TALLADEGA HAS PILGRIMAGE

Talladega, Ala. — Historic Talladega will welcome thousands of visitors October 6, 7 and 8 for its second annual Pilgrimage.

Under sponsorship of the city's garden clubs and with I. W. Elliott as general chairman the Pilgrimage will feature gracious ante-bellum mansions furnished with priceless heirlooms and antiques.

The annual Pilgrimage is conducted as a civic enterprise by the garden club members with all proceeds going to community beautification.

Open for visitors this year will be eleven homes, all of them considered outstanding examples of Southern colonial architecture.

In addition to the residences, visitors will see an elaborate flower show at stately Manning Hall, central building of the Alabama School for Deaf.

At Sunset Inn all visitors will be guests of the garden clubs at tea to be served without charge on each day of the Pilgrimage.

Another attraction will be Shocco Springs, an ancient Alabama summer resort now owned and operated by Alabama Baptists as a state-wide assembly center.

Talladega, famed as one of the most historic and cultured cities in the southeast, is located in a region of great scenic beauty, ringed about by towering mountains.

One of these peaks, Cheaha, is the state's highest point.

Talladega itself was an Indian city before the coming of the white man and it was here in November, 1813, that Andrew Jackson defeated the Creeks under William Weatherford in a battle which played a major part in paving the way for the state's subsequent development.

On October 6 and 7 Pilgrimage attractions will be open from 9:00 a.m. to noon and from 12:30 to 5:30 p.m. On October 8 hours will be from 12:30 to 6:00 p.m.

ALABAMA BANKERS HOLD CONFERENCE

University, Ala. — A Fifth Study Conference will be held at the University of Alabama this month by the Alabama Bankers Association, it was announced at the conclusion of the Fourth Study Conference here.

J. Warren Andrews of Montgomery, chairman of ABA's Banking Education Committee, will have charge of arrangements for next year's program.

During the 2½-day Fourth Study Conference, more than 125 state bankers heard discussions of problems in their institutions in the fields of regulations, operations, public relations, government finance, current economic problems, credits and loans, and of trees as a farm crop.

Among those who attended the conference from Clanton was H. G. Heflin.

HARVEST OWN TIMBER, MAKE $1.89 AN HOUR

Auburn, Ala. — Farmers who need additional income can earn $1.89 an hour by working in their own woodlands, according to I. R. Martin, A.P.I. Extension Service forester.

He explains that experiments show an increase in income of 300 per cent over stumpage price if forest products, such as peeled poles and sawlogs, are delivered to wood-using industries instead of selling timber on the stump.

"By using equipment available to the average farmer," stresses the specialist, "the U. S. Forest Service grossed $13,770 from a below average 303-acre woodland during the years 1946 to 1949. Stumpage value of these products was $3,910. A close check on all labor indicated that the net hourly earnings of the operators ranged from $1.30 an hour to $1.89. The higher figure was earned by cutting saw timber."

Martin believes that farmers are well paid for the time spent during slack seasons if they use this time to harvest their own timber. Not only will income from timber be increased, but farmers are more likely to take more interest in improving their woodlands if they do the work themselves.

BROOD SOW BIG WHEEL IN HOG PROGRAM

Auburn, Ala. — They haven't started pig hatcheries yet, and they don't produce pigs on assembly lines. So, the old brood sow is a mighty "big wheel" on the hog raisers farm, observes G. B. Phillips, A.P.I. Extension Service hog production specialist.

"In fact," says he, "a sow is so important that an Extension Service circular entitled 'The Brood Sow's Business' has just been released."

In announcing the new publication, P. O. Davis, Extension Service director, stated that points covered include selecting the sow or gilt, and breeding, feeding, and managing the brood sow for best results in raising big litters of big pigs.

To get your copy of this circular, see the local county agent.

CARE OF RUBBER TIRES AND ELECTRIC MOTORS

Farmers find that use of proper air pressure is the most important factor in the satisfactory performance of tractor and implement tires.

J. T. Gaillard, A.P.I. Extension Service farm mechanization specialist, points out that underinflation will damage the cord body of tires. Underinflation may allow the tire to slip on the rim and tear off the valve stem of the tube. On the other hand overinflation reduces traction, resulting in slippage and wear.

Concerning electric motors, the specialist advises that bearings be lubricated regularly in accordance with instructions supplied with the motor. However, too much lubricant should not be applied. When too much oil is used, it will lodge on the windings, catch dirt, and hasten the destruction of the insulation.

TUSCALOOSA

Tuscaloosa was a great Indian chief, who befriended the Spaniard explorer DeSoto but was repaid in cruelty. His capitol city was Mauvilla, a huge fort built of trunks of trees driven into the ground, and supported with cross timbers, and strong vines. Here a great battle was fought against DeSoto, and his men, but DeSoto was victorious and completely destroyed this great Indian town and the race that built it.

New Harmony

We ad a very good attendance out for church services during the week end. Our pastor was with us and brought a wonderful message Sunday in which everyone enjoyed.

Our State Moderator, Rev. Luther Lumpkin, came by Sunday night and preached a wonderful sermon.

We were very glad to have all the visitors with us Sunday and Sunday night. They were: Bro. Lowery and S. O. Headley, from up near Jemison; Mr. and Mrs. Will Nichols and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Jadie Milford, Rev. and Mrs. Jean Sanford. We were glad to have Bro. Jean Sanford to become a member of our church Sunday.

Rev. Edgar Littleton and Euel Headley are still running the ten revival meeting at the Cottonmill. Services begin each night at 7:30. The public is cordially invited to attend.

We still have Wednesday night prayer services. Everyone keep this in mind. It seems as though some forget the mid-week prayer meeting. If we are careless and neglect our prayer services, our church will soon be on the down fall.

Remember regular worship services during the week end. Everyone is invited.

FIN-FAN ITEMS

During the past week a scientific fish population survey was made on the Coosa River near Childersburg and south of the Narrows on Lake Lay. Professor H. S. Swingle, one of the nation's topilight fish culturist, brought his crew of technicians from Auburn to make the count. Details of the results will be forthcoming just as soon as each of the many specimens have been thoroughly analyzed and studied. The final report should show the sport fisherman a clear picture of the different species, pounds of fish per acre, the ages of the various sized fish and the amount of food available. Professor Swingle plans to make similar studies in the other Alabama Power Company reservoirs in the near future. It is our desire to cooperate with conservation and sportsmen's organizations in making the Coosa Lake truly the finest fishing waters in the State.

* * *

The Alabama Power Company Fishing Contest Weigh-in Stations have registered several new "Whopper-Catchers" as general fishing conditions on the Coosa Lakes improve.

From the quiet waters of Waxahatchie Creek, Lake Lay, H. C. Leigh's Fishing Camp reports: R. Lawson Hand, Fairfield, fished early morning with fly rod near Leigh's dock and caught a large number of Bream and three Smallmouth Bass, the largest weighing 5 pounds 8 ounces. James R. Dendy, Montgomery, used a rod, reel, hula popper and late afternoon to catch a very game 3 pound 10 ounce Smallmouth Bass.

Edgar Hardiman, Manager of Riverview Fishing Lodge, Lake Lay, reports: Pat Fiorella, Birmingham, used a Cisco Kid and bagged a nice 4 pound 4 ounce Smallmouth Bass.

W. D. Culp's Store, Lay Dam Road, reports: A. C. Turner, Birmingham, caught two nice Smallmouth Bass that weighed very much the same, 2 pounds 15 ounces. Mr. Turner fished Lake Mitchell and used a white Dive Bomber to make the catch.

J. L. Glenn of Pennymotley Fishing Camp, Lake Mitchell, reports: Robert L. Ogle, Sylacauga, caught a very nice 15 ounce Bream while fly fishing with top water popping bug.

A. I. Powell, of River Road Grocery Store, reports: Jack Bates, Clanton, used a reflecto spoon to snag his 1 pound 8 ounce Stripe Bass from the waters of Lake Mitchell.

H. C. Blackwell's Fishing Lodge, Shoals Creek, Lake Jordan, reports: Henry M. Andrews, Jr., Montgomery, caught a nice 3 pound 12 ounce Largemouth Bass with a fly rod and surface popper. Mrs. Edwin Blalock, Montgomery, used a stunter to land a 3 pound 6 ounce Smallmouth Bass. Mrs. W. O. Jesse, Montgomery, caught her first fish and what a start, 15 ounce Shellcracker.

Safety Comment of the Day: Give all fishing and other anchored outfits a wide berth, and run past them slowly, especially when necessary to pass at close range—"Safe Outboarding."

ABOVE THE HULLABALOO

By LYTLE HULL

AT THE TIME this is written, some of the more astute members of our congress are beginning, at long last, to recognize the wisdom of enlisting the services of Japan and West Germany in Democracy's fight for life.

The strongest arguments against arming large forces in these nations are that they may turn against us later on, or that they may be conquered by the Red armies which would then acquire all the arms and equipment with which these forces had been supplied. But opposed to this danger, is the fact that right today, if a large force of Chinese Reds joined the North Koreans, they could probably push us out of Korea and invade and conquer Japan. Also it must be remembered that a comparatively insignificant force could take over west Germany without much difficulty. The Germans are unarmed and the U.S., British and French forces there are small.

We must—some day—realize that a vast army of Russians and Chinese could conceivably attack Canada and the U.S. through Alaska. With a militarily powerful Japan on our side, and of course a strong U.S. and Canada, such an attempt would not even be considered. But with Japan on the side of our enemy it would be considered.

Now comes the big question: Would a rejuvenated and strong Japan remain a Democracy, or would it eventually join the Communist world? That is anybody's guess. But the Japanese are an extremely independent people; they would abhor Kremlin domination, and they don't like the Chinese. They probably don't love us, but their independence could be maintained only by siding with the Democracies.

It would seem a risk which must be taken; otherwise we must maintain a huge army in Japan to fend off a certainly contemplated invasion from the mainland.

The Japanese are an unbelievably industrious people.

Two Maplesville Men Injured In Car Accident

Henry Clay Nix and Clifford Hubbard of Maplesville were injured Sunday afternoon when the driver of the automobile lost control of the car and ran off the road near Jemison.

Nix, who it is said was driving, suffered a fracture of the collar bone and arm. He is in a Selma Hospital. Mr. Hubbard remains at his home at Maplesville. He is suffering from bruises and lacerations.

The automobile was badly damaged. It was the property of Miss Blossom Crumpton, of Maplesville.

Shooting Scrape Lands Two In Hospital; Jail

A negro man went on a shooting spree at Thorsby Sunday afternoon wounding two other negroes, one seriously.

Henry Bennett used a .22 calibre pistol to seriously injure Columbus Wade. The bullet went in his side and lodged in his kidney. The other negro, his last name was Stewart, was less seriously injured.

Officers Buddy Ellison and Chief Livingston of Thorsby arrested Wade shortly after the shooting and turned him over to Sheriff J. A. Nivens. He is held without bond in the county jail.

The shooting took place near the home of Arthur Honeycutt at Thorsby.

Geo. Gillespie, Jr. Killed In Korea

Monday of this week George Gillespie, Sr., of Maplesville, received a message that his son, George, Jr., was killed in the Korean War on August 6th.

George Jr., was the only son. He served during World War II overseas and didn't get a wound of any kind. He was with the 5th Tank Infantry. We deeply sympathize with the family.

Information For School Beginners

Parents of pupils beginning school this year for the first time are again reminded that a child must be six years of age or or before October 1 in order to be able to enter this year. This date was re-established by the State Legislature recently after it had been changed for one year.

These parents are also reminded that it will be necessary for them to have on the opening date of school:

(1) Birth certificate for the child.

(2) Certification from the Health Department showing that the child has had proper shots for whooping cough, diphtheria and small pox.

Plane Crash In Which Girl Was Killed

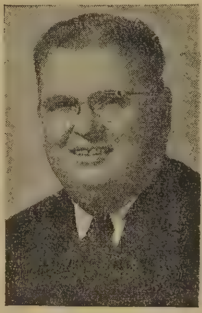
One Killed; Two Injured When Plane Crashes

Miss Eleanor Kelley, a 19-year-old Selma girl, was fatally injured and Miss Mary Esther Snead and Lt. Lewis F. Wirth, also of Selma, were seriously injured when their plane crashed near Blalock Camp Sunday about noon.

Miss Kelley died just after reaching Central Alabama Hospital. Lt. Wirth and Miss Snead were taken to a Selma hospital.

It is reported that the plane was a two-passenger, was carrying too heavy a load and could not gain enough altitude to get over a hill bordering the river and plowed into the side of it. Martin and Spigener ambulances answered the call.

VERBENA REVIVAL



REV. C. H. HILDRETH

Rev. C. H. Hildreth, who is serving his seventh year as pastor of LaFayette Street Methodist Church of Dothan, Ala., will conduct the revival at the Verbena Methodist Church August 27th, through September 1st. Rev. Hildreth formerly served as pastor of the Methodist Church at Plantersville, and has many friends in this section of the state. Miss Mary Virginia O'Brien, accomplished musician of Dothan, will be in charge of the music.

Services will be held at 10:30 a.m., and at 7:30 p.m., daily. Rev. J. Edwin Cumbie and the members of the Verbena Methodist Church cordially invite you to be present at these services.

Chilton County's Biggest Cattle Exhibit Is Taking Shape For August 29 & 30

THE DIAPER DERBY IS COMING TO CLANTON

In the case of BABIES a few changes must be made. The first change—the date on your calendar. NOT September 8—BUT October 13. And it's a FRIDAY, too. Keep reading your Chilton County News.

Final preparations are being made for the county purebred show. The show will be held in Clanton August 29th. Plans have been made to light the hanger at the airport so that the show may be held in the evening. All cattle will be brought in by 3 p.m. and the show will start at 7 p.m. Animals will be judged and the top animals of each class will be held until the following day when the Grand and Reserve Champions will be selected.

An attractive list of premiums is being offered to Jersey owners. In addition to the ribbons and cash awards, a purebred Jersey heifer will be awarded to the 4-H Club member who does the best job of fitting and showing his or her animal.

Everyone interested in Jersey cows should attend both days for the show. Also there will be a free fish fry on the 30th that everyone can enjoy.

In addition to the Jersey show, beef cattle breeders from over the entire county will exhibit animals of various beef breeds on both the 29th and 30th. Farmers interested in beef cattle could profit by seeing some of the better beef cattle in the county.

From the number of entries already committed for show, the 1950 annual cattle show is to be the best ever held in Chilton County.

This event is planned to show the value of production breeding and to give spectators a mental picture of better type animals.

For the convenience of farmers and their merchant friends this show is being held in the evening beginning at 7 p. m. This hour will not interfere with working hours and the attendance should be heavy.

Qualified judges are being secured to place and explain reasons for placing these animals. The show will be interesting, educational, and quite valuable to Chilton County's growing livestock industry.

All Chilton County citizens interested in the progress of an important phase of Chilton County agriculture should plan to meet your friends at this show..

The dairy and beef animals will be held over in the show area for the Wednesday Farm Bureau meeting and fish fry.

It is hoped that all Chilton County farmers will take the opportunity to attend this important show and the annual meeting of your farm organization.

Jesse Culp Goes To Albertville

After having been with Radio Station WKLF nearly as long as it has been on the air, Jesse A. Culp, will leave the station this Saturday to take over as Farm Director of Radio Station WAVU, Albertville, Ala. Announcement of Mr. Culp's leaving was made today by Bob Taber, manager of the local radio station.

In making the announcement, Mr. Taber said that Mr. Culp has made a big contribution to the local radio station and wished the Chilton County Native the best of success in his new adventure.

Mr. Culp entered the employe of the local radio station almost at the beginning and has been with WKLF nearly the full time that it has been on the air. He is a native of Chilton County, having been raised in the Mt. Nebo Community and received his early education in local schools.. He spent two years in the Navy during the last war and was graduated from the Ala. Polytechnic Institute in June of 1948.

During his college career he was editor of the Alabama Farmer, a college publication, and produced programs for the college radio station. He was also selected as one of the outstanding students on the Auburn campus. Mr. Culp is well fitted for his new position having received a B. S. degree in Agricultural Education.

In January, 1948, Mr. Culp married the former Jo Sandlin. They have both been active in the affairs of the First Methodist Church of Clanton, Mrs. Culp having served as its secretary for the past several months.

Restful Acres Purchase Son Of $15,000.00 Reserve Grand Champion Polled Bull

Will Be On Exhibit At Cattle Show August 29th

Chick and Olive Fiquette, Polled Hereford breeders and owners of Restful Acres Farm on the Hinkle Road near Clanton, have secured a herd sire that should prove to be a major improvement in the quality of animals produced on their farm.

The bull, G. J. Advance Domino 50th, was secured from Glen Meadow Ranch, Senatobia, Miss. He is sired by CMR Advanced Domino 66th, that was national Reserve Champion Polled Bull in 1945 and sold in 1946 for $15,000.00.

His dam, CMR Blanch Domino 5th, boasts of national champions in her pedigree. Her half-sister was National Grand Champion in Denver, Colo., in 1948, and in Memphis, Tenn., in 1949.

A half brother to Chick's new herd sire was recently purchased by R. M. Gross of Cullman, Ala., for $3,500.00. Another half-brother was purchased by Barrett Estate in New Zealand for $5,000.00.

Mr. Fiquette's animal will be on exhibit at the Cattle Show, Clanton Airport, August 29th and 30th.

The addition of this "quality" animal to a Chilton County herd will eventually mean better beef animals in this area.

Chick and Olive are to be congratulated for locating and investing in the future of Chilton County cattle by securing this valuable herd sire.

'H. M. S. Pinafore' Presented By Associated Producers

Lions, Kiwanis To Clash In Return Game

The Clanton Kiwanis Club members and the Clanton Lions Club members will meet again on the field of battle.

However, this "field of battle" will be a baseball diamond, and the cause for which they fight will be underprivileged children.

The game will be Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. There will be plenty of fun and the Lions are determined to win this game as the Kiwanis came out top-side the last game.

Homecoming At Pinedale Church

There will be a Home Coming at Pinedale Church, located four miles from Clanton, just off the Lay Dam Road Sunday, August 27. Services will begin at 10 o'clock. Dinner will be served on the grounds at noon. There will be a great Fellowship meeting in the afternoon. We urge all members and former ministers to be with us.

The Revival in progress now is one of the best we have ever had at Pinedale. Some of the largest crowds we have ever had. Many extra chairs have been brought in to seat the people. Come early to get a good seat. Services nightly at 7:30. Don't fail to hear Rev. Rogers, a man with a burden for the lost. "Come thou with us and we will do thee good."—Thomas D. Rachels, Pastor.

"H.M.S. Pinafore," one of the world's most famous operettas, will be presented by the Associated Producers at the City Hall next Thursday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

Written by the popular British team, Gilbert and Sullivan, "H.M.S. Pinafore" has for over half a century been as nearly immortal as any operetta could be. Composed in 1878, the operetta has had an almost continuous run in either England or America since its composition. It is a product of the English speaking people wherever they may be, and the Associated Producers presentation of Clanton's first light opera should certainly mark a high point in the cultural history of Central Alabama.

Starring in the operetta will be Patricia Huddleston, soprano, and Scott Jackson, tenor. Miss Huddleston of

PATRICIA HUDDLESTON

* * *

Clanton is remembered for her portrayal of Micaela in "Carmen," one of the Associated Producers' earlier summer productions. She is soloist of the Chilton County High School Glee Club, as well as a frequent participant in local civic and cultural entertainments.

Mr. Jackson, a native of Birmingham, is a veteran of the Birmingham Starlight Opera, and a senior at Birmingham-Southern College. A voice student of Vernon Noah, Mr. Jackson has written, produced and sung in opera frequently, and has already scored a hit in Clanton with his portrayal of Don Jose in "Carmen" earlier in the summer.

Assisting Miss Huddleston and Mr. Jackson will be an array of local talent including Helen Hayes, Henry G. Hetlin, Jr., Cooper Speaks, Mary Clyde Mims, Joe Mullins, Jon Will [illegible] and Paul McKinney. The ensemble will consist of around twenty selected singers from the entire county.

Directing the operetta in its final stages will be James Hatcher, first director of the Birmingham Starlight Opera and a present teacher in the drama department at the University of Alabama. Mr. Hatcher is director of the Wesley Choir of Tuscaloosa, promotion director of the University Theatre and former assistant director of the famous Birmingham-Southern Choir.

The operetta will be staged complete with costumes and modern original settings. The operetta takes place on board the ship "H.M.S. Pinafore" and and the men's ensemble consists of the sailors under the command of Captain Corcoran. The women's ensemble consists of the many sisters, cousins, and aunts who accompany Sir Joseph Porter, Admiral of the Royal British Navy, on board the Pinafore, where Sir Joseph pressed his suit for the hand of Captain Corcoran's daughter, Josephine.

Josephine, however, is in love with a common sailor on board the ship even though he is "below her rank." Only Buttercup, the flirty "saleslady" who loves the Captain, could straighten out the complications and make the ending a happy one.

Advanced tickets for the production are on sale at Farleys Drug Company or from the Associated Producers, phone 550-W. Tickets are priced at fifty and seventy-five cents.

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD

All members of the Woodmen of the World are urged to meet with us on Thursday night, August 24th, at 7:30, at our new meeting place upstairs over Piggly Wiggly Store in Clanton.

IT'S A GIRL

Mr. and Frs. James M. Smith of Auburn announce the arrival of a six pound, 13 ounce daughter Saturday, August 19th, 1950 at the Auburn Hospital. They have named her Judy Gail Smith.

Democratic Candidates Meet And Plan Fall Campaign

Chilton County Democratic candidates together with campaign committee chairmen, met Monday night to form their organization for the Fall Election.

Harmony within the party was stressed by each and every candidate throughout the meeting and a feeling of "all for one, and one for all" was the general attitude of all candidates.

Complete committees in every Beat was named and committeemen will receive their appointment from steering committee chairman, J. Archie Ogburn, within the week.

This was the first meeting of the candidates since late July when candidates and committeemen, including office holders, and defeated candidates in the Spring Primary, gathered on the Coosa River for a fish fry. More than one-hundred party members attended that gathering.

Campaign plans and strategy was adopted at the Monday night meeting and the County Party members are united. Such harmony will spell victory in November. Roy Roper was chosen co-chairman of the 1950 campaign.

Alabama Power Co. Great Asset

Announcement was made last week that the Alabama Power Company had made application to the Public Service Commission for authority to install another 100,000 kilowatt-hour unit at Gorgas, in the southern part of Walker county, and in the meantime Thomas W. Martin, chairman of the board, stated that the company had applied to the commission for authority to issue 100,000 shares of new preferred stock. The company expects to have the new unit ready to be put into operation by 1952.

This proposed addition to the already vast enterprise of the Alabama Power Company at Gorgas should be welcomed with enthusiasm by the people of Walker County, who have been greatly benefitted already by the power company, which is paying approximately one-third of the taxes of this county. But the taxes paid is not the greatest value received by the people of Walker County from the Alabama Power Company. The company gives gainful employment to a large group of people, and when the Gorgas plant is in full operation it consumed 3,200 tons of Walker County coal daily, which indirectly gives employment to numerous other workers. Another advantage is that there is no shutdown at Gorgas; the plant must stay in operation in dull times as well as prosperous ones.

A new unit is now in course of construction at Gorgas, which, when completed will give the Gorgas plant a greater number of kilowatt hours than any other steam power plant in the Southern States. — Jasper Mountain Eagle.

Are We Good Americans?

Americans are said to make the bravest soldiers in the world. They have never lost a war, and citizens on the home front have utmost confidence in their ability to win the present conflict.

We are beginning to wonder, however, if we are worthy of the brave men who defend us. When the first news of the war in Korea came in, the stores were flooded with people who rushed in to buy up supplies of commodities which were scarce in the last war. Tires, sheets, sugar, coffee, black pepper and many others were bought up, causing prices to go up unnecessarily. Those who did not participate in this hoarding have to share the punishment for it.

A man in the construction business was telling us that it is almost impossible to buy concrete because it is being held for higher prices. Another person told us that automobile and truck dealers are holding their cars and trucks for higher prices.

The government has passed legislation to increase taxes, but no protection has been given the taxpayers in the form of price ceilings or controls.

Situations like these mentioned above make it hard on those who want to be patriotic. For instance, The Jacksonville News would like to keep its prices in line and not hold up its customers, but if the owners have to go out and pay exorbitant prices for everything, the price of printing has to go up and they join the vicious circle. The same thing is true for every other type of business.

We need leadership on a national level as well as local. Prices should be controlled and set back so that people will have something left to live on after they pay the cost of the war. — Jacksonville News.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

Special notice to Dr. William B. Eiland, optometrist. Saw where a fellow optometrist had a sign in his window, "Eyes Examined While You Wait."

Taxpayers of Clanton should take it upon themselves to help protect public property. We are thinking especially of our parking meters. Just take notice of the meters in town that have the glass broken in them. It wouldn't be tattling to inform on one so thoughtless and careless of public property no more than if it were your personal property. After all, you help buy the meters you know. Anyone caught defacing public property should be made to pay the bill.

Monday was Aunt Laura White's birthday. Mrs. Belle Wade and her grandchildren all took birthday gifts and went around to wish her well, sing "Happy Birthday," and help her enjoy the day. Aunt Laura came out on the front porch to meet them and thank them. She was 95 years young Monday.

At a meeting of the Democratic candidates Monday night Luther Kendrick suggested his slogan for the coming campaign would be: "The grass may grow on my roof, but it will never grow under my feet."

Listening to D. A. Wingard tell about his trip to California at Watson's the other day. Mr. Wingard said they crossed by the lower route and it was mighty hot. He told of having to put ice in a tub and placing it in front of the ventilators where the air coming into the automobile could blow across it to cool the car. They would, of course, close all the windows to the car. That would give them a cooling system. He stated they had a mighty fine trip and enjoyed a lot of scenery.

Folks go to places of entertainment to be entertained not to be depressed. That is why we must compliment the management of the Wadesonian Theatres on their recent series of lively and entertaining comedies. We get enough of the trials and troubles of this old world in everyday life without paying to see them flashed on the screen. Our idea of good entertainment is when we can forget our personal worries and get a laugh for a change.

Letter To Editor

Editor Chilton County News:

In accordance with my promise, I am sending you another brief note of our work here at the Holtville Riverside Baptist Church. I am happy to say that our work is growing gradually and very beautifully. As you recall, the church was organized September of last year with eight charter members. We now have forty-seven which is an average of one member per week since the organization.

Our church is carrying on a full program of work, and our people are happy over the great progress of our work thus far. We met at the waters last Sunday morning for the third baptismal service of this year. We humbly bow our heads and give God all the glory for whatever may have been accomplished in His name.

Prof. W. M. Devaughn will teach a two-weeks singing school here, beginning next Monday night. The tuition will be in reach of all who wish to attend. The school will begin about seven o'clock each night and run for about two hours. Both children and adults are invited to attend. Why not get a truck load from your community and come and be with us?—M. Lockhart, Pastor.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

Does buying winter legume seed take a big slice of your farm income? It shouldn't. We have several kinds of reseeding legumes that are recommended. One of these should fit into your row crop rotation. The better known three of these are caley peas, button clover and grandiflora vetch. By letting either one of these go to seed one year you have enough seed in the ground to volunteer back for three successive years.

You need not lose a crop the first year because of letting the legume go to seed. After the seed crop is made just turn it under and plant the land in grain sorghum. This is an excellent hog, chicken or cow feed. If you want to have a volunteer winter legume crop every year, just let a different one-third of your land go to seed each spring.

After this rotation is started the expense of buying winter legume seed for your farm is over. Not only will you have a cover crop on all your land to guard erosion and build your soil, you can use the money saved to buy additional fertilizer to further increase your production.

Preparing For Atomic Attack

The State of New Jersey is preparing her people for an atomic attack just in case there be one. The 1951 automobile driver's license of that state will provide a space for the holder's blood type, just in case a quick blood transfusion is needed after an atomic attack.

We are told that the State Director of Civilian Defense is urging every resident, whether he be a driver or not, to learn his blood type so that emergency treatment can be given. By taking this wise precaution many may help save their own lives. No doubt many other states will follow New Jersey in preparing their people for what we hope will never come. But in these dark days we cannot afford to take chances. Every preparation that would be to our advantage should be made, and made without delay.

Natural life is precious, but what about the spiritual life? Jesus taught not to fear the one who could only destroy the body, but fear Him who is able to destroy both soul and body in hell. If precaution can help save the natural life, the same is true of the spiritual life. When the worse was expected to fall upon Israel, she was warned by her prophets to "Prepare to meet thy God, O Israel." The same warning should be given to the nations of the world. How can we prepare ourselves against the worse that may come upon our land?

The answer is clear?

First, by accepting the Lord Jesus Christ as our Saviour, and by consecrating our lives unto his service; and by keeping the Word of His patience and doing His Will; He has promised to keep us from the hour of temptation (or trouble) which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth. (Rev. 3:10.)

General MacArthur has warned the world that we have our last chance to save ourselves and civilization. He said, "If we do not now devise some greater and more equitable system, Armageddon will be at our door. The problem is basically theological."

Jesus said, "There shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon and stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity. Men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth. And when these things begin to come to pass, look up, and lift up your heads, for your redemption draweth nigh. For then ye shall see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. Behold the fig tree, and all the trees. When they shoot forth, ye know that summer is nigh at hand. (Luke 21:25-31).

How Can I?

(By Anne Ashley)

Q. How can I detect a leak in a gas pipe?

A. At the point where a leak in the gas pipe is suspected, apply a paste of soap and water. If there is a leak, bubbles will apear. Never use matches or a flame of any kind when looking for a gas leak.

Q. How can I give the fingernail polish a higher gloss?

A. Apply the pink or red polish and then go over the whole fingernail with a coat of colorless polish. It will give a higher gloss, a neater finish and will last longer.

Q. How can I add flavor to meats?

A. Try brushing some French dressing over the meats and vegetables when they are broiled, and this will add extra flavor and help with the browning.

Q. How can I prevent the basement from getting damp and musty?

A. Placing pans of unslaked lime about the basement will eliminate any musty and damp condition, and will make the walls dry and sweet. The size and condition of the basement governs the amount to be used.

Q. What is a home remedy for neuralgia?

A. The eating of a good quantity of celery is often an effective remedy.

Q. How can I keep the clothes line from tangling?

A. Boil the new clothes line for about thirty minutes before using it, and it will not tangle so easily, will wear much longer, and will not stretch.

Q. How can I obtain a high gloss on linens?

A. Use lukewarm water when mixing the starch. Mix to the desired thickness with boiling water, add one-half teaspoonful of salt and stir well with a white wax candle. Then proceed with the starching as usual. This will impart a much finer appearance to the cheaper grade of linens.

Q. How can I keep marshmellows soft?

A. By storing them in a tightly-covered jar or can. If they have become hard, they will soften up again if put into the bread box over night.

Q. How can I make my teeth whiter?

A. One method is to apply a solution of peroxide of hydrogen diluted with one-half water.

Q. How can I keep brass articles from tarnishing?

A. A bed or other article of brass will not tarnish, and frequent polishing will be avoided, if the brass is lacquered with gum shellac dissolved in alcohol. Apply with a small brush.

COMMUNICABLE DISEASES OF CHILDHOOD

If deaths from a certain disease can be reduced ninety per cent, it is reasonable to assume they can be eliminated entirely. Deaths from whooping cough, infantile diarrheas, diphtheria and typhoid are those that have been greatly reduced in the past quarter century. Pneumonia and tuberculosis are no longer the killers they were yesterday, the death rate from pneumonia having been cut in half and death from tuberculosis about seventy-five per cent. Infant and maternal deaths have been reduced by more than half in the past twenty-five years.

The communicable diseases include rose rash, which occurs in infancy, measles, chicken pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, whooping cough and mumps.

The incubation period, which is the interval of time between exposure to the disease and the appearance of the first symptoms, varies. In scarlet fever and diphtheria, the incubation period is short, from two to five days. The incubation period of measles and whooping cough ranges from a week to two weeks but may be less or a great deal more. Mumps and chicken pox have incubation periods of from two to three weeks.

Children should be inoculated against diphtheria and whooping cough early in life. Measles can be greatly lessened in severity, or prevented entirely, if proper inoculation is given after exposure.

Many diseases are preventable if proper precautions are taken. Each of us should practice preventive medicine and help stamp out these communicable diseases which still take their toll.

WOMEN ARE SMART

(A Short Story)

By RICHARD HILL WILKINSON

YOU CAN FOOL a woman. A smart woman, I mean. Camille Squier was smart. So was Elena Talley. But there was a difference Camille was better looking. She had charm and grace and could wear clothes. When she entered a room, men gravitated in her direction. She knew this. And because she knew it, she was sure of herself—confident.

Elena knew it, too. She knew there was no sense in making a conquest when Camille was around. If Camille took a fancy to your conquest, you might as well give up.

This was the situation when Elena met Val Randall. She met him at a dance in January, two weeks before she was due to leave with her family for the annual sortie to Miami. Val was a writer and soft spoken and gentle and understanding, and Elena knew she loved him before they had danced around the floor once.

Camille stifled a yawn. "Honey, you never did know what to look for in a man. I'm sorry, but please don't try to promote a romance between your writer and me. I'm quite satisfied with my present set-up."

The discovery confused her, changed her, carried her to dizzy heights and dropped her to depths of despair. She knew he loved her. She could see it in his eyes. She could feel it. She knew he was restraining himself because of convention. She knew he was afraid to say what was in his heart because he was afraid she wouldn't believe him.

It was frustrating. She couldn't tell him how she felt. It wouldn't ring true. Then she learned that he was going to Miami in January, and her heart beat with wild joy. Almost instantly horror replaced the joy. The crowd would be there. Camille would be there. Camille would take one look at Val Randall and that would be the end.

Elena was desperate. Before it hadn't mattered, because she hadn't really been in love. This was different. She couldn't let Val go without a fight. Even if it meant losing face, even if it meant humiliation and being laughed at. Val was hers. Camille couldn't have him. Somehow, some way, she was going to beat Camille at her own game.

Elena left with her folks for Miami on the 21st of January. Val was to come down a week later. Camille and Candace Usher and Gail Sharon were already there. As always, the four families would stay at the Whitlock Hotel on Miami Beach.

"Darlings!" Elena exclaimed when her three friends greeted her at the station, "I have the most wonderful news!"

Gail Sharon said bluntly: "I hope it's a flock of men. There's absolutely no one here. It's positively dull."

"Only one, darling. One lovely, adorable handsome man. He's a writer. His name is Val Randall. I met him at a dance two weeks ago." She turned to Camille. "A new conquest for you, my sweet. You'll adore him."

"Really?" said Camille, smiling faintly.

"He's the best-looking thing you've ever laid your eyes on!" Elena babbled on. "Oh, you'll love him. I can just see you two together. The best-looking couple on the beach!"

And so Elena continued to talk about Val. For six days she talked about him whenever she could get anyone to listen. And mostly she talked to Camille.

Camille was bored. After two days of it she had heard enough. She was sick of the sound of Val Randall's name. Her replies to Elena's enthusiastic build-ups became sharp and irritated.

Then at last Val arrived, and Elena, entering the hotel with Camille and Candace and Gail and seeing him in the lobby, cried: "There he is! Oh, there's Val! Isn't he wonderful!" And she crossed the lobby to speak to him. The other girls trailed behind. Elena held her breath and then watched and waited.

Val looked at the other girls and looked at Camille. Camille's eyes were faintly puzzled, faintly shocked. Presently she excused and [illegible] to her room. Elena found her there a half hour later.

"Wasn't he grand, darling! Wasn't he wonderful?"

Camille stifled a yawn. "Honey, you never did know what to look for in a man. I'm sorry, but please don't try to promote a romance between your writer and me. I'm quite satisfied with my present set-up."

Elena's face fell. But the moment she was outside the door, her eyes lighted with triumph. "He's only going to be here a week," she thought. "I can keep it up that long. Why, I can almost make her hate him." And then as she sped along the corridor toward where she had promised to meet Val, she thought: "It's love. I know it now. Otherwise, I wouldn't have been smart enough to think up such a brilliant scheme."

Birthday Celebration—

On Sunday, August 13th, Mrs. Emma Manning was honored at her home by her children with a celebration of her 75th birthday. The children, grandchildren, great grandchildren and in-laws began to arrive the week before until almost all of them were present Sunday. They were:

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Manning of Jacksonville, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Manning, Richard and Jean Carroll, of Dunn, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. K. S. Weeks and Karl, of Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Little, Glenn, Bobbie and Martha Sue of Winchester, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Farmer, Clifford Truett and Ann, of Titus, Ala.; Mrs. G. O. McKee, of Charlotte, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Tucker, Mrs. Roland Walker, Shirley and Linda, Mr and Mrs. C. H. Oliver, Harvey and Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jones, Glenn, Ronnie and Lynn, all of Birmingham; C. M. and Micky Manning, of Clemson, S. C.; Mrs. Doris Comer, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wells, Louchel and Sandra, Mr. and Mrs. Erby Dobbs, all of Montgomery, Ala., and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wells of Isabella.

The morning was spent in exchanging greetings, talking and chattering. At noon all gathered under the shade trees and enjoyed a delicious meal.

In the afternoon between 2 and 6 p.m. over 60 guests called. After they were met at the door they were invited into the dining room where the beautiful decorated cake surrounded by ivory and purple pinks, served as center on the lace-covered table. On another table the large punch bowl was the centerpiece. Light from purple candles in holders gave light to the guests as they were served cake, nuts, mints and punch.

Afternoon guests were from Birmingham, Selma, Montgomery, Maplesville, Clanton and Isabella.

The granddaughter and great granddaughters did the serving. Barbara Oliver gave each guest a napkin with the honoree's name on it as they entered the dining room.

Mrs. Roland Walker cut the cake and was assisted in serving it. Also nuts and mints by her daughters, Shirley and Linda, and Jean Carol Manning.

Mrs. Gil McKee served punch. She was assisted by Ann Farmer and Martha Sue Little.

Mrs. Andrew Jones, assisted by her daughter, Glenne, served from the kitchen to the dining room.

Mrs. Doris Comer received and displayed the gifts.

Mrs. Erby Dobbs registered each guest.

Mrs. Manning received many nice and useful gifts.

Picture-making was one of the events of the afternoon.

Mrs. Charles Cooper is doing nicely after her recent operation and expects to be at home soon.

This community extends its congratulations to Omar Giles on being able to be out of the hospital for two weeks, after being confined there for several months on account of an automobile accident.

Miss Lula Rasberry, Mrs. Lewis McGee and children, Jimmie and Jean, of Clanton, and Mrs. Charlie Jones of this community spent the day with Mrs. Minnie Carter and daughter, Ruth, of Billingsley. Mrs. Carter returned home with Mrs. Jones for a few days visit.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Davenport, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mayfield and baby spent the past week end in Montgomery with Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Davenport, Sr.

Mrs. A. J. Lecroy, who recently underwent an operation at Highland Baptist Hospital in Birmingham is doing nicely at present.

Quinton Cummings, who spent several days in the hospital in Selma last week, is at home and able to be up and going.

Mrs. Emma Manning had as her guest recently Joe Warmbrod, Jimmy Cunningham, Ralph Roddy, Leland Powell, Glenn and Bobby Little, of Winchester, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wells spent Sunday in Montgomery with their son and daughter.

Montevallo, Ala. — Architect's sketch of the New California-type Pool which goes under construction this Fall on the campus of Alabama College at Montevallo, at an estimated cost of $90,000. The building is of glass and brick construction. Width of the pool is forty feet, which will allow for five swimming lanes. Present plans call for completion by January, 1951.

MR. JOEL H. HARRISON

Mr. Joel Hardy Harrison, age 74, died at his home in Stanton, Ala., at 10:00 a.m., August 17, 1950. Mr. Harrison was born in Perry County, Ala., near Medline Church. Early in life he joined Medline Church and his membership was never moved. He was a Baptist. He was the son of George Washington Harrison and Emily Bearden Harrison. They were born and reared in Perry County.

Early in life he married Miss Judy Catherine Crowe also of Perry County, Ala., who survives him. Their marriage took place over 52 years ago.

He leaves seven children to mourn his passing—five sons, Carlo, Ester, Odean, Irby H. and Agee Harrison; two daughters, Mrs. Johnnie Lee Davis (Tarva) and Mrs. Posey Lagrene (Vera); 29 grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren; one brother, Mr. Wiley Harrison, of Stanton, Ala.; three sisters—Mrs. John McKinney, Stanton, Ala., Mrs. N. W. Harrison of Plantersville, Ala., and Mrs. H. H. Hopper of Tuscaloosa, Ala.

Mr. .an.d Mrs. Harrison moved to Chilton County 31 years ago. They lived useful, respectful lives. They were always a part of the community in which they lived; always striving for its betterment. Supported the church which was nearest them—Ebenezer Baptist at Stanton. They worked faithfully and untiringly for the Medline Church. Always conscious of the needs of that church; returning for all reunions, homecomings, all-day singings, etc., and attended worship there whenever the opportunity presented itself. Mr. Harrison worked hard these past several months helping "Ole Medline" rebuild the old church and today there stands a nice new building. However, he was not able to attend the homecoming at the new church this year.

Mr. Harrison was always active in the political affairs of the County and State. He served as a Democratic Executive Committeeman for a number of years.

Funeral services were held at Abenezer Baptist Church at 3:00 p.m. Friday. Interment in the adjoining cemetery; Breslin Service of Selma, Ala., directing.

Pallbearers were: Mr. Ernest Davis, Mr. Bob Davis, Mr. Hershel Parnell, Mr. Clyde Gregg, Mr. Robert Gay and Mr. J. J. Cates.

A special choir composed of Mr. Will D. Rush, Miss Mattie Ruth Rush, Mr. Robert Rush and J. B. Davis. Pianist, Mrs. Frances Harrison. Rev. Grady Williams, a former pastor and friend for a number of years, conducted the funeral services and was assisted by Rev. J. R. Robinson, Jr., pastor of the church.

ALABAMA POWER TO EXPAND

Alabama Power Company today filed with Alabama Public Service Commissioner application for a certificate of convenience and necessity to install at Gorgas, Ala., still another steam generating unit. The Company already has under construction at Gorgas, a 100,000 kilowatt unit expected to be in operation in 1951. The new unit of 100,000 KW for which application has been made will represent the seventh unit built at Gorgas and is expected to be in service in the summer of 1952.

The Company also applied to the Public Service Commission for authority to issue 100,000 shares of new preferred stock. The proceeds from the sale of this stock will be applied toward the cost of the construction and expansion prgoram of the company.

Thomas W. Martin, chairman of the board of Alabama Power Company, in making the announcement of application for permission to install the additional unit, stated, "We predicted a few months ago that within the next ten years Alabama Power Company would double its output of electric power to keep pace with Alabama's development. Installation of this additional large generating unit at Gorgas Steam Plant is a step toward this objective. Within the decade, barring unforeseen obstructions, we expect to see the development of Alabama and the South not only continue but to accelerate. It is our objective to be ready with ample electric power as required by the growth we expect."

When construction of the new plant is approved by the Public Service Commission it will bring the total of the company's generating facilities built or being built to 1,135,560 kilowatts installed capacity or approximately a million and a half horsepower. These additions represent an increase of over 100 per cent in generating facilities since the end of 1950, an indication of the tremendous development that already has taken place in Alabama.

This increase is represented by the completion of Chickasaw Steam Plant near Mobile with a capacity of 80,000 kilowatts, where an additional unit of 40,000 kilowatts is now being installed; the installation of a 20,000 kilowatt unit at Mitchell Dam; the construction of the new steam plant at Gadsden with 120,000 kilowatts; the completion at Gorgas of a 60,000 kilowatt addition in 1944; the 100,000 kilowatt unit now being installed at Gorgas; the additional 55,000 kilowatt unit at Martin Dam; and the proposed new 100,000 kilowatt unit at Gorgas.

BEEF CATTLE FARMING

A good way for beef cattle farmers to start in the beef cattle business is to plant early winter grazing crops and then buy some stocker steers in October and winter them on grazing crops, along with dry hay. The steers can be sold in May or June, when the market is seasonally high.

Farmers will find that from one to two acres of good winter grazing crops will carry a steer through the winter. The hay or other dry roughage is very good for steers on the succulent grazing. It decreases the danger of bloat and keeps the green grazing from being too "washy" for the steers.

These steers will make money in three ways:

1. Cattle prices are normally three to six cents per pound cheaper in October than they are the following spring.
2. Each steer will weigh more at selling time than at buying time. Farmers have reported up to 300 pounds of gain per steer on this program.
3. Steers will be more valuable for beef because they will be fatter in the spring than they were in the fall. Several farmers have reported that they have bought plain steers for 16 cents per pound, or about $100 each, in the fall and sold the same steers for 23 cents per pound, or $200, each in the spring.

Any farmer who is thinking of going into the beef cattle business will do well to consider trying this phase of the business for a year or two before buying any brood cows.

LEGUME CROP SHOULD BE WELL FERTILIZED

Tests at the A.P.I. Agricultural Experiment Station reveal that good fertilizer practices are necessary for success with winter legumes. When good fertilizer methods are combined with other good practices, winter legumes can be successfully grown in all areas of the state.

Winter legumes, when properly inoculated, take nitrogen from the air and store it in the top and roots. Then, when the crop is turned under, this nitrogen enriches the soil. Good crops of winter legumes usually add to the soil 60 to 100 pounds of nitrogen per acre, according to the Station's results. This is as much nitrogen as is contained in 400 to 600 pounds of nitrate of soda.

However, winter legumes do not add lime, phosphorus, or potassium to the soil. If these materials are not already present in the soil in great enough amounts for growing legumes, they must be added if the crops are to be successful. And on most soils of Alabama, one or more of these will have to be added unless the legume follows a crop that has been well fertilized.

The importance of adding fertilizer has been revealed through studies of major soil types in Alabama. They show that some soils have less than 25 pounds of available phosphoric acid per acre. Other soils contain less available potash per acre than is found in 50 pounds of muriate of potash. And the lime content of many soils is too low for satisfactory growth of most farm crops.

NEW GRASSES CREATE MORE INTEREST

None of the newer grasses in Alabama have created more interest and controversy than the tall fescues—Alta and Kentucky 31.

Research shows that tall fescue has certain characteristics that should enable farmers to fit it into their grazing program, according to the A.P.I. Agricultural Experiment Station. It apparently is adapted to all soil types in the state, except the sands and light sandy loams. Fescue is droughth resistant, yet will survive on wet, boggy areas. A heavy concentration of tiny, fibrous roots near the soil surface aids in preventing bogging when the soil is wet.

Fescue makes most of its growth when the temperature is above 60 degrees F. However, accumulated growth remains green during the winter and may be used to winter cattle.

A number of problems are involved in the use of fescue combinations for grazing. These are not apparent to farmers growing the crop in pure stands for seed production.

One of the most difficult problems is the management of fescue in combination with reseeding legumes. Since fescue grows very little during the winter, the growth must be allowed to accumulate during the summer and fall. This accumulated growth shades the legume seedings and keeps them from growing well. If the grass is grazed close in the fall to let the annual clovers come up, a very little winter grazing can be expected from the fescue.

A good clover-grass combination for winter grazing requires that fescue be planted on moist, fertile soil in combination with a vigorous perennial legume, such as improved white clover or Ladino clover.

LADINO CLOVER PROMISING

Ladino Clover is one of the most promising legumes for permanent pastures. It is without an equal among the perennial clovers in quality of forage produced and ability to recover after grazing.

This clover does best on moist, fertile soils that have some organic matter in them according to tests made by the A.P.I. Agricultural Experiment Station. It will do very well on slopes, however, if the soil is a clay or clay loam and is well fertilized.

In Alabama the true Ladino clover produces few seeds. This fact, along with more trouble from disease, makes it a risky crop for light sandy soils where the clover tends to act as an annual.

The ability of Ladino to grow tall makes it a better companion for mixtures of tall growing grasses, such as orchard grass and fescue grass.

The low fiber content of Ladino makes it an ideal crop for hog pastures, and its use for this purpose is steadily increasing.

Success with Ladino depends on realizing that it requires land of high fertility and good management. Many farmers in Chilton County are learning the value of this crop as is shown by the rapid increase in acreage planted to Ladino.

LIME IN CHILTON ESSENTIAL

On many acid soils in Chilton County using lime for winter legumes may mean the difference between crop failure and satisfactory growth.

Results of many experiments on such soils show that, on the average, a ton of lime per acre can be expected to double the growth of vetch and Austrian winter peas. The larger the growth of green matter, the greater is the amount of nitrogen added to the soil by the legumes.

Austrian winter peas and vetch can stand fairly acid soils. But other winter legumes such as bur clover, caley peas, crimson clover, button clover, and manganese bur cannot. They need more lime than do vetch or Austrian winter peas.

In an experiment on Norfolk loamy sand at Auburn, where 10 or 15 pounds of borax per acre were applied with the fertilizer, the seven-year average yield of crimson clover seed increased as the amount of lime applied was increased. Lime applications ranged from none to four tons per acre.

Using two tons of lime per acre for winter legumes in a two or three-year rotation gave average yield increases per acre of 120 pounds of seed cotton and 3.5 bushels of corn. These tests, conducted for 47 years, were located at LaFayette, Albertville, Crossville, Atmore, Hackleburg and Jackson.

NITROGEN IN THE AIR

Above every acre in Alabama there's free nitrogen — about 150,000 tons of it!

By growing legumes, Alabama farmers can tap this unlimited supply of nitrogen and make some of it available to crops.

But for legumes to be able to take nitrogen from the air, they must be inoculated with the right kind of bacteria. Different legumes require different inoculants. In other words, a certain kind of bacteria is needed to inoculate vetch, while another kind is required for crimson clover.

Results of tests made by the A.P.I. Agricultural Experiment Station show that the inoculation of hairy vetch is injured when inoculated seed are planted in contact with superphosphate. There is little or no injury when the inoculated seed come in contact with basic slag, or with a mixture of lime and superphosphate, or where superphosphate and seed are applied separately. In these tests commercial inoculation gave better results than soil inoculation.

All winter legume seed should be inoculated, even though they are planted on the same land year after year. Only fresh inoculation produced by a reliable company should be uesd. The material should be thoroughly mixed with the seed so that each seed is covered.

It is very difficult to inoculate legumes after they come up; therefore, every precaution should be taken to insure good inoculation at the time of planting.

MT. PISGAH

We had a large attendance for Sunday School and preaching. We were proud you were able to be with us and sorry if your were not able to be with us.

Our pastor Brother H. H. Jones preached a wonderful sermon. 'Im sure everyone enjoyed it.

We are sorry to learn of Mrs. Claud Tucker's mother's illness. We missed Mrs. Tuckers family from church.

We are missing Mrs. Loyd Foshee and Herbert from church. Hope they will soon be back when Herbert gets over the wreck he was in. Lets always be in prayer for those who cannot be with us.

Bro. H. H. Jones, wife, son and daughter were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Yeargan.

We didn't have preaching Sunday night on account of Brother Jones starting a Revival at Shady Grove. We hope and pray they have a wonderful Revival in their Church this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ray and daughter spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Percy Strickland of Prattville.

We are proud of the work that was done on our cemetery and if anybody else would come and work more as its not complete yet. Everybody please meet us at Sunday School next Sunday. Lets everybody study our lesson real good that way we learn more about our Lord. Visitors are always welcome to come worship with us.

PLEASANT GROVE

We had a good crowd out for Sunday School Sunday and MYF Sunday night. But it could have been larger. We need all members of our Church to attend these services as they are the life of the church.

Rev and Mrs. John Rountree and daughter from Greensboro, spent Monday night with Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Gibson. Mrs. Cecil Rountree has been spending a few days with Rev. and Mrs. Gibson but returned home with Rev. John Rountree.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hosey left Saturday for North Carolina where James will be in two weeks training camp.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Scott and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Odis Scott in Selma Sunday.

Let us all remember that our Revival will begin here on Thursday night before the First Sunday. Let us pray and work for a great revival in this community. Our pastor, Rev. Jones will do the preaching. Rev. Jones is a wonderful and powerful minister so come out and hear this man of God bring his wonderful messages.

MACEDONIA

Rev. Atcheson brought the first message of the Revival Sunday night. He will bring the Monday Morning service but Rev. Burks will begin Monday night. The revival will continue through Friday night. The night service begins at 7:30.

The house warming honoring Mrs. M. R. Oats Saturday night was successful. Attendance was good. The hostesses were Mrs. H. W. Raynes, Mrs.. J. W. Veazey and Mrs. W. C. Williams. The games were led by Mrs. Williams. There was a lot of fun during the games and contests. The cracker contest was won by Miss Mariah Freeman. It was between her and Mrs. Conger Cummings. The musical chair contest was won by Mrs. Claudie Mims and Mrs. Conger Cummings. After the games were over the retreshments were served. Afterwards everyone assembled in the room to see the beautiful and useful gifts. They were all highly appreciated. Then everyone returned home.

Mr. Hoyt Freeman and Miss Mariah Freeman had as guests Sunday night Mr. and Mrs. Lee Palmer of Robertsdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Ward vacationed last week with friends and relatives of Birmingham.

Mrs. Naliah Easterling of Selma, visited Mr. and Mrs. Ermin Rasberry last Sunday.

Misses Faye and Ann Nix will spend the week with Miss Mariah Freeman. We are very glad they will be here to attend our revival.

Miss Lorene Cofer was called back to her job Saturday. We are sorry Lorene wont be here for our revival.

Everyone continue to pray for Rev. Burks and Rev. Atcherson as they have a big job to be done in this community.

LAMAR DELOACH RECEIVES DEGREE AT TROY

On Thursday, August 17, Smith LaMar DeLoach graduated grom Troy State Tearhers College. He received the B. S. Degree, with a major in Mus-education.

By virtue of high scholastic record he was elected to membership in Kappa Delta Pi, an honorary fraternity in edhcation.

Besides being active in the College Choir LaMar was a member of the College Marching Symphonic Band and for three years in the Troy Wavemen Dance Band.

LaMar also a former graduate of our Chilton County High School is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. DeLoach of Clanton.

BOWLES

Mr. W. F. Gafford is to undergo an operation at the Veterans Rospital at Montgomery this week.

Mrs. J. F. Spigener is still on the sick list. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nelson and daughters of Brighton visited Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Chandler over the weekend.

Mrs. Mary Bowles spent last week with Mrs. Mims.

Information Concerning School Textbooks

Following is information concerning textbooks to be used in the Chilton County Schools this year as released by the Office of the Superintendent:

Elementary

All textbooks for grades one through six will be furnished by the State and controlled by the individual teachers. The number of these free textbooks is very inadequate to meet the needs of the teachers in carrying on a good instruction program. However, every effort is made to distribute in such a way that will enable each pupil to receive the greatest benefits. Parents are asked to consider this shortage of textbooks and bear with teachers in adjustments that become necessary.

Junior High School

Junior High Schools in the county follow a uniform course of study in order that the transfer of pupils from one school to another will not handicap the pupil to such a great extent. Following is a list of textbooks to be used in each of the Junior high grades:

JR. I (Seventh)—

Geography of Lands Overseas	$1.93
Old Europe & Our Nation	1.33
Mastering Your Language	1.59
Spelling Goals-seven	.64
Appreciating Literature	1.83
Understanding Our Environment	1.69
Health Progress	1.07
Fundamental Mathematics 1	1.28

(All books in this lists are old books except the Mathematics).

JR. II (Eighth)—

American History	$1.98
Geography Of A Working World	2.00
Perfecting Your Language	1.66
Spelling Goals-Eight	.64
Understanding Literature	1.83
Understanding Our World	1.89
Modern Ways to Health	1.07
Fundamental Mathematics 2	1.28

(Only the Mathematics is a new adoption).

JR. III (Ninth)—

History of Ala., Jr. high schools	$1.73
Calling All Citizens	2.00
English in Action, Course 1	1.52
Spelling Goals-Nine	.85
Interpreting Literature	1.90
Understanding The Universe	2.09
Life and Health	1.83
General Business	1.72

(One-half of the General Business Course was used last year. The full course will be used this year. All others on this list are old adoptions).

Senior High School

Most of the changes in senior high textboks cme in the curses in mathematics, languages (nt English), and commercial subjects. High school students are urged to register before purchasing texts. Students wil be able to register before school opens by contacting the principal when he is in his office.

ESBY - PATTERSON

Mr. and Mrs. William Esby, of Gadsden, announce the marriage of their daughter, Carol, to Thomas Patterson, of Clanton. The wedding took place on Friday, August 11th, at the First Methodist Church in Gadsden.

TWINS, NO LESS

Mrs. J. B. Downs announced this week the birth of twins in her family. A boy and a girl were born to Mr. and Mrs. Stevens G. Downs of Atlanta. Birthdate was August 15th. Mother and twins are all doing fine.

WILLING WORKERS MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the Willing Workers Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church of Clanton was held at the home of Mrs. Frances Moore Hubert on Monday night, Aug. 14, with 12 members and visitors present.

Around the subject of A Christian Home the program chairman of the class, Mrs. Raymond P. Mims, in her ever successful way of planning and achieving, presented a beautiful and meaningful program. For an appropriate introduction to the program the group sang these warming words, "Blest be the Tie That Binds Our Hearts in Christian Love". Miss Rebecca Popwell then in her reverent voice sang the prayer, "Bless This House". A review of Peter Marshall's address. "Christian Women and Their Influence in the World' was ably given by Mrs. Houston Nivens, after which Miss Nanette Nivens gave an excellent reading of the poem, "Guiding A Child".

The meeting was then in business session during which current business was discussed and handled, after which delightful refreshments were served.

With the group quoting the Mizpah Benediction the meeting was adjourned. The next meeting will be held Sept. 11 at the home of Mrs. Clarence Easterling..

COLLINS CHAPEL

We have just completed two wonderful weeks of Revival and vacation Bible School in our community. Every one who attended received blessings that I know will never be forgotten. Bro. Paul Oden taught the Adult Class Bro. Burks of Thorsby helped in the Revival.

Thirteen fine boys and girls gave themselves to God during the week.

On next Sunday morning at 9 a.m. there will be a Baptising at Price's pond at Mineral Springs Sanitorium by our pastor Bro. J. D. Hughes. Everyone has a special invitation to attend. There will be services at the 11 o'clock hour at the church afaerwards.

RETURNS HOME AFTER ATTENDING WEDDING

Mrs. D. A. Teel has returned from Charlotte, North Carolina where she attended the wedding of her brother, John Samuel Willis of Charlotte to Miss Nancy Margaret Hope of that City. The wedding took place at the First Baptist Church of Charlotte on August 19th. Mrs. Willis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hope of Charlotte. Mr. Willis's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Willis of Dadeville, Alabama.

DALE CARNEGIE

★ AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING" ★

Let Others "Save Face"

J. M. KELLAN, Surrey, England, is a junior captain employed by a world-wide air-charter company. He is also a member of the local council of the association which is the pilot's trade union in England.

For two and a half years the company had paid an overseas allowance of around a hundred dollars (But in British currency, of course). They knew that there was much dissatisfaction about this payment and they wanted to remove that dissatisfaction at as little cost to the company as possible. So their first move was to send a letter asking for expressions of opinion among the crew members. This was followed by another letter stating that the majority had agreed to a decided reduction, and also a change in duty. Then came a third letter stating that this amount was limited to certain of the crew. The company obviously was determined to settle matters in its own way.

Carnegie

And now dissension was rife. Everyone felt that a dirty trick had been played by the company; tempers were soaring. Captain Kellan felt that he should do something about it. What he would have preferred doing was to write and tell the company officials that they had offered apples but had given crab-apples. He knew he would have much on his side, and he knew that the company wasn't feeling too comfortable as those officials wondered how their moves would be taken.

But Captain Kellan thought it over. To write as he felt would irritate the officers. He knew that every man had a nobler side, so he decided to appeal to the nobler motives of those who had made these moves, and to write in such a way that would enable them to "save their faces."

So he wrote a friendly personal letter to the managing director, taking the attitude that he wanted to help all concerned, and not just the crew members. The letter is too long to quote here, but, in effect he said that the men were telling each other that "a fast one has been pulled on us." He added that he felt the company would lose a lot of good will if they carried out their intentions. Then he suggested that an unintentional mistake had been made that would cause great harm for the company.

What happened? Well, just what Captain Kellan hoped for. He was thanked and he was told the mistake would be rectified. Had he written as he had at first wanted to write, he says he knows he would have been the sufferer when his name came up for promotion.

Accepts Position Mississippi College

Phares Raybon recently accepted the position as Assistant Professor and Director of the Art Department at Mississippi College, Jackson, Miss. Mr. Raybon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Raybon, Thorsby, and is a graduate of Thorsby Institute. He received the B.F.A. and M.A. degrees from the University of Alabama where he was treasurer of Alpha Sigma Omega, honorary art fraternity.

Mr. Raybon has had work accepted for national exhibition including the National Print Show, Laguna Beach, Calif., and The Print Club, Philadelphia, Penn. The University of Mississippi recently purchased one of his etchings for its permanent print collection. Mr. and Mrs. Raybon and son, Michael, expect to leave for Mississippi within a few days.

LEASE (COPY)

STATE OF ALABAMA
COUNTY OF MONTGOMERY

AGREEMENT OF LEASE between RAY-BROOKS MACHINERY CO., Inc., of Montgomery, Alabama, (which is herein referred to as "Lessor"), and CHILTON COUNTY (Dist. 3), in the State of Alabama (which is herein referred to as "Lessee");

WITNESSETH:

In consideration of the monthly payments to be made to Lessor by Lessee and the other agreements on the part of Lessee hereinafter set out, Lessor hereby Leases to Lessee, and in consideration of such lease Lessee hereby rents from Lessor the following described personal property, towit:

1 ADAMS 610 MOTOR GRADER equipped with scarifier, power steering, 14:00 x 24 rear tires, 11:00 x 24 front tires. Serial No. 2247. Upon the following terms and conditions:

(1) The term covered by this lease shall embrace the period beginning on the 15th day of August, 1950, and ending on the 15th day of November, 1952.

(2) Lessee agrees to pay to Lessor at Home Office in the City of Montgomery, Alabama, as rental for use of said property, the following sums on the following dates: August 15, 1950—$588.00 and each following month for 28 months ending November 15, 1952.

(3) Lessee acknowledges that it has received the said property in good condition and it agrees that upon the termination of this lease (in the event the option hereinafter referred to shall not have been exercised), whether by expiration of the term covered hereby or by exercise of any of the options of the Lessor following default hereunder by Lessee, Lessee will return the said property to Lessor at Montgomery, Alabama, in like good order and condition as at the beginning of the term covered hereby, ordinary use, wear and tear thereof excepted.

(4) Lessee agrees to take reasonable and proper care of the said property and to make, at its expense, all necessary repairs and replacements thereof. So long as Lessee shall not be in default under this lease it shall have the right to make any reasonable and lawful use of said property.

(5) As security for payment of the said rental installments, Lessee agrees to appropriate, pledge and segregate a sufficient portion of all funds which may hereafter be received by it, from the tax levied by the State of Alabama on sales and withdrawals from storage of gasoline and other motor fuels, which sum so appropriated and pledged shall be set apart each month and used exclusively for the purpose of paying the said rental installments.

(6) In the event Lessee should default in the payment of any of the installments of rent herein agreed to be paid by it or in any other agreements herein on its part contained, Lessor shall have the option of terminating this Lease by giving to Lessee ten (10) days' notice of its election to terminate the same, whereupon this lease shall thereupon terminate and Lessor shall be entitled to the immediate possession of said property. In the event of forced collection the Lessee agrees to pay reasonable attorney's fee.

(7) Lessor hereby grants to Lessee an option to purchase the said property in its then condition at any time during the term covered by this lease or within thirty (30) days hereafter, for the purchase price of 16,464.00 dollars. In the event the said option is exercised by Lessee, the said purchase price shall be reduced by the amount of rents theretofore paid hereunder.

(8) Lessor shall not in any case or under any circumstances be liable for any loss, damage, injury or death to any person or property arising from or in any manner connected with the condition of or the use or operation of said property. Lessee specificially waives all claims for any such loss, damage, injury or death.

(9) Any notice given hereunder by Lessor to Lessee shall be sufficiently given if made in writing and delivered in person to the Judge of Probate or any of the members of the governing body, of Lessee, or forwarded by registered mail, postage prepaid, to Lessee at Clanton, Alabama. Any notice given hereunder by Lessee to Lessor shall be sufficiently given if made in writing and served in person on any officer of Lessor or forwarded by registered mail, postage prepaid, to Lessor at Montgomery, Alabama.

WITNESS the signature and seals of the parties, in triplicate, this 7th day of August, 1950.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

WHEREAS, on the 22nd day of March, 1943, Vivian Jones Klinner and husband, W. H. Klinner, did execute and deliver to C. H. Pipes a mortgage upon the hereinafter described real estate located in Chilton County, Alabama, said mortgage being in the sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) and being evidenced by one promissory waive note of even date and amount and said mortgage recorded in the Office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama, in mortgage record 314, page 41; and Whereas, default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness secured by said mortgage, and said default continuing, and said mortgage being subject to foreclosure;

Notice is therefore given that the undersigned mortgagee, C. H. Pipes, will sell the property described in said mortgage in front of the courthouse door on Second Avenue North in the City of Clanton, Chilton County, Alabama, at public outcry to the highest and best bidder for cash, during the legal hours of sale on Monday, September 25, 1950, said property being discribed as follows, to-wit:

A lot or parcel of land situated on the West side of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad in the City of Clanton, Chilton County, Alabama, more particularly described as follows: Commencing at the point of intersection of the North side of 5th Ave. North and the East side of 10th Street in the City of Clanton, Alabama, thence in a Northerly direction and along the East side of said 10th Street a distance of 125 feet to the South boundary line of the George E. Jester land line, thence in an Easterly direction along said Jester land line 119 feet, thence in a Southerly direction and parallel with 10th Street, 125 feet to said 5th Ave. North, thence in a Westerly direction along the north side of said 5th Ave. North 119 feet to the point of beginning according to the P. D. Wilson Addition to the City of Clanton, Alabama, and being the house and lot known as the C. H. Pipes Home Place in the City of Clanton, Alabama, and being further described as being that certain property heretofore conveyed by E. B. Deason and Alice S. Deason to T. L. Neighbors on the 9th day of October, 1918, and recorded in Record of Deed, Vol. 164, at page 79, in the office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama, less and except that certain portion sold by T. H. Neighbors to Maude E. Diefenderfer on January 7, 1928, as shown by deed in Vol. 216, page 551, in Office of Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama warranted free from all encumbrance and against any adverse claims.

The proceeds of said sale will be applied as provided in said mortgage; first, to the cost and expenses of making this sale, including a reasonable attorney's fee; second, the payment of the indebtedness secured by said mortgage, as well as any other debts that may have been incurred under the provisions of said mortgage; and third, the balance, if any, to be paid to the mortgagor.

This 18th day of August, 1950.

Goings and Comings—

Among those who are away this week on vacation are Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hampton. They will visit places of interest in Tennessee, Kentucky and the Carolinas.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Sims and Mr. Clint Keener of Adams Community visited Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Sims last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gillespie, Buddy Goff and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hathcock spent last Sunday in Birmingham, while there they visited the Municipal Airport and Fairfield Park.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Moyers, Mrs. Brady McAfee and two children and Mrs. Eula Seals spent last Sunday afternoon at Mitchell Dam on Coosa River.

Shopping in Clanton Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Ace Sims and children.

Mrs. Lula Keener and children of Adams Community visited Mrs. Clyde Smitherman last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Smith of Isabella Community were here Sunday visiting Mrs. Emma Smith and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Mize. They also attended worship service at the Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Ace Sims and children attended worship service at Pilgrim's Rest Church last Sunday.

The people of Maplesville were very happy to get a report from the Vaughn Memorial Hospital in Selma Monday of this week that Dr. Ed Day's condition is improving. We sincerely hope that he will soon be able to return home. Dr. Day had started the construction of him a new home here before his illness. Due to the seriousness of his illness the building has been stopped until he recovers.

Mr. Curtis Sims's Sunday guest was Mr. Hershel Kendrick of Pilgrim Rest Community.

Rev. and Mrs. Claud Averett made a business trip to Demopolis, Ala., last Monday.

Little Bobby Sansom, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Sansom, was carried to the Baptist Hospital, Selma, last Thursday and remained under the care of a physician until Saturday. He is doing fine.

Visitors with Mrs. Claud Averette this week are her sister, Mrs. Ear Thompson, and grandson of Dothan, Ala., and her mother, Mrs. Sarah Marcum, of Meridian. Miss.

Mr. "Bud" Kirsh and Miss Elizabeth Rodgers motored by motorcycle to Tuscaloosa, Ala., Sunday to attend the motorcycle races there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Walker and Mrs. W. W. Kelley attended worship service at Pleasant Grove Church near Clanton last Sunday. En route home they stopped in Clanton for lunch.

Miss Arra Bee Sims and Miss Eula Mae Chandler of Pletcher, Ala., were dinner guests of Miss Louise Sims last Sunday.

Returning Monday from a trip to Mobile and points in Louisiana were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Guinn, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Guinn, Jr.

We are glad to report that Minnie Evelyn Williams, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Williams, is home from a Montgomery hospital after having her tonsils removed and is doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Nix are away this week visiting in Macedonia Community and attending the revival services there.

Guests last Sunday of Rev. and Mrs. Claud Averett were Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Marcum, daughter, Marlene, and Mrs. Mattie Crockrel of Meridian, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Thompson and daughter, Barbara Jo, of Montgomery, Ala.

Mr. Fonzo Hathcock and twins, Claud and Clara, of Marion, Ala., visited relatives here last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cal Seals and children left Monday of this week for a few days vacation in Tennessee.

Mrs. Dovie Shoults of Plantersville, Ala., spent a few days here recently with friends. Mrs. Shoults was formerly a resident of Maplesville and her many friends here are always happy to see her.

Mrs. Sara Mitchell and three children spent last week in Bessemer and Altoona, Ala., with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Harris and three children, twins, Jerry and Terry, and Marvin, spent last week end in Selma, Ala. They have recently moved here from Selma, Ala. Mr. Harris is employed by the Merita Bread Co., and we welcome them to Maplesville.

Last week end was a very busy week end for the Maplesville policemen. The jail was filled to capacity with lawbreakers. For quite a while no arrests were made here, but not for long, so things begin to change. Wars are horrible and destructive, but liquor and strong drink is the cause of more deaths, broken homes, cripples, heartaches. debased lives and other troubles than war. There is a way to keep out of hell, but no way to get out.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Seals spent last week end in Selma, Ala., with their children and other relatives.

Miss Blossom Crumpton and Mrs. Henry Clay Nix are away on vacation. They chose some of the Northeastern States as their vacation spot.

More people seem to be taking their tours and vacations now than ever before. It probably is because of the war, fear that gas and tires might be rationed. Reports from the ordinary winter resorts in Florida is that these places are filled with tourists. These places are usually empty during summer, but not this summer.

Motorcycle Rodeo—

On Tuesday night of last week at the Maplesville Athletic Field, a large crowd enjoyed a motorcycle rodeo, sponsored by the Maplesville Civitans, under the direction of Mr. Millard Reynolds. There were six thrilling events, 39 riders participated—riders from Montgomery, Selma, Clanton and Birmingham.

Trophies were awarded the five high point riders, as follows:

1st Place — Tommie Odum, Montgomery Motorcycle Club, Montgomery, Ala.

2nd Place — Edward Chambless, Montgomery Club, Montgomery, Ala.

3rd Place—Millard Reynolds, Montgomery and Selma Club, Stanton, Ala.

4th Place — Cecil Lane, Montgomery Club, Montgomery, Ala.

5th Place — Clarence Gray, Montgomery Club, Montgomery, Ala.

The skill in which these riders performed was amazing and thrilling, comments from the spectators were that they more than got their money's worth. The proceeds of this Rodeo will go to build a fence around the athletic field.

After the Rodeo the riders and their friends were entertained at a watermelon cutting in South Maplesville on Selma Road at Clark's Service Station.

This reporter wishes to thank those who aided in getting a report on the Rodeo. We appreciate this kindness.

STANTON

Mrs. Jim Wilson (nee Faye Maddox) has returned to her home from Japan. She made the entire trip by air. Mrs. Wilson was with her husband in Japan for several months. He is serving Uncle Sam in that area at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gaddy and children of Selma, Ala., had Saturday dinner with the Buck Burnetts.

Sympathy is extended the family, relatives and friends of Mr. J. Hardy Harrison. Mr. Harrison has been ill for a long time. Mr. Harrison will be greatly missed in this, as well as other sections if the county. He was a good neighbor, a true friend and a devoted father and husband. The ties with all this family were strong.

Much could be said of Mr. Harrison —the life he lived—the people he helped, but the attention if his loved ones, his friends during his illness, the large crowd of people, the beautiful floral offerings at his funeral speak for themselves.

Mr. Charles Arnold has accepted a position in Mobile, Ala. His family will join him at a later date.

Mrs. Joe Cox is quite ill at her home here. She was stricken last Friday with erysipelas. Dr. Moore of Clanton was called and it seems at this writing that she is improving. We wish for her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown Wooley and children have moved off of the Clanton-Selma Highway, and are now living in the residence known as the Miss Armour Wooley house. This residence is just across the street from the C. E. Cagle property.

Mrs. L. S. Dickey and sons of Oak Ridge, Tenn., are visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cagle.

Miss Janice Huff of Oak Ridge, Tenn.. is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Burnett, and Mrs. John Huff, Sr.; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sims and other relatives here.

Lt. Phil H. Hand, grandson of Mrs. Mary Hicks, has been shipped overseas. Mrs. Phil H. Hand and daughter, Neta, and Mrs. Walter Hand have returned to Washington, D.C., after spending several days in this section.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Neal and Peggie have returned from Nashville, Tenn., where they were guests of their sister, Mrs. Tommie Barnes, (Elsie Osburn) and family.

Mr. Houston Morris was on the sick list during the week end, but is up and around at this writing.

CARD OF THANKS

During the illness and death of our beloved husband and father we want to thank each and every one of you for your kind thoughts, your deeds of kindness, your help, your presence, the beautiful flowers, your words of comfort, your every remembrance. We are truly grateful. — Mrs. J. Hardy Harrison and Children.

Baptist Notes—

The Young People's Union presented their programs at New Salem Sunday night.

The W.M.S. had their regular business meeting and Royal Service Program at the church Monday.

The opening date of the Howard College Extension Course has been changed to September 21. This is due to Dr. and Mrs. Hutchinson being abroad.

Due to Dr. Hutchinson's delay in getting a passport back to the United States, we think it is advisable to cancel his engagement to help in our revival and to look for someone else to do the preaching. Please be much in prayer that the Lord will guide us to the proper person to do this work.

The revival at Collins Chapel was a success. There were 13 accessions to the church, all by baptism. The concluding efforts of the pastor in his evangelistic campaign will be with Bro. Atcheson next week at Macedonia.

Auxiliary Aids Legion In Service Activities

"With the American Legion for America." That simple statement tells the whole story of the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. E. J. Morris, membership chairman of Chilton County Unit No. 6 of the Auxiliary said today as the Auxiliary opens its campaign for enrollment of 1951 members.

"The American Legion Auxiliary has only one purpose," she said, "and that is to help the American Legion in the Legion's great work for America. We are making this membership campaign so that we will have greater strength to help more effectively."

"The women of the Auxiliary work side by side with the men of the Legion, carrying out that part of the Legion activities which can best be done by women," explained Mrs. Morris. "The Auxiliary gives especially effective help in serving disabled veterans and teaching the principles of Americanism. We work with the Legion in community projects, help them in their Post programs and share in their social activities.

"Membership in the Auxiliary thus gives us a broad field of common interest with the men of our families who belong to the American Legion. As Auxiliary members, we understand their problems and projects, and are in a position to help them achieve their purposes. We are inviting all wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of Legionnaires to come into the Auxiliary at this time and join with us as we go forward 'With The American Legion for America.' "

Revival At Providence Was Huge Success

The revival held at Providence Baptist Church last week was a huge success. By that, we mean that the Lord was in the midst of the meeting in every service. Every one who attended enjoyed and received a blessing from the prayer and preaching services.

There were sixteen additions to the church, fourteen as candidates for baptism and two by restoration. The baptizing was held last Sunday afternoon on Cargile Creek with the pastor, Rev. W. E. Robinson, presiding. After the baptizing the people met back at the church for the final service.

The church was especially proud of the attendance for Sunday School and preaching services last Sunday morning. The members and workers have been campaigning for 100 in attendance for some time. Last Sunday there were 112 present for these services. It is hoped that this good record attendance will continue, as well as the cooperation that was in evidence last week at all the services.

Members of Providence Church also desire to express their thanks for the fine contribution made to these messengers of God. It was splendid.

GREEN CROPS FOR POULTRY FLOCKS

Farmers in this county cannot afford to overlook the use of green crops for their poultry flocks.

Crimson clover and other legumes and grass mixtures reduce the expense of raising good pullets and cut costs of producing eggs by as much as 25 per cent. Too, these crops furnish most of the essential vitamins needed by growing and laying birds.

"In recent experiments, growing pullets supplied with tender clover, proper minerals, and grain grew and developed as well as pulelts that received a conventional ration.

John P. Weeks, A.P.I. Extension Poultryman, cautions poultrymen to move pullets from the brooder house to a good range when brooder heat is no longer needed. This range area should not have been used for poultry for 18 months to two years. By moving the range shelter, feed hoppers and water fountains every few days, poultrymen can prevent stands of grazing crops from being destroyed.

One acre of properly fertilized range will provide grazing for 250 to 400 pullets, if a good stand of a well adapted crop is established.

Since hens are housed in a permanent building, providing them with grazing crops is a little more difficult than having ample green feed for pullets in movable range shelters. A series of small lots set up in such a way that hens can be rotated from one yard to the next has proved best for small laying flocks.

With big commercial laying flocks, it is usually not practical to allow the birds to harvest their own green feed. When large numbers of birds are housed they will destroy the stand of crops close to the house and will not go across the bare area to grazing crops further out. Most poultrymen find it better to cut crops and feed them in racks daily to the hens. Greens for several hundred birds can be cut in a matter of minutes. The green crops can be planted in a nearby field and other livestock can graze any surplus.

Commercial egg flocks should be fed about five pounds of green feed per 100 hens per day. They would consume more than this amount, but high level feeding of green feeds gives the egg yolk a deep orange color which our markets do not like.

Since August, 1945...

We've Nearly Doubled the Number of Telephones

...and we're still on the run!

What an expansion of telephone facilities for five short years! The number of Southern Bell telephones in service has been increased from 1,805,980 at the end of World War II to 3,366,000 today—nearly doubled. Thus, in five years' time, we have achieved an increase in telephones as large as the increase for the first 63 years of our company's history.

And here's more of the five-year picture of progress:

RURAL TELEPHONES tripled . . . from 144,721 to 434,000.

LONG DISTANCE CIRCUITS nearly doubled, going from 9,300 to 16,500.

AMOUNT OF MONEY INVESTED IN TELEPHONE FACILITIES more than doubled, advancing from $389,600,000 to $837,000,000.

SERVICE . . . clearer, faster and more dependable.

The South has experienced five years of unprecedented growth . . . and a tremendous upsurge in telephone demand in town and on the farm. Meeting this demand has meant constructing new buildings, installing new central office equipment and thousands of miles of wire on pole lines and in cables. For each telephone added today, these facilities are costing nearly twice as much as in 1945.

Telephone service is one of the nation's great assets in any time of emergency. Our facilities and the skill of telephone men and women were never so far advanced as they are today. Whatever communications needs may arise, they will be met to the utmost.

Predator Control Program Destroys Bob Cats And Foxes

Montgomery, Ala. — During a recent nine-month period, 103 bob cats and 57 foxes have been destroyed by a trapper of the Department of Conservation under the Game, Fish and Seafoods Division's predator control program, Conservation Director Phillip J. Hamm, has announced.

The destruction of these predators is expected to mean a larger deer population in the areas where these predators were eliminated.

Already, indications are that the reduction of the bob cat population has brought about a greater hatch and survival rate of young turkeys than existed before the bob cats were destroyed.

Foxes are trapped and destroyed only at the request of land-owners, according to C. Graham Hixon, Chief of the Department's Game, Fish and Seafoods Division.

Ed Turner, with headquarters at Seaboard in Washington County, is the trapper in charge of the predator control program.

Anglers Forbidden To Use Electricity

Montgomery, Ala. — The use of any electrical device or an electrical charge of any kind in taking fish is prohibited in Alabama waters under Regulation 87 promulgated by Conservation Director Phillip J. Hamm.

Any person who uses electricity for "taking, capturing, killing or stunning fish" shall be punished as provided for by law, the regulation states.

C. Graham Hixon, Chief of the Conservation Department's Game, Fish and Seafoods Division, said that the regulation was put into effect after numerous complaints had been received that electrical devices were taking a heavy toll of fish, particularly catfish, in north Alabama waters.

Dr. Joseph Johnson, Native Of Chilton County Dies

Beloved Physician of Chattanooga Passes At 73; Nationally Known In Insurance Circles

Dr. Johnson was born January 28, 1877, near old Maplesville in the Mulberry Community. He died August 6, 1950, and was buried in Forest Hills Cemetery, Chattanooga, Tenn. Dr. Johnson was the son of Dr. Joseph S. Johnson and Mary Latham Wilson Johnson. He received the degree of bachelor of arts at Howard College in 1896 and went to Tulane University for his medical degree in 1899. He spent a part of his internship in Viene, Austria.

At the turn of the century, Dr. Johnson began the practice of medicine in Chattanooga. , where he quickly became one of the better-known practitioners.

Four years after beginning his practice he was one of the organizers of the Volunteer State Life Insurance Company and became its medical director. He continued private practice, however, and in 1907 he became chief of staff of Baroness Erlanger Hospital. That year he was president of the Chattanooga - Hamilton County Medical Society and later served a term as vice-president of the Tennessee Medical Association.

In 1911 Dr. Johnson was appointed medical director and member of the board of directors of the Interstate Life and Accident Company. Ten years later Dr. Johnson acquired the controlling interest in the company and the next year became its president and general manager.

Nationally known in insurance circles, Dr. Johnson was one of the organizers of the medical section of the American Life Convention.

Dr. Johnson was a member of various Masonic bodies and held the 32nd degree in Masonry. He was a member of Lookout Mountain Presbyterian Church.

On November 21, 1908, Dr. Johnson married Miss Nell Evans, daughter of Henry Clay Evans, Chattanooga manufacturer who had served as consul-general for the United States in London.

Dr. Johnson is survived by his wife; three sons—Henry Clay Evans Johnson, Dr. Joseph W. Johnson, Jr., and David Foote Sellers Johnson; nine grandchildren, all of Chattanooga; and several nieces and one nephew, Joseph Johnson Mullins, of Clanton.

CLANTON BASEBALL

By dropping two out of three games, Clanton lowered their standing to 24 won and 9 lost.

Clanton lost to Prattville by a score of 6 to 3, and to Holt 13 to 4. Their game with Holtville was won by Clanton by the way of forfeit (9 to 0), because the Holtville team left the field in the ninth inning with the score 8 to 7 in favor of Holtville, a Clanton man on third, and three balls on the batter. McConnell hit a home run over the fence in this game and collected several nice prizes from Clanton merchants.

Coming Schedule—

THURSDAY, August 24th, at 8 o'clock, Clanton vs. Dairy Producers of Montgomery. This club was one of the last eliminated in the Montgomery play-off, and will give Clanton all they can handle.

FRIDAY, August 25th, at 7:30, in the City Park, the Clanton Lions Club vs. the Clanton Kiwanis Club.

SUNDAY, August 27th, at 3:00 p.m., in the City Park, Clanton vs. Draper, with their full ball club and their band to give us music between innings, with the determination of avenging the defeat Clanton gave them last time.

WEDNESDAY, August 30th, at 7:30, Clanton vs. Brent. A good clean ball club, which Clanton just did nose out in the last game we played them 4 to 3 in the ninth.

Shirley Cox Crowned Queen At Jr. G.A. Camp

At Jr. G.A. Camp at Shocco Springs last week, Shirley Cox was crowned Queen. To attain this honor Shirley has been a faithful G.A., worked hard and passed the test of the Reviewing Council of the Alabama W.M.U. She has learned the watchword, allegiance, star ideals of a G.A., the organization of the W.M.U. and the Southern Baptist Convention and the people who head each department. She can sing both the G.A. and W.M.U. hymns and can tell you how a Baptist dollar is spent. She can give a clear statement of Baptist belief; can name all Baptist mission fields and is famaliar with the lives of many missionaries. She has read numerous mission books, made a special study of the Life of Jesus and the life of Paul, and has memorized 117 verses of Scripture.

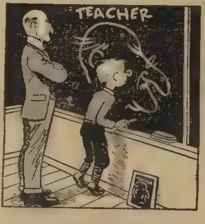
Others from the Clanton First Baptist Church who are working on steps toward Queen and who had a part in the cornation services were:

Jackie Minor, Jeanette Crew, Elizabeth Mims, Caroline Dickinson, Janice Wood, Jane Jester, Gerry Gibson, Martha Bell, Myrna Crew, Elaine Hogue and Zane Hogue. Others attending camp were Ann Spicer, Carol Popwell and Linda Miller. Mrs. Luther Mims attended as chaperone.

Counselors: Mrs. W. C. Golden and Mrs. Marion Wood.

"I REMEMBER"
BY THE OLD TIMERS

From John L. Simpson of North Bend, O.: "I remember the first school I attended. It was a one-room log school house (circa: 1886) in Harrison county, Kentucky. There was a bench extending the width of the room where disobedient scholars sat and were 'tried' for their offenses by their fellow pupils. If found guilty they would be severely switched by the teacher. If a pupil was caught drawing a picture on his slate, he was ordered to the blackboard and made to draw a similar picture on it, with a round dot in the center, which he had to erase by standing on tiptoe and rubbing it out with the tip of his nose."



From Mrs. Wallace R. Pinkley of Costa Mesa, Calif: "I remember when my mother used to go out into the field to gather corn just after it had passed the milk stage and would grit it on a handmaul gritter. She would then make corn bread—and was it good!"

From Mrs. E. L. Vaughn of Tateville, Ky.: "I remember when ladies wore bustles and hoops made out of hickory splits."

Cost of National Defense Shown In Terms of Family Taxes Paid

WASHINGTON (Special) — Figures showing what the $48½ billion spent for the Military Establishment during the last four years means in terms of Federal taxes to various income groups were released today by the Council of State Chambers of Commerce. These show over the four years that:

A family of three with an income of $3,000 paid $645.59

A family of four with an income of $5,000 paid $1,130.08

A family of four with an income of $7,500 paid $1,798.92

In addition, these family groups paid out Federal taxes for other purposes connected with defense. These totaled a little less than $4 billion and included such activities as arms to friendly nations, stockpiling of raw materials and atomic energy projects. But they meant $49.85 in Federal taxes to the $3,000 family group, $87.26 to the $5,000 group and $138.90 to the $7,500 group.

Waste To Be Cut

The Council's study revealed that $6.75 out of every $10 spent for the Military Establishment went for pay of all personnel, and for food, clothing and supplies for the soldiers, sailors and marines. Less than $2 of each $10 spent for defense was used to buy guns, ships and planes.

The study declared that "Undoubtedly much housekeeping waste in the Military Establishment diminished the value of the $48½ billion as an investment in preparedness, but efforts begun by Defense Secretary Ferrestal and continued by Secretary Johnson to modernize the Establishment and cut out waste have now tended to strengthen that investment."

It added, "In view of the expanded program brought on by the Korean situation, it is all the more necessary that we obtain the maximum return for every dollar that we are investing in our national defense."

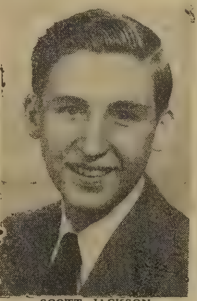
All Local Talent Produced 'H. M. S. Pinafore' Operetta

The story of a lass who loved a sailor aboard Her Majesty's ship, the Pinafore, will unfold on the stage of the City Hall tonight, and the curtain will rise at 7:45 o'clock. One of the world's best-loved operettas, "H.M.S. Pinafore," is being presented with a star-studded cast under the auspices of the Associated Producers.

Tonight's performance marks the launching of light opera in central Alabama as well as the end of a series of musical summer entertainments sponsored by a group of local young people intent on bringing something new in cultural entertainment to Clanton and the surrounding territory. Continuing in this tradition the Associated Producers will tonight sponsor the famous operetta by the popular British team, Gilbert and Sullivan.

Starring in the production, which will be presented with unique costumes and beautiful settings, will be Patricia Huddleston and Scott Jackson. Miss Huddleston and Mr. Jackson will portray the roles of Josephine and Ralph, respectively. Josephine is the daughter of the commanding officer of H.M.S. Pinafore, and some time before the opening of the operetta Ralph, a humble sailor, aboard the ship has fallen in love with her, though she is "above his station."

* * *



SCOTT JACKSON

* * *

Mr. Jackson, a native of Birmingham, will appear for the second time this summer in an Associated Producers production. Earlier in the summer he employed his beautiful tenor voice in playing the difficult role of Don Jose in "Carmen." Mr. Jackson has sung the role of Ralph before in the Birmingham-Southern College production of "Pinafore." A senior in music at that school, he is also soloist for the First Methodist choir in Birmingham and a veteran of Starlight Opera. A voice student of Vernon Noah, Mr. Jackson has written, produced, and performed in opera, and his appearance in "Pinafore" is good news to Clanton music lovers.

Likewise, Little Buttercup, who is just the opposite of what her name implies, has fallen in love with Captain Corcoran, the commanding officer

Ice Cream Truck Turns Turtle

What could have been a small boy's dream come true failed to materialize last Saturday afternoon when an ice cream truck turned over in the highway in South Clanton. There was a fast gathering of the hoard at the scene of the accident, but the truck door was locked and no ice cream was spilled.

No one was hurt in the accident and the driver of the truck was taken by City Police to jail and booked for reckless driving.

Welcome, Fara Lynn

Fara Lynn Payne will no doubt become a great newspaper woman. Fara Lynn was born to Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Payne early Wednesday morning. Unlike most important events she didn't wait until after the newspaper had gone to press to happen, but was johnny-on-the-spot for the front page bright and early Wednesday morning.

Her dad is employed at the News and her mother is the former Marietta Hamilton.' All are doing fine, thank you.

OUR NEW BABIES

LAFFREE — Mr. and Mrs. Randal Laffree, of Birmingham, announce the birth of a daughter on August 24th. They have named her Rene' Antionette. Mrs. Laffree is the former Betty Hollis of Mitchell Dam.

WATLEY — Mr. and Mrs. Carl Watley of Clanton Route 1, announce the birth of a son on August 29th.

CLANTON BASEBALL

Clanton increased their standing to 26 won against nine lost. by winning two straights. They finally won over Buck Creek by a score of 5 to 3, Grant pitching all the way for Clanton. For this year that gives Buck Creek two wins and Clanton one, these teams will meet again in the City Park Sunday afternoon, September 10th. The Dairy Producers of Montgomery, gave us a good name, Clanton winning in one big inning, final score 11 to 6. Johnnie Smith pitched 6 and 1-3 innings, being relieved by McConnell.

Schedule—

FRIDAY, September 1st, at 7:30, in City Park, Epps Jewelry Co. This Club forced Clanton to go 12 innings before Clanton nosed them out 3 to 2.

SUNDAY, September 3rd, at 3:00 p.m., in City Park, Holt of Tuscaloosa. This team holds two straight wins over Clanton and Clanton will use everything they have, seeking their frist win over them.

WEDNESDAY, September 6th, at 7.30, in City Park, Vincent-Sterritt. This club is made up from the best ball players of Coosa County, and have not lost a game since they combined about six weeks ago. We feel sure Clanton will have to extend themselves to win this one.

For the remainder of this baseball season, Clanton will only play on Wednesday night and Sunday afternoon. The final game will be played in the Clanton City Park against Harry Walker's (of the St. Louis Cardinals) team of Major League All-Stars, the week following the end of the World Series.

Andrew Hickman Receives Degree

Last Friday night Andrew J. Hickman, son of Rev. and Mrs. A. T. Hickman, received his Bachelor of Arts Degree from the University of Alabama.

Young Mr. Hickman will return to the University this year to continue work on his Masters Degree. He has already received appointment as instructor at the Hobby Shop which goes each year to a student who is working for their Master's Degree. He majored in Industrial Arts.

Mrs. Josephine Broadhead Hickman, wife of Andrew, will return this year as physical education teacher at Tuscaloosa County High School at Northport. She received her Degree last June.

LABORERS TOGETHER WITH GOD

(Rev. J. M. McKinney)

We honor the man of the soil,
Whether welding the hoe or turning the sod,
He labors together with God.

We honor the man who builds the house,
Whether laying the brick or carrying the hod,
He labors together with God.

We honor the herdsman who tends the flock,
Whether mounted or on foot with his rod,
He labors together with God.

We honor all workmen who march to their tasks,
If their feet with the gospel of peace are shod,
They labor together with God.

Liberty National Buys Mortgages

The Liberty National Life Insurance Company has bought 2,700 home mortgages from the Home Owners Corporation, it was announced this week by Frank P. Samford, President of the company. The 2,700 loans are on properties located in 183 Alabama Communities and aggregate approximately $3,000,000.

Mr. Samford pointed out that the actual transfer of these loans to his company would take some time and involve a great amount of detail and effort. In the meantime all borrowers of the Home Owners Loan Association should continue making their payments to that corporation.

Mrs. Thelma Smith of Birmingham spent several days last week with Mrs. O. N. Esco.

Mr. C. B. Cox Home After Operation

After undergoing a major eye operation at Jefferson Hillman Hospital, Birmingham, Mr. C. B. (Charlie) Cox is at home and reported recuperating.

Mr. Charlie, member of the State Legislature from Chilton County, had been having considerable trouble with his eyes for some time and decided on the operation two weeks ago.

His many friends will be glad to know that he is much improved and on the road to recovery.

O'NEAL GIN AND WAREHOUSE CO. GIN FIRST COTTON BALE

Earl O'Neal was a visitor to the News office Monday and stated he had ginned his first bale of cotton for the season. It was raised on the farm of John Ratliff, Maplesville Route, and weighed 538 pounds.

Mr. O'Neal operates O'Neal Gin and Warehouse Co. at Maplesville.

Singing School Closes At Holtville

The singing school at Riverside Baptist Church at Holtville will close Friday night of this week, according to a report from M. Lockhart, pastor of the church.

Mr. W. M. Devaughn has been conducting the singing school. All singers and lovers of gospel music are invited to attend the school.

Cooper Singing September 3

The annual all-day singing will be held the first Sunday in September on Highway 31, seven miles south of Clanton. All singers, directors and quartets have a special invitation to attend. We have the promise of singers from Birmingham, Montgomery and the surrounding counties. The Stamps Baxter, Frank Stamps, Morris Henson and Vaughan Publishing Company will be represented and perhaps others.

Since there won't be any Sunday School, singing will begin at 10 o'clock, with Ralph D. Grant, chairman.

Meet me next Sunday at Chestnut Creek Baptist Church, bringing your latest song books. Yours for better singing, Lee J. Grant.

ATTEND FUNERAL OF RELATIVE

Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Holliman were notified Tuesday morning of the sudden death of a cousin, M. H. Greer, of Kennedy, Ala., in Lamar County. They attended the funeral Tuesday afternoon with R. S. Holliman, a brother of Mr. Holliman, who lives at Columbiana.

Too Many Wild Indians

Clanton has too many wild Indians. Someone could get hurt, both physically and mentally.

These young boys and girls just receiving their driver's license for the first time have the wrong idea—some of them we should have said. They pull off from a parking space or a red light as if they were going to a fire. They turn corners much too fast. They take advantages of their privileges in their new found liberty.

Don't get us wrong. We're for young people. Our best friends are young people. We are definitey not of a tribe who believe that this generation of young people are going to the dogs. They're no better or no worse than other generations. They are probably, much smarter.

They have conveniences and liberties that no other generation has had and a lot of them are abusing them. They are careless reckless drivers and should get on to themselves before it is too late.

We don't have to repeat that we are for the young folks. Any time they need someone to go to bat for them we're ready. But we don't like the way some of them are driving through our streets. Each of you parents talk to your boy or girl just learning to drive or who has been driving such a short time the thrill hasn't worn off, and let's see if we can't put a stop to this recklessness before someone gets hurt.

Burning Up Wealth In Alabama

We are reprinting the editorial below from The Biringham Post-Herald in the interest of the valuable work being done by C. C. Gay, our local State Forester. Mr. Gay has been doing a wonderful job in Chilton County, and is due credit from all of us for his valiant fight against the destruction of our forests.—Editor:

Alabama has a right to be proud of the fact that it is one of the three or four biggest lumber-producing states in the Union. Our forests constitute one of our greatest sources of wealth.

But Alabama may not have the distinction of being one of the top lumber states for many more years if our people don't stop burning up our forests.

This state has consistently had one of the worst records for forest fires.

Last year Alabama ranked second among the 48 states in number of forest fires, with a total of 8,480. Only Mississippi, with 8,627, had more woods fires.

Flames swept over 435,733 acres of Alabama woodlands in 1949, destroying millions of dollars' worth of timber.

While forest fire losses for the country as a whole were the lowest in history last year, Alabama had an unusually large number of woods fires. They exceeded the average for the last five years, which was already high.

To make this waste of wealth more tragic, more than a third of the fires in Alabama were deliberately started by "fire bugs."

The American Forest Products Industries, Inc., reports that 3,311 Alabama woods fires were set by "fire bugs." Careless smokers started 1,772, and trash burners caused 1,647 fires.

Obviously, the biggest problem in preventing forest fires in Alabama is to curb the criminal practice of deliberately burning woodlands, and the carelessness of smokers and trash burners.

In view of the economic importance of our woodlands, the fight against this evil should be kept up the year around.

Better forest fire protection is one of Alabama's urgent needs. — Post-Herald.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

Dock Levine is dressing up his store for new fall business we presume. Or maybe its catching and the same bug bit him that has worked on some other of our merchants. At any rate it looks mighty good from here and we hope lots of others follow suit.

Speaking of Dock Levine reminds us that being the public spirited citizen that he is, he brought us a story the past few weeks about Ray Stremming and his ply wood factory. The story appeared in a company magazine; it is true and was used for advertising purposes, but it was a mighty good story with pictures and all, and told of an industry that is known all too little even in our own county. We wrote the magazine for pictures so that we might pass the story on to all of you, but as yet they have failed to even acknowledge our letter. We really would like to have you all read it, but can't publish it until we receive permission from the magazine.

Well, we did it again. The boys failed to give Joe Klinner a "by-line" on his picture last week of the airplane wreck. We told Joe that was all right, we would make him our "official photographer" and that would take care of things. We did, however, forget to tell him that the office didn't pay anything. But no kidding, that was a mighty good picture that Joe got of that airplane wreck, wasn't it?

News Flash. . .We didn't get to see Mickey Rooney when he came through Clanton last week. In fact, that Hadacol troupe went through town so fast you couldn't even count the automobiles, station wagons and trucks. If Hadacol acts as fast as that bunch drove automobiles, then that's some medicine. Wish they had gone through slower though. We always wanted to see what that guy had that fooled film Actress Ava Gardner.

Looks like Jesse Culp left us again. Several months ago he went to Montgomery to take a place there with radio, but didn't like the set-up so came back home. Now he's off to Albertville to take a position in radio. But Jesse isn't the only one who will be missed, there's Jo. She has been doing a lot of good work at the Methodist Church with the young folks, and acting secretary also. We'll miss both of them, but we do wish them all the good luck in the world.

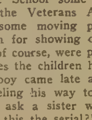
The other week during the Methodist Church Bible School some of the fellows from the Veterans Administration took some moving pictures to the church for showing one afternoon. These, of course, were pictures of Bible stories the children had heard. One little boy came late and while cautiously feeling his way to a seat was heard to ask a sister who was with him: "Is this the serial?"

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

Trust the Mercy of the Court

LEO J. SQUILLANTE, Mount Vernon, N. Y., says that he has learned if you are facing a fight, or even a dilemma, you will come out better nine times out of 10 if you throw yourself on the mercy of the other fellow than if you attempt to fight him. He illustrates it with the following story:



Carnegie

One cold night in December he was caught in a sleet storm about 20 miles from his home, when his car broke down on the highway. To make matters worse, his wife and their little 15-month-old son were with him. Finally he abandoned the car and got home.

In a few days he was served with a summons to appear in night court to explain why he had left his car on the highway over night.

When he arrived in the courtroom, there were only three people, the judge, the state trooper and himself. It was the procedure in that court for the judge to leave the courtroom while the defendant told his story to the arresting officer.

He started on the story, noting the cold, apparently immovable expression on the officer's face. However, as he said he knew he was guilty so he couldn't plead any other way, that officer relaxed a little. When the judge re-entered, the officer proceeded to appoint himself as Mr. Squillante's attorney. He told the judge the story far more sympathetically and effectively than Mr. Squillante could have done.

The judge asked, "What is your plea?"

"Guilty," came the reply.

"No, don't do that," said the judge. "Do you know what Nolo Contendere means?"

"Does it mean, 'I don't wish to fight?'"

"That's right," said the judge. "In other words, you place yourself at the mercy of the court."

"I plead Nolo Contendere."

"Case dismissed," said the judge, who was human and understanding, as are many officers when the case warrants it, but tough if an offender seems to have no respect for the law.

Sunday School on the March

The Sunday School is as much an American institution as the public school system. While the first Sunday School was organized in England, the movement has had its greatest development and growth in our own Country. Recently in an all-out Sunday School parade in Brooklyn, N. Y., nearly 100,000 boys and girls marched through the city in celebrating the founding of the Brooklyn Sunday School Union.

It is encouraging to learn that heading the list of distinguished reviewers was Miss Margaret Truman, the President's daughter. She was delighted to give greetings to the children from her father and mother. Every one in our nation should rejoice at heart that we have a God-fearing and a Church-loving family in the White House. Never too busy to take part even in a Sunday School parade.

This 121st annual Sunday School parade featured banners, floats and costumes based on the 1950 theme, viz.: "God, the Redeemer of Mankind." There were 26 separate parades, each with its own line of march and reviewing stand in the streets assigned by Sunday School officials. Schools of the city were closed, and ice cream and lemonade were provided for the marchers. Similar parades were held in the neighboring town of Queens, where schools were also closed for the day.

Now it seems that such a parade is much in order, and in keeping more with the real spirit of America than much of what we see nowadays. The Sunday School has truly made America just as much as America has made the Sunday School. Its international and inter-denominational character has made it the most satisfactory supplement to our non-religious public schools. The Sunday School is the most indispensable institution in America; so let us give it our whole-hearted support. When our church schools go down, our free way of life will go down also.

The first line of defense against Commmunism is the church and its school. God's Word is the weapon against spiritual wickedness. It slays doubt, unbelief and pulls down the works of the devil. Let every one who name the name of Christ depart from sin, and get into this march for the right and against the wrong. God is right, the Church is right, the Christian people are right; we have the Truth; let us be like Martin Luther, he said, "If I had a thousand heads I would rather have them all cut off than to revoke."

Friends, let us stand firm in our Christian faith, and get in the march for God.

Your Health

PSYCHIATRY

Who started psychiatric treatment? Evidence points to Dr. Phillippe Pinel, physician-in-chief of Bicetre Hospital, Paris, during the French Revolution at the time of the Napoleonic regime.

It was Dr. Pinel who, around 1798, defied the authorities and bravely insisted that the so-called insane inmates of the Paris prisons be released from their chains and be given humane treatment. For centuries, unfortunate individuals who suffered from mental illness were classified as "devil possessed" and madmen and were tortured, despised and cast out of society.

The best in sanctuaries for the mentally ill were hospitals such as the Bethlehem Royal Hospital in London, a mental institution established in 1547. There was little attempt at treatment and the hopeless patients screamed so loudly in their struggle for survival that the place became known as "bedlam."

Modern psychiatry began at about the turn of the present century. There are many types of mental disorder, and treatment varies in each type. Cure is possible in a large number of cases.

Because more than half of all hospital beds in the United States are occupied by mental patients, prevention is a goal more to be desired than treatment. Shock treatment, combined with psychotherapy, is an aid in restoring the unbalanced mind. Surgical treatment, such as prefrontal lobotomy, aids many. Mental illness is now being treated sensibly, scientifically, and humanely.

REV. ROBERT H. HASFER

Peter, Who Became a Man of Power.

Lesson for September 3: Acts 4: 8-20.

Memory Selection: Acts 5:29.

SIMON was at the first like the shifting waves of his own Sea of Galilee. But he became as firm as the hills that rise about Galilee's shores.

In the courtyard of the high priest's palace, he thrice denied his Lord, and even with an oath. But Peter in the Firelight was followed by Peter on the Seashore. Under the three-fold questioning of Jesus, he vowed a love that was never belied by denial or show of wavering. From that hour he was truly Peter, the Rock.

He became a great preacher. On the day of Pentecost, he preached with such power that 3,000 persons were added to the infant church. And the lesson text tells how Peter and John, when the council forbade them to speak in the name of Jesus, said they would hearken to the voice of God rather than that of men, and declared they would continue to preach what they had seen and heard.

Peter interests men because the most of them are like Peter in their human weakness and their many falls. But let us strive to be like him in his later days when he proved true to the name Jesus gave him. As Peter became a man of power, so can we grow strong for our Lord. For, as we believe in Jesus and love him, the Lord can communicate enough of his power unto us to make us big and brave in our service for him.

"I REMEMBER"

BY THE OLD TIMERS

From C. D. Buckley of Kipton, O.: "I remember when I could get a haircut and a shave at the local barber's for 25 cents."

From Harry Byerly of Loxley, Ala.: "I remember when men's and boy's clothing was stacked up in piles in clothing stores. This naturally put creases in all suits. When the clothier sold a suit he was made to take it to a tailor and have the creases pressed out. Why? Because with creases, the suit looked like a ready-made garment or 'hand-me-down' and not many men wanted the distinction of wearing anything but tailor-made suits. Besides, creases in trousers were considered 'sissified' in those days. I'm still a little prejudiced against creases although I do wear 'em, sometimes."

From Mrs. Mary Stewart of Chicago: "I remember the pride housewives took in their heating stoves. There were several well-known makes on the market—Acorn, Jewel, Garland, Eclipse and others much trimmed with nickel. Clean, shiny, hard coal was $3.50 per ton. The schoolboy's job was to take out the ashes, sift them for unburned coals to put back in the stove, then haul in three buckets from the woodshed at the end of the lot. When the stove was dusted, shaken down and put in order for the next 24 hours, he would get the kerosene can and run to the grocery store for a gallon or two of oil. Sister would then proceed to clean the lamp chimneys, trim the wicks and fill the lamps. With all these household tasks to do, there was practically no delinquency in those days."

LISTER HILL SEEKS FAMILY ALLOWANCES

Senator Lister Hill is pressing for immediate action to provide family allowances for all enlisted men in the armed forces. Family allowances are not now provided for recruits, privates and corporals of the Army and the equivalent grades in the other services.

"It would be a terrible injustice to call American men into the armed forces and send them overseas to defend our nation, and leave their wives and dependents here ta home to suffer hardship," Senator Hill declared.

"We must enact this legislation at once. Increasing numbers of Natio uard units, members of the rese and Selective Service draftees are ing called into active service eve day."

Senator Hill also called attentio to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil R lief Act, still in force, that give pr tection to men called into service suspending enforcement of civil liab ities such as debts, mortgages a other liabilities they are unable to p as a result of military service. Gua anty of insurance premiums may provided under certain conditions, H said.

The National Service Life Insuran Act is still in effect, Hill pointed o and any member of the armed for is eligible to take out insurance to $10,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ray visited two shut-ins, Mr. Howard Smith and Mr. Will Johnson, last Sunday. They reported both not doing so well. Let's remember them in our prayers.

Little Mr. David Yeargan and sister, Terry, are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Yeargan, this week.

Please be with us for Sunday School next Sunday, as we need you to help us make our church grow in the work of our Lord. Reporter.

H. M. S. Pinafore Presented By Associated Producers

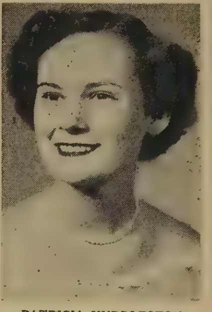
of the vessel: Class pride, however, stands in the way of both love affairs, and Captain Corcoran has, in fact, been arranging a marriage between Josephine and the elderly Sir Joseph Porter, the First Lord of the Admiralty, who is of the social class above even the Corcorans.



PATRICIA HUDDLESTON

When the operetta opens the sailors are merrily preparing the ship for Sir Joseph's forthcoming inspection. The generally happy atmosphere is marred only by Little Buttercup's hints of a dark secret she is hiding, by the continuous grumbling of Dick Deadeye with his evil eye and sorid personality, and the love-lorn plaints of Ralph and Josephine.

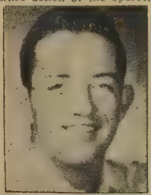
Sir Joseph soon arrives with his huge train of sisters, cousins and aunts, who accompany everywhere he goes. Josephine, however, finds him insufferable; and, when Ralph again pleads his suit and finally threatens suicide, she agrees to elope with him.

The Captain in despair at the demoralization of his crew and the coldness of his daughter towards Sir Joseph, and even Sir Joseph, disgusted at Josephine's attitude toward him, tells the Captain that his daughter will not do at all. The Captain suggests that perhaps his daughter feels herself inferior in social rank to Sir Joseph, and urges him to assure her that inequality of social rank is not a barrier to love. This Sir Joseph does, little realizing that his words are as applicable to Josephine in relation to Ralph as they are to himself in relation to Josephine. He thinks that she accepts him, whereas actually she is reaffirming her acceptance of Ralph.

Meanwhile, the evil Dick Deadeye has made his way to the Captain and informed him of the planned elopement of his daughter with Ralph. The Captain intercepts the elopers and becomes so enraged that he utters an evil curse word which unfortunately Sir Joseph hears. Sir Joseph sends him to his cabin immediately in disgrace, and when he learns that Ralph was eloping with Josephine he angrily orders Ralph put in irons.

It is only Little Buttercup, who has faithfully loved the Captain all this while, who can straighten out the many complications. It is at this time that she comes forward with her dark secret that reverses the entire situation, and the operetta ends happily with an exciting finale.

Portraying the role of Little Buttercup will be Helen Hayes, former soloist of the Chilton County High School Glee Club and a frequent participant in local musical and cultural entertainments. Miss Hayes, a former vocal student of Mrs. Raymond Mims, will sing what is probably the most famous aria of the operetta, "I'm Called Little Buttercup." It is her aria, "A Many Years Ago," that reverses the entire action of the operetta.



HENRY GRADY HEFLIN, JR.

Playing opposite Miss Hayes will be Henry G. Heflin, Jr., who will play the role of the Captain. Mr. Heflin is a veteran of the Birmingham Starlight Opera, a former voice student of Mrs. Erle Ellis, a former soloist of the Chilton County High School Glee Club, and soloist in the choir of the First Baptist Church. He will be remembered to music lovers for his portrayal of the Toreador in the Associated Producers production of "Carmen" earlier in the summer.

Mr. Heflin will sing the popular, "I Am The Captain of the Pinafore," in which he boastfully asserts that he "never uses a big, big D," a vow he is later forced to break. He also sings the beautiful aria that opens the second act, "Fair Moon To Thee I Sing," as well as several duets and ensembles.

Some of the loveliest songs of the operetta belong to Josephine and Ralph. Miss Huddleston will sing the beautiful love song, "Sorry Her Lot" and the poignant "The Hours Creep On Apace." Among Mr. Jackson's most beautiful arias are "The Nightingale" and "A Maiden Fair To See." Miss Huddleston and Mr. Jackson will unite on the famous duet, "Refrain, Audacious Tar."

Miss Huddleston, soprano, is soloist of the Chilton County High School Glee Club and a voice student of Mrs. Raymond Mims. She came very near stealing the show earlier this summer in "Carmen" for her portrayal of the Micaela role. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Huddleston, and her mother will provide the instrumental accompaniments for the production.

Playing the comic role of Sir Joseph Porter will be Cooper Speaks. Mr. Speaks, a recent graduate of the University of Alabama, is tenor soloist for the University Glee Club, and a member of the University Opera Chorus Earlier in the summer he starred in the University Vocal Ensemble's production of Mozart's "Magic Flute," a in which he played the role of Papageno. He will sing the well-known comic song, "When I Was A Lad," as well as several ensembles with other members of the cast.

COOPER P. SPEAKS

Playing opposite Mr. Speaks will be Miss Mary Clyde Mims who will play the comic role of Cousin Hebe, one of Sir Joseph's dottering relatives. Miss Mims is a senior in music at Alabama College, and is well-known in this section for her piano virtuosity. However, the role of Cousin Hebe will give Miss Mims a chance to display the vocal ability which has for so long been hidden from Chilton County audiences. Miss Mims unites with Mr. Speaks in the well-known glee, "I Am The Monarch of the Sea," and she has a very important role in the many ensembles of the operetta.

MARY CLYDE MIMS

The role of Dick Deadeye will be portrayed by Jon Will Pitts, baritone A role famous for stealing the show, it is also the one that serves as the continual foil of the production. Mr. Pitts is a recent graduate of Chilton County High School where he was a soloist in the Glee Club and a voice student of Mrs. Raymond Mims. Mr. Pitts will unite with Mr. Heflin in the charming duet, "Kind Captain, I've Important Information."

JOE MULLINS, JR.

Singing the roles of the Boatswain and the Carpenter's Mate will be Paul McKinney and Joseph Mullins, Jr. Mr. McKinney, the son of the local Methodist minister, sang in the Glee Club at Emory Junior College, Oxford, Ga., and is a valuable addition to Clanton's musical circles. Mr. Mullins, better known for his instrumental rather than his vocal ability, will have a chance to demonstrate tonight his musical versatility. He is a junior at Washington and Lee University where he is a member of their excellent Glee Club, and in Clanton is a frequent participant in local musical attractions having already appeared this summer as the accompanist of the Associated Producers' presentation of Mrs. Carlisle Miller, violinist. The trio, "A British Tar," in which Mr. Mullins and Mr. McKinney join with Mr. Jackson, will certainly prove to be one of the high points of the show.

Musical director of the show is Mrs. Erle Ellis, and lighting effects are by Earl Kaiser. Jack and Marty Orton are serving as dramatic directors and will also handle the make-up. Costumes are under the direction of Miss Ann Huddleston, and Miss Jean Lake is supervisor of properties. Programs are by Mr. James Popwell, and settings were designed by Mr. Henry G. Heflin, Jr.

The ensemble, composed of selected singers from the entire county, is one of the most competent groups ever assembled on a Clanton stage. The men's ensemble which is especially prominent in this operetta will sing such well known selections as "We Sail The Ocean Blue" and "Sir Joseph's Barge Is Seen." The women's ensemble sing, "Over the Bright Blue Sea," "Gaily Tripping," and others as well as uniting with the men in ensemble and finale work.

Composing the men's ensemble are: Tenors: Roy Wood and Joe Douglas Grooms. Bases: Lamar Deloach, Matthew Thomaston, Billy Powell, John Broadhead and Charles Bradford.

The women's ensemble will consist of the following: Warrena Willis, Evelyn Jones, Margaret Kemp, Sue Bratton, Peggy Murrah, Dorothy Mims, and Rebecca Popwell, sopranos; Betty Kemp, Lenore Oglesby and Eleanor Warr, altos.

Tickets are on sale at Farley's Drug Company, or they may be secured from Miss Mary Ann Oglesby, phone 550-W.

MARY ANN OGLESBY
Business Manager

Tickets are priced at fifty and seventy-five cents, and they may also be secured at the door or from members of the cast.

Tonight's performance will close the Associated Producers's summer entertainments and will launch light opera in central Alabama. It is hoped that light opera will become an annual musical feature of this section of the state, and the Associated Producers need the support of everyone in this aim. Suggestions are cordially welcomed and everyone is invited to participate in the summer activities of this group.

JAMES D. POPWELL

James D. Popwell of the Associated Producers has been responsible for the programs and the publicity of the concerts presented this summer. Mr. Popwell appreciates the cooperation of the newspapers and station WKLF in the presentation of this series of summer concerts.

LEONARD FARLEY, JR.
Photographer

Associated Producer, Leonard Farley, Jr., is responsible for the photography appearing in the "H.M.S. Pinafore" program. He has also assisted in the publicity of the summer concert series.

NEW HARMONY

We had a good crowd out for each service during the week end. The house was almost full Sunday night. Bro. Oliver was with us and brought some inspiring messages. This was his last appointment for this year at this place. Our new pastor, Rev. Charley Thornton, of Hopewell, Ala., will fill his first appointment the second week end in September. Every one is invited to come hear him.

Rev. Willie Littleton is now in a tent revival located three-quarters of a mile west of Coopers. The public has a special invitation to come each night. Services begin at 7:30.

Mrs. Ora Smitherman is sick at this writing. We wish for her a speedy recovery.

To the many friends of Master Billy Littleton, he is now out of the caste and is walking on crutches.

The annual convention of the Pentecostal Fire Baptist Churches will be held at the Fire Baptist Church in Prattville next week end, September 1, 2 and 3. There will be an all-day meeting with dinner on Sunday. You are invited to attend.—Reporter.

a peek at THE STARS

By LYN CONNELLY

ALTHOUGH FANNY BRICE, then a Broadway singing star, was heard on NBC as early as 1927, it was not until September 30, 1936, that she brought her "Baby Snooks" characterization to the air..."Snooks" then was only part of a variety show, but on November 25, 1937 she became the star of "Good News of 1938." . . . Snooks has been tormenting her radio daddy ever since, with the exception of one season off the air . . . When she returned a year ago, her ratings promptly proved that no one had forgotten radio's most mischievous child during that time.

BRICE

PLATTER CHATTER

COLUMBIA: The best rendition we have heard of that new favorite, the lilting "Goodnight, Irene," is that of Frank Sinatra, supported by Mitch Miller and his orchestra and chorus . . . It's terrific . . . "My Blue Heaven" backs it . . . Les Brown revives "Easy to Love" effectively and couples it with "I Could Write a Book" . . . Arthur Godfrey and Janette Davis team up again in a cutie, "I'm Bashful," with "I Like That" on the flip . . . Ken Griffin at the organ plays "Golden Sails" and "Why Did You Break My Heart?" in beautiful fashion and his recording of "Harbor Lights" is tastefully and hauntingly done.

Still on Columbia, Janette Davis and Bill Lawrence pair up on a fine disc—"Have You Ever Been Lonely?" an old favorite that should stir up some play again . . . Another oldie, the beautiful "Drifting and Dreaming" is given a stirring interpretation by Les Brown . . . "A Foggy Day" is on the flip . . . Another Columbia gem is "La Vie En Rose" as rendered by Edith Piaf, a gal with a future.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUBS HELD ANNUAL MEETING

The Chilton County Home Demonstration Clubs held their annual meeting at the City Hall in Clanton on August 15th at 9:30 a.m. with Mrs. Stanley W. Cost presiding.

The Associated Producers of Clanton presented a musical program under the direction of Mrs. Raymond Mims.

A most inspiring devotional was given by Mrs. Clinton Smith of the Friendship Club.

The County-wide Dress Revue was held and the judges declared the following winners: First Place. Mrs. Stanley Cost, Jemison Club, modeling a special occasion dress; Second Place, Mrs. Ruth Gray, Baker Club, modeling a sport dress; and Third Place, Mrs. Bernie Johnson, Baker Club, modeling a work dress. Judges of the Revue were Mrs. Ray Robinson and Mrs. M. T. Holliman.

Mrs. Cost, in a most effective manner, presented the Home Demonstration Club seal and explained the significance of the various parts of which it is composed.

One of the important items discussed was leadership and means of reaching more Chilton County homemakers. This was discussed by Miss Mattie Jo [illegible], Home Agent. A map of the county was used to give a clear picture of the work now being conducted in the county.

Miss Dorothy Overby, Specialist in Consumer Education, Alabama Extension Service, was the guest speaker. Her talk will prove helpful to all Chilton County homemakers in preparing, packaging and selling produce in the Birmingham markets. Miss Overby deals with homemakers of Birmingham in helping to use fruits and vegetables which are plentiful on the market. Her remarks were based on information offered by consumers of these fruits and vegetables.

Miss Ann Brown, Assistant Home Agent, announced and discussed State and National Home Demonstration meetings which will be held in Biloxi, Miss., in October.

Baptist Notes—

The Shocco Springs Sunday School Clinic was held August 23 to 30. The group left from our church Monday morning.

The Howard College Extension Course opens at the First Baptist Church at Clanton on September 21. The course is for all leaders and workers.

The revival of the Thorsby Baptist Church begins Sunday, September 10, and continue through September 17th. Rev. Johnnie Johnson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Abbeville, will do the preaching. An invitation has been extended to Rev. L. G. Meadows, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Dadeville to conduct the singing. We await his answer. A tent will be provided and placed east of our church to take care of the overflow crowd at night. The church will make a plea that all business places be closed from 10:30 to 12 during the revival services.

Honored On Birthday—

The Thorsby Baptist Church honored Rev. B. B. Burk and Mrs. Burk Saturday night with a surprise birthday party in the basement of the Baptist Church. The occasion being Rev. and Mrs. Burks' birthdays. The tables were very beautifully decorated with fall flowers, ivy candles and a beautiful cake which was given to Rev. and Mrs. Burk. Games were played and all took part. Cake and ice cream were served at the end of the party. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves and the church was well represented.

* * *

Mr. Johnny Mac Gore of Birmingham, formerly of Thorsby and surrounding communities, left Monday to join the Navy. We certainly hope Johnny Mac much success.

Miss Naemi Turnquist and sister, Mrs. Reagan, are spending a few days in Birmingham visiting her relatives, the Ruben Fosses and Petersens.

Miss Alma Lefstead left Friday for Mobile for a visit with her brother, Rev. Lefstead, and family.

Miss Naemi Turnquist, Mrs. Reagan and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bosworth enjoyed a picnic Sunday at the Ellis Tourist Court in Clanton. All the relatives in the nearby towns attended.

Miss Sarah Nell Williams and Mr. Jimmy Benson attended the Hadacol Show in Birmingham last Thursday night.

Mr. H. L. Collins spent Monday with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Walker.

We are very sorry to lose Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Adams and family from our town. They are moving Friday to Tuscaloosa where he will be in school. Mr. and Mrs. Adams are going to be missed in the church and town very much.

Surprise Birthday Party—

Little Arthur Earl Littleton celebrated his eighth birthday Saturday afternoon. It was a real surprise for Arthur Earl. He received a lot of nice gifts and it was enjoyed by all.

* * *

Mr. Barney Burks is at Maxwell Field in Montgomery taking examination for Aviation Cadet.

Rev. Gene Garrick of Bob Jones College and Mrs. W. P. Lowery and Gresham, of Indianapolis, were the week end visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lowery.

Mr. L. D. Riggins passed away at the Jefferson Hospital in Birmingham August 28th. His body is being shipped to Sparta, Tenn., for burial.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Gilmore announce the arrival of a seven-pound girl August 28th. They are in the Central Alabama Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Billingsley, Mrs. Nolia Goodgame and Mr. and Mrs. Ferrill Williamson attended a birthday dinner at Robinwood Plunge, honoring Mrs. G. W. Horsley.

MAPLE SPRINGS

We had a good attendance for both Sunday School and B.T.U. Sunday. There were present for Sunday School 115 and 94 were present for B.T.U.

We were glad to have our visitors Sunday and we want them to know that a visitor is always welcome to worship with us. We missed you who were absent Sunday and hope to see you back Sunday.

Sunday morning at 9 o'clock the two fine men who gave their lives to Christ on our last preaching day will be baptized at South Prong.

Remember prayer meeting which is held each Wednesday night at 7 o'clock. You are needed.

On Sunday, which is our regular preaching day, we want to see at least 175 present for Sunday School and preaching. Sunday School and preaching will begin at 10 o'clock and B.T.U. and preaching will begin at 7 o'clock. Come and bring someone with you.

4-H CLUB MEETINGS HELD IN COUNTY

During the first part of August there were three training meetings held by the home agents for the 4-H Club girls in Chilton County. These meetings were held at Verbena, Jemison and Maplesville.

A leader was present from twenty-two communities. She went back to her club and gave the demonstration. This is the first time a girl's neighborhood meeting has ever been held without the presence of the home agent. These girls are to be highly commended on the splendid job they have done throughout the entire summer.

The following girls have given the demonstration in their communities:

Jackson's Chapel — Mildred Jones.
Samaria — Polly Ann DeLoach.
Enterprise — Lucretia Davis.
Concord-Temple — Janice Hughes.
Collins Chapel — Billie Sue Burgess.
Refuge-Glad Tidings — Annie Ruth Minor.
Union Grove — Evelyn Martin.
Mt. Pleasant — Vera Nell Mims.
Shiloh — Lena Mae Jacks.
Bethsalem — Carolyn Bowman.
Maple Springs — Nell Deason.
Mt. Pisgah — Nina Sue Headley.
Providence — Gloria Robinson.

A total of 86 4-H Girls and 20 adults were present at these meetings.

All the communities are not listed above because their club has not met.

Foxhunters Gave Barbecue

Chilton County foxhunters gathered at Old Kincheon last Wednesday evening and night for one of their biggest outings. Upward of 500 people attended with almost 400 barbecue plates being served.

President C. E. Stapp introduced Mr. Grady Cleveland, teller of tall tales and jokes, who kept the crowd in an uproar throughout the evening, acting as master of ceremonies.

After the barbecue, a bench show of hounds was held with Mr. Clyde Morton, of Alberta, Ala., as judge. In the opinion of many, the Chilton Association procured one of the best show judges for this event. Publicly, the Association wishes to extend its thanks to Mr. Morton and Mr. Cleveland for making this event the success it was. Chilton County entries won several places in the bench show.

A business meeting was held at which time Clark Headley, former secretary-treasurer, was elected president for the coming year. R. T. Carter, formerly one of the directors, was elected secretary-treasurer and Red Mins was elected to fill the place of Mr. Carter on the board of directors.

Below is the winner in the several classes of hounds shown:

LOCAL AIRMAN VISITS KOREAN WARFRONT

Master Sergeant H. David Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Parker, Kincheon Road, Clanton, recently returned to this Headquarters after a visit of AACS installations in Southern Korea.

Sergeant Parker is assigned to the Public Information Office of the 1808th Airways and Air Communications Service Wing in Tokyo, Japan. His job consists of writing the history for the 1808th AACS Wing, writing releases for the wing, keeping in close liason with the Public Information Offices under this Headquarters, and making periodical visits to these offices.

Prior to his arrival in Japan, Parker attended the Public Information School at Carlisle Barracks, Penn. He was later assigned to the 1600th Air Transport Wing, Westover Air Force Base, Mass.

During World War II, David served as administrative Sergeant Major in Europe.

The 1808th AACS Wing, Parker's present organization, supplies the Air Force with almost all communications throughout the Pacific. AACS installs, operates and maintains all navigational aids, such as: Homing Beacons, Control Towers, Ground Controlled Approach (GCA) units and Directional Finders (DF).

With the Korean conflict, AACS now finds its personnel operating from advanced landing strips in Southern Korea, giving take-off and landing instructions with the ease and precision that were given them at the larger permanent bases.

Sergeant Parker is holder of the American Defense Ribbon, ood Conduct Ribbon, ETO Ribbon, with one battle star, Wirld War II Victory Medal, and the Japanese Occupation Ribbon.

Parker is scheduled to return to the states in October, 1952.

STATE FLAG

Until 1861, Alabama had used the United States Flag on all formal occasions but at this time, the Secession Convention voted to withdraw from the Union and a flag made by the women of Montgomery was adopted. It was not until February 16, 1895, that the Legislature adopted a new State Flag. The Confederate Battle Flag embodies a St. Andrews Cross and the present State Flag is a red St. Andrews Cross on a white field.

Double Congratulations Are In Order—

Mr. C. E. Cagle, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cagle, Sr., received his B. S. degree School of Commerce, University of Alabama, August 25th. C. E. is well liked, has a large acquaintance and certainly our well wishes in everything he undertakes.

Attending graduation at the University were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cagle, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Dickey (Katherine Cagle) and children of Oak Ridge, Tenn., Mr. Buckie Pickering and Miss Maxine Sanders of Plantersville, Ala.

Then on Saturday following his graduation, Mr. C. E. Cagle, Jr., was married to Miss Estelle Willis of Maplesville, Ala. They are honeymooning, destination unknown, however, they called their parents during the day Sunday from Mobile, Ala. After returning from their honeymoon they will be at home to their friends in Oak Ridge, Tenn.

To the delight of her many, many friends Mrs. Joe Cox is much better.

Mr. James Huff, son of Mrs. Emmett Huff, enlisted in the Army and left last Monday for San Antonio, Texas.

Lt. J. G. William C. Ruddick left for San Francisco, Calif., recently. He will see service on the USS Chevaleer. This is a battleship and known to be seeing service in the Korea conflict.

Word has just reached relatives here that Mr. G. V. Martin (Van), brother of the late Mrs. Frank Reynolds, is very, very ill in Mobile, Ala.

JONES-SMITH

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Jones of Clanton, Ala., announce the marriage of their daughter, Martha Jo, to Julious L. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Smith of Maplesville, Ala. The marriage took place on August 18, 1950.

The couple is at home in Clanton where they are both employed.

MACEDONIA

The attendance for both services here Sunday was large. There were many visitors and members that are not with us very much and you are always welcome.

Rev. Hymon Atcheson brought two inspiring messages last Sunday. His morning message was especially good. It had a great meaning. His subject was Our Vows and Promises to God. Everyone enjoyed both messages.

Revival services closed here last Friday night. Rev. B. B. Burk brought the messages throughout the week. His messages were very spiritual. Such a man of God was of great help to everyone. We hope from the great efforts put forth by Rev. Burk and Rev. Atchison it will mean that all of us will have a greater determination to do more for Christ.

Rev. Burk and Rev. Atcheson, along with a great number of friends, followed this schedule during the week of the revival to take dinner each day. Monday, Mrs. Elmer Crane; Tuesday, Mrs. Jimmy Ward; Wednesday, Miss Mariah Freeman; Thursday, Mrs. Marvin Oates and Friday, Mrs. Briggs Gibson. The Christian fellowship and the meals were enjoyed at each place.

A large number of ministers visited during our revival. On Friday we were glad to have Dr. George and Rev. E. C. Hand, a former pastor. Rev. Hand led the devotional service on Friday morning and Dr. George on Friday night. Their presence was of great help. They are always welcome in our community.

NEWS --- $2.00 YEAR

Mrs. J. O. Tubb of Ensley, Mrs. Crit Glass and Mrs. J. F. Kincaid visited Miss Mariah Freeman last Tuesday.

Mrs. Allie Carr of Blountsville visited Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Crane from Thursday night through Saturday morning.

Misses Faye and Ann Nix spent last week with Mr. Hoyt and Miss Mariah Freeman. After spending a few days in Maplesville with relatives this week they plan to return to their home in Ensley.

Everyone be present for the prayer service here each Wednesday night. Mrs. Russell Williams will teach a book this Wednesday night entitled, God's Hurry. Be present and bring your Bible.

Keep the spirit of the revival up and be present for the Sunday School and B.T.U. service here Sunday. Have a well prepared lesson and invite some one.

Continue to pray for Mrs. Atcheson that she will soon be well from her leg trouble.

Information Concerning School Textbooks

Following is information concerning textbooks to be used in the Chilton County Schools this year as released by the Office of the Superintendent:

Elementary

All textbooks for grades one through six will be furnished by the State and controlled by the individual teachers. The number of these free textbooks is very inadequate to meet the needs of the teachers in carrying on a good instruction program. However, every effort is made to distribute in such a way that will enable each pupil to receive the greatest benefits. Parents are asked to consider this shortage of textbooks and bear with teachers in adjustments that become necessary.

Junior High School

Junior High Schools in the county follow a uniform course of study in order that the transfer of pupils from one school to another will not handicap the pupil to such a great extent. Following is a list of textbooks to be used in each of the Junior high grades:

JR. I (Seventh)—

Geography of Lands Overseas	$1.93
Old Europe & Our Nation	1.33
Mastering Your Language	1.59
Spelling Goals-seven	.64
Appreciating Literature	1.83
Understanding Our Environment	1.69
Health Progress	1.07
Fundamental Mathematics 1	1.28

(All books in this lists are old books except the Mathematics).

JR. II (Eighth)—

American History	$1.98
Geography Of A Working World	2.00
Perfecting Your Language	1.66
Spelling Goals-Eight	.64
Understanding Literature	1.83
Understanding Our World	1.89
Modern Ways to Health	1.07
Fundamental Mathematics 2	1.28

(Only the Mathematics is a new adoption).

JR. III (Ninth)—

History of Ala., Jr. high schools	$1.73
Calling All Citizens	2.00
English in Action, Course 1	1.52
Spelling Goals-Nine	.85
Interpreting Literature	1.90
Understanding The Universe	2.09
Life and Health	1.83
General Business	1.72

(One-half of the General Business Course was used last year. The full course will be used this year. All others on this list are old adoptions).

Senior High School

Most of the changes in senior high textboks cme in the curses in mathematics, languages (nt English), and commercial subjects. High school students are urged to register before purchasing texts. Students wil be able to register before school opens by contacting the principal when he is in his office.

FIN-FAN ITEMS

General fishing conditions are greatly improving as many catch the creel limits in Crappie, Stripes and Smallmouth Bass. Cool nights are bringing the finny tribe up from the deep to within casting range, and from now on until November 15th, the weigh-in stations of the Alabama Power Company Fishing Contest are going to be very busy. Good reports are coming in from many points up and down the Coosa Lakes. "Little Joe" Caudle's Fishing Camp, Fixico Slough, Lake Mitchell, reports a number of Stripes are being taken near his place. Recently, Joe Mills, Childersburg, fished Fixico with a white fly and caught eight Stripes, the largest weighing 1 pound and 14 ounces. John Davis, Sylacauga, picked up six nice Stripes in Fixico with a "Peck's Bad Boy" fly, the largest 1 pound 15 ounces. A. I. Powell, River Road Grocery, Higgin's Ferry Road, reports: J. C. Jones, Cooper, had good luck with a broken back plug when he fished Lake Mitchell and caught a 4 pound 14 ounce Smallmouth Bass.

Bream hage been striking exceptionally well throughout the hot summer days, but too few have been entered in the Contest. Be sure and register all ilkely prospects—you may be passing up a very attractive trophy or Whopper-Catcher certificate. The contest is open to all, so join the fun.

Lomax Defeats Calera 8-1—

Sunday, August 27th, Lomax ball team played Calera at the local field. The game was very interesting. It kept everyone yelling all through the game. One of Calera's players hurt his mouth (George Taylor). He is a good player and was all right after a few minutes of time out. Calera's players showed great sportsmanship after the game was over.

There was a pretty big crowd there with several people from Calera and some from other places.

In case you don't know where the field is, it is on V. B. Edwards, Sr.'s land on the west side of Lomax. Come on out and support your team.

If you get thirsty, there are all kinds of soft drinks sold each Sunday by some of the players' wives.

His talent was found and the picture was made. His mother and brother are still living in Clanton. He was born and reared in Clanton. His folks are very proud of this boy, not speaking of other people who are just friends to him.

He made a personal appearance at the show both nights, which was enjoyed by every one.

This boy's name is Thomas Downs. Thomas, we are very proud of you and wish you all of the luck in the world.

HOMETOWN MAN PROMOTED IN AIR FORCE

Dwinon W. Littlefield, son of Mrs. Cora Littlefield of Thorsby, Alabama, has been promoted to the rank of Sergeant in the United States Air Force, it was announced today by his commanding officer.

Sergeant Littlefield is now serving as a mechanic in the Engineering Section at the 2587th Air Force Reserve Training Center in Birmingham.

The sergeant first entered the Air Force in November, 1945, and spent ten months overseas in 1946 and 1947. He reported to the Birmingham base from Gunter Field, Ala., on August 28, 1947.

Sergeant Littlefield and his wife, the former Miss Lois M. Johnson, and their four-year-old son, Winston, now make their home at Route 1, Clanton, Ala.

FOUR CHILTON MEN ENTER SERVICE

Four young men from Chilton County entered the Service last week as the ranks of the Armed Forces continue to swell.

James M. Eiland, Dewey L. Lewis and Donald G. Parrish of Clanton, Alabama, chose four year enlistments in the U. S. Air Force. At present they are stationed at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, where they will receive their preliminary training.

Charles F. Moates of Verbena, Ala., enlisted in the Regular Army for a period of three years. He will receive his basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C.

These men were accepted for enlistment at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station in Clanton, Ala.

C. C. Fiquette is also preparing 10 acres of bottom land to go to fescue. He is destroying a sod of carpet grass by plowing and disking before planting.

TWO LOCAL WOMEN TO REPRESENT CHILTON COUNTY AT ANNUAL MEETING

Mrs. Stanley W. Cost and Mrs. Johnny Culpepper will represent Chilton County at the annual meeting of the National Home Demonstration Council in Biloxi, Miss., October 16-19.

Mrs. Stanley Cost is president of the Chilton County Home Demonstration Council and of the Jemison Home Demonstration Club.

Mrs. Johnny Culpepper is an active member of the Baker Home Demonstration Club and has served her club as President for the past year.

When Mrs. Cost and Mrs. Culpepper return, they will have a new inspiration to give to the Home Demonstration Club women of Chilton County.

AWARDED BATTLE EFFICIENCY PENNANT

Aboard a Navy escort aircraft carrier in Western Pacific waters, which has just been awarded the Battle Efficiency Pennant for outstanding performance of duty during the fiscal year, 1950, is Alunzo W. Hayes, Jr., radioman, third class, U.S.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alunzo Hayes of Route 1, Stanton, Ala.

The award is based on over-all performance of ships and aircraft squadrons in both the Atlantic and Pacific Fleets in all forms of exercises, in general performance of assigned duties and in administrative material and operational readiness.

The emblem, often referred to as the "meatball," is a red triangler pennant on which is centered a black ball. This emblem is displayed on the squadron's aircraft. In addition, enlisted personnel are entitled to wear an "E" on the upper right sleeve of their uniform.

J. T. Cobb has started cleaning off ditch banks and scrub trees and will plant some fescue and ladino clover this fall.

HARDBOILED YANCEY

(A Short Story)

By RICHARD HILL WILKINSON

THERE WERE FOUR PEOPLE concerned in the incident. First there was Harvey Yancey, 50, hard-bitten, honest, with a passion for doing his duty and doing it well. Harvey was police chief of a large city we shall call Hayden.

Then there was Bob Yancey, Harvey's son, 26, following in his father's footsteps, a rookie on the force. Harvey was proud of his son; he loved him.

Next comes Barney Watts, underworld leader of Hayden. A smart man, a man who had maintained his high position because of one virtue: He always kept his word to crooks and police alike. Yet he was unscrupulous in his methods.

Last, there was Spider Julian, Barney's benchman, an important cog in Barney's wheel. Not so smart as his chief, but cunning enough, however, for a week after the murder of a prominent Hayden banker, Chief Harvey Yancey picked Spider up, charged him with the murder, and produced evidence that would send him to the chair.

"Now [illegible] if you're smart you'll do as I say. Write a letter to your old man and tell him unless Spider is out of the can by tomorrow morning, Hayden's police chief will be minus a son."

Barney Watts received the news and pondered. He couldn't afford to have Spider go to the chair. He needed him. He must be freed.

That night a bunch of Barney's benchmen brought in Bob Yancey. The kid was arrogant and contemptuous. He told Barney he was a fool. Barney shrugged.

"Maybe, kid, but we can't afford to let your old man keep Spider Julian. Now, listen, if you're smart you'll do as I say. Write a letter to your old man and tell him unless Spider is out of the can by tomorrow morning, Hayden's police chief will be minus a son.

"Write the letter, kid, and you'll be free in two hours' time."

"Can I depend on that?" said Bob.

"Sure you can, kid." Barney said silkily. "You know Barney Watts' word is good."

Then Barney got the surprise of his life. For Bob picked up a pen and wrote the letter exactly as Barney had outlined.

"O. K., Barney, there's your letter with my name signed to it." And he took out his watch and held it in his hand.

Barney was puzzled, but there wasn't anything for him to do but mail the letter to Chief Yancey. He knew it wouldn't do any good, because Harvey wouldn't believe that his son had actually written it. Barney tried to reason the thing out, but didn't get very far. In the end, he sent a messenger with the letter to the police chief. Then he waited.

An hour passed and another. No word had come from Harvey. Barney was mad, but he kept his word. He knew if he didn't it would mean the end of his reign as underworld leader. He let Bob Yancey go.

Bob went immediately to his father's office. He found the old man sitting alone at his desk, looking kind of queer. At sight of Bob, Harvey's eyes bulged. He leaped to his feet, then checked himself.

"What was the idea of writing me such a letter as this?" he bellowed, indicating the paper on his desk. "You know danged well I couldn't let Spider go."

"Sure," said Bob easily. "I knew you wouldn't let anything stand in the way of your duty, and I knew you felt your duty was to hang on to Spider. That's why I wrote the letter. Barney promised me my freedom in two hours if I wrote it. That's how I happen to be here now, instead of dead."

Old Harvey glared. He started to speak, then thought better of it.

"Pretty sure of yourself, eh?"

"Sure. Barney figured I wouldn't write the letter, which is why he made the deal." Bob grinned. "Well, so long, pop. Just thought I'd let you know I was back, in case you were interested."

Interested! Harvey glared at the door that had closed behind his son. Why, the young upstart! So that's how he feels about it, eh? He pushed a button on his desk.

"Clancy, I've changed my mind. See to it that letter I wrote to Watts isn't mailed. And get this, Clancy: Spider Julian is staying here, see? We aren't swapping him for anybody else, see?"

"Yes, sir," said Clancy. "I see. Thought you'd change your mind about that. Old Hardboiled Chief Yancey ain't letting nothing stand in the way of duty. No. sir!"

And then Clancy made a hurried exit, perplexed at the threatening look on his superior's face.

MASONIC MEETING

Clanton Lodge No. 423 A.F. & A.M. will hold its regular communication Saturday night, September 2, 1950, at 8:00 p.m. We will have work. All members urged to attend and visiting brethren are welcome.—A. H. Meacham, W.M.

Only Persons Are Listed

The following is excerpted from a sermon by Reverend Ernest H. Sommerfeld, minister of the Church of the Unity, Springfield, Mass.

WE ARE ASKED to imagine the following parable: Joe Doakes passed away and floated up to the Pearly Gates. He pounded on the gates and St. Peter appeared.

"Who are you, may I ask?"

"My name is Joe Doakes, sir."

"Where are you from?"

"I am from Updale, U.S.A."

"Why are you here?"

"I plead admittance, Mr. St. Peter."

St. Peter scanned his scroll and said, "Yes, Joe, you are on my list. Sorry I can't let you in. You stole money from others, including widows and orphans."

"Mr. St. Peter, I had the reputation of being an honorable man. What do you mean, I stole money from widows and orphans?"

"Joe, you were a member, a financial supporter and once on the Board of Directors of the Updale Do-Good Association. It advocated a municipal golf course in Updale which took money from widows and orphans in order to benefit you and a hundred other golfers."

"Mr. St. Peter, that was the Updale Do-Good Association that took that action, not your humble applicant, Joe Doakes."

St. Peter scanned his scroll again, slowly raised his head, and said somewhat sadly, "Joe, the Updale Do-Good Association is not on my list, nor any foundation, nor any corporation, nor any trade association, nor any labor union, nor any other organization. All I have listed here are persons, just persons."

* * *

The above quotation is a rather remarkable parable. Can't you just hear someone else arguing with St. Peter:

"But Mr. St. Peter, I had orders from my government to put these Jews in the gas chamber."

"But Mr. St. Peter, it was the policy of the church to persecute others. I was only a humble servant of the church."

"But Mr. St. Peter, I was only one of the mob, how do you know that my rock killed the Negro?"

"But Mr. St. Peter, when I killed all of those women and children I was in the service of my country."

And always the inexorable answer: "All I have listed here are persons, just persons."

* * *

We should know that conscience, reason, knowledge, integrity, judgment and all other virtues are the distinctive and exclusive properties of individual persons. Committees and governments don't think; only individuals think. Systems do not commit crimes; only individuals commit crimes . . . Majority decisions are not right merely because they are in the majority. The majorities which nailed Jesus to the cross, gave Socrates the cup of hemlock, burned John Hus at the stake, forced Galileo to deny what his telescope told him—were they right? In these cases the individual was right. May there not be just such situations today?

In the textbook list published last week an error was made in the cost of the seventh grade English text, "Mastering Your Language." The price is $1.59 instead of $1.53.

Schools will open at 8:00 on Monday, September 4, and close at 12 noon to allow pupils time to purchase texts. The regular schedule will begin on Tuesday.

Parents of beginners are again reminded to bring the birth certificate of the child entering for the first time. These children must become six years of age on or before October 1st in order to be able to enter. A certificate from the Health Department showing that the child has had its shots should accompany the child also.

LET'S USE OUR COMMUNITY SCHOOLS

There is a tendency on the part of many parents to send their children away from the school at home to the big center school. This practice is becoming a more serious problem as the years go by. Here are a number of points that these parents should keep in mind:

First, your community needs its school. Once the school is taken from the community, the community soon ceases to exist as such. When a sufficient number of parents see fit to send their children away, naturally the school is going to be discontinued. Usually school officials get credit for the discontinuance of schools when really the school died because the people deserted it.

Secondly, children are being sent away from schools that have space for them and need them into schools that are already overcrowded. This is unfair to all concerned, especially to those that are being "crowded out of their school," as they choose to put it. Teachers in the center school have overcrowded classrooms while the teachers in the community schools find it necessary to teach many grades or subjects in order to have enough pupils for a teacher unit. This decreases the efficiency of teaching.

Thirdly, going to a more distant school calls for more transportation. This means an added expense and a greater inconvenience to the children. Again, it indicates an imposition to those who must ride the bus. It means that a county must own and operate more, busses. This really becomes a problem in a state where school financing is so inadequate as it is in Alabama.

True, the larger school offers some things that the smaller school cannot afford. Music seems to be the most common of these advantages. Many communities have solved this problem by arranging for piano teachers in the community school. The Board has cooperated in these instances. At the same time, the small school certainly offers opportunities in pupil-teacher relationships that the large school cannot afford.

The Board insists that parents take the above mentioned items into consideration and give your own school a break by considering its importance to the community called home. Is it desirable that it die? Like every public undertaking, every individual has a responsibility in its welfare. Deserting it for another school is not helping to hold it.

Signed,
J. H. BOOCKHOLDT,
Superintendent.

METHODIST CHURCH

Actual construction has begun on the $240,000 Toulminville Methodist Church, in Mobile, according to a news release this week by the Minister, the Rev. W. Brunson Atkinson. "Our new and greater church will be of masonry construction, finished in old brick, made here in Mobile nearly a hundred years ago, and trimmed with limestone. The Sanctuary will seat 500, with an additional 100 in the balcony," the Rev. Mr. Atkinson stated. "Our church is located in the fastest growing section of Mobile, and we are confident that ours will be one of the largest churches of any faith in Mobile within a few short years," the Minister added.

The Toulminville Methodist Church was originally located on a triangular site between St. Stephens Road and Stone Street, which was given to the congregation by the late Judge Theophilus Toulmin 105 years ago. This site was recently leased to the Gulf Refining Company by the church for twenty years.

The old church building was moved to the new property, which is across the street from its original location. The new property is nearly three acres in size and will provide ample room for the church during its years of development into a large city church.

The Rev. Mr. Atkinson led the First Methodist Church of Panama City, Fla., in the building of its "Cathedral in the Cove," a $250,000 building of modern architecture. Before going to the bayshore city, he organized a third church in Dothan, Ala., and led the people in building a Chapel on Headland Avenue to house the newly organized church. Then, he led a new congregation in Montgomery, Ala., to build the first Methodist Church to be organized since 1903 in that city. It became the first Methodist church in the world to come into existence after the unification of the three braches of Methodism, which became the Methodist Church.

The Toulminville Methodist Church has a membership of 725 and an annual budget of $19,390. It is located in a community of over 16,000 people.

TELL ME...
DO STARS ACTUALLY FALL?
THERE ARE NO SUCH THINGS AS FALLING STARS! WHAT ONE SEES ARE METEORS.... OR SMALL BODIES FROM THE DEPTHS OF SPACE, WHICH USUALLY BURN UP IN THE AIR!
HOW LONG DOES IT TAKE AN ALLIGATOR TO REACH ITS FULL LENGTH?
ALLIGATORS ARE SLOW IN GROWTH! TO REACH THEIR FULL LENGTH OF ABOUT 16 FEET.... NEARLY 100 YEARS ARE REQUIRED!
ARE LADYBUGS HARMFUL OR USEFUL?
USEFUL.... BECAUSE THEY DESTROY SMALL INSECTS THAT ARE HARMFUL TO PLANTS!
16.
WHAT IS AMBERGRIS?
IT IS A GRAYISH, FATTY SUBSTANCE WITH A VERY AGREEABLE ODOR, DERIVED FROM THE INTESTINES OF THE SPERM WHALE! USED IN PERFUMES, AMBERGRIS IS 5 TIMES AS VALUABLE AS GOLD!!

SOUTHERN BELL ALMOST DOUBLES TELEPHONES IN SERVICE IN LAST FIVE YEARS

Atlanta, Ga. — The Southern Bell Telephone Company has added 1,560,020 telephones—an increase of almost 100 per cent—in the last five years, it was announced today by Hal S. Dumas, Company President.

Mr. Dumas said there are 3,366,000 telephones in service today in the nine states served by Southern Bell, as compared with 1,805,980 at the end of August, 1945. This increase, he said, is as large as the increase in telephones for the first 63 years of the Company's history.

In a review of telephone progress during the past five years, Mr. Dumas also disclosed that Southern Bell had:

1. Tripled the number of rural telephones — from 144,721 to 434,000.
2. Almost doubled its number of long distance circuits, going from 9,300 to 16,500.
3. More than doubled the amount of money invested in telephone facilities, advancing from $389,600,000 to $837,000.000.

Emphasizing the effect of constantly rising costs on the Telephone Company, Mr. Dumas said that each telephone added today requires facilities costing nearly double what these same facilities cost in 1945.

Service Highly Improved—

"During this past half decade, telephone service has become clearer, faster and more dependable in every respect, "Dumas said. "Our facilities and the skill of telephone men and women were never so far advanced as they are today. Whatever communication needs may arise, they will be met to the utmost."

W. L. Hinds, District Manager here for the Telephone Company, said that there were 1,824 telephones in service in Clanton today, as compared with 592 at the end of 1945. There are 22 long distance circuits as compared with 7 five years ago.

Soil Conservation News

Joe Smith and Houston Traywick have asked that their old soil conservation plans be rewritten or a new one made. Both of these farmers know the value of a good soil conservation plan and stated, "Ten years means a lot of changes and I want to be brought up to date."

* * *

M. Manning, Thorsby, has two acres of bottom land prepared to plant in Kentucky 31 fescue and ladino clover. He plans to use twelve pounds of fescue and two pounds of ladino clover seed per acre. The fertilizer used will be eight hundred pounds of 0-12-20 per acre plus one hundred pounds of ammonia nitrate per acre when plants are up. The land will also be limedd.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

WHEREAS, on the 22nd day of March, 1943, Vivian Jones Klinner and husband, W. H. Klinner, did execute and deliver to C. H. Pipes a mortgage upon the hereinafter described real estate located in Chilton County, Alabama, said mortgage being in the sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) and being evidenced by one promissory waive note of even date and amount and said mortgage recorded in the Office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama, in mortgage record 314, page 41; and Whereas, default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness secured by said mortgage, and said default continuing, and said mortgage being subject to foreclosure;

Notice is therefore given that the undersigned mortgagee, C. H. Pipes, will sell the property described in said mortgage in front of the courthouse door on Second Avenue North in the City of Clanton, Chilton County, Alabama, at public outcry to the highest and best bidder for cash, during the legal hours of sale on Monday, September 25, 1950, said property being discribed as follows, to-wit:

A lot or parcel of land situated on the West side of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad in the City of Clanton, Chilton County, Alabama, more particularly described as follows: Commencing at the point of intersection of the North side of 5th Ave. North and the East side of 10th Street in the City of Clanton, Alabama, thence in a Northerly direction and along the East side of said 10th Street a distance of 125 feet to the South boundary line of the George E. Survey Started To Determine Use Of Natural Gas; Up To Local Citizens

Whether or not citizens of Clanton want natural gas will be determined in a, survey being organized by the Mayor and Council. It is now, and has been, the opinion of this newspaper that the people should be the ones to have the say as to whether they could pay the price necessary to obtaining this service.

The Mayor and Council has worked months on securing all available information in regards to what would be the best means for Clanton to secure natural gas and has finally completed the ground work and is ready for the housekeepers to have their say.

Clanton Lions and Kiwanis Club members will make the survey.

All home owners are urged to go to the City Hall and sign for the gas if they are interested and to see a report of several other small cities of a size comparable with Clanton and to see what they have accomplished as to securing natural gas.

The following letter from the Mayor and City Councilmen explain briefly their accomplishments to date:

To The People of Clanton:

After a most careful study of the benefits people generally will receive by bringing natural gas into our city, and an extensive investigation of gas systems used in other cities, we are delighted, as citizens of Clanton, but more especially as your officials, to report to you that we have we have signed all agreements and contracts necessary at this time to secure natural gas for Clanton. We have authorized J. W. Goodwin Engineering Company to ask for competitive bids for the construction of the gas system, but no further steps can be taken by us until a sufficient nummber of potential users of natural gas will sign up and deposit $5.00 with the City Clerk as evidence of good faith. This $5.00 will be returned to you, should you at any time move away from Clanton or discon-

Six Injured In Car Accident

Six colored men were seriously injured at Maplesville last week when an automobile was wrecked, when a load of lumber fell from a truck while passing on Selma Highway.

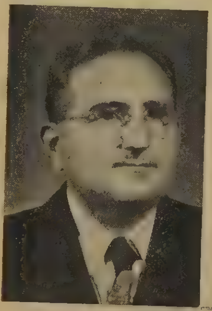
The injured were sent to a Selma hospital.

The report is that a chain holding the lumber broke just as the truck passed the automobile and the lumber piled over onto the car, injuring the occupants.

The negro boy driving the lumber truck was uninjured. The truck was owned by James Preston of Maplesville.

Frank Morrow, one of the occupants in the automobile, had only one leg. The other had been amputated at the knee some time in the past. In this accident both legs were fractured besides receiving some internal injuries. Names of the other negroes weren't given.

Preaches At Thorsby Baptist



REV. JOHN B. JOHNSON

Rev. John B. Johnson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Abbeville, Ala., who will bring the messages for Thorsby Baptist revival. Rev. Johnson is a graduate of Howard College and also Southern Baptist Seminary, Louisville, Ky. His preaching ability is second to none in Alabama. We urge everyone who possibly can to hear this man of the Lord preach.

Thorsby Baptist Church has provided a tent to take care of the overflow crowds who will attend our services. Our guest churches to be recognized: Collins Chapel Monday night, New Salem Tuesday night, Concord Wednesday night, Macedonia Friday night and Jemison Saturday night. Everyone is invited. The above mentioned given special recognition. No finer men can be found than the ministers of the above mentioned congregations—Rev. L. D. Hughes, Rev. Hymon Atcheson, Rev. R. W. Stuckey, Rev. Mr. Heida And His 6 Times Winner Take Grand Prize

(photo by Scott's Studio)

The lucky 4-H Club member and winner of the purebred heifer was Eddie Higginbotham of Maplesville 4-H Club. Eddie was awarded the prize heifer for doing a very good job of fitting and showing his own dairy heifer. Owner of the Grand Champion Cow was Mr. J. G. Heida of Thorsby, who showed an outstanding animal. Mr. O. H. Lawrence of New Cedron was awarded the prize for the Reserve Grand Champion female. Mr. Lawrence's animal was a very nice young animal that was well fitted and shown. It should be mentioned that Mr. Lawrence bred this winner and from the progress he is making he will show other winners in the future.

This year's purebred Jersey Cattle Show was considerably better than any previous. Not only were the cattle exceptionally good but more cattle were entered in the show than ever before. A total of sixty purebred Jerseys were entered and shown.

It was apparent from this year's show that a good breeding program is beginning to pay off. The younger classes of animals were all bred by Chilton County farmers and dairymen and they were the best group of animals in the show.

Mr. R. O. Williams of Collins Chapel received the award for the Grand Champion Bull with Mr. Ben Brinker in next place with the Reserve Grand Champion Bull.

Below are listed the various other awards and the names of the winners:

JR. HEIFER CLASS—

First Place, O. H. Lawrence, Billingsley, Ala., Route 1.

Second Place, O. H. Lawrence, Billingsley, Ala., Route 1.

Third Place, C. L. Walton, Jemison.

Fourth Place, Frank Parrish, Clanton.

Fifth Place, Ben Brinker, Clanton,

Lions-Kiwanis Joint Meeting

All members are notified that the regularly scheduled meeting of September 8th will be a joint meeting with the local Kiwanis Club to be held at the Chilton County High School Cafeteria Thursday at 7:00 p.m. A matter of prime civic importance will be discussed and a good attendance is important.

Most Baseball Games Out Last Week

The rain took care of almost all of Clanton's baseball last week. Clanton played only one game against Holt, and lost 8 to 4. Clanton was leading in this game through the first sixth innings 4-0, but in the seventh Johnnie Smith weakened and mostly by three home-runs scored 6 runs. For some unknown reason Clanton's other two pitchers did not show up for this game, and third baseman Clint Jones and short stop Royce Seales finished the game on the mound for Clanton. Clanton's standing now is 25 won, 10 lost.

Schedule—

SUNDAY, September 10th, in the City Park 3:00 p.m., Buck Creek.

WEDNESDAY, September 13th, in the City Park, 7:30 p.m., Brent.

For the remainder of the season Clanton will play every Wednesday night and Sunday afternoon in the City Park, up to and including Wednesday night, October 11th, the last game. Clanton vs. Harry Walker's (St. Louis Cardinal) Major League All Stars.

Frank J. Callen Passes At Home Friday

FRANK J. CALLEN

Some time during his sleep Friday night Frank J. Callen passed away at his home here. He was in his 58th year.

Born on November 14, 1892, he entered the banking business at Peoples Savings Bank in 1914, and after war was declared, joined the Army and served during World War I. After the war he returned to the bank and was made president in 1922. He held that office until his death.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from Clanton Methodist Church and burial was in Clanton Cemetery. Spigener Funeral Home was in charge.

Surviving besides the widow, Mrs. Amy Callen, is one son, Billy, and one daughter, Mrs. Anne Callen Barnett.

Here's A Job For You Old Timers

For you folks who have been hearing that you are too old to get a job—here is just what you have been waiting for.

Someone is looking for two ladies who can operate old-time spinning wheels. The kind that turn by hand. The News has been asked to help find these two ladies. They will get a week's work during the Alabama State Fair if they qualify.

Here's your chance to cash in on your experience. Just call the News office and we will give you the particulars.

Health Census To Be Taken This Month

Information on the state of the nation's health will be obtained in September as part of the Census Bureau's Current Population Survey, it was announced today by Miss Mary L. Griffin, District Supervisor, from her office at Clanton. The Current Population Survey interviews each month a representative cross-section of 25,000 households throughout the country, including a number in the Chilton-Perry area, Miss Griffin said.

This month, special questions on disability are being asked at the request of the Federal Security Agency in furtherance of its program for providing assistance and rehabilitation for disabled persons. These questions, which will supplement the regular questions on employment and unemployment, will provide information on the number of persons with illnesses or disabilities, the length of time they have been disabled, and whether they worked before they become disabled.

The survey will be conducted in the Chilton-Perry area during the week of September 11 to 16. Supervisor Griffin emphasized that all individual information furnished the Census Bureau is treated in absolute confidence and that only statistical summaries are ever published.

To The Citizens Of Chilton County

If any local legislation is needed for Chilton County, communicate with me at once. Local bills have to be advertised four weeks and will have to start with issue of September 7th because the Legislature convenes again October 10th.—W. A. Gulledge

W. W. Hand Died Monday Morning

William Webster Hand, long time resident of Clanton, died Monday in Birmingham. He was 79 years old.

Mr. Hand until four years ago, had resided here for 26 years, having raised a large family here.

Funeral services were held from Brown Service Norwood Chapel at Birmingham Tuesday afternoon and burial was in Clanton Cemetery at Clanton

Surviving are three sons — W. C. Hand of Tuscaloosa, C. E. of Greenville and Bonnie of LaFayette; four daughters — Mrs. E. M. Hayes of Thorsby, Mrs. L. H. Blanton of Clanton, Mrs. L. J. Bass of Birmingham and Mrs. W. C. Williams of Fairfield.

Three brothers also survive—J. W. Hand of Bessemer, J. L. Hand of Climax, Ga., and D. L. Hand of Montgomery, Ala.

Gas Tax Breaks All Records

The 6c state tax on gasoline produced a total of $29,238,304.00 the first eleven months of this fiscal year according to figures released by the Department of Revenue this week.

Jim Britton, executive secretary of the Alabama Petroleum Industries Committee stated that this is an all time record and that the proceeds from the state gasoline tax should exceed $32,000,000.00 at the close of this fiscal year.

The history of the 6c per gallon tax on gasoline has been ine of phenomenal increase. Mr. Britton pointed out that the revenue from the tax on gasoline had increased annually since 1933 and this year it is expected to produce almost one hundred percent more than it produced ten years ago.

Regular Conclave Clanton Commandery No. 27 Tuesday evening, September 12, 1950, 8 o'clock. All members urged to attend. Visiting Sir Knights cordially invited.—B. L. Venable, Comdr., G. C. Harris, Secretary.

SCHOOL AGAIN

Time for motorists to be more careful than ever in their driving. School children are prone to do and then think. Sometimes motorists have to think for both themselves and the child. Drive carefully is our plea. Little children are too precious to sacrifice to carelessness.

FRANK J. CALLEN

Chilton County and Central Alabama will mourn the death of Frank J. Callen, who died at his home here last Friday night, a long, long time.

His opinion in important matters of the community were regarded highly. He was a leader in every move that would be for the betterment of his people.

He had the respect of every man with whom he came in contact. In his business life and his personal dealings.

No higher tribute can be paid a man.

CATTLE SHOW

The boys at the office of Red Glasscock, County Farm Agent, are certainly to be congratulated on the fine Jersey Cattle Show they presented to Chilton County last week. More people turned out to see this Cattle Show than has turned out for a like event in many a moon.

Hundreds of our citizen farmers visited the show and enjoyed a fish fry, sponsored by the local merchants.

Chilton County has come a long way in breeding and raising fine cattle. Both for milk or beef purposes.

Our prediction is that only the surface has been scratched compared with what is in the future for the progressive farmers in this county.

HOME - SCHOOL ACTIVITY

Ever noticed how the tempo picks up with the opening of schools? You have to rise earlier to see that little Johnnie and Mary get to school on time. Mother not only has to give them a good breakfast and dress them, but either she or daddy must see that they get to school safely.

Then there is the matter of seeing that they get home on time in the afternoon. If mother does not pick them up at school she feels she must be home when the children arrive. First school supplies have to be purchased. Then there are music and dancing lessons which require transportation back and forth. Scout meetings and possibly a social affair on a Friday or Saturday night. Of course there are lessons to get every night and that usually requires parential persuasion.

Yes, teachers may some time wonder if parents don't send their children to school to "get rid" of them. But they are the folk "back of the lines" who have to see that the children are properly dressed and fed and that they get to school on time and arrive back home without mishap. They do have a little breather during the day, but it doesn't last long.

Yes sir, things begin to hum in the family circle when vacation is over and school begins.—Shades Valley Sun.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

Julian. Julian. Wherefore art thou? Going, that is.

A Creed worth remembering. It's the Optimist Creed taken from the FFA August-September issue.

Promise Yourself

TO be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind.

TO talk health, happiness and prosperity to every person you meet.

TO make all your friends feel that there is something in them.

TO look at the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true.

TO think only of the best, to work only for the best and expect only the best.

TO be just as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own.

TO forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievements of the future.

TO wear a cheerful countenance at all times and give every living creature you meet a smile.

TO give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have no time to criticize others.

TO be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear and too happy to permit the presence of trouble.

Received a postcard from Mrs. Sadie Lande while she was visiting this summer in Rome, Italy. Sure she was having a wonderful time. She didn't send a message. Just "Greetings From Rome". . . .You know these Clanton folks sure do get around. Received a card from A. N. Laurell from the West Coast. He had been visiting Catalina and was much enthused over the beauty of the place. Bobby was out there this summer, too, but he didn't write any cards.

The John Hollises returned from their trip through Mexico full of their subject. They journeyed all the way to the southern tip while they were there. You know John Hollis—he never half does anylhing.

Was just thinking. You know, every year we have lived has been the best year of our life.

The Lawrence Brothers are doing all right at their new Standard Station in South Clanton. Harold and Richard are well pleased to date with their business, but like everybody else are striving all the time for new customers. Saw Harold down town the other night and was asking him about it and he is enthused at the prospects. They're two fine young businessmen and we know they will succeed. Incidentally Harold, where in Sam Hill did you get that shirt?

Horsley White is operating the Bus Station now. Bet there's little time for fishing for Horsley as long as he operates that place. It's an all-time job. However, he's used to dealing with the public and likes it. There's one thing about that job we couldn't stand and that's watching that greyhound run all the time. Just a little of it tires us to death.

Rough is the word for it. Coffee has gone to a dime in Clanton. There was a loud moaning at the counters of City Grill and the Dixie last Friday morning. The cashiers were really apologetic about the whole thing and we believe hated to have to go up on the price of Clanton's favorite beverage. But heck, this is war you know. And sooner or later we knew that this awful, awful, thing was bound to happen.

Frank Callen is dead. Death came early Saturday morning and its coming took one of Chilton County's most respected and beloved personalities. His friends could be numbered among the rich and the poor alike. He was the same at all times, and to everyone. We don't believe Frank Callen played favorites among his customers or his friends. He judged a man for what he was and took him at face value. He was approachable to anyone who needed his council and spent much of his time in service to others. Of his life we are reminded of the words written long ago: "I expect to pass through this world but once. Any good therefore that I can do, or any kindness that I can show to any creature, let me do it now. Let me not defer or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again."

All In The Game:

BOBBY LOCKE began his assault on American golf by swamping Sam Snead all through South Africa . . . Giants 2nd baseman Eddie Stanky is the offender who caused the NL ruling prohibiting any one waving his arms in the batter's line of vision . . . Jackie Robinson thinks the Dodgers will trade him next year . . . Henry Ransom, Tam O'Shanter winner, has been knocking at tourney doors for more than a decade . . . Connie Mack's sons have purchased controlling interest in the A's and plan to retain Dad as manager . . . Stymie will attempt to break million dollar earning mark in comeback . . . New Penn athletic pilot is Fran Murray, former grid star . . . Little League baseball (boys' teams) has the backing of big league officials . . . Lush salaries have ended for pro gridders . . . Gussie Moran wants $75,000 for giving up her amateur status . . . DiMaggio's effort to shrug off his being benched are not too convincing . . . A flip of the coin gave no-hitter Vern Bickford to the Braves four years ago.

Ex-National league slugger Johnny Mize has been setting a fast pace in the American league, trying to bat the New York Yankees back into the leadership. So far, he hasn't succeeded, but when he goes on one of his hitting sprees, he's plenty hot.

Pastor And His Flock

The relationship between a pastor and his flock is something to be witnessed and experienced at heart, and words cannot express this relationship. This is proved with this writer and his church congregation. Besides having served the Temple congregation for near three years on a half time program back in the thirties, this week marks our sixth anniversary as their pastor on a full time program. For it was Monday of this week six years ago that this pastor and his family moved into the pastorium of the Temple Church in this city. The fellowship and the Christian tie of brotherly love and spiritual unity has grown in our hearts from then until now. Each year has been better than the year before. At the Anniversary party Monday night it was expressed by Wm. Jack Mims, who is one of the deacons, and the Sunday School Superintendent, that this next year would be the best so far. It being his desire that every year to be better than the year before. This desire lies deep within the heart of every active member of the Temple Church as well as the pastors.

For this sixth anniversary, again the congregation took the pastor on a surprise. While the pastor was getting ready to attend the Brotherhood Council at the church, members of his flock begin to come in the pastorium through the front and back doors. Soon the house was filled to over-flowing with the members of his congregation. They brought along with them plenty of ice cream, cake, and just a shower of other things that the pastor and his wife can enjoy for a long time to come. This was just a little expression of their appreciation for their pastor and his wife after these years of service. And to make things more comfortable for the pastor and his better-half, a gas heating system has been installed in the pastorium; and to make things look a little more attractive the home is getting a face-lifting, a new white coat of paint is being applied, trees being trimmed; in general, the Temple Church and their pastor are getting ready for another great year. The invitation is given to all to join this happy group of people, and live happy ever afterward.

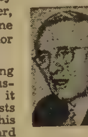
DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

Live for the Day

HERE'S HOW one woman handled an emotional crisis and started herself and her family on the road to a happy life.

She is Mrs. Flora Cummings and she lives in San Diego, Calif. Ten years ago she was left a widow with two children. After a couple of years, she met a man who, she believed, would be both a good husband and a good father to her children. He seemed to like her children and certainly they liked him and found him entertaining. As for her, she saw in him if not a perfect man, at least one with so many wonderfully good traits, that minor traits could readily be overlooked.



Carnegie

But the trials that come from people living together, did not escape their family. Her husband was jealous of the great amount of time it was necessary for her to spend on the interests of her young son and young daughter. This jealousy was intensified when times became hard and she had to go to work to augment the family income. This she felt called upon to do because her children made an extra burden for her husband to carry.

Matters went from the proverbial bad to worse state. Her husband bickered and quarreled, found fault with the children; the children turned against him, seemed to prefer not doing the things he wanted done. He even struck her little 10-year-old daughter, which she says she can never forgive, but only overlook. On top of all this her widowed father had to come and live with them. He was always on the side of the children, so soon he and her husband were devout enemies.

Then one day her church announced a course in human relationships. She went more to get away from home after the children had gone to bed than because she felt any good would come of it. She says in that course, was advocated "living for the day", making the most and the best of what one had, and forgetting all other considerations. She began practicing that precept. Within a week, her family life was happier; within a month, both her husband and her father caught her spirit and fervor, and became peaceable; her children became more thoughtful. She says she had never before known what a human being in trouble could do for herself by just calmly living for the day and letting the future—and the past—take care of themselves.

Your Health

BRONCHIAL ASTHMA

Asthma is a broad term meaning any condition in which wheezing occurs, but bronchial asthma is almost certainly an allergic condition. In bronchial asthma the symptoms are wheezing, shortness of breath and cough. As in any form of allergy, the sufferer has usually inhaled or eaten certain substances which produce great distress in those individuals sensitive or allergic to them.

The wheezing associated with bronchial asthma varies with different patients. Sometimes the wheeze is very quiet and can be heard only with a stethoscope. Sometimes it is so loud that the sound can be heard clear across the room and even in the next room.

The wheezing occurs when the victim attempts to get the air out of the lungs. In a person with a chronic bronchial asthma, an X-ray film of the chest will show that the diaphragm is pushed down from its normal position and the ribs will have a straight character instead of the normal curved formation. This change develops because the sufferer is using all the muscles he has to push out the air which has become trapped in the breathing apparatus of the chest. Very often this action produces another condition which is called emphysema.

Bronchial asthma is also characterized by the history of other allergic conditions, either in the patient or the patient's family, indicating heredity to be a factor in at least sixty per cent of the cases. A skin test is the usual method of establishing the cause or causes of bronchial asthma.

Best results in asthma occur when the cause is found and then avoided. If the cause cannot be entirely avoided, the patient can be given injections of an extract of the offending substance to help him build up a resistance to it.

"EASY DOES IT"

BY..... HELEN HALE

USE GAY colorful doilies for mealtime whenever possible. If a drop spills, you'll have only one doily to wash in place of a whole, large tablecloth.

If you're thinking of saving time serving a first course of fruit or vegetable juice, don't give it up readily. A small glass of the juice can be placed on the table next to the water glass, and it can be sipped while you're serving the main dish.

Use little sauce or side dishes only when you're having such foods as really need them, like stewed tomatoes, vegetables in sauce, or cream-style corn.

A three way platter saves dishes and space on the table. You can place meat in center or on one side, then potatoes to the other side, and vegetables next to them or to the meat. It's a pretty way of serving!

Plan to cook and serve in the same dishes whenever possible because of the time and dishes saved, as well as the fact that you can bring them to the table at the peak of perfection.

Every now and then, add variety to serving, by preparing the plates in the kitchen. Arrange the plates right near the range where you can serve them easily, set them on a tray and bring the dinner, all served, to the table at one time.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Apple Crisp
(Serves 6)

2½ pounds (8 cups) sliced, tart apples
¾ cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
¼ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup butter
1¾ cup crushed cornflakes

Wash, peel and core apples. Slice ⅛-inch thick. Mix together sugar, spices, lemon rind and salt. Layer apples in greased casserole, and sprinkle each layer with sugar mixture, cornflakes and dot with butter. Repeat until all are used, leaving a larger portion of the cornflakes and butter for the very top layer. Cover and bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 15 minutes. Uncover and bake for about 30 minutes longer or until apples are tender and the top crisp. Serve with cream or hard sauce.

ONE WAY TO AVOID LOW HATCHABILITY

Mr. and Mrs. Forest C. Thomas have solved one of their big hatchery problems.

When they started operating the Happy Day Plantation Hatchery in Elmore, Alabama, a large part of the eggs they put into their incubator failed to hatch. Making a study of the causes of low hatchability, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas found that holding eggs at high temperatures before setting was one of the greatest causes of a poor hatch.

"Therefore," says John Weeks, A.P.I. Extension Service poultry specialist, "they purchased a secondhand refrigerator and converted it into an egg cooler that holds 16 cases of eggs. Now they have no trouble getting high hatchability of all of their eggs."

LAST DUTY

(A Short Story)

By RICHARD HILL WILKINSON

WHEN Aaron Howard and Jill Damon were married they went to live on the ranch on Grand Wash that Aaron had inherited from his father. Both loved the place, for the West was their native land. They were supremely happy. Two years after their marriage a son, Phil, was born, and 18 months later a second son came. They named him Roger.

The children, as is so often the case, did not detract from the affection between Aaron and Jill. Theirs was a love that went deeper. If anything, they came to depend more on each other for comfort and understanding. Aaron's only request of life, and Jill's, too, was that they could die together, that one would not be left behind to carry on without the help of the other.

When Phil was 24 he fell in love with a neighboring rancher's daughter named Janice Akron.

But this was not to be. Phil was 12 and Roger 10 when Jill contracted pneumonia. A week later she died.

Aaron kept on, finding an outlet as much as possible for his naturally affectionate nature in his sons. He dedicated the remainder of his life to their upbringing, yet never feeling quite free of the emptiness, the ache that dwelt in his heart for Jill.

When Phil was 24 he fell in love with a neighboring rancher's daughter named Janice Akron. Unhappily Janice had already won the affections of her father's foreman, Jed Potter. Jed was older than Phil, a headstrong, ill-tempered youth, resentful of young Phil Howard's greater resources and better prospects.

Aaron, now past middle age, watching developments in the wisdom of his years, saw storm clouds appearing on his son's horizon. Yet he withheld the advice which perhaps should have been given. He thought of his own courtship of Jill. He, like Phil, would never have let a rival discourage him in his endeavor to win her affections.

Neither Aaron nor any one foresaw the tragedy which took place. Roger came galloping into the ranch house one morning with the news. Aaron saw the wild insanity in his younger son's eyes, yet even then the announcement was a terrific shock.

"Phil's dead," Roger said hollowly. "He was shot by Jed Potter. Potter was drunk and Phil came into the Red Dog and Jed made some slurring remark about Janice and Phil slapped his face. Jed had a gun and Phil was unarmed, but Jed shot him just the same."

As Roger talked he was buckling on the belt and six-shooter that he usually wore when on the range. Aaron came toward him quickly. He felt numb all over. He knew what Roger had in mind.

Aaron knew then how he had failed Jill. One of her boys dead; the other about to commit a crime that would bring him to the same end. The old man's heart felt like lead, yet through his misery he saw the determination in Roger's face and knew that nothing would deter the boy until his brother's killing had been avenged.

"All right, boy," he said quietly. "I understand. We'll go together." And Aaron went and got his own gun and followed his son down to the corral.

They were up and off at dawn. Toward late afternoon they crossed a trail and followed it. They entered a ravine and presently Aaron pointed to a spiral of smoke above the trees. Roger's mouth set grimly. He swung to the ground. Aaron did likewise. They crept up a rise and parted some bushes and saw Jed Potter hovering over a fire. Side by side they crept down the slope and suddenly stepped through some shrubbery and confronted Jed Potter 15 feet away. Roger was in the lead, Aaron behind and to the right.

Jed Potter looked at them and fear leaped into his eyes. He started to speak, checked himself. Roger's hand was on his gun. There was no alternative. Jed went for his own gun and died in his tracks, his weapon half-drawn, a bullet through his heart. . . .

Old Aaron entered the sheriff's office alone and told his story.

". . . And so while Roger slept that night I loaded his .45 with blanks. We shot at Jed together. You'll find that the bullet that killed him was from my old .44. Roger doesn't know it's that way. He thinks he killed Jed. He's back at the ranch, waitin' for you, sheriff. You needn't tell him how it happened; just say there's no way of provin' he's the murderer. I want the boy to live. I want something left behind on this earth that's clean and fine and honest—like Jill."

"Wait a minute," said the sheriff. "I don't get it Aaron—" He started forward, but Aaron's old .44 had performed its second duty within 12 hours, and Aaron lay on the floor with blood on his shirt and a smile on his lips—as if at last he felt he had done what Jill would have wanted, and was once more with her.

GET LATEST CANNING AND FREEZING TIPS

Auburn, Ala. — Booklets on home canning and especially on freezing, published only a few years ago, may become out of date.

Research specialists in preserving foods are rapidly developing new methods to be used, and today some of the old booklets and bulletins are antiques. In fact, the A.P.I. Extension Service food preservation specialist, Lavada Curtis, believes that the homemaker should be sure that her food preservation information is correct. This fact is especially true of information on home freezing of foods. Many of the long processing times for safe canning of vegetables also have been changed because new processes already have been discovered.

"By keeping in step with the latest information on food preservation," asserts the specialist, "one will be able to save many valuable hours of time and much food from spoiling. Ask the local home demonstration agent for the latest information about food preservation, and get the new food preservation and freezing bulletin available in her office."

TIMELY TIPS

Buy legume seed needed for fall planting. Buy fertilizer now that will be needed this fall. Harvest crops when they become ready. In other words, pick cotton as it opens and before it is weather damaged. Keep laying hens in good production from now until Christmas for higher priced fall eggs. Sell spring pigs as fast as they can be finished out before the price declines later in the year.

ALABAMA'S CORN CROP MAY BE RECORD MAKER

Corn is one of Alabama's most important crops. It is one of the most important foods, both for human beings and livestock.

According to the August Alabama Crop Report a record crop is indicated for 1950. It is estimated at 65,000,000 bushels, the largest crop on record.

With this record crop in mind, John P. Bell, A.P.I. Extension Service corn products marketing specialist, asks the question, "Will farmers allow weevils and rats to destroy 20 per cent of it?" He emphasizes the fact that weevils and rats destroy more than $15,000,000 worth of corn annually, a waste that could be prevented by proper handling and storing of corn.

WASHABLE WINTER WEAR COMING ON THE MARKET

Winter-weight fabrics that are washable are coming to retail stores in increasingly varied lines, observes Levice Ellis, A.P.I. Extension Service clothing specialist.

She points out that the mother who sews for a school-age daughter and who wants most garments washable, even in winter, will find these newer types of flannels and other warm fabrics worth hunting out and examining.

BROOD SOW CALLED "BIG WHEEL"

The old brood sow is a mighty "big wheel" on the hog raiser's farm. In fact, a sow is so important that an A.P.I. Extension Service circular entitled "The Brood Sow's Business" has just been released.

Elect
Luther Kendrick
SHERIFF
(DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE)

Chilton County Needs a trained and experienced man for this office. Luther Kendrick has been well trained by the most competent instructors that our country affords, also has had vast experience in all phases of law enforcement work, including military, civil and enemy alien activities. He was a member of the Alabama Highway Patrol from September 3, 1941, to February 1st, 1950, where the record shows that he continuously led his district in efficiency as a patrolman. He has been instrumental in helping solve some of the worst crimes committed in Chilton and surrounding counties.

He is the only veteran in the Sheriff's race, having served more than a year with a combat force in Europe during World War II.

He is the only nominee for sheriff that has been selected by a vote of the people.

He has not and will not promise any one a job until after November 7th, 1950. If elected he will make every effort to select men that will be a credit to the interest of Chilton County.

When elected he will: 1. Put the Sheriff's office on a business basis and will keep that office open during business hours to serve the people of Chilton County.

2. Fairly and impartially enforce the laws for the interest of our county, state and nation.

3. He will not hire any relatives as deputies or jailor.

4. He will bring a school to Chilton County for the purpose of training all city and county police officers in modern methods of law enforcement. This school will not cost the taxpayers a cent.

He sincerely asks your support which will be greatly appreciated.

When honored with this office he will endeavor at all times to prove himself worthy of your confidence, and will at all times strive for a bigger and better Chilton County.

(Pd. pol. adv. by Luther Kendrick, Clanton, Alabama)

Baptist Notes—

The committee on transportation for our revival met Sunday afternoon for the purpose of getting a way for each person who doesn't have a way to come to church. All who desire transportation to morning and evening services, please contact this committee.

The Thorsby Baptist Church takes this means of expressing to Mrs. B. L. Adams our profound gratitude and appreciation to her for the most effective and efficient manner in which she has led our Training Union for the past year. We deeply regret to give her up. Our prayers and interest continue with this family as they go from us. May the Lord's richest blessings dwell with them in their new field of endeavor.—Thorsby Baptist Church.

We have received this word from Rev. John B. Johnson, visiting minister: "I'm looking forward to being with you in the revival."

Rev. L. G. Meadows, song leader, will also be with us. Special request! I wish to meet the Juniors and Intermediates at 6:30 each evening during the revival.

Thorsby Chapter Eastern Star News—

After the last regular meeting the chapter honored Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dixon with a party. Various games were played, directed by Ruth Gletty. Mary Ellen Piper, dressed as a seer, prophesied great things for the honored couple as Ruth Morris came in bearing a basket loaded with gifts from the members of the chapter for them. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the party.

Another delightful occasion was a picnic held at Jemison recently for the women and children of the Thorsby Chapter. Swimming was enjoyed and a picnic luncheon was served at noon.

The Etta B. Smith conference met with the Thorsby Chapter Tuesday evening, August 29th. Mary Ellen Piper, Worthy Matron of the Chapter, presided over the meeting. Many members from over the district were present. Etta B. Smith was present and gave an interesting talk about the educational loan fund of the State Eastern Stars.

Other Grand and past Grand Officers attending were Lelia Holliday, Sallie Will Stein, Hazel Whaley, Jeanette Berlin and Thorsby's own Grand Officer, Grand Electa Ruth Dixon.

Six members of the Thorsby Chapter were in a pageant depicting the Five Stars Points as Robert Morris, founder of the Eastern Star, visualized them.

At the close of the meeting sandwiches, cakes and punch were served.

Mattie Mae Funk, retiring secretary, presented a beautiful white Bible to the chapter in a very impressive ceremony.

Miss Naemi Turnquist and Mrs. A. E. Reagan were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Berlin.

Thorsby, as well as the entire community, was saddened by the sudden death of Mr. Frank Callen of Clanton. Mr. Callen was loved by every one who knew him and he will be sorely missed by people of the entire County. We extend our deepest sympathy to his bereaved family.

Miss Naemi Turnquist and Mr. J. Archie Ogburn were among those who attended the funeral service for Mr. Frank Callen on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Howard entertained at a Canasta party on last Friday night. Those enjoying this occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Hanson, Mrs. Anna Phalin, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Petersen and Shirley, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Howard.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark and daughter, Joanne, left last week for their home in Chicago, Ill., after visiting here with their aunts, Mrs. Reagan, Mrs. Bosworth and Miss Naemi Turnquist, besides other relatives. They were entertained on several occasions while here at dinner parties, Canasta parties, a trip to Selma, Ala., and the highlight of their stay here was a picnic Mr. and Mrs. Erle Ellis on Sunday, dinner in Clanton, Ala., at the home of when a family reunion was held. Dinner was served out on the lawn and about 30 members of the family were present. From here the Clarks stopped for a visit in Birmingham and then on to Madison, Ala., for a visit with cousins. They were accompanied on the trip to Madison by Mrs. Reagan and Miss Naemi Turnquist besides two aunts from Birmingham. They enjoyed their visit in Alabama immensely and regretted having to leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bosworth and young son, Johnny, have moved from the Robinson apartment to the Ralph Pate home. We hope they are going to enjoy their new home.

Miss Naemi Turnquist returned to her work at the Bank of Thorsby on Tuesday after enjoying a two weeks vacation.

Raymond Duffey And Party Returned From Northwest

Mr. Raymond Duffey, his daughter, Mrs. Ruby Leigh Kyzer, and Miss Neil Sessions returned last week from their three weeks trip to the Northwest, the nether point being Spokane, Washington. Below are the notes Mr. Duffey took along the route, explaining some of the most important things they saw:

The first sight of any notice, other than the beautiful farm lands and homes were the Bad Lands of South Dakota, that's the name for them, as very little animal or vegetable life is found there. Desolate is the right word for this section. Then, the Black Hills, a beautiful drive to Mount Rushmore where you see 4 of the Presidents' heads carved in solid rock—Washington, Lincoln, Teddy Roosevelt and Harding. I think those are the ones. You drive through a cut and around and cross a bridge over the same road many times while going in and out from Mt. Rushmore. Then to and through the Yellow Stone National Park, The Cody way about 150, 70 miles of which is mountain scenery, deep rocky gorges, one in soild rock until you reach the great dam and sparkling waters of Shohone Reservoirs, then open spaces spruce, flowers, wild animals. Then you begin to rise and circle cliffs far above the valley below, until you reach Sylvan Pass at an altitude of 8,650 is reached. Many interesting rock formations are seen on this delightful journey. There are dozens of them, but some of the most pointed out are the Laughing Pig, Henry Ford, The Holy City, Chimney Rock that stands out a few feet from solid rock wall 75 to 100 feet high, stem and all. Entering the park you drive through "on the road of course" solid rock in several places. You also have the hairpin curves and deep gorges as you circle the mountains and follow the trout streams 100 miles or more. I noticed sign near eating place, "Trout-Dinner, you catch-'em, we cook-'em." Speaking of signs I noticed another one inside a road-side cafe — a large revolver hung on a nail underneath read "Pay your bill before leaving." I paid mine, then thought of one I read in a store out in The Indian Territory, now Oklahoma State, where I taught school one year. It read, "I'll pay you tomorrow, tomorrow never comes; I'll pay you Saturday if I'm not sick, he's sick; I'll pay you next week if I live, he's dead; I'll pay you, or go to H, he's gone. I wrote this on my napkin handed it to the waitress, she said thanks, and laid it away. See it next time.

On to Old Faithful, the geyser, that erupts or shoots its boiling water up several hundred feet high, about every 45 minutes, which lasts from 2 1-2 to 5 minutes, never varies over 15 minutes from one eruption to another, which has been checked for several score years. You can see scores of small eruptions or where the hot steam or boiling water shoots out all the time from 10 to 100 feet with boiling water running out all the time.

There are plenty of wild animals to be seen in the park—Black bear, moose, elk, deer, the larger ones, and all kinds of larger ones. The drive is beautiful all through the park. We spent one night in Buffalo Bill's Lodge (William F. Cody), the noted Indian fighter, the home that he built and lived in. The warmth from a big log fire felt good with a spring suit, winter underwear and slip over wool jacket in the near middle August, but I enjoyed every minute of it. Then on to Spokane and Davenport Hotel for several days rest—although I wasn't tired the least bit.

We arrived in Spokane on September 14th, had several pleasant days there, went out to Grand Coulee Dam, a wonderful sight to behold; the guide said enough cement was in the dam to build a walk 3 ft. wide around the earth at the equator twice, then have enough left to run to Cincinnati.

Leaving Spokane, the first night out, when we stopped to stay in Toppernish, it didn't look so good, so we drove to Goldendale, had a good night's rest, and were told that Toppernish was the roughest town in the entire Northwest. Then, into wonderful California, first night where we stayed in Redding, California, we were told 155 miles above there, not to go there for the night, too hot, we would drop from about 6000 to 600 feet above sea level, we went on any way, stayed in air-conditioned "Hotel Redding" had good night's sleep and rest, but I think it must have been 100 degrees outside any time during the night. Enjoyed San Francisco, crossing over the Bay Street and Golden Gate Bridges; had a look at Alcatraz, close enough, once on there you can't get off safe without help from the inside.

Out from San Francisco, then Yosemite National Park, the big redwood trees, one of which would easily build about 25 nice houses; "big trees". The public road runs through one, which you can easily drive your car through with room to spare, some of them 300 feet tall. On to Arizona, and the Grand Canyon, 200 miles long, 2 miles wide in places and thousands of feet deep, and millions of years in the making. Nature has done a wonderfud job in making it. No artist can even imitate it with his pictures of descriptions. I can't discribe it, you have to see for yourself to enjoy the beauty and grandeur of it. Then the painted desert and petrified forest, more of the handiwork of God. Thousands of Hopi and Navajo Indians live in this part of the country. Their customs and traditions still prevail, as they have their green corn and snake dances. They eat the green corn and dance till they are sick. They catch the real live rattle snake. The snake is their brother. The night before we came through a certain town, they had the snake dance ceremony, praying for rain, then turned brother snake loose, he goes away and the rain comes, or that's what they think, but not so every time, only of course as the Lord wills it. One Indian was bitten several times by his brother rattlesnake. They didn't know if he'd live or not.

The desert is really painted from the soil. The Indian gets the dirt and makes their paint or colors they use in making their pottery, also in the beautiful colors and patterns they weave into their rugs, blankets and other different cloth material. They raise their own sheep, shear, make the different kinds of cloth. but before this can be done they have to go to the medicine man and get permission before they can make anything. They are friendly and very considerate of the white man, but know the value of a dollar, or do they; they certainly know how to charge for their wares.

The petrified forest beautiful, but I was disappointed in this, through ignorance I suppose. I thought forest would be standing petrified trees, but the forest was buried 200,000,000 years ago with dirt and rock, and then soon thereafter, 10 or 15 million years, the earth began to wash off and drift away, you now have the forest, a few logs chopped up into stovewood or firewood blocks, scattered around over several hundred or thousand acres. The "rockwood" is beautiful, when cut and polished with all the colors of the rainbow and hard as steel.

Next El Paso, Texas, a little trip down in Old Mexico to the City of Juarez, shopped around some enjoyed it lots. They charged us 2 cents each to cross the bridge into Mexico and 1 cent each to come back, but it was worth every cent of it—of course Ruby Leigh and Nell had to eat down there, we went into a nice place and ordered them a chicken dinner. Af- the waiter went to give the order they noticed each dinner marked $12.50, and I almost had to call the doctor, but they looked again, that was Mexican money of course in Uncle Sam's money, about the same price as back in the states, being, $1.50 each for a good chicken dinner with all the trimmings.

Then, from El Paso to Carlsbad Caverns, one of the seven wonders of the world for a real thrill, one of a life time, don't go that way and miss the trip through the caverns. Nell and I took the "walk", 6 miles, 3 down and 3 back, had lunch 1 1-3 miles on the way came to a real cafe eating place with all the comforts you find anywhere. See the different formations of rock, clear and crystal-like-looking, millions of years in forming. The stalactites that grow down, the stalagmites that grow up, some stalactites grow in all directions. The stalactites so called as they have to hold tight to the ceiling to keep from falling. The stalagmites that grow up might reach the ceiling and might not. The stalactites that grow in all directions like a woman, don't know which way to go. You can see most any kind of animal you want to see, of course, the "animal man" is included. As we sat to rest the lights were turned out. Don't ask me how dark it was—you could cut it with a knife. The guide called attention to a "small rock" that had fallen out of the ceiling, "see the hole up there", this rock only weighs 200,000 tons, walk around it, get the dimensions, then figure it out for yourself, of course I believed what he said. The totem pole, thousands of years in the making, 42 feet high, a few feet in diameter, its dead, stopped growing. I notised another "small rock" that might weigh several thousand tons, ready to fall. I was glad to pass it up without any explanations, other sights too numerous to mention. You have to see to know anything of the beauty and grandeur of this magnificient 7th Wonder of the World.

Home from the caverns, no more sightseeing, only rock mountains, that blew out or erupted millions of years ago, from the crater of the first one, the rock "looks like charcoal" was hurled 5 miles or more and covered a 100 acre field or more. I figure the mountain with its eruption of pitch black molten rock would weigh approximately 1000 million, billion, trillion, textillion, quadrillion, nomillion tons. You can figure this out if you don't believe my figures.

We enjoyed the trip, 6,753 miles and the little Ford was 100 per cent perfect every inch of the trip. Over and through the Rocky and Sierra Nevada mountains, hair pin curves, narrow roads, no guard rails, and, on one side just 3 feet from the edge, 2,000 or more feet down over the jagged rocks to the bottom on to eternity, for you couldn't hardly live to tell the story if you ran off, but the good Lord was with us all the way, and I surely felt the prayers of my friends. If you go be sure and take the Lord with you for a safe guide.

Changed oil just before I left home, then in Spokane before leaving, only added 7 quarts on the whole trip. Drove 6,753 miles used 339.8 gallons gas, averaged 19.8 miles per gallon, That's good, what do you think?

Considering the 35,000,000 cars in the U. S. the holiday season, the traffic was abnormal, not near what you might think. Sometimes in sparsely settled country would drive 40 or 50 miles and not see a half dozen cars. Of course I enjoyed this, and that I'm back home on the mail route. Hope they all take their vacaion. No more 'till next time.—R. L. Duffey.

PEN OF AMERICA

Letter Writers Wage 'Truth Campaign'

THE COMMON COUNCIL for American Unity claims that over 8,000,000 first and second generation Americans are now being reached each week through its "Letters From America" campaign. The Common Council is a nonprofit organization which is working to promote the integration of the millions of immigrants and their children into American life.

This program helps the 35 million first and second generation Americans make the 250,000,000 letters they write abroad spread the truth about America. These personal letters carry the story of America and combat hostile propaganda against the United States.

Each week the Council sends out a column, translated into 22 languages, to foreign language publications and radio stations in the United States. The larger nationality organizations are also participating in what President Truman has called "a great campaign of truth," to combat Communist propaganda.

These weekly "Letters From America" articles help the letter writer correct prevalent misconceptions about America. They suggest how the writer can use his own personal experience to spread the truth about some aspect of United States life more convincingly perhaps than formal speeches or propaganda.

182 foreign language newspapers in the United States are carrying the weekly "Letters From America" columns. They reach 1,708,414 American families or an estimated 5,000,000 people. 186 foreign language radio programs are participating, reaching an estimated audience of over 2,000,000.

44 nation-wide nationality organizations, with a combined membership of over 1,000,000, are participating. The Third District of the Sons of Norway, for example, at their convention unanimously adopted a resolution endorsing the "Letters From America" campaign.

Sacred Harp Singing Held Last Sunday

The Sacred Harp and Christian Harmony Singing Convention was held at Pates Chapel last Sunday with a good attendance.

T. C. Jackson, chairman, sang "Wondrous Love," after which prayer was offered by Mr. Z. J. Jones.

The committee arranged for the following directors throughout the day: J. C. Cobb, Mr. Carver Deason, Mrs. Clara Smith, M. C. Jackson, Mr. Smith, Mrs. Nora Jackson, W. L. Sanders, Mr. Lum Scott, Miss Jean Carol Deason, Mrs. Era Culver, Misses Martha Sue and Little Faye Thompson, Billy Thompson, Mr. Scott, Mr. Thomas, Mrs. Pauline Lecroy, Mrs. Thomas, Davis Smith and G. W. Williams.

The usual 11 o'clock memorial service was rendered by T. C. Jackson, singing, "White" in memory of the author of the Sacred Harp and "French Broad" for the author of the Christian Harmony. Also a number by W. L. Sanders was sung for Mr. Green Culver who loved these old songs.

A delicious lunch was served at the noon hour.

Singing throughout the day was good, especially in the afternoon when several fine young directors from over Bibb County way lent their talent to the services.

It was particularly inspiring to see these young girls and boys taking part in such marked interest in these good songs that never grow old.

Our long-time friend, Mr. Z. J. Jones, of West Chilton, now nearing his 90th birthday, one of the convention's charter members, made a brief but interesting talk.

We appreciate those who helped make the day a success and thank the good people of Pates Chapel for their splendid cooperation.—Mrs. Era Culver, Secretary.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

John Mark, Who Made Good.

Lesson for September 10: Acts 12: 12, 25; 13: 4-5, 13; 15: 36-40.

Memory Selection: Philippians 4: 13.

JOHN MARK was the son of Mary, owner of the house in Jerusalem where, it is believed, the Sacrament was instituted, where the disciples often gathered after Pentecost and where they met to pray for Peter's deliverance from prison. Thus, out of an atmosphere of Christian belief and the home of a godly mother, Mark was prepared for his first service as the companions of two great missionaries.

But he failed. He left Paul and Barnabas at Perga and returned to Jerusalem. When Barnabas proposed taking Mark on a second missionary journey, Paul refused. The disagreement was sharp between them. Barnabas took Mark and departed for Cyprus; Paul chose Silas and set forth on his own course.

The young Mark needed the disapproval of Paul; he needed to see the gravity of turning back. But he also needed the second chance that Barnabas gave him. And he made good. In after years Paul evidently revised his estimate of Mark, for he is favorably mentioned in II Timothy and named in Philemon among the fellow workers of Paul.

The Second Gospel, the first to be written, bears the name of Mark. It is enduring evidence that Mark indeed made good and gave great service to mankind. His life should be an inspiration to men to overcome failure and attain unto success in serving Jesus. And all can do this through Him of whom Mark writes in his Gospel.

SOILED VISTA . . . To some, the UN means hope of world peace. To these three men, washing windows on the new secretariat building in New York, it means a wide expanse of dirty glass.

ADOPTED BY FIREEATERS . . . Mike Rector, who fought for life for a year after his cowboy suit went up in flames, has been made an honorary fireman by District of Columbia firemen. He had 35 skin grafts on his 70-per-cent-seared body.

NEW HARMONY

There were not many out for services during the week end due to several being away attending the convention at Prattville. Our new pastor came by Sunday night and payed us a visit. His appointment will be the same as usual—the second and fourth week ends.

Everyone has a cordial invitation to come out next week end and hear Rev. Charlie Thornton preach. We feel you will receive a blessing if you will come.

Master Billy Littleton is doing fine now. He is walking around on crutches most anywhere he wants to go.

Everybody remember our regular Wednesday night prayer meeting. Come worship with us.—Reporter.

MT. PISGAH

We were glad to have you present for Sunday School Sunday. We will be looking for you next Sunday and bring some one with you if possible.

We are glad Mrs. Earl Holley and Miss Willie Nell Williams are home from the hospital. We all hope and pray they will be well again soon and back to church with us.

Mrs. Henry Cleckler of Billingsgley spent a few days last week with her father, Mr. Allen Brown, who is ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Reuben Devaughn. We pray for him a speedy recovery.

We are planning something new and different for our Sunday School in a few days, so you please come and see what we have planned for you.—Reporter.

"EASY DOES IT"

BY . . . . . HELEN HALE

WHEN YOU PLAN sandwiches to go with another food, vary their flavor with proper seasonings, and they'll be more tempting.

For an apple-cheese salad, spread sandwiches with butter that has been creamed with a dash or two of nutmeg.

Stir in a bit of shredded orange or lemon rind for sandwiches that are intended to be served with a fruit and cottage cheese salad plate.

Those who like a cold glass of milk with a sandwich find that a spoonful of honey or chocolate sauce mixed with butter for spread is refreshing.

Add just a touch of prepared mustard or horseradish to give zest for sandwiches which are to be spread with cold cuts or eggs.

With a chilled pear salad or a molded salad that contains other fruit as well as pears, you'll like sandwiches spread with butter that has a dash of ginger mixed in with it.

When you're serving applesauce with a soft custard sauce, team this with bread and butter sandwiches to which has been added a dash of vanilla extract and cinnamon.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
Peach Bavarian
(Serves 6)

1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
2½ cups sliced peaches, fresh or canned
2 tablespoons lemon juice
⅓ cup sugar
Dash of salt
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
¼ teaspoon almond extract
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Soften gelatin in cold water; dissolve over hot water. Put peaches through sieve to measure 1½ cups; add with remaining ingredients, except cream, to gelatin. Chill until partially set. Beat fluffy. Fold in cream. Chill in an oiled 1-quart mold. Unmold and garnish with sliced peaches and maraschino cherries, if desired.

Maplesville News

Vacation season is over, with the familiar chatter of school children passing our door and the hum of the school buses, all remind us that it is September—school and football. Speaking of football, from the comments of the Maplesville football team, we know they are happy to have their coach, Mr. L. Kelley, back with them this year.

Church News—

Attending the B.T.U. mass meeting at Verbena last Sunday afternoon from the Baptist Church here were: Rev. and Mrs. Evan Johnson, Mrs. Frankie Seals, Mrs. Annie Laura Potts, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Rodgers, Mr. Joe Graham, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Giles, Laura Ann Dennis, Lucy Walker, Mishie Bearden and Elizabeth Dennis.

The Intermediate G.A.'s will meet with their leader, Mrs. Vera Lou Rodgers Thursday of this week at her home at 5:00 p.m. Mrs. Rodgers has a large group of girls enlisted in this auxiliary and is doing wonderful work with them.

The regular W.M.U. met at the church for their business meeting last Monday afternoon with Mrs. Sara Mitchell presiding. Mrs. H. M. Nix, chairman of the Nominating Committee, read the committee's report. We will have the officers of the W.M.U. at a later date.

Rev. Johnson is working hard to build up the interest of the church work. Why not cooperate with him by attending and giving your support in every way.

Goings and Comings—

Mr. and Mrs. Moodie Chambers have moved into their beautiful new home on Randolph road near the high school. We extend congratulations to all who have recently built new homes in Maplesville.

Spending the day Monday with Mrs. Cleve Sims were her daughter, Mrs. Bill Walker and three children, Frances, Martha and Billie, of Selma, Ala.

Week end visitors of Miss Louise Sims last week were Miss Roberta Sims and Miss Eula Mae Chandler of Pletcher, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Iacona of Chicago, Ill., were in Maplesville last week visiting their sister and brother-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. Claud Averett.

Away this week visiting relatives in Mound City, Ill., is Mrs. C. J. Moyers.

Mrs. Ruth Hubbard and children and Miss Ila Lou Lovelady spent last Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hale at Sprott, Ala., and Sunday with Mr. Robert Hale and family at Marion, Ala.

Mrs. Georgia Houston and Miss Lucy Walker, of Calera, Ala., Route 1, spent last week end here with relatives.

Mrs. Mary Lee Glass and two sons were away last week in Birmingham visiting her sister, Mrs. Johnnie Davis, who underwent an opreation. At this time she is doing fine. Mrs. Davis is formerly from Maplesville and her friends are wishing her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Dawson and Mrs. Bettie Jeffcoat recently visited Mrs. Jeffcoat's daughter, Mrs. Bessie Tucker, in Columbiana, Ala.

Out of town guests recently to the home of Mr. George Gillespie to offer their sympathy to him in the death of his son, George, Jr., in Korea were: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Scruggs, of Roebuck, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Gillespie, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gillespie and two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Lovinggood, Mrs. Colleen Whiscant and five grandchildren, Mr. Tom Lovinggood, Mr. Whit Whiscant, Mr. Nolen Higginbotham and Mr. Lary, all of Birmingham.

We are happy to report that Mrs. Blanche Mitchell, Mr. Henry Clay Nix and Mr. Virgil Royster have returned home from the hospital and all are doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Smith of out-of-town spent last week end here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. "Sharp" Atcheson and children of Montgomery visited their parents here last week end, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Atcheson.

We regret to learn of the illness of Mr. L. L. Seals who has been in a Selma hospital for several days, but we are glad to learn that he is able to go to the home of a daughter in Selma.

Miss Tommie Jo Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dock Perry, has accepted a position in Birmingham. She has the best wishes of many friends here.

S-Sgt. Tommy Williams of Birmingham Air Base, en route to Veterans Hospital, Montgomery, stopped over in Maplesville last week for a short visit with his mother, Mrs. Jessie Gillespie.

Visiting here for a few days with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Stough, Sr., are their daughter, Mrs. E. B. Folsom, and two sons, Donny and Dana Lane, of Houston, Texas; also their son, R. C. Stough, Jr., of Canton, S. D. Mrs. Folsom will be remembered as Miss Wynelle Stough.

Sgt. and Mrs. Harold Walker of Biloxi, Miss., and Keesler Air Base, Miss., spent last week end here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hines and daughter of Montgomery, Ala., were here last week end to visit their father, Dr. C. N. Parnell. While here they helped to celebrate Dr. Parnell's 89th birthday.

Mr. B. O. Glover and Mrs. Bobbie Saportas have recently had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Grady Jones and two sons of Clanton.

Good news to every one at Maplesville and surrounding communities is that Dr. Ed Day's condition continues to improve, and we hope he will soon be able to return home from the hospital, for we never realized how much we would miss him or how much we appreciated his faithful service until since he has been away. There is plenty of practice for two doctors at Maplesville and doctors are badly needed here.

Mrs. Claud Averett is under the care of a physician at the Vaughn Memorial Hospital in Selma, Ala. Her many friends wish for her a speedy recovery.

Little Vic Kelley of Birmingham is spending a few days here with his grandmother, Mrs. W. W. Kelley.

Miss Jane Shanks is teaching at Maplesville School in place of Mrs. Bee Barnes, while Mrs. Barnes is recuperating from a recent operation.

Mrs. Ernest Hamrick, Jr., and daughter of Saginaw, Ala., are here for a few days visit with her mother, Mrs. Julius Smith.

The many friends of Mrs. Paul Davenport will regret to learn that she has been quite ill in a Birmingham hospital.

Pfc. Clarence Stone, stationed at Ft. Knox, Tenn., son of Mrs. Myrtle Stone, spent last Friday night here with Mrs. Ruth Hubbard. He also visited relatives in Shoults Community. After his leave he expects to be sent to Korea.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Sims, daughter, Carrie Jean, and granddaughter, Beatrice Smitherman, attended funeral services of their nephew, Mr. Grover Chandler, at Pilgrim's Rest Church Sunday, August 27th.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Harris and three children who moved here a few months ago from Selma, Ala., have moved back to Selma due to a change of his position.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Littlejohn and two sons of Calera, Ala., spent last Friday night here with their mother, Mrs. Daisy Littlejohn. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Woodfin Littlejohn of Tuscaloosa, Ala., visited their mother. While here they motored to Lawley, Ala., to see Mr. and Mrs. Howard Littlejohn.

One day last week Mr. and Mrs. Carson Snead, their daughter, Mrs. Edna Earl Young and three children, Bonnie, Pat and Danny, of Columbus, Miss., and Mrs. Sam Shoults of Shoults Community visited relatives here. Mr. Snead has purchased a home at Centreville, Ala., and will move there after selling his home in Columbus. He will retire from his work with the G. M. & O. Railroad Company.

Mrs. Claud Averett, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Iacons, Mrs. Eva Thompson and grandson were in Selma last Saturday to see Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Averett.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Rodgers and two daughters, Linda and Ann, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hathcock visited with relatives in Brent, Ala., last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gandy (Polly Glass) of Birmingham visited relatives here last week en route to Florida for a few days vacation. Mrs. Gandy's father, Mr. Ben Glass, accompanied them on their vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Sims entertained at their home last Thursday night, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Jim Chandler of Tampa, Fla., with a chicken dinner. Enjoying this hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sims of Prattville, Ala., and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hathcock of Maplesville.

Mr. Roy Higginbotham of Birmingham, who has been here for some time assisting his brother, Mr. Harry Higginbotham, with the dairy, has gone to Birmingham for a few days.

Taxi Cab Service Changed Hands—

Mr. Charlie Kinipe, who has had the Taxi Service here for some time, has sold to Mr. Noah Latham. Mr. Latham's younger brother, Mr. Woodrow Latham, of Birmingham, arrived here Sunday to have charge of the cabs. Mr. Kinipe has given the public efficient service and he will be greatly missed. He plans to visit his old home in Georgia for a few weeks. We wish him much happiness. And to Mr. Latham, we wish him success.

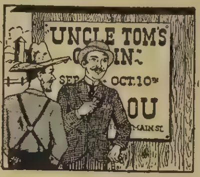
NOT SO HOT, MAYOR. I'M NOT MAKING MUCH MONEY.
I THOUGHT YOU WERE GETTING PRETTY LARGE CROWDS.
IN THE EVENINGS, YES, BUT NOBODY COMES TO THE MATINEES!

"I REMEMBER"

BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Aunt Matilda of Chicago: "I remember when advertisers would seek your permission to post a bill about a forth-coming attraction on the road-side of your barn and in return for the privilege would give you a couple of tickets to the event."



From Minnie D. Cox of Ephrata, Pa. to Mrs. Mary Stewart: "Speaking of old-time songs, I remember the words to 'She Lied to Me.' Do you? They expressed the honest convictions of a married man of 50 years ago."

From Mrs. N. L. Burkhart of Berryville, Ark.: "Speaking of old-time songs, here are some I remember: 'I'll Be All Smiles Tonight,' 'The Saucy Little Bird on Nellie's Hat,' 'I'm the Bully of the Town,' 'My Sweetheart's the Man in the Moon,' 'Daisies Won't Tell,' 'Rip Van Winkle,' 'Sweet Bunch of Daisies,' 'Sweet Cider Time,' 'When the Sands of the Desert Grow Cold,' 'Steamboat Bill' and 'The Gypsies' Warning'."

From Helen Rodemyer of Chicago: "I remember the great big Christmas trees of yester-year, all lit up with real burning candles and the men folk standing around with big sponges on sticks to put out candles burning too low to prevent a fire. How carefree we children were then! One toy, a bit of candy and an apple, and we thought we were rich—a far cry from the current cry for more, 'more from children of today."

Leftover pancake batter should be kept and used for coating chops, cutlets, and other foods which are to be fried in deep fat. Or it it may be thinned with a little milk and used for French toast.

LEGAL NOTICE

State of Alabama, Complainant, vs. One 1948 Stylemaster Chevrolet Club Coupe, Motor No. FAM-65946, Respondent — in the Chilton County Law and Equity Court, in Equity.

The Bill of Complaint of the State of Alabama, on the relation of A. B. Foshee, County Solicitor of Chilton County, Alabama, against one 1948 Chevrolet Club Coupe, Motor No. FAM-65946, being exhibited to me, and it appearing therefrom that on the 17th day of August, 1950, one Johnnie Blankenship did transport in said automobile, certain prohibited liquors or beverages from one point to another in the State of Alabama, and that said automobile was, on the said date seized by a Police Officer of the City of Clanton, Alabama, and said Bill of Complaint prays that said automobile be declared condemned and forfeited to the State of Alabama, and for an Order of Condemnation and sale thereof.

It is therefore Ordered, Adjudged and Decreed that notice of the filing of said Bill of Complaint be given for three successive weeks in the Chilton County News, a newspaper published in the Town of Clanton, Alabama, and that all persons claiming or asserting any right, title, or interest in said automobile be required to appear and assert such claim by the 15th day of September, 1950, and that failure to do so, their said right, title or interest will be forever barred.

Ordered and Decreed, this the 24th day of August, 1950.

VICTOR J. HEARD,
35-3tc Judge.

PROVIDENCE (BEAT 13)

Miss Betty Joyce Cates was the Sunday guest of Miss Phillis Harrell.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffie Satterwhite had as their Sunday guests their sons, J. C. and Roy, and families.

We are sorry that Mrs. W. G. Shaw is on our sick list. We wish her a speedy recovery.

We are glad that Cecil Gothard is able to be up and back at church.

Don't forget our Twlight Singing the third Sunday night in September. We hope to hake this one of our best singings yet. All singers and lovers of music have a special invitation.—Reporter.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

WHEREAS, on the 22nd day of March, 1943, Vivian Jones Klinner and husband, W. H. Klinner, did execute and deliver to C. H. Pipes a mortgage upon the hereinafter described real estate located in Chilton County, Alabama, said mortgage being in the sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) and being evidenced by one promissory waive note of even date and amount and said mortgage recorded in the Office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama, in mortgage record 314, page 41; and Whereas, default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness secured by said mortgage, and said default continuing, and said mortgage being subject to foreclosure;

Notice is therefore given that the undersigned mortgagee, C. H. Pipes, will sell the property described in said mortgage in front of the courthouse door on Second Avenue North in the City of Clanton, Chilton County, Alabama, at public outcry to the highest and best bidder for cash, during the legal hours of sale on Monday, September 25, 1950, said property being discribed as follows, to-wit:

A lot or parcel of land situated on the West side of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad in the City of Clanton, Chilton County, Alabama, more particularly described as follows: Commencing at the point of intersection of the North side of 5th Ave. North and the East side of 10th Street in the City of Clanton, Alabama, thence in a Northerly direction and along the East side of said 10th Street a distance of 125 feet to the South boundary line of the George E. Jester land line, thence in an Easterly direction along said Jester land line 119 feet, thence in a Southerly direction and parallel with 10th Street, 125 feet to said 5th Ave. North, thence in a Westerly direction along the north side of said 5th Ave. North 119 feet to the point of beginning according to the P. D. Wilson Addition to the City of Clanton, Alabama, and being the house and lot known as the C. H. Pipes Home Place in the City of Clanton, Alabama, and being further described as being that certain property heretofore conveyed by E. B. Deason and Alice S. Deason to T. L. Neighbors on the 9th day of October, 1918, and recorded in Record of Deed, Vol. 164, at page 79, in the office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama, less and except that certain portion sold by T. H. Neighbors to Maude E. Diefenderfer on January 7, 1928, as shown by deed in Vol. 216, page 551, in Office of Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama warranted free from all encumbrance and against any adverse claims.

The proceeds of said sale will be applied as provided in said mortgage; first, to the cost and expenses of making this sale, including a reasonable attorney's fee; second, the payment of the indebtedness secured by said mortgage, as well as any other debts that may have been incurred under the provisions of said mortgage; and third, the balance, if any, to be paid to the mortgagor.

This 18th day of August, 1950.

COAT-OF-ARMS

No other state in the Union has a more historical coat-of-arms than Alabama. Hon. James Simpson first introduced a Bill to legalize a state coat-of-arms. On the shield of the coat-of-arms appears the emblems of five governments that held sovereignty over Alabama. This shield is supported on either side by eagles, symbolic of courage. The crest is a ship like the ones used by the first white settlers. The motto beneath the crest reads: "We dare defend our Rights." The motto was selected by Mrs. Marie Bankhead Owen.

Miss Ammer Easterling spent Sunday with Misses Barbara Ann and Essie Mae Jones.

LEGAL NOTICE

State of Alabama, Complainant, vs. One 1946 Mercury, Motor No. 99A1220003, Respondent; in the Chilton County Law and Equity Court—in Equity. Case No. 127.

The Bill of Complaint of the State of Alabama, on the relation of A. B. Foshee, County Solicitor of Chilton County, Alabama, against one 1946 Mercury, Motor No. 99A1220003, being exhibited to me, and it appearing therefrom that on the 25th day of August, 1950, one Grover Jones did transport in said automobile, certain prohibited liquors or beverages from one point to another in the State of Alabama, and that said automobile was, on the said date seized by Police Officers of the City of Clanton, Alabama, and said Bill of Complaint prays that said automobile be declared condemned and forfeited to the State of Alabama, and for an Order of Condemnation and sale thereof.

It is therefore Ordered, Adjudged and Decreed that notice of the filing of said Bill of Complaint be given for three successive weeks in the Chilton County News, a newspaper published in the Town of Clanton, Alabama, and that all persons claiming or asserting any right, title, or interest in said automobile be required to appear and assert such claim by the 25 day of September, 1950, and that failure to do so, their said right, title or interest will be forever barred.

Ordered and Decreed, this the 31 day of August, 1950.

A Medal for Granny!

Have a hero story for you today. Or rather, it's a heroine story—with a little 65-year-old lady taking the bows.

Five-year-old Buzzy Henderson wanted to go fishing with his dad and brother. That same brother (aged 9) said "You sit on the bank with Grandma. Fishing's for men!" Buzzy watched both of them pull away from the dock—got so mad he lost his footing . . .

Granny Henderson heard the splash. Jumped in, and a minute later she and Buzzy were safe on shore. Then she remembered she'd never learned to swim! "Swimmer or not," Granny says, "I had to do the job myself—so I did it!"

From where I sit, "do-it-yourself" is a fine American trait. For example: the Self-Regulation Program sponsored by the Brewing Industry. Under this voluntary program, retailers selling beer cooperate by keeping their places of business clean, bright, and orderly. They know they can do this job best themselves—so they do it!

SUCCESSFUL PARENTHOOD

By Mrs. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

IN PROTECTING a child from accidents, no matter how carefully you watch over him, you can't take the whole responsibility for his safety. The child must be taught respect for dangerous objects and places so he can exercise caution. Sharing this responsibility not only insures greater safety for him, but the child is less likely to grow up with unreasonable fears. He understands the real dangers and has more freedom of action within safe boundaries.

One mother wrote recently that she had made the mistake of telling her child repeatedly, "You must never go across the street." He became so afraid of crossing streets that he refused later on to walk to school alone. With their second child these parents are following a different course. Instead of presenting crossing a street as something fearful like entering a bear's den or a lion's cage (something you don't do even when you're grown up) they explain, "You are too little now to cross the street alone, but you may do so when you are five years old."

In the meantime, there is plenty of drill in crossing streets safely—letting the child "help" mother cross the street by looking out for cars and waiting for the green light.

Here are some of the common dangers of childhood and suggestions on how other parents have taught their children to look out for them:

Turning on the gas jets is one of the first serious dangers a toddler runs into. Until he is old enough to understand what you tell him, you will simply have to keep him away from the stove, with a stern "No, no," every time he tries to grab the knobs.

When he can understand that the knobs are turned only when you put something on to cook, try giving him a saucepan of water and then let him turn on the gas while you explain that the flame will be left on long enough to make the water hot. When the water boils, let the child turn off the gas. A few lessons such as this will convince him that turning on the gas is serious, practical business and not play.

A similar procedure usually succeeds in satisfying a child's interest in lighting matches, though there are some children so obsessed with curiosity about fire that only constant vigilance and keeping matches out of their way will see them safely through this phase. Watching his father light his pipe and blowing out the match is enough for most children at first. Later on, when striking the match himself is the big thrill, let him light the oven for you or the logs in the fireplace.

But always point out the dangers of fire—it is part of a child's safety education to be well aware of risks and dangers.

In this day of houses all on the ground floor, teaching a child to stay away from open windows may not seem so important. But you never know when he may visit someone who lives on a second or third floor.

Living on the fifth floor as I do, I am frequently terrified when friends' children seem totally unaware of the danger involved in hanging over the window sill. So wherever you live, teach your child caution in regard to open windows.

ISABELLA

There was a large crowd for Sunday School at Mulberry Sunday,

Next Sunday is regular preaching days at Mulberry and Isabella. We are looking for a large attendance at both churches.

Isabella's baseball team will play Lomax next Saturday afternoon. On account of rain last Saturday afternoon the game was not finished. The score was a tie.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Jones spent the day Sunday at a family reunion in Bibb County.

Mrs. Elrie Calfee and boys are visiting Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Calfee. Mr. Calfee is in school in California at present.

Miss Truman Stuckey is back here teaching music at Isabella and Thorsby again this year.

Mr. and Mrs. John Roper visited the former's mother, Mrs. Dessie Roper, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jones of Birmingham were week end guests of their parents here.

The Tuckers attended a family reunion in Shelby County last Monday.

SET CABBAGE PLANTS IN THE FALL GARDEN

Auburn, Ala. — A leafy vegetable that is among the best, raw or cooked, is cabbage.

"For salads," says J. C. Ford, A.P.I. Extension Service garden specialist, "the Chinese cabbage has a delightful and mild flavor. It is also good for cooking, and the head is long and slender."

Ford finds that most people grow Charleston Wakefield. However, Copenhagen Market is also popular but the heads are somewhat less cold resistant than Charleston.

All of these varieties set in early September should make good heads before Christmas if they are kept growing rapidly. They may need water when the weather is dry. Also, cabbage is subject to many pests. The cabbage worm works during warm days most of the winter. Fortunately the Auburn-approved, general purpose garden dust will control all these pests, but the harlequin or calico bug is killed more quickly by dusting with sabadilla dust.

TURNIPS

Turnips, especially the Purple Top Globe and Seven Top varieties, produce two choice foods, roots and greens. Purple Top is the best for roots, and Seven Top is the best for greens, producing no edible roots.

PINE SEEDLINGS

Alabama farmers are in for a disappointment this winter if they wait until planting season to order their pine seedlings. Any farmer who receives 10,000 seedlings or less at the present time will be sure of receiving his order.

MIMS REUNION

A wonderful time was reported by the Mims family and their friends Sunday, September 3rd, at the home of Mr. Charlie Mims of the Pleasant Grove Community.

A touching prayer was offered by Mr. Mims and then a bountiful dinner was shared and enjoyed by the following:

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Mims and family, Mr. and Msr. E. A. Mims and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Mims and family. Mr. John Mims of Montgomery and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Moore of Sylacauga.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mims of Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Williams and family of Prattville, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Patterson of Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Houston Mims, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilkins, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Devaughn and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Buckner, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gore, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Luker of Talladega, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Benson and family, Miss Katie Henley, Mrs. Mary Henley, Mrs. Ollie Barrett and family, Mrs. Melvin Devaughn and Mrs. Jack Gardner of Birmingham, Mrs. Howard Thomas and children of Bessemer, Donald Graham, Durwood Lockhart, Alice Ellison and Margie Nell Taylor.

May God bless and keep us all until we meet again.—Mrs. J. L. Devaughn.

LEASE (COPY)

AGREEMENT OR LEASE Between Robert P. Stapp & Co., Inc., a corporation under the laws of the State of Alabama (which is herein referred to as "lessor'), and Chilton County, a subdivision of the State of Alabama (which is herein referred to as "lessee"),

WHEREAS, the lessee has heretofore executed an order on the 18th day of August, 1950, for the personal property herein described, and it is the desire of the parties to enter into this agreement respecting the use of said property;

NOW, THEREFORE, This agreement witnesseth: In consideration of the monthly payments to be made to lessor by lessee and the other agreements on the part of the lessee hereinafter set out, lessor hereby does lease to lessee, and in consideration of such lease lessee does hereby rent from lessor, the following described personal property:

1—Machinery Trailer, Model No. 420 - F. L. - T 152, Serial No. T-152 upon the following conditions:

(1) The term covered by this agreement shall embrace the period beginning on the 15th day of September, 1950, and ending on the 15th day of August, 1951.

(2) Lessee agrees to pay to lessor at its office in the City of Birmingham, Alabama, as rent for use of said property, the following sums on the following dates:

$343.39	on	9-15-50	$343.30	on	1-15-51
343.30	on	10-15-50	343.30	on	2-15-51
343.30	on	11-15-50	343.30	on	3-15-51
343.30	on	12-15-50	343.30	on	4-15-51

$343.30 on 5-15-51
343.30 on 6-15-51
343.30 on 7-15-51
343.30 on 8-15-51

(3) Said rental payments shall be made solely from the proceeds receivable by lessee from the tax levied by the State of Alabama on the Sale, distribution and withdrawal from storage of gasoline and other motor fuels and distributed to the county pursuant to the laws of Alabama and any substitute therefor and any tax levied in lieu thereof (which is herein referred to as "said State Tax"). Nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to make this agreement or the said payments general obligations of lessee but said payment shall be made solely out of said proceeds from state tax. As security for payment of said rental installments, lessee agrees to appropriate, pledge and segregate a sufficient portion of all proceeds which may be hereafter received by lessee from said state tax and any substitute therefor and any tax levied in lieu thereof, and to cause to be set apart and used exclusively for the payment of said rental installments the amount so appropriated and/pledged.

(4) Lessee acknowledges that it has received the said property in good order and condition and agrees that upon the termination of this agreement (in the event the option hereinafter referred to shall not have been exercised), whether by expiration of the term covered hereby or by exercise of any of the options of lessor following default hereunder by lessee, lessee will return the said property to lessor at Birmingham, Alabama, in like good order and condition as at the beginning of the term covered hereby, ordinary use, wear and tear thereof excepted.

(5) Lessee agrees to take reasonable and proper care of the said property and to make, at its expense, all necessary repairs and replacements thereof. So long as lessee shall not be in default under this lease it shall have the right to make any reasonable and lawful use of said property.

(6) In the event lessee should default in the payment of any of the installments of rent herein agreed to be paid by it or in any of the other agreements herein on its part contained, lessor shall have the option of terminating this lease by giving to lessee ten (10) days' notice of its election to terminate the same, whereupon this lease shall thereupon terminate and lessor shall be entitled to the immediate possession of said property.

(7) Lessor hereby grants to lessee an option to purchase the said property in its then condition at any time during the term covered by this lease, or within thirty (30) days thereafter, for the purchase price of Four Thousand One Hundred Nineteen & 69-100 Dollars. In the event the said option is exercised by lessee, the said purchase price shall be reduced by the amount of rents theretofore paid hereunder.

(8) Lessor shall not in any case or under any circumstances be liable for any loss, damage, injury or death to any person or property arising from or in any manner connected with the condition of or the use or operation of said property. Lessee specifically waives all claim for any such loss, damage, injury or death.

As Clerk of the Court of County Commissioners of Chilton County, Alabama.

4. Commissioner Harrell offered the following resolution for adoption; which was duly seconded by Commissioner Freeman:

COUNTY OF CHILTON
STATE OF ALABAMA

WHEREAS, the Court of County Commissioners of Chilton County, Alabama, is desirous of constructing or improving by County Forces, under the provisions of the "Farm to Market Road Act of 1943," a section of road included in the Chilton County Road System, approved by the Alabama Highway Director under date of March 7, 1945, and described as follows:

The section proposed for construction is 1.8 miles in length, beginning at Isabella School and extending southeast to Alabama Highway No. 22 at E. C. Lecroy's Store. This Section being on FAS Route 229.

WHEREAS, the County agrees to conform to all provisions of the said "Farm to Market Road Act of 1943, and to Section 14 of said Act in particular, which provides that "the County shall make provisions for the maintenance of such road thereafter in accordance with standards established by the bureau of County aid and enter into contract with the State therefor," with the full understanding that failure on the part of the County to satisfactorily maintain any section of road that may be constructed in this County under the provisions of said Act, shall be sufficient cause for the suspension of any further benefits to this County from the operation of such Act until such roads or sections thereof, shall be again placed in a state of maintenance satisfactory to the State Highway Department.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that application be made to the Bureau of County Aid, of the Alabama State Highway Department, to investigate the proposed improvement and if it be found to conform to the eligibility requirements of the "Farm to Market Road Act of 1943," that the Provisions of said Act be invoked to accomplish the said improvement at the earliest practicable date.

Done at the Special Session of the Commissioner's Court of Chilton County this the 18th day of August, 1950.

The above stated resolution was adopted by a unanimous vote.

ORCHARDS OFTEN NEED LEGUME COVER CROPS

Auburn, Ala. — Most orchards are clean cultivated throughout the summer to prevent moisture competition between trees and plants.

"This practice," warns John Bagby, A.P.I. Extension Service horticulturist, "has a tendency to burn out the valuable organic matter in the soil. A winter legume will help replace this organic matter and add nitrogen to the soil at the same time."

The specialist adds that crimson clover, bur clover, and vetch have given good results. These cover crops should be planted early so they can be turned under by April 15 in the southern part of the state and 10 days to two weeks later in North Alabama. If this method produces too much tree growth, it may be necessary to cut down on the amount of commercial nitrogen applied. And, for the same reason, it may be advisable to use a non-legume cover crop every three or four years.

FAMILY REUNION

The annual reunion for the Cobb and Martin families will be held next Sunday, September 10th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cobb, two miles north of Jemison. All relatives of both families have an invitation.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Alred and sons from Montgomery visited relatives in Clanton and Mitchell Dam Labor Day.

Natural Gas-

tinue the use of natural gas, provided all your bills for gas have been paid. Upon this promise alone to use gas, a sufficient amount of money will be loaned to Clanton at a low rate of interest to install the gas system and work will begin at once.

The gas system only will be held as security for the return of the money, and none of your property at all will be liable for the debt or will be involved in any way. When the money borrowed is returned, Clanton will own the gas system and will be proud of it. The price of gas we have set for the present can be lowered or increased when necessary by us or by any future Mayor and Council you may elect to administer the affairs of the City. However, the rate charged for gas must be sufficient to pay interest on the money borrowed, return a portion of the principal each year, and pay operating expenses, which Clanton people would have to do no matter who owned the gas system.

For cooking alone for an average sized family, approximately 1166 Cubic Feet of gas per month will be used. This amount of gas will result in a bill of $2.30 per month. An automatic hot water heater alone will use approximately 1166 Cubic Feet of gas per month which will result in a bill of $2.30 per month. For a customer who will have both appliances, hot water heater and stove, the bill per month would be $3.84. This is a saving of $0.76 per month over what the bill would be by adding the individual bills of $2.30 and $2.30 per month. For a customer having an average, five-room house who heats with gas, cooks with gas and has an automatic hot water heater, he will use an average of 8056 Cubic Feet of gas per month at a cost of about $8.75 per month. Under this combined usage, the cost of heating during the total season would be approximately $55.00. For a customer with an average five-room house, his bill for heating for the entire season would be approximately $71.00 per season if gas were used for no other purpose, but cheaper if gas used for cooking and hot water heating. These are the domestic rates agreed upon for the present and they are in line with the price other cities are charging, and we think are as low as practical at this time.

This letter to you would be too long if we explained in detail every phase of the entire gas system. We have worked faithfully for many months to secure gas for Clanton and we are happy over our success thus far. As stated above, we cannot proceed further until you have approved what we have done and until you agree to use the natural gas. Therefore, it is entirely in your hands whether Clanton has a natural gas system or not.

In a few days, someone appointed by us will call on you to sign an agreement to use the natural gas and to receive your $5..00 deposit. In the meantime, if you care to, you may call at the City Hall and sign the agreement to use the gas and pay to Mrs. Wingard the $5.00 deposit.

We hope you will not delay in signing for the gas system. We believe Clanton has everything to gain and nothing to lose.

Respectfully,
C. FENN JONES, Mayor.
C. O. JONES, R. C. WILLIAMS, M. J. BATES, JAMES Q. WADE, JOHN DERAMUS, Councilmen.

County Oil Men Attend Convention

A large group of oil men from this county will attend the two-day annual convention of Alabama Oil Men in Montgomery on September 17-18, when problems and trends of the petroleum industry will be discussed, Mr. R. C. Williams, chairman of the Chilton County Petroleum Industries Committee, said today.

Alabama petroleum industry leaders will study legislative questions at the initial meeting on Sunday afternoon, September 17. L. S. Williams of Birmingham will outline "The Legislative Outlook for 1951" at that time.

Feature speakers at the Monday session will be Warren Whitney, Birmingham, Ala., vice-president of James B. Clow and Sons and General Manager of the National Cast Iron Pipe Division, and Charles Guzzo, New Orleans, La., division general manager of the Gulf Refining Co. and a veteran oil man with 34 years experience in the petroleum industry.

Whitney's topic will be "Four of a Kind." Guzzo will discuss the "Oil Industry on the Scene Today."

Other speakers will be Tom Jones, Montgomery, Ala., Pan-Am Southern Corp., who will discuss "Legislative Problems" and Jim McCrory, Birmingham, Ala., chairman of the Alabama Petroleum Industries Committee, who will report on "P. I. C. Activities." McCrory also will preside at the meeting.

Registration will be held in the lobby of the Whitley Hotel at 9:00 a.m. The oil men will be welcomed to Montgomery by Capitol City's Mayor John L. Goodwyn.

Climax of the sessions will be a fellowship dinner and floor show featuring singers, comedians and dancers.

About 500 Alabama oil men are expected to attend the convention. Jim Britton, Montgomery, executive secretary of the Alabama Petroleum Industries Committee, is in charge of arrangements and the convention program.

MASONIC MEETING

Clanton Lodge No. 428 A.F. & A.M. will hold a special communication next Friday night, September 8, 1950, at 7:30 p.m. Work in M.M. Degree.

All members urged to be present and visiting brethren are welcome.—A. H. Meacham, W.M.

THIS WEEK IN Washington

THE NEW SOCIAL SECURITY BILL which has finally been passed by the congress will cover approximately 1,700,000 agricultural workers not heretofore covered by the social security act. These are broken down into 850,000 agricultural workers, 200,000 which have borderline agricultural employment and 650,000 regularly employed on farms.

In all about 10,000,000 additional persons are covered by the act and benefits to the insured are boosted from 70 to 100 per cent under the expanded bill. The house finally approved the compromise bill by a vote of 374 to 1, the lone dissenter being Congressman John W. Byrnes, Republican of Wisconsin.

• • •

The senate is still debating the defense production bill following a letter by President Truman to Vice-President Alben Barkley saying that the house version is emasculated to make administration difficult. Approximately two months after the invasion of Korea by the North Korean Communists, the congress has failed to agree on any single emergency measure including controls, any military appropriation, taxes, or even the regular appropriations bill carrying the budgeted military appropriation for the defense establishment for the fiscal year.

The congress was planning its program to adjourn by Labor day, although observers here insisted that it would be September 15 before the program could get through, and then likely it will only recess to be called back either by the vice-president or the speaker.

• • •

As a result of Republican criticism of military appropriations and the administration foreign policy in Korea and the Far East, Sen. Millard Tydings, chairman of the senate armed services committee, gave the senate a breakdown on the 48-billion-dollars appropriated for defense beginning July 1, 1946, through fiscal 1950 as follows: $19,860,000-000 for pay, food and clothing and similar items for the armed services; $12,780,000,000 for maintenance and operation of equipment, such as aircraft, battleships, submarines etc; $8,530,000,000 for major procurement of new weapons such as planes, ships, arms, etc; $2,250,000,000 for research and development; $1,860,000,000 for the national guard and reserves; $1,390,000,000 for administration and classified projects; $780,000,000 for retired pay of officers and men; $490,000,000 for military public works and $390,000,000 for mobilization.

Senator Tydings said this country had sent almost half a billion dollars to Korea in military and economic aid since the end of World War II up to the outbreak of the Korean war. He broke down this aid as $141,000,000 in surplus military equipment; $301,000,000 in army government relief; $53,700,000 in ECA shipments. Senator Tydings' breakdown was in answer to the charge by Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R., Wis.)) that only $200 in signal wire had gone to South Korea in that time.

• • •

Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D.-New York) told a senate sub-committee that 65 per cent of oleo manufactured in the U.S. was produced by seven firms and there was danger that Lever Bros. "will eventually exercise a monopoly." Charles W. Holman, secretary of the national milk producers federation, told the group there is a "dog eat dog" fight among oleo manufacturers and after the fight is concluded the companies left in control would increase prices.

• • •

Indications are that if the senate passes the house bill to force Postmaster General Donaldson to return to a twice-a-day mail service in residential areas, the President will veto the bill. There was an excellent chance the bill might die in a senate pigeonhole.

A 10,000-word report has been filed by the senate's special crime investigating committee by its chairman Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee. It says organized criminals not only have a strong grip on gambling and related illegal activities but also are moving fast into legitimate business fields.

80 Caught In Draft From Chilton County

The Selective Service System will call more than fifty percent more men in November than in October, according to a release from headquarters today.

Chilton County will be asked to furnish 80 men in this call.

AID TO WAR VETERANS EXPECTED TO OCCUPY AUXILIARY EFFORTS

Aid to war veterans and their families will occupy much of the efforts of the American Legion Auxiliary during the coming year, Mrs. E. J. Morris, rehabilitation chairman of Chilton County Unit No. 6, stated today, as enrollment of the Auxiliary membership strength for 1951 went forward.

The Auxiliary is seeking increased enrollment to help meet increasing needs among veterans and to combat movements to reduce the benefits available to veterans, widows and orphans, Mrs. Morris said. She urged all eligible women to give their support to this work by enrolling in the Auxiliary.

"Each year as veterans grow older, more and more of them become disabled from results of war time wounds, exposure and illnesses," explained Mrs. Morris. Disabilities which could be carried in the strength of youth often become more serious with advancing age, and then it is frequently too late to prove that the disabilities resulted from war service. The Legion and Auxiliary believe that all veterans should have the protection of the government they defended and we are fighting to maintain hospitalization and adequate compensation for the disabled.

"The Auxiliary also gives direct help to veterans and their families found in need. Our own Unit here in Chilton County was helped a number of such families in the past year, and we must be prepared to expand this work if employment conditions bring hardships to veterans. We hope to have the largest membership in Auxiliary history during the coming year, so our strength will be equal to our responsibilities toward our men and women who defended our country, and those who are fighting every day to maintain our free America."

F.F.A. Chapter Elects Officers

Jemison Chapter F.F.A. held their first regular meeting Friday night.

The meeting was held to elect a new secretary, due to the fact that the one elected last Spring resigned, because he was unable to carry projects.

Billie Cox was elected secretary. The officers for the coming year are as follows: Kent Lowery, president; Jack Miller, vice-president; Kyle Brown, treasurer; Billie Cox, secretary; Billy Gilmore, reporter; Wallace Ellison, sentinel.

At this meeting we also initiated the following Green Horns: Harold Dean Bean, Bill Brown, Jerry Conway, Horace Crowson, Jimmie Gilmore, Cecil Gothard, Eugene Guy, Orville Littleton, Eugene Martin, Hoyt Martin, James Martin, Stanley Martin, Charles Matthews, Billy Miller, Billy Miskelley, Durward Plier, Gene Partridge, Ronnie Shaw, Billie Smith, La Don Thrash, J. W. Trammell, Paul Varden, Marcell Wagner, Danny Bean, Jimmie Davis, Robert Hilyer, James Maddox, Charles Williams and Don Price.

We, with the help of our vocational teacher, Mr. L. C. Shields, expect to have our best year in FFA work.—Billy Gilmore, Reporter.

THREE CHILTON MEN ENLISTS

During the past week Chilton County contributed three young men to the Armed Forces.

Claudie A. Warren of Thorsby, Ala., enlisted in the Regular Army Unassigned; Cleveland E. Traywick of Clanton chose the Coast Artillery Corps; and Rasmond C. Sammons, Thorsby, was sworn in the U. S. Air Force.

Recruits Warren and Traywick are former members of the Alabama National Guard; Sgt. Sammons has previous service in the Air Force.

These servicemen will undergo a short period of basic training before entering specialized work.

They were accepted for enlistment at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station in Clanton, Ala.

NOTICE

The Office of the Chilton County Service Officer, State Department of Veterans' Affairs, will remain open all day Wednesday, but will be closed all day each Saturday.— C. E. Stapp, Service Officer.

DANCE SPONSORED BY THE AMERICAN LEGION AND AUXILIARY

To further the efforts of the American Legion Post No. 6 in raising funds for construction of a Legion Home on ground already purchased, the Post and Auxiliary are combining their efforts to hold a public dance on the evening of September 23rd, 8:00 p.m., to 11:30 p.m., at the Chilton County High School Gym.

The committee is endeavoring to secure good music for this gala occasion.

A nominal charge of $1.50 per couple. Tickets will be available at the door.

In keeping with the fine traditions of the American Legion and its component unit, this dance promises to be one of the finest types of recreation of this community.

Bible Lecture At Courthouse Sunday Afternoon

The People of Clanton and vicinity are cordially invited to hear an address by a visiting representative of the Watchtower Society. This Society carries on missionary work in over one hundred and six different lands. The purpose is to stimulate interest in Bible search, thus thousands of home Bible studies are carried on regularly among people of good-will. The subject for Sunday's lecture will be "True Riches—How Obtained?" It will be given at the Clanton, Ala., courthouse on Sunday, September 17th, at 2:00 p.m. The speaker will be Mr. E. P. Adams.

Admission is free and no collections taken.

D.A.V. To Meet Sunday, September 17

Chilton County Chapter No. 33, Disabled American Veterans, will be host to the State Executive Committee, Disabled American Veterans Sunday, September 17th.

The State Department Commander, Roscoe, E. Nix, Russellville, Ala., will preside over the meeting and Chapter Commander, E. A. (Red) Fulmar, Commander, Chilton County Chapter No. 33, urges all disabled veterans in this area to be present at an open meeting of all disabled veterans in this area. The meeting will be held at the County Courthouse beginning at 2:30 p.m., and the guest speaker will be Mr. Glen Curlee, former Adjudicator, Veterans Administration, Regional Office, Montgomery, Ala.

Commander Nix has just returned from San Francisco, where he attended the National Convention of the Disabled American Veterans, and he has a treat in store for all disabled veterans regarding legislation and claims. —E. A. Fulmer, Commander; Robert L. Fullen, Adjutant Chilton County Chapter No. 33.

Pension Meeting September 23

There will be an Old Age Pension meeting at the courthouse in Clanton, Saturday, September 23, 1950, at ten o'clock a.m. All who are interested in Old Age Pensions or assistance are urged to be present, also all who are not interested should come and find out why you should be interested. When we old people show that we are interested, others will be interested for us. Come and hear the good talks on the subject.—T. W. Bryan.

O.E.S. Meeting

The Clanton Chaper 271 O.E.S. will hold its regular meeting Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

RED CROSS TO MEET

The annual meeting of the Chilton County Chapter of the American Red Cross will be held Tuesday night, September 19th, at 7:30 p.m., at the City Hall in Clanton. The public is invited to attend. — Hughey Carroll, Chairman.

Heflin Named Peoples Savings Bank President

Succeeds F. J. Callen Who Died On September 1st

H. G. Heflin, for 31 years a member of the bank personnel, was named President of Peoples Savings Bank last week to succeed F. J. Callen who died September 1st.

Mr. Heflin came to Peoples Savings Bank July 1, 1919, from Moulton, Ala., where he was born and reared. He has remained with the bank since that time.

Two other long-time employees of the bank also received promotions by the Board of Directors at their last meeting. They were W. L. Smith, who was named Cashier, to succeed Mr. Heflin, and Miss Flora Harris promoted to Assistant Cashier.

Mr. Heflin has been identified with all civic moves promoting the growth of Clanton, having served for more than 20 years as a member of the Clanton City Council, as well as holding membership on various committees advocating better living conditions in the community.

The News wishes him well in his new position.

GRADY HEFLIN

CLANTON BASEBALL

Rain again, cancelled all games but one. Sunday in a very interesting game, Clanton nosed out Epps Jewelry Company of Birmingham in the eighth inning 6 to 4; Clint Jones delivering the blow that drove in two runs that untied the score. Robert McConnell pitching for Clanton, was especially effective in tight places. This game brought Clanton's standing to 27 won and 10 lost.

Schedule Coming—

Sunday, September 17th, at 3:00 p.m., in the City Park — Clanton vs. Belle Ellen. This is a rubber game, each now holding one win over the other this season.

Wednesday, September 20th, at 7:30 p.m., in the City Park — Clanton vs. Kilby. The Kilby team stood high the Montgomery Amateur League this year.

Baseball in the City Park every Sunday afternoon and Wednesday night in the Clanton City Park, terminating in the greatest sporting event in Chilton County's history. Wednesday night, October 11th, Clanton vs. Harry Walker's (St. Louis Cardinal) Major League All-stars.

Bus Drivers Will Report Law Violations

The Chilton County Board of Education wishes to remind the citizens of the county of two particular laws pertaining to school buses over the state. Both are very important regulations and each citizen should give them consideration.

One has to do with the purpose for which school buses are to be used. The Code of Alabama specifies that publicly owned buses using tags furnished by the state should be used exclusively for the transportation of pupils and teachers. An act of the Legislature in 1947 extended this to include any employee of the Board. This law is interpreted to mean that bus drivers are not to allow riders other than pupils, teachers, and lunchroom workers. The overcrowded condition of our buses makes such a regulation all the more important. Citizens of the county are requested by the Board to save themselves, the bus drivers, and the school officials embarrassment by observing the law and refrain from asking for a ride on a school bus. Drivers are instructed not to allow such riders and are disobeying the instructions of the Board as well as the state law when they do so.

The other law is the one that prohibits passing of school buses while they are loading and unloading. This applies to traffic approaching the bus from the front as well as from the rear. The purpose, as anyone can see, is to protect the lives of the children meeting and leaving the bus. These children often fail to think of their own safety and will dart right out in front of oncoming traffic. The law applies, regardless of which side of the road the house is on that the pupils are getting off for. School bus drivers have been asked to report malicious disregard for this law. The Board urges that all citizens cooperate in making our school transportation as safe as possible for our children.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Rasberry and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Rasberry and daughter, Peggy, spent Sunday in Auburn with Mr. and Mrs. Gene Taylor.

Old-Fashioned Square Dance And Barbecue

Post 206 American Legion at Thorsby will sponsor a Square Dance and Barbecue Saturday, September 23rd, at 8 o'clock.

For the kids who have never attended an old-fashioned square dance, the Legion is admitting children under 12 years of age free of charge when accompanied by an adult. Admission will be 50c per person.

Baseball Club Sponsors Supper

The Pletcher Junction Baseball Club will sponsor a sandwich supper, to be held Saturday night, September 16th, at Ousley's Place. A variety of sandwiches will be served. Everybody welcome.

NEGROES URGED TO HELP MAKE CHILTON COUNTY GREEN THIS WINTER

The Soil Conservation Program in Chilton County has not been supported by our every effort to help make Chilton County green during the winter. A continuous use of winter legumes is the main factor in profitable crop production. Let us cooperate wholeheartedly with the Soil Conservation program by leaving off all other work on Sepemtber 18, 1950, and go to the PMA Office where we can share in the making of a better grazing and soil building program in Chilton County this fall and winter.

Will you do your share in making Chilton County green this fall and winter? — B. T. Whittington, Vocational Agriculture Teacher.

Masonic Meeting

Dear Masonic Brethren:

The next session of the Chilton County Masonic Conference will be held with Thorsby Lodge No. 759, Thorsby, Ala., September 20th, 1950, at 9:30 a.m. Come. Tell all the brethren you see to come. Officers—Bill Higgins, W.M.; J. F. Gilliland, S.W.; Chas. Foshee, J. W.

R. L. DUFFEY, Con. Sec.

NOTICE!

The Office of the Chilton County Veterans' Service Officer, located upstairs over Upchurch Drug Company, will be closed Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week in order for the Service Officer to attend the State Conference of the State Department of Veterans' Affairs. — C. E. Stapp, Service Officer.

ALABAMA LEADER FEATURED IN LOOK MAGAZINE

Montgomery, Ala. — To the hundreds of Alabamians who know Loula Friend Dunn, it was no surprise to see her featured in a national magazine. Early this year Miss Dunn left her job as director of welfare in Alabama, and become president of the American Public Welfare Association, with headquarters in Chicago.

The magazine paid special tribute to her work when it said, "She developed for her state one of the best welfare programs in the U. S." Gov. James E. Folsom commented, "This is Miss Loula—Alabama's number one just another well-earned tribute to career woman."

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Roebuck of Macon, Ga., spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. C. W. Rasberry.

A LETTER TO THE EDITOR

In Chilton County Jail
September 9, 1950.

Mr. Ben Tucker,
Editor Chilton County News,
City

Dear Mr. Tucker:

If you will publish this in your paper for me next week I will certainly appreciate same.

I wish to thank you and your assistants, Sheriff Nivens and all deputies, also Mr. and Mrs. Motes the Jailor. Also my friends in Clanton and at home (Mountain Creek), for their kind and attentive treatment rendered me for the past week while I was confined in jail. Their service, also the food, were unapproachable.

I leave for Bryce's tomorrow on account of some misunderstanding. Will appreciate a copy of your newsy paper and a magazine or two, if anyone cares to spend a few cents for postage on unlucky me.

Thanks A Thousand Times,
W. C. HENDERSON,
Mt. Creek, Ala.

P.S.—Excuse Stationery.

HIGH SCHOOL P.-T.A. MET

The High School Parent-Teachers Association held their first meeting of the year in the high school gym on Tuesday night of this week.

The meeting was well attended and Mrs. Russell Williams, president, is to be commended on the progressive way the P.-T.A. has begun their year's work. All the committee chairmen and room mother representatives did a grand job with attendance memberships, magazines and hospitality. The speakers for the evening gave very interesting and informative talks.

The meeting as a whole was a most successful one and ALL parents are urged to join the P.-T.A. in their schools.

G.A.S. To Meet At Providence

The Providence G.A.'s will meet Friday night, September 15, at 7 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

Visitors and new members are welcome. Mrs. J. C. Horton is the Councilor.

MR. CLYDE MOATES

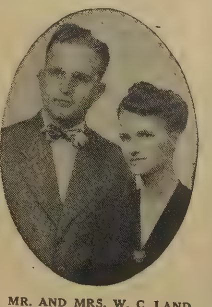
He is survived by the wife. Mrs. Effie Moates; five brothers — Amos, O. J., Rudolph, Elijah and Obie Moates, and one sister, Mrs. Etta Littlejohn.

Spigener Funeral Home in charge.

REVIVAL AT FIRST ASSEMBLY OF GOD CHURCH



MR. AND MRS. W. C. LAND

The revival continues at the First Assembly of God Church on First Avenue, North.

Evangelist and Mrs. W. C. Land, talented musicians and chalk artists, are holding the services and invite the general public to attend the meetings. Services start each night at 7:30 o'clock. J. H. Aplin is pastor of the church.

Chilton Open Football Season Friday

The Chilton County High School football team opens the season this Friday night at Wetumpka when they take on the Wetumpka Red Men at 7:45. Little is known of the power of the Wetumpka team this year, but they usually give Clanton a scrap from the word go. Year in and year out, these teams are evenly matched. The last time they met, Clanton came off the victor, so a Wetumpka victory this time will not come as a surprise.

Coach Spicer has a real problem on his hands this year in rounding up a back field to replace the one lost from last year. Clackler, Hayes, and Jones graduated, and Bradley and Mims did not return to school. Line men have been drawn from the line to fill vacancies in the backfield. Seales and Ross Smith are two who are helping plug holes in the ball-carrying department. Bannister, Easterling, Ogburn, Popwell and Scott should be able to contribute some help here. The line looks much better on paper than the back field, with several boys returning who have had one or more years experience.

Among the better looking material here are Little, Deaton, DeLoach, Lawrence, Muncher, Pyron, Robinson, Spicer, Wingard and Neeley. Eiland, a transferee from Childersburg, should help, as well as Gaylor and McKinney, from last year's reserves. Three big holes left in the line by graduation are the ones filled by Jerry Studdard, Vernon Headley and Hershel Smith. Coach Spicer will be looking for some one to fill these vacancies come Friday night.

CCHS Enrolls 551 Students

At the beginning of the second week of school the local high school showed an enrollment of 551. The Senior III Class as usual is the smallest class in school, 37 boys and 31 girls, total of 68. The largest class is the Junior III with 109; Junior II, 82; Junior I, 96; Senior I, 99; Senior II, 99.

Methodist Church Chimes To Ring For World Peace

The Chimes at the Clanton Methodist Church are ringing each morning at 10:00 a.m. They are ringing as a signal for all believers in Christ to pray for world peace.

This thought originated here through Mrs. Lloyd Popwell, Chairman of Circle 4, Clanton Methodist Church, and was practiced for several weeks before it was adopted by the church.

Now each morning when you hear the church chimes you will know that all Christians are joining in prayer that war might be stayed and all the world be at peace again.

AUXILIARY MEMBERS

Your President, Mrs. L. A Lambert, of Chilton County Unit No. 6, urges you to make every effort to attend the school of instruction that will be conducted by department officials at our Fifth District Conference Friday, September 15th, at 10:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., at Central Park in Birmingham.

Convention At New Harmony

All singers and lovers of old music are invited to attend the Sacred Harp Singing Convention at Lomax the third Sunday in September. The Convention will be held at New Harmony Church.

OUR NEW BABIES

The following babies arrived at the Central Alabama Hospital the past week:

GANUS — Mr. and Mrs. Watson Ganus of Clanton announce the arrival of twin sons on September 8th. They have named them Larry Glenn and Gary Neal.

HEADLEY — It's a son for the Harmon O. Headleys of Clanton Rt. 4. He arrived on September 9th. They have named him Wayne Marshall.

TILLERY — Patricia Ann Tillery is the new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Tillery of Jemison Rt. 1. She arrived on September 9th.

WALDROP — Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Waldrop of Jemison Rt. 2 are the parents of Barbara Jeanette Waldrop. Her birthday is September 11th.

BURKS — Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Burks of Birmingham announce the birth of a son, Larry Charles, born on September 9th, at the Central Alabama Hospital.

BELL — Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Bell are the parents of a new son born September 12th.

A PREPARED AMERICA

(Editor's Note: The Guest Room, from which this is taken, is written each week by a different prominent Alabamian. It is a feature of the Alabama Press Service. In view of the present world crisis, this week's column is extremely timely.)

(By Maj. Gen. James S. Saliba, The Adjutant General)

In these troubled days of global anxiety and worry, I feel that all Americans must assume their rightful responsibility in the struggle for World Peace. One of the greatest efforts for our future could be, and perhaps would be, if each of us would conscientiously look in a mirror and ask of ourselves:

"Just what am I doing to help, and if I am doing something, what more can I do?" "Am I really thinking of Korea or of myself?" "Am I not so unwilling to give up my personal comfort and security that I can blind myself to our blood being spilled today?" "Why is it that the supreme sacrifice in far away lands means not so much to most of us here?"

I'll tell you why. We like our comforts so much that, friend or enemy, we do not like our daily routine interrupted. We live in America and America is a land of freedom. Our country does not know the meaning of fear. It was born with a free spirit, and will die, if need be, free. We have the most wonderful heritage of all—that of freedom.

We do not in the full sense act and talk like people of other lands. We do not feel the shadow of fear that grips the rest of the world. I can say that truthfully, for I came to these shores as a small boy. I can say to all of you that you do not fully realize the great blessing God has bestowed upon you in this great country. America is the last hope of freedom-loving humanity.

It has been my privilege and is still my pleasure to be the Adjutant General of this great state. I have seen many things in my position to make me fully aware of our present danger. We, in the Alabama National Guard, have attempted to realize the vital importance of preparedness, and we have striven to the best of our ability to measure up to that which our country expects of us.

Alabama should be very proud of its National Guard, for it has distinguished itself in two World Wars and has further distinguished itself in the past several years as the most outstanding in the Third Army, and one of the most outstanding of the State National Guards in the several states of the Union.

Procrastination may be all right for international politics, because this kind of politics can only be understood, or misunderstood, by the so-called intelligent few, but I say that when our nation's life blood and resources are being drained, it is time to stop our dilly-dallying in national politics.

If the former enemies of universal military training can now come forward in sincere protest against this measure, in the face of our present crisis, then let them come forward. I do not pretend to know the answers but when I see the word and hear the word of some of our more prominent Americans that the time has come for America to fully wake up, I would indeed be shirking my dutiful responsibility to this country which has taken me to its bosom, not to reiterate the warning of those more intelligent than I. The forces of evil may beset us, but I feel that right will prevail.

The free people of this nation have proven themselve in two World Wars, thereby exonerating the force of good over evil. I do adhere to the idea, and will strongly preach it, that a united and prepared America will be the best means of assuring World Peace.

We do not seek aggression; we desire only to help those in trouble, as we have helped them, and are helping them now, but we would warn those who trespass against the rights of human beings to live fearlessly, unselfishly and equally. We, as individuals, must forget our petty differences, our love for self, our malice and envy.

We must look, without prejudice, toward lasting brotherhood in our country and others, if we are to survive as a free country, capable of continued leadership in the struggle for peace. And there can be no peace without God.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

Ed Yeargan tells us an old-fashioned square dance will be held at Thorsby on September 23rd. The American Legion Post there will sponsor the doings and if it proves popular Ed says they may make a regular thing out of it. Square dancing, as originated in the South, is proving popular in many of the big cities, and Thorsby is going to be first to revive the square dance in Chilton County. Oh yeah, Ed said the dance would start at 8 o'clock.

Saw in our favorite newspaper that the Rev. A. T. Hickman's congregation gave him an anniversary party at the parsonage last week. We know that Preacher Hickman received many, many nice gifts from his many friends in Chilton County, but knowing him like we do, the gift he valued most of all the gifts he received were the gifts of respect and friendship. Of this we are sure.

It is getting increasingly hard to find a parking place at the Post Office. Time after time we go for our mail and there is no place to park. Yet when we do find a place to park and go inside there is only one or two patrons attending to business there. Someone is using the post office parking space who is not attending to post office business. The parking limit there is five minutes. That is ample time to get your mail, stamps, etc., and be on your way to make room for the next fellow. On the other hand there isn't enough room there for the small space we have to be used for general parking. It was set aside only for those who have business in the post office and should be used for nothing else.

Looks like Clanton is going to have another big football star. Its been many years since Jesse Frank Foshee brought fame to Clanton by his football prowess while playing at the University of Alabama. Now comes George McCain. He has been grabbing a lot of nice headlines in the past few days. The sports writers are expecting big things of him this fall. We wish him the best of luck—not for the glory he can bring to his hometown—but because George McCain is a mighty fine boy.

Did you hear about the lady who, when told she had a fine set of books and asked why she didn't have more shelves, answered: "You see, I can't get anyone to lend me shelves."

An old man was sitting on the porch of a little village store when a big, shiny car drove up with two strangers in it. "Hey, there," one of the strangers called out, "How long has this town been dead?" The old man looked at them over the rim of his glasses. "Well, not long, I guess; you're the first buzzards I've seen."

Mr. Charlie Cox is out and about again. His eye is still weak and he isn't doing any heavy reading or even looking for that matter, for a while yet. He said the other morning at the cafe that the nine days he stayed in the hospital at Birmingham was the first time he had been in one place for nine days since he was nine days old. That statement we do not doubt.

Chick Fiquette passes this little tidbit along to the column:

We received through the mail from the Giezendanner Co., Houston, Texas, this statement of facts:

"THINK IT OVER — When someone stops buying.

"When someone stops buying, someone stops selling.

"When someone stops selling, someone stops making.

"When someone stops making, someone stops earning.

"When someone stops earning, someone stops buying.

"All of which preaches a powerful business lesson to every American who is interested in helping to maintain our high standard of living."

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

James, Leader of the Jerusalem Church

Lesson for September 17: Acts 15: 13-20; Galatians 2:9-12

Memory Selection: James 1: 22

IN THE GREAT CONTRAST between his early and later life, James may remind us of the two preceding lessons. Like Peter and John Mark, James made good in his later life. Jesus had four brothers and at least two sisters. One brother was James. He and others of the family did not at first realize the greatness of their brother. Not until after the resurrection did they become Christians.

James became known as the Just. As head of the mother church in Jerusalem he had the opportunity of making a decision that saved Christianity from being a small Jewish sect. Twenty years had passed since the resurrection. The church in Antioch had some Gentile members. A discussion arose as to whether or not the Jewish rites, still followed by Jewish converts, should be imposed upon Gentiles. The Antioch Church sent Paul and Barnabas to inquire of the mother church in Jerusalem.

James handed down the decision that Jewish rites should not be required of Gentile converts. They were to abstain from pollution of idolatry and gross immorality. Though James never quite overcame his Jewish prejudices, the decision he handed down freed the Christian church to begin its career as a world-wide church.

Let us in our churches today be firm and uncompromising in the fundamentals of our faith, but let us be tolerant in non-essential things.

COW'S FAMILY TREE

Peace

The general meaning of peace is: A state of quietness or tranquillity, freedom from disturbance or agitation; freedom from war; freedom from mental agitation, harmony and spiritual calm. It is this peace that the world is much in need of. We want freedom from war, freedom from disturbance and agitation; and we need freedom from mental worry or agitation. We need freedom from mental worry or agitation. We need harmony and spiritual quietness and calm. Yes, we need tranquillity of spirit, mind and soul.

The world more times than once has prepared for war by beating its plowshares into swords, and its pruning hooks into spears (Joel 3:9-10). But we are told in the Bible of a time of peace when the order will be reversed. The time will come when we shall beat our swords into plowshares, and our spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall we learn war any more (Isa.2:4). This will be when the Prince of Peace comes. Of the increase of His Government and peace there shall be no end. To the Christian, the Lord has promised to guide our feet in the paths of peace. And to keep us in perfect peace if we keep our mind on Him. The mind has a lots to do with our having peace. To be carnally minded is death, but to be spiritual minded is life and peace.

Indeed, we would love to have peace on earth and good will toward all mankind, but in order to have peace in the world, we must have peace in the nations that make up the world. To have peace in our nation, we must have peace in the homes which make our nation what it is. Surely when there is no peace in the American home, how can we expect to have a nation of peace?

Too many homes in America are hell holes and not the love nests that they were and are supposed to be. This is because the people living in those homes know nothing of the peace of God in their own hearts. The people within the home must know peace and have the peace of God in order for the home to be a peaceful home. To sum up the matter, there must be peace in the individual persons of the home, for the home to have peace; and every home must have peace for the nation to be at peace. Peaceful nations would give us a world of peace. Let us pray for the peace of the world; the coming of the Prince of Peace.

Appreciation Pays Off

TODAY'S PIECE is for those in authority who find that disciplinary measures have failed. And it comes to you from experts in handling people.

The first principle that every one of these experts propounds, in different words, of course, is that unless a person is happy in what you have persuaded him to do you are getting only 50 per cent efficiency.

Carnegie

William James, eminent professor of Harvard University, seemed to have thought that you can best get the most out of a person, that you can the most easily persuade him to "do it your way" by showing him appreciation, for said Mr. James, "The deepest principle in human nature is the craving to be appreciated."

Charles M. Schwab, one-time chairman of the board of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, said that the best way to influence people is by making them happy in what they are doing — is to "be hearty in approbation and lavish in praise."

When Napoleon created the legion of honor, he did it to show his appreciation of his men. Did those men care about the bits of metal in the little crosses they received? Certainly not. But they did care about the approval of their emperor; they were happy in serving him; they craved his praise, and those little crosses were the symbol.

Henry Clay Risner used Napoleon's technique when he wanted to influence the conduct of the American doughboy. He had been told by General James Harbord that in his opinion the two million American soldiers in France were the cleanest and most idealistic group of men with whom he had ever come in contact. So Henry Clay Risner took occasion to repeat that statement to those men time after time. It made them happy. He knew that that was a sure-fire way of inspiring them to be clean and idealistic.

One more: Warden Lawes, for 20 years Warden of Sing Sing prison, told me once that he had in nearly every instance found that when he treated a prisoner as if he were a gentleman and on the level, that man responded in kind. (And since every man, even though he may have committed a crime, has good in him, he was truly at the time what the Warden seemed to believe him to be.)

So in dealing with people, with your children, with your helpers, make them happy by treating them as if you expect the best of them, and you will be likely to get the best.

Your Health

BREAKFAST

Good food is essential to health, but it is astonishing how many persons omit certain foods or even skip meals to reduce expenses. Considering health from the standpoint of dollars and cents is not economy. The body needs fuel, just as a furnace or an automobile or any other source of power. Breakfast is therefore important because ordinarily at this meal the body has been without food for eight or ten hours, the longest interval between meals.

An adequate breakfast restores the energy level needed to carry out the day's work with efficiency. It prevents midmorning fatigue and maintains a high level of productivity during the morning hours. For the adult whose daily activities do not call for great energy, fruit, toast or rolls, and a beverage will frequently suffice, particularly if the noon meal is balanced. Persons engaged in physical labor, however, require a heavier meal.

With the high cost of living steadily going higher, and suggestions for economy of food persistently being recommended, it is well to remember that a good functioning healthy body is the one that can achieve and maintain that economy. The farmer must have a healthy body to manage his farm. It is he who provides food for the world. The executive in the office must have a healthy body to direct the many activities that keep the machinery of world affairs moving. The clerical or office worker must have a healthy body to keep his machinery intact. And the child must have a healthy body to form the pattern of the world of tomorrow.

A body poorly nourished is like an automobile without gasoline. Unless your doctor orders it, don't cut down on your food. Let a physical examination determine the state of your health—then eat your meals accordingly.

MACEDONIA

The Rev. Hymon Atcheson brought two very inspiring messages last Sunday. There was a large number of visitors present. They are always welcome.

Rev. and Mrs. Hymon Atcheson, Jerry and Wayne, along with many friends and relatives, were the Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Rasberry.

The W.M.U. and G.A. held their meeting here Monday afternoon. New officers were elected as follows: W. M.U. president, Mrs. Elmer Crane; vice-president, Mrs. Harvey Davenport; secretary, Miss Mariah Freeman; treasurer, Mrs. W. A. Rasberry; young people's leader, Mrs. Pratt Crumpton; Y.W.A. Counselor, Mrs. Coy Rasberry; G. A. Counselor, Mrs. Jimmy Ward; Sunbeam Counselor, Mrs. Briggs Gibson.

The representatives from this church will be recognized at the revival services at Thorsby on Friday night. Everyone who possibly can please be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hayes and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Nix visited Mr. Hoyt and Miss Mariah Freeman Sunday afternoon.

Miss Mary Oates is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Nix, of Clanton.

The Floyd Nix girls and the Woodie Rasberry girls visited the D. E. Moore girls Sunday.

Mr. Hoyt Freeman, who has been to Atlantic City, N. J., with the other commissioners, has returned home. They attended the 14th annual conference of the National Association of County Officials. They report a nice trip.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Crumpton and Connie and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Hayes and James visited Mr. and Mrs. Pratt Crumpton Sunday.

Everyone remember Sunday is the time to elect the pastor and other officials of the church for another year.

Everyone remember and be present for prayer service here each Wednesday night.

By LYN CONNELLY

BY THIS FALL most of the big names in radio and screen will have entered television and it will mean the day of reckoning for amateur comedians, jugglers, acrobats and other vaudeville acts that have no place in the television world of tomorrow . . . Of the video pioneers, there are two great troupers who will be to the new medium what Hope, Cantor, Benny, Skelton and Allen were to the development of radio . . . They are Imogene Coca and Sid Caesar, stars of NBC's great program, "Show of Shows."

CAESAR

The fairer sex member of television's pride and joy is a veteran of the stage although she, according to her own opinion, has played in "nothing but dogs" on Broadway since she broke into show business 15 years ago . . . A dynamo on the air, in person she is so shy and retiring you hardly know she's in the same room . . . A dramatic actress, she was backstage one evening when she put on her director's polo coat, about six sizes too large, to keep warm. She appeared so comical that the producer of the show thought she would be a natural for comedy . . . He was so right that today we have TV's top comedienne and one of the few pantomime experts in the business.

Sid, too, became a professional by accident . . . He was a musician when he enlisted in the coast guard during World War II . . . Because of his natural wit, he was given the role of a comedian in the coast guard's great production, "Tars and Spars" . . . He played the same part in the movie and made his television debut last year . . . There was no intention of teaming Imogene and Sid . . . They were terrific as solos but it was inevitable that they would combine their talents in some of television's most hilarious moments . . . They go together like taffy on an apple.

Yes, television has come of age and a great deal of the credit will go deservedly to these two.

SERVICES AT PROVIDENCE (BEAT 16) NEXT SUNDAY

Regular third Sunday services will be held at Providence Baptist Church Beat (16) next Sunday, September 17. This meeting will conclude this Associational year's work. Officers of this church will be named at this meeting, also delegates to the Association will be appointed. Rev. W. E. Robinson, the pastor, will do the preaching at 11 o'clock.

TURN ON LIGHTS FOR LOTS EGGS

"Watts of lights for lots of eggs this winter" would be a good motto for Alabama poultrymen.

John P. Weeks, A.P.I. Extension Service poultryman, reveals that the egg production of a hen is greatly affected by the length of her work day. Therefore, few eggs go to market during the fall months when days are short and egg prices are high, but many eggs are produced in the spring during longer days.

"Fortunately," says Weeks, "the old hen doesn't care whether her light comes from the sun or an electric bulb. So, by providing her with a few extra hours of artificial light during the fall and winter months, poultrymen can take advantage of the higher egg prices. Most poultrymen use one 40-watt bulb for each 50 to 100 hens each morning from 4:00 a.m. to daylight, or a 15-watt bulb all night."

2 MAIN WAYS TO CUT FARM OPERATING COSTS

Auburn, Ala. — One way of cutting costs is to make full use of farm machinery.

According to figures supplied by the National Retail Farm Equipment Association, extra mules or horses kept on a farm where there is a tractor that can do all the work costs the owner about $200 per head a year, a high price to pay for sentiment.

"Proper care of existing farm machinery is another way of cutting costs by insuring longer life of the machinery," adds J. T. Gaillard, A.P.I. Extension Service farm mechanization specialist. "The plow, for instance, is still the No. 1 piece of equipment on most farms. Given proper care, it will last for years; however, many farmers allow their plows to get rusty and in bad condition and thereby increase their work and expenses."

Mt. Pisgah

There were several absent from Sunday School Sunday. We missed you very much. Will you be present next Sunday for Sunday School and preaching services, both forning and evening, with our pastor, Bro. H. A. Jones?

The community was saddened over the death of Mrs. J. D. Burkhalter. May we all pray for the family.

These are some ill ones we are asking prayer for: Mr. John Cleckley, Mrs. Edd Hammond, Mrs. Becky Chadwick, mother of Mr. Elijah Chadwick, and another, Mrs. Cora Burkhalter, sister of Mrs. John Yeargan. Let's pray for them, also Mrs. George Smith who has returned from the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown and family of Sylacauga spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Devaughn.

There will be some who will spend the day visiting our Children's Home in Selma Thursday.

Mr. Joe Brown left for Illinois Tuesday morning, where he will help put a gas pipe line across the State.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Yeargan visited friends in Auburn last week end.

THIS WEEK IN Washington

SPECULATION in Washington as a result of bitter partisan debates in the congress ran the gamut of whether President Truman would veto the proposed control bill and the revised "interim" tax bill and whether or not a "fireside chat" to the people would ease the political pressure on the administration as a result of GOP charges of laxity in pre-Korean war preparations.

Despite charges of administration blunders, whether true or untrue, the harping and "pious hypocrisy" apparent in the deliberations of congress was tending to hamstring the administration efforts in carrying on the Korean war and defense security and efforts at combating Russian propaganda on the floor of the United Nations security council at Lake Success.

In the name of politics, congress is handing the President a control bill so fraught with restrictions as to make it nigh impossible at administration. As this is written, there was conjecture as to whether or not the President would accept the measure. At the same time, the congress made no secret of its haste to pass the draft law and to get men into military service as fast as possible. It was averse to drafting dollars, business and industry to pay the price in a comprehensive tax bill.

• • •

The senate changed radically the controls bill passed by the house, acting on several of scores of the President in administering the emergency measure. One amendment proposed by Sen. John W. Bricker of Ohio makes it mandatory on the part of the President to control wages and prices in all industries and on all commodities if he deems it necessary to control in one industry or one commodity. In other words, if the President and his advisors believed it necessary to control prices on soy beans or automobile wheels to prevent inflation or runaway prices on those two items, it would be necessary for him to institute price and wage controls on everything. Another anti-administration amendment adopted was fostered by Senator Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado specifying that the secretary of commerce should handle the entire allocation and priorities program. The administration wanted it left to the President to decide which agency would handle particular allocations. It appeared likely that at least this Johnson restriction would be stricken out of the bill in conference.

Instead of giving the President authority to regulate speculation on the commodity exchanges, the senate adopted an amendment giving the commodity exchanges themselves authority to police speculators.

• • •

The senate passed the perennial federal highway bill after lopping off approximately $359,000,000 in authorizations at the expense of the secondary and urban road program. Total bill authorizations passed by the Senate was $1,138,000,000, while the bill passed by the house carried authorization of $1,293,000,000. President Truman had asked the bill to be cut a total of $240,000,000 for the two year period ending June 30, 1953, but the senate went on to slash $119,000,000 more out of the bill, after completely eliminating a new formula for distribution for roads adjacent to large cities in the inter-state highway system.

As it went to the conference the bill provided authorization for fiscal 1952 and 1953: $225,000,000 for primary roads; $135,000,000 for secondary roads; $112,500,000 for urban roads; and annual expenditures of $40,000,000 for forest highways; $10,000,000 for park roads and trails; $13,000,000 for parkways; $6,000,000 for Indian reservation roads and $5,000,000 for emergency highway repairs and construction; $4,000,000 for the inter-American highway; $10,000,000 for roads to military installations; $5,000,000 for roads on public domain and $3,500,000 for the Tongass forest roads in Alaska.

The motion to slash $130,000,000 from the secondary or farm-to-market road authorization was made by Senators Harry Byrd of Virginia and Styles Bridges of New Hampshire. It remains to be seen whether the appropriations committees will actually furnish the money.

Fight in the emergency tax bill was over an excess profits tax feature.

NOW IS GOOD TIME TO PLANT COLLARDS

Auburn, Ala. — September is not too late to plant collard seed, according to J. C. Ford, A.P.I. Extension Service garden specialist.

"On good land that has grown some crop during the summer," states Ford, "a September planting of collards will produce good greens in a short time. To get a rapid growth, however, plenty of fertilizer and insect control are necessary."

He believes that the easiest way to get by dry weather is to plant the seed in a row that can be watered by hand. A row 25 feet long with plants thinned to three inches apart will grow 100 plants. Successful gardeners agree that collard plants should be kept growing rapidly. After fall rains come, set plants, with a good clump of dirt on the roots, 18 inches apart.

West End Baptist News—

The West End Baptist revival came to a close on Friday night, September 1st, with Rev. Maurice Hodgens, of Shawmut, Ala., the visiting evangelist.

Our revival was a big success, with 11 new additions to the church membership. They were: Mr. Claude Little, Mr. W. C. Rucker, Miss Barbara Ann Puckett, Mr. Clyde Henderson, Mrs. Pearl Henderson, Mrs. Melba Headley, all for baptism. By letter were Mrs. Eloise Maddox, Mr. Raymond Headley, Mr. Eulas Courtney, Mrs. Lena Mae Courtney and Mrs. Ovilett Headley Owens.

The baptismal services were held on Sunday, September 10th, at the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Luther Williams was among the baptismal candidates.

We are proud of the progress being made on our educational building and hope to be holding services in our new home some time in October. Our pastor, Rev. R. E. Wilkins, is to be commended on the great work he has acquired during the ten months he has been with us. We have had an average of nine additions to our membership per month. Have raised $1,000.00 per month for the last ten months. The total membership of our church is now 117 and with the Lord's blessings I'm sure we will continue to grow.

First Baptist W.M.S. Meetings—

The Circles of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church of Clanton held their last meeting of the church year on Monday afternoon in the following homes:

Circle One met with Mrs. Harold Lawrence. Mrs. E. E. Upchurch brought the devotional for the afternoon, reading the 91st Psalms. Mrs. Russell Williams gave an interesting article on, "Weakness In Professing Christians." After a short business meeting and being the last meeting of the year, a lovely handkerchief was presented each member and members presented the chairman, Mrs. Harold Lawrence a place setting of Russell-Wright Potteryware. The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. M. H. Lane. Fourteen members were present.

Mrs. B. J. Sessions was hostess to Circle Two. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. B. E. Reeves. Mrs. Luther Mims gave a very inspiring devotional which was followed with prayer by Mrs. John Mullins. Those taking part on the program were Mrs. Luther Mims, Mrs. B. E. Reeves, Mrs. Andy Minor and Mrs. John Mullins. After the business session the members enjoyed the social hour. Mrs. Sessions, assisted by Mrs. S. E. Waters, served delicious refreshments to those present.

Circle Three was entertained by Mrs. H. T. Pipes at her home on 10th Street. Mrs. Cleo R. Cox acted as program director and gave the devotional reading Scripture Luke 10:1-12, followed with prayer by Mrs. J. D. Griffin. Mrs. Cox presented Mrs. Horsley White who gave a paper on "Turning The Wheels For Advance." Mrs. W. W. Brown gave the article, "Crickets Ate Their Bible Stories," taken from the Royal Service Magazine. Mrs. Cox gave an interesting summary of articles taken from the Alabama Baptist state paper concerning the possibility of service in our state. After a short business session the hostess erved light refrehments to: Mrs. J. D. Griffin, Mrs. J. R. Hardy, Mrs. Flem Higgins, Mrs. Pat Hamilton, Mrs. Lester Jones, Mrs. Watts Moore and Mrs. Horsley White.

Circle Four met with Mrs. J. A. Hester. Mrs. Renfro Mullins brought the devotional. Mrs. W. J. Duke gave an interesting article taken from the Commission Magazine, titled, "Turning the Wheels for Advance." The circle members presented the chairman, Mrs. Renfro Mullins, with a gift in appreciation of her work and leadership during the past year. Delicious cake and ice cream were served to: Mesdames Andy Jones, Referee Lineberry, Ludie Lenoir, Russell Lewis, Renfro Mullins, L. A. Calloway, W. J. Duke, J. L. Teel and Mrs. Hester's sister, Mrs. Hogrove, who was a visitor.

Mrs. Clarence Cox was hostess to Circle Five. Scripture reading, Luke 10:1-12, by Mrs. Reedie Taylor. Mrs. Taylor gave an interesting article, "The Goose Who Layed The Golden Egg." "Advanced Program" was by Mrs. F. N. Scott. Business was taken care of. During the social hour the hostess served delicious refreshments to eleven guests.

There were several visitors with us Sunday night. We invite them back. Remember our preaching days on the second and fourth Sunday. — Reporter.

By LYTLE HULL

THE NAMES of those who are now giving their lives for their country and for human liberty should be inscribed upon the rolls of honor of every civilized nation in the world, and should be placed where man can see them and revere them always. They have been thrown into a gap which was becoming wider as time and political ambitions overshadowed patriotism and plain horse sense. They have been sacrificed upon the altar of international stupidity; their stories should be a lesson to governments and peoples for generations to come.

If the Korean affair is taken seriously and the free world realizes, at long last, that there is no such thing as appeasement in this struggle for world domination, their sacrifice will not have been in vain. But if the democracies continue to labor under the impression that they can do business as usual until such time as the U.N. persuades Stalin to abandon his plans, then their lives will have been thrown away and ours will remain in dire peril.

It isn't fair to place the entire blame upon the various national governments alone. When the second world war ended, it was the people who demanded immediate return home of all troops, even from those positions around the world which military brains knew must be held against a threat that was only too apparent.

The people forced their governments' hands—where they needed forcing—and they allowed their governments to make the most outrageous tactical mistakes.

We give you China as an illustration. And even at this moment, when nearly everyone realizes that the Korean affair is the beginning of war to the finish, our government and most of our people still remain hypnotized by the Red propaganda which deprived us of the one "fortification" which might win for us—Spain!

A party of Alabama people motored to Lansing, Mich., September 1st, and enjoyed two days of their favorite sport — motorcycling. This party was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Lane and Mr. Clarence Gray of Montgomery, Ala., Miss Ruth Hicks and Mr. Millard Reynolds of Stanton.

Mr. Millard Reynolds, Mr. Cecil Lane and Mr. Clarence Gray entered the National Jack Pine endurance run. This is an annual event and is 500 miles of hard, rough riding. The Alabama riders made a fine showing and received many compliments on their fine spirit of sportsmanship. Mr. Clarence Gray won his Class B Trophy and the three riders won the Dealer Team Trophy. (The riders having entered as a Chambless Harley-Davidson Motorcycle Co., Montgomery Ala., Dealer team). All three riders entered and finished this run. There were 306 entries and 52 finished run.

Mrs. Walter C. Hand of Washington, D.C., joined this group in Lansing, Mich., and returned to Alabama with them on their return.

This party of people were entertained on Saturday night in the Masonic auditorium by the Lansing Motorcycle Club at a banquet, and on Sunday night by the Lutheran Church at a dinner at West Branch, Mich.

WINNING POINT

(A Short Story)

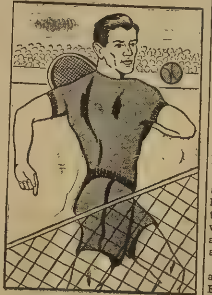
By RICHARD HILL WILKINSON

COACH CRAIG was such a staid old goat he wouldn't understand any way; he wouldn't recognize romance if some one pointed it out to him. That's why he never stopped wondering why Diane lost the tennis match.

Diane had for three years been captain of the girl's varsity. She was a white flash of speed and endurance, a personification of grace and skill.

It was Diane who put the old college up where it ought to be in the annals of sport. She became an idol on the campus, worshipped and idolized by the male sector.

But always her passion for tennis. She loved it. A victory left her elated; defeat provoked a black mood. Fortunately the defeats were few, the victories many. It began to look as if at the conclusion of her college career Diane would step into an important role as a national star.



He swung his racket with beautiful form, a handsome picture, features grim and determined.

That, of course, was all before Lance Winthrop appeared. Lance had transferred up north from a southern college to finish his senior year. His luggage consisted of a carpet bag and a tennis racket. Inside the carpet bag were newspaper clippings and testimonials which pronounced him the greatest intercollegiate tennis star of the South.

Coach Craig looked the boy over and nodded. He was a fine looking lad, tall and dark with brown eyes and a mouth that held an habitual smile.

From that moment the old college had another idol to worship, another star on which to pin its loyalty. The school became famous. Experts came and watched Lance and Diane in action. They talked with Coach Craig and mentioned contracts and large figures.

The future looked bright, especially so because Lance and Diane fell in love. Romance added glamor, heightened interest. They were a good looking couple, well suited and peppy. Everyone envied them.

It was along about the last of May, with commencement not far away and the last tennis match of the season over with, that some one suggested a mixed match for the benefit of the school. That is, the co-eds would play the men champs. It was a great idea, because every one knew that Diane would be picked to meet Lance, and every one thought it would be such a whale of a good game.

Coach Craig didn't object, and Lance and Diane couldn't very well refuse, when so many eager admirers pleaded with them.

It all turned out to be a more important affair than was at first planned. Outsiders got wind of it and asked to be admitted. And because they offered to pay, the faculty had tickets printed and sold them for $1 apiece.

"The girl's a shade better," Coach Craig told his young assistant, Dave Powers "She can trim him. Which," he confided, "is going to mean a good deal. Old Man Henigan's going to be here."

Powers' eyes widened. "Henigan of the national committee? Say, that's a dirty trick on Diane. Suppose she loses, after her school record? It may mean she won't get that big offer."

"She won't lose," Craig said confidently. "She's better than Winthrop."

But because Powers was young and could feel as young people feel, he strolled over to Diane and mentioned the fact that Mike Henigan was in the audience. She smiled at him, and nodded her thanks, and went out to meet Lance.

It was a pretty close game; as all the spectators had wished for. Each captured a set and went evenly along in a third. Lance had five games to Diane's four, but everyone felt pretty sure the girl would take her opponent for an even five. Lance was serving, with only one point to go to collect the game, set and match.

He swung his racket with beautiful form, a handsome picture, features grim and determined. Diane, waiting with outward calmness, felt the tenseness of the moment, sensed the spell that held the audience in its grip. She saw the grimness on Lance's face, the fierce desire in his eyes. It meant so much to him.

Coach Craig, she knew, was watching her. She sensed the confidence on his face, knew that Henigan was in the stands watching Lance's every movement. Then the ball, like a white plummet, came whistling over the net. A perfect serve. Diane stepped forward to meet it. Her racket swung. The audience leaned forward, held their breaths—and suddenly broke into a frenzy of shouting.

Diane had stumbled. Fallen forward. Caught herself. Missed.

The game, the match, belonged to Lance. Coach Craig groaned. Henigan shrugged indifferently.

Coach Craig was a staid old goat. He wouldn't understand anyway. But Dave Powers, who was young and could feel as young people feel, understood. He knew that Diane had stumbled on purpose, and that Lance Winthrop was tremendously happy because he'd won—and that Diane was happy, too.

SOIL-CEMENT—today's biggest value for light-traffic streets

SOIL-CEMENT makes taxpayers' dollars go farther because about 90 per cent of the required material is usually native soil on the site. It's easy to transform high-maintenance cost streets into strong, durable pavement good for years of all-weather service with soil-cement.

Soil-cement's superior value and durability for light-traffic streets are fully established. Thousands of miles of soil-cement paving are now in service in the U. S.

FIRST SCHOOL IN ALABAMA

The first school founded in Alabama was by John Pierce. It was located at the Boat Yard on Lake Tensaw. This first school was called a "blab school," as its pupils were taught only by word of mouth. The first Academy in Alabama was incorporated in 1811. It was known as the Washington Academy. Mobile school authorities were the first to provide a definite income for support of public education, and, in 1854, the Legislature passed a bill which made possible the establishment of the state system of public schools.

NO SUGAR SHORTAGE

Brokers say that there should be no hoarding of sugar, due to the Korean war, because there is approximately a million tons of surplus raw sugar on hand in Cuba alone. This is in addition to the 7,500,000 tons the United States is expected to use this year.

MOBILIZATION CHIEF

President Truman has appointed W Stuart Symington as Supreme Chief of the nation's mobilization program. With Congress concurring, all power and authority of the National Security Resources Board were transferred to him, as chairman. Other members of the Board, all of Cabinet rank, merely will serve in an advisory capacity to him.

BUTTER

The Government is looking for a way to dispose of 175,000,000 pounds of surplus butter stored under farm price-support programs. The butter represents a Government outlay of more than $'00,000,000. The Agriculture Department is offering to give the butter away for relief use but few states care to set up the distribution machinery which would be required.

FOOD SUPPLY

Declaring that there is no need for frantic buying or hoarding, the Agricultural Department says that the country is better off now, so far as food is concerned, than it was before Pearl Harbor. The farm economy is considered sounder and better able to adjust itself to any crop changes that might be demanded. Officials declared the food markets "could stand some pretty strong buying" by the military before civilians would be severely affected from a nutrition standpoint. Production of all foods is up 21 per cent from 1941.

ARMED FORCES

According to ex-Defense Secretary Louis Johnson, the United States Army is smaller than it was when war came more than eight years ago, but it is better equipped. On December 7, 1941, the Army had about 1,300,000 men, including what was then the Army Air Force. The Army now has some 593,000 men. The separate Air Force has 350,000 men. The Marines have about 74,000 men. This makes a total active land force of 667,000.

SYNTHETIC RUBBER

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has announced that it will reactivate three Government-owned synthetic rubber plants, which will increase the country's annual production of synthetic rubber by approximately 88,000 tons. With their reactivation there will be a total of 18 Government-owned synthetic rubber plants in operation and nine in standby.

"I REMEMBER"

BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. James Montgomery of Blackwell, Okla.: "I remember the high snow drifts back in Pennsylvania when the weather was below zero and folks would hitch horses to bobsleds and go to a neighbor's to spend the evening. The women sewed carpet rags or quilted while their men talked politics and the children popped corn and cracked nuts. At 10 o'clock a supper was served. After supper we'd return to the parlor for a Bible reading, a prayer and a hymn before going home, tired but happy.

From Andrew Manning of Sandusky, O.: "I'm a Spanish American war veteran and my wife and I remember some of the songs that were popular in my soldiering days like "Break the News to Mother," "There'll Be a Hot Time In the Old Town Tonight" and "My Sweetheart Went Down With the Maine."

From Mrs. Willie A. Emanuel of Lumberton, N. C.: Here are some of the old-time song-titles I remember: "Sweet Marie," "Bill Bailey, Won't You Please Come Home?," "I'm Nobody's Darling," "Away Down In My Heart I Got a Feeling For You" and a song the darkies used to sing on the plantation that went, "Oh, It's Almost Morning, Don't You Hear That Shanghai Crowing?" I also remember hearing my mother sing "Home Sweet Home" and it made a lasting impression on me.

THIS PETTY PACE

BY
BROWN LEE YATES

DR. SHAKEWELL, this column's medical and psychiatric consultant, received this week the following letter from Miss Adelaide Mopish, Baleful Gap, W. Va.:

Remember me? When I wrote for advice recently, I was about to lose my job as vinegar taster at the pickle plant, because my glum leers were casting a sour atmosphere over the other employees. You advised me to be a merry vinegar taster who looked like she was just puckering to play a happy air on the piccolo. You said, "Smile and the dills smile with you."

Well, I took your advice. I ordered a book on smiling with pictures showing every gay twist of the features known to man or monkey. There were faint smiles appropriate for jokes you've heard before, false smiles to wear when a crowd comes barging in for the week end, sardonic grins to greet people who insist you owe them money, broad grins to encourage people who insist they owe you money. In the appendix, I found a wry smirk for vinegar tasters and folks who read this column.

MY BOSS PROMISED to put me on probation if I could manage a faint simper during pickle bottling. So I put in long hours of practice upon anybody I could corner. I smiled, simpered, smirked, grinned, laughed, and never let a sulky look cross my mug. Pretty soon I could taste vinegar and look like I was listening to a radio comedian. (Most people listen to a radio comedian and look like they're tasting vinegar.)

This put me in four square with my fellow employees, and even the cucumbers were smiling back. Then I made the fatal mistake of attending Cousin Epworth Mopish's last rites at the Glotz Funeral Parlor.

THE BOOK said a single melancholy thought could undo weeks of arduous practice. I resolved not to let a fourth cousin's passing turn me back into a glum chum. To fortify my spirit, I began to smile out loud, to titter in unison with the parson's eulogy. The louder he eulogized, bringing tears all around, the louder I tittered.

I was arrested for disturbing the peace. I smiled at the judge and got 30 days, plus 10 days "for levity in court."

Dr. Shakewell, I have only one request: Wipe that silly grin off your face!

Maplesville News

Many of the citizens of Maplesville are very much concerned about the safety of the lives of the children who live on and go to and from school on the highway between the Baptist Church and the school. There is quite a lot of traffic on this highway. Many of the motorists travel at a high rate of speed. Plans are being made by the P.-T.A. and other organizations to cooperate with the policemen in trying to stop the speeding. Every one should remember a child doesn't think of danger. Many have forgotten the three-year-old child who was killed on this highway only a few years past.

Many of our accidents are caused by excessive speed. How much better it is to drive safely than to be sorry.

School News—

A date for the parents and teachers to keep in mind is September 28th, Thursday night, at the High School Auditorium. As this is the first meeting of the P.-T.A. for this school year. Begin now making your plans to be present. There is something in store for each one, so come and find out.

The Maplesville High School football 1950 season will open Friday night of this week, September 15th, as the Maplesville Red Devils will play Highland Home team here at the Maplesville High athletic field. Everyone come out and boost our team. Coach Kelley has a fine team, however, last year's graduation made a number of difficult spots for replacements. For Captain this year is Earl Chambers; co-captain, Harvey Smith.

Cheerleaders are: Opal Taylor, Lois Smith, Dorothy Dennis, Mittie Jean Bailey, Helen Atcheson, Kirby Burnette, with headleader, Eva Jo Walker.

At this game the P.-T.A. will furnish plenty of good eats and drinks for everyone in the new lunchroom, located near the football field. So come bring the whole family, enjoy the game. Also the cold drinks, hot coffee, sandwiches, hotdogs and hamburger proceeds will go to the school.

HOME ON LEAVE

Cpl. James D. Glass, of the U. S. Air Force, is home on leave visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Glass, residing in Thorsby, Ala., before going to his new station and assignment at the U. S. Air Force Base, in Selfridge, Mich.

Pvt. Robert Smith, USA, will report to his new station for advance training at Fort Bliss, Texas, after visiting his family here for a few days.

BOWLES

We are sorry to report the illness of Mr. M. O. Gafford. We trust he will soon be feeling better.

Mr. W. F. Gafford has returned home from the Veterans Hospital in Montgomery. He is doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nelson and children of Brighton spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Meeks, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Oliver and Diane of Talladega visited Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Williams Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Green and Miss Ruby Williams spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Pate Cleckler of Clanton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Spigner and Mr. W. F. Gafford had as their guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Rhodes and children, Mrs. Lula Moore, Joe, Willie Clyde and Dean Moore, of Prattville; Mr. and Mrs. John Payton and Billie, Mrs. W. D. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Williams.

Miss Frances Chandler spent the week end with Miss Vera Chandler in Clanton.

Ants Pestering?—

We're wondering who isn't having trouble with that little insect, the ant? Reports come to us that they were even raiding one of Maplesville's six preachers' refrigerators. We knew the ants were bad and had hoped they wouldn't find the frozen food.

ROOFING CALLS FOR RUST PROOF NAILS

Auburn, Ala. — Women often talk about keeping a roof over their heads but usually it's the men folks who decide what that roof is to be made of and how it is put on, observes Stella Mitchell, A.P.I. Extension Service home management specialist.

She suggests that families now planning to repair roofs aganist winter weather use the best and most economical materials.

"Experience has proved the wisdom and economy of using rust-proof nails," emphasizes the specialist. "Even thin, lightweight roofing will not give best service when lightweight steel nails are used. Only hot-dipped zinc nails, copper or heavily galvanized cut nails —or those of the type recommended by the roofing manufacturer should be used. Moreover, nails should be long enough to penetrate about three-fourths the thickness of the sheathing."

SCREWWORMS

At least once a week every animal on the farm should be carefully inspected for screwworms. All infested animals should be moved to a pasture or lot near the home place. An infested wound should be treated thoroughly inside and all around it with Smear 62 or 82. Any cuts that are not infested should be treated to keep worms out. Treat the navel of all newborn animals as soon as they are found.

NEW TELEPHONE LINE ALONG MONTGOMERY HIGHWAY

With construction of the new telephone line for residents of several communities along the Montgomery Highway completed, prospective users in that area can look forward to receiving service in the very near future.

This was the good word today from Southern Bell District Manager, W. L. Hinds, who said that the installation of telephones on the line has now been started and will be carried forward as rapidly as conditions will permit. The line will be connected with the Clanton exchange.

Mr. Hinds said that approximately 150 subscribers in the communities of Falakto, Cooper, Verbena, Mt. Creek and Marbury will receive telephone service by means of the new line, which is a part of Southern Bell's program to extend the telephone network throughout the rural areas.

It was revealed by Mr. Hinds that in order to construct the line, Southern Bell set 288 poles and placed nine miles of cable and 46 miles of wire. The line cost approximately $54,000.00.

With subscribers in town able to call additional telephones because of the new line, telephone service will be more valuable for everybody, as well as bring benefits to those actually served by the line.

SUCCESSFUL PARENTHOOD

By Mrs. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

HOW MANY TIMES a day do you say "No" to your children? Sally's mother overheard her daughter saying to a playmate, "There's no sense asking my mother. She always says 'No.'" Thus prompted, the mother under discussion decided to count the number of "No's" she actually did deliver each day. And though she doesn't divulge her exact count, she says it was astonishingly high.

She then began to weigh the decisions she had made and found that a good many of the things that she had forbidden could have been permissible at least with modifications. Sally couldn't play in the mud with her good dress on, but she could have come inside first to change into overalls.

Saying "No," Sally's mother realized, had simply become a habit. When we call a child to lunch and he asks, "Can we eat out under the tree?" we say quickly, "No, Dear. Hurry and sit down at the table." We give no reason for the refusal, probably because we have scarcely given the question a thought. But a child's requests are important to him. And if he must be refused he can at least be told why. If it rained yesterday and the ground is too muddy for an outdoor lunch, explain this. Tomorrow, you may point out, will be a better day for a picnic. And if it is sunny tomorrow and the child still begs to eat his lunch outdoors, why not? Of course it may be a bit of extra trouble to load a tray and carry it outside, but a happy youngster loves to help. And often even a customarily disdained vegetable is eaten with relish as part of a festive picnic.

Sometimes we say "No" just because a child's requests seem ridiculous. But children usually have a reason for doing things or wanting to do them. One day Susan asked her mother if she could wear her cowboy boots to school. A rather feminine little girl, fond of ruffled dresses, Susan had always loved wearing patent leather Mary Jane pumps to school. Her cowboy boots were for after-school play. This new request baffled her mother, until the child explained that the boy who occupied the seat behind her kicked her heels. Rather than tattle to the teacher or fight with the boy, Sue had come up with this resourceful solution.

Disapproving too quickly often has another disadvantage. It is likely to cut us off from a great deal of enjoyment of our children. The picnic, for example, though first appearing troublesome, would probably have turned out to be fun. Assured of at least a listening and considerate audience, children will be more inclined to tell parents their thoughts. The world, seen through the eyes of the young, is a very different and magically enchanting place. The chance to see it thus can be a mother's reward for trying to understand her child's requests.

From the standpoint of discipline a No must be carefully considered so that parents can stick to it. For there are times when undesirable activities must be checked. These are times to be definite and firm. This is particularly important in the early years when a child is getting his first ideas of human relations. Then he needs to learn that parents can be depended on to mean what they say.

BEAT JACK FROST TO GREEN PEPPERS

Green peppers — if they are firm, crisp, and thick-walled — are excellent for home-freezing, reveals Lavada Curtis, A.P.I. Extension Service food preservation specialist.

First, wash peppers, cut out stems, cut in half, remove seeds, and slice or not, as desired. Unheated halves or slices may be packed directly into containers and put into the freezer. No headspace is necessary. For preheating, give halves three minutes in boiling water, slices two minutes. Then chill promptly in cold water, drain and pack tight containers, leaving a half inch of headspace.

"Convenient containers for peppers in the freezer are four or eight-ounce size,' adds Miss Curtis. "Use leakproof, moisture-vapor-proof cans, jars, cartons or bags."

RECRUITING NEWS

Former WAF officers possessing MOS 2110 and MOS 2136 in the rank of First Lieutenant and Captain, who have had squadrón experience, and who do not hold a current reserve commission, are urged to take action applying for a reserve commission. ALABAMA PECAN CROP TO TOP 100,000,000 POUNDS

Montgomery, Ala. — Even though the state pecan crop is expected to hit 106,571,000 pounds for the fall harvest, it is considerably less than the 128,000,000 pounds which were produced in 1949, and 40 per cent less than the record crop of 1948. Shortages are due to heavy shedding and continued dry spell.

NO INCREASE IN OLD AGE ASSISTANCE

Old Age Assistance checks sent to needy people from county welfare departments in Alabama will not be automatically increased because of the amendments to the Federal Social Security Act just approved by the President, State Welfare Commissioner Broughton Lamberth said today.

"From the newspaper publicity which has been released about the provisions of these amendments, many persons seem to think that all old age assistance recipients will get higher checks right away," Lamberth said. He pointed out that the measure does provide increased benefits to persons receiving Old Age Insurance and does add new people to the Old Age Insurance rolls. He said, however, that this legislation will not affect the size of assistance payments made to old people through the Welfare Department. He also cautioned against confusion between the two Social Security programs for aged persons—Old Age Assistance administered through the Welfare Department, and Old Age and Survivors Insurance, administered directly by the Federal Security Agency.

Lamberth pointed out that no changes had been made in the conditions under which Federal funds for needy old people are released to the States for Old Age Assistance. The amount each State gets, he said, depends mainly on the amount of State and local money to match Federal funds and the number of needy people. He said that all States are required to meet these same conditions, through working a hardship on States like Alabama where the percapita income is low and the number of needy people is great.

One group of needy people in this State—the permanently and totally disabled do stand to benefit materially from these recently enacted Federal Social Security Amendments, Lamberth pointed out. This 1950 legislation set up a fourth public assistance category—Aid to the Permanently and Totally Disabled. Thus, Federal funds will be provided for this group for the first time in October, 1950. Lamberth said his Department had long been concerned over the plight of the totally disabled and had carried forward a program of aid to them from limited State and local funds.

Lamberth predicted that for other needy people except the handicapped the prospect is actually one of decreased payments in the months ahead. He attributed this outlook to declining local monies available for assistance and increasing assistance case loads.

Alabama's services to children also will benefit from the 1950 Social Security amendments, Lamberth said. He pointed out that the State Department of Public Welfare receives annually a grant from the United States Children's Bureau for services to neglected, dependent and delinquent children, and for community planning in the interests of children. This sum for 1949-50 was approximately $100,000. Under the 1950 amendments the Alabama share of this money will amount to approximately $300,000.

"This means strengthening of services to prevent child dependency, delinquency and neglect," Lamberth said "While we know there is acute need among those already dependent, we recognize that the preventive aspects of the child welfare job are particularly important in off-setting future dependency. Therefore, we are making immediate plans to utilize this grant in what appears to be the most advantageous way to the children of this state."

LABOR DIRECTOR CALLS FOR HARMONY

Montgomery, Ala. — In a special Labor Day message, R. R. Wade, State Labor Director, called upon labor and management in Alabama to strive for peaceful settlements of their disputes.

"Alabama is the greatest producer of war goods in the South," Wade said, "and it is essential that we let no bottleneck develop to hinder our production lines."

"Communists would like nothing better than to see this country thrown into strikes and economic disruption," Wade stated. "In fact, that is their aim. But with labor and management working in unison and honestly weighing all differences, we will show Communism that democracy is capable of dynamic leadership in the world today."

"At a time when our country is wavering between peace and war, the employer and employed should close ranks," Wade said, "and present a solid front to the end that our economy may be able to meet whatever demands that may be made upon it."

And, speaking with confidence. Wade said, "It is my firm belief that this will be done."

HIGHWAY CHIEF WARNS ALL MOTORISTS

Montgomery, Ala. — Public Safety Director Bankhead Bates this week said that "Alabama's highways are becoming unsafer by the month for motorists."

Bates said that already this year, 296 people have been killed on our state roads. This is nine more than the figure one year ago. Besides the 296 who have been killed, 1,737 have been seriously injured, many of them crippled for life, Bates said.

These deaths and injuries have resulted from the 3,241 — 200 more than last year — highway accidents which have occurred during the first seven months of 1950.

Property damage caused by these wrecks amounted to $1,271,491, as stated by highway patrol reports.

Bates issued a stern warning to all drivers that highway patrolmen are going to be far more strict in the future. He said that they are going to "bear down" on all traffic violations, and added that "there will be no exceptions."

"The Alabama code says that the state speed limit shall be 'reasonable' ", Bates said, "and the highway patrol is going to act upon the premise that anyone going over 60 miles per hour is not driving at a 'reasonable' speed."

"Motorists have got to pay more attention to safety measures if we are ever to reduce the frightening number of highway deaths," Bates said.

"The only way that this serious problem can be licked," he said, "is by getting the full cooperation of all drivers, as well as help from newspapers, radios, and local law enforcement officers. We have in Alabama a serious problem in these accidents, but it can be licked if our people will work together toward a safety program for our highways," Bates said.

NOTICE TO NON-RESIDENT

The State of Alabama, Chilton County. Chilton County Law and Equity Court—in Equity. No. 129. September 11, 1950.

Mary Geneva Lucas, Complainant, vs. Joseph Lucas, Defendant.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Ex-Officio Register by the affidavit of Mary Geneva Lucas, Complainant, that the Defendant is a non-resident, and that his place of residence and post office address is unknown, and that such address cannot be ascertained after reasonable effort; and, further, that, in the belief of said affiant, the Defendant is of the age of twenty-one years:

It is therefore, ordered by the Ex-Officio Register that publication be made in the Chilton County News, a newspaper published in the County of Chilton, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring him, the said Joseph Lucas, to plead, answer, or demurr to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 9th day of October, 1950, or, in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against him.

Done at office in Clanton, this 11th day of September, 1950.

HELEN P. BLACKMON,
Ex-Officio Register.

Posted at the Courthouse door in Clanton, Ala., this the 11th day of September, 1950. 37-4tc

BIRDS AND ANIMALS PERPETUATE FORESTS

While many birds and small animals hinder reforestration by digesting most of the seed they eat, other birds and animals help perpetuate forests by giving seed the scarification they need for proper germination.

Earl F. Kennamer, A.P.I. Extension Service wildlife specialist, explains that this action takes place in the gizzard and stomach as the seed pass through the digestive tract.

"After seed passes through the bird or animal," says Kennamer "the scarified seed germinate readily and receive initial fertilization from the scats deposited along with the seed."

These facts are additional reasons for protecting and providing food for wildlife.

GRAND JURY IN SESSION THIS WEEK

The Grand Jury was charged Monday morning by Circuit Judge Oakley Melton and were immediately impaneled. The entire charge to the Grand Jury was too lengthy to publish in full but a few excerps follow:

"You have been selected for the duties, upon which you are about to enter, because you are considered fitted, both by competengy and character, to discharge the duties of Grand Jurors. It is presumed from the fact that your selection by the Jury Commission that you are reputed to be intelligent, you are esteemed in your community for your integrity and sound judgment."

"The fact that your name has been placed in the jury box gives the presumption that you possess intelligence, good sound judgment and common sense and can be depended upon to do the right and just thing."

"The trial Judge and the sheriff and the Clerk or no other court official know whose name is in the jury box—"

"You are invested with great powers and your duties are correspondingly great.

"We recognize in this country the principle that it is a Government of laws and not of men and on the grand juries, probably more than any other institution, rests the burden of protecting this principle."

"It's the majesty of the law that rules in this country and if man or any group of men were permitted to put their own opinion above the majesty of the law, you can see if that were carried enough what it would lead to. We would be in a state of revolution, chaos and confusion."

"Now, in the machinery provided for the enforcement of the criminal laws, you are probably the most important cog."

"And your oath says you shall present no person from envy, malice or hatred nor leave any one unpresented from fear, affection, reward or hope thereof. Envy, hatred, malice are evil emotion and should not influence you and it is inconceivable that any man with reputed good character would be actuated by such emotions to indict a fellow citizen. Fear, affection regard, or the hope thereof likewise should not influence you in your deliberation."

"So your oath binds you to a fair and straight action and men of your standing knows what such action is. You know you are here for the performance of your duties in the administration of our laws and to create and maintain respect for our laws and make this county a better place in which to live and build our homes and educate the children."

"Now, as to the hours which you meet and as to when you adjourn you may fix such as you consider wise and convenient. This matter being left to your discretion. Of course, you should consider your obligation and duties with diligence."

"There are cases on the docket of this court where indictments have been returned. Some of these cases have already been tried and appeals taken from this Court to the Courts of Appeal of Alabama. There are involved in these cases which have been tried and pending on appeal, some points and questions of law which are common and applicable to other cases on the docket which have not been tried. Decisions of our High Courts are, of course, a guide and mandate to be followed by the Lower Court. So the decision of the Supreme Court on the questions and points in those cases on appeal and which are applicable to the cases not yet tried might have a far reaching and important effect on the proper procedure to be taken in those cases."

"Of course, all cases, where indictments are returned or have been returned, will be tried or otherwise disposed of in accordance with the laws and mandates of the Supreme Court. I make this statement merely for your information."

"Now, gentlemen, you see your duties call for the operation and application of your good judgment and good sound common sense."

SPECIAL MATINEE "PRINCE OF PEACE" AT WADESONIAN

There will be a special matinee for colored people at the Wadesonian Theatre Wednesday afternoon, September 27th, showing The Prince of Peace.

The show will start at 1:30 p.m.

DANCE POSTPONED

American Legion, Post No. 6, and Auxiliary dance scheduled for September 23rd, at the Chilton County High School Gym, has been postponed until September 30, at 8 o'clock p.m., because of conflicting dates with the dance to be held by Thorsby American Legion Post No. 206.

The members of Legions and Auxiliaries urge all their friends to attend both of these functions.

August 25, 1950, was "graduation" day at the Chilton County High School. At this graduation 36 persons received certificates for having completed an intensive course in how to safely transport school children to and from school. They were learning better and safer ways to transport the most precious cargo ever transported in Chilton County, and graduated. They did not feel that they were perfect by any means, but they did feel that they were in condition to do a much better job than they had been able to do before.

This School Bus Driver Clinic has become an annual affair in Chilton County. The Chilton County Board of Education has become convinced that it is well worth the cost and time to the parents of the Chilton County pupils. The clinic consists of five days of intensive training. Besides classroom instruction and discussion, the driver gets a chance at the wheel where experts can observe and criticize his driving. His sight and hearing are thoroughly tested and his reaction time is checked. He must be able to stop his bus in a definite period of time and space. He must be able to back his bus properly and tries to be efficient enough to "never lose the back end." All of this and much more is taken up. Much time is spent in discussion of ways to get along with pupils and parents. General rules of safety are taken up and thrashed out.

Many of the drivers shown above have received four such certificates. Each time they vow they learned more than they did the last time. One of the "boys" pictured is enjoying his 26th year as a school bus driver in Chilton County. He says it is in his blood and each fall finds him just as anxious to get in harness as the pupils he hauls. Others have driving experience that reaches near and into the twenty-year range. A few are driving for the first time, but most of them are experienced and tried. County employed mechanics are included among the above "graduates."

Only one of the three lady drivers employed is shown in the picture. It will probably surprise the men reading this article to learn that the lady drivers have always proved to be very successful, and that officials are never hesitant about employing capable lady drivers.

The clinic is conducted under the guidance of A. E. Houk who is connected with the University of Alabama, Division of Trades and Industrial Education. Any of the above drivers will vouch for the fact that "Al" knows whereof he speaks. Chilton County's transportation supervisor, Lewis McGee, always assists him. This year he also had Sgt. Parsons, police expert with the same department, as assistant.

These drivers are proud of the fact that they spent a week in becoming better drivers. The pupils, and especially the parents, are proud of the fact that they are in the hands of drivers trained in safety.

Lester's Stamps Quartet of Radio Station WVOK, Birmingham, will appear in concert at the courthouse in Clanton on Saturday night, September 23rd, the program beginning at 8 o'clock.

The concert is sponsored by the Liberty Hill singing and the quartet will remain over for the annual singing the following day, September 24.

The public is invited to attend both the concert at the courthouse and the singing at Liberty Hill.—Marvin Lowery.

COLLINS CHAPEL NEWS

Next Thursday night, September 21, a pastor will be elected for one year at Collins Chapel, according to Mrs. V. J. Littleton, Reporter, at the church. Time of meeting is 7:30.

All members are requested to be present for this important meeting.

GLASS - POURCIAU

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Glass of Clanton wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Beatrice, to Mr. Bruce Allen Pourciau of New Orleans, La. He is the grandson of Mrs. Sara Kuchler.

The wedding date will be announced later.

G.A.'s OF PROVIDENCE (BEAT 13)

We had an interesting program. We also had as our visitor Mrs. J. W. Johnson of Thorsby.

We were sorry that all of our members were not present. We hope to see every member present next time. Let's each one bring a new member if you can.—Reporter.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to express my sincere appreciation to my many friends who have been so wonderful to me during my stay in the hospital. Your gifts, cards and good wishes have meant more to me than you will ever know. There never has been a truer saying than, "A Friend in Need is a Friend Indeed." I am still in bed and would like for my friends to visit me at any time, at 525 Lamar Ave., Selma.

Sincerely,
JIM PARRISH.

Introducing Marianne

The State P.-T.A. Office introduces to the membership of the Alabama Congress, its councils, its officers and state chairmen, Mrs. Erby Dobbs, new office assistant. Marianne is a "Child" of the P.-T.A., having graduated from the Isabella High School in Chilton County in May, 1949, married in July 1949, finished her business course in May, 1950, and came to work for the P.-T.A. on May 15. Her mother was president of the Isabella P.-T.A., and is a teacher in the Chilton County schools. Our Marianne was an honor student, a member and president of the Beta Club. She has "pitched in" and is putting in many extra hours aside from the regular ones, from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.,. every week day! Interested in children, people, organization and church work, Marianne is an ideal choice for the P.-T.A. office.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs J. H. Wells, of Rt. 1, Maplesville, Ala

Auxiliary Plans Program Against Communism

Constructive measures to combat the spread of communism in the United States will be carried forward vigorously by the American Legion Auxiliary during the coming year, Mrs J. C. Parr, Americanism Chairman of Chilton County Unit No. 6 of the Auxiliary stated today as the Auxiliary continued enrollment of members for 1950-51.

"Every woman who joins the Auxiliary is casting a strong vote against Communism," Mrs. Parr said "The American Legion and Auxiliary are recognized as the number one enemies of communism in America, and are scheduled to be among the first groups liquidated if the Communists take over the country. We consider this a high honor and are doing all we can to deserve it."

Describing the Auxiliary's program of Americanism, education and pointing to the Girls' States, sponsored by the Auxiliary, as an example of how the organization is working to train good citizens for the future of America," Mrs. Parr continued.

"Communists in the United States are tightly organized and have dozens of so-called 'front' organizations to help carry out their subversive activities. Against this organized strength the individual is powerless. Only by joining together in an organization dedicated to Americanism can we successfully combat their well organized and severely disciplined activities.

"In the American Legion Auxiliary is the place where the women of war veterans' families can serve effectively to keep America American."

36 From Chilton Qualify For Military Service

Ralph Johnston New Manager At Upchurch Drug Company

After ten years at Montgomery in the drug business and three in the Armed Forces, Ralph Johnson has returned to his home town as manager and part owner of the Upchurch Drug Co.

Ralph started in the drug business with the same store while only a school boy, so he is by no means a stranger at the store or in Chilton County. His plans are to develop the store into the finest retail drug concern in Central Alabama and he says he will work to this end.

Mrs. Johnston is the former Hazel Nivens, a native of Chilton County. They have one son four years old.

REV. FOLK OF THORSBY

Rev. Sheldon Folk of Sayre, Pa., brother of Arden Folk of Thorsby, who has returned from four years mission service in Kenya Colony, East Africa, will fill the pulpit morning and evening at the Thorsby Baptist Church Sunday, October 1st. At the evening service he will use colored slides to present a pictorial outline of his interesting talk of work among the African natives. Rev. Folk is a graduate of the National Bible Institute of New York. When he returns to Africa, his wife, who is also a Missionary, will go with him.

SINGING AND HOMECOMING AT LIBERTY HILL

The annual singing and homecoming will be held at Liberty Hill Church next Sunday, September 24th. All former residents of our community and members of our church are urged to be present and enjoy the day together.

We cordially invite all singers and lovers of gospel music to come and enjoy the day with us also Lester's Stamps Quartet from Birmingham will appear in concert at the courthouse in Clanton on Saturday night, September 23rd, and will remain over for the singing.

Again we extend to all an invitation to come and spend the day with us, singing and enjoying gospel songs.—Marvin Lowery.

Want Natural Gas

It looks like Clanton wants, and will get, natural gas within the next few months.

Reports from the City Hall are to the effect that the home owners are coming in and signing up for gas service, when and if, it comes to town. It is another step toward a bigger and better Clanton.

New industry wants natural gas. The employees of new industry want, and are used to, natural gas. It is just one of the things we have been lacking to draw new industry to Clanton. We do not say it is the answer, it is only another step forward.

We have complete confidence in our City Officials. They are good businessmen, sincere in their duty to the citizens of our little city. We can rest assured if it wasn't practical to bring natural gas here men like C. Fenn Jones, James Q. Wade, R. C. Williams, Otto Jones, John Deramus, and M. J. Bates, would never have sanctioned the move.

They are all competent leaders and we are fortunate to have them in charge of our city affairs.

Why Not A Fair?

Birmingham's big Alabama State Fair, starting October 2, reminds us that Chilton County should have her own annual County Fair.

Certainly we have the material needed. We have the citizen ability. We have all the talent necessary. We have the place. All we need is that little spark of community spirit and cooperation to put it over.
Why not a Chilton County Fair?

Your Ballot Shapes Your Future

Questions vital to the future of every American will be debated and decided in Congress during the next two years. If the decisions that are made in Congress are right they can lead us to peace, instead of war; to strength, instead of weakness, and to a sound and balanced national economy, instead of to a disastrous boom and bust.

As individuals, busy with our personal daily affairs, we may be too apt to regard the hazardous world of 1950 with a helpless "what-can-I-do?" attitude. But American citizens, unlike some unfortunate peoples in other parts of the world, are NOT helpless. We are the masters of our own destiny.

The biggest decision of all is the one which we voters will make this Election Day, when we choose our Representatives and Senators. What we do then will chart the course our nation will follow in dealing with ALL of the great problems that lie ahead.

What precisely is at stake in the Congressional elections to be held this November 7? We believe that the overriding issues can be summed up in two questions.

The first question is whether President Truman's bold world leadership, which has united the free world in resistance to armed communist aggression, is to continue to have strong majority support in Congress.

The second question is whether the voters want to continue to have a coherent and progressive domestic program for the welfare of all of our people—farmers, workers, businessmen and consumers—not just of a special and privileged few.

There are many specific issues in the Congressional elections, but all of them are summed up in these two big questions.

We have no doubt that the overwhelming answer of the people of this country is a resounding "yes" to both. But that answer will be made effectively only if all those who enjoy the right to vote take the small trouble that is required to exercise that right.

Every citizen must realize that he cannot afford to sit this one out and wait for the presidential election in 1952. Our national peril is so great right now, and world events are moving so fast, that our destiny may be shaped by the events of the next two years.

As citizens of a free and democratic nation, you owe it to yourself, to your country, and to your world, to make your choice in the fateful decisions of the next two years.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

Ott Miller at the Credit Bureau of Clanton tells us the big city operators have nothing on him when it comes to complete mailing lists for their customers. Lately some of them have been advertising complete automobile owner lists. Ott says he has them too. He has completed real estate owner lists and these he will gladly furnish for a small fee. The Credit Bureau of Clanton has filled a need in the business life of Clanton and Chilton County, and Ott is to be congratulated for his contribution toward the growth of our community.

The School Bus Driver that makes the run out south of town on Route 2, has an eye, or ear we should say, for business. Each morning as he drives south to start picking up the school kids he blows his horn ever so often. He's waking them up and telling them he will be back in a little while so "get ready." It's sort of a warning to begin to start to get ready to go.

A newspaperman is always griping about something, so last week we griped about the parking space in front of the post office. When we drove by the post office as we went to work next morning there wasn't a single automobile parked in front of the building. Mrs. Zora Guy Smith was standing in front announcing the fact and informing us that we had nothing to gripe about—there was plenty of parking space. We didn't say a word. Just tucked our gripe between our laigs and got our mail.

"Tuck," our high school reporter, will be with us starting next week. He spent the summer vacation traveling and made most of the 48 states. He's back now and ready to go, so we will be getting the low down on the higher ups at CCHS, starting Thursday, September 28th.

Clantons Police Department is overworked and under'paid. That is if we are to judge by other police departments and other salaries in related occupations. Seventy-two hours a week is too many hours for regular employment over a long period. A man couldn't possibly do his best work keeping those kind of hours day in and day out, or night in and night out, whichever the case may be. Seems to me as orderly a group of citizens as we have in Clanton we could let two policemen work eight hour shifts and thus increase efficiency without costing the City any added salaries. Also give the poor guys on the force a little time for relaxation. Now that we have told the powers that be how to operate the Police Force we will retire to our knitting.

Gripe, gripe, gripe. Always griping.

How Mother Nature Heals

THERE'S A PLACE up in Vermont called Journey's End, where people get just about made over. Mrs. Herbert W. Warden, Jr., of Rutland, Vermont, told me of a man who was sent there from a hospital in Canada. His name was Toby Carl.

Toby Carl was a British officer in the submarine service during the war. He had never been to America before, and when he arrived at Journey's End after five years of service, he was worn out, nervous, jittery, virtually beside himself.

He told of harrowing experiences for he couldn't seem to shake off the memories of them. The sister ship which furnished supplies for his ship was torpedoed; they had expected the same fate for they were plying the waters around Norway. For months on end, their food supply was very low. The men lost weight, became irritable, nervous, fearful. And all this had told on Officer Toby Carl.

Carnegie

One day he was asked what he would like to do. "By George," came the surprising reply, "I'd like to go out and plant trees."

"Well, there they are, hundreds and hundreds of acres of trees in the back woods; go help yourself," he was told, everyone happy that he had found something that would interest him.

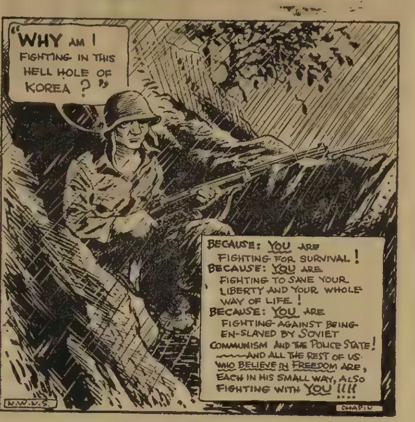
And so he dug up trees from one place and planted them in another. Day after day, he kept at it. And day after day he improved physically and mentally.

And he was left alone to do it his own way. Perhaps the trees should have been spaced differently, set here and there, but Toby Carl placed them where he wanted to, and that was in solid rows where you will see them if you go to Rutland and visit Journey's End.

Mrs. Warden has told us this story as a reminder to anyone reading this who may be nervous, overwrought, for it is such a good example of what Mother Nature will do for you if you give her a chance.

As to Officer Toby Carl, after a year he went away, back to Britain, virtually made over because he found something to do in working with nature.

QUESTION AND ANSWER



"WHY AM I FIGHTING IN THIS HELL HOLE OF KOREA ?"
BECAUSE: YOU ARE FIGHTING FOR SURVIVAL!
BECAUSE: YOU ARE FIGHTING TO SAVE YOUR LIBERTY AND YOUR WHOLE WAY OF LIFE!
BECAUSE: YOU ARE FIGHTING AGAINST BEING EN-SLAVED BY SOVIET COMMUNISM AND THE POLICE STATE!
——AND ALL THE REST OF US WHO BELIEVE IN FREEDOM ARE, EACH IN HIS SMALL WAY, ALSO FIGHTING WITH YOU!!!!

Prayer

Prayer is making the sincere desire of the heart known to God in the act of worship. Jesus said that, "Men ought to always pray and not to faint." If men would pray more, they would faint less. For in prayer to God we gain spiritual strength, courage, and faith to do His Will. Through prayer our burdens grow lighter and the yoke easier. Men feed their natural bodies two and three times every day; why not do the same thing for the spiritual part of man? The innerman needs feeding. David said, "Evening, morning, and at noon will I pray and cry aloud to God." Daniel had the habit of praying three times a day.

A. T. HICKMAN

John the Baptist taught his disciples to pray; and so did Jesus teach His Diciples to pray. Prayer is not a sign of weakness, but a sign of great faith in God. Those who know Him, put their trust in Him, and putting their trust in Him they pray to God, in the Name of Jesus.

Some Bible characters are known for certain things; for instance, Job was noted for his patience; Moses noted for his humility; Solomon noted for his wisdom and riches; David for his ability to sing God's praises; Paul is noted for his great preaching ability. Elijah was noted for his ability to pray. Though he was a man subject to like passion as we are, yet he prayed for it not to rain, and it rained not on the earth for three years and six months; and he prayed, and the heavens gave rain.. When men are noted for certain things which they do well, then we may learn from them.

So Elijah gives us an example in prayer. If you will study the prayer life of Elijah you will find he always prayed in humility. He would cast himself down upon the ground, putting his face between his knees. This indicated his humility before God. A proud and haughty spirit God despises, but He is near them who are of a broken and contrite spirit, such is a great price in His sight.

Then Elijah always prayed for something definite. He asked for rain when rain was needed. He asked for it not to rain when a drought was needed. When he wanted fire to prove to the prophets of Baal the reality of God, he was definite in his asking, and prayed for the fire. And he would always hold on till the answer came Never become discouraged, the answer is on the way. Ye shall reap in due season, if you faint not. Daniel prayed for 21 days, he did not stop till the answer came.

INFANTILE DRIVERS

Seven types of drivers who have never matured emotionally cause many traffic accidents, according to an article in a recent issue of Today's Health. These infantile driver's types and their behavior patterns are described by Marion Gleason, research assistant for the department of pharmacology and toxicology at the University of Rochester, N. Y. They are as follows:

1. The person who hasn't outgrown the childhood conviction that his wants come first. His parents always sacrificed their own convenience and pleasure to accommodate him. Now he is the middle-of-the-road driver, the double-parker, the horn-blower at intersections.

2. The person who was taught as a child to obey without thinking. He becomes the driver who obeys signals from other drivers automatically and may drive into intersections or pass other automobiles without thought of other traffic.

3. The pampered type frequently is a well-groomed and charming woman. As a child she could get what she wanted by fluttering her lashes and shaking her curls, and she uses the same technique with policemen to get away with parking by fire hydrants and driving through stop lights. She rarely has an accident but causes many traffic tangles and occasionally serious crashes.

4. This type was bullied by older brothers and sisters and is the really dangerous driver. He works out his old resentments by speeding and sideswiping other autos.

5. Drivers who were overprotected or severly dominated as children account for a large number of serious traffic accidents. Usually in their late teens or early twenties, they find undertaking responsible adult life difficult. They are show-offs, daredevils, lawbreakers.

6. The type who was allowed to get by with wrongdoing. The childhood feeling of guilt may lead them from bad to worse conduct in an unconscious search for guidance they never received. They accept tickets and pay fines cheerfully. The traffic ticket takes the place of a spanking which the child wanted but never had.

7. The type who was poor and had to make secondhand textbooks and used bicycles do. He has to prove to himself that his standard-make model will get there just as fast as the most expensive custom-made automobile. Although he speeds, he is alert and rarely has an accident. The accidents he causes are those of trembling witnesses after he is half a mile up the road.

$500 Gift Scholarship

University, Ala. — Announcement of the offering of a $500 scholarship to a student in the University of Alabama's new School of Nursing by Pilot International, District 2, was made today.

Dr. John M. Gallalee, University president, and Dean Florence A. Hixson of the School of Nursing, accepted the scholarship for the School of Nursing from Miss Sicily Raley, Andalusia, Pilot district governor.

Miss Raley announced that the scholarship is being established by the 27 Pilot clubs in Alabama in behalf of the organization's continuing interest and promotion of health education and activities in the state.

The Pilot district governor also pointed out that several members of clubs in the state had served on the statewide committee which was instrumental in having a School of Nursing established.

The scholarship, which this year will carry a $500 stipend, will be awarded to an Alabama girl for study in the School of Nursing. Plans are to make this an annual gift grant.

Applications for the scholarship should be directed to the Dean, School of Nursing, University of Alabama, University, Ala.

In accepting the scholarship in behalf of the University of Alabama, Dr. Gallalee said, "The University of Alabama deeply appreciates the interest of Pilot International, District 2, in our new School of Nursing and we are grateful for the Pilots' offer to establish a scholarship for an Alabama student in this new school. It is especially encouraging to us here at the University to have our work in nursing education recognized at its outset by Pilot International and to have this group provide a scholarship for a student in the School of Nursing's first class."

Pilot International is a classified service club for business and professional women.

Celebrates Birthday At School—

Joey Morris. son of Col. and Mrs. E. J. Morris, was nine years old on Tuesday, September 19th, and he celebrated this occasion with his classmates at school, after school hours. There was a beautifully decorated large birthday cake holding a candle for each of Joey's years. The honoree's mother served the cake with ice cream and punch to the 35 of Joey's classmates and his teacher, Mrs. Gordon Thompson, and his father.

Recent Bride Honored—

A miscellaneous shower, complimenting Mrs. Austin Henley (nee Frances Nelson), was given last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. W. Robinson with Mrs. Milton Diefenderfer, co-hostess. Beautiful arrangements of gladiolas were used to adorn the home. Games were enjoyed during the afternoon. Many lovely gifts were received by the bride. Presiding at the bride's book was Mrs. Myrtle Patterson. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. H. A. Henley, Mrs. Clifton Duke and Mrs. G. W. Robinson. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Joe Howards of Sylacauga, Mrs Georgia Hendrix and Mrs. Charlie Robinson of Birmingham. Mrs. Joe Bowman of Prattville.

Entertains At Camp—

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bell entertained the officers and directors of the Hardware Association of Alabama and their families at a spend-the-day party Sunday at their camp on Blue Creek. A delicious picnic lunch was served. During the afternoon boating, fishing and swimming were enjoyed.

Guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Watson, of Atmore, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Andrews and daughter, of Jackson, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Boyton and children, of Talladega; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Calloway and children, of Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey and daughter, of Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wilcoxin and children, of Tuskegee; Mr. and Mrs. Silas Martin, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Silas Martin, Jr., all of Wetumpka; Martha and Henry Bell, children of the host and hostess.

THIS WEEK IN Washington

THE REGULAR WORK of the 81st congress is now a matter of history. Unless the law-makers are called into session again before the convening of the 82nd congress in January, many in both house and senate will have greeted their colleagues for the last time . . . for many will not be back in the ensuing congress.

* * *

Highlight of this week was final agreement in conference on the huge omnibus appropriations bill carrying a total of $36,153,600,425 in cash, contract and borrowing authority. As finally agreed upon by the conference committee, the bill shows a total reduction of $2,298,757,723 under the budget estimate, which includes a fixed amount of $550,000,000 to be cut from the provisions of the bill by the budget bureau. This provision is a compromise from the Byrd amendment which provided the President should make a 10 per cent across-the-board-cut.

The bill carries a total of $33,934,455,425 in direct appropriations; $2,170,145,000 in contract authority and $599,000,000 in borrowing authority. This latter figure is authority to borrow that amount by REA and the farm home administration in the department of agriculture.

* * *

Aside from the additional $16,000,000,000 which President Truman is asking for military appropriations, the chief executive likely will ask for some additional items before congress gets away. These might include $139,000,000 for emergency government agency dispersal in case of atomic attack; $13,740,000 for space outside of Washington for 44,000 office workers to make room for defense agencies; $475,000 for science foundation; $24,000,000 for Voice of America over funds already approved; $60,000,000 for administration of mobilization program; $1,860,000 for administration of civil service commission loyalty program; $3,760,000 for collecting new social security taxes; $76,700 for expanding secret service and $7,500,000 for Alaskan roadbuilding.

* * *

Since the oppropriations measure sets no time when the mandatory $62,000,000 loan to Franco Spain is to be made, opinion here is that President Truman will conveniently "forget" about the loan.

Congressman Andrew J. Biemiller of Wisconsin charges the defeat of the measure to provide $75,000,000 for dental and medical schools so they could train more students than they are now doing over a five-year period was due to lobbying activities of the American Medical association.

The house has passed a bill prohibiting the transportation of slot machines or other gambling devices in interstate commerce except to states where gambling is legal. The bill is aimed at machines which pay off in cash "or property."

* * *

The house also passed the subversive control bill which was sponsored by the un-American activities committee of which Congressman John Wood of Georgia is chairman. In so doing the house turned down the White House-sponsored bill which was criticized from the floor as being too mild.

Vote was 354 to 20 and, as it went to the senate, it provided that no government employee could give information affecting security to any agent of a foreign power or member of a Communist organization; prohibits a foreign agent or member of a Communist organition from government employ in non-elective offices; prohibits a member of a Communist organization from seeking such a job without revealing his membership; prohibits a government employee from giving money or services to a Communist organization; prohibits Communists from holding jobs in defense plants; prohibits a Communist from applying for or using a passport; prohibits sending through mails any Communist literature unless it is so labeled; denies income-tax exemptions for contributions to Communist organizations; establishes a five-man subversive board to determine which organizations are Communist - action or Communist - front groups; requires both such groups to register their officers with the attorney general; requires all members of Communist-action groups to register; makes registrations public.

Ought To "Polish Up" Her Traffic Manners!

Spent most of yesterday over at the Court House. "Tiny" Fields, the biggest and fastest-talking of our three policemen, was holding forth about his traffic troubles.

"Women drive just as good as men do," Tiny said, "and just as bad. For instance—a girl in a convertible today. She started a three-block tie-up all by herself.

"She's creeping down Main Street—left hand stuck out and sort of waving around. Never turns right or left, never stops. But, of course, everyone behind her thinks she's signaling about something. Nobody dares to pass. When I stop her and ask what's up, she smiles sweetly and explains that she's drying her nail polish!"

From where I sit, that girl's typical of certain folks who are so wrapped up in themselves, they never notice they're not being fair to others. Our neighbor has a right to drive in safety—just as he has a right to enjoy a glass of beer. Let's all respect the other fellow's rights.

CONCRETE STREETS ARE ECONOMICAL

Concrete streets usually cost less to build than other pavements of equal load-carrying capacity. They serve longer because they are more durable. They cost much less to maintain. That makes them true low-annual-cost pavements. Inasmuch as you pay the bill for paving your streets, be sure you get the most for your money. Insist on dependable, low-annual-cost concrete pavement.

Maplesville News

Monday afternoon of this week we noticed that one of the Maplesville policemen was chasing a speeding car out of town, also noted that the speeding car was stopped. We did not learn who the driver of the speeding car was. This is only the beginning of the campaign that is now on to stop the speeding which is so dangerous.

Church News—

The Methodist Church has organized a Methodist Youth Fellowship group for the children of the church.

Recently the children, with their leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baugh and Mrs. J. W. Guinn, enjoyed a picnic at the Clanton Park, after which they enjoyed skating at Clanton's skating rink. The children included in this happy party were: Carolyn Smitherman, Levon Gandy, Laura Ann Dennis, Minnie Evelyn and Betty Ruth Williams. Laura Ann Dennis is secretary for the M.Y.F. Group.

Members of the Young Adult Class of the Baptist Training Union enjoyed a barbecue supper at the Nix Lake last Thursday night. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chambers, Mrs. Ruth Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Giles, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Graham, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Chambers, Mrs. Hazel Dennis, Miss Elizabeth Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Owens and Rev. and Mrs. Evan Johnson.

Fourteen members of the Baptist W.M.U. met at the church Monday afternoon for a Missionary program. Mrs. Daisy Littlejohn gave an inspiring devotional on, "He That Readeth." Topics from the Royal Service were discussed by Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Mrs. Robert Chambers, Mrs. Eugene Hathcock, Mrs. Ruth Hubbard and Mrs. Sara Mitchell.

Everyone remember to be present next Monday afternoon for the mission study, taught by Mrs. Rube Bearden. We were very happy to have in attendance at the W.M.U. meeting Mrs. Mattie Foshee who has been absent for some time on account of illness.

School News—

Thursday night of next week, September 28th, the P.-T.A. will meet at the school auditorium. Every one is urged to attend and help to make this year the best ever for the Maplesville School.

The opening football game of the season last Friday night here was enjoyed by a record crowd. Highland Homes team defeated the Maplesville Red Devils by a score of 13-7. Although Coach Kelley wanted his team to win, he must have been pleased with the good playing of his team. One of the sparkles of the game noticed by the spectators was the vicious tackles of the Maplesville backs as they downed the passing receivers of the Highland team. The Coach probably expects a tough game in the season's second against Bibb County High, at Centreville Friday night of this week. However, we're expecting Maplesville to win the victory.

Goings and Comings—

Mrs. Frankie Seals is spending the week in Clanton with Mrs. L. C. Keen.

Visiting recently here with Mrs. W. W. Kelley and Mrs. Pearl Williams was Mrs. Ola Jeter of Talladega, Ala. Mrs. Jeter also visited her brother, Mr. Ira Kelley, at Poole's Crossroads near Clanton.

Mrs. Sam Yarchin (Mary Lou Snead), and two children of California, Mr. and Mrs. Carson Snead, of Columbus, Miss., were in Maplesville Monday visiting relatives. Major Yarchin has been transferred from California to Fort Worth, Texas, by the Army. Mrs. Yarchin and children will join him there where they will reside for an indefinite time.

Miss Eula Mae Chandler of Pletcher was guest of Miss Louise Sims last Sunday.

Mrs. W. W. Kelley and son, Fred L. Kelley, spent last week end in Birmingham with relatives, while there Fred L. was under the care of a throat specialist. His many friends are wishing for him a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Mary Lee Glass returned home last week after spending a few days in Birmingham with her sister, Mrs. Johnny Davis, who underwent an operation. A few days after Mrs. Glass returned home she received a message that her sister was carried back to the hospital for further treatment. Mrs. Glass is at this time back again in Birmingham with her sister. Her friends here are hoping her condition isn't serious.

After the summer vacation here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Kenneth Johnson has returned to Talladega, Ala., to resume his studies at the School for the Deaf.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sims of Prattville were here for the week end last week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Sims.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Smith and son of Isabella Community attended worship service at the Baptist Church and visited their mother, Mrs. Emma Smith.

Attending worship service at Pilgrim's Rest Church last Sunday night were Mr. Gordon Crocker, Miss Louise Sims, Mr. Curtis Sims and Miss Eula Mae Chandler.

Mr. and Mrs. "Sharp" Atcheson of Montgomery, Ala., spent last Sunday here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Atcheson.

Mrs. Rube Bearden and daughter, Mishie, spent last Friday with Mrs. Lucile Houston in Stanton, Ala.

A welcome visitor to Maplesville last week was Mr. I. M. Hicks of New Jersey. He met a lot of old friends and schoolmates for the first time in about 35 years. Mr. and Mrs. Hicks are visiting brothers, Messrs. Joe and John Hicks; sisters, Mrs. Mary Smitherman and Mrs. Inez Cleveland. It is always a very happy occasion when we meet schoolmates of many years past.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Catherine Goff suffered a fractured foot last week. She was under a physician's care in a Selma hospital a few days last week. Mrs. Goff was able to return to her mother's home here last Saturday. Her friends hope she will soon be able to walk again.

Mrs. Betty Jeffcoat is away this week with her daughter, Mrs. Bessie Tucker, in Columbiana, Ala.

Visiting here last week with Mrs. Moody Chambers were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. McArrell, of Brent, Ala., and brother, Doyle McArrell, of Ashville, Ala. Mrs. Chambers honored her parents while here with a birthday dinner.

Hey, folks! Please give us your happenings. Some are very modest and do not want their names in the paper, or is it false modesty? If everyone felt that way we would not have any news. The cooperation of many is wonderful and appreciated.

RUFUS HUNTER JOINS UNITED STATES AIR FORCE

Rufus W. Hunter of Clanton, Ala., chose a career in the U. S. Air Force when he was accepted for enlistment at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station in Clanton, Ala., last week.

He immediately entrained for Fort Jackson, S. C., where he will receive his basic training.

Prior to enlistment Recruit Hunter was a clerk for the A. & P. Tea Company in Clanton.

St. Stephens was the territorial capital of Alabama. Huntsville was the temporary capital, and Cahaba was the first capital.

IN MEMORY OF THE LATE BEN F. VINES

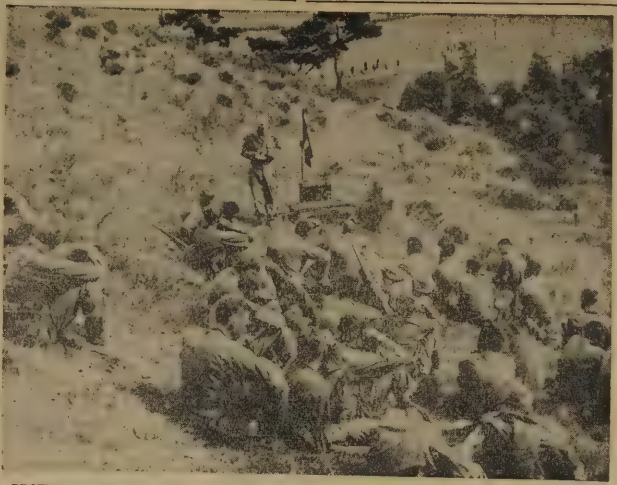
The world may change from year to year,
Our lives from day to day,
The loving memories of you, dear,
Shall never fade away.
We always sit and think of you,
And of the way you died;
That when you left you couldn't say, goodbye.
The blow was hard, the shock severe.
We never thought your death so near.
Only those who have lost can tell,
The pain of parting without farewell.

Sadly missed by,
Wife, Son, and Daughter.

CHILD WELFARE PROGRAM AIDED BY FEDERAL GRANT

Montgomery, Ala. — Child health and welfare services in Alabama will be $664,000 better off during the next year, due to a recent grant from the Federal Security Agency. The total grant is for $1,252,000, beginning July 1, 1951. The increase came about from recent changes made by Congress in the Social Security law.

The money will be distributed as follows: $453,000 for maternal and child health services; $541,000 for crippled children; $349,000 for child welfare.



PROTESTANT SERVICE HELD IN KOREAN FRONT LINES . . . Capt. Emanuel Carlsen of Cliffside Park, N. J., chaplain of the 1st cavalry division's 7th regiment, holds a service for Protestant G.I.'s within sight of the front lines somewhere in Korea.

MRS. WILLIE N. CULPEPPER

Mrs. Willie Nell Culpepper, age 26, Rt. 1, Verbena, died in a Montgomery hospital Friday, September 15th. Funeral services were held at Bethsalem Church at 3:00 p.m. Sunday, conducted by the Revs. P. M. Grey, R. E. Wilkins and J. I. Bice.

She is survived by her husband, Floyd Culpepper; parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cox; six brothers—Earl, Charles, Aubrey, T. J., and Billie Frank Cox of Billingsley and Robert Cox of Montgomery; three sisters—Mrs. Celestia McGee of Billingsley, Mrs. Ruby Hamm of Montgomery and Mrs. Gladys Carter of Prattville.

Pallbearers were: John Cox, Jr., Shelton Owens, Calvin Wilkins, Edsel Wilkins, Cleveland Manning and Leon McCord.

Honorary pallbearers were: Warren King, Charles Owens, Bernard Johnson, Cecil Cox, William Wilkins, Clyde McCord and James Owens.

Spigener Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

CANE CREEK

Our services Sunday and Sunday night were good. The rain caused the attendance to be small.

We are sorry that Mrs. Ellen Thomas was sick and unable to be with us Sunday and Sunday night, for she is so much help to us in our church work. We are sorry to have to give up Rev. Jadie Thomas and Mrs. Thomas, but they thought it best to go to another church. They have been so faithful and ready to help in any way. But we wish them the best of luck in their new field. All the children loved Mrs. Thomas.

We welcome Bro. Elba Deason to our church.

Our new teachers and officers will take charge of the classes soon. We want to make our Sunday School better and it takes everyone to help to make it better. The delegates were elected Sunday night to go to the Association.

Mr. Jim Willis is doing nicely at this writing.

Our sympathy goes out to the family of Mrs. Lizzie Martin, also to Mr. Clyde Moates' family.

We want all the children and older people to come to Sunday School each Sunday.

Rev. Thomas was dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Jones Sunday.

We want each one to come and help in our church work and our new pastor, and show him that we appreciate him

We want Bro. Thomas and wife to visit our church any time. May the Lord bless them in their new field.

TRACTORS IMPORTANT IN PLANTING WINTER LEGUMES

Tractors are makng a big change in the use of winter legumes for soil improvement. Farmers with tractors and those who can get tractor service are able to plant much more of their land to winter legumes.

Tractors make it possible for producers to plant legumes rapidly in the fall. Then when turning time comes, they run the tractors day and night to prepare the land for planting row crops on time.

Many farmers who can get their corn and cotton harvested by the middle of October are broadcasting fertilizer and seed; cutting the stalks, and covering with tractor equipment.

Another part tractors play is preparing the land for winter grazing mixtures of such cover crops as crimson clover and rye grass or oats or vetch and oats. With machines better land preparation can be done, and more acres of these crops can be planted.

MARINE CORPS RECRUITING OFFICE ANNOUNCES NEW HOURS

The Marine Corps Recruiting Office in Room 316, Post Office Building, Montgomery, Ala., will now be open six full days each week, it was announced today by M-Sgt. C. H. Kirkham, NCO in charge of recruiting in this area.

In addition to this, Sgt. Kirkham continued, the Marine Corps Office will be open until 8:00 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays of each week.

Previously the Marine Corps Offices were open on Sundays. This policy is no longer in effect.

The additional working hours on Tuesdays and Thursdays are necessary, Kirkham said, for the convenience of the men who are unable to call at the Marine Corps Recruiting Office during normal working hours.

Move pullets out of the brooder house onto an open field of alfalfa, clover, or lespedeza to get them away from parasites spread by adult chickens. Supply pullets with plenty of feed and fresh water and protect them from predators.

Thomas Hayes is sowing 10 acres of button bur clover with oats for winter grazing and future seed production.

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

Paul, World Evangelist

Lesson for September 24: Acts 26: 9-20

Memory Selection: I Corinthians 2: 2

PAUL, native of Tarsus, came of a Jewish family that had acquired Roman citizenship. Well educated, and fluent in Greek, which was used throughout the Roman empire, he was admirably fitted to become the Apostle to the Gentiles.

After being set upon in Jerusalem by a Jewish mob, and being sent by Roman authorities to Caesarea for his own safety, he despaired of justice from the Roman governor, and appealed unto Caesar and was eventually sent to Rome. Meanwhile, King Agrippa and Bernice came on a state visit to Festus, who had succeeded Felix as governor. They desired to see Paul and he was brought before them. The lesson text is a part of his defence.

Paul gave a brief history of his life and recounted in full his vision on the Damascus road, when the risen Lord appeared unto him and commissioned him as an Apostle to the Gentiles. And he stoutly maintained that he had not been "disobedient unto the heavenly vision." The world has learned how truly Paul spoke that day.

The first to see Christianity as a world religion, Paul, in the course of several missionary journeys and in his labors in chief cities of the Roman Empire, made Christianity a religion for all men. We are thankful for his great service to mankind. Let us each make sure of redeemed life through the Christ Paul proclaims.

Poultrymen find they cannot provide green grazing crops for extra large flocks of hens if they allow them to graze. The birds destroy the plants by grazing too close to the ground. This problem can be solved by cutting and feeding about five pounds of green crop to each 100 hens every day. In just a few minutes, enough green feed can be cut with a regular lawn mower to feed several hundred hens.

Good green crops supply chickens with most of the vitamins they need. These crops also cut the cost of growing pullets. And a healthy pullet produced economically is the first essential of a profitable laying flock.

PERSONNEL BOARD GRANTS MILITARY LEAVE TO STATE WORKERS

Montgomery, Ala. — All state employees who are called into service will be given a 21 day pay, it was announced this week by the State Personnel Board. This means 21 working days, which in effect, would constitute an entire month's salary.

The legislature paved the way for all state employees who are called into active duty to retain their job status with the state.

Personnel Director Charles Terry said that under the present draft regulations there is a likelihood that 560 men will be taken into service; and if the age is increased to 35, 447 more likely will go.

He also pointed out that probably that many women will also leave their state jobs to look for higher paying jobs, to live elsewhere with their husbands in service, and some to join the service.

Have plenty of green feed for growing pullets—and keep them on land where chickens have not been for two years. The amount of bought feed can be reduced 20 per cent or more if pullets have all the green feed they can eat.

YOUR FIRST STEP in washing a sweater comes when the sweater is new. Outline on paper that can be used as a guide for shaping the sweater after it's washed.

Sweaters are washed best before they're too soiled, and one sweater at a time. Remove fancy buttons or trimmings.

Test the water for its lukewarm temperature by dropping on the wrist. If you can't feel the water, the temperature is correct. Squeeze the sweater through the water, working quickly and gently. Dry flat in an airy place.

Sweaters don't stand for soaking, vigorous rubbing, twisting or wringing, up and down dousing or drying near heat or in the sun.

Keep the sweater under the water while washing. Even in taking from the water, lift from below so the weight of the water does not pull it from shape.

If you're in a hard water area, use softened water or a detergent for washing. Soap in hard water gets locked in the knit and is very difficult to remove.

A soft hand brush dipped into mild suds is good pre-washing treatment for sweater necklines and soil on long sleeve cuffs.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Spareribs with Applesauce
(Serves 6)

- 1 onion, sliced
- ½ cup melted fat
- 4 cups sauerkraut
- 1 bay leaf
- 2 cloves
- 3 pounds spareribs, cut in 6 pieces
- 2 cups water
- 1 cup applesauce

Saute onion in melted fat until soft but not brown. Add to sauerkraut. Spread half of sauerkraut in bottom of greased casserole; place spareribs on top; sprinkle with salt, pepper and a little flour. Add bay leaf and cloves, cover with remaining sauerkraut and water. Cover pan and cook in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 1 hour or until spareribs are tender. Remove ribs when done. Mix applesauce into sauerkraut, return to oven until heated through. Serve mound of applesauerkraut topped with spareribs.

IN MEMORY OF NELL CULPEPPER

Nell was called away on Friday, September 15th, at 5:30 a.m. A very dear one from us has gone, her place cannot be filled, but we can go to meet her, which is submissive to God's Will.

Heaven's gate swung open and a sweet loving voice was heard, it was the dear Lord calling for Nell to come home. The Lord loved Nell and needed her to make Heaven more brighter and to show her friends and loved ones the way, so we, too, need to let the Master lead us in His good and loving way. He can use us in His service while we live in this world we know, how we need His presence near us, since Nell has gone away.

How she suffered we shall never know, yet she bore her sorrows with a smile in a kind loving way How we shall ever miss her no words can ever convey, but Heaven is nearer since Nell has gone away Words can't ever express our love for Nell, yet a token of love they will be because we loved her so.—A Cousin Who Loved Her, Gertie M. Yeargan.

SPORTS CORNER

All in the Game:

RAY SCARBOROUGH, White Sox burler, has been rough this year on pennant contenders, especially the Yankees . . . The irony of it all is that the Yankees tried to buy Scarborough during trading season . . . Bob Lemon faced the 1950 campaign as the only pitcher who had known two 20-win seasons—1948 and 1949 . . . Frank Thomas is back on the job as graduate manager at Alabama . . . Fencing has been resumed in west Berlin with permission of French authorities . . . Johnny Mize thinks Georgia players last longer in the majors . . . The Red Sox, with the supreme hitters of the AL, have second-class pitching and fielding . . . Villanova faces the 1950 grid campaign with only two veterans of the top-flight 1949 starting eleven . . . Connie Mack has won nine pennants . . . Joe Garagiola, injured catcher of the Cards, thinks the Reds' Ewell Blackwell is the best pitcher in baseball . . . Billy Jurges, playing short for the Giants, went 12 innings without an official chance.

Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox slugger, who has been out of the game since an elbow operation, displays two bass he caught in Maine. He probably won't return to baseball this year. He was hurt in all-star game.

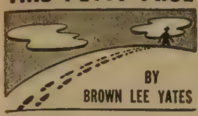
THIS PETTY PACE



BY
BROWN LEE YATES

WE'VE LAUGHED long enough at poor relations. Even the fellow putting the bite on a rich uncle has turned a joke against a poorer nephew to help the bite along. It's time a little of the humor were turned against rich relations.

Inconvenience suffered from penniless kinsmen was laughed at by Charles Lamb in "Poor Relations." He wrote from the viewpoint of a son of wealth recollecting with distaste the presence in his father's house of a poor cousin whose queerness had to be explained to other guests. Lamb was a big phony. He was a lowly clerk in a business house, forced to keep accounts astride a high stool. He was just another hypocrite who enjoyed snickering at the dress and manners of a fellow made peculiar by poverty.

LET'S LAUGH with Lamb if we're so calloused. But wiser people will save their snickering for the rich man who calls upon a poor relative. Imagine the bankrupt invaded by an opulent kinsman who tosses a few crumbs his way occasionally. Picture the beggar with a few of the boys over to play pinochle trying to explain the arrogant gentleman who struts into the parlor wearing Fifth avenue clothes and swinging a cane. Pleasure flees and talk becomes forced.

Someone mentions a casting rod the host blew a sum on. The rich man lifts an eyebrow and sniffs at the idea of the beggar wasting time fishing. He disdains the ragged chair offered him. "I just dropped in," he says, "to see if your wife and kids were hungry." He makes a ritual of presenting a castoff suit, a cheap dress and a soup bone to the master of the house.

WHEN THE RICH GUY announces departure, the host, out of respect, must see him to the car. The pinochle players follow to see what the old eccentric will do next. He pokes his cane at the foundation of the house, suggesting immediate collapse of the structure. He turns a jaundiced eye upon the roof, recalling an old axiom about dry weather being the time to repair leaky roofs.

When he has gone, the resourceful pauper explains to his guests: "They're pretty kind to Uncle George over at the poor house. Let him out about every afternoon."

Gov. William Wyatt Bibb, in his first message to Alabama's first legislature in 1819, told them, "The principal parts of the capitol building are to be finished for nine thousand dollars." He was referring to the capitol at Cahaba.

a peek at THE STARS

By LYN CONNELLY

TONY MARTIN, who recently broke all post-war records at the famous Cocoanut Grove, just signed to make a movie co-starring Janet Leigh . . . Incidentally, Tony heads the male vocalist list so far as record sales are concerned . . . With his singing better than ever, a new (and first) son born to him and beautiful wife, Cyd Charisse, records selling like mad and movie roles at last coming his way, Tony is really riding the crest of success these days and it couldn't happen to a nicer guy.

"Take It Or Leave It" drops that title and will be known this season as "The $64 Question" with Jack Paar continuing his fine job as emcee . . . Comic Steve Allen, subbing for Dennis Day this summer, may continue in the fall with his own network show for the same sponsor . . . Jack Benny is scheduled to do his first television show at the end of October . . . According to current plans, it is understood, he will do one TV show every eight weeks there after . . . No time has as yet been assigned for the series . . . "Kukla, Fran and Ollie" will be available on RCA records soon . . . which is good news to those people with TV sets and a pleasant experience in store for those who do not own them.

HAPPY TALK

Rex Stout's famous mystery character, "Nero Wolfe" may come to life on the NBC airlanes this fall . . . Axel Stordahl and Frank Sinatra are back together again (this friendship has been as rocky as Frankie's marriage which is also reported near a third mend) . . . Axel will be the conductor on the Sinatra TV show over CBS . . . Morton Downey's new TV show, "That's My Kid" will feature interviews with guest celebrities and their off-spring . . . NBC has auditioned "Flying Tigers," a new adventure series based on the current war situation.

Eddie Cantor, who starts a once-a-month TV show this month, is against studio audiences and predicts that within five years all audiences will be banned from the studios . . . It is his contention that a live audience "kills" a show for home listeners and viewers . . . Yet he is going strong after 20 years of studio audiences.

ISABELLA

B.T.U. meets at Mulberry at 6:30 p.m. instead of 7:00 p.m. Next Sunday is our regular preaching and promotion day. Officers for the incoming year will be elected. We are expecting a large congregation.

The revival at Isabella closed last Friday night after a week of good services, with the pastor and a visiting minister doing the preaching.

Mrs. E. S. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Jones and Triny, visited Mrs. Charlie Cooper at Columbus, Ga., last week. They reported her improving nicely from her recent illness and operation.

Mrs. J. H. Sweet continues ill at her home at the Walker residence. She enjoys having visitors.

Floy Hayes and Arthur Tucker, who are at work in north Alabama, spent the week end at home recently with their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. O'neal Turner of Pensacola, Fla., spent several days here with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pressley Turner, and sister, Mrs. Gladys Calfee.

Mrs. R. W. Stuckey is improving at her home after her recent illness. Mrs. A. A. Reid of Montgomery is staying with her this week.

The Tuckers spent the day in Montgomery Sunday with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Hank Plemmons.

This community extends its congratulations to Lloyd Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Jones, and Marilyn Bean, daughter of Mrs. Verna Bean, of Clanton, who were married Thursday, September 14th.

Mr. and Mrs. Erskine Franks and baby who have been living in Mrs. Manning's apartment, moved to Clanton in the home with the latter's parents.

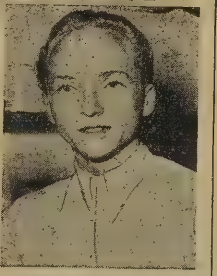
Birthday Dinner—

Mr. Curtis Lecroy's family celebrated his birthday at his home Sunday. All the children, grandchildren and great grand child were present. They were:

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lecroy, Charleen and Charles, of Marion, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lecroy, Alton and Doris; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Lecroy, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Calfee, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lecroy, Betty Gale and Ellis; Mr and Mrs. Otis Lecroy and Tommie Louise; Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Lecroy and Margaret, of Isabella and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Calfee and Wayne, of Clanton.

Plans had been made to spread lunch under the shade trees in the back yard, but on account of rain the lunch was served in the dining room.

The day was spent talking and chattering among each other. In the afternoon some relatives and friends called. They were Mrs. Fannie Morris, of Ensley; Mrs. Emma Manning, Miss Catha Conway, Mrs. Flossie Wells and Arthur Lecroy of Isabella.



OFFERS EYE . . . This German, known as "B," is offering his right eye to any U. S. soldier blinded in the late war in return for entry into this country.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. NELL CULPEPPER

In memory of our dear daughter and wife, who passed away Friday a.m., September 15th, 1950. Oh, how we miss her. She is gone, but not forgotten. We thank all the friends, neighbors and relatives for the kind sympathy and loving deeds shown us in time of sorrow, and all the flowers. Thanks to the Liberty Hill Quartet and to the ministers. Signed—Floyd Culpepper, J. Litt Cox and Family.

NEW HARMONY

There were a good attendance out for Sunday School and prayer services during the week end. Rev. Williard Littleton brought the message Sunday night.

Remember next week end is our regular preaching date. Everyone has a special invitation to come out and worship with us.

Everyone remember and be present at prayer service each Wednesday night here.

KOREAN INTERMISSION . . . P. F. C. Joseph Kunka, Chicago, catches up on his reading while soaking his aching feet in a helmet filled with cool water. He is assigned to the 25th division.

OBSERVING THE AMENITIES . . . 1st Lt. Steve Barkovic, U. S., shakes hands with Soviet captain as military control of occupied Vienna is rotated from Red army to American hands. Change-over was marked by parade of Russian troops and U. S. army band.

MRS. BELL A. ARANT

Mrs. Bell Athey Arant, a resident of Montgomery for 20 years, died at a hospital there at 1:00 a.m. Tuesday, following a short illness. The funeral was held at White Chapel in Montgomery Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. with the Rev. Thomas J. Gross and Dr. W. F. Calhoun officiating. Burial was in Memorial Cemetery.

She is survived by a son, William W. Arant, Mobile; a daughter, Mrs. C. E. Sansom, Montgomery; a granddaughter, Sara Ann Sansom, Montgomery; two brothers, Henry Athey, Auburn, and Tom Athey, Deatsville; two sisters, Miss Kate Athey, Montgomery and Mrs. E. R. Wilson, Clanton; also a number of nieces and nephews.

Pallbearers were: Earl Wilson, Osman Athey, Ezelle Lewis, Clifford Traywick, Griffin Hendricks and Paul Wingard.

MRS. RALPH JOHNSTON HONORED WITH AFTERNOON TEA

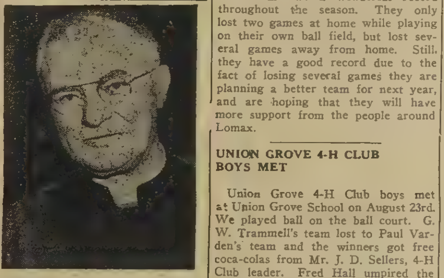
Mrs. Orvis M. Brown and Mrs. George A. McCain, Jr., entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of the latter on Oak Forest Drive in Montgomery, honoring Mrs. Ralph Johnston (nee Hazel Nivens), who was leaving Montgomery to make her home here.

Pink roses and dahlias were used as floral decorations in the reception rooms.

The refreshment table, covered with an imported linen cloth, held the punch bowl which was encircled with greenery and pink roses. Mrs. John M. S. Dozier and Mrs. Edward Falkner presided at the punch table.

The hostesses presented Mrs. Johnston with a corsage of lilies and members of the Star Jasmine Garden Club presented her with a gift.

Guests present were: Mrs. Thomas L. Hicks, Mrs. Neil M. Franklin, Mrs. C. E. Catchman, Mrs. H. S. Kendrick, Mrs. T. C. Reid, Mrs. Ralph B. Tate, Mrs. James A. Wright, Mrs. Neal Monroe, Mrs. Guy Vickers, Mrs. Paul Hamrick, Mrs. R. E. Thompson, Mrs. N. C. Connell, Mrs. W. T. Hawsey, Mrs. John C Holley, Mrs. T. W. Dendy, Mrs. William Watkins and Mrs. Thomas L. Campbell.



OUSTED PRELATE RETURNS . . . Archbishop Gerald O'Hara, expelled by Reds from Romania on spy charges, returned to the U.S., denying charges.

BOWLES

Our community was saddened by the deaths of Mrs. Willie Nell Culpepper Friday morning and Mr. M. O. Gafford Sunday morning. Funeral services for Mrs. Culpepper were held Sunday afternoon at three o'clock at Bethsalem Church. Funeral services for Mr. Gafford were held Monday morning at 11 o'clock from the Big Springs Church. To the families and all the loved ones of these two we extend our deepest sympathy.

Mr. Joe Williams is still very ill at his home in Billingsley. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nelson and children of Brighton spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Williams and left Saturday morning to visit Mr. Nelson's brother in Columbus, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Green and children spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Mims and family at Prattville.

LOMAX NEWS

We are very glad to see that Mr. S. Y. Dorminey is feeling some better after an automobile accident a few weeks ago. He stayed in the hospital for several days, then returned home and has been improving since.

Mrs. L. R. West and Evelyn went to Birmingham last Monday and returned home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Farley Mims and children spent Saturday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. P. K. West.

Mrs. Geneva Price returned home after several days with her mother, Mrs. Evans, who has been ill for several weeks, and is feeling better now.

Mr. and Mrs. Major Paton from Sylacauga, Ala., spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Price.

Mrs. L. R. West, Ray, Misses Evelyn and Katherine West, and Cliff Klie spent Tuesday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ward of Jemison.

Mrs. C. A. Robinson and Jean spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. M. Z. Liner.

Ball Game—

The Lomax ball team played their last game last Sunday a week ago. The team had a wonderful record throughout the season. They only lost two games at home while playing on their own ball field, but lost several games away from home. Still, they have a good record due to the fact of losing several games they are planning a better team for next year, and are hoping that they will have more support from the people around Lomax.

UNION GROVE 4-H CLUB BOYS MET

Union Grove 4-H Club boys met at Union Grove School on August 23rd. We played ball on the ball court. G. W. Trammell's team lost to Paul Varden's team and the winners got free coca-colas from Mr. J. D. Sellers, 4-H Club leader. Fred Hall umpired the game. Then we went to Dr. Conway's fishing pond, swam, and had lunch. Everyone had a nice time and we are looking forward to our regular monthly meetings.—Fred A. Hall, Reporter.

FIFTH SEASON OF COMMUNITY CONCERTS FOR CLANTON

Raymond P. Mims was re-elected to the presidency of the Clanton Community Concert Association recently. Mrs. Amelia Sperry, organizational director, working out of Community Concerts Association headquarters, expressed great pleasure that Mr. Mims would serve again as president of the local association. She spoke most highly of the efficient, earnest service to the community rendered by Mr. Mims during the past season of concerts.

Mr. Mims feels confident that our community's increasing interest in the best music assures an even more successful season of fine concert music for Chilton County in 1950-51.

The following officers and committees have been named to assist with the 1950-51 season of Community Concerts in Clanton:

President — Raymond P. Mims.
Vice-President — I. S. Levine
Second Vice-President — Mrs. L. C. Warr.
Third Vice-President: Mrs. F. N. Scott.
Secretary — Mrs. John DeRamus.
Corresponding Secretary — Mrs. Lillian Simpson.
Treasurer — Mrs. J. C. Burnett.
General Membership Chairman-Mrs. L. C. Warr.
Committee on Membership — Mesdames W. E. Huddleston, Charles Moore, Grady Heflin, Francis Speaks, Ralph Morrison.
Headquarters Secretary — Mrs. John DeRamus.
Dinner Chairman — Mrs. Herbert Klinner.
Thorsby Committee on Membership —Miss Naemi Turnquist, Mrs. H. S. Petersen.
Verbena Committee on Membership —Mrs. J. S. Williamson, Mrs. C. Carmichael.
Maplesville Committee on Membership — Miss Louise Foshee.
Isabella Community Committee on Membership —Miss Truman Stuckey.
Jemison Committee on Membership —Mrs. Leo Langston.
Publicity Committee—Chilton County News, The Union-Banner, Station WKLF.

Mrs. L. C. Warr will head the Membership Drive. She is well equipped for this position, having served on the publicity committee, the membership and hospitality committees. With the enthusiastic membership committee to assist Mrs. Warr the drive will be started the week of October 6th.

The Campaign headquarters for the week of Monday, October 16th, will be in the Willingham Hotel.

One of the early church sects which prevailed for a time in Alabama around 1890, was the "Two-seed-in-the-spirit-predestinarian." A bunch of the Primitive Baptists, this unusually - named group took its name from what it said were two seeds—one of evil and one of good which operate on the generations of mankind.

ESTIMATED LOADS OF SEED COTTON URGED

Chilton County cotton farmers by accurately estimating their loads of seed cotton so that a uniform 500-pound bale of lint cotton will be turned out at the gin, can reduce to a large extent "overweight" bales, which are costly and even hazardous to possess and handle.

"Overweight bales result from only one cause—too much seed cotton per bale. This usually originates on the farm and in such cases cannot be remedied at the gin since the farmer already has placed an excessive amount of seed cotton in a one-bale lot.

There was a time when 1,500 pounds of seed cotton generally was accepted as the gross weight necessary to produce a 500-pound bale. Today, however, the requirement has changed materially. Some varieties may not acquire more than 1,250 to 1,300 pounds. In other cases 1,350 to 1,400 pounds may be needed. There are practically no instances where 1,500 pounds of hand-picked seed cotton are required for a 500-pound bale

The cotton trade desires a bale weighing 500 pounds, although the national average for the past several years has been well over that figure, and one out of every ten bales has weighed 600 pounds or more. . These overweight bales in some cases are penalized, and extreme weights may be declared unmerchantable. Penalties may be imposed at several points along the line before the cotton reaches the spinning mill.

Because of the strain they place on machinery at gins and compresses, overweight bales often damage equipment and endanger the lives of workers. Such breakdowns and the delays they cause are calculated in the costs of ginning and compressing wihch in turn adds to the prices charged the farmer. More important still is the fact that human lives are endangered when such accidents occur.

Overweight bales accent the "rolling" and "big-ended" bale problem. Such bales are extremely difficult to compress. Often they must be broken and the lint distributed evenly by hand before the bale cab be compressed and shipped.

Overweight bales are more expensive to load, handle, compress, transport, and store. These costs are reflected eventually in the price the farmer pays for these services.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

Austin Barnett, W. F. Briggs, and L. Traywick, in cooperatiin with the North Central Soil Conservation District, have made complete soil and water conservation plans on their farms. These plans when completed will assure the above farmers maximum production with minimum soil loss.

Wildlife borders were observed on the following farms last week: R. R. Crowe, G. W. Orton, J. N. Dennis, H. M. Hubbard, H. J. Bolton, J. H. Johnson and R. O. Williams. Any farmer who is interested in increasing his quail population should see one of these borders. Not only will they help beautify your farm, they will also furnish abundant quail food.

From Charles C. Underwood of Metalton, Ark. to E. E. Meredith: "I remember some of those old song titles, too. I was teaching around Terre Haute, Ind. when 'On the Banks of the Wabash' caught the crowds that were singing 'My Sweetheart Went Down with the Maine,' 'Just as the Sun Went Down,' 'Just One Girl,' 'A Bird in a Gilded Cage,' 'A Man Was the Cause of It All,' 'She Is More to Be Pitied Than Censored,' 'The Pearl Bryan Warning,' 'Chippy Get Your Get Cut,' 'Oh Uncle John,' 'Sweet Marie,' 'Casey Jones' and 'In the Baggage Coach Ahead'."

From Mrs. Wallace Pinkley of Costa Mesa, Calif.: "I remember when these songs were first popular: 'When You and I Were Young Maggie,' 'The Old Oaken Bucket,' 'In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree,' 'My Little Rubber Dollie' and 'O Bury Me Beneath the Willow Tree'."

7 NEW HIGHWAY PROJECTS SLATED FOR SEPT 22

Montgomery, Ala.—The State Highway Department this week announced that seven new highway construction projects will have work bids opened on September 22. It is estimated that the projects will cost $600,000. The projects involved are:

Lamar County — 8.4 miles grading and drainage from Vernon to Mississippi State Line.

Clay County — 5.1 miles base and single surface treatment on Hatchet Creek road.

Macon County—9.4 miles pavement from U.S. 80 north to Lee County line; from U.S. 80 south through Little Texas.

Baldwin County — 9.6 miles single surface from Magnolia Springs toward Bon Secour River, and from No. 89 toward Bon Secour.

Madison County — Bridge over Flint River east of Whitesburg.

All of the above projects are to be built by a three-way matching basis, shared by the county, state and federal government.

Choctaw County—14.4 miles blacktop east of Mississippi Line toward Gilbertown. This is to be financed with state money.

Morgan and Cullman Counties — 15.2 miles grading, drainage and bridges from Alabama 33 to Alabama 112 near Baileyton. Project will be built with state and federal money.

This new listing of road projects will be in addition to the $2,000,000 bids opened here September 15.

SOCIAL SECURITY PAY HIKES DO NOT ALTER WELFARE PAYMENTS

Montgomery, Ala. — State Welfare Commissioner Broughton Lamberth this week said that the increases in social security payments for some 40,000 Alabamians will in no way change the amount old folks get from welfare payments.

Lamberth said that many calls were coming into his office from old people who expected their welfare checks to jump up automatically when they heard about the social security raises.

Lamberth explained that social security payments are based upon what wage earners pay into them from their salaries. Welfare payments, on the other hand, are in no way based upon the individual's contribution toward what he gets.

The director pointed out that the new law will not affect the size of assistance checks made to old people through the welfare program for aged persons. He said that the checks would run about the same as they have been in the past.

During July, Alabama granted old age checks to 81,926 aged people. The average payment for each check was $20.21. This was less one-half the national average payment to the aged of $44.03. It was also considerably less than the $29.78 average payment for other southern states.

The reason Alabama does not pay a higher check to the old people, Lamberth said, is that the amount paid depends upon the funds appropriated for that purpose by the state legislature. Alabama could pay up to $50 per month to the old people, he said, if this state would provide the first dollar to match with two federal dollars.

Such a plan is hard on a state like Alabama, whose per capita income is relatively low compared with other states, and whose number of old people is proportionately higher.

CHILTON COUNTY 4-H CLUB GIRLS MEET THIS MONTH

The 4-H Club girls in Chilton County have a treat in store for them when their clubs meet in September. This year the officers will have a kit presented to them at their first meeting, which will be kept at the school for their use for the remainder of the school year. This kit contains new song books, memographed song sheets, secretaries book, instructions for officers, officers listing sheets, and a calendar of work.

In the calandar of work will be listed activities for the club year, dates of council meetings, special observation, arllies and the following demonstrations:

September — Posture on Parade.
October — Cereals.
November — Making a Bed.
December — Dish Washing.
January — Becoming Patterns.
February — Dairy Foods.
March — Landscaping the Farm Home.
April — Teen-Age Etiquette.

These kits were prepared by Miss Mattie Jo Barber, Home Demonstration Agent, and Miss Ann Brown, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent, who direct 4-H Club work in Chilton County.

LIQUOR AGENTS CAPTURE 326 STILLS IN AUGUST

Montgomery, Ala. — Alabama's liquor agents had moonshiners on the run during August, when a total of 326 stills were given a fast ride down the road to law enforcement.

Joe Burton, ABC law enforcement chief, said that the August 'take' was 121 more stills than were captured in July.

Burton also pointed out that the stills had a monthly capacity of 68,000 gallons of whiskey, worth $340,000.

Sympathy is extended Mrs. J. T. Little in the loss of her father, Mr. William James Simmons, age 73, of Pleasant Hill, Ala.

Mr. Simmons died in the Selma Baptist Hospital Saturday morning at 11:00 a.m. Funeral Chapel, Breslin Funeral Home at 4:00 p.m. Sunday. Mr. Simmons was a native of Dallas County and had many friends in this section who regret his passing. He was a large landowner and was engaged in extensive farming and cattle operations.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Sarah Hardy Simmons; one son, William Robert Simmons; one daughter, Mrs. J. T. Little; two sisters, Mrs. Nannie Walker of Birmingham, Mrs. Irene Cahall of Mobile; one brother, Mr. Walter L. Simmons, of Ohio; two grandsons.

Rev. E. B. Warren, pastor of the Baptist Church, Orrville, Ala., and Pleasant Hill churches, was the officiating minister, and was assisted by the Rev. J. P. Maxwell of Brewton, Ala.

Attending this funeral at Breslin Chapel from this section were: Mr. and Mrs. William Gay and Martha Lynn, Mrs. Rubie Mae Biscoe and Mr. Henry Eugene Biscoe, Mrs. H. H. Biscoe, Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Robinson, Mrs. Inez Lovelady, Mr. and Mrs. Orin Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Pickering and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Gay and Mr. J. D. Gay of Centreville, Ala., had Sunday dinner with the C. C. Gay, Jr., and family in Clanton, Ala.

Mrs. Gewin Eaves (Marjorie Burnett) spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Burnett. Mr. Gewin Eaves spent Sunday night here with his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. O'Neal entertained about 90 of their friends at a barbecue at their home here last Thursday night.

The tacky party at the Grammar School, Plantersville, Ala., given by the O.E.S., was well attended and a nice sum for the much needed supplies by this newly re-organized chapter was realized.

Mrs. E. B. Huff returned to her home here last Thursday from the Selma Baptist Hospital. Her infant son, Emmett Schurter Huff, will have to remain in the hospital for several days. This child has been very ill, but we are so glad to report that he is improving and his parents feel that he will soon be able to brought home.

Mrs. Willard Huff (Jean Lacone) of Long Beach, Miss., has been visiting with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Velma Huff, while her husband is attending a business school in Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Dyer Schurter spent Sunday with their mother, Mrs. Alma Schurter, and other relatives.

POOR CRIMINAL

(A Short Story)

By RICHARD HILL WILKINSON

"LET'S GO OVER it all again," Inspector Joe Warren was saying. "Begin at the beginning and tell me the whole story. There are certain things not yet quite clear."

The important looking man, who said his name was Steve Morgan, sighed wearily. He was a big man, as was Warren, with black eyes and black hair. His manner had a faintly distinctive bearing. He seemed a little bored now, as if the inspector's constant questioning tired him.

"I wish you'd do something, inspector. Go out there and look around, at least. We'll never get anywhere sitting here. The man was murdered in cold blood. Isn't that enough to get you going?"

She handed Warren a sheaf of papers. He studied them a moment, then glanced up.

Warren only smiled, as if inwardly amused at the other's annoyance. "Want to get all the facts first," he explained briefly. "No sense in going off half-cocked. Waste of time. Besides," he added dryly, "if the man was murdered like you say, he won't walk away on us."

The dark man puffed at his cigar. Warren asked:

"What time was it you found the body, Morgan?"

"Shortly after dark. 'Long about 6 o'clock. I was walking past the house and saw a light. Pringle was sitting by the window reading and I yelled at him."

"The window was open, eh?" Warren said. And Morgan nodded, continued. "I yelled, but he didn't look up. This struck me as being odd. The road is pretty close to the house. So I walked up across the lawn and came close to the window. Even then he didn't seem to hear—and then I saw the bullet hole in his head!"

Morgan chewed his cigar. Warren asked: "And you came right here to the police station? Didn't notify anyone else?"

Morgan shook his head. "There's no one else living around there, no one but him and me. His orchard adjoins mine. I went home and got the car——"

"Why didn't you telephone?" Warren interrupted. Morgan glowered angrily. "I did, you idiot! That is, my wife did. I came on in to town to tell you about it personally."

Warren nodded. He knew Morgan's type. The man derived satisfaction from the attention his tragic story attracted. He enjoyed the moment of his importance, with no thought of pity for the victim.

The door of an inner office opened and a girl came in. She handed Warren a sheaf of papers. He studied them a moment and then glanced at Morgan.

"Your nearest neighbor out there, aside from Pringle, is a man named Hogart, isn't it?"

Morgan nodded. "Yes, that's right. He lives a mile down the road on the other side of Pringle's place. He has an orchard, too. It adjoins Pringle's."

"Know much about this Hogart?" Warren asked. "He ever have any trouble with Pringle?"

Morgan frowned, as if reflecting: "Yes," he said presently, "seems like he did. There was a dispute over water rights." He eyed the inspector shrewdly. "Hogart's a good sort, though. He wouldn't kill a man."

The telephone on Warren's desk rang. He picked it up. "Hello. Oh, hello, Tom. Yes, he's here. Eh? That so? At least five hours? Good. See you later, and thanks."

He hung up and pressed a button. A uniformed officer stepped into the room. Warren gestured mildly.

"Put the bracelets on him, Clancy. He killed Robert Pringle!"

Morgan started. White-lipped, he bounded to his feet. "Say, look here. You can't——"

But Warren cut the sentence short.

"You killed him, Morgan, and came in here to tell us about it so's we wouldn't suspect." He nodded toward the papers.

"Your wife's phone call arrived an hour ago. And since then we've been checking up on things out your way. You were in that water deal, too. The spring is on Pringle's land and both you and Hogart wanted the rights. Hogart was going to win, because he had more money, or at least you thought he had. The papers would have been signed that night, if you hadn't killed Pringle."

He gestured again. "We nabbed Hogart when he came up to the Pringle house to sign the papers. You knew he was coming, knew he'd be there or thereabouts when the police arrived. You had everything timed perfectly.

"But look here, Morgan, you did a blundering job. You're no criminal. You should have stuck to your apple growing and let crime alone."

Morgan's face was the color of paste, but he still tried to put up a bold front.

"Don't be an idiot, Inspector. You can't convict a man on thin evidence like that. How you gonna prove I did it?"

Again that mild gesture. "Because Medical Inspector Bryant, whom I sent out to look over Pringle's body just after we received your wife's call, 'phoned in a moment ago and stated that Pringle had been dead five hours when he arrived."

"But—but how does that prove that I killed him?"

"Because, Morgan, five hours ago it was daylight. And Pringle wouldn't be seated by the window reading, with a light on when the sun was shining brightly outside. You killed him, Morgan, this afternoon and turned on the light so a passerby would see it after dark and see Pringle sitting there."

SACRED HARP SINGING

The Sacred Harp Singing Convention was held at New Harmony Church near Lomax the third Sunday in September.

The convention was called to order by the chairman, W. L. Sanders. Prayer by E. J. Jones. The arranging committee for the day were E. H. Thompson and T. C. Jackson.

The morning directors were: Elder J. B. Williams, of Tallassee; E. H. Thompson, of White City; Mrs. Vester Oaks, G. C. Jackson, of Sylacauga. Intermission before preaching services for five minutes singing two songs, then Elder S. L. Hyde came offering prayer and the introduction, speaking comforting words, followed by the pastor, Elder J. B. Williams. His theme was "Jesus Christ."

Services were turned over to the convention for the memorial service: "White," in memory of the author of the book, by M. C. Jackson; in memory of Haurice Mims who was in an explosion; Little Mary Ann Jones who was killed by a train, the little daughter of Rev. Earnest Jones and wife, Flora. They were sad tragedies, but God knows best and does all things right; also a song in memory of Mr. Jack Jones who passed on several years ago. The song for the three were "When I Am Gone," directed by Mrs. Vester Oaks. "Resurrected," in memory of all the dead, directed by T. C. Jackson. Then the lunch hour.

There was a nice table spread and lunch for all. We thank every one, who had a part in helping out with the lunch. We appreciate the visitors and want them to feel welcome to come our way any time.

The convention was called back to order by the chairman, W. L. Sanders.

Directors for the afternoon were: Mrs. Era Culver, Ocie Williams, of Opelika; Mrs. T. C. Jackson, M. C. Jackson, G. A. Beckett, of Sylacauga; Roland Saunders, Elder J. B. Williams, E. H. Thompson, Mrs. Flora Oaks, and the vice-chairman, T. C. Jackson.

A good talk by Mr. Z. J. Jones, the oldest member of the convention living, who is nearing the nineties, and has enjoyed the singing for these many years.

Move in order to go in business session. First move in order to find a home for the next session in May, which was left in the hands of a committee. Also that a record be kept and read at each session of the convention. move in order for the business session to close.

The chairman, W. L. Sanders, sang the closing song and prayer by the pastor, Elder J. B. Williams. —The Secretary, Mrs. Flora Oaks.

Pushmataha, the great Choctaw chief, fought alongside the forces of Gen. Andrew Jackson during the Creek War which took place in Alabama in 1813.

Friends of Mr. Zettie Sanders will be glad to know that he has returned to his home from a Selma hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gay and children of Birmingham, Ala., spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gay and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fullford.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hillman of Selma, Ala., and Mrs. Velma Huff and family had Sunday dinner with the Rush Burnettes.

Mrs. Arthur Sims was called to Oak Ridge, Tenn., last week on account of the serious illness of her brother, Mr. John Huff, Jr. Mr. Huff had pneumonia, but we are glad to state that his condition is improving.

Visiting Mrs. Mary Hicks Sunday were Mrs. Don Hicks and daughters of Marvel, Ala., and Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Hicks of Newark, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Campbell (Lenta Hicks) of Montgomery, Ala.

Mrs. C. C. Brady of Suttles, Ala., is spending this week with her sister, Mrs. R. R. Fuller.

The Y.W.A. girls gave a surprise shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Coba Lawrence, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Jack Atchinson, who were recently married. Mrs. Atchinson will be pleasantly remembered as the former Miss Geneva Lawrence. About twenty friends called during the afternoon and Mr. and Mrs. Atchinson received many nice useful gifts.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT ALABAMA

CAHABA

The first State Capitol of Alabama was built here in April, 1819, by order of Governor Bibb. A two-story, brick building was erected and the State moved into its new capitol in 1820. In 1825, the Alabama and Cahaba rivers overflowed and a part of the Capitol was under water. The legislators had to use boats and go in at the second story. After the water subsided, one of the walls of the Capitol crumbled. This sealed the fate of Cahaba and the Capitol was moved to a new location.

SUCCESSFUL PARENTHOOD

By Mrs. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

I ONCE HEARD a psychologist say that the best gift parents could give a child was the ability to take himself for granted. That is, to have a true sense of personal worth without a sense of superiority about it. Perhaps this is what Jesus meant when He said: "Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth." Certainly we know that He did not mean cringing humbleness by the word "meek," but rather a calm acceptance of oneself as worth the gifts of life.

Why then do not all human beings gain this happy state? One reason is that it takes so many years to learn from experience what really constitutes a sense of personal worth. We begin by over-rating achievement as a means to securing it, only to discover that one can have success and acclaim and still lack an inner sense of being worthwhile as a human being. Nor is it dependent on good works (though the gift of taking oneself for granted is usually accompanied by a generous spirit), for some cover up their very sense of inadequacy by counting their meritorious deeds.

Instead, personal worth is compounded of all the things you can count on yourself for. A few children seem to be born with a natural goodness which gives them this sense from birth. But most children find it hard to live up to what is expected of them, and later even harder to live up to what they expect of themselves. Thus they need constant help in experiencing small daily victories over the temptation to shirk, to grab, to blame others for their failures, and a thousand and one other human weaknesses. These daily victories are forgotten but little by little they add up to the conquest of an undesirable trait. Then some fine day it suddenly pops into your head you no longer need be afraid that you'll ever cheat or take pleasure in hurting someone's feelings, or whatever the fault was that you've been battling with.

I was reminded of this need for constant parental guidance in forming a child's standards of conduct by a conversation on a recent train trip with a girl who was bitterly disappointed because her vacation in New York had suddenly been cut short. She had taken the next train home and remarked that she hadn't even cancelled an appointment to have her hair done. "Oh, well," she said, "that won't matter. I'll never see that girl again." It wasn't so much this particular discourtesy which made me feel sorry for her, but the excuse she gave herself. For it showed she hadn't been taught that the omissions or misdeeds you aren't apt to be caught at are the very ones about which you must be the most strict with yourself if you are ever to merit your own self esteem.

All this, of course, is part of character education. But what we are specifically trying to point out is, that it isn't what the world thinks about your child but what he comes to think about himself that will form the basis for his happiness or lack of it. It is your job to help him get not only a true picture of himself but as favorable a one as possible.

ALABAMA STATE FAIR TO OPEN SOON

Birmingham, Ala.—Alabama's greatest State Fair opens its gates one week from Monday — Monday, October 2nd, for a gala six-day run.

As has been the case since the fair became a civically owned one in 1947, something new has been added each year. This year it is a state hog show expected to attract more than 200 of the state's finest porkers. In 1948 the Industrial Arts Building was opened and last year the new $100,000 mammoth cattle barn was dedicated to the farm youth of Alabama.

The hog show will be limited to residents of Alabama who are members of the three organized breed associations—the O.I.C., the Duroc and the Hampshires. G. B. Phillips, specialist in Animal Industry, A.P.I. Auburn, is superintendent of this year's hog show—the first to be held at the state fair grounds in 20 years. The elite of the state's hogs will be housed in brand new steel pens, fittingly suitable for the high position they occupy in the hog world. Several thousand dollars has been expended by the State Fair Authority to make this show possible and a suitable array of ribbons and cash premiums are being offered the winners.

The State Dairy Cattle Show will again attract the district winners as the best of Jerseys and Guernseys compete for the state titles and approximately $7,500 in prizes. J. R. Parrish, extension dairyman at Auburn is superintendent of the show with Prof. George Hyatt, Jr., of the University of West Virginia serving as judge of the Jerseys and Ray Griffin, Quail Roost Farm, Rougemont, N. C. will select the winning Guernseys. The winning state 4-H and FFA judging teams will again be awarded trips to the International Dairy Show, Indianapolis, by the State Fair Authority.

Alabama's top purebred beef cattle will also be displayed in the new cattle barn as they compete for $7,500 in prizes and ribbons. W. H. 'Mut' Gregory, specialist in Livestock Marketing at Auburn, is in charge of the beef cattle show and George W. Barnes, beef cattle specialist, Texas Extension Service, College Station, Texas, will judge the bovines in this show.

The Industrial Arts exhibits, the Art Show, the Flower Show, the agricultural exhibits of the 4-H, FFA and FHA, the rabbit show, the coon hound and fox hound shows in addition to all the thrills in front of the grandstand and the midway will round out this year's show with the selection of the Alabama Maid of Cotton, Thursday, October 5th, topping a thrilling week for Alabamians who attend their state fair.

LEGISLATORS BEGIN STUDY ON REAPPORTIONMENT

Montgomery, Ala. — The 12-man legislative committee set to work this week on the all-important task of trying to work out a reapportionment bill which would be acceptable to both houses when the legislature reconvenes from recess, October 10.

Work is hamstrung from the beginning since the committee is waiting for the Supreme Court of Alabama to make three rulings, all pertaining to reapportionment. The court has indicated that it may not make the rulings until late October.

Gov. James E. Folsom told the committee that he was in strong favor of a constitutional convention being called to rewrite the entire constitution, thus providing the way for reapportionment.

Gov. Folsom's long proposed 67-senator plan, one for each county, was declared unconstitutional by the Courts, when they ruled that all reapportionment efforts, according to the constitution, would have to be based upon population.

Meanwhile, numerous of the 12-man committee feel that it would be unwise to pass any kind of reapportionment bill based upon the 1950 census. The 1950 census will not be officially released until next year.

Committee chairman, Rep. Earl McGowin had numerous proposals to come before his committee. Legislative Reference chief, Charles Cooper, submitted five ways upon which the reapportionment division could be made, but none took readily with the committee.

Sen. Robin Swift of Atmore proposed that the House be automatically revamped after each 10-year census, giving each county a house member for 40,000 inhabitants or each fraction thereof. Each county would be guaranteed one representative and no county could have more than 10, regardless of population.

EIGHT CHILTON 4-H'ers ATTENDED CAMP

Eight Chilton County boys and girls (plus older youth and adult leaders) attended the state-wide 4-H Club leadership camp and short course in Auburn last week.

Those representing Chilton County's 1,323 Club members at this 31st annual camp are:

Carolyn Bowman, Billingsley, Rt. 1; Geraldine Wyatt, Clanton Rt. 1; Bobbie Sue Crowe, Clanton, Rt. 4; Eddie Higginbotham, Maplesville; Howard Arledge, Jemison; Ronnie Smith, Clanton Rt. 2.

These boys and girls were selected to make the trip on the basis of their outstanding leadership and project work.

Along with nearly 700 other farm boys and girls from every county in the state, the group spent a busy week taking an active part in classes in handicraft, recreation, and program planning. On the entertainment side, picnics, swimming, a talent show, a lawn party and many other forms of organized recreation were enjoyed.

Assistant Agents J. D. Sellers and Miss Ann Brown were in Auburn with the Chilton County delegation.

PVT. JESSE S. JONES COMPLETES AF COURSE

Pvt. Jesse S. Jones, 20, son of Rev. H. A. Jones, Route 5, Clanton, Ala., has completed his AF basic airmen indoctrination course at Lackland Air Force Base, the Gateway to the Air Force.

Lackland, situated near San Antonio, is the world's largest air force base, center of Air Force basic training, for airmen and women, indoctrination station for prior service reenlistees, and home of AF's Officer Candidate School.

His basic training has prepared him for entrance into Air Force technical training and for assignment in specialized work. The course included a scientific evaluation of his aptitude and inclination for following a particular vocation and career.

NOTICE TO NON-RESIDENT

The State of Alabama, Chilton County. Chilton County Law and Equity Court—in Equity. No. 129. September 11, 1950.

Mary Geneva Lucas, Complainant, vs. Joseph Lucas, Defendant.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Ex-Officio Register by the affidavit of Mary Geneva Lucas, Complainant, that the Defendant is a non-resident, and that his place of residence and post office address is unknown, and that such address cannot be ascertained after reasonable effort; and, further, that, in the belief of said affiant, the Defendant is of the age of twenty-one years:

It is therefore, ordered by the Ex-Officio Register that publication be made in the Chilton County News, a newspaper published in the County of Chilton, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring him, the said Joseph Lucas, to plead, answer, or demurr to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 9th day of October, 1950, or, in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against him.

Done at office in Clanton, this 11th day of September, 1950.

HELEN P. BLACKMON,
Ex-Officio Register.

Posted at the Courthouse door in Clanton, Ala., this the 11th day of September, 1950. 37-4tc

LEGAL NOTICE

State of Alabama, Complainant, vs. One 1946 Mercury, Motor No. 99A1220003, Respondent; in the Chilton County Law and Equity Court—in Equity. Case No. 127.

The Bill of Complaint of the State of Alabama, on the relation of A. B. Foshee, County Solicitor of Chilton County, Alabama, against one 1946 Mercury, Motor No. 99A1220003, being exhibited to me, and it appearing therefrom that on the 25th day of August, 1950, one Grover Jones did transport in said automobile, certain prohibited liquors or beverages from one point to another in the State of Alabama, and that said automobile was, on the said date seized by Police Officers of the City of Clanton, Alabama, and said Bill of Complaint prays that said automobile be declared condemned and forfeited to the State of Alabama, and for an Order of Condemnation and sale thereof.

It is therefore Ordered, Adjudged and Decreed that notice of the filing of said Bill of Complaint be given for three successive weeks in the Chilton County News, a newspaper published in the Town of Clanton, Alabama, and that all persons claiming or asserting any right, title, or interest in said automobile be required to appear and assert such claim by the 25 day of September, 1950, and that failure to do so, their said right, title or interest will be forever barred.

Ordered and Decreed, this the 31 day of August, 1950.

VICTOR J. HEARD,
Judge Chilton County Law and Equity Court. 36-3tc

In 1845 when state geologist Richard T. Brumby published the analysis of the mineral waters at Bladon Springs, it was so attractive that wealthy planters who had previously visited Saratoga, N. Y., flocked to Bladon Springs by the hundreds. At the outbreak of the War Between The States, it was the South's most fashionable resort. It never regained its old popularity following the war; however, it has been made into a state park during recent years.

CRUSADE FOR FREEDOM

The CRUSADE FOR FREEDOM is an all-out effort to mobilize CIVILIAN America in the battle for men's minds. The CRUSADE FOR FREEDOM is sponsored by the National Committee for a free Europe, a non-profit membership corporation.

Daily broadcasts from a transmitter from Western Germany to the prisoner peoples behind the Iron Curtain are made. These broadcasts, which are in the languages of the captive countries, nail Communist lies with the truth.

Through neglect, we Americans have taken freedom for granted and have been caught napping while the Communists have been filling the minds of the peoples all over the world with the BIG LIE and with falsification of our country's position and objectives in world affairs.

This Crusade for Freedom has two objectives:

The primary objective is to give every man, woman and child in the United States an opportunity to sign personally a freedom scroll which carries a declaration of freedom:

"I believe in the sacredness and dignity of the individual. I believe that all men derive the right to freedom equally from God. I pledge to resist aggression and tyranny wherever they appear on earth.

"I am proud to enlist in the Crusade For Freedom. I am proud to help make the freedom bell possible, to be a signer of this declaration of freedom, to have my name included as a permanent part of the freedom shrine in Berlin, and to join with the millions of men and women throughout the world who hold the cause of freedom sacred."

The second objective is to provide signers of the scroll an opportunity to back up their signatures with free-will offerings as contributions to the support and further development of radio broadcasts to Communist infested places of the world. In the 8th chapter and 36th verse of St. John are found these words:

"And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make ye free."

Dr. John Caldwell, President of Alabama College at Montevallo, and chairman of the Crusade For Freedom in the Sixth Congressional District, has asked Cohen Stapp to serve as chairman for Chilton County. Mr. Stapp is contacting the principals of every school in the county and sending to them scrolls to be signed by every interested citizen in their respective community. The Kiwanis Clubs, the Lions Clubs, the Pilot Clubs, American Legion Posts and American Legion Auxiliary Units and other organizations of the county will be given material and scrolls to be used in a county-wide program the first week in October for the purpose of getting signers to the above program and contributions for the support of the CRUSADE FOR FREEDOM.

MR. REED GALLMAN

Mr. Reed Gallman was born July 8, 1885, at Marble Valley in Coosa County. In 1893 his father moved his family to Chilton County where the family grew up. In 1906 he was married to Bama Culpepper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Culpepper.

In 1910 he moved to Tuscaloosa where he lived until his death Sunday evening, September 17th, 1950. He was the last surviving member of the Jesse Gallman family.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Bama Culpepper Gallman, of Tuscaloosa; three sons—Rawdon Lee Gallman of Montgomery, Thurman Loyd Gallman of Notasulga, and John Claude Gallman of Beaumont, Texas; six grandchildren; three brothers-in-law, B. F. Massey, W. J. Watson and E. B. Culpepper and many nieces and nephews, and a host of friends in Clanton and Chilton County.

Funeral services were held in Alberta City Baptist Church, conducted by Dr. J. P. Anos, assisted by William Olive and Blount Davidson; interment was in Memorial Park.

Mr. Gallman was affectionately known as "Uncle Pete" by his friends and loved ones.

Gas Pumps At Standard Station Wrecked Friday

Motorists just can't seem to get to the Thompson Brothers Standard Station fast enough. Friday night a lady came into the station so fast for some of that good Standard gasoline she ran all over two of the pumps.

There were no casualties besides the gas pumps unless you consider casualties some complete population of Clanton being awakened at 1:30 a.m. by the long wailing fire sirene.

The driver of the 1949 Mercury was Mrs. Glenn S. Skipper of Montgomery. Small damage was done to the automobile only a bumper being badly damaged. Quite a bit of excitement though when the pumps caught fire. All was covered by insurance.

REV. FOLK OF THORSBY

Rev. Sheldon Folk of Sayre, Pa., brother of Arden Folk of Thorsby, who has returned from four years mission service in Kenya Colony, East Africa, will fill the pulpit morning and evening at the Thorsby Baptist Church Sunday, October 1st. At the evening service he will use colored slides to present a pictorial outline of his interesting talk of work among the African natives. Rev. Folk is a graduate of the National Bible Institute of New York. When he returns to Africa, his wife, who is also a Missionary, will go with him.

Salvation Army Truck Here Tuesday, October 3rd

Look for the Salvation Army red shield truck next Tuesday and give them your old clothing, furniture, magazines or paper. They can use any or all of the above mentioned items and the especially in need, at this season of the year, of clothes.

When you help them you are doing three things: Helping others, helping the Salvation Army and helping yourself.

Watch for the Salvation Army truck and give them your support.

Only an iron will can withstand a continual attack on the mind. We are confident of our own strength, but how about the people abroad. The Crusade For Freedom is a campaign to show the people abroad that our goal is Freedom and Peace.

Every citizen can do his part in the Crusade For Freedom by signing the scroll and contributing to the support of the CRUSADE FOR FREEDOM.

CLANTON PLAYS MONTEVALLO FRIDAY NIGHT, 7:30

After taking Wetumpka High School football team 19 to 7 in the opening game of the season at Wetumpka, and then downing Starke at Crampton Bowl last week 13 to 6, the Chilton "Tigers" will open their home schedule Friday night with Montevallo High at 7:30. Montevallo usually gives the local boys a good scrap and this year will be no exception. Thomppson High of Siluria beat Montevallo last Friday night by a good score and the visitors will be out to put this game in the win column.

Clanton played rather sluggish football against Starke last week and several boys came up with minor injuries, but if no serious mishaps come their way this week Coach Spicer should have his team ready by Friday night. Against Starke Clanton at times looked great, and then on the next play the Tigers looked anything but good. They showed that they could come back in the last minutes of the game and put on a victory drive.

This year there are 750 reserve seats available which means that any one wishing to have a seat at mid-field will not have to report at the field until just before game time, provided he purchases a reserve ticket in advance. These tickets are on sale at Alred, Calloway and Upchurch Drug Stores until Friday afternoon at 4:30, after that the reserve tickets will be on sale at the field ticket office. General admission tickets are also on sale at these same drug stores.

B. L. ADAMS ATTENDING LAW SCHOOL

B. L. ADAMS

You're never too old to learn. That is a truth that B. L. Adams took literally and headed back to school. He entered the University of Alabama Law School last week and will study his way through to a law degree.

Mr. Adams has been located here as a public accountant for the past several years, but has found he can be of much more service in his field with a law degree. He already has a B.S. degree in Commerce from Bowling Green College of Commerce.

Upon completion of his studies he plans to return to Clanton and resume his tax work for local firms.

List Grows For Would Be Gas Customers

The long list at City Hall of citizens interested in getting natural gas for their homes is growing longer. The list past the 245 mark the first of the week and the Mayor and Councilmen are urging all those who are interested to come in and sign up.

Tuesday Mayor C. Fenn Jones went to Cooper and started proceedings which will enable residents of that small community to have natural gas also. Mr. H. J. Taylor is circulating the list for signers.

The Mayor also stated that residents along U. S. Highway 31 South would be eligible for the gas service if and when they sign up for it.

Concert Drive To Open Here Oct. 16

Mrs. Raymond Mims, recently elected president of the Clanton Community Concert Association announces the opening of the 1950-51 drive on October 16th. Headquarters will be in the Willingham Hotel.

In charge of the membership drive this year is Mrs. L. C. Warr. She has previously served on this committee and will be assisted by Mrs. W. E. Huddleston, Mrs. Charles Moore, Mrs. Grady Heflin, Mrs. Frances Speaks and Mrs. Ralph Morrison.

MUSIC APPRECIATION CLUB

The Music Appreciation Club held its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon, September 19th, at the home of Mrs. H. G. Heflin with Mrs. W. A. Willis and Mrs. Leonard Farley as hostesses.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. W. E. Huddleston, president. The members then repeated the Club Collect in unison. The minutes of the last meeting were read and a report was given by the treasurer, followed by reports from other officers and committee chairmen.

The program for the afternoon was based upon the life and music of Edward Grieg. A most interesting and informative paper on Grieg's life was given by Mrs. Luther Little after Mrs. Erle Ellis beautifully sang three soprano solos from the works of Grieg.

At the conclusion of this delightful program delicious refreshments were served to members and guests by the hostesses.

Chilton W.M.U. Association Meets October 4th

The Chilton Association W.M.U. will meet October 4th, at 10:00 a.m., with Maple Springs Baptist Church. Annual reports will be given along with inspirational messages. Officers for 1950-51 will be installed by Mrs. Russell Williams of Clanton. Come bring lunch and minds and hearts open to receive blessings.

Parent-Teacher Meeting At Verbena High

There will be a regular meeting of the Verbena Parent-Teachers Association Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock. The president, Mr. Cooper, requests the presence of all members. Important business will be brought before the meeting, which will be held at the school.

Yes --- You Can Still Say "Charge It"

What do the new credit regulations mean to you and your family, after you boil away the detailed working and leave the real meat? You'll be glad to see that you can still use those old dependable charge accounts. The new government regulations don't affect regular 30-day accounts. Only installment buying and revolving accounts are affected.

Suppose you want to buy a new washing machine—or a television set. As W. O. Miller, manager of the Credit Bureau of Clanton, explains it, you still have several ways of going about it.

(1) You can pay cash for it—if you can find any, after taxes.

(2) You can put it on the regular 30-day charge account—that is, if your account is used to taking loads of this kind. However, in a large purchase like a washing machine or bedroom suite there is so little difference between this method and paying cash that it sometimes seems you and your money are merely prolonging the agony of parting.

(3) You can buy it on the installment plan. For most families, this is still the practical way to buy furniture and appliances. And to most of us, this method is still open under the new regulations. On a new washing machine, for instance, you simply make a down payment of 15 percent. At the time you make your purchase, you and the credit manager set up terms on which it will be paid off in 18 months.

"Many stores which sell on credit," W. O. Miller said, "Will not even notice a difference in installment credit sales, because they have been using these terms all along."

Purpose of Regulation—

W. O. Miller agreed that if the new credit regulations really make so little difference in present credit sales, the public may well wonder why Congress saw fit to enact them. Also, if the change will be so slight, why have many prominent credit men opposed the controls?

"Here is the thinking behind the agitation FOR credit controls," W. O. Miller said. "In the first place, all of the installment sales items covered by the regulations are expected to be in short supply during the war. By setting up machinery which forbids no-down-payment sales, Congress has insured the fact that customers who haven't the down payment will not be bidding on the merchandise Congress assumes that merely cutting the number of potential bidders on scarce items will prevent prices from spiralling - thus, help prevent inflation.'

Herein lie the reasons why some credit executives have opposed the regulation. "It should be obvious that control of credit will not actually prevent inflation. All-out control of inflation can only be done by freezing prices and wages—any additional controls after that are unnecessary.

"Furthermore, voluntary controls are more desirable in many ways for both retailers and the public. Most retailers would rather sell with a small down payment to a person who has a good credit record than sell to a poor risk with a large down payment. Some credit granters feel that the government regulations may prevent deserving people from buying things they need.

"For these reasons," W. O. Miller said, "retailers have been outspoken in criticism of renewing credit controls. But regardless of our personal opinions, I speak for myself and all the members of the Credit Bureau of Clanton in saying that we are deeply interested in doing everything we can to cooperate with the war effort. Since the government has set up our national defense program to include credit control, we pledge ourselves to do everything in our power to make it work."

NOTE OF THANKS

We wish to thank each and everyone who helped in any way during the illness and death of our father, M. O. Gafford. May God's blessings be with all of you is our prayer.—The Children.

SEEMS TO ME

Seems wise that the court is waiting until the State Supreme Court hands down a decision in the county cases before trying the remaining indictments.

Nothing could possibly be gained but thousands of dollars could be spent needlessly. Should the higher courts reverse the decision of the Circuit Court in these convictions then all cases would be retried. On the other hand should the Supreme Court sustain the convictions then the trials can go forward in the remaining cases with confidence.

SCHOLARSHIP FUND

The Chilton County High School Parent-Teachers Association is to be congratulated on its recent move to create a Scholarship Fund.

The purpose of this fund is to give financial aid to a deserving girl graduate of Chilton County High School who wishes to go to college.

This thoughtful gesture on the part of this fine organization can mean wonderful things for some deserving girl and we are sure will serve to encourage some students who otherwise see no earthly possibility of attaining a college degree.

IT'S ABOUT TIME

Soon Junior and little sister will be running home with the pictures taken at their respective schools and labeled "School Days."

At the expense of being a little too frank we are going to say the pictures are "corny" and the taking of them should be done away with.

We are sure for most of the children they are too expensive and to keep up with the other children their parents are forced to purchase them just the same.

The photography is awful as a rule and seldom even remotely favors the subject at all. They would better spend the same money for something worth while.

THE COWBOY GOES SOUTH

In the Southeast there is a new prosperity literally springing up from the grass roots — a new accent on diversified farming and animal agriculture. Many fields once white with cotton are now green with grass and dotted with beef cattle.

Even land that has been "cropped to death" and abandoned as worthless is staging a strong comeback under a soil-restoring program that includes legumes, special grasses and meat animals.

This is good news indeed because sections of the South have become classic illustrations of tragic soil misuse and erosion. In early times the South suffered heavily as settlers and farmers tilled the land for maximum short-range production of valuable but soil exhausting crops and then moved on to new locations. In those days, when the country was young and sparsely settled, and was one resource that appeared limitless and available to all. The pendulum has now gone full cycle. Land is precious.

The new development in the South is part of a vast land restoration movement. And it is significant that people are discovering that meat production is not exclusively a Western and Mid-western enterprise. Regardless of geographical location a great deal of land is suitable only for livestock raising. An increasing number of farmers are finding that cattle raising fits ideally into sound soil conservation while at the same time producing a cash crop that they can count on year after year. — Sylacauga Advance.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

Cleveland Driver, a hometown boy who for the past few years has made Birmingham his home, was down the week end telling his friends goodbye again. We say again because he has been called into service. Cleveland saw a lot of hard service in the last war so this will be no new experience for him. Mrs. Driver, he tells us, will remain at their home in Birmingham. Oh yeah, Uncle Sam also sent along a promotion for him. He's now Sgt. Driver.

Sheriff J. A. Nivens tells us he and his deputies showed up the blood hounds last Thursday night. Seems the bloodhounds from Draper had been up here looking for three prisoners who had escaped Wednesday night during the baseball game. The dogs got one of the escapees, but could not find the other two. Thursday night the Sheriff picked up the other two walking along the Lay Dam Road near Parker's Store. Deputy "Dutch" Nivens took them to Draper Friday. Guess it will be some time before they visit Clanton again, in or out of a baseball uniform.

Joe Jackson is a public spirited citizen. When things need boosting Joe is the fellow to contact. The past Saturday when the boys were selling apples on the streets of Clanton Joe came to the aid of the committee again. He donated a year's pass to the boy who sold the most apples—a year's pass to Clanton Drive-In—that is. And to the boy who sold the next highest number of apples he gave a free pass for six months.

See where George Gallup the noted Public Opinion finder has taken a poll to see what the people think in regards as to who can handle the National Emergency the better—Democrats or Republicans. According to his answers fifty percent more people think the Democrats can handle the situation better than the Republicans. Makes us feel better now we know our thinking is about average.

Mr. Tom McKee says it was a real "Rooster Meeting," but not a single rooster was able to crow—about anything but his ailments, that is. It was last Sunday morning Mr. Tom went down to visit Horace Popwell. Horace you know is still laid up after an automobile accident and is in a plaster cast. Mr. Tom was bragging about his ailments we presume. If he is going to have anything, even ailments, he wants nothing but the best.. Mr. Charlie Cox was there visiting too, and recovering from an eye operation of recent date. The fourth "rooster" was John Deramus. John was just worked to death, probably. He's taking care of the Planters Gin & Warehouse Company alone since Horace was injured. At any rate there's the set-up. Tom, Charlie, Horace and John. According to Tom McKee each was trying to out-do the other with their complaints. Finally they got to besting Mr. Tom at every turn so he left with this bit of wisdom: "Well, gentlemen, we have all seen as far as we could with the light that was afforded."

Sham Fight Against Inflation

(By Henry Hazlitt, in News-Week Magazine)

While the Administration is demanding and getting fake weapons and needless powers to "fight" inflation, it is driving ahead with the very policies that produce inflation.

Inflation is directly caused by an increase or expected increase in the supply of money and credit in relation to the supply of goods—and (apart from deterioration also in the quality of money) by nothing else. All other so-called causes or "pressures" are at most only indirect.

One of the most important of these indirect causes is a governmental cheap money policy. Artificially low interest rates increase the demand for loans—particularly from marginal productive or marginal speculative ventures. This means the creation of more bank deposits—i.e., of more money bidding for goods—of more inflation. The Treasury insists on continuing precisely such a policy.

In the last decade the Federal Reserve System has been used primarily as a huge engine of inflation. The Federal Reserve authorities have been subservient to the Treasury. They have carried out its shortsighted interest-rate policies and allowed the banking system to be used as a dumping ground for government securities. This is the chief way in which the nation's volume of money and credit has been more than tripled between 1939 and the present. This is the primary cause of the inflation of the last ten years.

But on August 18 the Federal Reserve Board increased the discount rate of the Federal Reserve Bank from 1½ per cent (a fantastically low rate in the face of inflationary danger) to 1¾ per cent. This was a very cautious move indeed—but it was in the right direction. Its chief importance was symbolic. Yet the Treasury on the same day moved in precisely the opposite direction. It announced that it would offer $13,570,000,000 of thirteen-month notes at only 1¼ per cent interest. And Secretary Snyder publicly reproved the board's anti-inflationary gesture. "A stable and confident situation in the market for government securities is our first line of defense on the financial front." He added that we must "fulfill our responsibility to the millions of Federal security holders throughout the nation."

But this merely meant that Mr. Snyder was putting low borrowing rates for the Treasury ahead of every other consideration—including the certainty that this policy must produce still more inflation. To maintain artificially low interest rates not only encourages general inflationary borrowing; it compels the banking system to support and load itself up with U. S. government securities issued at such rates. The Federal Reserve Banks now hold $18,577,000,000 of these, and the country's commercial banks more than $66,000,000,000. The money and deposits created against these securities are the chief reason why present wholesale commodity prices are more than double those of 1939. The Federal Reserve Banks at that time held only $2,484,000,000 in government securities and the commercial banks held only $16,000,000,000.

Mr. Synder's belief that his bond-pegging and low-interest policies protect Federal security holders is the exact opposite of the truth. It is mainly because of these very policies that every dollar invested in Federal securities in 1941 has a purchasing power of only 61 cents now. This is a real depreciation of 37 per cent.

Nothing can now prevent a serious inflation except a termination of the Federal Reserve and Treasury policies of the last decade. Interest rates must be allowed to rise. Government bond-pegging at present rates must be abandoned. The Treasury must sell its bonds to nonbank investors. The reserve requirements of the Federal Reserve Banks must be restored at least to the old 35-40 per cent level, and preferably put even higher. And when the government has made these self-denying reforms, the reserve requirements of the commercial banks must be tightened.

If these measures are taken we will not need price controls against inflation. If they are not taken, price controls, as in the past, will be worse than futile. They are false anti-inflation weapons. They merely impede, unbalance, and disorganize production.

Jealousy

When we think of jealousy we think of the worst nature of man; it is the more poisonous quality of human nature. Jealousy in man proves that human proves that human nature is possessed with the spirit of the down-fall of man. It reveals the lowest and the meanest part of a person; for it is a blasting, withering hate toward that we should love best. Jealousy corrodes the heart and thus causes man to hate himself, and often his best friend also. Jealousy has more wrecks to its record than perhaps any other force in life. It has wrecked individual lives; it has wrecked homes; it has wrecked churches; it has wrecked community friendship; it has wrecked nations, for the main thing that instigate wars is jealousy. It has almost wrecked the whole world.

A. T. HICKMAN

We can find absolutely no justification for this enemy of happiness at any time or in any place. Like the insecticide spray that kills bugs, and the powerful weed killer, it withers everything it touches. It takes something of a divine force to overcome this great evil. However, there is a cure. Like all other sins and evils, the Lord Jesus Christ can save us from this awful happiness-destroying sin. One drop of His love and grace injected into our blood streams by the operation of the Holy Spirit and faith we are cured.

When we have a tolerant love and understanding we have the medicine for the cure. Look upon the lives of good people with appreciation for their worth; overlook their faults and defects as you would your very own, you will learn one of the secrets of a happy peaceful life. Jealousy makes it hard for one who has been a leader to take second place.

I read a story once that told of a man in the North Country having a dog which was a leader. This dog took pride in his work and position. One day it became necessary to have another dog as a leader in reserve in case of an accident. The second best dog was harnessed ahead of the old leader. The old leading dog first refused to pull. Then he saw his master was determined to humiliate him. He began to gnaw the harness of the new leader. This act was repeated a number of times. Finally the master compelled the old dog to look on while the new one received his training. Soon the brave old leader died with grief and a broken heart. Jealousy had caused this tragedy.

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

The Value of the Efficient Worker

ARE YOU WORRIED about holding down your job if you make a mistake several times in succession? Or do you assume an independent attitude rather prevalent among the younger workers today? I know one young office worker who says she made the same mistake three times in her new position. She had got her job through a friend who was a friend of the boss, and feeling that he might say nothing because of this relationship, she went to him and resigned. He looked surprised and when she told him why, he said, "Well, Miss Brown, you are a very conscientious worker; your work is neat and efficiently done; we have been very pleased because you are always on time; you don't spend hours each week telephoning friends during working hours; you are careful of your personal appearance, and we don't find all these qualities combined in one person very often. So we'll have to allow for a few mistakes, even if your addressing the same client wrongly three times did cause some inconvenience. I don't think you'll do it again."

Cr

Then Miss Brown was surprised, and his attitude awakened a well spring of gratitude within her.

I was reminded of Miss Brown recently when I was told an incident by Miss Ruth Minogue, Richmond Hill, N. Y. A short time ago she threw into the waste basket a navy department order for 5000 books together with a check in payment. This was rescued by the cleaning woman. She began to wonder if it had happened before, and what would happen to her if she was again so careless. She thought her employer was watching her rather closely since the careless happening occurred, and this made her a bit nervous. She began to worry for she wanted to hold down that job, and more than that, she didn't want to be dismissed as inefficient from any job.

After a few days of worry, she saw that it was affecting her work. When I told her about Miss Brown she compared herself with Miss Brown, and felt she compared favorably. Then she decided to make her boss feel about her as Miss Brown's boss had felt about Miss Brown.

After acting on this decision for a couple of days, she stopped worrying, and went ahead with her work in an efficient manner.

I just want to assure Miss Minogue that the boss is just as eager to retain a good worker as a worker is to hold down a good job. I want to tell her, too, that two percent will include all the really efficient workers. And it isn't so difficult to be one of them, barring lack of experience.

TYPHUS FEVER

Typhus is a disease caused by a germ that lives in the blood of rats. The typhus germ is transmitted from the rat to man by the fleas which are carried on the body of the rat and in its fur. When a typhus-infected flea bites a person, it leaves an excretion on his skin. The victim scratches the bite, thus rubbing into the opening in his skin the germs left by the flea.

In about two weeks after a person has been bitten by a typhus-infected flea, he comes down with a fever. He has aches and pains which seem to imply that he is coming down with influenza. The doctor should be called at this point as typhus is then in its early stage. Next, the patient becomes nervous and restless. A week later a rash breaks out. Then the patient becomes listless and suffers acutely. This condition lasts for a few weeks to several months.

As yet, there is no sure protection against this disease as there is for diphtheria and other communicable diseases. However, recovery from the disease can be hastened by the use of some newly-developed drugs which must be administered by a physician.

Typhus can be prevented by destroying the disease-carrying rat. This is done by keeping food and garbage covered and in places where the rats cannot get to it, thus starving them out; by rat-proofing and keeping buildings well repaired and free of trash, thus building them out; and by trapping and using poisonous mixtures to kill them.

It is very important that each individual do everything he can to help destroy the rat. Rat proofing programs and trapping programs should be carried on. Dusting with 10% DDT is helpful in places frequented by rats to reduce the number of the germ-carrying fleas. This reduction of fleas that rats harbor lessens the possibility of typhus being transmitted from rat to man.

What is Christian Living?

Lesson for October 1: Matthew 5: 13-16, 20; Philippians 1: 27-30; I Thessalonians 5: 15-23; James 1: 22, 26-27.

Memory Selections: Philippians 1: 27.

THE LESSON today begins the study of "Growing in Christian Living," to be followed during the fourth quarter.

Salt helps to preserve food. Christians are as salt. They are saving influences against moral corruption. They are also shining lights. Jesus indicates a light is to shine, not to be hidden. A Christian's light cannot be hid. His daily life influences others. He is faithful to the smallest demand of right. His righteousness exceeds that of the scribes and Pharisees.

His life is "worthy of the gospel of Christ." He is sincere and devoted to Christian ideals. He is fearless for the right. He is not afraid to stand against present evils. Surely there must be no compromise with them.

In Thessalonians 3: 15-23 things Christians must do and those they must not do are set down. They must not retaliate in being wronged. They must pray "without ceasing," that is, be always in the attitude of prayer. They must "hold fast to that which is good," and "abstain from every form of evil."

So Christians must have the religion of which James writes. Dwelling among their fellows, they must do all the good they can to those in need. And, tempted by the evils around them, they must "keep themselves unspotted from the world." With such a religion they can do what they ought to do.

PLANT WINTER LEGUMES IN TIME

Time of planting is one of the most important points to consider in successful planting of winter legumes, according to results obtained by the A. P.I. Agricultural Experiment Station.

The main reason for planting crops like hairy vetch, and Austrain peas is to take nitrogen from the air and add it to the soil in time to increase yields of the following crops. The more growth one of these crops makes, the more nitrogen it adds to the soil.

However, if the crop is to be of value, it must make the desired growth early enough to be turned under 10 days or more before the next crop is planted.

Studies conducted by the Station show that when good seeding, fertilizer, and planting practices are followed, the legume will make enough growth for turning in plenty of time for the next crop, or certainly by the time corn should be planted. But, if the legume is planted a month after the best planting date in the fall, it may not make enough growth by planting time in the spring to be worth while.

Records show that legumes planted on time in the fall may make 20 to 100 per cent more growth by corn planting time than legumes planted a month later in the fall.

McGEE - ALEXANDER

The Pentecostal Holiness Manse in Chattahoochee, Fla., was the setting Friday afternoon, August 18th, for the marriage of Miss Mildred Irene McGee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Preston McGee of Maplesville, Ala., to James A. Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Alexander of McKenzie, Ala. The Rev. Samuel E. Franklin, brother-in-law of the bridegroom performed the ceremony at 6:30 o'clock in the presence of a few friends and relatives.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Samuel E. Franklin, of the bridegroom. Mary Lee Franklin sang "I Love You Truly."

Decorations used for the wedding included an arrangement of white gladioli and pom-pom chrysanthemums of the buffet and yellow chrysanthemums formed the decorations in the pastor's study. The piano was centered with a bouquet of rose king asters, pom-pom and white gladioli. Banana plants at either side of the love seat completed the decorations.

The bride, who was unattended, chose for her wedding a suit of navy blue faille with navy and white accessories. Her corsage was two orchids.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Franklin home.

The bride's table was covered with a cutwork cloth and candles in crystal candelabra was featured appointments.

Mrs. J. M. Clark presided at the punch bowl and serving cake was Mrs. Sam Todd, Memphis, Tenn. The bride attended Montevallo College two years.

Following their wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Wetumpka, Ala. Mr. Alexander is engaged in the contracting business.

EVERYBODY LISTEN !

For our C.C.H.S., P.-T.A., Fun Fair, October 13th, beginning at 6:00 p.m., at the football field.

We are known for our Chilton peaches,
We are known, for good berries, too,
We are known for our Community Concerts
We are known as friends to you.
So—

When we ask for audiences
We mean just exactly that
For we need just about everybody
To find dear "Rusty's" hat.

Hadn't you heard about those babies?
It's a sight how they have grown.
I never would have believed this ladies,
If I hadn't seen the scales go wrong.

Whoever heard of a baby who weighed,
One hundred and thirty pounds?
That's just mild, I tell you—For the Other shake Two hundred - Out O'bounds.
Dear Reedie, R. Cee, J. Cee, Ralphy and Rusty.
Sweet Corky, and Christy, Redy-y, Reecy and little Patty.

There is absolutely nobody that controls those monstrous babies
"Cept sweet, mild, nice Mrs. Smith—Who does and is quite able.
For those precious "Big Sitter," are the frisky little ladies daintly dressed for the fair—and I don't mean in sable.

We hope you come hungry—with your belt pulled tight
For what we have to feed you—won't be light.
There's gonna be cakes and chicken, nice and brown,
Sandwiches just a struttin' at Snack Bar town.

Candy Land a glitter—White elephants on the street.
Surprise gifts—a beaming in their dressing up.
The Country Store a selling to ma and pa alike,
The kiddies all hilarious—Oh, what a sight

We hope you will remember Miss "Chit" this night—
For the pretty little Miss is a beauty in the light.
We are proud of our young leaders coming up in our school.
They are filled with wisdom and not easily fooled.

The clowns will be numerous and the stunts extra good.
Just you wait Till, "Mimsey" leads the singing—I wish I could
For really I am happy and the notes are actually there.
Trouble is—they get mixed, coming to the air.

You Gonna see some cuties on Clanton streets soon,
Selling blue and pinky safeties—they really are our boom.
A "sticky" little reminder—about our Scholarship fund.
If you'll open up your pockets,
Why, Fellow, we have won.

We just must tell you—for we actually believe
That you are 'reservating' early for the Fun Fair that eve.
Now, don't forget us, folkies — you know we need you now.
Gather them up from everywhere, we don't ask you how.

Can't you see that piano—All shining in the light?
Notes just a flying and our chillun's voices right?
Miss Lois's face a beaming in that hallowed way?

What a joy our hearts will be that glad day.

To see some boy or girl a going off to college.
Gaining and accumulating all that extra knowledge.
That's bound to make our nation in the years ahead.
A better, finer place, for Chilton High P.-T.A. has led:

In establishing a scholarship opportunity for the lassies in our care,
This invigorating happiness makes me call—Let's Dare!
If you tell your neighbor—and he tells the next one, too,
There'll be just about everybody and we hope you actually do.

Wrap up Granny and Pappy, all warm and nice,
For their laughter will be merrier as part of the spice,
We hope to sprinkle over the hearts of our friends that night.
It is the 'perky' counteractant as we gird for the fight.

For a smiling man sees more clearly all that is right, and,
We need that clear thinking as we try to see light.

Come our friends, join us, the band will be there.
Let's march in gay happiness to our own Fun Fair.

MRS. RUSSELL A. WILLIAMS,
President Chilton County High P.-T.A.

PARENT-TEACHER MEMBERSHIP PROCLAMATION

Even as Americans and their allies are defending the far frontiers of freedom, we parent-teacher members must create within our own families and communities that atmosphere of amity which one day shall prevail throughout the world. To rear the kind of boys and girls who will be strong enough mentally, physically, and spiritually to build and sustain a peaceful society—this is our foremost task. It cannot be postponed. The citizen child's growth goes on day after day in the home, the school, and the community. His education, as we have long known, is not merely a formal affair, boxed in schools and taught exclusively by professionals. Every individual who has contact with a child is in some measure that child's teacher.

Radio, television, motion pictures, and the press give us an unrivaled opportunity to impart knowledge to the guardians of the nation's children. These media of communication can also, if used wisely, penetrate the iron curtains of ignorance and tyranny that still keep men and nations apart. They must be used to inform, to teach, to enlighten—to safe-guard the essential values of democracy.

We do not question the urgency of defense needs to fortify the firing lines of freedom. At the same time we maintain that the welfare of children cannot be subordinated to temporary priorities. By every standard of far-seeing statesmanship, steel and personnel for schools are just as important as steel and manpower for battleships.
